Homecoming To Be 'The Best Ever'

Homecoming plans for MTSU are rapidly shaping up into "one of the biggest such events in the university history," according to Dr. Homer Pittard, alumni secretary.

Jim Parnell, parade marshall for the Saturday-morning affair, has announced 51 positions in the parade which will move out from the assembly area on the east side of the campus at 9:30.

The parade will go down East Main Street, circle the Public Square and will return this year by Lytle Street, advancing up Tennessee Boulevard. The parade will disband at the campus tennis court area.

Queen Patricia Duncan will appear exactly mid-way in the parade, preceded by the Sam Davis Drill Team and followed by the Murfreesboro Central High School Band.

Social and honorary fraternities will follow the Band of Blue and the ROTC drill team and color guard to head the parade. Departmental clubs will follow the Central Band. The class beauties are to occupy positions 37-40, followed by the church group floats. The Campus School Band will mark the close of the parade.

According to Dr. Pittard, there has been an unusual response from the alumni, "especially considering this is the first two-day homecoming attempted at MTSU."

On Friday afternoon, a golf tournament for alumni and a bridge tea for alumnae will be held. Reservations for more than 150 alumni for the Saturday buffet luncheon have been made with a substantial number due for the Friday night barbecue and the Saturday morning breakfast.

The Jenkins show and the basketball exhibitions scheduled for tonight have attracted more than 100 returning alumni.

The classes of 1939, 1949, 1959 are to hold special reunions at the Saturday noon luncheon. The usual post-game tea and dance for the alumni and the homecoming ball Saturday night will conclude the activities.

Prior to the game with Western Kentucky on Saturday, the winning floats, the drill team and the Band of Blue will present the pre-game activities. This is scheduled to begin at 1:30.

Baldwin Offers Planetarium Tours

The Middle Tennessee State University Planetarium on the third floor, (room 303) of the Old Main is now "open for business."

The Planetarium has a seating capacity of 50 and a use for instructional purposes in the department of Geography. Recently, demonstrations of its use have been made for faculty members on Tuesday and Thursday.

Dr. Ed Baldwin, of the Geography Department, has announced a schedule open for students and returning alumni for six (6) showings November 3 and 4. The program runs about 30 minutes and will be shown on the hours 8:00 through 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 through 2:00 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 3 and at 10 and 11 o'clock on Saturday (Homecoming Day) Nov. 4.

Clothesline Sale Coming Sunday

The MTSU Art Club is sponsoring a student and faculty clothesline art sale, Sunday, Nov. 5, from 12:30 to 5 p.m. There will be paintings, sculpture, prints, ceramics, drawings, and jewelry on exhibit.

The sale will be located in the center of campus between the Administration building and the construction site for the new Language Arts building.

In case of rain it will be moved to the Fine Arts building.

The Guys in the Da Nang patrol

Now the time is near. Men in the chopper are counting the seconds.
17 of them. Dressed in green dungarees, soaked black in sweat.
No wisecracks. No horseplay.
Any minute now they'll hit the landing zone.
And head for the jungle.
The chopper will lift. And they'll be alone.
They're the guys in the Da Nang patrol.

Ten thousand miles around the world, there are people who call them sucker.
People who hope they'll give up.
Quit. Go AWOL.
But they won't.
They care. Enough so 9 out of 10 men in the outfit put cash into U.S. Savings Bonds.
To help pay the bill.
They're the guys in the Da Nang patrol.

The next time they hit the landing zone, will you be with them?
Do you care enough to get in there and pitch the best way you can?
Make no mistake.
These guys in the Da Nang patrol will hit the landing zone anyway.
Maybe you'll stand a little straighter, walk a bit taller — knowing you're with them all the way.

Buchanan Players Stage "My Fair Lady" Production

The Middle Tennessee State University Buchanan Players will present the Musical "My Fair Lady" for their first production on December 6 through December 9. "My Fair Lady" is a musical adaptation of Shaw's "Pygmalion" by Alan Lerner (book and lyrics) and Frederick Loewe (Music).

This long run musical, one of the most successful ever to appear on Broadway, opened March 15, 1956 at the Mark Hellinger Theatre in New York. The story concerns Professor Henry Higgins, played by Rex Harrison, attempting, and succeeding, to turn a London flower girl called Eliza Doolittle, played by Julie Andrews, into a lady.

Alan Lerner, the lyricist for "My Fair Lady", is a native New Yorker who is also a playwright and producer. He was born in 1918 and received his B.S. from Harvard University in 1940.

Mr. Lerner has had a varied degree of experience in the theatre. He was lyricist and author, with Arthur Pierson, of "What's Up". He also wrote the book and lyrics for "The Day Before Spring", "Brigadoon", "Paint Your Wagon", "My Fair Lady," and "Camelot."

Mr. Lerner has also worked in films. He wrote the screenplay for "An American in Paris", the screenplay and lyrics for "Gigi", and adapted "Brigadoon" and "My Fair Lady" to film.

Mr. Lerner received the New York Drama Critics' Award in 1947 for "Brigadoon" and in 1951 won the Academy Award for best original screenplay for "An American in Paris". He has also been awarded the New York Drama Critics' Award, Antoinette Perry Award and the Donaldson Award for "My Fair Lady" in 1956.

Frederick Loewe, composer of the music for "My Fair Lady", was born in Vienna, Austria in 1901. Mr. Loewe made his debut at age 13 as a concert pianist in Berlin. He later wrote the music for "Salute to Spring", "Great Lady", "Life of the Party", and "What's Up".

Mr. Loewe has composed the music for several other plays for which Lerner did the lyrics. Some of these include "The Day Before Spring", "Brigadoon", and "Paint Your Wagon". He also wrote the music for the film "Gigi".

Frederick Loewe received the Hollander Medal for a piano performance in Berlin in 1923. He has also been awarded the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award for "Brigadoon", the Academy Award for "Gigi" in 1950 and received a Doctor of Music degree from the University of Redlands in 1962.

Above are "the set builders", hard at work on one of the many sets for My Fair Lady. The play is the lavish and colorful musical to be presented by the MTSU Theatre and Music Departments on December 6, 7, 8, and 9

Raider Rifles Outshoot Vandy

The MTSU Rifle Team launched its 1967-68 season on Friday, Oct. 27, by winning a match with Vanderbilt by a score of 1026 to 991. This was based on a four man total since that was the sum total Vandy could muster.

Leading the Raiders was David Wiegel who fired a 260. He was pressed for top honors by Mike Compton with a 257, Mike Chambers with a 254 and Ed Kaeser with a 253. Both Chambers and Kaeser fired 99's in the prone position to give the Raiders a head start.

Vandy's John took high individual honor for the match with a 261, followed by Finne with a 256, Akins 243 and a 231 fired by Shusky.

DAVE WIEGEL

On Saturday, Oct. 28 the Rifle Team held a match with UT's Martin Branch. This time each team fired a five man total, and the Raiders (1239) emerged with a 38 point victory over UTMB (1201).

Dave Wiegel, again paced the Raiders with a 261 total, which gave him high individual honors in the match. He was followed by Jerry Dunbar with a 248, Mike Compton and Mike Chambers with 245's and Captain Ed Foster with a 240.

For UTMB, Cothron's 254 was the high score. Their other shooters were below 240.

'Sidelines' Lauds Alumni Activities

It hardly seems necessary to welcome the visiting alumni to the campus an additional time, for it is quite evident that they are indeed welcome here. The spirit of a homecoming is greatly dependent upon the spirit of the returning graduates.

However, more than the success of a homecoming depends upon the attitude of the alumni. The reputation, tradition, and progress of this institution are also influenced by them.

In recent years Middle Tennessee State University has been fortunate to have enthusiastic alumni. They have made many worthwhile contributions - of time, talents, and money - to this institution. This is appreciated, of course, by the faculty and administration here. It is also appreciated by those of us who are students here and will someday be alumni of this school.

There remains much more to do for this school in repayment for days spent here. It is the hope of the SIDELINES that the actions of present-day alumni will serve as a challenge to alumni of the future, on whom the future of MTSU rests.

President Cope Welcomes Alumni

Welcome to Our Alumni:

It is most appropriate and it is expected that Homecoming will mean many things to many people. To the students, there are the floats, the parade, the game, and the social gatherings. To the townspeople and our other friends in the area, there are the pageantry and excitement of a football weekend. To our team, it is another challenge to bring its best performance to Horace Jones Field on this very special occasion.

But to our great alumni family, it has a different, perhaps a deeper meaning. It means returning to the campus, in fact, "a return home." This visit should provide many opportunities to review the changing face of the University and to renew allegiance that is so essential to the future of the institution.

May I welcome you back and invite you to participate in the many activities that have been planned for your enjoyment. Your presence assures the success of our 1967 Homecoming.

Czech Editor Says Vietnam War Wrong

STEVE D'ARAZIEN (CPS)

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (CPS) — The perspective of an East European Communist is unique: he takes a critical view of both East and West.

Part of the reason for this realism is that he is in contact with much more moderate Communists in Italy and France who have a working knowledge of the machination of the bourgeois state. And Eastern Europe is undergoing a Marxist kind of renaissance. The basic doctrines are being examined, often modified, sometimes discarded completely, by men accustomed to critical thinking like Adam Schaff of Poland, Ivan Svitak of Czechoslovakia, and others.

Dr. Egon Busch, editor of MEZINARODNI POLITICA, a magazine of political commentary published by the Czechoslovakian Communist Party, is such a Communist.

He says that "Never has a foreign policy issue had so much importance here as does the Vietnam war."

No Official Contact

With the exception of normal diplomatic relations (which have not been broken), the Czech government is not receiving any prominent Americans in any official way. When U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren was in Prague recently to lecture on the American constitutional system, he was greeted by the minister of justice, as unusually subordinate official to welcome a man of Warren's stature. And when Richard Nixon was in Prague he got no welcome at all.

"Individual contacts are being made," Busch says, "but there is no official contact at all. It is almost a subconscious process."

Czechs Predict Republican Dove

Busch says Czech political analysts see Republican nomination of a Vietnam dove of 1968. He says this is the logical response to the fact that U.C. prestige is at an all-time low in Europe (standing on a metro platform in Paris I was denounced as an assassin) and that America should realize that "no act taken by De Gaulle has helped (French) prestige as much as the pullout of Algiers, especially among the underdeveloped countries. And Algeria was regarded as part of France."

Busch says American anti-Communism is not "a religion, more like an anti-religion or a creed. To be perfectly frank I would say for many years Communism was a creed, not a political opinion, in the Soviet Union. But Communism is supposedly based on science."

"America has such an emotional reaction to Communism that she hasn't a chance of understanding. Anti-Communism grew in two big steps. After World War I it did not differ from the reaction in Europe. But after the Second World War, anti-Communism in Europe developed in a classical way. But not in the United States," he stated.

What About China?

How do East Europeans feel about China? "The American fear is not a realistic assessment of China," Busch says, "For fifty years you have been poisoned by prejudice (against the Soviet Union.) When the menace proves to be as expected, you find another fear. Here people are upset about China, but not frightened. One day the Chinese will find out all this is idiotic. This is not Communism, not Marxism. . . . People here are inclined to make jokes."

"I believe that if America has normal contact with China, she couldn't do what she is doing. It's like Stalinism. If there were not so much isolation, there could not be so much distortion," he added.

As Busch sees the world, the essential division is, as the Chinese assert, between rich nations and poor, between civilized nations and agrarian nations. But he does not agree with the Chinese that the way to eliminate the difference is through violence. "The essence of revolution is change, not violence," he emphasized.

Russia and America Should Help 3rd World

Unfortunately the distance between the rich and poor is increasing. He believes the best way to deal with the situation is for the two blocs to cooperate in helping the third world. "We must get together and develop a program. The Chinese have a program for the world. We don't," Busch stated.

Meanwhile in Czechoslovakia young people are demanding more freedom and are looking to the West for new models. "Young people don't understand our system of one party government. They say, 'In the United States there are two parties.' Why, they don't realize, in Czechoslovakia we used to have ten or twenty parties."

Tension between militant young people and moderate party members like Egon Busch is increasing. With loosened restrictions on travel, young East Europeans are traveling all over Europe, talking to Proves in Holland and New Leftists in England. When the magazine of the Writers Union was recently taken over by the Party in a dispute over what can and cannot be said in Czechoslovakia, and was transferred to other hands, they are upset. And they want to know what to do. One thing is certain, with the increased tourism that the Party wants for financial reasons, not much can long remain the same in Eastern Europe.

ASB President Issues Report

By Paul Womack

As far as student government is concerned, communications on this campus has always left something to be desired. The problem, as it exists, fosters uncertainties, little understanding, and no clarity as to the aims and purposes of the student government. Yet, in demanding the attention it does, a solution seems almost unattainable.

The SIDELINES, for example, hardly personifies what is needed in a campus newspaper. This is not the fault of its staff; quite the contrary, its beleaguered staff is undermanned, able only to cover the minimal number of items a paper should concern itself with and able only to print a minimal number of issues because of a limitation of funds.

A campus radio station, while promised sometime in the next year, is obviously ineffectual now and will be next fall if its operation is crippled by the very forces which now cripple the SIDELINES.

The ASB Bulletin is, for the most part, a poor means of communications and now in its death throes. And, except for last Thursday night, Senate and House meetings are attended only by those directly concerned.

What can be done?

Unless there is some evidence of a unified student body opinion on issues which concern us, the powers that be cannot properly be, and more than likely, would not be motivated to take any action in bringing about these changes. This also, more than likely, holds true for the faculty and elements within which might recommend changes. And only the Lord knows what changes we could use here.

We need:

1. policy guidelines on the freedom of students in areas such as,
 - in the classroom
 - student records
 - student affairs
 - on and off campus freedom of students
 - student housing
 - procedural standards in disciplinary proceedings
2. Student Bill of Rights
3. a Student Activity Fee—haphazard finances breeds a haphazard student government program
5. outside criticism
6. inside criticism which is not curtailed by an archaic seniority system
7. graduate students in ASB
8. a student forum time allotted to the ASB; a time when substantive programs planned for and by the students may be carried out; this needs to be a time when only these student functions may go on. Thursdays from 10:50 until 12:15 offer a good time for this.
9. We in Associated Body need to get on the stick
10. we need to shake off the traditions that bind us and look to and experiment with new ideas and concepts; only in this way will the University and its component parts grow to meet the demands of the future

These changes demand our response and initiative. In the weeks ahead the ASB government will be presenting these suggestions in more specific form. We need student interest and help. Come by the ASB office and we will put you to work on the important matters of ASB.

The Dixon Line

by SuEllen Dixon

Since the state of Tennessee refuses to believe that we are descended from apes, it seems a bit inconsistent to this way of thinking that the students of a state institution should be forced to swing through the trees in order to keep their feet dry.

Any math major worth his salt can tell you that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line. Knowing this, the student who is consistently late to class darts straight across campus. Can some enlightened soul then inform me why the sidewalks on this campus religiously follow the contours of the buildings?

I am aware of the fact that this practice divides the campus into nice geometrical sections that should enhance the beauty of the campus. Unfortunately, this objective is ruined by its own impracticality. I, for one, can see nothing beautiful about a muddy footpath that cuts behind the New Administration building.

Another point I would like to question is why are some of the present sidewalks always underwater the minute it rains? What is the sense of putting in a submerged sidewalk?

Perhaps it should be incorporated into state law that no sidewalks should be laid on a new campus (or new area of an old one) until a deep snow has fallen. Convenience and practicality will then indicate the areas that the students need to have paved.

If these areas are carefully noted, at the time of the spring thaw the sidewalks can then be laid where they will do the most good.

Of course, I am aware of the problem of cost. However, it would take less time, effort, concrete, and therefore, money, if sidewalks were laid in diagonals instead of forcing them to turn corners.

Also, there is the added economical feature of saving the money that the institution would ordinarily have to invest in "Keep off the Grass!" signs.

A While Ago

By David Mathis

After reading the report from our student body president, I felt a definite need to make a remark or two concerning this article.

First off, I want to agree with our president in his belief that communications on our campus is lacking some element—obscure as this element may be. Secondly, I commend him for recognizing this problem and attempting to set forth a solution.

However, I feel that many areas of the campus life are being neglected equally as much as our student government. We need changes such as suggested, but are we the only university in the country needing change? The answer obviously is negative; and therefore, our situation places us on equal basis with a few others.

Certainly this common apathy does not solve the problem of little communication at MTSU. It does reveal the fact that some degree of our problem is connected with apathy. You know apathy—that overworked, editorialized, every-present evil exclusive to MTSU.

In regard to our student newspaper and its "beleaguered staff," I make little comment except for one question: When did you last discuss the present policies and future plans of this twice-a-week "cripple"? The SIDELINES is indeed improving as it too shakes off tradition and faces to the future.

Before attacking, one might think just how a campus newspaper could help publicize and influence ASB projects. After all, it was stated that communications are lacking on our campus.

As for the campus radio station, a very good point was made in the ASB Report—it is obviously ineffectual now as we do not have one.

I believe in change through sound suggestions just as anyone else does. These suggestions should be based on research, not just vague, general ideas that probably will have little effect on the student body. I await this type of suggestion backed up by work on the part of our misunderstood and uncertain student government.

AROUND THE OVC

by Lee Farless

Eastern and Western Kentucky continued their domination of the OVC by defeating Murray State and Morehead respectively. The other OVC teams were engaged in non-conference games. And most regrettably they all suffered defeats!

Larry Hayes, Coach Murphy has been considering moving freshman fullback Gary Wright to this position.

Murphy has also stated that some changes will be made in the offensive alignment in order to give better protection to the passer. If MTSU is going to move the ball on the Hilltoppers with an consistency, it will probably have to be through the air. Western has the league's best defense against the rush.

Stopping Moore will be the key to the whole game, however, and will be a real challenge to the Raider defensive unit.

Sitting on the MTSU bench during the game will be several of the top high school prospects in the Middle Tennessee area. Invitations were sent to all of the boys who were selected on the all-Midstate teams, plus several others who the coaches feel can play OVC football.

Eastern handed Murray their third loss by the score of 28-7. The Colonels scored three times in the first quarter to prove their superiority. Ted Halcomb scored twice on runs of 7 and 11 yards and Jim Guice scored on a 10 yard jaunt. Aaron Marsh returned a Murray punt for 62 yards and a touchdown in the fourth quarter to cap the Colonel's scoring.

East Tennessee at Morehead

Murray managed to violate Eastern's goal line in the second quarter when Murray's Hake tallied from 26 yards out. Murray's passing attack was held to only 131 yards as Quarterback Larry Tillman found Eastern's secondary valid.

Before a record 13,000 homecoming fans, Western Kentucky set one OVC record and two school records in handing Morehead its third set-back 30-19. The first record was established by Dickie Moore, a fleet-footed, bruising halfback, who rushed for a total of 219 yards in 27 carries. The four Voorhees tallied twice fense in rushing yards (409) of this, 348 yards were in the first half.

The first quarter was probably the most hectic of any OVC game to date. A total of thirty-three points were scored in that period (Western-20 and Morehead-13).

True to form, Western scored before the game was four minutes old when Jim Voorhees scored from the four. Voorhees tallied twice more before the half ended. With 9:27 left in the second quarter Tom Atwood kicked a 37 yard field goal to put Western ahead 23-13. Scoring in the first half for Morehead was Tommie Gray with a 63 yard pass and Leon Wesley with a one yard run. Morehead held the Hilltoppers scoreless in the second half while Lewis Rogan blasted over from the three.

East Tennessee lost a low scoring contest to the Marines of Quantico in a game played in Virginia. The game's only score came in the first quarter when the Marines' Harry Reynolds kicked a 40 yard field goal. The win was the first for the Marines and the loss was East Tennessee's fifth.

Austin Peay met disaster at the hands of Findlay in the eight annual Shrine game at Ashland, Kentucky by the score of 14-0. Austin Peay's only bright moment was the naming of the Gov's Philip Farinella the game's Most Valuable Lineman. He recorded 18

Swim Meet, Hole-In-One Tournament Announced

The hole-in-one golf tournament will be held Nov. 14 and 15, from 2-5 p.m. It will be held on the field east of the football stadium. This is left field on the baseball diamond.

All students and faculty members are eligible to compete except members of the MTSU golf team and letter-holders in golf.

There will be three divisions: Men's Division, Women's Division, and Faculty Division.

A swimming meet is on tap for the near future, also. It will be for both men and women and will be held at the natatorium on Tuesday, Nov. 28, at 7:00 p.m.

Entries will be accepted on both an individual and team basis. More information may be obtained at the IM office, Room 105 in the basement of the gym.

Signup sheets are available now at both the IM office and the swimming pool.

One of the highlights of the pre-game festivities for Homecoming weekend will be the Blue-White basketball game.

Head coach Ken Trickey will take the wraps off of his squad for the students and grads in a one hour scrimmage beginning at 6:30 p.m. tonight.

Both the varsity and freshmen teams have been divided equally with the Blues being coached by assistant coach Jim Bratton and the White team being under the capable direction of freshman coach Jimmy Earle.

On the Blue team will be Ken Riley and Fred Howard at forward, Steve Snider at center, and Tommy Brown and Rick Lassiter at guard. Other members of the Blue team are Booker Brown and Darryl Bentson, plus freshmen members Bubba Yarbrough, Dave Gibson, Clay Newman, and Gibson Baucom.

Making up the White team are forwards Art Polk and Terry Scott, center Derry Cochran, and guards Willie Brown and Brad Wilson. Stan Sumrell and freshmen Roger Fisher, Gary Tassin, Don Lockeridge, and James Nickens are the other members of the team.

A lively game is anticipated with anything liable to happen. This will also be the public's first look at big 7-0 Booker Brown under actual game conditions. Booker will sit out this year after transferring from the University of Missouri.

Booker isn't the only big boy to see action tonight, however. Two freshmen, 6-10 David Gibson and 6-9 Gary Tassin, will make their college debut. Also on hand will be 6-11 Derry Cochran starting for the White team.

The game will provide a breaking in of the new chairback reserved seats installed in the north side balcony of the gym. They are Blue and White and give the gym a feeling of being larger than it actually is.

MTSU Must Stop Moore To Make Homecoming Successful

The powerful Western Kentucky Hilltoppers, boasting a 5-0-1 record thus far this season, will battle MTSU tomorrow in the annual Homecoming game.

Western is given a three touch-down edge over the injury-riddled Raiders. Led by their tremendous fullback, Dickie Moore, the Toppers have the leading offensive machine in the conference.

Heath (tackle), Romeo Crenel (middle guard), Jim Old (flanker), and Jim Voorhies (halfback).

Middle Tennessee managed to start a brand new injury list against UT Martin last week. Counted out for the game tomorrow are end

STEVE COLQUITT

... Will not see action

PAT MORRISON

... Sidelined with injury

Moore leads the conference in rushing and is a strong candidate for little All-American honors. He set a single game rushing record last week against Morehead when he ran for 219 yards.

Other Western standouts are Mike Egan (quarterback), Walt

Steve Colquitt and tailback Pat Morrison. Slowed, but expected to see action are Gary Draper, Frank Victory, Jim Wilhite, and Johnny Beene.

MTSU Homecoming Queen Patricia Duncan

Tricia Awaits Coronation

Homecoming is often considered the high point of any college football season. It is a time when the old and new meet, when the team plays its best, the colors are the brightest, and the crowd is the loudest.

For Patricia Duncan, homecoming this year promises to be extra special. Tricia was elected by the student body recently to reign as queen over all of the homecoming activities. For Tricia the excitement and activities only began with her election.

Tricia is a familiar girl on campus to many people. A member of many extra-curricular activities, she is in the House of Representatives representing Tau Omicron, chairman of the Associated Student Body Social Committee, president of Lambda Tau, reigned as Sophomore Class Beauty, and is a member of Phi Theta Psi Social Sorority.

Tricia is a Biology major, who came to Middle Tennessee State University from Columbia, Tennessee. She is minoring in Chemistry and Secondary Education, and will graduate in May of 1968.

To Tricia the entire campaign was filled with excitement. "The hardest thing in the campaign was running against a good friend," she commented.

From the start to the finish, the campaign brought surprises to Tricia. She confessed that she hadn't expected the nomination, "much less the victory."

Paul Womack, president of the Associated Student Body will escort the Queen, who will be crowned Saturday afternoon at half-time.

The homecoming court will also be presented at half-time.

Go ahead. Ask your best friend for the shirt off his back.

One thing's sure: if you get it, he's not wearing an Eagle!

"... among themselves, all things are common to friends." So said Terence in the second century B.C. Probably the old boy practised what he preached, gladly sharing his wardrobe of togas with his Roman buddies. Had he owned an Eagle shirt, however, you can safely bet that he would have made IT the exception to his rule. He couldn't have, of course ... after all, Eagles have only been available for the past hundred years ... but YOU CAN. You'll find them at Goldstein's in profusion: solid colors, tattersall checks and wide-track stripes ... 100% cotton or Durable-Press 65% Dacron Polyester / 35% cotton ... all traditionally tailored with tapered bodies and button-down collars. Come see them ... and (just to play it safe) bring your friend along.
