FACULTY, STUDENTS AGAIN HAVE KEY ROLES IN 'MESSIAH'

Members of the MTSC faculty and student body had prominent roles in third annual production of Handel's "The Messiah," which was presented Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church in Murfreesboro. Dr. Irving Wolfe of Peabody College directed the production.

Miss E. Mae Saunders of the MTSC faculty served as Dr. Wolfe's assistant and directed the rehearsals in his absence. Neil Wright was one of the featured soloists.

Rubye Taylor Sanders served as concert mistress of the violin section with Margaret Johnson Wright and Mary Dillon Scott as pianist and organist.

Miss Helen Trivett and Mrs. Joe Frank Wilkes were on the committee in charge of arrangements.

Among the students participating in the production were Eleanor Sheid, Sarah Connelly, Laura Ann Harris, Dorothy Douglas, Carolyn Shelton, Joan Jernigan, Douglas Williams, Clyde Cromwell, Gene Webb, Tom Darnell, Wayne Robertson, Charles Anderson,

"IS THIS THE CARD"

"Kefauver For President!" That familar theme can be heard ring through the halls of all the buildings on the campus. When the quick call came far a meeting last Friday to organize a "Kefauver for President Club," numbers of students turned out for the meetings. Word spread fast and groups began to work. The idea began to take hold of the students here on the campus. There have been many attempts made to bring school spirit and turn "our suitcase college" into one with "Vim, vigor, and vitality." Is this the one card that will bring about the change? Well, let us wait and see.

A BIT OF BLARNEY By Mary Killeen

Nestled in the valley that lies at the foot of Sliab Moir is a little white washed cabin with a yellow hatched roof of corn and a cobbled-stoned yard. The half-door of the cottage is opened and on looking in you can see the wide open hearth glowing with red coals with a large kettle hung on the crane singing its own merry tune. The coal-black cat (compliments of June) is laying on his side absorbing the luxurious heat with his head cocked, his piercing green eyes watching you like a well-trained watchdog ready to spring at the intruder.

The air is filled with the pleasant aroma of holiday cooking, you know baking turkey, cakes, pies and all other food delights. Now lets go into the little cottage and see what their Christmas festivities consist of and how they will compare with yours. Looking closely around?? for what?? oh the Christmas tree, well I don't think that you will find one here but notice all that holly with bright red berrys adorning the mantle over the big hearth, no-you won't find all those beautiful beribboned gaily papered presents so typically American. Here you will notice that the season of Christmas has not yet become totally commercialized yet it has a sort of air of good will and happiness which we try to put across by exchanging lavish gifts.

Now lets get back to the home land and see what new over there; sure you knew and know it only ten more shopping days until Christmas. Have you done your Christmas buying yet???

News Rustling

Students, what do you think of this plan which is in effect at Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Indiana? The Student Executive Council is responsible for the publication of an official student and faculty directory called the B Book. The directory contains the names, class standing, hometown, and Muncie address and phone numbers of every student in Ball State College and similar information about the faculty. The book is supported by advertising and the sale of books. We could have student directory at MTSC provided we have the cooperation and backing of the majority of the students and faculty. What about it? It would be a splendid idea especially for the boys in regard to all those female telephone numbers that would have at hand.

"Fussing is described by the Oregon State Barometer as fancy term for women students sitting with men at athlectic events." It seems that fussing has been in existence for only two years there. "Previous to that." says the Barometer, "non-fussing had been a tradition at Oregon State since it was founded."

Now students are being asked to make a definite choice by ballot. But there is a third alternative: Non-fussing with a separate section for fussing. This would take care of married couples.

RAIDER RANK 150 IN NATION

Final rating released by DUNKLE show the 1951 RAIDERS as ranking in a tie with Lenoir Rhyne of N. C. for the 149-150 position in the national football average. The RAIDERS have a 61.3 percentage. Murray State with a 62.7 is 140 in the nation. TPI with a 60.7 percentage is 156. Tennessee of course led the nation in this as all other polls and ratings. The Vols had a healthy 114. Vanderbilt ranked 36 with a 90.5 rating. The DUNKLE system is one of the soundest in theory among all rating systems.

BOWL BIDS

That would have been some football game in the Pythian Bowl with The RAIDERS and LENOIR RHYNE ranked absolutely even. Too bad all the injuries had to come in late season. The team deserved to play in one of their three "bewl" games to which they received

There is little doubt that if the RAIDERS had moved by Murray they would have won the chance played in the Tangerine Bowl this year. It was Murray which knocked them out of a bid two years ago. The poor game against Vandy and Morehead eliminated them last year. The NCAA would not give Murray permission to go South. to Play in Three Post-season Games

MTSC received three invitations for post-season "Bowl" football games. The most attractive came from Lenoir Rhyne, which would have been played in the Pythian Bowl at Saulsbury, N. C. last Saturday.

After talking with senior members of the team the coaches rejected the offer with regret. It was the second time in three years that Knights of Pythias have invited the RAIDERS to participate in their Bowl.

Due to the TPI game the athletic committee also had to reject invitations to play in the Corn Bowl in Bloomington, Ill., and the Burley Bowl in Johnson City on Thanksgiving. The Burley game sought a re-match between the RAIDERS and Emory and Henry.
