Bain, Atchley, Fleming and Ralph Lead Classes

Officials Are Named In Heated Balloting After Tuesday Chapel

Elmer "Moody" Bain of Smithville was elected president of the Senior class at the organization meeting Tuesday morning. He will lead a class of over 100 members for the next three regular school quarters. Bain was named the outstanding football player on the Blue Raider squad last year. This fall he is the "B" team coach. Gene Gotcher was elected as the senior vice-president. The secretary for the fourth-year group is Julia Parnell. Sue Cassidy was named treasurer and Bob Eskew sergeant-at-arms. Ralph Fleming was elected president of the junior class. Fleming is from Donelson. Joe Jones will return to the duties he had last year as class vice-president. The same goes for Martha Massey who will serve another year as secretary-treasurer. The sergeant-at-arms post will be filled by Rudy White. The sophomores elected Frank Atchley as their president for the coming year. Atchley is from Nashville and a member of the Raider football squad. Another footballer, Guy Buchanan will handle the duties of vice-president. Treasurer for the second-year group is Jim McCoy. June Carter was named secretary. In the sergeant-at-arms position will be Brad Miller. The freshman class named James Ralph as their highest ranking officer. Ralph is from Goodlettsville. Andrew Hardaway was elected vice-president. The secretary post was awarded to Sue Tanner and treasurer for the year is Marion Blakmore. Jimmy Hite was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Hraley Fite Is Named C-N Prexy

Dr. Harley Fite, a graduate of MTSC, has been elected president of Carson-Newman College at Jefferson City, Tennessee. Dr. Fite, who continues his education to gain his Master's degree and his Doctor of Philosophy in education at Peabody College is well known in Tennessee educational circles. Formerly associated with Austin Peay State College of Clarksville and more recently with the Tennessee Valley Authority Dr. Fite formerly lived at Auburntown.

Many Alumni Maintain Interest In MTSC by Association Membership

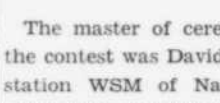

During the past few days many former students of Middle Tennessee State College have sent in Alumni dues for the current year. These came from several states and from many communities within Tennessee. While more of this group are teaching than are engaged in any other vocation, there is a widespread in the employment of the group. Charles Brown is taking his third and final year of law at Fordham University. Jane Miller is teaching math and science in College Grove High School. After completing his law degree at the University of Tennessee and passing the bar, Marshall Duggin is practicing law in Woodbury. Jean Rutledge is teaching the third grade at Huntland. Mrs. Elizabeth C. Parker is supervisor of Moore County schools in Lynchburg. Mrs. Margaret Dykes is teaching in Whitwell. Mrs. R. Kirk Webb, formerly Jeanne Gilmore, is director of nutrition, serving with the Davidson County Chapter of the Red Cross. Mr. J. Pope Dyer is still teaching social science at Central High School in Chattanooga. E. G. Rogers is Professor of English at Tennessee Wesleyan College in Athens. MAJOR HALL AT BILOXI Major Haywood Hall is located at Keesler Airforce Base, Biloxi, Miss. James Ivan Calfee is Coordinator of Veteran Education in Orlando, Florida. E. W. Hill is vice-president of the Dixie Mercantile Company in Chattanooga. Clarice Miller is still making her home in Murfreesboro. Elinor Campbell is living in Carman (Continued On Page Three)

Shmoos? Maybe

Cafeteria Manager Bill Grandstaff is in desperate need of a whole bevy of Al Capp's Shmoos. Without Shmoos the eds and co-eds of MTSC are likely to continue on short milk rations for several days. The college dairy, which customarily supplies the college cafeteria with milk juice, has been taxed to capacity by the needs of Trailertown and the normal college needs. The large number of new students and with 62 babies in Trailertown, coupled with dry pastures during the recent drought period has curtailed the amount of milk available at the cafeteria. Efforts by Mr. Grandstaff to have commercial dairies supply the deficit have resulted in the discovery that they too seem to need Shmoos. The cows must cooperate, the Shmoos must be secured, the babies go without their bottles or the eds and co-eds ease up on their milk drinking until the current shortage is over.

Bill Clark Is Concert Winner

Bill Clark, a student of MTSC, carried all honors to win the recent amateur show sponsored by the Murfreesboro Lions Club. The contest was over a period of three nights and against stiff competition. Bill's singing brought him through to win top prize and a cash payment. Also included in prize was a chance to sing three nights weekly over WGNS.

The master of ceremonies during the contest was David Cobb of radio station WSM of Nashville. He is arranging an audition for Bill. "I knew him when..." So all you people give a listen Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6:15 over WGNS if you want to hear some smooth warbling.

College Infirmary Has New Staff

Students are happy to have the services of a doctor and nurse on the campus again. The nurse became Mrs. Ray Gregory on February 28, 1948. Both she and her husband came from Hartsville, Tennessee. Mr. Gregory has been a student at MTSC since January. Mrs. Gregory graduated from Nashville General Hospital in May, 1945. She was sent to the Medical Center in Bordeaux and then to the State Tuberculosis Hospital. Her next assignment was night supervisor in the maternity ward at Nashville General. Before coming to MTSC on September 1, Mrs. Gregory was employed by the Rutherford County Hospital. The Gregorays are now residing in the infirmary apartment. Dr. E. P. Odum, an alumnus of this school is a native of Paris and graduated from the University of Tennessee. He did his intern work at Nashville General. Prior to coming to Murfreesboro to practice, Dr. Odum served four years in the armed forces. Students will find the new physician at the infirmary from one until two on Monday, Tuesday and Friday afternoons. Plans for the year at the infirmary include: complete physicals for all freshmen and new students, typhoid and influenza shots, smallpox vaccinations, and the treatment of injuries and illnesses. In the near future, x-ray and minor surgery will be included.

MTSC Extension Courses Started

Workshops for teachers have been started in five Middle Tennessee towns under the direction of the Division of Extension Field Services of the college. Designed to aid teachers to earn college credit off the campus the workshops will meet one night each week for twelve weeks and will offer three hours credit in the language arts. Workshops have opened in Columbia, Smithville, McMinnville, Woodbury and Murfreesboro. Directors of the workshop include Miss Ruby McElroy, Miss Mary Frances Snell, Miss Irma Banks, Dr. Joe Frank Wilkes, and Mrs. Sewall Manley. During the summer quarter workshops were conducted by the college at Winchester, Tracy City, Lawrenceburg, Fayetteville, LaFayette, Jasper, Columbia, Waynesboro, Franklin, Lebanon and Smithville. The summer instructional staff included Miss Mary Ann Ashley, Miss Mary Frances Snell, Mrs. Roy Manley, Mrs. Madge Manson, Roy Simpson, J. W. Borders, Miss Buleah Thomas, Miss Mildred Marona, James Major, Paschal Shelton, with Dean N. C. Beasley, Dr. Knox McCharen, Miss Mary Hall and Howard Kirksey assisting.

Future Teachers Organize With Seventy Members

Seventy-five old and new members attended the opening meeting at the MTSC Future Teachers of America which was held on September 30 at the college. The organization was introduced to the new members by a series of short talks given by the old members. Dr. J. T. Wilkes, faculty adviser, explained the meaning of FTA and how it came to be organized. J. B. Whitman, president, read the constitution and explained the project system for the coming year. Gary Hill, vice-president, told the group something of the club activities during the past year. Dr. Knox McCharen, co-faculty adviser, brought before the group some of the professional advantages of being associated with the FTA while in college. (Continued On Page Three)

Thousand Here For Annual Teachers Conference

In keeping with its policy of aid and guidance to teachers, Middle Tennessee State College was host to the fifth annual reading conference which was held on October 1 and 2. The two day meeting attracted more than 1,000 Middle Tennessee teachers to hear such outstanding educators as Dr. Lane Boutwell of MTSC, Dr. A. S. Artley of the University of Missouri, and Dr. Arville Wheeler of Peabody College. The Friday night dinner marked the halfway point of the meeting. At that time after dinner discussions on oral reading, spelling, children's literature, speech improvement, choral reading, current events, handwriting and reading testing were led by members of the college faculty as table hosts. These leaders included Hester Rogers, Buleah Davis, Eugene Sloan, Ed Baldwin, Ellis Rucker, Emily Calcott, Lane Boutwell, Richard Peck, C. C. Sims, Loraine H. Stowe and Wilmouth D. Bowdoin. Dr. Joe Frank Wilkes, associate professor of education at MTSC, was in charge of arrangements for the program. Assisting in this program were several outstanding Middle Tennessee teachers, the majority of whom were State alumni. Included in this group were: Susie Caldwell, Wilson County; Clara Enion, Sparta; Christine Vaughn, Manchester; Margaret England, Davidson County; Elizabeth Stephenson, Centerville; Maude Terry, Cookeville; Myrtle Holloway, Lebanon; Preston James, Pulaski; Neelie Dye, Shelbyville; Wynette Paschal, Woodbury; Millie Stevens, Clarksville.

New Members Bids Being Received By Dramatic Club

The Buchanan Dramatic Club has organized for the fall quarter and is now accepting applications for membership, according to Roy Minor, club president. The club, one of the largest and most active groups in the school, expects even more growth and certainly more activity in the coming year. The members spent considerable time during the summer months constructing and accumulating supplies and equipment, and now attention is being turned to the production of the coming year. Besides a growth in membership, the club has had the good fortune of the addition of a new faculty member to its advisory staff. In addition to the club sponsor and director, Mr. Lane Boutwell, the English Department has made available the services of Mr. John A. Scott. Mr. Scott is a graduate of Birmingham-Southern College, where he did extensive work in the theater of that college. His special- (Continued On Page Three)

Aviators Plan Breakfast Hops

At the beginning of a new school year the Aviation Activities at the college airport are off to a good start, with students reporting for ground school courses and flight training. All aviation courses will be held at the airport due to the better facilities offered there. All ground students will receive the fundamentals of operating the Link trainer; in addition, there will be instruction on navigation with a full equipped navigation room. The Murfreesboro wing of the C.A.P. stationed at the College Airport took part in the recent search maneuvers at Tullahoma, Tenn., sponsored by the Army Air Corps, National C.A.P. and the Tennessee Bureau of Aeronautics. This year's plans of the M.T.S.C. Aviation Club include breakfast flights and several trips to Berry Field to receive instructions on airport management. These activities should be an improvement over last year's due to the closer association with the air port.

Alumnus Writes Third Book

Bruce and Humphries, Inc., the publisher, announces that the book will be off press in October and will be on sale in Nashville at Stokes and Stockwell Bookshop. Columbia Broadcast Will Originate On MTSC Campus For Raider-Tiger Club

Arrangements were completed Monday night for the Columbia Broadcasting System to carry a full hour of their Saturday night coast-to-coast network program directly from the auditorium and stadium of Middle Tennessee State College, president Q. M. Smith announced Tuesday. Henry King Butler, president of the Raider-Tiger club, Mr. Smith, and officials of CBS completed the details at a special meeting Monday night. More than fifty stations will carry the CBS "Eddie Arnold Show," with a cast of 35 musicians and comedians directly from the state college to more than 50 CBS stations over the nation. Reserve seats for the auditorium show are available for the show from 9 until 9:30 and may also be used to gain admittance to the stadium for the latter part of the show, which will also be carried on the national hook-up. All proceeds of the show will go to the Raider-Tiger Club. The Eddie Arnold troupe opened a transcendent tour two weeks ago at Madison Square Garden. Last week they played in Washington, D. C., and this week will use the local facilities as an outlet for their program before proceeding on to the West Coast.

States Students Like to be Near Home, Says Survey

The desire to be near home seems to predominate among reasons given by freshmen for enrolling at MTSC. Others were interested in the courses offered. While extra curriculum activities influenced some. Among some fifteen freshmen interviewed, the following answers were given: Jo Gordon, Christiana: "I wanted to be close to home." Marion Blakemore, Huntsville, Alabama: "To be in the band." Harris Dement, Murfreesboro: "I don't know." Margarette Williams, Old Hickory: "To major in biology." Shirley Mai Heist, Nashville: "To major in biology." Fred Statum, Shelbyville: "Because it was close to home." Doris Jean Gowan, Shelbyville: "I heard the teachers were so good that I had to come." Edward Tittle, Hendersonville, Tenn.: "It is close to home." Bill Hunter, Columbia: "Close to home and not so expensive."

"Rats" Enjoy Pre-War Collegiate Atmosphere

By BILL WILLIS If you heard blood-curdling screams coming from the student center Wednesday night it was only a few hundred freshmen boys being "worked over" by the upper classmen in a real pre-war Freshman initiation to college life. On that fatal night hair left heads and all that could get out left the student center. But those who were not fortunate enough to get away, had torture equal to that of the Middle Ages (they thought) and the cave men. But the fun didn't end there for the dear upperclassmen, as the lower freshmen had to act as servants to these slave-driving masters for three whole days and nights. Some washed and polished the upper classmen's limousines, bowed to their beck and call in the cafeteria, and one musician brought back sad memories to the GI's by sounding reville in Jones Hall at midnight. This was one occurrence which did not please all the upper classmen. Clothes Make the Man Then there was also the small matter of clothes, suggested by the upper classmen, which consisted of wearing the shirt wrong-side out and the pants wrong-side out and on backwards, a generous amount of lipstick on the face. One freshman boy went home all pained up and his mother said, "My, these girls really mean business up there this (Continued On Page Two)

Poetry Association Offers Opportunity to Have Verse Published

All students taking advantage of this opportunity should submit their manuscripts to National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 14, California, and each entry must bear the author's name, some address, and college attended. All MTSC students are eligible to submit verse for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry. The closing date for the acceptance of manuscripts is set for November 5. There are no charges or fees for this service, and it will give definite recognition to the school. Those headgear fashioned of bath towels and paper sacks were quite chic, too. And those very cute little sisters! Of course, no one would have known they were rag dolls made from bath towels unless you had told them. (Continued On Page Three)

By RUDY ARNOLD If you wonder who Hezekiah is, or was, I'll just up and tell you. Hezekiah was once the friskiest bull in the horsetail. Bless his bones! His was the guiding spirit which hovered over freshman girls of Lyon and Rutledge during initiation. His spirit floated each day from its places of rest in his skull bones to guide, counsel and hover over freshmen. Of course, to insure such tender care each girl was very solicitous of Hezekiah's bones, each day removing one of his teeth and inquiring about his tooth ache. During initiation the campus was scintillating with fashions that would put Parisian designers right under the bed with envy. Now didn't our freshman girls look the ultimate of sophistication in those softly draped side down skirts and wrinkled up dress pajama outfits? (Continued On Page Three)

A GOVERNMENT FOR THE PEOPLE

Our democratic way of life is based on many things such as custom, tradition and law. Custom and tradition usually change with society and law could be added to this group but there has to be a foundation for the law to start on—guiding principles to build up from, this is our Constitution of the United States.

Practically any group of society organized for a purpose, has a constitution. This institution has such a document. Probably you hear very little about it, but nevertheless it is here and for our benefit. Certainly only a small majority of the students have read our constitution.

The Constitution can be changed and at the same time improvements made by a majority vote of the Congress elected from each class.

ARTICLE FIVE, SECTION ONE states that all executive officers shall be elected during the last month of the Winter Quarter. These officers are: the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and attorney general of the ASB. For the last two years and how much longer, I don't know, these officers have been elected in the Spring Quarter. This is by far the better time for the election as all qualified to vote would have a better opportunity to know the candidate before the election time. Certainly this is a great advantage to anybody.

The veto power offers a form of check and double check between the executive and legislative branches.

ARTICLE SEVEN, SECTION ONE states that the veto power of all laws shall be vested in the President of the college, or some person delegated to act by him. There is no section or clause that gives Congress the right to check this veto and override it if they see fit. Should the President and the Associated Student Body President be given this right? The administration should act as advisor on any question when needed. Their expression and advice should mean much more to the student body and we would have a more perfect democratic form of government than this Rubber Stamp Veto.

The Associated Student Body is for our benefit. Let's all familiarize ourselves with the student government, offer suggestion to improve it as it stands, vote in all elections we qualify for and then AND only then we can step back and see Democracy working before us.

A FRIEND OF ALL

The starting of the fall quarter in school is the same as the new year inasmuch as a fresh start is at hand. Let's take advantage of this opportunity of a new start and make this school live up to the name of the friendliest of all. I have heard that term applied to our school and certainly we don't want to discourage it in the future.

The saying that no one can make or break seems very true to me. But all working as one can do the trick and whether we want to or not we will and are playing a role in the future of MTSC.

Maybe the primary reason for our being here on the campus is to learn to pick up facts. We have even a greater chance facing us each day in that we may add new and warm friendship to our roll of names. One of the greatest bit of advice ever offered to anyone was to make new friends and keep the old.

Starting now we have this opportunity to make these friends and keep the old. There is more to college than to meet classes each day and visit the library regularly. These are certainly not to be overlooked by any of us—but there is the organizations on the campus for OUR benefit. Join a club of your choosing and your school life begins. Join two organizations (and there are many) and you have found the beauty of the school.

After all—going to college is very much like moving from one town to another. You may move to a town and be just a clerk which is your trade and let it go at that. Then you have the chance to join civic clubs in these towns that all of a sudden seem to be alive with friendly people. That's when you are happy—when you have made new friends while holding on to the old.

Let's start out today and see how many new friends we can make and see how much better we will enjoy our stay in school.

Willis Story

Since the freshman football players had to be in top physical condition for the coming game, they were initiated a week earlier than the other freshmen. The different styles and shapes of haircuts goes to show that the modern hairdressers have nothing on the upper classmen. In one instance a football player pulled off his freshman cap and nearly frightened his friend out of her wits with his Indian-like suntan and Comanche top-knot.

The poor little freshmen girls really had a hard time. In Rutledge Hall they were summoned to a house meeting by the de-er upper classmen and they were instructed to come to the meeting dressed in their best. In this meeting they were told what to wear Thursday. The instructions of these demons of fashion were:

"Wear your dress wrong-side out, and tie a stocking in a large colorful bow and tie it in the neckline of your dress, just leave your pajamas on, stuff them in your ankles and tie them with a pretty piece of ribbon, and—we'll tell you what else to do later on."

Co-eds Become Maids

The girls went through a day of playing maids to these women. That night the freshmen girls came down to the lobby dressed in sheets, and were made to stand up and tell where they were from while the upper classmen giggled and laughed in ridicule. After that they were told what to wear Friday. Friday morning they came out arrayed in blue jeans with shorts on over them, a large shirt on over all this, and hair still in rollers. All day Friday they served the upper classmen as orderlies. Jean Mason, freshman cheerleader, who sang and blew bubbles in the cafeteria, said she was having lots of fun.

The plan was much the same in Lyons Hall, only the costumes were much more colorful (or crazy) than they were in Rutledge Hall. These little girls were made to wear the blouse wrong-side out, the skirt wrong-side out and inverted, and a tight T-shirt. They could not wear lipstick, the hair was to be left stringy and a doll made of bath towel had to be lugged around all day. They also carried milk in a coke bottle to feed this fugitive from the bathroom. All this was required on memorabilia Thursday. On Friday, the regalia was: sheets on for clothes, with sacks on the feet and a mask made of sacks on the face. They were also required to carry their books in a waste basket.

But It WAS Fun!

All this was brought to a long awaited close Friday afternoon with the big parade and pep meeting. The parade started in front of the Administration Building and consisted of approximately thirty cars, decorated in the school colors, led by the band in a large truck. Behind all this came the freshmen, beating cans and other articles which could produce a noise. This procession proceeded to the Rutherford County Square.

After a very successful pep meeting was held on the east side of the square, the meeting broke up with all Rutherford County people knowing that the Blue Raiders were going to win a football game that night. The freshmen with still some five hours of initiation to go, walking the seemingly thousand blocks back to the campus. The torturous

Stormy Session Hits Jones Hall

Take Lew Aaron—some of the latest jazz records known to man or beast and you see what happened on Tuesday night as Jones Hall found itself in the middle of a mad Be-Bop session.

The exact location of this frantic session was the Jones Hall concession. Ordinarily one would descend to this homy little store of a bar of candy or maybe a box of ice cream, but something more yet was in store for the consuming public in this lovable hideaway. Set your watch at 9:30 p.m. You being both hungry and sleepy and as usual forsaking the sleep for one more bite before turning in. Now that food is the next thing to be had you walk partly dressed, as you reach for one of the numerous items on the shelves you are told to be quiet and don't make a move until the music stops. When the record is over every one who had the idea of making a purchase grabs for the particular item in mind. This is where the confusion starts, this fellow wants tooth paste. He finds he has shaving cream, another prospective customer makes for the ice cream and gets razor blades. Well, the little man at the cash drawer is "Pretty Good" Gebhardt. He sits patiently, listening to the confusion and bringing in the funds.

The time is now 10:30 p.m. The crowd has dwindled down to around fifteen in the small quarters and a few of the boys are a little tired from listening to hot tenor sax. They plead with Lew to play something along the popular line, something a little more familiar. But Lew says you aren't "in there" if you don't dig the Be-Bop. Having much trouble from the listening audience he plays "Everybody Calls You Darling."

"Many faces gleamed in a satisfied expression, but no sooner than the needle of the record player had passed the last groove on this popular disc, there was Charlie Ventura's trio playing "Stomping at the Savoy" and on the other side "Body and Soul." A real lover of the finer jive couldn't say no to this.

The session was about over, most of the fellows had that bite that was so necessary for hearing and everyone felt better after hearing Lew's fine record collection. "Pretty Good" cleaned the store up once more and straightened the shelves. The time is now midnight and Lew was packed and on the way back to the Boulevard. "Pretty Good" finally got to lay on his own bed without some one disturbing him.

Home Ec Club Has Fall Social

Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 4:30 the Home Economics Club gave their annual tea for girls entering the college as freshmen or transfer students, and the faculty.

In the receiving line were the officers of the club, Mary Lu Mason, president; Betty Ruth Patton, vice-president; Lucy Hicks, treasurer; and Ann Brown, social chairman.

The table looked lovely overlaid with an imported Italian cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and yellow roses and white tapers in silver candleholders.

Tea was poured by Betty Jo Robinson and Mary Jo Ladd. Those serving were: Grace Kirby, Aynn Winfrey, Ann Beard, Della Mae Jakes, and Gladys Shadow.

ty was light opera work, combining musical, acting, and dancing talents into one role. Mr. Scott is also interested in the field of creative dancing, creating interpretive dances to original or selected music.

The production for this quarter's production is the hilarious Broadway comedy, "The Hasty Heart." One might imagine what could happen when a Yank, an Australian, a New Zealander, and a British Tommie are thrown together in a convalescent ward in the China-Burma-India Theater of war. The difference in cultural and individual background set the scenes for the many humorous escapades which are threatened continually by the cloak of death which gives a serious twist to the plot. It is a character production, done with dialects, and is expected to be another top notch performance to add to the already outstanding record of the club. Anyone who has attended the productions of the drama group in recent months will not want to miss the forthcoming play.

Key-Hole Kitty

Eight a.m. Beaming, smiling faces greet the morning sun at MTSC. Another glowing day has dawned and as the eager students go searching for knowledge, I turn back over and sleep. Ten o'clock will be early enough to run over to you brainworkers to see one and only — Dr. Richard Peck.

Hats off to a swell gang of freshmen. Besides being good sports and eager beavers, they're good-looking too. Wait til those burr-heads get back to normal—you'll see. Even Robert Ragland should be able to get a date by then. (He's the sport with the yellow convertible, girls.)

Then there's that tricky trio from Fayetteville—you guessed it—Faye Jenkins, Evelyn Broacher and June Posy. Wonder why Faye haunts the post office? Does look like Monty and Stumpy would tell us of the sights of their home town.

By the by, fellow upper-classmen, should we warn these sweet innocent freshmen girls about the local campus wolves or wait a while? We-e-ell, among the old faithfuls that I see with a different dish every night, there are Bill Royster, Bill Irvin, Jim Lowman and many others who are bigger than I am.

Let's give fifteen rabs for the great cheer-leaders we have this year for a change. In case some haven't gotten acquainted, they are Jean Mason (the Voice), Sue Tanner, Virginia Mason Elrod, and old ever-ready J. P. Grigg and "Cooty" Lewis. And have you noticed our major-ettes!—Betty Neese, "Taffy" Blake-more (Beeg Man Ford's moll) in addition to our mighty fine old hands: Betty Brown Tipps, Robby Gregory, and Doris Prater.

Say, could anybody tell me what happened to Frank Atchley and Emily? Frank looked mighty happy "swapping yarns" with Lavada Waters and Sue Tanner.

Who is Smoe?
Oh yes, to you feminine newcomers who wanted to know—that fair-haired lad is Dick Covington and he's taken—by a Yankee up Chicago way, no less. Sore! Sore!

Ed Delbridge seems to have found the freshman for him—Peggy Van-Zant. By the way, Peggy, what was it you asked for in the lunchroom? We don't serve that stuff around here, chile. Better go back to U.T. Along with the new faces there are some old, familiar cats—Hayden Ray, Sam Green (who said he was selling insurance?), Lorraine and Joe Link, Rad Spivey. Incidentally, that was Rad under the hat and with the double-barrelled shotgun at the Cape Girardeau game the other night. The old bag with him was a cute kid by the name of Sue Epperman. Speaking of that game, the Pep Band made quite a hit. Despite Chick's zipper, Raider, the mascot, stole the show.

The guys around here finally spotted Martha Powell—hear she's quit going strictly scholastic for a little of this mighty fine night life. Since so many of the students of this institution met their classes over in the lunchroom, there has been included in the curriculum a regular class which meets from nine to twelve, six days a week. The instructor is that suave (?) Ross McClain aided by Bradshaw. What did you say was the title of the course, Ross? Anyway, you kids gotta have a lab partner and class is open to new enrollees until fur-

If you want to know how many trees there are on the campus and how many linoleum squares in the main dining room, just ask any freshman girl. Bet you didn't know there were approximately 1008 trees, 6,528 squares of linoleum.

If you hear any visitors commenting on the cleanliness of the Administration building steps just explain to them that the freshman girls washed them with a tooth brush, not once but twice.

Free Shmoos.—to all MTSC students. Some kind soul has taken pity upon poor kids who get sick eating at "ye olde messhall" and has shipped in a carload of Al Capp's "shmoos" straight from Dogpatch. Shmoos are little gourd-like creatures who lay on bottles of milk, packages of eggs and butter. Broiled, shmoos tastes better than steamed, it's better than chicken; and baked—m-m-m-m! Shmoos skin dried and cut into thin slices makes better houses than lumber. Line forms on the right—all you need is two, soon you'll have dozens! Blue Raiders Meet Union Tomorrow Night In Jackson

ALONG THE SIDELINES

By Bob A. Eskew

ENDS SHINE IN OPENING FRAY

As a team the opening game was a top-notch performance, especially after the early scrimmages but the play of the ends was best as a unit. Certainly we didn't expect Cape Girardeau or any of the even bigger clubs that are yet ahead to circle our flanks at will, but still those boys turned in a pleasing night's work that caught the eye of more than this writer. Both Ed Bell and Russ Melvin of the Tennessean had favorable words for Jackson, Varallo, Lyons, Brown, Harrison and company. The ailing Ralph Fleming isn't to be forgotten either. His return to form, provided he isn't out for good, wouldn't do the team any harm. The play of Mr. President wasn't exactly shocking, it was just doubtful if he was ready to go, not seeing a loss of service last fall due to injuries. He and Varallo should give the Raiders two of the best offensive flankmen they have had for some time.

TWO ENDS, ONE BACK VIE FOR PLAYER-OF-THE-WEEK AWARD

All writers present at the Missouri tussle agreed that the man for this award wasn't easy. After the games it is the policy of the Side-Lines to poll writers on hand for the outstanding player for the night of the Raiders. At no time last fall was the selection a more complicated affair than in the opening game.

Taking this poll, it was no way to name one man. As a result three claim the title—and rightly.

The two ends named were Joe Jackson and Capt. Vic. They caught two passes scores. The back named was Bill Blackman, who left nothing to be desired. The other score in question can be credited to this senior.

The question of having a girls basketball team is raised once more. The place is packed with talent.

Touch football must be on it's way in. It has to be especially with Pops Smith in possession of a ball. The credit for the ball goes to the distinguished J. S. Holmes who presented the ball to Pops on the practice field Monday. From the text of Judge Holmes speech the reason of the donation is to keep said receiver and club from using the footballs intended for the varsity practice. Never has there been a more timely gift.

The biggest surprise last week-end was the Austin Peay win over Union University of Jackson.

Basketball talk has found a place so early. Tommy Cole is on the prowl for his club which will be in the City League.

The ost unexpected answer so far. Question—What do you look forward to in the fall of the year? Answer—Turnip greens, corn bread and FOOTBALL! WHO'D THOUGHT IT???

Trailer Town Bows to Once Easy Foe

It took three years for it to happen, but the Trailer Town touch football absorbed a sound beating last Thursday at the hands of the Jones Hall crew. After some disputing as to the length of the game, the final count read 36-6.

Not since the war has the Trailer Towners found the going so rough. Jones Hall employed speed and short passes to swamp the past kings of the touch league. It took the stags only two minutes to produce their first score.

Leading the way for Jones Hall was Parker, Winters, Travis, Snoddy and Cooksey. On the married folk squad was three of the old-liners in John Holt, "Lefty" Busby and "Pops" Smith.

Unknown Union Next Raider Foe

by DAVE WILLIS

On Thursday, October 7, the Blue Raiders travel to Jackson, Tenn. to meet the potentially dangerous Union University. So far this season, Union has gotten off to a slow start, losing the first two games. They lost to Troy, Alabama 13-7 and to the Governors of Austin Peay, 20-7.

This year Fred Delay, coach of Union, has installed the single wing and with the same team he had last year he should be rolling by the time the Raiders meet the Bulldogs. The team had insufficient time to become accustomed to the change in formations when they played their first games so to do them full justice it would be hard to judge their full power.

Fred Delay is an alumnus of MTSC and started his coaching at Carthage High School. He is originally from Lacassas and is gunning for a defeat of his alma mater come October 7.

Last year the Raiders, in a hard-fought game, defeated the Bulldogs 19 to 6. This year's game promises to be a rough contest between the two.

Strong Arkansas Eleven Comes to Town October 15

The new school added to the MTSC Blue Raider schedule, Arkansas State College of Jonesboro, Arkansas, is of unproven strength to the fans of this section. This will be the first game played on a new home-to-home contract basis.

Last year, Arkansas State tied both Western Kentucky 21-21 and Memphis State 19-19. Playing that caliber ball this year which in all prospects they will do, Arkansas will give the Raiders a game for their money.

Arkansas meets Mississippi College, Western Kentucky and Kansas State College, all fine teams, before they meet the Raiders. From all indications the Blue Raiders will have to be playing top brand ball on Jones Field October 15, when they tangle with the team from Arkansas.

Bubba Didn't Know

A strange incident occurred in the latter part of the summer to one of the local "Byron Nelsons" of the campus. In the Old Hickory Invitational Golf Tourney at the Old Hickory Country Club, "Bubba" Adwell came close to carving a niche in the sports hall of fame.

After the first round, Adwell was five strokes out of first with a 79. On the 12th hole of the second round, he was shooting a sizzling one under par to lead the pack. All unknown to him, if he had come in with one under par as he was shooting, he would have finished second even with a 79 scored the day before. As luck would have it, he shot one over par on the next hole and scored a 75 for the day and registered in the eleventh place.

For an instance, he had the tourney in his pocket but as golf goes, it's anybody's game until the last hole.

Another M.T.S.C. student was also in the tournament. Charles Embry came up with a 77 the first day and a 76 the second day to take tenth place. Embry's score was 153 and Adwell's was 154. The winner registered 149. Both boys are on the Raider Golf team and the scores racked up prove that it's pretty good golf in anybody's language.

Raiders Top Maryville For Second Win

Taking A Look At The Raiders

By HARDAWAY

Ralph Fleming, 190 pounds, six foot right end, hails from Donelson, Tennessee. He lettered three years at Donelson High where he was rated All-City and named alternate captain his senior year.

After spending two years with the Army Air Corps, "Flem" enrolled at MTSC in the Spring quarter of '46. Keeping his good record he has lettered two years at left end and is knocking heads with Joe Jackson for the right position this fall.

Ralph is a junior, majoring in Physical Education and is a member of the Phys Ed Club. Watch number 39 this season for a real ball player.

Raiders Scalp Indians 20-7

By DAVE WILLIS

Trying the T-formation, that sputtered during the first half, but exploded in the final half, the M.T.S.C. Blue Raiders scalped the Cape Girardeau, Mo., Indians 20 to 7.

Both teams threw away chances to score in the first half but in the second stanza, the Indians jumped upon a fumble on the Raider 12 yard line and in five plays, Killian, Abernathy and company pushed it over. Halter converted to make it 7-0.

With their tempers riled, the Raiders took the ensuing kickoff and marched 62 yards to score. A pass from Bill Blackman to Joe Jackson racked up the 6 points. Allen Prince converted to tie it up. On the march down field, Shorty Adams, Larry Nelson and Bill Blackman bore the brunt of the attack.

Early in the third frame, after getting the word at the half, the Raiders drove from their own 40 to the Indians 10. There Blackman flipped a pass to Captain "Vic" Varallo for another 6 points. Prince's conversion was wide and the Raiders were in front 13-7.

In the fourth quarter, an intercepted pass by Guy Buchanan and a 25 yard run back set up the last T. D. Two plays put the ball on the 12 yard line where Blackman circled left end and went over standing up. Prince booted the ball for the extra point, making it 20-7.

In the last half, the Raiders held the Indians without a first down and only 29 yards from scrimmage. The Raiders rolled up 286 yards and 135 yards for the Indians. Raider first downs 10, Indians 5.

Former Raiders Watch MTSC Win

Coach O. L. "Nooby" Freeman welcomed twenty former lettermen in the Recreation Center on Friday, September 24, when the Blue Raiders downed Cape Girardeau.

Due to a heavy school schedule throughout Middle Tennessee, there were fewer lettermen returning for the game than usual.

Those who did attend included Fisher Morton, Robert McIntyre, Charles Phillips, Jimmy Jackson, John Dixon, George Sharpe, Fount Watson, Jesse Jamison, Herman Jenkins, Sam Smith, and Frank Bass of Murfreesboro, Glen Kinnard of Columbia, Robert Sanford of Chattanooga, Hoyte Owen of Woodbury, Billy Gunn of Wartrace, Maury Smart of Mt. Juliet, Raleigh Brown of Nashville, Marcus Charles of Pontiac, Michigan, and Fred Delay of Jackson completed the list.

BILL BLACKMAN

Blackman And Runion Score

By BOB ESKEW

The Blue Raiders nailed down win number two Saturday night in Maryville as they beat the highly rated Scotties 13-12 before a crowd of some 3000 people.

With the game about two minutes from the end, the Raiders scored on a pass from Bill Blackman to Maxie Runion. This play climaxed a 60-yard drive that saw both teams receive penalties of 15 yards.

Maryville took an early lead after the Raiders fumbled on the first play from scrimmage. Taking the ball on the 20 after the fumble, Maryville scored three plays with Fogarty going over, standing up. The try for extra point was wide.

The Raiders caught fire on the kick-off and marched a total of 60 yards without giving up the ball to knot the count and go in front on Prince's extra point. Blackman passed to Varallo who ran to the Scottie 15 before being hauled down from behind. From here Runion and Adams took the ball to the one where Blackman crashed over for the score.

The third period saw both teams threaten to score and in the fading minutes of the quarter the Scotties took another break and scored. On fourth down, Halfback Law tossed a long pass to Neff, who never touched the ball, but was given possession of same on one-yard marker. The same troublesome Fogarty found a hole at left tackle to score standing in two plays.

The fourth quarter rolled along without a dangerous penetration of either team. Then Max Arnold found Joe Jackson in the clear for a pass that was good for a first down on the enemy 48. Runion then added another first down to the game as he scampered to the 35. Things slowed down here as both teams were raided for yardage by way of penalties. With the ball on the 35, Blackman teamed with Runion by the way of a pass and the freshman from Nashville traveled all the way.

Jack Yearwood, senior guard, played one of the best games of his long and colorful career as he stormed in the Scottie backfield time after time. Another guard, "Rock" Hardaway, saw a lot of action and proved to be a handy man.

Bain Announces 'B' Team Games

The toughest test of the season faces Coach "Moody" Bain's "Baby" Raiders when they face the TPT's Bees on Tech's new athletic field. Coach Bain, who was varsity "full-back" last year, and is doing an excellent job with the "B" team this year, is optimistic over the outcome of the meeting, after the fine showing the team made against CMA in their first game of the year. He has announced that a game is scheduled with Sewanee, there, on October 13, and that other games have been asked for with the Cumberland and Austin Peay "B" squads.

"Rock" Hardaway, according to Coach Bain, seems to be the rising star on the Bee squad. Bain predicts Rock's soon graduation to the varsity by virtue of that rough line game he's running.

The four ends, Hudson, Wrather, Webb and Ballor are all slated to play varsity ball after gaining a little more experience.

Elect A Queen For Homecoming

With all the talk about homecoming (floats-parade and such) let's not forget to elect a true queen.

Last year Elizabeth Wolfe won the honors and rightly so, and this year we want to elect one as capable as she to represent the entire student body in both the parade and the half time ceremonies.

It has been suggested that a king not be had this year as it is not a habit of other schools and as Mr. James said, "It would not be breaking precedent to not elect one this year."

With the honor of reigning for the week being bestowed upon one and not two as we have in the past, we want to elect the person we think best fills this position.

Vote not for your friend necessarily—but for the person of those nominated that best qualifies to reign as the Queen of MTSC.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Freshman Class held a meeting Wednesday night. The purpose of this meeting was the election of class sponsors and other business that needed immediate attention. President Jim Ralph presided, and the meeting got under way with the election of Mrs. Peck and Mr. Scott as class sponsors.

A meeting was called for later on in the week of the class officers and at this meeting the members of the booster committee, the float committee and the entertainment committee were appointed.

All this goes to show that the freshmen, no matter how lowly they are considered, are going to give the rest of the classes plenty of competition.

Browning, Evins See Increased Aid For Education; Talk With Veterans

By BOB ESKEW

The biggest surprise of the fall quarter occurred last Monday afternoon with a visit on the State campus by Chancellor Gordon Browning and Congressman Joe Evins.

The first news of the visit to be came from the office around 10:30 A. M. and a large number of the MTSC student body were on hand to greet the Democratic Nominee for Governor and the popular Congressman from the Fifth Congressional District.

During the Party's visit in the office (see picture on this page) this reporter found the Chancellor susceptible to questions. With his assurance that he would be glad to answer any and all questions he could, I immediately fired away with number one question—In your opinion, what is the answer to the dangerous problem facing the world in the Berlin crisis? Answer—(Bluntly) "This is Bad-Bad. There is only one way to meet the Russian question and that is to get ready and then the Russians will back down."

He had no more than completed this statement before a stream of students came in the office to meet both Browning and Evins. However it wasn't long before I had another chance to get in one more question that I certainly didn't want to let pass. Question—Under your administration, would there be a decrease in the amount of money going into our education program from the Sales Tax? Answer—"Definitely not. If anything, it would be increased as the education problem is one that is certainly pressing in our state."

A number of introductions followed along with a picture taken by Russell and the Sidelines and then the party left for a tour of the campus. This tour began with a look around Trailer-Town where a number of the families turned out to meet the visiting party.

From Trailer-Town the three cars carrying the party moved over to the students recreation building for a short visit. Here I grabbed what seemed to be my last chance to question Congressman Evins. He like Chancellor Browning was very polite and possibly prepared to answer when asked. With the question—What are the prospects of education benefiting from the Federal Aid Bill? Quickly the reply came—"I'd say bright. There seems to be strong Federal support without Federal (Continued On Page Four)

HOME COMING PLANS ANNOUNCED

Annual Festival To Start On November 10th

By James McCullough

With the nomination of royalty in assembly yesterday morning, MTSC's homecoming plans are beginning to rapidly take form. Homecoming this year will officially get under way Wednesday night November 10 with a pep meeting and bonfire. This will be followed by the annual parade the next morning with floats and entrise from all campus organizations. The parade will be held in connection with the VFW and American Legion to form what is expected to be the largest in the history of the city.

Joe Jackson, ASB President urges that all classes and organizations on the campus appoint float committees as soon as possible in order to avoid last minute rushes in preparing entries in the parade. As usual prizes will be offered to the organization having the best entry.

Two o'clock Thursday afternoon will find the Blue Raiders lining up to face the Throughbreds of Murray State College. Murray is rated as one of the toughest teams that the Raiders will face this season.

Thursday evening State's students and Alumni will glide across the hardwood to the music of Neal Wright's school orchestra. The dance sponsored by the Senior class will conclude the two nights and one day of celebration. Class work is expected to be resumed the following morning.

Joe Jackson announces that William "Cootie" Lewis has been named as Grand Marshall of Homecoming. Clifford Byrnes is in charge of the parade and Vic Varallo and Glen Bradshaw have charge of the bonfire. Bob Eskew, Editor of the SIDE-LINES, will handle the publicity. In charge of all decorations will be a committee composed of Elizabeth Wolf, Jean Gotcher, James Oakley and Dave Willis.

Martha Massey has the huge job of welcoming State's Alumni. 2200 invitations have been mailed out of MTSC Alumni. The pep meetings will be planned by the cheer leaders consisting of: Susie Tanner, Leveda Winters, Jean Mason, Henrietta Woods, Virginia Mason Elrod, Bill Lewis and J. P. Griggs.
