Albert Williams, Jr., 415 Clark Boulevard, Murfreesboro, a senior.

Cupid Fires True Darts For Three Former Editors

Little Dan Cupid dipped his arrows in printers ink and fired three fatal shots during the last week in June. Three former editors of MTSC publications were victims of the cherubic bowman.

Janet Lewis, editor of the SIDELINES in 1957-58 was married to Russell Dean Wroy, in Chattanooga June 28. The affair was attended by a large number of Janet's friends who are on campus this summer. She will go to North Carolina, where her husband is employed.

Mary Will Cox, who edited the 1953 MIDLANDER was married to Thomas C. Morgan on Saturday, June 21. The ceremony was at the First Methodist church in Murfreesboro with Joe Netherland officiating. Mary Will is the county home demonstration agent for Rutherford county. Mrs. Morgan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Will Cox of Pulaski. Mr. Morgan is employed by Swartsburg Manufacturing company of Murfreesboro.

Attendance Teacher Workshop Slated July 28

Attendance problems will be the theme of a workshop which is expected to bring about 80 attendance teachers to the Middle Tennessee State College campus July 28-30.

Speakers from the areas of welfare, health, mental health, special education, guidance and counseling will explain problems that might cause truancy and irregular school work and suggest how these services may be used to help the child, will be heard in the three day workshop.

Three Seniors Selected For Ag Fellowship Aids

Three Ag students at Middle Tennessee State College, who received degrees in June have been awarded graduate posts at two state universities, it was announced by Dr. Clarence Chesnutt, head of the college Agriculture department.

The three are: A. D. Elrod and Joe Bradshaw who will go to North Carolina State and D. L. Lillard who will attend Oregon State.

The assistantships provide each student with $1800 to $1920 annually with the remission of fees.

Joe Bradshaw, A.D. Elrod, D. A. Lillard

Lillard, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lillard of Thompson Station, Tenn., entered MTSC in 1954 and received his B.S. degree today. He will enter Oregon State this summer to work on his Master degree in Dairy chemistry. He will work under Dr. G. A. Richardson who was awarded the Borden Award in Dairy Chemistry in 1948 for his work with milk protein.

Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Bradshaw of Lebanon, entered MTSC in 1955 and received his B.S. degree with a major in agriculture and a minor in biology. He will report to North Carolina State on July 1, to begin work on his Master degree in Dairy Bacteriology under

Summer Enrollment Is 1261; Large Freshman Class Works

First term enrollment at Middle Tennessee State College for the summer quarter is 1261, a tremendous increase over the 971 registered in the first term of 1957. The summer enrollment compares favorably with the spring quarter enrollment of 2130 and the all-time top enrollment of 2245 for the fall quarter of 1957.

There are more freshman beginning college work this summer than at any summer school since immediately after World War II. Seventy six men and 60 women are registered in the freshman class this summer. Of this number 64 were processed on registration day as 1958 high school graduates.

Forrest's Granddaughter Expresses Appreciation

Mrs. Mary Forrest Bradley, 2078 South Parkway East, Memphis, has written the Midlander office her appreciation of a copy of the MIDLANDER and the recent dedication of the ROTC building in honor of her grandfather, Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest.

"You really have a wonderful college. The tribute to my grandfather touches my heart. He is really a part of Middle Tennessee."

"I was so grieved that I could not attend the dedication of Forrest Hall, but a broken hip causes many pleasures to be put aside and that was one."

Mildred Dorris Is State Delegate At Two Meetings

Miss Mildred Dorris attended the National Student Education Association Convention in Bowling Green, Ohio the latter part of June. She will also attend the National Education Association Convention in Cleveland student representative to these meetings.

MILDRED DORRIS

Miss Dorris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Dorris of Greenbrier. She is a 1955 graduate of Greenbrier High School. She is now a senior at Middle Tennessee State College.

She is active in numerous activities on the campus. She is past treasurer and vice-president of the local Student NEA and is now serving as president. She is past president of the Baptist Student Union and is now the president. She is a member of the W. A. A., was a junior class officer, is a senior class officer. She has served as vice-president of the Student Christian Union.

The local Student NEA chapter is proud of the honor which has come to the chapter and the school by Miss Dorris selection as a delegate to these two national meetings.

Lieut Jones Completes Infantry School Course

Second Lt. Gordon H. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Jones, 105 W. Decherd st., Tullahoma, Tenn., recently completed the 15-week Infantry officers basic course at The Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga. Lieutenant Jones received instruction in the responsibilities and duties of an infantry unit commander.

He is a 1953 graduate of Tullahoma High School and a 1957 graduate of Middle Tennessee State College.

President Q. M. Smith has announced that Sam Melson construction company of Shelbyville was low bidder among five competitors for the new Fine Arts Building to be erected on the MTSC campus. The Melson bid for the new building, which will house the music department and fine arts division of industrial arts, was $368,490. Other bids ranged upward to 419,820. Mr. Melson was the contractor for Monahan Hall and the Todd Library Building.

Actual construction is expected to begin in about two weeks. The building will be located north of Jones Hall in outfield area of the old baseball field. John Charles Wheeler MTSC alumnus of Nashville is the architect.

The 30,700 square foot, three story building will be constructed of re-inforced concrete with painting and design laboratories, art studios, classrooms, an exhibition gallery, music studios, practice rooms, listening room and a music library.

Work continues to move along on the two new wings of Smith Hall, the $489,000 project of which the James A. Baker construction company of Nashville was the successful bidder in April.

When these two projects are completed the administration of President Q. M. Smith will have added the Memorial Health and Physical Education Building, the The Union Building, The Andrew Todd Library, Monahan Hall, Smith Hall, the Agriculture Center, the Nathan Bedford Forrest Hall, the Natatorium, the central heating system, the Fire School and Maintenance shops as new buildings and four new wings of the Industrial Arts Building to the campus. In addition the old Cafeteria was converted into an enlarged music building, the old library into a language arts building, the old Moffitt House was renovated to the Home Living Center, and the athletic field was enlarged.

Including inflationary increment the total value of the MTSC plant has increased from an estimated $1,600,000 in 1938 to more than $11,000,000 since President Smith came to the college in 1938. The campus and farm area has been increased from about 225 acres to 604 acres during the same period of time.

Smith Names Six Faculty Additions

Six new members of the Middle Tennessee State College faculty have been announced by President Q. M. Smith. All will begin work with the college at the beginning of the fall quarter.

George Speed, who holds the B.S. degree from Birmingham Southern and M. A. degree from Peabody, will become an assistant professor of mathematics.

Harry Green, with the B. S. degree from MTSC, where he was a consistent "straight A" student, and an M. A. degree from Florida State University, will return to his Alma Mater as an instructor in social science. Mr. Green is a native of Lebanon and now makes his home in Nashville.

Toler I. Todd, who received the B. S. degree at Murray State and the M. A. from Peabody will be an instructor in business administration.

Merle Wing, B. S. from the University of Maine and Ph.D. candidate at the University of Minnesota, will be a professor of science.

FHT Workshop Leaders Meet

Future Homemakers of Middle Tennessee met on the Middle Tennessee State College campus at Murfreesboro Thursday, June 19, for a one day workshop under sponsorship of State Department of Education leadership.

Ann Traugher of Springfield, Middle division vice-president; Elaine Vannatta, state treasurer from Shelbyville and Joyce Basham, state reporter from Nolensville, president at the three general sessions scheduled.

State officers appeared on a symposium at the Thursday morning meeting, to set the tone for the "Composite Plan", theme for the workshop this year. Those appearing on these program, in addition to Misses Traugher, Basham and Vannatta, were Judy Sowell, president, from Jackson, Lynda Kay Jones, west state president from Chester county; Sandra Little, East State president for Meigs county; Marguerite Molter, treasurer, from Greenback; Elizabeth Compton, parliamentarian, from Knoxville and Bessie Nell Brown, Munford, Tennessee.

Coach Ed Diddle, Jr., head coach of MTSC basketball, was in charge of the basketball clinic at Peabody College the past week.

Miss Mary Hall will attend a meeting of state presidents of the ACE in Washington August 25, 26, 27.

Stark Named To Two Notable Posts

Dr. George H. Hopson has announced that Dr. Clifford N. Stark has been honored by being made a life member of the New York State Association of Milk Sanitarians. "The honor", Dr. Hopson writes, "was bestowed upon Dr. Stark for his past services and because of the high regard in which he is held by people active in the milk industry".

Dr. Stark, who was former head of the department of dairying at Cornell University has been a member of the MTSC agriculture department staff since 1952. Last year he was granted a two year leave of the department to aid in improving the dairy industry in Madras, India.

He and Mrs. Stark write interesting letters of their experiences and the problems faced in improving standards of living in India. They are now on a series of visits in the area—which will be followed by a trip to Calcutta.

Dr. Stark has been named on the Regional Selection committee to choose Fullbright scholars.

Farley Succeeds Miss Betts; Other Alumni Promoted

Staff changes in the Tennessee State Department of Education will affect Middle Tennessee State College personnel and alumni in addition to bringing Dr. Quill E. Cope to the college as president on September 1.

Jere Farley

Miss Mary Florence Betts, retired June 30 as supervisor of instruction in the 14-county area of MTSC. She will go to the State Department as a consultant on in-service training. She will be succeeded by Jere Farley of Knoxville.

Ernest M. Farmer, an MTSC alumnus, will succeed Ray C. Phillips as supervisor of school bus transportation on July 7. Mr. Farmer was supervisor of on-the-job training for veterans with the Department for the past three years. Mr. Phillips, who was superintendent of Wilson county schools before going with the State Department, returns to his native Wilson county as principal of the Lebanon high school. He is a brother of Charles Phillips, manager of the MTSC bookstore.

The INERCOM, Tennessee State Department of Education newspaper, says of Miss Betts:

"Miss Betts brings to her position 48 years experience as teacher, principal-supervising teacher and state supervisor of instruction.

She holds the B. S. degree from MTSC (where she was chosen most outstanding girl in 1932) and the M. A. degree from Peabody.

As in-service training consultant Miss Betts will help supply the instruction supervisors with material for local supervising teachers; the building of curriculum reference service for use by school groups and the studying of reports to the instruction division from school systems in order to gauge progress and suggest improvements in local in-service education programs.

Mr. Farley is a native of Chicago, Illinois. He holds the B. A. degree from Peabody College, the M. A. from the University of Tennessee and has done one years work toward the D.Ed. degree. He has taught in Williamson county, Nashville and was formerly principal of the East Lincoln School, Tullahoma. He is married to the former Mary E. Busher, they have one daughter Jerita Sue, age 13. The Farleys attend the Methodist church.

President Smith Receives Army Citation, Pin

Forty years of service to the American armed forces on the part of Q. M. Smith, president of Middle Tennessee State college was recognized here June 11.

In a simple ceremony Maj-Gen. Crump Garvin, deputy chief of staff of third army, presented a framed citation of appreciation and the secretary of war's lapel medal to Smith.

The ceremony in the office of Smith was witnessed by members of his staff, their wives and by Col. and Mrs. Edward P. Thomson of TMD. The citation was read by Maj. Q. L. McNary, PMS&T at MTSC and a framed copy of the citation and the lapel button were awarded by General Garvin. General Garvin said that this was the third such award that had been made in the third army area.

Following the presentation the party were the guests of Major and Mrs. McNary at a tea. Attending were President and Mrs. Smith, General and Mrs. Garvin, Col. and Mrs. Thomson, Lt. Tom McGregor, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Kirksey, Dr. and Mrs. Belt Keathley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abenathy, Dean N. C. Beasley and Gene Sloan.

Smith will retire as president of MTSC September 1. He has served as an officer in both the U. S. Navy and the U. S. Army reserve and has been active in American Legion affairs in the state.

The citation reads as follows:

"Appreciation is expressed to Quinton M. Smith, president, Middle Tennessee State College, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, by award of the Department of the Army Certificate of Appreciation in recognition of his furtherance of the Army Reserve Officers Training Corp program at his institution during the period 3 April 1950 to 1 July 1958.

Besides giving generously of his time and efforts to local Armed Forces activities, President Smith's profound interest in the defense of the United States has been further evidenced by the fact that he has provided Forrest Hall, a superior facility, for his ROTC unit. He has displayed unusual interest in the effectiveness of the ROTC program and in the quality of the young men who will become future officers of the United States Army.

Smith was specifically aware that training afforded the youth of today would go far towards making the officer of tomorrow. On his own initiative he started an aviation department at Middle Tennessee State College which has been most helpful in initiating an Army light aviation training program. In his counselling of young men at his college, he has kept in mind the necessity for preparedness of his country for defense. The contributions made by Smith have materially enhanced the prestige of the Third United States Army.

Clark L. Ruffner, Lieutenant General U. S. Army, Commanding General Third Army

Margaret Ogden Wins Stewardess Wings

Miss Margaret Ogden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll A. Ogden, of 1101 Birdsall, Old Hickory, Tennessee, has won her wings after completing her course of training at American Airlines' Stewardess College, located between Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas.

She has been assigned to flight duty out of Fort Worth.

A native of Davidson County, Tennessee, she was graduated from DuPont High School in Old Hickory, and attended Middle Tennessee State College. She has brown eyes and brown hair. She weighs 114 pounds, and is five feet, three-and-one-half inches.

Miss Ogden was doing secretarial work before joining American.

James P. White, a member of the senior class, was the recent winner of a trip to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, home office of the Wearever Aluminum Company. White has financed much of his college education as a salesman for this company.

ROTC Wins "Outstanding" Army Rating Third Time

Dr. Dark Named Math Society Head

Dr. Harris J. Dark, a member of the mathematics department faculty at Middle Tennessee has been honored by being chosen president of the Tennessee Mathematics Teachers Association. He has been treasurer of the Tennessee Academy of Science since 1956.

Dr. Dark is a native of Maury county and graduated from Columbia high school. He received the B. A. degree from Randolph-Macon county, the M. A. from the University of Richmond and the Ph.D. degree from Peabody College. He taught at David Lipscomb College from 1942 until 1957 when he came to MTSC.

Dr. Harris Dark

Dr. Dark is listed in Who's Who in the South and Southeast, Who's Who in American Education and American Men of Science.

He was married in 1932 to the former Mildred Northcutt, who graduated from MTSC in 1930. They have four children, Joel, Jim (now a student at MTSC), Anne and John.

Education Staff Has Extensive Summer Labors

In addition to regular classroom teaching, the staff members of the Education department at Middle Tennessee State College have a busy summer of extra-curricular work, according to Dr. W. P. Bowdoin, head of the department. Members of the staff are providing leadership in a variety of fields during the summer.

Dr. Edgar Moore participated in the Southern State Work Conference at Daytona Beach, Florida early in June.

Dr. W. P. Bowdoin recently returned from Washington, D. C. where he participated in a conference of state leaders to give scope to the curriculum. Beginning in August he will engage in field work in various Middle Tennessee school systems.

Finis Poole will spend the weekend of June 13-15 at a meeting in Cookeville concerned with better testing and guidance in Tennessee schools.

Jim Martin served as mester of ceremonies at a recent dinner meeting of the Regional Directors of State Farm Mutual Insurance Company. Dr. Robert Womack addressed the group on historical facts about Murfreesboro. Later in the summer Dr. Womack will speak to a group in Ohio on Civil War history in Middle Tennessee.

Dr. Homer Pittard will have a noted visitor during the summer. The nationally known psychiatrist, Dr. Smiley Blanton will confer with him about matters of historical significance in the Murfreesboro area.

Miss Mary Hall, who spent the weekend of June 13 as a delegate to the Delta Gamma State convention at Sewanee will be the chairman for the annual summer meeting of the Tennessee organization of the American Childhood Association at Peabody college June 20-21.

Dr. Bealer Smotherman will be the co-ordinator for the Attendance Teachers Conference, to be held on the MTSC campus in mid-summer.

For the third consecutive year the Reserve Officer Training Corp at Middle Tennessee State College has been rated as "outstanding" by the Federal government. The commendation came from Colonel Paul A. Roy, chief of the Federal inspection team which visited the college in April.

Major Q. L. McNary and members of his staff, as well as the Cadet Corp, were commended in the official statement.

The official comments stated that:

"The strong, far-sighted administration of the ROTC by president Smith and his ROTC detachment, coupled with the outstanding ROTC buildings and facilities provided by the president, results in a very effective program.

The PMS&T and his staff appear imminently qualified for their duties. The credit they reflect upon the US Army by their outstanding performance of duty is highly commendable".

There were 521 students in the cadet regimen this year. The staff, in addition to Major McNary, at the time of the Federal inspection included Capt. Thomas E. Adams, Jr., Capt. Merrill W. Harper, Capt. Robert F. Nelson, Jr., M/Sgt. John F. Mensing, M/Sgt. Leonard W. Huckleby, M/Sgt. Fred W. Ensey, M/Sgt. Charles W. O'Gwinn, SPC Ward A. Smith, SFC William D. Swartz, Sgt. Alfred B. Arnold, Jr., Sgt. Stanley B. Munsey.

The report recommended the assignment of an additional officer to the MTSC department of Military Science to partially relieve the PMS&T of a 16 hour teaching lead which he carries in addition to his administrative duties.

Church Of Christ Group Continues Summer Programs

The Middle Tennessee State College Church of Christ group has planned an active program for the summer quarter, featuring nine speakers from among the faculty students and leaders of the church in Murfreesboro.

The group, which meets at six o'clock on Wednesday evenings opened the summer worship-study program with group singing led by Jimmy Young, a junior in the college on June 11. Gene Sloan spoke at the June 18 meeting on the subject, "Adding to Your Faith".

Other programs for the summer include "The Christian Calling" by Dicky Palmer on June 25; "Aims in Life" on July 2 by Bob Abernathy; "How to Make Choices", July 9 by Clayton James; "Why Pray", July 23 by J. Leonard Jackson; "The Spirit of Christ", July 30, Dr. Exum Watts; "The Straight Way", by Dr. Norman Parks.

Forty three were present at the organizational meeting June 11. Attendance at the group meetings runs as high 75 or 80. The public, as well as students and faculty members, are invited to participate in the worship program.

Leonard Johnson of Columbia Jean Belcher of Murfreesboro, and Ronald McRady of Lewisburg arranged the summer program. Dr. Douglas Shields is counselor for the group. Extensive plans are being laid for a continuance of the program which last year included a fall and winter camping trip for members of the class as well as weekly Wednesday night devotionals and Tuesday and Thursday afternoon non-credit Bible classes taught by faculty members. The work of the group is supervised by the North Boulevard church of Christ of which J. Leonard Jackson is minister.

Sam Smith is president of the group for next year. Leonard Johnson is vice-president and Jean Belcher is secretary and treasurer.

Miss Mary Frizzell, one of the state founders of Delta Kappa Gamma, was honored at the State convention at Sewanee this year. Miss Frizzell is now at David Lipscomb College in Nashville. She was formerly associated with MTSC.

Miss Janet Lewis Is Bride Of Russell Woy

Impressively solemnized June 28 at the Grace Episcopal church in Chattanooga was the marriage of bridegroom; Bertrand Bennett, Miss Janet Ann Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clopton Lewis of Chattanooga, to Russell Dean Woy son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Woy, also of Chattanooga.

The Reverend Leon Balch, rector of the church, officiated at the ceremony at 4:30 o'clock following the program of wedding music, given by Miss Helen Massey, vocalist, and Mrs. Ralph Trail, organist.

The altar vases were filled with white flowers for the occasion.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a wedding gown of white nylon tulle and chantilly lace featuring a lace basque bodice with sheer tulle yoke. The neckline was outlined with appliques of the lace and the long sleeves came to points over the hands. The bouffant tulle skirt, designed with lace overskirt in polonaise effect, fell into a graceful cathedral-length train. The bride's finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a small tiarra and she carried a bouquet of white roses. The ceremony was read by the celebrant from a prayer book which has been in the bride's family for six generations, first belonging to Rebecca Selden, daughter of the Reverend Mils Selden, rector of St. John's Episcopal church in Richmond, Virginia during the American Revolution.

Miss Rebecca Lewis of Chattanooga attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. Richard Pressley of Gastonia, North Carolina was matron of honor. Miss Joyce Russell of Nashville and Miss Rebecca Swafford of Columbia served as bridesmaids. They wore identically styled taffeta frocks in the aquamarine shade and flower trimmed hats of tulle matching their dresses and carried bouquets of pink roses. Charlotte Woy of Chattanooga, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Charles Jordan and Bob Burkett, Jr., of Murfreesboro served as acolytes.

Mr. Woy was his son's best man and ushers included Charles Lee

Dr.-Mrs. Peck, Discuss Hemerocallis

Members of the Garden Club of Murfreesboro, in their regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's club, heard Dr. and Mrs. Richard Peck in an informative program on the subject "Hemerocallis in Your Garden." Dr. Peck, head of the English department at Middle Tennessee State college, and Mrs. Peck, a professor in the same department, grow between 250 and 275 named varieties and 500 seedlings of the hemerocallis, or day lily at their farm on Mount Herman road.

Dr. Peck stated that the hemerocallis is one of the most fascinating and oldest flowers known. The first named hybrid variety, the "Apricot," produced by an Englishman named Yeld in the 1890's is still available, he said. The publication of a book "Day Lillies," in 1934, provoked interest in the flowers and, by the late thirties, as many as 200 named varieties had been introduced. There are now 7000 varieties of day lilies. The pinks and purples were the first to be developed, Dr. Peck continued. Colors now range from very light pink to orange and from purple to brown. Hybridizers are currently interested in producing a blue and a white day lily, he said.

Dr. Peck also told of qualities other than color bred into the flowers and listed their uses, which he said, were unlimited. He explained some of the problems of hybridizing—reasons for the high cost of the plants when they are first introduced—some are as much as $50.00.

Color slides of the hemerocallis were shown with Mrs. Peck commenting on the characteristics of each and the contrasts in the petals and markings of the old and new varieties. The effective use of the flowers in landscaping and for arrangement purposes were also brought out.

Mrs. W. R. Romine presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. E. Mason. She read portions of a letter from Mrs. C. N. Stark, a former club member now in India, describing her life and travels in that country.

Supervising Teachers Hold Local Parley

Tennessee supervising teachers met at Middle Tennessee State College June 22-24 for a three day discussion of certain aspects of the two-year study of public schools, reported by the Legislative Council Committee.

Dr. Quill E. Cope, state commissioner of education, outlined two purposes of the program:

1. To explore ways to implement the recommendation relating to instruction included in the Public Education, Grades 1-12, of the Survey report.
2. To initiate studies proposed by a research committee of super-teachers, which has grown out of finding in the survey report.

Highlights Of MTSC History Developed By Miss Davis Class

by Granville Ridley

Every now and then everyone has occasion to examine the past and its effect on the present and future. Such an examination is taking place in the class of Miss Bulah Davis entitled "Programs, Pageants and Festivals". The students in this class are working on a pageant which will trace some of the important events in the history of Middle Tennessee State College. Although time will not allow the presentation of the pageant this quarter there are many possibilities for the future.

The seven episodes of the production are divided into several scenes, including the passing of the law in 1909 that created the college, the dedication of the administration building, early social life at the college, the girls' national championship basketball team of 1928, activities of the Glee Club, the YMCA.

The fourth episode deals with the academic development of the college, the fifth with the relationship of the community and the college, the addition of pre-professional courses.

Included in the sixth episode will be the memorable visit of General and Mrs. McArthur in April 1950 and other important events that have occurred on the athletic field. The seventh episode will attempt to bridge the gap between the present and the future.

Cupid Fires ---

From deep in the heart of Florida Bob Allen Eskew came home to wed Jane Peery, formerly of Nashville, who also teaches school in the Sunshine State. This marriage was at the Harding Place church of Christ in Nashville. Edwin S. Voorhies, of the MTSC faculty, a cousin of the bride, was a groomsman. Tommy Eskew, brother of the bridegroom, and a graduate of the college was another groomsman. Mr. and Mrs. Eskew will make their home at 530 Drive, Miami Springs, Florida.

MRS. MUNCIE, MRS. TRICE ARE MARRIED IN JUNE

Two members of the MTSC faculty were married in June.

Mrs. Virginia Muncie was married to W. Tillman Haynes, Murfreesboro business leader. They spent the month of June on a tour of Canada. Mrs. Haynes was in the home economics department.

Mrs. Ethel Trice was married to Glenn Lycans of St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Lycans is in the health and physical education department.

Dr. Quill E. Cope, who will become president of Middle Tennessee State College with the retirement of President Q. M. Smith on September 1, has been in Dining Room A of the Union Building for the past several days. Dr. Cope has been interviewing members of the staff and faculty.

Dean Howard Kirksey is in New Orleans, attending the Secondary School Principals conference.

Library Book Display Open Next Week

600 new and recent children's books by America's foremost authors and illustrators, save for an occasional contribution from other lands, will go on display July 10 at MTSC Library, according to Miss Leniel Edwards, Director of Library Service. The books fall into no fewer than 32 subject categories and cover all grades from Kindergarten through High School. Both fiction and non-fiction are represented. The exhibit will be open daily from 8:00-4:00 and last through July 16.

A complete graded and annotated catalogue of the exhibit is available for free distribution to teachers, librarians and other school people. Through the device of numbering the books and catalogue and providing a detailed subject and author index, the 600 books are, in terms of any and all interests, directly and easily accessible. The 32 subjects the exhibit covers include Adventure, Aeronautics, Animals, the Arts, Biography, Careers, Classics, Conservation, Exploration, Fairy Tales and Folklore, Fiction (with 17 sub-divisions), Foreign Lands, Games and Parties, Geography, History, Hobbies and Activities, Indian, Information, Intercultural Relations, Inventions, Language, Nature, Picture Books, Pioneer Life, Religion, Science, Ships, Social Studies, Sports, Story Books, Transportation, Verse.

Books on Exhibit, a cooperative enterprise of the country's leading publishers, has sent the exhibit here. The purpose of this service is to make available to schools and libraries a completely representative collection of Junior Library Books in organized exhibit form and thus make it possible for busy teachers and librarians, with a minimum expenditure of time and effort, to do an informed and intelligent job of book selection. On the other hand, parents and the public will find the exhibit well worth their time and attention.

Dr. Baldwin Will Speak On Oak Ridge "Town Meeting"

Dr. Ed Baldwin, head of the geography division of the social studies department at Middle Tennessee State College, will be one of a panel of three Tennessee educators to appear on an hour long program on the Oak Ridge Town Meeting program Tuesday, July 15.

Dr. Baldwin will speak on "Economic Policy—U. S. Abundance in a Hungry World, What's Ahead." His talk will be designed to furnish factual information relative to our foreign relations and to discuss with members of the Oak Ridge community problems relating to his topic. The hour long program is aired over WATO and, except for the first 27 minutes, during which the three visiting speakers present their views, the program is entirely one of question and answer.

Six Candidates Speak At TEA Conference

Six Tennessee gubernatorial candidates, seeking the Democratic nomination, spoke at the Tennessee Education Association leadership conference held on the campus May 30-June 2. All outlined their programs for the aid of the state educational program.

Dr. Howard Kirksey was the featured speaker of the conference at the Sunday evening session.

Marriage Told

Mrs. Sydney H. Glass of Murfreesboro announces the marriage of her daughter, Helen Louise, to Virgil Austin Conley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Austin Conley of Tullahoma.

The ceremony took place June 14 at the home of J. Leonard Jackson, minister of North Boulevard Church of Christ.

The bride and bridegroom are both students at Middle Tennessee State college.
