MTSC Receives Latest Microcard Reader From Library Foundation

Middle Tennessee State College is the recipient of a $1,000 grant consisting of a Mark VII Microcard reader and a number of packets of microcards. The grant was made by the Association of College and Research Libraries, a division of the American Library Association of behalf of a group of corporations and foundations.

Miss Catherine Clark, MTSC librarian, expressed appreciation for the grant. "The use of microcard readers makes it possible for the library to save valuable space and to preserve in much more permanent fashion many library materials."

It is possible, Miss Clark explained, to have an entire Congressional Record publication of several hundred pages microcarded on a single 8 x 11 card which can be used in the reader. Thus several hundred books can be kept in a file cabinet.

The Micro Card reader differs from the microfilm files, which have been in use at MTSC for several years, in that the single card has the pages arranged in sequence and the Microcard reader can be adjusted to read in orderly sequence or switched back to a previous page for easy reference.

The grant made to the Middle Tennessee State College was one of the 162 selected from among 547 applicants. The grants program this year was made possible by the following companies and corporation foundations: McGraw-Hill Publishing Company; Micro Photo Division of Bell and Howell Company; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation; Pitney-Bowes, Inc.; Remington Rand Division of the Sperry Rand Corporation; Time, Inc.; United States Steel Foundation, Inc.; and The H. W. Wilson Foundation, Inc.

The ACRL Grants program was initiated in 1955 with a grant of $30,000 from the U. S. Steel Foundation. The program, directed to the general needs of all colleges and universities, is designed for improving the quality of library service to higher education through fundamental research in librarianship and otherwise aiding in the best use of the most modern teaching and learning materials.

Government Careers Fellowships Are Available For Grads

Students interested in a career in the government service who will receive their bachelor's degree in June are offered an opportunity to apply for fellowships to study at three different universities. Each fellowship has a total value of $3,000. The stipend is $2,500 and the remainder of the grant consists of fees and tuition at the three cooperating universities.

Beginning this June, fellows will serve a three-months' internship with a government agency in Alabama, Kentucky, or Tennessee such as the TVA, the Marshall Space Flight Center, a city or a department in one of the state governments. During the 1965-66 academic year, they will take graduate courses in Public Administration at the universities of Alabama, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

For information and applications, students should write to Coleman B. Ransone, educational director, Southern Regional Training Program in Public Administration, Drawer I, University, Alabama. The deadline for submitting applications is March 1, 1965.

FREE COFFEE DURING EXAM WEEK

Free coffee will be served every night from 8 to 9 in the Terrace Room during exam week, Mrs. Christine Wheeler, cafeteria manager, announces.

Come on over and get ready for the night!

NO SIDELINES NEXT WEEK

Due to examination week and registration for the spring semester, the next issue of the SIDELINES will not be published until Tuesday February 2.

Rifle Slings Co-eds Out Shoot Georgia Team

In a match with the girls rifle team of Oglethorpe University of Atlanta, Georgia in Murfreesboro this week the sharp eyed Middle Tennessee State College Raiderettes defeated th visitors, 1392 to 1347.

Two of the three defeats for Oglethorpe girls in the past five years have been at the hands of the Raiderettes, once last year and in this match. The team will be traveling to Atlanta on 19 February 1965 for a return match with Oglethorpe.

Sophomores Sponsor Mid-winter Formal

Sophomore class president Bob Hardison recently announced at a class meeting that sophomores would sponsor a Mid-Winter Formal on February 12.

Tommy Knowles and his Orchestra will play for the dance from eight to twelve on Friday evening. Unlike recent years when the dance was semi-formal, this will be a formal affair. The dance is open to the entire student body.

EIGHT CADETS WILL WIN LIEUTENANT BARS

Eight Middle Tennessee College ROTC cadets will be commissioned to second lieutenant in the United States Army at 3 o'clock, January 24 in Forrest Hall. Dr. Firman Cunningham, director of the school of business and industry at MTSC and a Reserve Major in the United States Army, will be the guest speaker. The commissions will be awarded by Lieut. Col. James Chritzberg, Jr., PMS at the college.

Two of the graduating seniors were designated as "Distinguished Military Graduates" and will receive commissions in the regular Army. They are John W. Allen, Jr. of Tullahoma and Henry C. Butner of Manchester. Both will be commissioned in the Infantry. Allen is the son of Mrs. Henry Lewis and Butner is the son of Mrs. J. W. Butner.

Others who will be commissioned in the United States Army Reserve are Donald W. Dial, Artillery, Culleoka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dial; Johnnie R. Howse, Intelligence, Smyrna, son of John R. Howse, Sr.; Terry A. Maggart, Infantry, Nashville, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Maggart; Bobby G. O'Neal, Infantry, Nashville; James L. Singleton, Engineer, Donelson, son of Mrs. Sollie Singleton; and John R. Sullivan, Armor, Nashville, son of John R. Sullivan, Sr.

Butner, O'Neal, and Sullivan have received preliminary training for aircraft work in their respective departments as a part of the MTSC aviation program.

Middle Tennessee State College will graduate the largest January section of a senior class since the January-June-August convocation was established on Sunday afternoon, December 24 at four o'clock in the new auditorium theatre. The class of 166 undergraduate and 15 graduate students will be the first to receive degrees in the new auditorium and will also be the first to have the commencement address delivered by a woman. She is Dr. Ina Corinne Brown, professor of anthropology at Scaritt College in Nashville.

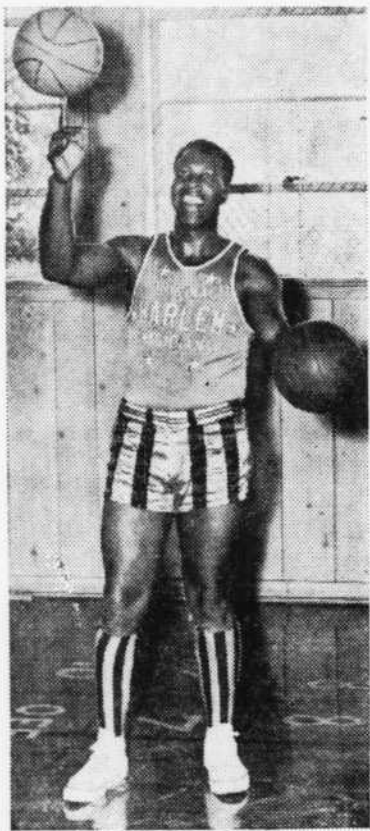

Prior to the commencement eight members of the class will be commissioned as United States Army officers in special ceremonies in the military science building. They are Donald W. Dial, Culleoka; Johnnie R. Howse, Smyrna; Terry A. Maggart, Nashville; Bobby G. O'Neal, Nashville; James Singleton, Donelson; John R. Sullivan, Nashville; John W. Allen, Tullahoma and Henry C. Butner, Manchester. Cadets Allen and Butner are Distinguished Military Graduates.

Immediately following the convocation the traditional barbecue supper will be served the graduates and members of their families in the main dining hall of the Student Union Building.

Those scheduled to receive the Master of Arts degree include Wilbert Bond, A.B., Fisk University; William Frank Conger, B.S. Tennessee Tech; Ralph Donald Freeman, B.S. Colorado State University; C. Lamar Jolly, B.S. Mississippi College, majors in administration and supervision.

BOB WOODS

ASB Sponsors Harlem Magicians January 28

by Bert Wakely

Unusual to have a sports picture on the front page? No more unusual than the group it represent. The picture is of Bob Woods, and he is a comedy specialist on the Harlem Magicians. It is with great pleasure that the Collegiate Council for the United Nations and the Associated Student Body announce that the Magicians will play the Sewart Air Base All-Stars at Memorial Gymnasium on the evening of January 28 at 8:00 p.m. This date was particularly chosen because it is the first day of the Spring Semester, giving as many students as possible a chance to enjoy this entertainment with no qualms about assignments being due.

It is hoped that the students of MTSC will take advantage of this chance to see some terrific entertainment: The Harlem Magicians.

The initiates of the Zeta chapter of Pi Gamma Mu at MTSC are first row, left to right, Larry Sanders, Watertown; Corinne C. Carlton, Murfreesboro; Bonnie Marie DeHoff, Murfreesboro; Olivia McBroom, Atlanta, Ga.; Patricia Sharber, Murfreesboro; William Thompson, Murfreesboro. Second row, left to right, Harold B. Marsh, Petersburg; Petis Powell, Christiana; Carl Vanas George, Nashville; Scott Hendrick, Pulaski; Roger H. Busse, Waynesburg, Ky.; John Larry Phillips, Murfreesboro. Third row, left to right, James Kenneth Cantrell, McMinnville; Richard Hanley, Nashville; Franklin Mashburn, Murfreesboro; Robert Harriman, Crossville; Ernest Cioffi, Mt. Vernon, New York; and David Talley, Lewisburg. Connie Martin from Orlando, Fla. and William Stewart, Jr. from Hartsville were not present for the photograph.

Co-eds Feel Need For Rules

In reaction to an article by Bill Lewis entitled "View From Here" which was published in the last issue of Sidelines, several girls have come to the defense of current dorm regulations.

Comments concerning same have been as follows.

Freshman Sharon Duggan of Chattanooga stated that if the proposed hours were permissible, "No girl would stay out until four o'clock in the morning." Sophomore co-ed Theresa Frey expressed the feeling that they were completely out of line with all other school policies and should not be even considered.

Charlene Buchanan, a junior, immediately after reading the article said, "I feel he is too lenient. Sophomores never need to be out any later than 12:00 on weeknights and 4:00 is unreasonable for upperclassmen."

Senior Sandra Wynne said, "No dorm mother should have to stay up this late. Parents usually do not allow this at home, and anyone interested in their studies would not stay out later during the week than the present hours."

An opinion was also expressed by Charlotte Black, who is an off-campus student living with her parents in Murfreesboro. Charlotte has her own hours but feels she does not abuse them. She feels college girls should be allowed their own hours, but feels this privilege might be abused by dormitory girls in many cases.

Many other comments have been made across campus which express a general feeling that these hours are absurd for Middle Tennessee. The protection present hours offer is appreciated by the majority of girls here, rather than resented. The college community itself does not have facilities for recreation or otherwise which would present a need for hours to be increased. Girls desiring these suggested hours should try entering another college in another locale.

Another feature of Lewis's article concerned the carrying back of cafeteria trays. May it be stated that the educated man is the man who assumes the greatest amount of responsibility. It is the uneducated man who may be expected to be waited on and carried for. Any person who feels he should not take his tray back also does not belong in this college or any other such institution of learning, in the opinion of many.

College Chosen For Registration Test Procedure

An additional item has been added to the materials used in Spring Semester registration. The United States Office of Education asked two colleges in the United States to experiment with a statistical form that can be read by newly developed optical scanning equipment.

The Office of Education is trying to find out if such a form can be successfully used to gather statistical information on students at each college in the United States. If forms are developed that can be satisfactorily incorporated in the registration process at each college, the Office of Education would become the central statistical agency for most reports that are presently being required of the individual colleges.

Schedule for Registration

For all students who did not pre-register January 6 and 7 the schedule for the second semester registration begins at eight o'clock Tuesday, January 26 and continues through Wednesday, January 27. Classes begin as scheduled on Thursday January 28. Saturday students will register January 23. Night students may register on this date also.

During the pre-registration period a number of problems developed that were inherent in the form. Attention should be called to the fact that the catalog number requested on this form is equivalent to our course number as noted in the Spring Schedule. The section number requested on this form is equivalent to our call number. Some confusion resulted in the completion of this form because of the change in terminology.

Letters To Editor

Dear Club Editor,

I have just finished reading the latest Sidelines. It was very good as usual. However, I am writing concerning your chess problem which was presented in the issue. I think your chess corner should be continued by all means. It presents another facet of our wonderful college.

If I may make a suggestion in this area, however, I think it will improve your chess problems. I noticed that a photo of a board did not come out clearly in print. Instead, I suggest you make a diagram.

Thank you for allowing me to comment and make suggestions on your new feature. I hope it will be continued in the future, and I'm sure others do too, although they may not write.

Sincerely yours,
Gerald Weldin

Wintry ways are wonderful! The open air, with the wind pinking your cheeks, puts one in the mood for winter action.

Elaine Walden, a sophomore from Nashville, and Mike Murphy, a sophomore from Murfreesboro, are sporting attire for their part for active, vigorous life.

Winter months put one in the mood for a weekend at a nearby ski resort. Semester break? What a wonderful time to enjoy the outdoors in a flattering ski outfit.

Elaine displays an eye-catching outfit for any ski slope. A hand knit mohair sweater combines with the flattery of stretch pants.

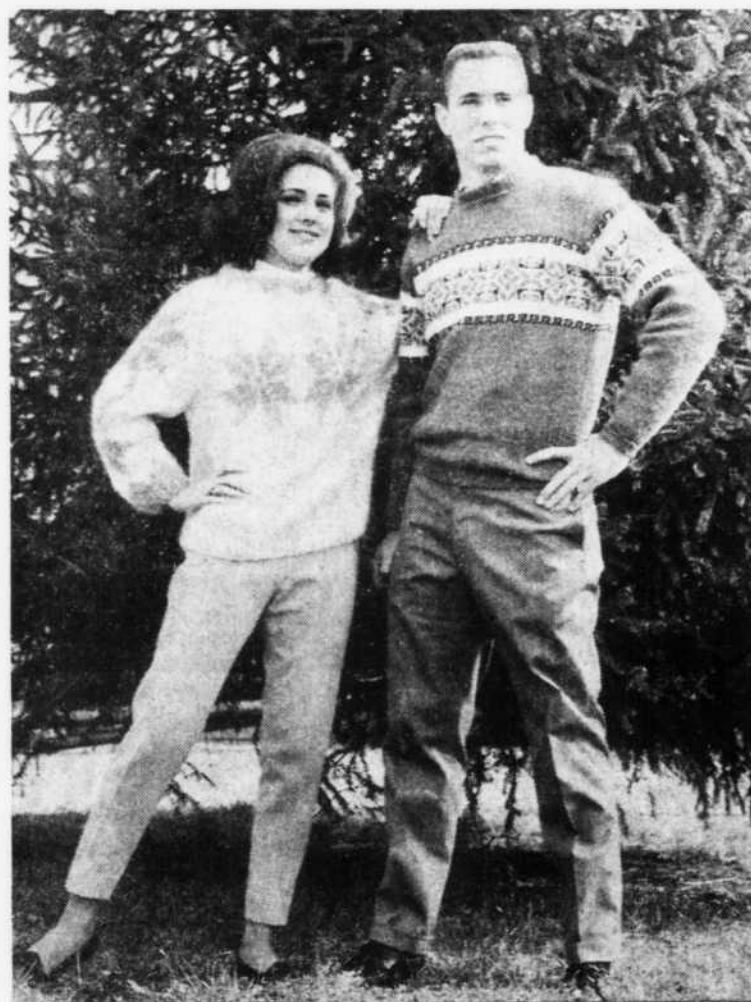

Snowflakes are scattered over the sweater to add that look of outdoors. Soft, warm and comfortable to wear add to the attractiveness of mohair fiber. A dickie is worn under the sweater to add that extra topping.

Elaine's ski pants are of stretch Spandex. Dacron, cotton and Lycra combine to give a fabric that is easy to care for, fits smoothly and gives a sleek, trim fit. The stretch is verticle with the feminine behavior to resist wrinkles. Freedom of action and the beauty of a good fit may be found in the popular stretch pants in today's fashion.

Mike also sports a flashy ski sweater. His sweater is also of mohair with diamond cut designs to add interest. The round crew neck line may be worn with a shirt or dickie.

Even if you can't afford a trip to Gatlinburg or Sun Valley, you can enjoy winter fashions right on campus. One's attire can give a wonderful imaginative atmosphere.

Elaine Warden and Mike Murphy model some appropriate clothing as the first snow of the season fell Friday night.

LIGHTS

That out of the dark night do keep.
lights that blind
lights that hold back
the creeping edge of fear.
Those that venture beyond the Bright Lights

Do not return;
They do not return to this confused,
laughing world.
This world that laughs,
Because it is easier to laugh
Than to cry.

Those that have journeyed beyond the security of the perimeter
What courage did it take to leave?
the souls that stayed behind

Can only close their blind eyes
And utter a brief prayer
To wish them on their way.

the shelf of his mind, and suddenly it was unbearable, and he ran and placed it back on the shelf until some other day, or year.

SILHOUETTE

The silhouette stands silently, clearly.
Beyond the clouds folding over my glazed eyes,
Eyes blind with tears running
Screaming from packed memories.
Blind with wavering shadows cast by uncertain light.
Only the naked image draws me away from the savage

And the still;
Image coming alive quietly,
Making soft sound,
Echoing.
To touch and not to fall,
Though real it breathes . . .
I am;
Being reflected, reflecting self.
But tangibility lost for a time,
Times away,
The savage and the still circling.
I face the silhouette.

Question Of Time

What is time? It seems to me
A river ever flowing
Never ceasing
Down which I drift
And when will I have drifted
The allotted distance
My time unknown and I unknowing
Controlled and not controlling
What its source and where it ends
Or why, I do not know
For I am mortal plagued
By hazy and disjointed thought in drops and drops;

The rain descends quickly,
then it stops;
Today rain comes,
It goes tomorrow;
The rain reflects
my Misery and Sorrow.

ettes were Margaret Whitaker of Nashville, 284; Pat Badacour, Nashville, 282; Shirley Givens, Nashville, 278; Sharon Tighe, Tracy City; and Mary Smith, Springfield; with 274 each. Others firing for MTSC were Mary Lockhart, Tracy City; Charlotte Black and Susan Chrietberg of Murfreesboro.

Top five for Oglethorpe were Kathy Starcher, 282; Caroline Kelly, 276; Mary O'Neal, 275; Jane Stroud, 265; Judy Ponturo, 249. Also firing for Oglethorpe was Naomi Thomas with 241.

The Raiderettes were without the services of the number one shooter for the year, in that Jackie Koch of Chattanooga suffered a broken leg during the Christmas holidays. It is expected that she will return for the trip to Atlanta.

Miss Judd, Mr. Eichelberger Win Novice Debate Honors

Miss Judd

Mr. Eichelberger

Meylland Judd senior from Murfreesboro and Glenn Eichelberger of Patterson, N. J., were among the top honor winners in the MTSC invitational debate tournament conducted on campus last weekend. Miss Judd was named as one of the three best debate judges in the tournament and Mr. Eichelberger won the "best debater" trophy. Western Kentucky won the team and squad trophies. The MTSC team won 10 of 12 debates but as hosts were not eligible for the team competition awards. Ninety two teams representing 11 colleges and universities participated.

Crowder, WMTS Disc Jockey, Views Hits From Student Angle

by Creed Crowder

In the following weeks I will be talking to you about records and their makers. Most of my remarks will be concerning the big producers and artists of long-playing albums, but the column will discuss all kinds of music.

Looking back at the old year of 1964 . . . the Beatles copped several awards in music . . . they were voted the best new male group, the "pop" record group, and the biggest sellers of both singles and albums for the year. Best female vocalist on lp's for '64 was Barbara Streisand. Top male vocalist on albums was none other than Louis Armstrong . . . how could this guy miss with a birth date of July 4, 1900? The instrumentalist heading the lp category was Al Hirt. Jazzman of the year was Stan Getz, famous now for "Girl from Ipanema", and Woody Herman's herd was voted the best big band of '64.

Taking a hint from AGC-TV's successful "Shindig" program, NBC premiered its offering called "Hullabaloo" last week. "Shindig" is seen on channel 8 Wednesday nights from 7:30 until 8:00. The new "Hullabaloo" hits the air waves from 7:30 until 8:30 each Tuesday night on Channel 4. Watch for "Shindig" to increase its time to one hour. By the way, if anyone knows where the dancers on "Shindig" get all that energy, let me know. "Tired blood" is the least of their worries.

Here are some new album releases that are worth adding to your collection . . . "Frankie Randall Sings and Swings" by a new star who is a delightful cross between the styling of Jack Jones and that of Frank Sinatra . . . "Original Soundtrack from Fiddler on the Roof" . . . "Hollyridge Strings Play Hits Made Famous by Elvis Presley" . . . "The Best of Peter Nero" . . . "Dearheart and other Great Songs of Love" by Jaack Jones . . . and "The Kingston Trio", their debut album after leaving Capitol to sign with Decca. Of course, a good sound anytime is Nikita Kruschev singing "Nina Never Knew".

Powell, Christiana; Wilma F. Raney, Shelbyville; Everett Brown Renfro, Chapel Hill.

Edison H. Sandefur, Columbia; Charles Raymond Scott, Nashville; Claude W. Shaffer, Jr., Nashville; Roland Marshall Sharp, Chattanooga; Dorothy Tolliver Shelton, Manchester; Lois Eunice North Shipp, Murfreesboro; Thomas Edwin Shirley, Jr., Readyville; Carolyn Marie Simmons, Shelbyville; James Lipscomb Singleton, Nashville; Jesse Howard Slayden, Jr., Nashville; Carole McCormick Smith, McMinnville; Edgar Kelly Smith, Nashville; James Daniel Smith, Winchester; Hubert Powell Spears, Nashville; Edward Young Spence, Murfreesboro; Mary Ethel Steiner, Bell Buckle; Philip Wayne Stewart, Tullahoma; John Randall Sullivan, Jr., Nashville.

Kay F. Burden Thomas, Murfreesboro; Nancy Rose Thurman, Smyrna; Helen Gray Todd, Readyville; Homer Dean Tomlinson, Mt. Juliet; Elizabeth Ann Walden, Murfreesboro; Gene Walker, Nashville; William Terry Webb, Lawrenceburg; Janice Kay Welborn, Lawrenceburg; James Garry West, Nashville; Larry Burt Whaley, Pigeon Forge; Sybil Christina White, Murfreesboro; Thomas Howard White, Franklin; Joseph N. Students Absolved Of Blame In Tragic Death Of Charles Ray Neal

Funeral services for Charles Ray Neil, 20, MTSC junior football star, were conducted at his home in Lenoir City Tuesday afternoon, January 19. Members of the coaching staff and 41 members of the football squad attended the services for the stellar sophomore end.

Coach Charles Murphy, who notified Neal's mother of his death early Saturday morning, and line coach Joe Black Hayes both expressed high praise for the football talent, the integrity and good character of the slain youth.

Mrs. Hubert Marlin of Highland Circle, Madison, has been charged by Nashville police with the shotgun slaying. "I just lost my head", Mrs. Marlin told the police when she found Neal sleeping in the bedroom in an apartment of her daughter, Carolyn Lane Marlin, a 1964 graduate of MTSC.

"There is absolutely no evidence of misconduct by any of the boys or girls," George Curry, special investigator of the Nashville police department, told reporters.

According to Carolyn's statement to the police, Neal, Miss Marlin, her roommate Cynthia McClearn and Paul Edward Smith, had attended a small private party Friday night and returned to the small apartment just behind the Marlin home at Madison where a younger sister, Brenda Marlin, was sleeping in another bedroom. Carolyn Marlin said she prevailed on the boys not to try to drive back to Murfreesboro in the snow storm and, unable to arouse her parents in the main house, told the boys to sleep in the cottage while the girls sat up in the living room area.

Mrs. Marlin is quoted by homicide officers as saying that, "I just lost my head". Carolyn told a reporter, "It's all sadness now, if I hadn't asked them to stay none of this would have happened".

Miss Marlin, a physical education teacher in a Nashville school, was senior home coming queen attendant at MTSC last year. She worked part time in the office of Dean John Weems, who stated that, "She was one of the finest girls he had ever known".

Smith, roommate of Neal in Sims Hall, was sleeping on a pallet in the front room area of the cottage at the time of the shooting. He accompanied Neal to the Madison hospital where he was pronounced DOA. He stated that Neal was conscious until shortly before his death.

Neal was an outstanding end on defense for the Raiders. In the Muskegem game for the NCAA Mid-East championship he intercepted a fumble on the MTSC one-yard line and ran 99 yards for a touchdown. A graduate of Lenoir City High school, he transferred as a second quarter freshman from Clemson. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Neal.

From The Sidelines

by Butch Rutherford

Middle Tennessee State's amiable confines of Alumni Memorial Gymnasium was a welcome sight to the Blue Raiders after two road games into Kentucky.

Coach Bill Stoke's roundballers dropped both road contests to Ohio Valley Conference foes, losing to Morehead, Saturday, January 9, 96-73 and Eastern Kentucky, Monday January 11, 99-69.

The only thing that can be said about the Raider loss to Morehead is that Morehead had too much Harold Sergeant. While leading Morehead to its win over the Raiders, Sergeant broke a single game scoring mark by blistering the net for 52 points. Morehead jumped into an early lead which was too much for the Blue to overcome.

Meanwhile Ray Kempf was doing his best to stop the Morehead charge as he led the Raiders with 19 points. He was followed by Jim Spencer and Bill Martin with nine points apiece.

After Morehead the Raiders traveled to Richmond, Kentucky to tangle with the Eastern Kentucky maroons. Eastern used its great height advantage and a 53.6 per cent shooting display from the floor to crush the Raiders 99-69.

The Maroons had five men in double figure scoring. Six feet, seven inch Bob Tolan and six-eight Dennis Bradley led the Eastern attack with 17 points apiece.

The Raiders were led by Jack Sutter, who had his best scoring night of the season with 18 points. Sutter was followed by Ed "Boom-Boom" Cannon with 11 points, Ray Kempf and Mike Milholland with nine points apiece.

In this game the Raiders stayed within striking distance for the first thirty minutes of the game. It was midway into the second half before the superior height of the Maroons started taking its toll. At that time the Raiders were only eight points down.

At Eastern the Raiders were without the services of guard Phil Meadows who was out with a hand injury, and forward Tom Whittington was out with a foot injury.

Chances are the Raiders will spend most of their practice sessions working on defense for the upcoming schedule. In the first games of the campaign, opponents have been scoring at a pace of 92.8 points per game against the Raiders.

Fouls continue to be of the major problem with the Raiders. The latest NCAA statistics show the Raiders in fifth place in the nation for "Most Personal Fouls Committed." Raider opponents are averaging better than 24 points a game at the charity line thus far this season.

Dr. Patty's Linkmen Ready To Bring MTS More Championships

by Bob Barnes

Next to a new set of clubs the most valuable asset a golfer on the Middle Tennessee State College team can have is the help of Dr. Elbert K. Patty.

Dr. Patty played on the first school golf team in 1939. After graduating from Middle Tennessee in 1941 he went to City High, Alabama as head basketball coach. He returned to his Alma Mater in 1946 as head basketball and assistant football coach. He formed the golf team in 1948. He left again in 1950 to study at the University of Indiana, where he received his Doctors Degree in 1952. Dr. Patty returned to MTSC in 1952 and assumed the role of golf coach, business manager of athletics and professor of physical education.

His linksmen have won the Volunteer State Athletic Conference championship eight times and the Ohio Valley Conference championship seven times. In 1963 Gary Head, of Springfield, Tennessee, won the N. C. A. A. College Division championship under the able supervision of Dr. Patty.

The Raiders have not lost a game in forty-two consecutive dual matches and have won the O. V. C. crown for six straight years which shows why he has been elected O. W. C. Coach of the Year four consecutive years. With the whole 1964 team returning, Middle Tennessee can look forward to another great season in golf.

Dan Midgett and Larry Gilbert are the only seniors on the team this year. Other members include Dan Lewis Jack Haley, George Cogbill, Bob Wolfe and David Jones.

Two Senior Artists Display Fine Work

Senior art students Faye Ward McKnight of Murfreesboro and Julia Hart of Manchester at MTSC will have their work on exhibit at the Art Department gallery January 17-24.

The work consists of various media by which the young artists have expressed their creative expression as well as more traditional art forms. The gallery is located on the second floor of the Fine Arts building.

Semester Break

The Raiders have played seven of their first ten contests on the road, and Coach Stokes hopes that the return to home territory can end the skid. Now even or eight upcoming contests are scheduled for the home floor. The only road trip before February 10 will be a January 30 meeting with Western Kentucky at Bowling Green.

Semester break will boast two home games. The first will be on Saturday, January 23, against Austin Peay. The next game will be played on Monday, January 25, against East Tennessee.

Intramural Volleyball

The men's intramural volleyball ended last week in a three-way tie for first place. The teams involved in this triple tie were the Insignificants, Circle K, and the Defenders. Al had 6-1 record.

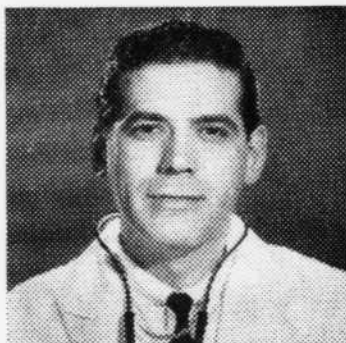

To determine the winner there will be a play-off series between the top three. The date for this series has not yet been announced.

Standings are as follows:

	W	L
Insignificants	6	1
Circle K	6	1
Defenders	6	1
Smith Hall	4	3
Falcons	2	5
Russell's Rascals	1	6
Long Horns	0	7

TROUBLE WAS NEVER SO MUCH FUN!!!

Yes, trouble is the byword for next week's ASB Movie. Tony Curtis, Suzanne Pleshette, and Phil Silvers star in the Eastman Color comedy to be presented Saturday, January 30 at 7:30 P. M. The movie will be shown in room 304 of the Student Union Building.
