Fourteen MTSC students have been chosen for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." These students were elected by a joint committee composed of ten faculty members and ten students. They were selected from the senior class on the basis of their abilities and records during the past four years of college. Such things as club activities, scholastic standards, participation in student undertakings and general attitude toward school were considered in making the selections.

"Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" is an organization of outstanding students on the campuses of the colleges of America.

Those chosen were T Club president Elmer Bain. Bain is also president of the senior class, member of the physical education club and coach of the team. He is a physical education major from Murfreesboro.

Sigma Club president Clifford Byrnes served as director of the homecoming parade. Byrnes is a member of Congress from the senior class. He is majoring in English and calls Nashville home.

Homecoming Queen Sara Ann Dossett. Sara Ann, an English major, is vice-president of the dramatic club and also is a member of congress. Her home is Tullahoma. Bob Eskew, editor of The Side-Lines, is Chief Justice of the Supreme court. He is from Lebanon and has chosen social science as his major.

Earl Glover, T Club member, is from Murfreesboro. Earl is majoring in social science.

Vice-President of the senior class Gene Gotcher is from Fayetteville. Gene is a member of the women's dormitory council and served on the advisory council for homecoming.

ASB President Joe Jackson is from Chattanooga. Joe is a member of the football squad and is majoring in business administration. He is vice-president of the T Club.

Roy Minor, vice-president of the dramatic club, president of the aviation club and served on the homecoming committee. His home is Millsboro and his major is social science.

President of the woman's dormitory council Julia Parnell is majoring in science and served on the homecoming planning committee. She is from Linden, Tennessee.

WAA President Annette Stepp is from Manchester. She is secretary of the Student Christian Union and is majoring in commerce.

Captain Angello Varallo is a member of the Jones Hall council. He is Sgt.-of-Arms for the T club and

Bunn Pitts Honored By Civic Groups

By BILL WILLIS

Business and civic organizations of the community honored Bunn Pitts, 19 year old MTSC freshman, with a chili supper Nov. 16 for the outstanding job he has done as organizer and director of the Murfreesboro Boys Club.

Present were the 140 members of the boys club, Angelo Varallo, captain of the MTSC Blue Raiders, Mayor John Holloway and County Judge Hoyte Stewart. Harold H. (Doc) Earthman was master of ceremonies and the principal speaker was Major General P. W. Clarkson, commander of the Camp Campbell, Ky., army base.

During the banquet Pitts was awarded a sport jacket for his achievements with the local boys. On the jacket was inscribed, "M. B. C." Bunn Pitts, Director.

In Bunn's own words, "It was the greatest thrill I have ever had, and I will always treasure the telegrams of congratulations received from Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox manager, Lou Boudreau, Cleveland Indians manager, and Frank Leahy, Notre Dame football coach, but what I treasure most is the fact that the people of the town showed appreciation for the work of myself and the boys."

Pitts organized the club while still a student at Central High School along with the assistance of Raymond Johnson, Nashville Tennessee Sports Editor, who donated the first equipment for the boys. "Doc" Earthman was also a staunch supporter of the club and contributed to its welfare whenever opportunity arose.

Captain "VIC" VARALLO said, "Bunn has done a great job with the boys, and I don't think the community can do too much for him. The boys don't realize now what a benefit they are receiving for this club, but later on they will know that it was one of the greatest things that ever happened in their life, when they joined the Boys Club."

The boys were the guests of Coach Charles Murphy, Thursday night, at the Cumberland University and M. T. S. C. game. General Clarkson has invited the boys to be his "guests for a day" at Camp Campbell, and would furnish their transportation over there.

Pitts will be the guest of the local Lions Club next Monday and will be the guest of the Rotary Club last Wednesday night.

Sigma Club Has 17 New Members

Seventeen new members of the Sigma Club were named last week by President Cliff Byrnes. Other officers of the club announced by Byrnes are, Charles Ford, vice-president and Mark Womack, secretary-treasurer. The Sigma Club sponsor is Clayton L. James, Dean of Students.

Students Join Music Group

Approximately 1000 MTSC students enrolled in the recent solicitation of membership in the Community Concert Association.

The following concerts, to be held in the MTSC auditorium, have been announced by Dr. Joe F. Wilkes: November 19—A piano and violin concert by Sorin and Del Fucito. January 10—A soprano soloist, Virginia MacWatters. March 16—A piano concert by Schatzkammer.

German Students See Dim Future

Recently returned from a tour of German colleges and universities, Miss Betty Claire Schmid reports that German students are "tired" physically and mentally. They are even past the point of noticing the ruins as they walk through them every day of their lives.

The typical German youth today, according to Miss Schmid, was disillusioned with the fall of Nazism, and at first looked for something to replace it. "But because of conditions in Germany today and the uncertainty of the future, he being driven back toward the many Nazi ideas." German students have no sense of responsibility toward World War II. "This refusal to accept responsibility is the thing that embitters so many foreigners."

One German architect told Miss Schmid, "The system of education in Germany has been greatly responsible for the lack of understanding of human beings. The professor teaches facts, but he is far removed from his pupils and the application of his facts. I think it's one of the reasons democracy is not understood here."

"It all boils down," says Miss Schmid, to an attempt to spread democracy with an occupation army, which is not by nature a democratic procedure, to a people who have not been conditioned either mentally or psychologically for thinking along democratic lines."

Civil Service Exams Announced

A Personnel Officer examining the U. S. Civil Service Commission for filling the following positions in Washington, D. C., and vicinity: Personnel Officer, Personnel Assistant, Employee Relations Officer, Employee Relations Assistant, Employee Counselor, Personnel Rating Examiner, Position Classifier, Placement Officer, Placement Assistant, Occupational Analyst, and Salary and Wage Analyst.

To qualify, applicants must have had 3 years of experience in general personnel administration or closely related work and from 1 to 3 years in specialized phases of personnel work. College study may be substituted for the general experience. No written test is required.

Applications should be sent to the Commission's Washington Office and must be received not later than December 14, 1948.

Four Students Attend Meeting In Livingston

The MTSC Physical Education Club sent four delegates to the regional folk festival held at Livingston this month.

Representing the college were: Sue Cassidy, Bill Lewis, Vernon Brown and Lee Crawford. A total of 100 students from this district attended the meeting. The activities included folk dancing and singing.

Miss Marguerite Taylor of Livingston directed the festival. Outstanding leaders present were, Miss Edna Ritchie, recreation leader for the council of Southern Mountain Workers; Miss Catherine Allen, University of Tennessee; Miss Ethel Capps of Knoxville.

CLUB PLANS SOCIAL

On Monday night, December 6, the student center will ring with joy and laughter for the members of the Physical Education Club. This is the night for the quarterly social of the club. An interesting program is being planned and it is hoped that all club members will make a special effort to be on hand. Membership cards will be necessary for admittance.

Central Program Elicits Cheers

One of the most popular assembly programs of the fall quarter was presented Tuesday by a group of music students from Central High School under direction of Mrs. Irene Morton.

Pianist Mary Atlee Caffey, soloist Patsy Lanier, Lacey Noel singing "Tico-Tico" in true Carmen Miranda style and the accomplished reading of Glover Dale Tarver were feature numbers on the program.

Richard Wood and Patsy Lewis parade" supported by a mixed chorus composed of Peggy Rushing, Fletcher Lee, Carl Wood, Billy McDonald, Yvonne McPolin, Jimmy Ridley, Marie Evans, Bucky Hayes, Martha McCullough, Jimmy Covington, Edna Patton, Nat Beasley, Rosie McBride and Mike Hayes.

Betty Hoover, imitating Judy Garland, was enthusiastically received in her "Take Me Back To Michigan" number. Her appropriately costumed supporting chorus included Betty Harrison, Patsy Powell, Betty Lou Holden, Ann Johnson, Marcia Lewis, Libby Ann Nicholson, Patricia Jones and Betsy Bass.

State Chorus Gives Program

M. T. S. C.'s eighty voice chorus made its first appearance of the year in Assembly November 16, offering a varied program. Several sacred numbers done a capella, a novelty on "The Limericks" by Noble Cain, a modern arrangement of "Comin' Thro' the Rye" and other choral numbers were given.

Also heard on the program, which was under direction of Neil H. Wright with Mrs. Wright as accompanist, was "Song of an Evening Star" and "Candorian Capers" played on the trombone by Charles Anderson, and "The Musical Typist", a descriptive marimba novelty, by Betty Tipps.

The chorus will make its next appearance in a concert Sunday afternoon, December 5. Preparations are being made for the spring concert tour.

The complete program at the assembly program was as follows:

- December 14—Harp Singers in recital
- December 16—Christmas Pageant, Training School

Members of the Men's Quartette are Dan MacMillan, James Williamson, Ray Tanksley and Jack Allen. The Women's Trio is composed of Misses Donna McHenry, Betty Tipps, and Martha Massey.

The Harp Singers, one of the most popular music groups on the campus, is appearing in costume for the first time at the December 14 recital. The Harp Singers include Donna McHenry, Frances Minor, Betty Tipps, Martha Massey, George Keshner, Dan MacMillan, Clyde Cromwell, James Williamson, Raymond Tanksley, Jack Allen, Ray Minor and Mrs. Neil H. Wright.

Betty Tipps Will Represent College In A.G.O. Concert

Highlighting fourteen Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday programs by members of the music department will be the appearance of Betty Brown Tipps as the representative of Middle Tennessee State College in the American Guild of Organists Nashville recital at Ward-Belmont at 8 o'clock Monday evening, December 6.

Miss Tipps will play Christmas Pastorale by De Lange and Postlude from "Vingt-Quatre Pieces en Style Libre" from Vierne. She will appear on a program otherwise limited to a representative from Ward-Belmont, Seabright College, Vanderbilt and Peabody, giving MTSC the honor of having the only out-of-town artist on the noteworthy program.

Second only to Miss Tipps appearance at Ward-Belmont is the top local program of the quarter, the Fall Recital, held at eight o'clock, Tuesday evening, November 30 in the college auditorium.

The rejuvenation of the Tennessee College Press began Thursday, November 19, with a meeting on the Middle Tennessee State College campus. The purpose of the meeting was to begin to lay the foundation for a closer fellowship between the college newspapers in Tennessee.

Dean Clayton James and ASB president, Joe Jackson welcomed the visitors to M.T.S.C. Bob Eskew, Sidelines Editor, acted as chairman until a permanent official could be elected. An executive board was elected for the adoption of the constitution of the organization, and a sound foundation was laid for its functioning. The nominating committee named Eskew as chairman and Julia Bobbitt, of David Lipscomb, Hugh Hendrick, Tusculum, and Herbert McCullum of Maryville as board members. This board was to act as a temporary government until a definite organization can be perfected. Miss Bobbitt was named secretary of the board.

The meeting was brought to a close with a dinner Thursday night in the college.

The representatives of the eight colleges present were: Tusculum, Dr. Paul Erickson, Pat Weiss, Janet Merkle, Hugh Hendrick, and Bill Martin; Tennessee Tech, Bob Witt, Don English, J. B. Haskins, John Mitchell and Dr. Sidney McGee; Bob Holley from Maryville; Bob Shappert from East Tennessee State; Ruth Marler, Herman Eskew, and Bob Major of Cumberland University; Leslie Grover and Fred Seip from Austin Peay State; Beverly Moore and John Woodward from Milligan College.

The members of the Sidelines staff serving as an Entertainment were in charge of the contests. Local arrangements were made by B. B. Gracey of the Middle Tennessee State College.

Spencer, Hay Long Divide Honors In F.F.A. Contests

The Spencer and Mt. Pleasant Future Farmers of America judging teams divided top honors in the Mid-State FFA judging contests held here Middle Tennessee State College, November 20. More than 700 boys from over the Mid-State area participated.

The FFA crop judging team from scored 100 points out of a possible 1200 to nose out the Whitehouse team who marked up a score of 1095 points. The winning team was composed of R. C. Hasten, Junior Boyd, Albert Mooneyham and was coached by F. L. Cunningham, advisor of the FFA chapter. The Joelton team took third place honors.

The three man team from Mt. Pleasant placed first over 77 other Mid-State teams in the poultry judging event which was the first contest of its kind to be held in the state. The team was composed of Glen Goodman, Billie Smith, Carrol Spencer and was coached by James T. Lovell, vocational agriculture teacher in the Hay Long High School at Mt. Pleasant.

The Clay County team from Centerville, coached by E. W. Fox was runner-up in the contest, with Baxter third.

Individual honors in crop judging went to Boyd of the Spencer team. James Fields of Baxter took the top individual score in the poultry judging.

The contests were sponsored by the Tennessee Association Future Farmers of America. H. N. Parks and T. J. Hendrickson were in charge of the contests. Local arrangements were made by B. B. Gracey of the Middle Tennessee State College.

Sidelines Staff Member Filmed Pathos, Humor of Post-War Europe

(Editor's Note: Russell is now attending Middle Tennessee State College where he is a sophomore majoring in business administration. He is the staff photographer on the Side-Lines, the student publication at MTSC. The following article appeared in the magazine section of the Nashville Tennessean on October 6, 1946 telling of Russell's varied experiences as an amateur photographer in Europe.)

Many a veteran of the wars has spent a great deal of his time giving his family and the neighbors a verbal account of his exploits overseas, and most of them have a few snapshots to embellish the telling. But it remained for Garland B. Russell of 1806 Allison Place, Nashville, Tennessee to bring home a more graphic report of the European theater, in the shape of eight reels of movies beginning at a town with an unpronounceable name in Czechoslovakia and ending with the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor.

A sergeant with the 94th Signal Company of the 94th Division, Russell is a camera enthusiast of long standing, but he was of course prevented by wartime regulations from taking pictures. When the war was over, however, he obtained an 8-millimeter movie camera in Czechoslovakia, supplied it with film from many post exchanges and from commercial firms in the United States, and began a series of movies which has kept his family intrigued ever since his return.

Some of the first shots Russell made were of German children in a town in Sudetenland. As a G. I. buddy came out of the army mess hall to deposit the scraps from his dinner in the nearest garbage pail, four children rushed up to beg him for the food that was left on his plate. Standing nearby, Russell was able to snap a shot of that pathetic rush.

Another sequence was filmed at the Dachau concentration camp, showing the barred wire enclosures and the outside of the notorious gas chambers where prisoners were put to death. (There was not enough light to film the inside of the gas chambers.) At another point in the film record German prisoners are shown lifting the canvas-wrapped body of a truck to carry for burial on to a casket to be carried by a decent burial.

On the lighter side, G. I.'s of the 94th Division are shown during a football workout which whiled away part of the hours of waiting for orders to move to an embarkation center. There is also a film record of the antics of an unpedigreed canine which was the pet of a wire squad of Russell's company until his unexpected disappearance, and a picture of American soldiers in a French 40 and 8 retracing the victorious march from Normandy to the Rhine.

Russell's movies of Paris include shots of many famous streets and buildings, including the Champs Elysee, the Arc de Triomphe and the Eiffel Tower, and of the hungry, mixed feelings toward their native French people Americans. Russell has also recorded his visits to some of the great cathedrals and the art museums of France.

The stormy voyage from Le Havre to New York aboard a Liberty ship is also depicted in Russell's record, which shows the restless mid-Atlantic, the storm-washed superstructure of a ship far at sea and the homeward-bound veterans clinging to their hammocks below decks and hoping for clearing weather before the Statue of Liberty came in sight. The break in the weather did not come, but the famous lady finally appeared on the horizon, a fitting conclusion to the movie.

A Tough Job Well Done

A homecoming football game means many things to a school. It is, as Joe Jackson put it—"a time to let everything go and enjoy yourself." It is a date with many events leading to a football game here and certainly one of the most important of these events is the Homecoming Parade. Nothing—not even the football game is so colorful as a large beautiful homecoming parade. People that care nothing for football turn out to see the bands, floats and groups that lend to make it so colorful.

In years past we have had wonderful parades as the one presided over by Charlie Ralph last year. But with no intentions of taking anything away from Charlie, who excelled in any task, the one we owe credit for such splendid work this year is Bill Lewis. This year he had to co-ordinate with the parade of the American Legion along with that of the college.

One person can easily be wrong, but when so many people express themselves as we have here—it must be true that credit for one of the best parades ever goes to Bill Lewis.

Everybody Takes a Part in One Class

Some of the students, are finding that a class can be interesting.

Professor W. D. Smith has introduced a new way (at least to most of the students) in the teaching field. Instead of the usual procedure of the strict hour lecture, the class is almost entirely in the hands of the students.

They are still speaking in terms of European history, but the class aids the instructor. The lectures are yet a part of the class. Now however a part of the class each day is spent listening to special reports on different events of period. Many of these reports are given as a panel and as many given by the individual.

However the regular text work is included. Five students are set up as a board which tests the individual on the chapters.

Not only does it give the students a break from the usual class, but it gives the same students a part of the class. This has been neglected for so long that they have lost interest in so many of their classes.

Are the student taking an interest in the class? Our guess is that they do, for their reports have been more interesting than the text material and the way you are ordinarily expected to get it.

Mr. Smith has given the students a part of their class.

It's Happened After So Long

Regardless of the power of the college newspapers of Tennessee, they have surely made a move in the right direction. On Thursday last, representatives of eight college papers met on the MTSC Campus to reorganize the Tennessee State College Press Association. This group functioned before the war with Dr. Tom Passons of TPI its director.

The meeting last week served only to organize the group. The first regular meeting is to be set by the Governing Board chosen by the schools present.

What does all this mean to the students of this or any college? It means the difference between an ordinary paper and one of interest to all the students. The publication of every school should be one of the most important organizations on the campus, if not the most important. The forming of the press association will aid the editors in that each paper will exchange ideas and papers, this stimulating each to better work.

It is the greatest advancement the people who publish the college papers could take to further the reading pleasure and profit of students.

Let's Be Careful

During the holiday season there is an appalling loss of life on the highways. The trail of anguish and suffering grows broad and deep.

Perhaps it's the holiday spirit which affects motorists of all ages and occupations. Whatever the cause, no group seems to suffer so much as college students bent on making the most of an all too short vacation.

College students by virtue of their mental and physical abilities should set the pace for America in driving standards. They most certainly should not lead in drivers having the most accidents. Each of you can do something about this. Each of you can make the highways just a little safer for yourself and for your fellow motorist. This is your responsibility as an American and as a member of humanity.

The law forbids people to carry weapons that are potentially dangerous. Yet when a careless driver steps into a car he has the same power in hand to kill and maim that the armed bandit has.

Deaths will be stalking the highways during the holidays.

Don't let him ride with you.

Joe Callaway

Joe Callaway, actor, critic and director of stage, screen and radio, will be the fall quarter offering of the Middle Tennessee State College Program Committee. Callaway will present his noted "Broadway Play by Play" in the college auditorium Tuesday night, December 7. Members of the student body will be admitted on their student activity ticket.

With a background of over 6,000

stage performances, for four seasons director of the Miami Beach stock company, founder of the Marquette, Michigan summer theater, and a featured Shakespearean actor in 16 different roles—Callaway is one of the most versatile men on the lecture platform today.

Mr. Callaway sees all Broadway shows and his interpretation of current favorites and classical revivals on the local stage will offer an unusual opportunity for his audience to understand much of the recreation now being presented on the theatrical center of the country.

Blocks of seats are being reserved for high school students in the Middle Tennessee area. A twenty-five cent admission fee will be charged visiting high school students.

Poem of the Week

I would rather be a "has-been"
 Who had fought for noble cause,
 Although I had lost the battle,
 Than to be a "never was."

I would rather toil and labor
 For a principle of right
 Than to ride to easy riches
 Won by mailed fist of might.

I would rather have a record
 Of an honest, humble name
 Than to win success and honor
 That had caused distress and shame.

Womack To Head Midlander Staff

The Midlander staff was announced this week by Bob Womack, Midlander sponsor. The editor for the college yearbook is Mark Womack of Murfreesboro. Womack is a senior and majoring in Social Science.

Clifford Byrne, senior from Nashville has been named business manager. Organization Editor will be Gene Gotcher of Fayetteville. Class Editor is Lois McMurry from Hartsville. Art Editor will be handled by Elizabeth Wolf of Nashville, the ASB vice-president. Sports Editor is Dave Willis, junior from Columbia who is also the sports editor of the Sidelines. The Feature and Snapshot sections will be edited by Mary Lu Mason of Wartrace.

Handling the photography for the second straight year will be Bob Couch on organizations and Louis Bandy will again handle the class pictures.

Womack did not say just what changes would be made in the Midlander, except that the color scheme would be different and possibly that the annual would be some larger than that of 1948.

The freshman pictures for the Midlander got underway this week. All students should watch the bulletin board for dates to have pictures made.

others, but if he has inherited in traits from his father's side, he has the political experience.

One of the winners in the election may have been Harold E. Stassen, who wasn't on anybody's ballot.

Mr. Dewey has already made the statement he won't run for president anymore. So Stassen's friends are already beginning quiet organization moves. They point out that Stassen is strong in the Middle West, where Governor Dewey failed to make much of a show.

Tennesseans are now paying an average of about $43 per capita in state taxes, more than double the former average and higher than the United States per capita tax average.

This was brought on mostly by the 2 per cent sales tax enacted by the 1947 state legislature. Although we aren't the highest in the South, Louisiana has a per capita average of $50.83.

Looks like Senator Barkley, vice-president elect, will be one of the boys to watch in Washington next January. He will be the presiding officer of the Senate, but where he will be seen at recesses is the cloakrooms and halls, using his influence in putting over Truman's program. Barkley is also expected to take some of the executive burden at cabinet meetings, committee meeting, etc.

Governor-Elect Gordon Browning hasn't made his official cabinet out yet, but about the only hold-over from Governor McCord's cabinet will be Dr. R. H. Hutcheson, state commissioner of public health. Dr. Hutcheson has the reputation on Capitol Hill of knowing more about his department and less about politics than any of the cabinet members.

PUT 'N TAKE

By William Landers

Well homecoming is over and in the eyes of many it was a big success. The most outstanding points of the day were time, thought and work that were put in preparation for the festivities.

We couldn't have asked for a better day for a ball game, the weather was perfect. The Raiders played fine ball and there were several old football graduates of Jones Field on the sidelines to give their moral support.

Let's take a look at the names of a few people who were behind the scenes in making the day click off.

Bill Lewis was Grand Marshall of Homecoming, he deserves a lot of credit for his fine job.—Cliff Byrne turned in a great piece of showmanship in handling the parade.—The Welcoming Committee was directed by Martha Massey.—Lorraine Parker, Doris Williams, Sarah Ann Dosssett, Emily Muse, Doris Ford, and Mildred Lowe fed the alumni and students after the game in the rec-hall.—Glen Bradshaw saw to it that we had plenty of fuel for the "bonfire".—Kiddiehoppers were sold by Freshman class at the ball game.—Band was in good form at half as "Sadie" was crowned "Queen for a Day".—Old "T" Club members had a session in the rec-hall before and after the game—refreshments and cigars were served.—Big crowd at the Homecoming Dance, very original having decorations fall as the dance came to an end.

The people who decorated the floats are to be commended, time and work were practically spelled out on each of them. Mr. and Mrs. Will D. Smith spent a couple of cool evenings in a near by hanger also, decorating the Senior Class float.

Captain Angelo "Vic" Varallo ended his college football career in the TPI and we see the leave of one of the finest all round football players to ever play on the Raider teams.

Varallo

This makes the third year that Vic has lettered here in football although he obtained a numeral in freshman basketball at Ole Miss before the war. His offensive and defensive play have been outstanding in every game with his catch of a slippery ball in the Cumberland game that set up a touchdown was truly fine to watch. Angelo along with Bill Nesbitt was chosen by the Maryville "Highland Echo" on the all opponent team and also on the ETSC football team all opponent team with Frank Atchley and Jack Yearwood. Vic plans after graduation to be line coach at Father Ryan High School in Nashville.

The David Lipscomb Bisons give promise of another strong basketball team. They have the five starters back from last year; Frank Downing the VSAC high scorer last year was chosen captain this year. Jennings Davis alternate captain this year, Harry Moneypenny and John Henderson are back and also George McIntosh. You well remember the smooth comb that the Bisons offered with this quintet last year. The Raiders meet this outfit on January 10th and February 25th.

With all the bad weather, the intermials seem to be driven indoors to the gym with volleyball as the main stay. Improbable basketball games are always on hand and fi

Former Raiders Visit Campus

Armistice Day, November 11, was Homecoming Day on the M. T. S. C. campus, when the Blue Raiders camped the Thoroughbreds from Murray, Kentucky.

There were many former lettermen on the campus for Homecoming. Approximately 60 registered in the T-Club Office and were guest of the T-Club for the game. Many of these have not been on the campus for some years. These and other Alumni were guest of the Associated Student Body during open house in the Recreation Center after the game. Lettermen present included the following:

you people feel like a little exercise drop over to the gym and it can be arranged. Heard a rumor from Traylor Town about a deal in organizing their basketball team. You managers had better get on the ball and get your material in line. Good material is going to be scarce as hen's teeth.

The Sewanee basketball team has signed up for a scrimmage game with the Raiders here on December 2nd. Arrangements could not be completed to schedule them for a regular season game. They are interested in arranging for scrimmage games with teams in the local Grange League.

Basketball Now Catches Sports Bright Spotlight

For the past two weeks, the Blue Raider basketball team has been shaping up for their first game of the year with Athens College to be played here on December 6th. Informal practice has been going on for some time, but Coach Murphy has gotten his charges in hand for some formal drill.

Expected to lead the Raiders again in the scoring department is Charles "Fuzzy" Harmering who scored 217 points last year. Bob Ballew, voted the most valuable player last year, is back and is showing some fine ball handling. Willard Lovelady, another Soddy Daisy cage star, will probably have one of the forward spots. Homer Bellies, who played "B" team ball last year, has shown marked improvement and is sure to play a lot of ball.

Coach Murphy has been pleased with the play of several new comers to the squad. Harry Gupton has shown a lot of promise in practice playing with a great deal of aggressiveness. Winifred McFerrin handles the ball with noted smoothness. Ben Canada, Everett Cox and Ray Cox promise for fine future Raider teams.

Wayman Winters, Reed Conder and Charles Embry, all of whom played last year, form a nucleus of reserves that leaves no worry on that score.

As soon as the football season is over, several football players are expected to join the squad. Vic Varallo, Allen Prince and Joe Jackson are expected to see a lot of service as soon as they can get into shape. Maxie Runion might possibly play if his knee knits from his football injury. Maxie played on the Cohn High team of Nashville and was one of their star performers.

The squad as a whole gives rise to the promise of one of the finest Raider basketball teams that have played here in a number of years.

Raiders Drop 26-13 Contest To Strong Murray

The Middle Tennessee old grads saw their Blue Raiders drop their annual homecoming event to Murray State of Kentucky 26-12. The Raiders went into the game a three touchdown underdog but fought all the way turning the grad treat into a ballgame.

The Thoroughbreds scored the first time they got their hands on the ball. They took advantage of a Raider fumble in the first quarter and after a series of first plays, Joe Bronson circled end and scored.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Raiders took the ball straight down the field to tie the count. Captain "Vic" Varallo took a short heave from Blackman for the score.

Murray immediately went straight for its second TD on end sweeps with McDaniel waltzing over and Sanders converted. In the first part of the third stanza, Singleton intercepted a Raider pass and galloped 35 yards for another TD.

The Racers scored again in the third quarter. They recovered a Raider fumble on the 30, passed their way down the field with Dill plowing over.

The Raiders took advantage of a Racer fumble on the 15 and after being set back to the 26 by a penalty, Holmes passed for the final marker to Varallo.

The two ends of the Raiders, Joe Jackson and Varallo turned in an outstanding performance. McCoy, Smith and Hite viciously backed up the Raider line. Statistically the Raiders matched the Racers with 15-15 first downs and 275 yards rushing for the Racers to 212 yards for the Raiders. The Raider passing attack worked better than it had before this year with 9 completions out of 18.

Hitt, Curtis Hamric. Robert Seay, Rufus Brandon, Marcus Charles, Charles Greer, Tommy Hudson, Buford Turpin, W. Ralston, Sandy Huffman, Percy Bramblett, Sebern Holt, Mose Lumpkin, John Hambrick, Clifton Wiser, James Craig, Joe Brown, Kenneth Ezell, and Hamp Thomas.

Other Guests of the T-Club for the game included, Mr. R. A. Brinkley, principal of the DuPont High School; President Everett Deeryberry of T. P. I.; W. H. Brown, coach at Cohn High School; President Holbert Harvill of Austin Peay; and Hugh Burram, principal of the high school at Gallatin.

The Managers Have A Tough Job

Everyone has been reading about the football team, the players, the coaches and all about the games, but have you read about the managers yet? Do you even know who they are? One may say, "He is only the lad who takes water to the boys or helps them when injuries occur." This is true enough but they are looking out for the players everyday of the week too.

Who does everyone go to when a shoe is lost, a helmet broken—the manager. The pad carrying boys take blame for everything from no hot water in the afternoons to no mud cleats on a rainy day. No matter who's fault it really is, the managers have to take it. Always remember, that it takes many more than the eleven men on the field to win a ball game and the managers do their share.

Bill Royster has been with the Raiders as manager for the past three years and has done a wonderful job. He is the boy who gives out dirty socks and makes you like it and also like him. Bill is a senior this year majoring in physical education. He is in the Dramatic Club and The T-Club.

J. S. Holmes is a local boy and is the only freshman manager. He took high school training here in Murfreesboro for two years and transferred to Baylor Prep. in Chattanooga. While at Baylor he played two positions on the football team for two years. This is the third year for J. S. at M. T. S. C., and he is majoring in Social Science. Quoting Mr. Holmes, we'll say, "I'm anti-social, afraid of women, and a friend to all except my debtors."

Rudy White, twenty-five years old and a Navy Veteran of the Pacific has been taping ankles for the Blue and White since the 1946 season. Rudy went to East High School in Nashville, where he lettered three years in tackle. When he enrolled at M. T. S. C. in the fall of 46 he went out for football and played right guard. In the spring practice session Rudy had a rather bad injury which knocked him off the squad. Staying with the sport he became manager the next year and is tops at the job.

Last but certainly not least, we have Lew. Who is Lew? His last name is Aaron and he is help to all that jive that you Cats can dig up. Lew is staying young with colors. His duller colored shirt is a bright yellow and his tie is red, green and purple. Still Lew is our manager and we love him.

Lew attended Wallace University School in Nashville and was an outstanding athlete in both football and basketball, lettering four years in each. He and Coach Murphy played about the same time there in Nashville.

After graduating from high school, Lew enrolled at U.T. but the draft soon got him and he spend four years in the army. He reentered U. T. after discharge and remained there until 1947 when he enrolled at M. T. S. C. Lew is now a senior and is taking history as a major.

Students To Play In Grange League

The Grange Basketball League has been reorganized again this year. The league is made up of ten teams that are sponsored by the local merchants. The members of each team is a local player and MTSC students make up a good portion of each team. A college student is eligible to play if he has not earned a letter in basketball.

The power in the league is evident in the Walter Hill, Cole's Sport Shop and the Trade School teams. Last year, in a scrimmage game, the Helpy-Selfy team defeated the college team by a very close margin.

Most of the games are played in the Cox Memorial gym and a few independent teams of Nashville played here last year with teams in the league.

Raiders Top Bulldogs 13-0

The Cumberland Bulldogs pulled a surprise out of the bag when they held Raiders to only 13 points. The game was played under the very worst conditions with rain and wind playing havoc.

The Bulldogs, considered a breather, held the Raiders to 26 yards rushing first half to 115 for them. The wind hampered the Raiders and the short punts consistently kept them in the hole. Boley, of Cumberland, regularly tore holes through the Raider line for extra yardage.

Player of the Week

Joe Jackson, a senior from Chattanooga, by virtue of his brilliant play in the Murray State game has been selected as the Side - Lines Player of the Week.

Joe turned in some vicious tackling and nabbed a couple of passes in the game where it helped most. Fred Faurot of the Murray State Thoroughbreds commented that Joe was the best player on the field that day. Hampered by injuries, Joe opened up all guns and showed what he can do.

"B" Teamers Stay Unbeaten

Congratulations and pats on the back should be passed out to the "B" team members of the Blue Raiders squad. In some respects they racked up a better record than the varsity, because their goal line was never crossed. Their record for the season was, two victories, no losses and one scoreless tie. Coaches "Moody" Bain, Pat Mitchell, and Dennis Hale, did such a fine job in training the boys that, before the season ended, several of them had graduated to the varsity. They lost such mainstays as, Rocky Hardaway, Bob Searcy, D. Harris, Sonny Cone, Pete Holmes, Jake Warden, Dave Burnette and many others, but still kept on winning. These boys, in a year or so, show the promise of being one of the best varsity teams ever to be produced on this campus.

The first game, in which all members of the "B" squad saw action, was the one against Columbia Military Academy, which ended in a scoreless tie. Tennessee Tech, the next victim, was sown under to the tune of 18-0, as State "B's" had a field day.

Then came the downfall of the Cumberland University "B", who proved that the winner was to fight for the game, if he got it. It was a hard fought ball game for a while, but after the half State backs began running across the field like mad. At the end of the game Cumberland had come over to the State won column, with a 14-0 score. This proved to be the last scheduled game of the season, and the boys were jubilant, as they had every right to be, over the fine showing they had made this season.

These unheralded heroes of the gridiron, whom coaches, students, and newspaper men rarely see, are the "B" team men whom some day will be making all the sports page head-lines and be bringing glory and fame to M. T. S. C.

Middle Tennessee Blue Raiders closed out their 1948 season by losing 32 to 7 TPI of Cookeville in the annual grudge feud.

After a scoreless first quarter, in the second play of the second stanza, Lancaster took a handoff and sprinted 15 yards for paydirt. The half ended 6-0, and it was anybody's ball game.

The Eagles exploded in the third quarter for 19 points making it 25-0 before the Raiders could cross the TPI goal. Lancaster passed to Carden for one marker. Highers intercepted Holmes flip and galloped 40 yards for another score and the final TD in the third quarter came when Lancaster sped 55 yards outrunning the whole Raider team.

The Raiders made their only score when Maxie Runion took the kickoff on his own 10 and returned it to the Raider 39. The Combined running attack of Adams and Blackman, passing of Holmes placed the ball on the Eagle nine yard line where Bill Nesbitt blasted over. Allen Prince converted.

On the next to the last play of the game, Whitaker broke through the Raider line and raced 67 yards for the final marker.

Statistically the Eagles led in most departments. On the ground the Eagles racked up 349 yards rushing to 123 for the Raiders, 15 first downs for the Eagles and 12 for MTSC. The Raiders completed six out of 16 passes for 59 yards and the Eagles took in four for eight for 45 yards. The Raider punting stood out with an average of 40 yards to 29 for the Eagles.

"Rock" Hardaway in the closing minutes of the first half, broke through the Eagle line for three consecutive times to drill Eagle passers for a total loss of 32 yards.

Freshman Class Is Contributing Campus Leaders

By BILL WILLIS Want to know a few facts about freshmen? Topping the list of outstanding personages is the mayor of Trailer-Town, Gordon O'Kelley, former Chicago flatfoot. Next comes most of the football "B" team, which is made up mostly of freshmen. The four girls that lead the cheering at the ball games also belong to our class.

is from Murfreesboro. He is president of the International Relations club and secretary of the Sigma club. He is majoring in social science.

Jack Yearwood is a business administration major from Madison, who serves as treasurer of the T club.

Speaking of the "B" team did you know that Done Stoser broke his ankle giving his best for the "Baby Raiders"? And did you "B" team guys know that before Cumberland's game with you, their coach made them say the Lords prayer? This reached my ears through one of the C. U. players.

Congratulations in order for Bunn Pitts, organizer of the Murfreesboro boys clubs, and in who's honor a feast was given by the business men and civic leaders of this town. Bunn is another outstanding member of the freshman class.

What about the Freshmen float? All the Frosh know that we should have gotten first prize. Guess the judges just overlooked it. But how can you overlook anything like "Red" Webb? It wasn't hard to overlook Ed Tittle but, it seems to me, that such men as Carl Wells, Mayor O'Kelley, and Ray Cox can't be overlooked. Also like to send our thanks to Vance Paschal, owner of the float truck.

The one professional athlete we boast of is, Joe Langdon, a graduate of Father Ryan High School, and a professional curve ball artist. Joe won three and lost two last year for Lanette Alabama, and is a member of the Boston Red Sox organization.

Want to make a correction: the only outstanding freshman around this place today is the one who didn't flunk the recent Biology test. What a test!

There are also several "Honey Britches" (Coach Murphy's word) in our organization that could be mentioned, but these are also common in the upper-classes to I'll leave them out.
