Student Scholars Honored

Fifteen Middle Tennessee State University students were honored by the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors at the annual scholarship dinner Tuesday, April 20.

The group represented those students, among the almost 700 who will receive degrees this year, who have the highest scholastic average. They represent a wide range of major interests.

The list includes Rayola Bagwell, elementary education major from Murfreesboro; Sara Donna Black, English, Murfreesboro; Sara Cornwell, elementary education, Pleasant Shade; Mrs. Mildred Crow, history, Nashville; Delmar Duane DeVoss, business education, Murfreesboro; Barbara Duke, English, Smithville; Mrs. Brenda Gilley, mathematics, Nashville; Franklin Hill, elementary education, Sherwood; Kenneth Hollman, general business, Loretto; Mrs. Betty Horne, mathematics, Murfreesboro; John M. Lovelady, accounting, Daisy; Joan McBee, history, Shelbyville; Annie Sue McKnight, biology, Murfreesboro; Franklin Mashburn, accounting, Murfreesboro; and Mrs. Barbara Russell, English, Murfreesboro.

Kappa Delta Initiates 24 Members

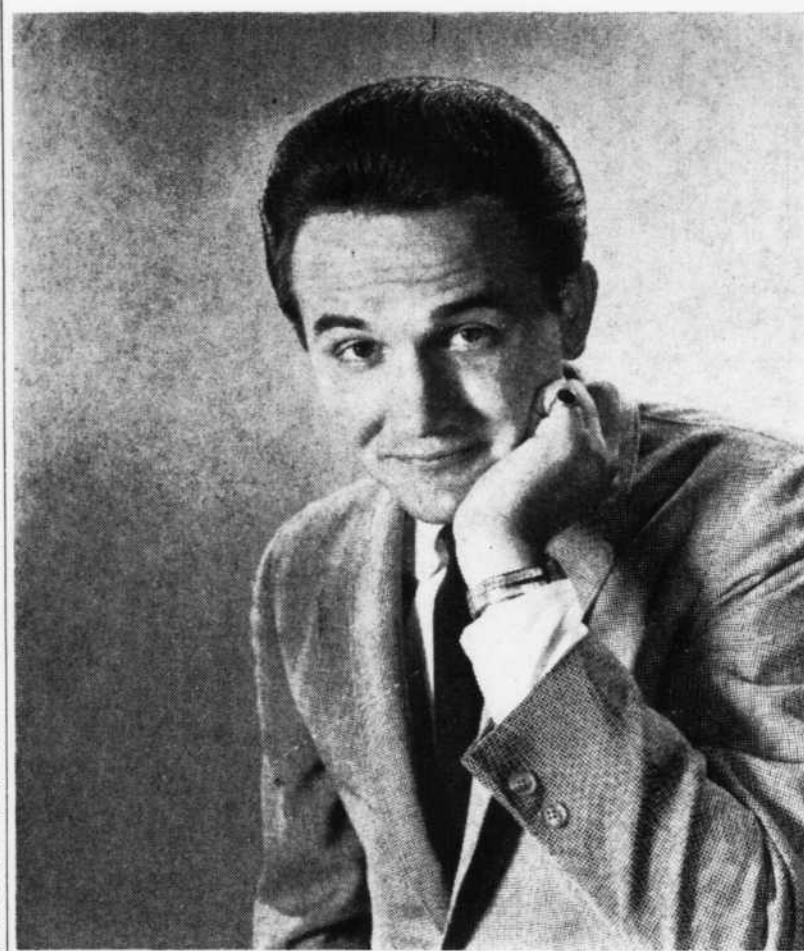

Theta Omicron Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi initiated 24 new members at a Candlelighting ceremony April 12. Kappa Delta Pi, a national honorary education organization of over 200 chapters in 47 states, limits its membership to junior, senior, and graduate college students with a point average that places them in the upper one-fifth of their class.

Those initiated include Shirley Mae Andrews, Spring Hill; Jane Christie, Chattanooga; Patricia Climer, Lebanon; Mrs. Mildred Crow, Nashville; Mrs. Judith Henson Dilcher, Franklin; Reta Hall, Huntington; Gayle Helton, Murfreesboro; Margaret Ann Hendrix, Lawrenceburg; F. Gordon Irwin, Donelson; Pat Kyle, Nashville; Mary Ellen Lee, Nashville; Rebecca Lovell, Ooltewah; Betty Elliott McCeney, Tracy City; Mrs. Marilyn Griffith Morris, Tullahoma; Era Kay Mathis, Woodbury; Mrs. B. W. Potts, Columbia; Donna Powers, Rockvale; Judy Roberts, Nashville; Sharon Shelton, Shelbyville; Mrs. Norman Sullivan, Murfreesboro; Mrs. Carolyn S. Turner, College Grove; James M. Welhe, Fairmont, West Virginia; Larry W. Wells, Nashville; and Frances M. Winters, Goodlettsville.

Big Name Entertainment . . .

Roger Miller To Appear Thursday

ROGER MILLER will display the versatility of his Road Show in the Gym, Thursday at 8 o'clock.

The Associated Student Body will present the Roger Miller Show, Thursday, April 29, at 8:00 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium with guest stars Roger Miller, Charlie Rich, Ray Griff, and The Town Criers, scheduled to appear.

Roger Miller of "King of the Road" fame is presently on the top pop charts and describes himself as a fiddle player turned writer, turned singer, turned comedian. His ability seems unlimited in all four areas.

Although he has recorded 25 songs on two LP's with all but one of them his own, his name is not widely known. Many say this is because Roger does not impose himself just as he does not impose his lyrics. Nevertheless, the Honda-riding 29-year old Oklahoma boy made a smash with his "Dang Me" and is now soaring to the top with that happy-sounding "King of the Road".

Town Criers

Dynamic is the word that best describes the Town Criers. In October of 1963, four students at Georgia Tech formed the group and it has met with steadily increasing success since.

Admission: Students $2.00
Advance $2.50

Town Crier performances include numerous college concerts, conventions, festivals, banquets, and night clubs across the South. Last spring they appeared before SUSGA in Mississippi and made a hit not only with our ASB officers but also with those 62 other colleges and universities.

This big name entertainment show promises to be a success along with those our ASB has provided earlier this year. Don't Miss The Roger Miller Show!

Vet Village Plans $400,000 Expansion

Senator Ross Bass recently announced the approval of a $400,000 college housing loan for MTSU. The funds will be used for the construction of new apartments for married students on campus.

Work on the project will get under way in two months and the expected completion date will be eight months later. There will be 48 units with 16 apartments in each group and a total of three buildings. Each building will be of two-story brick veneer construction. They will be constructed on the former Womack property near the dormitories now under construction.

ROTC Brigade Awards Given At Today's Drill

Thirty-eight members of the Middle Tennessee State University ROTC brigade were recognized in a special formation at 11 o'clock Tuesday, April 27. Cadet Col. John E. Fuqua of Nashville, brigade commander, received two awards by being chosen as the superior cadet and for the Lt. Col. Donald D. Tummons memorial award.

Cadet Second Lt. David H. Jones of Murfreesboro and Cadet SFC Paul W. Landers of Murfreesboro also won two honors. Lt. Jones received the junior superior cadet award and the AUSA award. Cadet Landers was judged the superior sophomore cadet and was awarded the special commendation trophy. The superior freshman cadet award went to Cadet Sgt. William B. Landers of Murfreesboro.

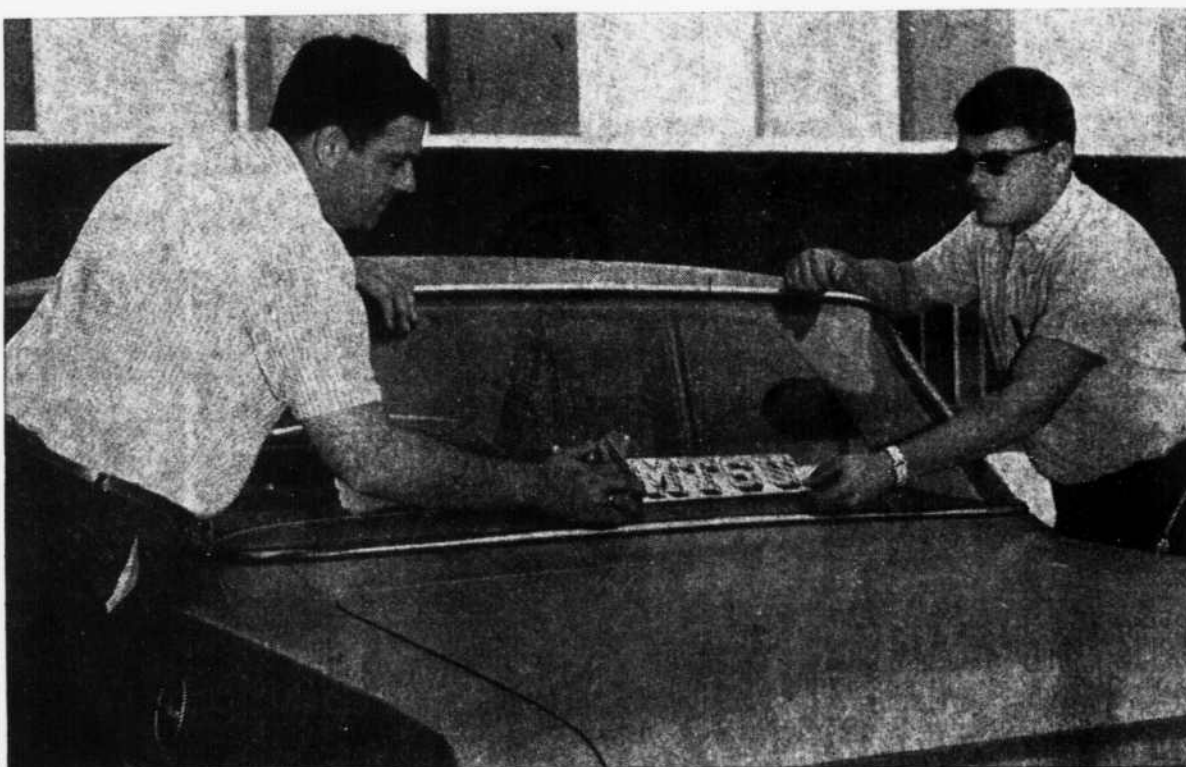

The meritorious leadership award was won by Cadet Captain John Furgess of Nashville. The Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy for greatest improvement was won by Cadet Capt. John E. Helton of Nashville. The award from Lt. Col. James Chrietberg, PMS, went to Cadet Capt. Albert C. Ogles, Jr. of Murfreesboro. Cadet First Lt. Jerry C. Pate, Fayetteville, qualified for the academic award from President Quill E. Cope. The Murfreesboro Exchange Club award for outstanding leadership went to Cadet Lt. Col. Edward G. Alexander from Sale Creek. The Marianne Turpin Burke citizenship award was presented to Cadet Second Lt. William D. Matthes of Nashville. The Rotary Club award was won by Cadet Second Lt. Robert C. Steelman, Montgomery, Alabama. The Lions Club trophy (Continued on Page 6)

Sidelines Wins First Honors

First class honor rating has been accorded the Middle Tennessee State University SIDELINES for the first semester publication of the student weekly newspaper. Jane Francis Edmonds of Murfreesboro and Jerre Hookey of South Pittsburg were co-editors of the publication during the winter semester. Mr. Hookey was succeeded in November by Ann Norman of Chattanooga who is currently the managing editor of the SIDELINES. Bette Moody of Nashville was business manager.

The SIDELINES received the top possible score in editorials, sports writing, mast-head usage, printing, and creativeness. The newspaper was rated very good on news coverage, balance of stories, vitality, style, editorial page features, editorial page, make-up, use of action pictures, inside news pages, and headline style and writing.

The paper had a total score of 3,230 points of a possible 4,000 points by the Associated Collegiate Press Newspaper Critical Service of the University of Minnesota of Journalism.

Step Forward:

Terrace Room Open Until 10

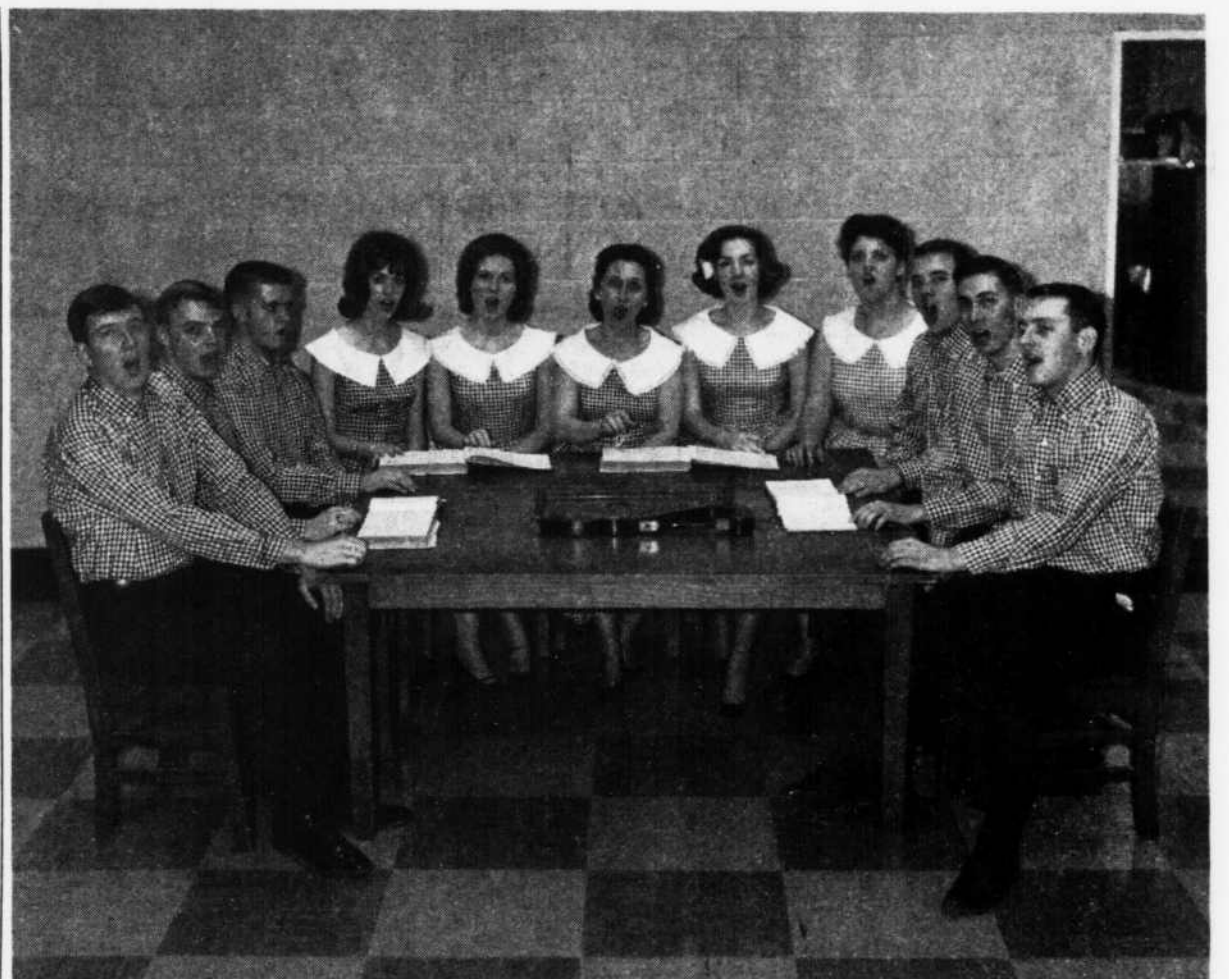

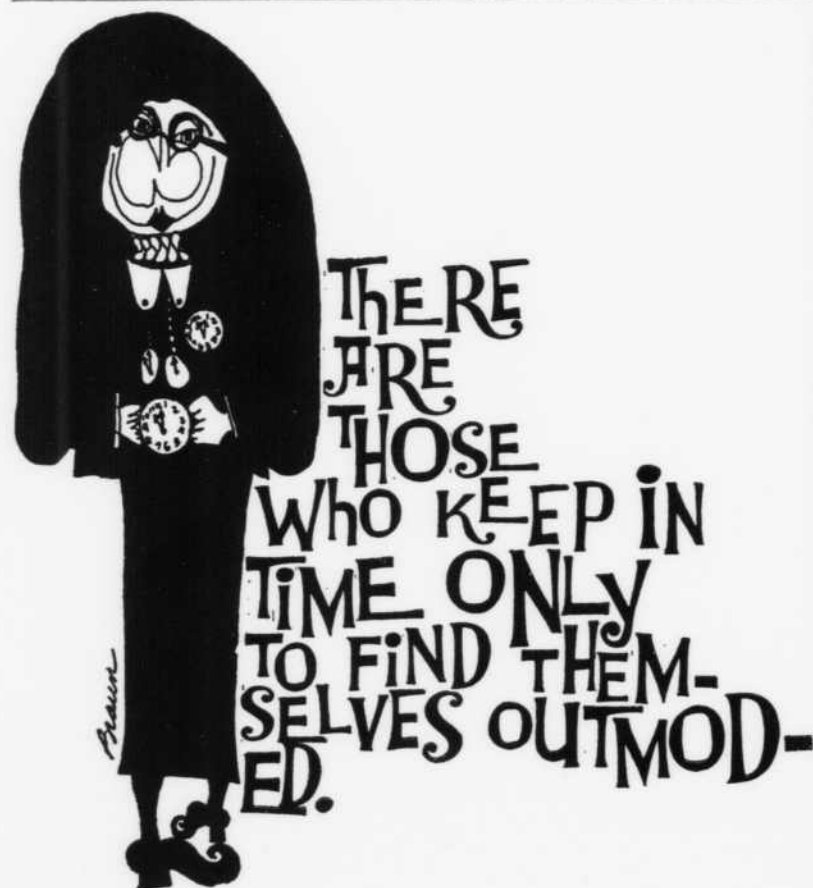

ASB Vice President Mike Rothman took the initiative on the suggestion that the Terrace Room needed to be open longer at night during the week, and carried out a project which has ended in success.

Mike and many other interested students had expressed the belief that some facilities should be open to students after the library closed so they could have a place for coke or coffee before dorm closing hours. This was brought up in a meeting with Dr. Cope who asked for an investigation. With the cooperation of Slater Food Service, an agreement has now been made for the Terrace Room to be open until ten for the remainder of the school year.

Attention! Accounting Majors

Each year the Tennessee Society of Certified Public Accountants awards a number of $250 scholarships to students majoring in accounting. The recipients of these scholarships are decided in July by the Tennessee Society's Scholarship Committee after reviewing applications from students representing colleges and universities in the state.

All MTSU accounting majors who will complete as a minimum both principles courses this semester and who are legal residents of Tennessee are eligible to apply for a scholarship for next year. Those with excellent academic records who are interested in a career in public accounting may obtain applications and further details from Mr. Brown whose office is in the old Administration Building, Room 306.

Singers Attend Flordia Festival

The Middle Tennessee State University Sacred Harp Singers were presented in a concert tour April 6-10, with appearances at the 28th Annual Folk Festival in St. Petersburg, Florida. The group, organized in the summer of 1947, is composed of eleven singers. The U Sacred Harp Singers sing a capella, seated around a table, in Sixteenth Century madrigal style. The repertoire consists of early English madrigals and folk songs, Sacred Harp hymns and white spirituals, and Southern folk songs and ballads.

Personnel includes Frances Mitchell and Linda Shelton, sopranos; Ann Sanders and Sarah Williams, contraltos; Lynn McGill, Monty Thomas, and Tom Horne, tenors; Bill Coward, baritone; and Tom Cole and Allen Smith, basses. The ensemble is under the direction of Margaret Wright of the music faculty.

The tour this year will include concerts at Overton High School and East High School in Nashville; Chattanooga City and Red Bank High Schools in Chattanooga; the High School in Thomaston, Georgia and in Griffin, Georgia; and a program for the Tennessee Association of College Registrars in Nashville as well as several appearances in St. Petersburg at the National Folk Festival.

Dr. Fowler Todd Returning To Head Business Section

Dr. Fowler I. Todd will return to Middle Tennessee State University to head the department of business administration, according to the announcement of Dr. Quill E. Cope. Dr. Cope and Dr. Firman Cunningham, head of the school of business and industry, both expressed their pleasure at Dr. Todd's decision to return to Middle Tennessee State.

Currently Dr. Todd is head of the business department at the Mississippi State College for Women. From 1958 until 1963 he was associate professor of business at the local institution. Dr. Todd received the bachelor of science degree from Murray State college, the master of arts degree from Peabody college, and did graduate study at the University of Tennessee prior to his association at the University of Illinois from which he received the doctor of philosophy degree in business at the February convocation.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Todd and a native of Cannon county. They have a son, Walker, who is a student at Vanderbilt University and a daughter, Linda, who is a senior at Central high school in Murfreesboro.

Dr. Todd served in the United States Navy during World War II and retired with the rank of Lieutenant (SG). He has been active in the Church of Christ and innumer-ous areas of business and business education.

Dr. Todd has written extensively in the area of his concentration. His most recent work is "An Analysis of the Factors which have Caused Tennessee Secondary Business Teachers to Leave or to Remain in the Profession since 1952".

... And All That Jazz

by Creed Crowder

Jazz gets older, but that Louis Armstrong seems to get younger! Our "ambassador of jazz" has taken a foreign trek again, with Tyree Glenn as his new trombonist. Louis is on a two month tour behind the Iron Curtain, and let's hope he gets back through Berlin without a delay. His version of "Hello, Dolly!" received the Grammy award in New York a couple of weeks ago.

Trumpeter Dizzy Gillespie is reported ready to make his Broadway debut... as an actor! He'll star in "Lookin' For the Man," if backers can be found to invest in the show. If not, he'll continue his hot licks on that wierd trumpet of his, the one with the bent-up bell.

The Newport Jazz Festival will be held again this year in Newport, Rhode Island during the July Fourth week-end. Pianist Billy Taylor has just been named to the board of directors for the event. Taylor also runs a night-time jazz program on a New York station. If you're in the New England area this summer, make plans to spend a swingin' week-end with the top names in jazz at the Newport Jazz Festival.

The man who practically invented muted-trumpet jazz, Jonah Jones, has ended his long relationship with Capitol Records, where he turned out several popular hit albums. He has taken his quartet to the Decca label, on which you may find his latest release. The Kingston Trio made the switch from Capitol to Decca over one year ago.

Had the Cahn and Van Heusen combination of song writing taken the Oscar this year for "Where Love Has Gone," they would have had the distinction of collecting more Academy Awards for the best film songs than any other writers. As it turned out, the Sherman brothers won it for "Chim, Chim Chiree." Last year Sammy Cahn and James Van Heusen captured the Oscar for "Call Me Irresponsible." They have also won with "All the Way" and "High Hopes." Johnny Mercer and Henry Mancini have been strong contenders, winning Oscars in 1961 and 1962. Their entry this year was "Dear Heart." The two winners by Mercer and Mancini were "Moon River" and "Days of Wine and Roses." This year's winner, "Chim, Chim Chiree," is from the motion picture "Mary Poppins."

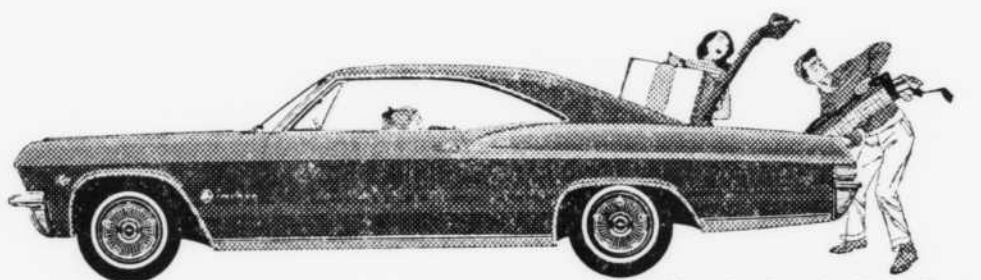

Reminder

The SIDELINES will be published only twice during the month of May and deadlines for these publications will be April 29 and May 13.

'65 Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe

If you've been sitting tight waiting for just your kind of car, with just your kind of power, at just your kind of price—wait no longer!

Chevrolet. It's a bigger, more beautiful car this year. Which is why that handsome silhouette could be mistaken for cars costing a thousand—even two thousand—dollars more.

Chevelle. This one's got lively looks, spirited power, a softer ride—and remarkable room atop a highly maneuverable wheelbase. No wonder it's today's favorite mid-size car.

Chevy II. No car so trim has a right to be so thrifty. But thrifty it is, with money-savers like brakes that adjust themselves and a long-lived exhaust system.

Corvair. Ask any '65 Corvair owner how it feels to drive a car with such easy steering, tenacious traction and responsive rear-engine power. And be ready to do lots of listening.

Triton And Gymnastics Clubs Perform

by BOB BARNES

Tuesday and Wednesday April 27 and 28, the Triton Club and the Gymnastics Club are putting on a joint production in the college swimming pool at 8:00 p.m. This program is open to students and the general public. Admission is seventy-five cents for adults and fifty cents for students.

Synchronizing swimming, gymnastics, including standard Olympic events, and modern dance will be part of the program. Set decorations, lighting, and costumes will add to the program.

VOYAGE TO THE BOTTOM OF THE BARREL

As everyone knows, thirteen-twelfths of the earth's surface is water. Thus we can see how important it is to know and understand our oceans. Toward this end American colleges last year embarked on a program to increase enrollment in oceanography. I am pleased to report that results were nothing short of spectacular: In one single semester the number of students majoring in oceanography rose by 100%—from one student to two!

But more oceanographers are still needed, and so today this column, normally a vehicle for slapdash jocularity, will instead devote itself to a brief course in oceanography. In view of the solemnity of the subject matter, my sponsors, the Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade Co., makers of Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades which give you more luxury shaves than Beep-Beep or any other brand you can name—if, by chance, you don't agree, the makers of Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades will buy you a pack of whatever brand you think is better—my sponsors, I say, the Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade Co. will today, because of the solemnity of this column, forego their usual commercial message.

We begin our study of oceans with that ever-popular favorite, the Pacific. Largest of all oceans, the Pacific was discovered by Balboa, a Spanish explorer of great vision. To give you an idea of Balboa's vision, he first saw the Pacific while standing on a peak in Darien, which is in Connecticut.

The Pacific is not only the largest ocean, but the deepest. The Mindanao Trench, off the Philippine Islands, measures more than 5,000 fathoms in depth. (It should be pointed out here that ocean depths are measured in fathoms—lengths of six feet—after Sir Walter Fathom, a British nobleman of Elizabethan times who, upon his eighteenth birthday, was given a string six feet long. Many young men would have sunk in a funk if all they got for their birthday was a string six feet long, but not Sir Walter! String in hand, he scampered around the entire coast of England measuring seawater until he was arrested for loitering. Incidentally, a passion for measuring seems to have run in the family: Fathom's grandnephew, Sir John Furlong, spent all his waking hours measuring racetracks until Charles II had him beheaded in honor of the opening of the London School of Economics.)

But I digress. Let us, as the poet Masefield says, go down to the sea again. (The sea, incidentally, has ever been a favorite subject for poets and composers. Who does not know and love the many robust sea chanties that have enriched our folk music—songs like "Sailing Through Kansas" and "I'll Swab Your Deck If You'll Swab Mine" and "The Artificial Respiration Polka.")

My own favorite sea chanty goes like this: (I'm sure you all know it. Why don't you sing along as you read?)

O, carry me to the deep blue sea,
Where I can live with honor,
And every place I'll shave my face
With Stainless Steel Personor.

Sing hi, sing ho, sing mal-de-mer,
Sing hey and nonny-nonny,
Sing Jimmy crack corn and I don't care,
Sing Stainless Steel Personny.

I'll harpoon whales and jib my sails,
And read old Joseph Conrad,
And take my shaves upon the waves,
With Stainless Steel Personrad.

Sing la, sing lo, sing o-lee-a-lay,
Sing night and noon and morning,
Sing salt and spray and curds and whey,
Sing Stainless Steel Personring.

SPRING SPORTS ROUNDUP

The Raider track team opened its Spring season April 10 at Greenville, South Carolina by placing second in the Piedmont Relays. Although the Raiders won only one first place, which was Brian Oldfield's toss of the shot put, the Raiders won enough second and third places to end up a very strong second.

Last Tuesday, April 20, the Raiders opened the dual meet season with a 97½-47½ win over Austin Peay at Clarksville. This win featured Brian Oldfield and Robert Mallard. Oldfield won both the shot put and discus, while Mallard won the 100 yard-dash, tied for first in the high jump, and was on the winning 440 relay team.

This season the Raider Cindermen are led by the unbeatable Brian Oldfield who is the current (OVC, TIAC) record holder in shot put. Other Raider standouts are Junior Ward (broad jump), Maxie Boles (triple jump), George Claxton (hurdles) and the 1 mile and 440 relay team.

To date, the baseball team's record stands even at 6-6. But in the well-balanced OVC, the Raiders are still in very strong contention for the Western Division Championship.

This season the Raiders are proving to be one of the best hitting teams in the OVC. With the season half over, the Raider batsmen are sticking the ball for a very good .288 team average.

Raider standouts thus far have been Teddy Morris who is leading the team in batting with an average of .400. He is followed by Bill McKinley at .333. Rick Howell and Richard Davenport are tied for the team lead in R.B.I.'s with 11 each.

As usual the Raider Linksmen continue to dominate the link through out Tennessee and the OVC, as they have extended their winning stretch to 50 straight dual wins. Also during the Spring Holidays, the Raider Linksmen recaptured the TIAC golf championship over a field open to all schools in the state of Tennessee.

The latest Raider win came over Vanderbilt last Wednesday—this was No. 50. In this match Bob Wolfe lead the Raiders with a two under par 70.

Coach Buck Bouldin's tennis team is continuing the winning ways of the Raiders Spring sports by sporting a fine 7-2 record.

This is only a promise of things to come from our tennis team for it is composed entirely of Freshman and Sophomores.

SUPPORT THE RAIDERS

Although Spring does many things for many people, it does, however, fail to bring M.T.S.U. students out in support of the Raider Athletic teams.

On talking with members of the MTSU athletic teams, one big question always comes up, and this is—Can you write something that will encourage the students to come out and support the teams in action?

The only way I can answer this question is to ask a question of the students, and that is—"Why don't you come out and see our athletic teams in action?"

For a student body of 4,400, we have one of the smallest per centage of student turn-outs at athletic events of any school in the South. To me, this is a disgrace not only to the boys who are taking part in the athletic events, but also to the school and the spirit of the school.

In a college or university school spirit is a must, and school spirit has to start with the students supporting the athletic teams.

Staying at MTSU on the week-ends to see a Raider ball game would also lead to more school-sponsored activities on the week-end.

By going home every week-end, one loses all spirit and interest for the athletic teams at his college. The result of this is only 700 students at a Raider basketball game, or 150 at a baseball game.

So MTSU students, let's grow up and support the Raiders and build a little school spirit. I know our athletes would enjoy playing before a full house.

Raiderettes Win At North Georgia

On April 10 the Raiderette Rifle Team continued to win as the Tigerettes of North Georgia College fell by the wayside. The score at the end of all competition was 1237 to 1197. This makes the record for the year at nine wins and two losses.

Top firer for the match was Pat Badacour of MTSU with a 275 out of a possible 300. Tied for second was Sharon Tighe of MTSU and Aderhold of NGC with 254 each. Rounding out the shooters for MTSU were Margaret Whitaker with 238, Charlotte Black with 236, and Mary Lockhart with 234.

The Raiderettes have two more shoulder-to-shoulder matches for the year with TPI and Murray State. Firm dates have not been established as of now. Also, four postal matches remain to fire.

Raider Rifles Win At Michigan Tech

The Raider Rifle Team defeated Michigan Tech University, of Sault Saint Marie, Michigan, in a postal rifle match on April 5. The Raider Rifle team members scored as follows: Tom Foster, 268, Jerry Dunbar, 256, Terrell Gregory, 225, Larry Pearson, 218, and Gary Claborn, 225.

This raised the Raider Rifles' record for the year to 4 wins and 12 losses. The Raider Rifles will close out the season against Mississippi State University on May 1 at 8:30 on the MTSU Tummons Rifle Range. Anyone interested in firing for the Raider Rifles during the next semester, which begins with the fall semester, should contact Capt. Randell Routt in the ROTC Department.

A MESSAGE TO ROTC COLLEGE MEN

IF YOU'VE GOT WHAT IT TAKES TO BE AN ARMY OFFICER,
STAY IN THE ROTC

Being an Army officer is a challenge. Officers must be leaders . . . able to take responsibility . . . get important jobs done.

It isn't easy to win a commission as an Army officer. But if you are taking the Basic Course in ROTC you're well on your way—provided you can measure up to the high standards required for admission to the Advanced Course.

As a student in one of the 247 colleges and universities offering senior ROTC training, you are in a privileged group. There's no better way for any college man to get the training and skills needed to be an Army officer than through the on-campus program created specifically for that purpose—ROTC.

Here you learn to be a leader . . . to develop the qualities that add a vital plus to your academic training . . . qualities that will pay off for the rest of your life in whatever career you choose to follow.

There are other advantages too. Pay, at the rate of $40 per month during the Advanced Course plus allowances for summer training and travel. Fellowship and social activity. The chance to work with modern Army equipment, and perhaps to qualify for Army flight training if it is offered at your school. And then gold bars and a commission as an Army officer.

Why not talk to your Professor of Military Science now. Let him know you're interested in signing up for the Advanced Course. Then if you are offered an opportunity to join, don't pass it up. It's the program that's best for you . . . and best for your country.

If you're good enough to be an Army officer, don't settle for less.

WAKEFIELD UNBEATEN

Steve Wakefield, Indianapolis, Ind., playing number five on the Raider tennis team remains undefeated after a 7-2 win over Eastern Kentucky and losses to Murray and Western Kentucky in a four-way match at Murray this weekend. The team record now stands at 9 and 4.

Raiders Set Five Records-Win TIAC

Five MTSU and four TIAC records were set by the University track team Saturday afternoon at the University of the South as the Raiders won the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference meet for the second consecutive year. The Raiders scored 80 points, Union University was second with 50, TTU third with 40 and Austin Peay fourth with 33.

Ray McWhorter, a Nashville freshman, was a member of the 440 relay team (MTSU and TIAC record 42.7), the mile relay team (MTSU and TIAC records 3:27) and established a TIAC and school record bettering the OVC mark in the 440 yard dash with a time of 48.1.

Brian Oldfield broke the school and TIAC records with a 55' 1" heave of the shot. He also won the discus. Paul Anderson ran the 880 in 156.2 for another new record.

Maxie Boles, captain of the team, won the most valuable individual participant award with a 11 1/4 score, nosing out Robert Mallard, the freshman dash sensation of the Raiders, who counted 10 1/4 points. Oldfield was third with 10 points.
