

ASB Vice-President-Elect
Lucy Tucker, Will Not Return
This Quarter To Hold Office

Lucy Tucker, vice president, elect of the ASB will not return to MTSC this quarter, to take up the duties of her office. She is in a hospital receiving treatment for an illness.

Lucy has been at MTSC for three years. An active member of the Side-lines staff since her freshman year, she was editor during 1950-51. During her editorship the Side-lines was awarded a first class honor rating by the Associated Collegiate Press.

An English major, she was a former member of the Wiggins Writers Club and one of its founders. Lucy contributed short stories to both issues of the club magazine Mutations.

The student body of MTSC sends to Lucy all the best wishes for a quick recovery, and we hope that it will not be too long until she will be back at MTSC.

New Additions To Faculty Welcomed
by All Students

According to a recent announcement by Q. M. Smith, president of Middle Tennessee State College, there will be nine additions and two faculty members returning from leaves of absence this fall.

In the biology division of the department of natural science Dr. Clifford Dennis and Dr. John A. Patten will begin work as instructors with the fall quarter, September 1, 1951.

Dr. Dennis, a native of Fayette, Idaho, was educated at Iowa State and at the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Patten received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Berea College, the Master of Science at the University of Kentucky and his doctor of philosophy degree at New York University.

The English department will have the addition of Charles Edwin Howard, Clifford Byrne, and Dr. Guy Arthur Battle. Mr. Howard received his Bachelor of Science degree at Troy State College and the Master of Arts degree at Peabody. He has completed the residence requirements for his doctorate degree at Vanderbilt. Clifford Byrne, a native of Nashville, received his bachelor's degree at MTSC and has two years of graduate work at Vanderbilt. Dr. Battle received his A. B., M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from Duke University. He has served on the faculty of the University of Kentucky and the Duke University summer school.

Dr. S. B. Keathley, formerly of the State Department of Education in Nashville, has been named as associate professor in the education department. A native Tennesseean, Mr. Keathley received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Bethel College, the Master's degree in Education, and the Doctor of Education degree at the University of Tennessee. He has had extensive teaching experience in Tennessee.

Dr. Phillip C. Howard will join the music department staff as instructor in piano and theory September 1. He received his undergraduate degree at Murray State College, his Master of Music at the Conservatory in Chicago and the Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of Iowa. He has served on the faculties of the Wurlitzer School of Music, Mary Baldwin College, and the University of Mississippi.

Jesse C. Crowe, who recently completed the residence requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy degree at Vanderbilt will be an instructor in the social science department. He graduated from Western State College and received the Master of Arts degree at Vanderbilt.

Ed Knapp has been added to the staff of the business administration department as an instructor. He will also act as patron of the new dormitory for men. He received the Bachelor of Science degree at MTSC and the Bachelor of Law degree at Vanderbilt.

John M. Williams, another alumnus of MTSC, has been named as instructor of electricity and electronics at his Alma Mater.

Elbert Patty, native of Chattanooga and former head basketball coach at MTSC, has returned from the University of Indiana where he has completed his doctoral work in Education during a two year leave of absence. He was captain of the 1940 Red Raider football team, served in the Marine Corps during the war and received his Master of Arts degree at Peabody.

Dr. Clifford N. Stark returns to his native Tennessee as a professor in the department of agriculture after a 25 year tenure as a dairy specialist on the faculty of Cornell University where he gained international reputation. Dr. Stark has been on leave from MTSC for a year to round out his quarter century work with Cornell.

INFIRMARY BURNS

The MTSC infirmary was destroyed by fire during the recent summer quarter. The origin of the fire was not known.

The structure was made from a surplus building used at Camp Forrest in 1944. An effort to rebuild a new infirmary will be made at an early date. Meanwhile Mrs. Clifford Byrne, the school nurse, is holding forth in the old "T" Club building.

Summer Ends With Review of Events

Mid-staters played a leading role in the second re-enactment of "Son of this House"—the tragic story of Sam Davis, the boy hero of the Confederacy. Bill Willis, who is now a law student at Vanderbilt, played the title role. Margaret and Neil Wright again were in charge of the music, and Buleah Davis directed the original folk dance team in the party scene of the play. Lane Boutwell did more than justice to the story with his expert narration.

Lane Boutwell as chairman of the program committee and B. B. Gracy, head of the Social committee, had an interesting series of events planned for the summer quarter. Outdoor movies, excellent chapel programs, fun nights, and a delightful bar-b-que were enjoyed by all the students attending summer classes.

Anne Beasley of Murfreesboro was the top English major and was awarded a scholarship to the University of Tennessee, at the graduation exercises on Jones Field last June.

The mothers of six MTSC students were enrolled in classes during the summer quarter with their respective offspring: Mrs. Lillie Brown Tipps, mother of Bob Tipps; Mrs. Ruby Eargrove, mother of Jean Hargrove; Mrs. Pearl Mitchell, mother of Mrs. Hazel Ross; Mrs. Beatrice Swann, mother of Lillian Swann; Mrs. Dan Roberts, mother of Caroline Roberts; Mrs. Harris and her son Ray.

Dr. C. N. Stark, who has returned to MTSC from a leave of absence to Cornell University, returned to our campus during the summer quarter. Before returning to the MTSC campus Dr. and Mrs. Stark were honored at a number of social functions.

Among the summer school students was Judge N. A. Link, a man who has been prominent in state politics since the first World War. Judge Link declared that he thinks that politics are less attractive than teaching. Judge Link was working on his Master of Art's degree.

Another interesting student of the summer quarter was Nazhat Haschid, from Bagdad, Iraq. Nazhat attended the Colorado Women's College for a year before attending MTSC. She is attending college in Lincoln, Nebraska this quarter.

Ralph Hitt, graduate of 1948, will teach English and news writing at Allegheny College in Meadville, Pennsylvania this year. He will also be a dean of students next year.

Plans for the future at MTSC include a new library. At present the library has been changed in several ways to aid in making more room for the additional graduate students and their reference books.

The MTSC campus hosted several workshops and conferences this summer. Among the various conventions held here were the Fire-

ALUMNI NEVER SAW THIS

Mrs. Will Dunn Smith greets new freshmen girls to the one time Jones Hall, former boys dormitory. Shaking hands with Mrs. Smith is Dorothy Wood. Others in the picture are June Smith, Side-Lines editor, and Emma Jean McElroy.

Jones Hall Residents Surrender
Sacred Domain to Freshmen Girls

What would the alumni of previous years think if they saw girls marching into Jones Hall? Well, that is exactly what is happening this year. Surprised? No, it was dedicated to the girls last August 17. When the boys moved over to the new dormitory (yet without a name) the girls took over. You can't say the members of the fair sex didn't win that battle!

The capacity of the dormitory is well over the 100 mark. Only the freshmen girls will occupy the dormitory. Mr. and Mrs. Will Dunn Smith are going to be the "parents" of the new girls.

This summer Jones Hall has undergone a redecoration program. The first and third floors are painted green, and the second floor is a bright pink. The floors are red, and the ceilings are white. New furniture has been purchased for the lobby.

As yet the window shades for the windows have not arrived. They have been ordered and should be here shortly. Looks for the doors are not here, but the girls are to be trusted!

New furniture for the rooms was not purchased, but the girls have been given permission to paint their furniture if they so desire.

Saturday Classes Become Outmoded
As MTSC Increases Curriculum*Graduate Program
Proves Success
In First Quarter

Dr. Howard Kirksey, director of the graduate program, feels that MTSC had a "very good group for the first quarter," in the new graduate program. A total of 103 students completed the summer quarter.

Of these students, 60 minored in Industrial Arts, and one in science. Sixteen other students wanted a minor in physical education. A proposal was passed by the Graduate Council to add two courses in Health and Physical Education to the fall quarter schedule.

Graduate courses will be offered in Saturday day and night classes for in-service students, and a number of post-graduate students will be enrolled full-time.

Dr. Kirksey expects an increase over the summer enrollment; however plans for expansion of the program and the addition of new minors will depend not only on demand, but also on the faculty and library facilities.

Dean Beasley Addresses
TSC's Student Body

Student Body, 1951-52:

In 1900 there were 238,000 students in American colleges. In 1951, there were about 2,225,000. Progress has been made in numbers. The first half of the century has been one of marvelous development in science and technology. You are challenged to join the thousands of men and women in our colleges who are resolved to make progress in education. It is believed that if we attain a better understanding of our background and heritage, of our world of nature, of our social environment, progress will be made and we can determine better the skills that are needed and interpret better values in light of contemporary conditions. The big problem for each of us is to be an intelligent, accountable, and participating citizen on and off the campus.

Many statements have been made regarding the characteristics usually considered desirable in a college trained person. Some of the more generally accepted desirable characteristics are intellectual maturity, democracy in relation with other people, useful understanding of the learning process, the ability and initiative to accept responsibility, ability to identify issues of moral choice and the development of ethical principles and spiritual resources to guide his actions, and the ability to communicate his thoughts orally and in writing with enough clarity and logic to be effective.

You are invited to join in the pursuit of these and other desirable characteristics.

Sincerely,
N. C. Beasley
Dean

M. Sgt. R. J. Smith
On ROTC Staff;
12 Win Gold Bars

Master Sergeant Robert J. Smith, well known in Murfreesboro as the former instructor for the local National Guard unit, has recently joined the staff of the ROTC unit here.

Sergeant Smith is a veteran of over 12 years service with armored units, having served 2½ years during World War II in North Africa, Italy and Europe with the First Armored Division. After the war he was on duty here in Murfreesboro, then left in July, 1950 for service in Korea with the 73rd Heavy Tank Battalion, being attached to the 25th and 7th Infantry Divisions. Upon his return from Korea, Sergeant Smith was reassigned to the 44th Heavy Tank Battalion at Fort Bragg, North Carolina and thence to MTSC. His addition to the ROTC instructor group should be a great aid during the next three years. He is married, and resides with Mrs. Smith and his three children in the Clark Court addition of the city.

The local ROTC unit completed a very successful year in this, its first period of operation. Twelve highly qualified seniors were commissioned as Second Lieutenants of Armor in the Organized Reserve, of whom Lt. Bill Netherland has already applied for and received a call to active duty with the 44th Heavy Tank Battalion, Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Lt. Bob Willis has applied for 30 days active duty at Sewanee Military Academy and others are anticipating calls to active duty. A larger enrollment is expected for the 1951-52 session and with returning 2nd, 3rd and 4th year men, another fruitful year for the local unit is being planned.

Lt. Colonel R. J. MacLean, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, has expressed the desire that all interested freshmen who would like to obtain additional information about the ROTC courses see him or members of his staff at their offices in the Memorial Gymnasium.

ASB President
Extends Greeting
To New Students

I am more than glad to welcome all freshmen to the MTSC campus. I know that many of you may feel lost for the first few days of this fall quarter. If at any time you have a question or problem, the Associated Student Body will always be willing and glad to help you. We are doing all in our power this fall to make everyone feel at home.

I know you are wondering what the Associated Student Body is and in what ways it will help you. The student body in this campus has a government set up within itself, composed of students who will try to help you. Since you are a part of the ASB you should know what we have proposed for this year.

I. We must promote honest, efficient, dependable and democratic government which will depend upon each of you.

II. We must promote the fullest cooperation of the ASB with the Administration of the college and its faculty members. In order that you may receive a well-rounded education you must cooperate with the faculty.

III. We must promote more good campus activities which will give each of you a chance to participate and to help improve school spirit.

IV. We should give the citizens of Vet Village a voice in our student government so that their rights may be protected.

V. The new Student Union building should be organized to provide the greatest amount of recreation possible for the student body.

Freshmen, with your full cooperation, we will make this the most successful year in the history of MTSC. It may also be the most profitable year of your life if you only make it that way.

The ASB officers and governing body will always be at your service and glad to help you in any way.

Harold Daniels
ASB President

Former MTSC Student Chosen for Fraternity

Winfred L. Wiser, brother of Dr. Elred J. Wiser, MTSC chemistry professor, was accepted into the Alpha Omega Alpha honorary medical fraternity. Members are elected from those whose scholastic averages are in the upper ten per cent and whose professional qualities forecast achievement.

Mr. Wiser, a senior of the University of Tennessee medical school, is a former student of MTSC. He was elected to several offices including the vice-presidency of his class for the remainder of his senior year.

FACULTY MEMBERS ENJOY VACATIONS

When final tests were ended and the books closed on MTSC's summer session, the faculty as well as the students left for vacation.

Dr. Joe Frank Wilkes led in mileage traveled, visiting Los Angeles and Old Mexico. He also toured Yosemite, Yellowstone, and other National parks of interest.

Dean James left his desk for a week in Fontana, North Carolina. President Q. M. Smith visited Florida, and Mr. Horace Jones, seeking a cooler climate, vacationed in Wisconsin.

Mr. Woodmore, at Standing Stone State Park, did the extremely unusual—he caught two fish on one cast.

Mr. Sloan made a swift trip through New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey.

The Will Dunn Smiths returned to their apartment in Jones Hall after traveling to Memphis.

Wanting more school rather than a vacation, Mrs. Mary Knapp did graduate work at Ames, Iowa. Coach Hayes also went to school at Peabody.

The members of the Education Department staff really traveled. The Howard Kirkseys visited the Wilkes by visiting Mexico, New Mexico, Oklahoma, the Black Hills of South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Chicago.

Miss Mary Hall also traveled extensively in New England and Canada.

With the beginning of the fall quarter regular undergraduate classes have virtually come to an end at MTSC. Regular Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday classes will be continued only in classes such as business administration and mathematics, which can not be taught in only two weekly sessions. Some classes held on Saturdays only will be open to regular undergraduate students.

The purpose of this change is to accommodate the increasing number of teachers and other special students who are working on degrees.

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday classes will continue to meet in regular fifty minute periods from eight to five.

Tuesday and Thursday one hour classes will meet in seventy-five minute periods as follows: first period, classes 8:00 to 9:15; second period 9:30 to 10:45; and afternoon classes from 1:00 to 2:15 and from 2:30 to 3:45.

Assembly will be held from 11:00 to 12:00 on Tuesday and ROTC battalion drill will occupy the same period on Thursday.

Two hour, four hour, and five hour classes will meet at the regular periods on the hour on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Classes for the Master of Arts degree in Education, innovated during the summer quarter, will be concentrated in the late afternoons, Monday and Wednesday nights and Saturday.

MTSC Satisfied
With One Masters
Says Dr. Kirksey

Dr. Howard Kirksey, director of the MTSC postgraduate school, said that the college is not too interested in offering postgraduate majors in liberal arts study.

The announcement was made at President Q. M. Smith attended the State Board of Education meeting. A proposal to offer liberal arts majors at MTSC, Memphis, and East Tennessee State College was brought up.

MTSC now offers postgraduate study in the field of education, and since the college is a teacher training institution Dr. Kirksey states that the present program is thought to be adequate in most cases.

The education department offers minors in industrial arts, science, English, and social science. Under the proposed plan majors would be offered in English, biology, chemistry, and possibly geography.

MTSC officials said it would take a year to put the plan into operation if it were approved.

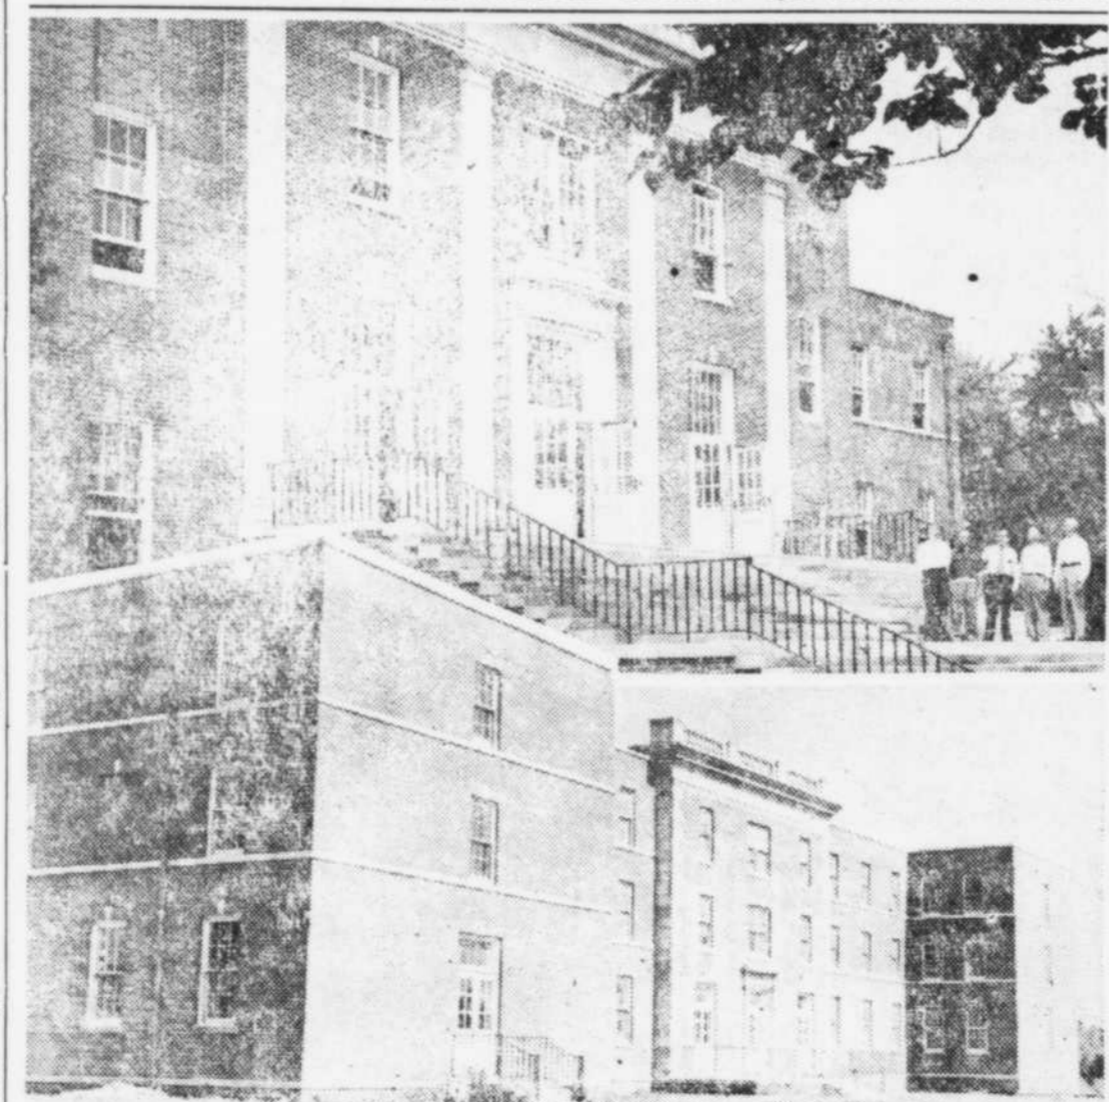

Memphis State college is thought to be the only school which will put the plan into immediate operation, due to the number of students who want postgraduate liberal arts studies for purposes other than teacher training.

Bob Womack Sings Lead Role in Peabody Opera

Bob Womack, MTSC graduate and major in music, sang the leading role in the opera "Student Prince," presented by Peabody College Department of Music, August 9 and 10.

Mr. Womack and his leading lady, Miss Helen Hunt, of Nashville, also gave portions of the opera on television.

He has been invited to give an audition at the New York Civic Opera Company next year.

SIXTH MAJOR BUILDING COMPLETED IN MTSC EXPANSION PROGRAM

With the opening of the fall quarter September 17 students at Middle Tennessee State College will find the last three units of the $3,500,000 post war building program completed.

The lower photo is a view of the front of the new dormitory for men. It will accommodate two hundred and twenty men.

Middle Tennessee State's completely modern natatorium has also been completed this summer. The building has a 35 x 75 swimming pool, equipped with diving boards, spectator seats and dressing room.

An addition to enlarge the seating capacity of the gymnasium and the classroom space of the college armored Army ROTC unit was also completed this year. This addition increased the seating capacity of the gymnasium division of the Memorial Health and Physical Education building to 4,800 seats.

Other building units completed under President Smith's administration include the six unit Industrial Arts plant, the Memorial Health and Physical Education Building, the Agriculture Center, the central heating plant and the modern stadium, seating 8,000.

A third dormitory for women, a Fine Arts Building and a new library are other buildings now in the blue print stage for Middle Tennessee State College.

Auditions, Rehearsals Scheduled for Chorus

The MTSC Chorus will have its first rehearsal Monday 24 at 7 o'clock. Those students whose name's appeared on the chorus roster during the Spring quarter are welcome back for the coming school year.

New students who are interested in joining the chorus must contact Mrs. Margaret Wright in room A 18. All new members must have a voice classification.

Mrs. Wright will see those interested at one of the following times:

Wednesday—19 9:30 a.m. to 10 a.m.; 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Thursday—20 9:30 a.m. to 10 a.m.; 11:30 to 12:00.

Friday—21 9:30 to 10—10:30 to 11 and 2:30 to 3:00.

Those interested must join Wednesday, September 26, as the chorus roster will be closed for the remainder of the year.

Chemistry Club
Extends Welcome to All Freshmen

The MTSC Chemical Association would like to welcome all freshman and transfer students to the halls of MTSC. The Association is relatively new on the campus and it wishes to extend an invitation to all students to attend its meeting.

For students planning to study sciences we feel that the association will provide an excellent opportunity to get to know other science majors and we also feel that the programs and projects of the association will provide interesting recreation.

Members of the association attend meetings of the American Chemical Association monthly at Vanderbilt where they hear well known speakers talk on subjects of much interest to all the scientifically minded.

SUITCASE COLLEGE?

With the announcement that there will be few Saturday classes for regular students the prospect of a "suitcase college" becomes more ominous.

MTSC has not—at least in the last two years, been completely a college in the largest sense of the word. It has been sadly lacking in tradition and in school spirit.

School spirit means cheering at football games—and more. It means taking an interest in the various phases of college life, being proud of the institution, and being a part of the institution.

A college is more than a center of scholastic learning—it's a way of life. It's learning to live with other people, and to stand on your own two feet. It's learning to appreciate others and yourself. It's a training period for the time—years later, when you have to stand on your own feet.

Nobody's going to force you to take part in extra-curricular activities, or to stay on week-ends. You can take your education from books, but there'll be a time when you won't have a text book, or you can take part of your education from people—the things you'll be living with the rest of your life. You can get that education here in a pleasant form—if you'll take it; and you can make MTSC a college in every sense of the word.

SIDE-LINES WELCOMES NEW MEMBERS

For those of you who are entering this school for the first time the Side-Lines extends to you a warm welcome, and a cordial invitation to any of you interested in becoming a member of the Side-Lines staff.

This is your newspaper and it is up to you to make it a paper our school can be justly proud of. If you enjoy writing news, features, society or if you type or have a good command of English we welcome you to become a member of the Side-Lines. No one is barred, any one is welcome. Those interested come to the publications office for further information.

Last year this newspaper, under the editorship of Lucy Tucker, won first class honor rating. This year let us all work together to again obtain this high rating for our school newspaper.

PATRONIZE OUR LOYAL FRIENDS

Advertisers make it possible for the SIDE-LINES, the MIDLANDER and the football programs to be published. The staff of these publications urge the students and faculty to patronize these loyal supporters of the college.

It is nice to patronize them—it is better to tell them, "I read your advertisement in the MTSC publications".

There are two other groups of friends the SIDE-LINES would like to recognize on behalf of the athletic association.

One is that group of twelve firms who will co-operate in bringing all Raider football games, both at home and on the road, to local fans this year. Ray Duffy and MTSC's own John Douglas Hood will handle these broadcasts as in past years.

The co-operating merchants, ten of whom will sponsor each game, are C. B. Letherman's, Hoover Furniture Company, Jackson Brothers Chevrolet, Parsley Brothers Implements, Consumer's Ice Cream, Raider Shirt Laundry, Murfreesboro Bank and Trust Co., Murfreesboro Electric Department, Coles Sport Shop, Murfreesboro Battery and Electric Company, Stickney and Gruffis.

The second group are those persons who brought five or more memberships in the RAIDER Club this year. According to Charles Phillips, secretary of the Raider Club, they are as follows: Jackson Brothers, Elrod's French Shoppe, Parsley Brothers, Ransom Bros. Gin, Commerce Union Bank, Binford-Kearney Motor Co., Palmer Produce, Lebanon Practical Trade School, Brinkley's Food Market, Coca-Cola Bottling Works, Tennessee Foods, Herman Jackson Appliances, Ready Mix Concrete, Coles Sport Shop, White Front Barber Shop, Woodfin Funeral Home, Prince and Huddleston, Daily News Journal, Courier Printing Co., Firestone Stores, Murfreesboro Bank and Trust Co., Helpy-Self Laundry, Murfreesboro Federal Savings and Loan, and Goldsteins.

Smith, Warren To Head Sidelines

Heading the Side-Lines editorial staff this year will be June Smith of Shelbyville.

June is an English major and has a speech minor. However, it is quite hard to think of her as a speech student. With a lot of questions and living with her two years I am able to get the following facts.

She began her writing career at the age of fourteen writing a mystery and reading it to her class. When asked if her story was a success she replied, "When I finished the teacher went around and woke up the class." This failure did not stop her and while in high school, she continued her writing for the students of Central High School in Shelbyville.

Upon entering MTSC she joined the Side-Lines staff as a reporter. During the winter quarter she assisted in founding the Writer's Club. June had several poems and one story published in the Writer's Club magazine "Mutations".

June has always wanted to write plays, so she joined the Dramatic Club her first quarter and has been a member ever since. She considers herself "Mr. B's chief curtain puller".

After writing the first issue of the Sidelines with very little assistance and doing a swell job we are sure that the remainder of the year will be a great success.

This year's Business Manager will be Helen Warren, of Shelbyville.

Helen, a native Southerner turned Yankee, appreciates everything Northern except the New York Yankees. She spent seven years in Akron, Ohio, and returned to graduate from Shelbyville High School, after being a senior for three months.

She is a social science major, and plans to go into advertising of the WAFS after graduation.

She was a member of the Wiggins Writer's Club, and a member of the IRC until work interfered with her extra-curricular activities. Last year she was Music Editor of the SIDE-LINES and proved to be an excellent publicity agent for the Music Department. She was a member of the Band for two years.

Because of her selling ability, this paper contains six pages, part of which she also wrote. Though her job is hard on shoes, there will probably be no shortage of advertising in the SIDE-LINES.

MARGARET WRIGHT PRESENTS PROGRAM

Margaret Wright, of the Middle Tennessee State College Music Department, presented a group of outstanding organ solos at the meeting of the Frances Bohannon Music Club meeting on Tuesday evening, September 18. As usual, Mrs. Wright's combination of charm and talent provided a memorable evening of classic entertainment.

Included in the arrangement of solos were Prelude and Fugue in G Major by Bach in which Mrs. Wright's mastery of the organ was at its height; The Bell Nymph, a lilting melody by Perucelli; and The Squirrel, a gay rendition of a composition by Powell Weaver.

Shacklett are attending Medical school.

Coaches include Jim Babb at Woodbury High School; Marvin Barrett at Mt. Juliet; Howard Gamble at Mt. Pleasant; James McCoy, teacher-coach at Loretto; and Bernard Bergess, assistant coach at Chapel Hill High School.

Grady Bass is attendance teacher in Giles County. Horace Bomar, Bobby DeJarnette, Ross Rives, and James Willard are employed by the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Alabama.

Greek Tragedy, American Comedy Will Highlight Drama Productions

President Edell Hearn announced this week that the Buchanan Dramatic Club has arranged tentative production rights for two of the club's three plays to be produced this year.

Scheduled for November will be the recent Broadway comedy hit, "Harvey" by Mary Chase. The winter quarter will bring Robinson Jeffers' adaptation of "Medea" to the campus. Both plays will be under the direction of Lane Boutwell.

These two plays have been chosen in order to bring to the student body something different and unusual in the way of theatrical productions. For the first time in

DR. CHESTER SWOR TO BE LEADER OF THE DEVOTIONALS

Officers of the campus Baptist Student Union are just back from the pre-school retreat with plenty of ideas for the school year. The Rev. M. M. Ayers, BSU secretary for MTSC extends a cordial welcome to all students and states, "We look forward to a year that will be a challenge and inspiration to all of us."

The speaker for the Noonday Devotionals for the week of September 24-28 will be Dr. Chester Swor, outstanding worker with young people. On Tuesday, September 25, Dr. Swor will be the assembly speaker in the MTSC auditorium. On other days he will be the leader of the devotionals in room 69.

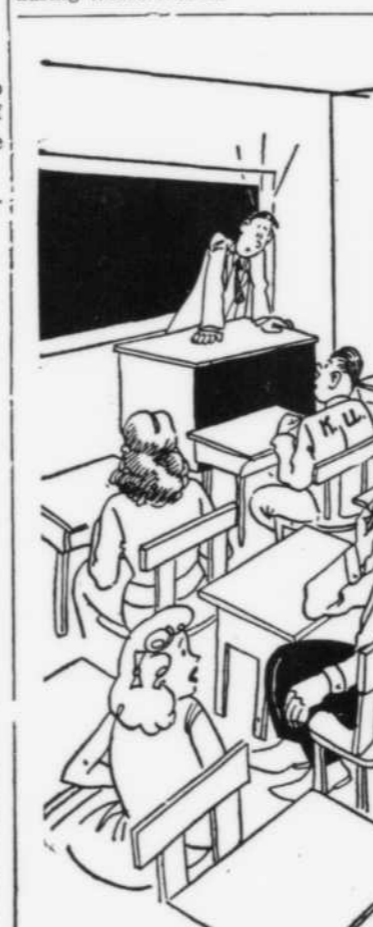

September 30 is Student Day at Baptist churches in Murfreesboro. Baptist students and visitors are especially invited to attend church in Murfreesboro on that day. All Baptist students are urged to work with local Baptist churches in Sunday School and Training Union.

The First Baptist church extends an invitation to all Baptist students and their friends to a student party at the church Thursday night, October 4. All students are urged to come out for a big time. The affair is informal.

No More Blood From Jake

Ten pints of blood is the maximum the Red Cross will take from a donor over a period of two and a half years, and Harold "Jake" Warden has given that amount.

Jake is a senior at MTSC and also an insurance salesman. He was in the service for a year and a half during World War II.

Did You Know

Know Your Church; Cordial Welcome Extended By All

by M. M. AYERS

Murfreesboro church leaders have extended cordial and sincere invitations to faculty and students at Middle Tennessee State College for the coming year.

Many of the churches maintain bus service which pass through or near the campus.

Schedule and brief data about some of the special services are listed in the Church Directory printed below.

The Baptist Student Union maintains a campus secretary, the Rev. M. M. Ayers, who will be glad to assist you with any religious problem. St. Mark's Methodist church borders the campus on the South, the North Boulevard church of Christ is across the Boulevard from the campus. All churches are readily accessible.

Noonday devotionals are sponsored by the BSU on the campus each day. The Church of Christ groups holds a study meeting for 40 minutes each Wednesday at 6 o'clock in 69. The Student Christian Union, the Methodist Young People and the Westminster Fellowship all are active on the campus.

The First Presbyterian Church, at the corner of East College and Spring Streets, provides a College Class in its Sunday School program, taught by Dr. John Cason. The classroom is located on the second floor of the Sunday School part of the church building, directly above the Pastor's Study. Membership in the choir, under the direction of Nell Wright, is always open, and many of the college students find this an opportunity for service in which they can participate with profit to themselves and to others. The Evening Worship service, until late Fall, is an union service with the Methodist churches of the city, and the Central Christian Church, with the service moving from church to church each week. This church has approximately 450 members.

Central Christian Church is well organized with 11 classes in the Sunday School that meet each Sunday morning at 9:45. The young people are organized into the Christian Youth Fellowship and this meets on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock for an hour of fun, fellowship and devotion. The second Wednesday evening of each month is given over to Church Family Night at which time a covered dish dinner is served and programs enjoyed in the children's, young people, ladies and men's divisions. The program is concluded at five minutes of eight.

Raiders Romp 38-0---Vandy Coach Waives SEC Ban On Eleven Team Members

LYONS LEADS SQUAD AGAINST VANDY SATURDAY

BULLETIN
Maxie Runion was elected alternate captain to succeed Jim Ballard, who was called into the Air Forces. Charlie Lyons is Raider captain for 1951.

When the two year contract was signed last year Coach Edwards said he would waive the clause requiring the game to be played under SEC rules. Freshmen and transfers were used against the Commodores in the 47-0 drubbing in 1950. Ten days ago the Vandy Coach wrote Coach Murphy and the coaches of Memphis State and Chattanooga that the games this year would have to be played under SEC rules.

COACH ON TV THURSDAY
Charles Murphy, athletic director, and Gene Sloan, MTSC athletic chairman, will be guests of Dave Overton on his WSM broadcast at ten o'clock and on his television sportscast at 10:30 on WSM-TV Thursday night of this week. At that time the exact players failing to meet Coach Edwards ultimatum will be shown in pictures along with the Chief difference in the eligibility rules of the SEC and the SIAA-VSAC is that SEC requires "one calendar year of residence" before becoming eligible, while our conference simply require the student to pass 36 quarter hours work after transfer.

THEY FACE VANDY SATURDAY

RAIDERS HAWK C. N. EAGLES 38-0; POOR PASS OFFENSE OFFSET BY BRILLIANT RUNNING GAME

Four and a half minutes after the opening kickoff Ernest Adams, who had sparked the 75 yard drive, smashed for eight yards for the first of six touchdowns to defeat the Carson Newman Eagles 38-0 in the curtain raiser of the 1951 football season Saturday night.

Runion (eight yard delayed buck and two yard smash); John Raymond Smith (25 yard cut back over right tackle); Billy Derrick (11 yard sprint around right end); Bob Searcy (10 yard gallop around left end) coupled with Bill Fandrick's two extra point kicks accounted for the Raiders' opening victory.

Statistics reveal the complete dominance of the Raiders. Twenty first downs to five; 293 net yards rushing to 53; 90 yards on five completed passes to none for Carson Newman spell out the complete superiority of the Raiders.

Bright spot in the Eagle's game play was Hubert Ashe's kicking. He averaged 41.1 yards on nine kicks. J. R. Smith had a 36.5 average for the Raiders on five kicks—but he lost 20 yards on one booming 52 yard boot that went over the goal for an

City, accompanied by a loyal group of band members. Our own student stands had a bare sprinkling of some two hundred early arrivals, augmented by a sizeable group of returning alumni.

The Raiders drew 50 yards in penalties, 40 coming for backfield men in motion. The Associated Press, which placed Runion, Arnold and Lyons on their "little All-American honorable mention" in 1951 have cast an appreciative eye on Dave Burnett after his brilliant defensive play Saturday night. If Burnett gets some offensive work under his belt this year Will Grimsley (AP New York Bureau) is likely to eye him closely in late November. The same would go for Howard Alsop at tackle if he gets to play some offensive ball.

Billy Derrick led the Raider running attack in the opening game. He carried the ball nine times for a total of 81 yards. Ernest Adams picked up 40 yards and 13 tries. Rather moved eight times for 47 yards, Searcy 7 times for 31 yards.

Murphy and his associates used 15 different backs on offense and everyone of them gained some yardage. Johnson and Etter recovered two important Eagle fumbles.

If the Eagles possessed a passing attack it failed to materialize. On four attempts there were no completions. The Raiders fired 17 aerials with Duke, Runion, Searcy, Smith and Stotser all heaving. They completed only five, but they were good for 90 yards.

Dave Overton, appearing as a guest between halves on WGN said, "Maxie Runion is all that has been said about him. He has run the ball four times, averaging eight yards; he has thrown two perfect passes. What damage that boy could do in sixty minutes of play!"

Price and Aycock were among the best that Carson Newman had to offer offensively. Sanford Gray and the Eagle line backers were best on defense.

Disappointing to some 4,000 Raider fans was the poor Raider passing attack. The coverage of our punt receivers was also anything but adequate. Lowest blow was Fandrick's three successive failures to convert.

PLENTY OF COVERAGE

More reporters and scouts were in the MTSC twin press boxes Saturday night than have been here since the Thanksgiving game two years ago. Bob Gorum (AP); Dave Overton (WSM); John Bibbs (Tennesseean); Billy Tulloss and George Parrish (Banner); Wayne Campbell (Courier); Elmer Blackburn (News Journal); Hood, Harrison and Duffy of WGN; Here Alley and Baby Ray from Vanderbilt; Dave Aaron of Austin Peay; Coach P. V. Overall from TPI were among the visitors.

A well organized Eagle cheering section was down from Jefferson

STATE COLLEGE OPENS DOORS FOR 41ST YEAR

Lookback Shows Big Advances Since Q. M. Smith Came

BY EMMA JEAN McELROY
Editor's Note: The following article is reprinted from The Rutherford Courier. The salute to the achievements of President Q. M. Smith was also the subject of a feature article by Tom Talent in the Chattanooga Free-Press two weeks ago. Similar articles with illustrations of our new buildings have appeared in many Tennessee newspapers during the past few weeks.

Middle Tennessee State College opened its 41st year yesterday, as preparations for the fall quarter began.

And as the new year started, the college could look back on steady growth since it opened its doors in the fall of 1911. From a small somewhat local "normal" devoted to teacher training, the school has now become an institution with a position of distinct leadership in regional education.

And a great many of the strides forward have been taken during the 13 years that Q. M. Smith has been president of the college.

The value of the college to Murfreesboro and Rutherford County is both cultural and practical.

As expressed by President Smith in a recent interview, "The opportunities offered here are of such a nature that they meet critical education standards and at the same time are adapted to the needs of the people of this area and provided at a nominal cost."

SCHEDULE

Freshmen at Middle Tennessee State College will take guidance tests today, Tuesday; attend a get-together recreational party tonight in the old gymnasium; and register on Wednesday. Upper classmen will register Thursday.

Classes will start on Friday. Enrollment is expected to be around 1,250.

This "nominal cost" was the feature emphasized in a recent article by Tom Talent, feature writer for the Chattanooga Free-Press. Talent wrote "MTSC's varied courses give inexpensive higher education. . . you can get an education for almost nothing."

The aviation department and an excellent business department were added during the war years. It was in the summer quarter of 1951 that a graduate division was added. This division enables graduates of the college to obtain the M. A. degree in education.

A regional library is stationed on the campus. This library serves nine counties.

Several in-service training courses are very active. Over 6,000 persons took these courses last year.

Student enrollment has jumped since 1938. In 1937-38 there were only 550 students enrolled in the college. In the last few years enrollment has reached as high as 1,430.

Expansion at MTSC is not over. Already plans have been made for a new library, and a women's dormitory, to cost $600,000. Appropriations have been authorized for these buildings.

PRESIDENT Q. M. SMITH

In the 13 years since the college became a full four-year institution there have been 1850 graduates.

During the thirteen years since President Smith has been in office, $23,36,690 has been spent on new buildings and repairs.

The annual state appropriation for the college in 1938 was $76,903. In 1950 it was $472,000.

There has been an additional $900,000 worth of equipment and instructional material purchased since 1941.

When President Smith came to MTSC, there was a campus of 250 acres. Since, the school has purchased 125 additional acres at a cost of $38,000.

The farm income was $5,834 in 1938. In 1950 it was $21,851.70.

MTSC is a member of Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Tennessee College Association, American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Since President Smith's administration the college has become a member of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference, American Council on Education, National Association of Business Teacher Training Institutions, and the Teachers College Association of Extension and Field Service.

In 1945 it became necessary to add more members to the faculty. There are now 92 full-time faculty members on the campus. Each faculty member has demonstrated special training ability, and aptitude for work in the field in which he is employed. The majority of members of the MTSC faculty have had extensive experience in public school work, and many of them have achieved outstanding recognition in business or in the armed forces.

Since 1938 there have been 63 new additions to the faculty.

In 1945 Joe Frank Wilkes and Howard G. Kirksey were added to the faculty as members of the Education department. Eugene Sloan joined the faculty that year as a member of the Social Science department and Journalism. Henrietta Myers Wade also came to MTSC in 1945 as an instructor in Stenography, and Joe Little became head of the MTSC farm.

In 1946 Mary Nelson Bates was employed as Regional Librarian. Miss Catherine Clark also came to MTSC in 1946 as a librarian. Robert Bryden joined forces with the MTSC Biology department as did Ellis S. Rucker. Miss Emily S. Calcott, S. C. Ewins, and Richard C. Peck joined the English department in 1946. Eugene L. Wiggins joined the English Department in 1947.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil H. Wright joined the Music department in 1946. J. E. Wiser became a professor of Chemistry in 1946. Mrs. Virginia Muncie joined the Home Economics department, and Elbert Patty joined the Phy Ed. department. Miller Lanier became head of the Aviation department in 1946. He is now Assistant professor in the Industrial Arts department.

Robert Abernathy came to the campus in 1947 as Director of Field Service and Studies. James F. Baxter, now on leave, came to MTSC that year as an instructor in Physics. Delbert A. Dyke joined the Industrial Arts department, and Robert L. Martin became a professor of Social Science. Charles Murphy joined the Physical Education department in 1947.

In 1948 Lane L. Boutwell became the Assistant Professor of speech. It was in 1948 also that Wilmoth D. Bowdoin joined the Education department, and Miss Helen Trivett, the Music department.

In 1948 Ronald Brinkley came to the MTSC campus as Assistant State Supervisor. Ambrose Easterly joined the Library staff. Frank J. Elders joined the Agriculture department. Charles N. Greer joined the Physical Education department. Mary G. Knapp became an instructor in the department of Home Economics. John Gerald Parchment joined the Biology department, and Fletcher Shields joined the Physics department. Dr. Clifford N. Stark, who just recently has returned from a leave of absence, joined the faculty in 1949 as a professor of Agriculture. Roscoe L. Strickland joined the Social Science department, and Edwin S. Voorhies became an instructor in machine shop.

In 1950 Robert E. Adkins and Dr. Ralph E. Dunham joined the MTSC Education department. Joe Black Hayes became a member of the Physical Education department. Charles F. Hull joined the Chemistry department, and James Jagers became an instructor of Agricultural Engineering. Dr. William Shacklett became the college physician, and Dr. Charlotte Williams became the Associate professor of Social Science.

POST-WAR BUILDINGS

The Mid-State Flight School is under the direction of H. Miller Lanier. Since 1945 $40,000 has been spent on the airport. It now maintains two hangars, a shop, a weather station, operations rooms, and classrooms. More than 400 persons have received pilot licenses.

The very pressing problem of 1945 was housing accommodations for veterans and their families. 107 trailer and barracks units for veterans families at a cost of $190,000 was provided through the cooperation of the Federal Housing Authority and the War Assets Administration.

125 acres were added to the college farm at a cost of $38,000. This purchase gives the college a total of 375 acres, and it provides room for the future. The farm was modernized by the installation of a pasteurization and milk chocolate unit in the dairy. Three frame buildings have been constructed for classroom usage.

Two recreations hall were made possible through surplus buildings obtained through the War Assets Administration.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

The industrial arts department has been developed into a modern six-unit brick and concrete structure with 30,000 square feet of floor space. There is approximately $800,000 worth of equipment in this department, which makes it one of the best in the South. It is one of the best in the top six departments of our country.

Under the leadership of O. L. Freeman this department is the last word in modern equipment.

The unit now contains an electrical division. Here the students learn how to wire houses or electrical equipment.

A new heating plant was completed in the fall of 1948 at an expenditure of $264,000.

HOLMES

Mr. Holmes has spent forty years in the MTSC business office before his retirement. It was here he met his wife, the former Ivie Graham, when she was a co-ed. It was here he saw his son, J. S. Holmes, Jr., receive his degree at the 1950 convention before entering the Army. It was here that he has collected fees from each of the thousands and thousands of boys and girls who have come to the college.

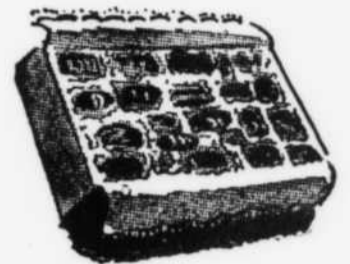

Mr. Holmes entered MTSC as a freshman in 1911 but after a year and a half he dropped his studies to become a bursar.

His chief pride is his collection of college catalogs, one for each of the 40 years of its existence, vividly portraying the expansion of the two years normal to a college offering courses from aviation to zoology—granting the B. A., A. B. and M. A. degree, glanced briefly at a battered safe, picked up his hat from its familiar rack and moved towards the door of the bursar's office, closing 40 years of efficient, faithful and loving service to Middle Tennessee State College on June 16, 1951.

After taking two weeks of "terminal leave" before his official retirement June 30, Mr. Holmes joined a local construction firm as book-keeper.

"There isn't going to be any retirement for a youngster of 69 like me. I'll just 'fade away' from the office here, but I'll never find the memories of Middle Tennessee State College growing dim", he concluded.

Fall Fashion Tips For The Lads and Lassies of MTSC

This year fashions for back-to-school clothes are going to be better and prettier than ever. The length of dresses is slightly shorter than last year; although suits and coats are still about the same length as last year's.

The rage this year is a full skirt with a crinoline underskirt. This makes the full skirt stand out, and it also gives a swing to the outer skirt when dancing or walking.

Velveteen is the trim on most of the dresses while a hard surfaced fur is used on coats and suits. Shoes are also made of velveteen. Hats and purses made of velvet with rhinestones sprinkled over them are also a novelty. Another new cast is velvet decorations on gloves. Thus, we have velvet as the most popular trim of the year.

Sweater sets again lead this year for the girls, either in the office or in school. Light blue and light green will be the leading colors for the sweaters. While we are on the subject, did you know that freshmen are not supposed to wear sweaters with letters on them from another school?

For school, straight skirts still top the fashion parade. This year split skirts are not as popular as they were last year. As a matter of fact, they were not seen in the fashion shows this year in Paris. Another fad of the school girl is the scotch plaid skirt made with accordin pleats. The newest style of accordin pleats is that they are wrinkle proof, and the pleats never come out! There is only one catch to this wonderful skirt—it is quite expensive.

For boys, the college fad is to paint a number on each shoe. The number is the same, so the pairs of shoes should not be hard to keep up with. Why didn't this fad come in style last year while the boys had Jones Hall in confusion?

Only the lucky members of this campus will be interested in the latest night club fashions—strapless frocks with sequins studded around the skirt, accompanied with a stole. Pastel linen dyed shoes look positively marvelous with your dance frock.

The boys are wearing plaid shirts again this year. Many of them are trimmed in corduroy. Felt patches on their trousers are very popular. White dress shirts have either small round collars or sharp pointed collars. French cuffs are a carry-over from last year but they are still very popular, especially with stone (pretty colored) cuff links.

With a near-record cotton crop in prospect, producers are urged to take every possible step to protect the quality of the crop, to feed cotton into the market in an orderly manner, and to take advantage of the Commodity Credit Corporation price support-loan program.

Boys Will Outnumber Girls in Freshman Class

Decreased male enrollment will not trouble this year's freshmen girls, according to advance reports. Despite the draft, which blows heavily, Freshman male enrollment is expected to outnumber that of the opposite sex 207 to 166. In addition 27 women transfers and 22 men transfers are anticipated. The enrollment of upperclassmen is expected to be about normal.

The total size of the freshman class may be slightly smaller than that of 1950, but the decrease will be offset by graduate students, who will make their first appearance for the regular term.

Enrollment of all students is expected to be about equal to that of 1950. The pre-registration estimate ran from 1,000 to 1,200.
