Seven Lasses Chosen As Military Sponsors

By Kenneth Love

Cadets in the Reserve Officer Training Corps battle group have chosen the sponsors for the brigade and companies for this year.

These girls were chosen by the cadets and will march with them during drills and parades. One of these girls will be chosen queen for the annual military ball to be held later this school year.

Nancy Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Johnson of Old Hickory and is an English major. She is a graduate of Du Pont High School. She is treasurer of the student body and a member of the Buchanan Players, SNEA and the Newman Club. She holds the female lead in the fall drama production to be given the first week in November.

Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Willard of Chattanooga and a graduate of Chattanooga City school. She is a senior and majoring in elementary education. This is her third year as an ROTC sponsor and a MTSC cheerleader. She was "Miss Midlander" last year and is now secretary of the student body and a member of Tau Amicron society.

Brenda is a freshman from Fayetteville, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sowell. She is a music major and a member of the Buchanan Players, the MTSC chorus, varsity choir and the MTSC marching band. She is also vocalist for the Midlanders dance band and is the current Lincoln county "Fairest of the Fair" queen. A member of the Presbyterian Church, she is active in dancing, singing, and piano playing.

Faye is the daughter of Mrs. W. R. Sawyer of Tullahoma. She is a business education major and her hobbies are dancing and swimming.

Increase Tops All Records In Enrollment

All-time records were established in the Middle Tennessee State College enrollment figures released October 16.

The on-campus enrollment is larger than several Tennessee county seat populations in the mid-state area.

Middle Tennessee State College has 2,850 on campus students registered for the fall semester, according to the official report filed by Dean N. C. Beasley with the State Board of Education this week. Of this number, 1,309 are freshmen. This represents an increase of 519 students over last year.

The unexpected number of freshmen has necessitated the employment of four additional teachers, according to Dr. Quill E. Cope, president. Dr. Cope expressed his pleasure at the confidence the people of the mid-state area and elsewhere had demonstrated in the college program. "We are working to make MTSC one of the truly 'people's' colleges while maintaining the highest possible academic standards," he stated. "Our loyal alumni are co-operating splendidly in sending us good students who are fitting into the college program adequately."

The breakdown in figures show there that are 1,772 men students and 1,078 women, a slight increase in the ratio of women to men students over the past few years.

There is only one decline in enrollment figures over those of last year when the senior class numbered 380 in the fall semester, this year the senior class numbers 314.

The junior class has 383 as compared to 367 last year. The 1961

Merchants Select Beasley To Play "Miss Kitty" Role

By Nadine King

Gail Beasley, a sophomore from Oak Ridge, was selected as Miss Murfreesboro Greater Value Days by local merchants.

Gail, who carried out the MGVD western theme by portraying Miss Kitty of "Gunsmoke," promoted the October 6-7-8 sales.

A home economics major and varsity cheerleader, Gail advertised the MGVD events on radio and TV during the week. She was featured in a parade Thursday night along with the MTSC ROTC unit and the Central High School Band.

A program by Grand Ole Opry stars was given each night at the Jackson Heights Shopping Center.

'Lo and Behold' Plans Told By Dramatists

By Kenneth Love

MTSC's Buchanan Players will present a three-act comedy by John Patrick, Lo and Behold, on November 3rd and 4th in the college auditorium. Mrs. Dorethe Tucker, beginning her fourth year as director of the Players, will direct the play.

Two of Patrick's plays, Curious Savage and The Hasty Heart, have previously been given here.

W. Wilson Fellowships Now Offered

An election campaign promising rich rewards for the successful candidates gets under way as thousands of faculty members from universities and colleges in the United States and Canada begin to nominate college seniors for Woodrow Wilson graduate fellowships, according to Dr. Richard Peck, chairman of the MTSC committee on nominations for these scholarships.

In announcing the opening of the competition for the academic year 1961-62, Dr. Hugh Taylor, President of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, estimated that well over 9,000 students will be nominated by the closing date of October 31. Former MTSC students to win such grants are Virginia Derryberry and Jean Adamson.

Designed to reduce a nationwide shortage of qualified college teachers, the program annually awards 1000 fellowships for first year graduate study at any university or the recipient's choice in the United States or Canada.

The program is open to college graduates mainly in the humanities and social sciences. Both men and women are eligible, and there is no limit on the age of the candidate

The cast includes A. W. Powell, McMinnville, as Kenneth Moore; Ann Petty, Columbia, as Minnetonka Smallflower; Nancy Johnson, Old Hickory, as Daisy Durdle; Agnes Carlson, Murfreesboro, as Honeychile Wainwright; Bruce Hancock, of Washington, D. C. and Oak Ridge, as Milo Alcott; Dick Schoonman, Quaker Hill, Conn., as Robert Dorsey; Scotty Ward, Columbia, as Jack McDougle; and Roger Wilkerson, Nashville, as Mr. Wingate.

Student director is Betsey Sims, a transfer from Martin College, Pulaski. She was very active in drama work there, being a member of Delta Psi Omega, and was president of that fraternity. She attended Isaac Litton High School in Nashville. She is a junior, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Sims of Nashville.

Student technical director is Jean Bonney, a junior transfer from the University of Tennessee Martin Branch. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bonney of Nashville.

Over 60 persons tried out for the eight parts in the four nights of try-outs. A great interest is shown in the drama club this year. There are 51 new members this year, which exceeds the total membership of last year, Mrs. Tucker reports.

A. W. Powell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Powell of McMinnville. He is a graduate of Central High School and is a freshman at MTSC. He has been in such plays

Wedding Bell Still Ringing For MTSC'ers

By Shirley Humphrey

Mr. and Mrs. Claude B. Stedman announce the engagement of their daughter, Lois Ann Stedman, to Staley Young. Lois is a graduate of MTSC, where she served as former editor of the Sidelines. She also worked on The Daily News Journal and is business manager for New Theatre Nashville. Mr. Young is a graduate of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville. The couple plan to be married in the winter.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Linda Gay Rigney of Christiana, Tennessee, to James Edward Van Blaricum of Winchester, which took place at the First Baptist Church at Christiana on September 8. Both bride and groom are MTSC students. She is a junior, and he is studying pre-medicine.

Miss Mary Ann Orren became the bride of James Paten Young, Jr., who is in the United States Army, at the bride's home on September 14. These two MTSC graduates honeymooned in the Smokey Mountains National Park.

Miss Rosalind Crawley became the wife of Larry Curvin on September 15, at the Third Baptist Church in Murfreesboro.

Lyon Lines

Upperclassmen Go, Lyon Sighs Relief

By Bernice Nabors

Residents of Lyon Hall are finding it unusual to walk into their room without stumbling over the extra bed. Yes, they now can turn around in their one-room home because the upperclassmen have moved to Monohan.

The anticipated completion of Monohan Hall has proved to have its disadvantages as well as its advantages. The girls can rearrange their room and hang up the clothes that are still in the luggage under the bed; but, whom can they blame for the homework they didn't get, and what will be the reason for an untidy room?

The girls mumble and grumble about house meetings, but they never leave one regretting that they attended. At the last meeting, instead of hearing the rules read again, the girls were told how good they were at signing out for more than five hours. Mrs. Bowden asked the girls to be thinking of some outstanding decorations for Homecoming.

Garnette Daughtrey had the devotion, and Sandra Cathey and Marcia Manley entertained by singing "The Beatnik." At the close of the meeting, all the girls joined together for some group singing.

It Happened On Campus

By Kenneth Love

Thanks to the train engineer and conductor, the Chattanooga Choo-Choo arrived in Murfreesboro Saturday morning at 5:30 a.m.

The Drama Club is in full force practicing for the fall production to be held November 3 and 4. It is Lo and Behold, a three-act comedy. Club members are urged to come to the basement of the administration building to the scene shop to give A. W. Powell a helping hand. It takes more than one person to build a set for the play.

Work has also begun on the opera, The Mikado, to be held the first of the spring semester. The Mikado will be portrayed by Glenn Arnold. Other members of the cast are Jerry Dooley, Bobby Hollingsworth, Joe Mills, Nolan Barham, Norma Shelton, Marie Harris, Ann Weidrick, and Barbara Simmons.

The ROTC Cadets sure know how to pick sponsors. All the girls seem to be very active in campus activities. One has the lead role in the fall drama production, another is a beauty queen, while another has been a cheerleader for three years and last year "Miss Mainlander." The group is composed of two seniors, two sophomores, and three freshmen. Where were the juniors this year?

Policy of the Booster Club is to admit only persons with Booster Cards to the Blue and White section. The fee is so small, and think of the purpose of the club and the benefits you receive. Don't hesitate, join now. Be a member—support the Raiders and be a Booster. See you in the Booster section Saturday.

Jerry Stapleton, end on the MTSC football team, can do better than catch a pass with a football -- he caught a wife Saturday after the Chattanooga game. Best wishes to Jaylyle Fahlin, former student who became Jerry's wife.

She left MTSC to become an airline stewardess and now secretary at State Farm Mutual.

Monohan Madcaps

Dorm Atmosphere Aids In Studies

By Linda Morrison

Experts have often said that people learn more in an atmosphere where there is a slight distraction. If this is true, the girls in Monohan should be straight "A" students.

Every morning at the crack of dawn the girls are pleasantly awakened by the "soft" music of jack hammers. As the happy lasses bounce out of bed, they usually collide with one of their three or four room-mates.

After a confused hour of trying to figure out whose clothes are whose, the girls finally dash off to classes. They arrive just in time to hear their professor say "For the next lecture..."

Amid the confusion, the girls still have time for many campus activities and are really bringing honors home to the dorm. Gayle Beasley has been chosen "Miss Greater Value Days," and Carolyn Ball has stepped out as head majorette. Betty Willard and Virginia Miller have been elected ROTC sponsors.

These are only a few of the honored girls, and it is certain as the year progresses there will be many more.

Christian Student Viewpoint

Student Speaks On Behavior

When we enter college, a great deal is expected of us both socially and academically. We are adults in an adult world, and as such, we are expected to conduct ourselves according to the social pattern.

When we attend any social function, whether it be a football game, a school party, or a formal affair, we are automatically placed in the critical eye of the public. We have all heard the old adage "The first impression is a lasting impression," and how we conduct ourselves in public places determines this first impression.

We make our social standards by the way we act, and our actions determine our reputation. It is the desire of every individual to gain the respect, admiration, and friendship of his fellow student. To do this, one must first have faith and respect in his own pattern of behavior.

Our goal for social behavior should be high. The social pattern we build today is the life we live tomorrow.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The above article is the first in a series sponsored by the Student Christian Union. These articles are all to be written by students, for students, on this campus.

The SCU is striving to make all of its activities appealing to the students. Those who attended the last meeting saw "God's Word Revealed Through Magic" by Mr. Ed. Hoback from Nashville.

The next program, November 2, will have as guest speaker Rev. Raymond Coolidge from Nashville, who will bring an inspirational "chalk talk."

Jones Again Serves Its "True Purpose"

By Bill Hunter

After a year of being covered with ruffles and lace, Jones Hall is again serving its true purpose, that of housing freshmen boys.

With the helpful guidance of Mrs. Parks, the housemother, and seven upperclassmen serving as counselors, the boys in Jones have adjusted to college life and are now a part of the friendly atmosphere of MTSC.

Being a housemother to 116 boys is a new experience to Mrs. Parks. She has been a housemother in girls' dormitories for the past eight years. Mrs. Parks stated, "I thoroughly enjoy the boys because they're all so thoughtful and considerate. But I miss the sweet little girls."

The boys of Jones elected Tom Hardison as freshman representative to the Men's Dormitory Council. The council is composed of two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman, and it decides disciplinary problems of the men's dormitories. Tom is a pre-law major from Nashville.

Inter-mural football has been of major interest to the boys of Jones during the past three weeks. All three floors have been participating in the games. Other inter-mural sports planned for the rest of the year are basketball, softball, swimming, tennis, ping pong and track.

Jones Hall is a pretty active place until 9:30 p.m., which is time for study quiet. This gives the boys a chance to activate their brains for a change. All is quiet by 11:30, except for the patter of feet to the coke and candy machines for a midnight snack.

MTSC Male Now Needed By 'Playboy'

Playboy is accepting applications for a student to represent the magazine at MTSC, the Playboy College Bureau has just announced.

More than 500 such campus representatives at colleges across the country regularly do public relations work for the magazine, such as conducting subscription and campus retailer promotions, pre-testing clothing and other merchandise for national advertisers, and serving as liaison men at campus Playmate appearances.

Interested students should clip this notice and send it with name and address to the Playboy College Bureau, 232 East Ohio Street, Chicago 11, Illinois.

Playboy's other activities on campus include providing party decorations kits for many kinds of college social events.

According to the Daniel Starch Report on Consumer Magazines, an average issue of Playboy is read by 51.1% of all college men, representing the highest male college readership of any magazine.

Alexis de Tocqueville in notes on an American tour made in 1831-32:

Why, as civilization spreads, do outstanding men become fewer? Why, when attainments are the lot of all, do great intellectual talents become rarer? Why, when there are no longer lower classes, are there no more upper classes? Why, when knowledge of how to rule reaches the masses, is there a lack of great abilities in the direction of society? America clearly poses these questions. But who can answer them? —Reader's Digest

Three programs are now available to qualified college men between the ages of 18-26. Students who have completed two years of college and are unmarried may apply for the Naval Aviation Cadet Program. Successful candidates are commissioned and designated Ensigns and Naval Aviators at the completion of 18 months of flight training.

Rutledge Ramblings

A Binding Thread? That's Mrs. Bass!

By Shirley Humphrey

Rutledge Hall has a binding thread that holds all the girls together. The question aroused by this statement is not what is it, but who is it?

The answer lies in three simple but very important words, Mrs. Alma Bass.

Mrs. Bass puts her experience as housemother at Rutledge for four years to the best advantage in helping freshman to adjust to college life.

The rules are set up for much of the residents behavior, and she sees that these are carried out. Constant reminding of these rules help all the Rutledge girls to know them well and come nearer obeying them. When the number of girls attending devotions gets low, she kindly and sweetly tells them that she believes more of them could attend, and the next night for devotions the number increases by leaps and bounds.

When pranking is done, the girls involved can expect to get demerits for sure. Fun can be had, but there can be no extreme pranking. If there is she knows about it in a flash, and a remedy to the situation is found.

Mrs. Bass is respected by all Rutledge residents. Her friendly smiles and greetings are appreciated by all of them.

Freshmen find it difficult at times to break away from their home ties and live more or less on their own. Mrs. Bass is a great help to her freshmen in making this big step. When girls have problems she promptly and happily helps in any way she can.

The girls are all very proud of their "mother away from home."

Cossack Chorus Performs Here

By Norma Edwards and Marguerite Batey

The famed General Platoff Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers appeared before a large crowd of MTSC students, faculty, and guests at the Alumni Memorial Gymnasium on October 13.

Under the capable leadership of chorus and dancers gave a colorful Nicholas Kostukoff, who is also the chorus administrator, the and most enjoyable concert.

Thrilling songs and spectacular dances was the composition of the program. The music varied from light-hearted and gay folk numbers to high spirited and exciting songs of the battlefield.

A vigorous and dexterous Cossack dance was the climax of each of the two parts of the concert. One of these dances was the stimulating "Dagger Dance," which left many in the audience breathless.

An added appeal was given to the last choreographic feat by the members of the chorus themselves, who entered humorously but expertly into the dance.

Upon the conclusion of the show, the chorus and dancers received a standing ovation from the enthusiastic audience.

MTSC Young Democrats will meet in Room 311 of the Administration Building on Monday night, October 24, at 6:45. All students are invited to attend.

Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister... (Matthew 20:28)

Many troubled people who turn to religion for personal "peace of mind" find it when they follow the Master's example of service and giving. Their problems grow small as they turn their thoughts and time to helping others in love and Christian brotherhood.

Pillsbury Describes Awards For Home Economics Majors

Home economics majors graduating from January 1961 to June 1961 may apply now for the Pillsbury awards.

First of these awards is the Pillsbury Award for 1961. The award winner will receive a unique "on-the-job" training fellowship. For one year, beginning July 1, 1961, she will be Associate Director of the Pillsbury Junior Home Service Center.

This position has been carefully planned to afford her a wide range of practical experience in home economics-in-business. In addition to her salary of 4500, she will receive a grant of $1000.

The Junior Home Service Center is a consumer service department which seeks to meet young people's needs for information and guidance on food preparation and home-making. The Center has its own staff, offices and equipment, located in the Minneapolis, Minnesota, headquarters of The Pillsbury Company.

Six Pillsbury Awards will give six finalists for the Pillsbury Award Honor Awards of $250.

Each college may submit up to, but no more than, five applications for the award. Applications are first screened by the college Scholarship and Awards Committee, or its equivalent. In recognition of the fact that applicants who have been thus screened and approved by their college represent the finest type of home economics student, Pillsbury will this year present a Citation to all approved applicants. These Citations will be sent to the Department of Home Economics for presentation on awards night or other appropriate occasion.

Applicants for the awards must be outstanding home economics students with an overall grade (Cont. on Page 7)

Moccasins Tread On Blue Raiders, 24-6

By Lee Sadler

MTSC was beaten handily 24 to 6 by the Chattanooga Moccasins Friday night, but Blue Raider Coach Charles (Bubber) Murphy had a little something to smile about.

The three freshmen who sparkled in last week's win over Eastern Kentucky continued their outstanding work this week and in doing so, were joined by another real good yearling prospect and a pair of fine sophomores.

Jimbo Pearson, freshman brother of junior quarterback Jerry Pearson, turned in an exciting first half long gainer and almost broke into the clear for a touchdown.

Besides his potentialities displayed as a speedy runner, Jimbo was outstanding on defense intercepting two Chattanooga passes that were destined to be Moc touchdowns.

Halfback Larry Whaley, end Gary Whaley and tackle Bill White (all freshmen) picked up where they left off last week with fine performances.

Sophomore Phil Grammer, though not too active on offense, did some fine defense work and on one occasion got three straight tackles in an attempt to stave off a Chattanooga touchdown in the second half.

Another sophomore, end Frank Halliburton, was most outstanding, taking two passes, one a long pitch that covered 30 yards and another that was good for 34.

The first of his catches was something of a circus-type snare that got the spectators off their feet. It put MTSC in scoring position, but as on two other occasions, Raider efforts to take advantage of a scoring opportunity failed.

The Moccasins starting clicking early with a touchdown in the first quarter. They were held scoreless in the second quarter, but took advantage of some bad MTSC kicking (blocking one) in the second half to wrap up the victory, their fourth in five starts.

MTSC scored near the end of the final quarter with Jerry Pearson going over from four yards out.

Statistically, MTSC was beaten badly as they were on the score board. However, the Raiders at times, contained the Moc attack well and got their own offense rolling.

Inexperience was a big factor as has been in the case in previous games.

Injuries also left the Raiders short handed in many areas.

George Noe was taken from the field on stretchers in what seemed a very serious injury to the already crippled tackle positions.

However, a check with Coach Joe Black Hayes revealed the re-injury of an old knee ailment might not be as serious as it appeared.

"We'll just have to wait and see how he reacts to treatment," Coach Hayes said.

Hayes indicated Wayne Winters should be ready to come back into action next week against Morehead in a home game.

Terry Bailey, quarterback, has an eye injury that kept him out of action part of the Chattanooga game, but it isn't expected to be a serious ailment.

Joe Windham had a numbed elbow sat out part of the Chattanooga game as did the other regular guard, Julian King.

The crowd following the Raiders was an enthusiastic one even though slightly smaller than the one that followed the Raiders to Chattanooga two years ago.

The group that took the train was pleased with their lot even though many were rather sleepy when they reached Murfreesboro early Saturday morning.

Panel Discussion Held By SNEA

By Sandra Barrett, News Editor

The SNEA held its first meeting for the school year on October 6, the program consisting of a panel discussion concerning MTSC foreign students and their opinions about the American system of education.

Audra Blevins, vice-president of SNEA, was narrator for the panel, which included Adnan Kalif Husain and Dr. Fuad Baali, a faculty member, from Iraq; Richard V. Pereira, Puerto Rico; and Abdolkarin Liaghat, Iran.

The officers for the new year were introduced to the club members. They are Carolyn Cox, president; Audra Blevins, vice-president; Mary Rose Whittle, secretary; Nancy Bradshaw, treasurer; Ann Bently, publicity chairman; Betty Webster and Marilyn Pryor, reporters.

Dr. Greever is sponsor of the group and Mr. Wilson is the assistant sponsor.

Several other interesting programs have been planned by the SNEA for this school year. They include a social on October 27, several lectures by faculty members, panels composed of school groups, and the state convention.

Lionel Zumbro Jr. has enrolled at the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry, Memphis. He is a graduate of Central High and received his B.S. degree at Middle Tennessee State College, May, 1960.

What's Wrong with the Blue Raiders?

Halfway through the season now, and with only a mediocre won-lost record to show for the rather trying effort, Middle Tennessee State College's football squad members find themselves hit hard — with sheer reality.

"What one (main) thing," Coach Murphy was asked a couple of weeks ago, "would you say has caused the Raiders to start so poorly this year — as far as the won-lost record shows — and what factors seem to account for this hindrance?"

"Graduation of so many key men from last year's team," was the expected answer, and Murphy continued to point out the numerous injuries that have plagued the team since the very first game of the season.

"Other teams are becoming better," Murphy said, "and also we have had some bad breaks." Poor pass defense was still another factor the headman listed to the long and wearisome list; and after all that, one couldn't help but realize that this is surely a far cry from the 1959 unbeaten season.

Excuses Omitted

But, by all means, the team refuses to buckle down and throw in the towel. They realize the aforementioned facts and the dire consequences that must come with them, but one looks in vain if one looks for an alibi from a squad member.

The Blue Raiders of 1960, like the Blue Raiders of the past, will continue to fight "tooth-and-nail" for their share of wins and prestige; only with such a loss of material, the situation will be a little more trying and burdensome.

Wins may come, but they will be won with much more of a struggle than the year before when they came with relative ease and huge scores. Runners will have to run a little harder, linemen will have to dig in and hit with a little more authority, coaches will have to be more strict and determined, but MTSC will not give up hope.

This is, without much doubt, the most jinxed year for the Blue and White. Hardly a game has gone by without some player being injured seriously enough to at least have to miss a few practice sessions the next week. The most damaging blow, by far, came in the first game when Dean Fisher went out with torn cartilages in his leg. With an operation already performed, he will be lost for the remainder of the year.

Other squad members have been slowed with incurring ailments that may prolong for heaven knows how long. And with such a dark cloud of distress hanging low over the team, there isn't much telling what evil hex may next befall the squad.

Passes Most Damaging

As far as actual game playing is concerned, enemy aerials are, most likely, the biggest hindrance to the team. The Raiders' defensive line is still the rambunctious forewall that has been so impenetrable to teams with mostly ground attacks; however, to tighten the interior with immovable bulwarks is to sacrifice the openings in the secondary where so many tosses seem to find their mark.

The Raiders are fully aware of their inability and, we might say, inexperience in this case. They are striving to improve on such a glaring handicap, but the rest of the teams are getting better also. It is necessary to look forward to the fact that this and the proceeding years will show a more balanced league with each team making a creditable showing. Murray, for an example, won nary a game last year but has come suddenly into prominence by defeating their first two conference rivals this fall.

The Raiders' offensive machine is capable in itself, as the increasing effectiveness with each outing clearly shows. They get their share of rushing yardage and first downs, but a bad case of "fumbleitis" in one game caused for a bad showing. Inadequate blocking in another resulted in a narrowly won decision. MTSC moves the ball extremely well; they play aggressive, heads-up defense on rushing plays; but, the seemingly weak pass defense tends to give opponents a chance to compensate for an inadequate running attack.

Yesterday is Gone

How good the Raiders will fare for the rest of the season with four of the last five games against OVC foes will, to a great extent, depend on how well they can visualize and overcome their faults and weaknesses. The challenge is there, it is now only a matter of character and determination on the part of individual — and team — effort.

Anyway you look at it, the glory days of 1959 are a thing of the past, and the times of rebuilding and reinforcement are now at hand.

This and That —The Nashville physician, a Dr. Benjamin Fowler, which performed surgery on Fisher's knee is the same man that operated on ex-Ole Miss fullback, Charley Flowers' leg.

—Monday was the opening date for varsity basketball practice for all but two of last year's team members. Don Smith and Rayden Hammers were the only missing candidates as the ygraduated last year. Incidentally, Western Kentucky, the Raiders' opening game foe on December 1, appear to be title picks again as only one man departed last June. That would be Albert Ellison, the former all-stater from Linden, Tenn.

—Of the forty-five squad members listed in the football programs, only five come from outside the state, and of the remaining forty, only seven are from outside the mid-state area.

—It may well prove to be that MTSC inherited a couple of prize prospects for future grid seasons in Larry Whaley, a shifty and nifty halfback candidate from Sevierville, Tenn., and Bill White, a tremendous tackle hopeful from Cleveland, Tenn. Incidentally, Larry's twin brother Gary, who is playing at the end position, is going to make some opponent think he's seeing double when leading interference for his brother.

Freshman Threesome Blossoms In 14-12 Victory Over Eastern

By Lee Sadler

"Whaley, Whaley & White" may sound like some sort of law or insurance partnership to some people, but to MTSC coach Bubba Murphy it is more like the formula for victory on the gridiron.

This freshman threesome, blossoming out against Eastern Kentucky here Friday night, October 7, seemed to give the Blue Raiders new life with the result being a close, but decisive 14 to 12 triumph.

"I thought the freshmen performed especially well," Coach Murphy commented on Saturday morning. "Larry Whaley looked good at halfback and Gary (Larry's twin brother) was hitting good at end."

"That Bill White was doing a good job at tackle. In fact I thought the entire team showed improvement over last week's game, and against Western they looked better than they did against Jacksonville State."

The Whaley twins are from Sevierville, where former MTSC great Terry Sweeney is coaching. White is from Bradley county high school at Cleveland.

Even though the freshmen caused most of the talk as a result of Friday's OVC victory over Eastern, the veterans also took their positions very well.

Danny Neal, the fastest halfback on the MTSC squad, turned in several long gainers including a long punt return. Terry Bailey operated nicely from quarterback and connected often with his passes including a touchdown pass and a long point-after-touchdown pass, both to Jerry Stapleton.

Halfback Jim Nabors was in for some cheers from the victory. In the fading seconds, he intercepted a desperation pass to halt any possible Eastern touchdown. Besides this he made several long runs.

Eastern got one of its touchdowns on a fluke pass that should have been intercepted, but instead was deflected into the hands of Shannon Johnson who was in the clear for a 68-yard scoring play.

The other Eastern touchdown was after a 60 yard run by James Chittum after an MTSC fumble in front of the goal line.

Chittum scored this TD on an 8-yard pass from Tony Lanham.

Terry Bailey saved the day when he knocked down an attempted Eastern pass for the point after-touchdown.

Whaley looked great in scoring MTSC's second touchdown on a 5-yard run to his right. He had the hole open and smashed through it like a veteran performer.

Murphy pointed out as points of improvement the better pass defense, especially the rush put on the passer, and way in which some of the boys seem to be shaking off the need for experience.

He pointed out as improving: Gene Watson, fullback, Danny Neal, and Jim Nabors.

Phil Grammer has now moved back to halfback from fullback indicated Murphy is pleased with Watson and Larry Puryear at fullback.

Raider Roundup

By Ray Bailey
Sports Editor

The Blue Raiders have waded through half of the 1960 campaign and have come out with a 2-3 mark expected by many in this rebuilding year. Experience, lacking among three-fourths of the squad, has been gained and a marked improvement has been shown in all departments. Injuries have not helped a bit in the Raider bid for a share of the OVC crown.

With the marked improvement of several backs and new found ruggedness in the line, the Raiders will not be overlooked in anyone's schedule. Jim Nabors, proving to be a more capable halfback with each game, along with Larry Whaley, a standout freshman, and Charles Rice, Dany Neal, and fullback Larry Puryear are improving with experience.

The injury list, a drawback to hopeful upsets, is mounting with every game. The list looks something like this:

Hilary Carr, cracked rib, doubtful starter Saturday night; George Noe, out for season with knee injury; Dean Fisher, lost with injured knee after Austin Peay tilt; Wayne Winters, may see limited action against Morehead after knee injury; Terry Bailey, a question mark Saturday after a Chattanooga gam injury; and Clarence Law, still not at full speed after an early season injury.

The final five games, four of these OVC contests, will provide no easier competition than the first half. The Raiders face Morehead and Florence State respectively then Murry in a homecoming affair, all on Jones Field.

East Tennessee and Tennessee Tech are away to round out the schedule.

Tech still appears to be "top-dog" in the conference. The Eagles pushed Western Kentucky all over the field, but a fourth-quarter field goal by Jimmy Sims decided the 10-7 final score.

As Morehead moves in Saturday night to start the last half rolling, a slightly altered lineup may appear. The probable starting lineup will consist of ends, Jerry Stapleton and Nicky Lynch, tackles Charles Butler and Joe Wiggins, guards Joe Windham and Sam Ezell or Julian King, Center Don Faulk, quarterback Jerry Pearson, halfback Jim Nabors and Danny Neal or Larry Whaley, and fullback Larry Puryear.

Sheer dertermination proved to be the result of the Raiders 14-12 victory over Eastern. Quarterbacks Bailey had to pass three times to end Stapleton for the 2-point conversion. The same combination tallied one of the touchdowns; and Whaley, the pushman sensation, scored the other.

Down Chattanooga way the Raiders met some real tough competition and likewise were on the short end of a 24-6 score.

Rated as 42 point underdogs, the Raiders fought the Moccasins yard for yard most of the first half and

Beasley Tells MTSC Growth; This Year Breaks All Records

Dean N. C. Beasley reviewed a third of a century of college growth for members of the Murfreesboro Chamber of Commerce at the monthly "doughnut and coffee" meeting last Tuesday morning.

A hint that the college enrollment this year was not only a record breaker, but, when final figures are compiled, might well exceed the most optimistic pre-registration expectations, was made when the speaker stated that the "influx of war babies has doubled our post-war enrollment which in turn doubled that of the last pre-war years." The "veteran's period enrollment" in 1946-47 ran over 1,400. Peak previous enrollment to 1960 was that of 1958 when 2,544 students were registered in the fall quarter.

Dean Beasley also outlined the growth of the faculty "from 20 to nearly 150 in order to maintain our ratio of at least one teacher for every 20 students". He pointed out that the increased enrollment had brought increased problems, particularly in the field of housing, feeding and parking of cars for commuters. The State appropriation had increased from a low of $55,000 to nearly half million.

Dean Beasley divided the history of the four year college into three periods. "Following the Normal School period there was the period from the mid-twenties to the late thirties when we were Middle Tennessee State Teachers College and the emphasis was on teacher preparation," he said. Students had to sign a pledge that they would Fall quarter registration in the past few years is as follows 1,932 in 1955; 2,076 in 1956; 2,245 in 1957; 2,544 in 1958; 2,331 in 1959, and 2,850 in 1960.

The off-campus extension enrollment figures are not included in the "regular student" classifications announced above.

Gifted Child Discussed At Annual Conference

Finding the necessary "nourishment" and providing a rewarding intellectual experience is the challenge to the teacher in dealing with the gifted child, according to the consensus of speakers participating in the 17th annual MTSC educational conference, which closed last Saturday noon with a luncheon.

During the two day meeting more than 1,800 educators from the 25 county Mid-State area participated as discussions, symposiums and clinics devoted to guidance. The national prominent speakers who appeared on the program were frank to point out that no one had the answers to the complex questions related to guidance of students.

Over forty MTSC and mid-State high school teachers participated on the program, which included two new services this year—clinics on guidance in certain area fields and post-conference symposiums for interested teachers.

The program, designed to encourage college seniors of outstanding ability to study for advanced degrees with faculty jobs as their goal, is administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation under a $24,500,000 five year grant from the Ford Foundation.

Almost 90 per cent of all the 1000 Fellows in 1959-60 continued study after the first year, and more than 75 per cent of all Fellows eventually end up in academic positions.

Of the nominated candidates who failed to win Woodrow Wilson Fellowships, more than 80 per cent, Dr. Rosenhaupt said, went on to graduate school anyway, often with financial help from other sources. He estimated the annual need for new college teachers at 30,000 a year for the next ten years.

The Foundation does not accept applications directly from students. Every candidate for the award must be nominated by a faculty member.

A one act comedy was presented by three of the members at this week's regular session of the Buchanan Players.

The play was entitled The Man Who Thought of Everything. Tom Collins portrayed the young man, with Carol King as his fiancée and Gale Robertson as the other woman.

After the entertainment, the business session of the club was held. With the approaching presentation of the first play of the season, Lo and Behold, much of the business was concerned with getting work crews assigned so that this might be one of the best plays of the season.

Mid-Semesters, Holidays Reslated Week Later

Because of a change in the dates of the T.E.A. meeting next spring, the dates on the school calendar have been changed in some instances.

Mid-semester examinations have been changed from March 20-22 to March 27-29. Spring holidays have been moved from March 23-25 to March 30-April 1.

According to this revision, tests and holidays will come on the week before Easter, which is one week later than originally scheduled.

Young Democrats Elect Clark, And Other Officers

By Jerry Williams and Sylvia Newman

Ransom Clark was elected chairman of the MTSC Young Democrats Club at the group's second meeting on Monday, October 17.

Quenton Tubb was chosen vice-chairman, while Pat Turner will serve as secretary and Jerry Williams as treasurer.

Named to the membership committee were Jerry Honey, Pat Gillen, George Mabry, John Hill, David Bryant and Charles Holder. On the finance committee are Jerry Williams, Pat Turner, Sylvia Newman, Don O'Donneley and Charles Holder. Quenton Tubb is chairman of both committees.

The members chose as their slogan for the forthcoming election "Let's Back Jack." Plans for this election include the circulating of pins, bumper stickers, and similar campaign materials, along with a fund-raising activity such as a dance.

The club seeks to remind those students of voting age that registration deadline in counties with a population of 25,000 or less is October 29. For those counties with 25,000 or more, October 20 is deadline. Those who apply for absentee ballots must do so by November 4. Applicants for these ballots must first be registered.

The next meeting of the MTSC Young Democrats has been set for Monday, October 24, at 6:45 in Room 311 of the Administration Building. All interested are invited to attend.

Henry James in The Art of Fiction:

Experience is never limited, and it is never complete; it is an immense sensibility, a kind of huge spider web of the finest silken threads suspended in the chamber of consciousness, and catching every air-borne particle in its tissue.

Plural:

When I throw myself into something I always work like a demon. That's because I'm so lazy. Lazy people always work harder than anyone else; they're so eager to get through and lie down again. I devise all sorts of ways to lie down often. I adore it. The man who invented the wheel could have been my consort. He was the laziest.
