VOICE OF MTSC, THE COLLEGE OF INDIVIDUAL OPPORTUNITY

Vol. 36—No. 4

Middle Tennessee State College, Murfreesboro, Tennessee

Nov. 7, 1962

Homecoming Activities Triumphed By Win

By Donna Black

A Middle Tennessee State College victory over Murray State by a score of 23-6 was the key event in the Homecoming festivities of last week.

Float contest was won by the senior class whose theme was "Go To Heaven." Second place was taken by the Industrial Arts Club and third, by the Booster club.

Miss Carolyn Ball, a senior from Chattanooga, Tennessee, reigned as Homecoming Queen. She was elected on October 24 in a campus-wide election. For the parade on Saturday morning, she wore a white formal of tiered lace and tulle. She chose an emerald green box suit with balck accessories for the game on Saturday afternoon.

When asked about her reign, she commented, "Needless to say, I was very honored to be selected as your Homecoming Queen. My only regret is that every girl cannot experience the thrill and honor which this has brought to me."

Carolyn attended Chattanooga Central High School. She is a physical education major and an active member of the P.E. Club. For the past three years, Carolyn has served as head-majorette for the "Band of Blue." She has been treasurer of her freshman, sophomore, and junior classes and is now secretary of the Women's Dormitory Council. Last year she was also on the ASB Social Committee.

Serving as attendant for the senior class was Miss Marie Carne. Marie is from Jeolton, Tennessee, where she attended Jeolton High School. She is a physical education major.

Miss Judy Gillespie from Columbia, Tennessee, was the junior class attendant. Judy is majoring in Business Administration and is minoring in Economics.

Sophomore class attendant, Miss Jane Gillem, is also from Nashville, Tennessee. Jane is an English major and a charter member of the Spanish Club. She is serving this year as secretary of the sophomore class and as president of Monohan Dormitory.

Freshman class attendant was Miss Gayle Marks. Gayle is from Lebanon, Tennessee, and was recently selected as a cheerleader for '62-'63. She is an art major.

The Homecoming Dance on Saturday night climaxed the week's festivities. Miss Ball, wearing a powder pink formal of embroidered nylon with satin trim, was officially crowned as queen. The dance was semi-formal.

First place in the Homecoming float contest was taken by the senior class. Their float had the theme "Go To Heaven."

Classes Elect "Beauties," To Appear In Midlander

Academic classes at Middle Tennessee State College have elected two beauties each to represent them in the 1963 Midlander as class beauties.

Elected by the senior class were Joan Simpson and Betsy Pellettieri. Miss Simpson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson, Watertown, is an elementary education and a physical education major. She is presently reigning as the 1962 Miss Midlander, and is president of Tau Omicron, scholastic honorary for women. Miss Pellettieri is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pellettieri of Nashville. A graduate of St. Bernard's Academy, she is a social science major at MTSC. She was also elected a 1962 class beauty.

Junior class beauties are Beverly Ray and Nancy Dever. Miss Dever is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Dever, Sr., of Jeolton, and is a cheerleader. She is a business major. Miss Ray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Ray of Nashville. She is a medical technology major and a member of the Midlander and Sidelines staffs.

Sophomore beauties are Sandra Wynne and Malinda Hardison. Miss Wynne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Wynne of Nashville is a cheerleader and the present Miss Murfreesboro. She is an elementary education major. Miss Hardison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Payne Hardison, Sr., of Lewisburg. She is a graduate of Marshall County High school and a pre-pharmacy major.

Student Christian Union President Tells Group's Purpose and Objectives

By Elizabeth Allen

This week it was my privilege to interview David Benzenhafer, president of the Student Christian Union of MTSC, and through this article express his views on the purpose and objectives of the SCU on this campus.

The Student Christian Union is an interdenominational group which meets for the purpose of creating a closer union between all denominations on campus and to promote Christian growth through democratic discussion. The SCU does not emphasize any particular faith but each group or individual has equal opportunity to express his views while learning those of his fellow student. It is through this group that the students become acquainted with other denominational beliefs and ideas.

Programs for the meetings are planned in various ways. They may consist of an open discussion, a film, or a guest speaker. These are done in order to acquaint the student with other denominations as well as show him what Christians throughout the world are doing.

The SCU has existed on the MTSC campus for many years, but it does not belong to this campus alone. A majority of other colleges and universities throughout the country have similar organizations. They may not be called Student Christian Union, but they function similarly to ours and have the same overall aim.

The officers of the SCU are elected from the group and serve for a regular school term. The officers for this year are: David Benzenhafer, president; Shirley Brackett, vice president; A. W. Powell, program chairman; Joe Guffy, publicity; and Eddy Barham, song leader.

The SCU meets the first Wednesday night of each month in the SUB. The next meeting will be November 7. Everyone is welcome to attend even if you are not a member of a particular church group.

Publication Staff Attends ACPC

The annual Association Collegiate Press Convention was attended by members of the Midlander and Sidelines staff. They were: Carolyn Gwaltney, Nancy Arnette, Sally Smith, and Ann Turner. The meeting was held in Detroit, Michigan, from Oct. 24 - 27.

The meeting was opened with a convocation Banquet given by the Ford Motor Co. Other meetings conducted by various Professors of Journalism from all over the country were held during the three-day period. All-America yearbooks, newspapers, and magazines were on display for the delegates.

Highlighting this conference were a trip to Windsor, Canada, and a visit to the world's largest auto show.

Lettermen, Friends Establish Loans

Dr. Quill E. Cope has received a check for $333.50 from Charlie Kerr collected from Middle Tennessee State College lettermen and friends associated with the late Coach Falkinberry. According to Mr. Kerr the fund has been established for the purpose of loans to senior students who have participated in athletics. The loan is to be repaid after the first year of employment.

Six senior cadets of MTSC have been designated as Distinguished Military Students based upon outstanding academic and leadership achievement. Major James E. Price, PMS, presented the DMS awards during an impressive ceremony involving the entire cadet corps of over 1100 men. The following cadets were designated DMS: Ronald E. Adkerson, Smyrna; Robert R. Boyd, Murfreesboro; John D. Bradford, Fayetteville; Joseph W. Davidson, Lewisburg; Gordon H. DeFries, Trion, Ga; Robert W. Wrenn, Columbia, Tenn.

"Life with Father" Opens this Evening

The Buchanan Players will present their annual fall comedy this evening in the Administration Building Auditorium.

Curtain time is at 8:00.

Tickets for the Thursday performance of "Life With Father" are still on sale at the Buchanan Players' ticket booth in the main lobby of the Administration Building. All seats are reserved and students may obtain tickets by presenting their I. D. cards at the booths.

Debate Squad Adds Six New Members

October has been a busy month for the MTSC Debate squads new members have been added; research on the proposition begun; and plans for the coming debate season made.

Seven varsity debaters returned to add strength to this year's squad: Gordon DeFriesse of Chattanooga; Jerry Foster of Shelbyville; John Kinnard of Columbia; Ed Meyers of Birmingham, Alabama; A. W. Powell of Murfreesboro; Carole Sanford of Lebanon; and Richard Schoonman of Quaker Hill, Connecticut.

Six novice debaters have joined the squad, bringing the total membership to 13. Trisha Britt of Chattanooga; Judy Churchwell of Columbia; Linda Halliburton of Murfreesboro; Floyd Kephart of Chattanooga; Barbara Moore and Jim Sutton, both of Nashville.

Last week the 1962-63 debate agenda was announced. MTSC students will be traveling to Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky, Alabama, North Carolina, and various parts of Tennessee to participate in a total of ten tournaments. The schedule includes a variety of types of contests, such as cross-examination style debating, sweepstakes tournaments with many extra speaking events, and novice tournaments. The topic for debate this year is Resolved: That the non-communist nations of the world should establish an economic community.

MTSC Band and Chorus Active Campus Groups

By Gayle Marks

Band and chorus are two of MTSC's most active organizations.

The Band of Blue, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Smith and Mr. Horace Beasley, is a source of pride to both alumni and students. Mr. Smith directs the marching band and Mr. Beasley directs the concert band. The officers of the band are: President, Bill Skinner; Vice-President, Nadine King and Linda Davis; and the Secretary-Treasurer is Sue Murphy.

Drum Major for the marching band is Roddy Byrns. The head majorette is Carolyn Ball and feature twirlers are Carolyn Callis and Tommy McClanahan. Majorettes are Carolyn Hale, Suzanne Patty, Nancy Moore, Ann Sanders, and Patricia Ann Harris.

The program this year is based on Spanish music. Mr. Smith arranged almost all of the music and wrote the introductory number called "Entrance 1962." The show features such numbers as Malaguena, Serenata, and El Matador.

Each spring the band tours the high schools in this area presenting concerts. They also give two concerts at MTSC each spring. One of these is the Starlight or Lawn concert. This fall the band sponsored the MTSC marching band festival in which twenty-two bands competed for $300 in trophies. The Band also makes a record each spring, copies of which are placed on sale in the book store at $3.98 per copy. The concert band will organize the second semester. Any student who can play an instrument or who is interested in joining should contact Mr. Smith or Mr. Beasley.

The chorus is under the direction of Mr. Neil Wright, with Mrs. Wright as accompanist. The chorus tours area high schools each fall and spring at MTSC. The chorus, like the band, makes a record which is sold in the book store at $3.98 a copy. The chorus practices on Monday and Wednesday nights from 7:00 p.m. till 8:30 p.m. The officers for this year are: President, Jane Pyle; Secretary, Sarah Jones; Soprano leader, Patricia Porterfield; Alto leader, Sue Murphy; Tenor leader, Tommy Horne; and Bass leader, Don McAlain.

A good practical pen for everyone.

Everybody likes the LINDY.

It writes nice.

Lots of students buy two or three at a time.

Maybe because it's only 39¢. Maybe because there are twelve brilliant ink colors.

Or maybe they just like to have two or three or twelve around.

Also nice to have around:

Pianist-Humorist Appears Here Friday In Auditorium

Shearen Elebash, who appears here this Friday at 10:00 A. M. in the auditorium, is said to be the eighth wonder of show business. Wherever this pianist-humorist appears, the applause is deafening, and season after season he returns to perform again and again because his audiences demand it.

Born in Selma, Alabama, he was reared to succeed his father in the jewelry business. However, while a student at the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., he got his first smell of grease paint. He was cast as Jack Point in Gilbert and Sulli-

World War II came along and as a member of the Air Force, he became a popular entertainer. While visiting the American ambassador to Great Britain, his talents were exposed to the royal family and once again he was a smash.

What Shearen Elebash does for an evening's entertainment includes everything from spirituals to clever French songs to Broadway show tunes. And then there is a group of what he calls his "Spectaculars." It is his comedy. He performs "A Night at the Met," in which he spoofs everyone, the basso, the tenor, the soprano and the mezzo. He takes his audience around the world, by speaking in eight languages and he does a southern dialect, which brings scene from "Romeo and Juliet" in down the house.

Petite and charming Barbara Elebash is the one to whom Shearen gives most credit for his success. "My wife is truly the most understanding woman in the world," he says. "She would have to be to take over our three boys and one girl while I'm traveling all over the country. She's really the star of this project."

van's "Yoeman of Guard." Two of his fellow performers were Actor James Whitmore and Alan Lerner, who wrote the smash musical, "My Fair Lady." A few years later at Yale University, he gave up acting and turned to music. As soloist with the university's glee club, he toured the United States and South America.

SELECTS '62, '63 OFFICERS DIE DEUTSCHEN KAMARADEN

Die Deutschen Kamaraden, the MTSC honorary society for students with at least one completed semester of German, elected officers at its first meeting on September 20.

Those elected for the coming year were: Roy Shelton, president, A. W. Powell, vice-president, Johnny Reynolds, secretary, Glenn Hall, treasurer, and Susan Wakefield, parliamentarian.

At the informal meeting several plans were made for the coming year. One of the major projects of the German group is the making and selling of advent wreaths. The activity, first begun last December, has enjoyed tremendous popularity on the campus. The advent wreath is a pine decoration with four red candles, one of which is lighted each week for four weeks preceding Christmas. The custom has come to America from the old world and is one of the most ancient Christmas traditions. Die Deutschen Kamaraden will offer the advent wreaths for sale during the last week of November and the first week of December.

MTSC REPRESENTED AT TECH WORKSHOP

Representatives of the MTSC Home Economics Chapter attended a Middle Tennessee Home Economics Chapters workshop at Tennessee Tech last Saturday.

Those attending from the MTSC chapter were Carolyn Simmons, Linda Peppers, Beverley Montgomery, Judy Smith, and Ernestine Harris.

The program was planned by THEA College Chapters Vice-President Beverley Montgomery. This consisted of a panel discussion, tour of the Tech home economics department, and a business session.

Home Economics Club initiated 55 new club members at the last meeting.

Membership requirements for the club include being a home economics major or minor or having an interest in home economics. The latter are voted into the club by the members.

Those initiated were Linda Alford, Anita Bartn, Virgie Beasley, Betty Bissell, Fredia Brown, Charlotte Buck, Regina Cheney, Susan Church, Peggy Cloyd, Claudie Corrine, Carolyn Craig, Julia Crowell, Lou Dotson, Mary Helen Fleming, Judy Floyd, Ann Fisher, Donna Gaither, and Priscilla Gregory.

Church Group Invites Attendance

By Joan Bates

St. Marks Methodist Church announces bus transportation for its services in front of Lyon Hall, Rutledge Hall, and Main Monohan Hall.

The bus will pick up students at 8:30 for early service, 9:35 for church school, and 10:40 for the regular worship hour. This service is on a trial basis depending upon the number of students who desire this service. It is up to the students to make this possible for added convenience in attending worship services.

LIEUTENANT JOHN MONTEFUSCO, HISTORY MAJOR, CLASS OF '61

"If I had it to do over again, would I take Army R.O.T.C.?"

My wife and I are in Panama at the moment. She likes it. You know, Officers' Club, dances—that sort of thing. I like it, too. But whether I stay in the Army or not, the question is: Would I take Army R.O.T.C. if I had it to do over again? Yes, I certainly would. In spades, I didn't realize how lucky I was. At the time I figured: Okay, so I'll get my degree—get an Army commission, too, and pick up some extra money along the way! I wasn't the leadership type, I thought. I was wrong. Boy, was I wrong! Looking back on it, I wouldn't trade the leadership training I got for anything! Take my word for it, leaders are made—not born! Whether I stay in the Army or not, nobody can take away what I've learned. And let's face it, where can anybody my age step out of college and walk into a standard of living this good? Look, if you have already invested two years in college R OTC, take it from me: Stick it out! It'll be one of the smartest things you ever did. I say so."

After Homecoming-What?

Pinning flowers on 3700 students would be a little hard to do, but a few words of congratulations are in order. Homecoming was a success—it was a success because of the students.

The planning of the big week-end by the Alumni Association, the administration, the Associated Student Body, the many groups who showed up faithfully last week to work on floats, the tremendous spirit shown by the student body at the game, and the herd who crowded into the once-called-large Tennessee Room for the Homecoming dance all proved that the student body of MTSC has the enthusiasm and spirit it takes to make a successful and long remembered Homecoming.

The student body next year will have to have a lot of drive, a lot of enthusiasm, and a lot of determination to match the work done by this year's group.

This year is not up after Homecoming. The challenge is ours. There is the Tech game, there are basketball games, there are elections, there are many more things which will test our school spirit and interest in our school. We can be a student body that would be admired for years to come. We have shown our potential—the rest can be easy.

AND IN THE BEGINNING

When it all began, dear
 Doomed from the beginning;
 They knew it, dear
 The cloud, stone, sun, the vine
 Bidding their time.
 These hands tremble at your nearness.
 Locus eyes waver within their protection.
 This heart, disturbed is motionless
 Coiled like a dead copperhead.
 They continue through
 The cloud, stone, sun, the vine
 Sporting with time.
 When it all began, dear
 Sweet as morning on a dying day,
 Impossible!
 I ate the fruit under a fresh sun;
 Nor saw an impatient cloud,
 Nor sat upon a stone.
 When it all began, dear
 Doomed from the beginning;
 They knew it, dear
 The cloud, stone, sun, the vine
 Bidding their time.

Veteran's Club Commends Kennedy

The Veteran's Club of Middle Tennessee State College has commended the stand of President Kennedy in the Cuban Crisis and pledged their fullest cooperation and support.

The Veteran's Club is commanded by Roy N. Martin with Walter Chatman as sponsor. The message communicated to President Kennedy is as follows:

"Your address to the nation on Monday evening concerning the Cuban Crisis will long be remembered by most Americans."

On behalf of the Veterans Club of Middle Tennessee State College. I have been directed to write you. Mr. President you may be sure that we, as former members of the Armed Forces and as citizens of the United States, pledge you our fullest cooperation and support in your stand on the Cuban matter.

Oklahoma College Praises Editorial

Dr. William B. Gardner, head of the English department St. Gregory's College, Shawnee, Oklahoma in a letter to Donald Gates, a junior from East Havdam, Conn., commended a recent issue of the MTSC SIDELINES.

Dr. Gardner was particularly complimentary of a recent editorial written by Steve Bebb on the Mississippi situation. Dr. Gardner stated that, "I gave the paper to one of the editors of The Envoy (St. Gregory student newspaper) to show him how good an editorial could be on the University of Mississippi affair".

MTSC Fashion Shots

By Ernestine Harris

Modeling the fashion of the week is Sandra Rouse of Cleveland, Tennessee, a MTSC freshman majoring in Business Education.

Shown in a skirt and sweater ensemble for campus wear. The skirt features the ever-popular straight lines in a basket weave wool fabric. The sweater is a captured wool knit. The design is captured from the Scandinavian countries, and the collarless look offered by the sweater is extremely fashionable this season.

Italian loafers are the latest craze in footwear this fall. They can be found in various colors to compliment all fashions.

Mounting the library steps is Sandra Rouse modeling the fashion of the week.

Beroeans Discuss Religious Topics

By Gayle Marks

The Beroeans is a religious discussion group sponsored by the Church of Christ group which all students are invited to attend each Tuesday at 6:45 p.m.

The group takes its name from Beroes, a city in northern Greece, which is mentioned in the book of Acts in the BIBLE. Acts states that the Beroeans "searched the scriptures daily to see if these things are so."

The Beroeans take subjects from Biblical sources, discuss and investigate them. They do not attempt, as a group, to make decisions, but leave that to the individual. A definite theme is not followed in their weekly discussions, but they follow topics which the students are interested in.

Professors at MTSC host the group at different times. The Beroeans meet, travel to the professor's home in cars where they have their regular meeting and are served refreshments. The president of the group is Amelia Parkam and the Secretary is Geneva Reed. December 4, the Beroeans will sponsor the Christian Center Chorus.

Yankee, Dick Schoonman, Plays Role of Southern General, "Blue Raider"

Dick Schoonman, a Senior from Quaker Hill, Conn., serves as the well-known "Blue Raider" of MTSC.

The "Blue Raider" was actually General Nathan Bedford Forrest who acquired this nickname because of his many fearless raids on the Union or "Blue" lines during the Civil War. The conception of the "Blue Raider" as MTSC's mascot came about two years ago, and Dick has portrayed the "Raider" both of these years. In the spring of '63 a student will be chosen to represent the "Raider" next year. The "Blue Raider" represents many outstanding qualities actually found in Gen. Forrest—honor, loyalty, courage, integrity, and "stick-to-it-tive-ness."

The "Raider" stands before the Student Body as a unifying symbol to MTSC and as a builder of high goals.

Not only does Dick lead an unusual life as the "Blue Raider," but he also has an interesting personal life. He is Publicity Director and Reporter for Pi Kappa Delta, a national Honorary Fraternity on campus. He also has the Degree of Honor, Duel Order of Oratory and Debate in this Fraternity. He is a member of the Die Deutschen Komraden, a German Club, and BSU. He was Committee Chairman for the Booster Club float. Dick has been an active member of both the Chorus and Buchanan Players in the past.

Dick, who is majoring in economics, math, and Pre-Med, will enter Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, N. C. after graduation to further his training in the field of anesthesiology. Then, upon the completion of this study he will go into the field of administration.

This 1960 transfer from Mitchell Junior College in Connecticut enjoys mountain climbing, spelunking, horseback riding, and sailing; and upon graduation this spring he plans to tour Europe.

Not only has Dick's college record here been outstanding, but his previous accomplishments are of interest. He was hired out of high school by the U. S. Navy Underwater Sound Laboratory as a student trainee in Physics. He worked for a year in the government program as part of a research team. Then he attended North Eastern University in Boston, Mass., for his freshman year and Mitchell Junior College in Connecticut for his sophomore year. He worked two years with the Smithsonian Observatory in setting up a tracking station for the U. S. satellite program. This station after

Presenting Wilder's "Our Town" The Same Old Stuff's Still Going On

With apologies to Thornton Wilder
By A. W. Powell

Immortal pieces of literature, such as Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," need to be kept alive by bringing them up to date occasionally. If the play were to be rewritten for 1962, it might go something like this:

STATE MANAGER: The name of the town is Washington, D. C. — just across the Maryland state line. It's a nice town, y'know what I mean? Nobody remarkable ever come out of it s'far as we know. We're just plain simple folk here, and we can't claim to be nothing more than just another town along Route No. 1.

I better show you around a bit. That large white house over there is the home of the Kennedy family. They've rented it for four years with an option for another four. Not that they couldn't buy it, but it's just that the owners wouldn't sell. The Kennedys are kind of important around here, since they're the only family in town that owns a pony. That's their daughter Carolyn out for a ride now.

Over there on the hill is what folks in our town call the Capitol. Not too much been happening there recently. You can hear a lot of yelling and screaming from the Hill, though most people round here have learned not to pay too much attention to it by now.

Well, as I said, it's early morning and people are just starting to go to work. There's Lyndon, just got back from a trip. Hi, Lyndon How'd Ladybird like Afghanistan?

LYNDON: Jus' fine! Jus' fine.

STATE MANAGER: As you can see there's nothing uppity about the people in our town. Over there, that building with the right fancy lay out, folks around here call it the Pentagon. Lot of excitement goin' over there recently. Lot of furriners got 'em all stirred up. Let's wander over there and see what's goin' on now. Hi General, What's new?

GENERAL: Nothing much. Just moving some troops around in Student Bowlers Vie for Trophies

By Joan Bates

The "Raider Rollers," MTSC Bowling League is in full swing now with 14 teams participating.

These teams bowl every Monday afternoon and compete in individual and team competition. Last week the top scorers were Jack Willoughby from the Canal Zone with 214 and Nancy McMillan from Chattanooga with 160.

Richard Waterman of Cranford, New Jersey, leads the league by serving as chairman and Maurine Martin is league secretary.

Trophies are given to the highest average bowler, the best display of sportsmanship, and best team effort at the end of the school year.

The teams and their respective captains are as follows: Holy Rollers, Ross Sanders; Ten Pins, Carl Roach; Taps, Gene Ezell; Hi Hatters, Nancy McMillan; Strikers, Gill Gibson; Spots, Vivian Millsap; Goldbricks, Jim Barnes; Tins, Shelia Lanier; Smiths-Minus-One, Nan Piercy; Ailey Cats, Jerry Buchanan; Yankees, Louis Luethold; Foreigners, John Haley; Strike-outs, Margaret Reid.

Asia, sending a few ships down around Cuba, writing some nasty notes to Mr. "K", planting some missile sites in Alaska and keeping tabs on armored cars in Berlin.

STATE MANAGER: Well have fun, General. Well, things are starting to buzz over around the State Department now. Howdy there, Dean! See you got a little mail this morning!

DEAN: Same "old stuff" Notes on disarmament from you know who, threats from Cuba, South Viet Nam, North Korea, Communist China, India, Laos and Algeria. . . not to mention DeGaulle. Nothing ever seems to change around here.

STATE MANAGER: Well, that's what I've been telling you folks. People around here have the same problems as people everywhere. Well, let's skip a few hours and go over and invite one of our senators for lunch. Senator, What's on the docket for today?

SENATOR: Well, I have it on reliable information that the Russians have sneaked five aircraft carriers and two Sputniks to Cuba last week. I'll like to say that I think this is the most dangerous stage —

STATE MANAGER: Well, thank's Senator. We have to be moving along. I see Billie Sol over by the grain elevator. Billie Sol don't live in our town, but recently he's been a pretty frequent visitor. He farms a little out in Texas. Hello, Billie Sol, plantin' any cotton this year?

BILLIE SOL: Shucks, no. Bad year for cotton planting. Right now,

I'm figgerin' on layin' off farmin' for about ten years and just takin' it easy in some place that's sort of private-like.

STATE MANAGER: Good idea, Billie Sol. No sense killing yourself with taxes what they are.

We got a few furriners in our town too. There's Serge Orlov, a Russian fellow. Lives over in the embassy section. Hello, Serge, What are you doing today.

SERGE: Oh, just doing a little spy-ing.

STATE MANAGER: Well, Serge, there is a real quiet fellow. Nothing uppity about him. Here comes our public prosecutor. Hello, Bobby: What's new down to the courthouse?

BOBBY: Nothing much. Anti-trust suits, integration problems, Jimmy Hoffa, kidnappings, bank holdups, gambling cases, espionage, and my kid brother, Teddy's election. Hardly enough to keep me busy. Figger I might kinda take another trip around the world.

STATE MANAGER: There's one of our nine judges. Hello, Earl. Anybody you plannin' on impeachin' today?

EARL: Haven't picked up my mail yet. I've been over at the public school, prayin' with the kids.

STATE MANAGER: Well, it's gettin' on toward bedtime. There's a party goin' on over to the Peace Corps and the Kennedys are having Leonard Bernstein and the Philharmonic Orchestra in for a quiet evening at home. Outside that most people in our town are tucked in after another uneventful day.

BOOK REVIEW

Tragedy Children Pictured To Challenge Americans

Children of Calamity

Author: John C. Caldwell

Let's read more.—This book is about children, but not the kind of children the majority of Americans think of when children are mentioned. These children are not the happy fun-loving youngsters who have three good substantial meals each day, and a nice comfortable home and family to enjoy; but these are the children who have to suffer the results of war and catastrophe.

Children are the greatest national treasure, longed for and cherished by their families and communities. Children are the hope for human survival. After war, however, this great treasure is often wasted. These children are lost, unwanted, lonely, and desperate. They roam the streets of cities and they live a life of innocent crime. Most of them are orphaned by war, many of them were fathered by soldiers who deserted them or do not even know of their existence.

Whatever the reason for being, these children exist. They are in our world without their own wish or will and they struggle for life upon our globe.

Here is a book for parents, for religious people, and for all people, and for all people of conscience who can see that here is an aspect of the world's difficulties in which they as individuals can really give help. This book makes it clear that all must work together to correct or make better conditions which result principally from war.

It is actually hard for us to realize or understand the life of these mixed-blooded children who are unwanted and not sufficiently provided for. Many of them do not know what it is to go to bed at night with a full stomach, or to be loved by parents. All they know is the misery, the hunger and unhappiness which have filled their young lives.

So many people today are worried about communism, and it is understandable that they are; but what are the majority doing about it? Communism begins here in these countries where conditions are so bad. They tell the people of great changes that will be made if they take Communism as a way of life, but the people never see these great changes and eventually find themselves under the iron hand of communism.

The only way we can help this situation is by starting with the core of the problem and providing a better life for these children. Although the American soldiers are not responsible for all the hardships of these people, we Americans must construct a better picture of the true America. We must show these people that we are not only concerned about their problem, but we are willing to help solve it by just providing food and material goods for these children, for they need something that money cannot buy—love and affection.

John C. Caldwell gives each reader of his book a challenge to help better this unfortunate situation.

Ramblin' With The Raiders

by Steve Bebb

The Raiders have finally come of age. Although MTSC won its first three games, most observers agreed that this team was in for a rough time. And rough was hardly the word. Eastern Kentucky completely humbled the Raiders behind the sharp passing of Larry Marmie. Then the Raiders played sloppily at Pensacola as the Goshawks completely dominated most of the game. Losing that game was not as bad as the loss of Louie Alford. Our quarterback situation was then in a critical state.

In the last "Sidelines" the opinion was expressed that the Raiders would progress as did Teddy Morris and Bob Kerr. The Mocs slapped the Raiders for 34-13, but MTSC fans were much happier with the outlook for the OVC Crown. This score was leading as Chatty scored with six seconds remaining in the first half and then with 30 seconds left in the game. However, the reason for the brighter picture was in that both Kerr and Morris at times demonstrated superior field generalship.

Against Florence State, MTSC looked like a champion, in defeating the Lions 33-2. After a first quarter case of fumbleitis, Morris and Kerr led the Raiders to a wide margin of victory. Every facet of the MTSC game showed flashes of brilliance. On Morris' long touchdown run, downfield blocking was extraordinary and Teddy did a beautiful job of running the ball. The outstanding play of the game was the pass thrown to Jackie Pope in the left flat in the game. Jackie sped past several would-be tacklers, leaving all his teammates behind. Jack appeared to be trapped on the Florence 20 yard line by the safetyman, but with a shrug of his shoulders he sent the safetyman sprawling unceremoniously—and then slipped in to the end zone.

Pass defense in the Florence game was much improved over the past three week's performances. The line rushed the passer more effectively than at anytime this season, and the defending backs appeared more alert than at previous times. However, I think pass defense is the real question mark of the Raiders.

In the Homecoming game against Murray State, MTSC faces one of the better OVC passers. Tony Fiowanti. If, and we will know by the time this paper is read, the Raider pass defense distinguishes itself against the Thorobreds, we can be assured of being in the thick of the OVC race to the bitter end (and we hope it isn't bitter).

Of course, there are still two big hurdles to clear in East Tennessee State College and TPI. The Bucs were the surprise team of the conference, as Jimmy Baker, the versatile quarterback, led them to the top of the baker for three weeks, but recent losses leave them in a perfect role of the spoiler.

There is no need to discuss Tech. They are always tough!
Let's go Raiders!

Typing at Random:

Two junior college transfers, Bill Martin and Larry Stewart have bolstered Coach Bill Stokes roundballers. Although they will miss a year, Ray Kemsf and Mike Milholland are two big boys who should make the Raiders an OVC contender by next season.

Most of the fans at the Florence State—MTSC game were not only at the Raiders, but also at the half-time performance of the "Band of Blue." It was the band's top performance of the year, which seemed fitting as the football team also played their best game.

Tech fans are already yelling, "We're saving up for MTSC." If they are, they've sure saved up a lot—the Eagles have captured one victory against six losses.

When the Raiders scored against Florence State, the cheering section was suddenly deluged by rolls and rolls of toilet paper. We all laughed and thought it was funny—til we got back to the dorm!!!

Blue Raiders Stop Losing Streak With 32-2 Victory Over Florence

Following the longest losing streak (East Kentucky 28-7, Pensacola Navy 14-0, University of Chattanooga 35-14) since 1952 MTSC bounded back with a slashing 32-2 victory over Florence State to climax the big "band day" October 27.

Jackie Pope and Teddy Morris, both playing their first season with the Blue, were the top performers of the game with Calvin Short, another virtual newcomer being great defensively. Pope ran for 79 yards on a pass play for a touchdown, went 14 yards on a run for another. He intercepted a pass after Florence had driven to the 27 late in the third quarter and returned it 17 yards and on three successive plays stopped Barton when he had broken through the MTSC primary and secondary defenses on the drive that took Florence to the Raider nine in the same quarter. Then he recovered a Morris fumble on the 26 that kept the third touchdown drive alive.

Teddy Morris performed with the coolness of a veteran, firing six completions for 170 yards and two touchdowns out of 10 attempts. Two of these passes went to Pope for a total of 114 yards. Morris also ran ball well, going for 49 yards in 12 carries scoring one touchdown on a 26 yard run. Glenn Donoho, the LaFayette freshman, electrified the crowd in the fading minutes of the game with a brilliant runback of a kick, which had gone 89 yards from Jackson's toe. The run was nullified by a penalty against Florence.

Fumbles were frequent with Jim Harvey, Gary Whaley, Ronnie Pierce, Pope and Boles recovering. However it was Boles fumble of the opening kickoff that gave Florence its only score (a safety) five seconds after the game began.

MTSC scoring started in the last few minutes of the first quarter when Gary Whaley recovered a Florence fumble on their 28 yard line. Morris was trapped for a 13 yard loss, a five yard penalty for one of MTSC right guard frequent offsidings put the ball back to the 46. Morris picked up 12 on a run, passed 11 to Allen and 14 to Dykes. Then with 24 seconds remaining in the quarter pitched 14 more yards to Dykes who went high among three defenders for the TD. Tony Matsuske kicked the PAT.

The second Raider score came early in the second period when a Florence attempt for a first down failed on the 26. Again the Blue drew a five yard penalty on the first play, sending the ball back to the 21 from which point Morris passed 34 yards and Pope and he scampered down the west sideline for the score. Matussek again converted.

Two quick strikes in the third quarter and ball game was iced away. After Jackson kicked only 24 yards from his end zone to the 32 Petty took five, Morris fumbled and Pope recovered for one yard, Rice picked up 13, Petty 4 and Pope when through for the score. Matussek again split the uprights.

Three minutes later Whaley intercepted Barton's pass on the 39, returned 13 and on the first play from scrimmage Ted Morris wormed his way for the touchdown. Matussek's try was slightly off to the right.

The right score came with 2:06 remaining in the game. Ronnie Pierce recovered Cleveland's donoho on the 20. Kerr passed to Donoho, Bill Hobbs took 14 more and Earl Harris, who had a previous 21 yard gain, went over from the two.

Carl Barton and Tarrie Hyche were best on the ground for Florence, while Logan's passes to Brelan and Thomas set up serious threats.

On statistics MTSC had 13 to 10 first downs, 33 yards gained to 194 but kicked weakly, averaging only 27.3 yards on four efforts. MTSC lost the ball three times on six fumbles, but recovered three of Florence four miscues.

GLOOM AT THE TOP

Oh, sure, you've been busy, what with going to classes, doing your homework, catching night crawlers, getting married—but can't you pause for just a moment and give thought to that dear, dedicated, lonely man in the big white house on the hill? I refer, of course, to the Prexy.

(It is interesting to note here that college presidents are always called "Prexy." Similarly, trustees are called "Trixie." Associate professors are called "Axy-Pixy." Bursars are called "Foxy-Woxy." Students are called "Algae.")

But I digress. We were speaking of the Prexy, a personage at once august and pathetic. He is pathetic? Well sir, consider how Prexy spends his days. He is busy, busy, busy. He talks to deans, he talks to professors, he talks to trustees, he talks to alumni. In fact, he talks to everybody except the one group who could lift his heart and rally his spirits. I mean, of course, the appealing, endearing, winsomest group in the entire college—the students.

It is the Prexy's sad fate to be forever a stranger to your laughing, golden selves. He can only gaze wistfully out the window of his big white house on the hill and watch you at your games and sports and yearn with all his tormented heart to bask in your warmth. But how? It would hardly be fitting for Prexy to appear one day at the Union, clad in an old rowing blazer, and cry gaily, "Heigh-ho, chaps! Who's for sculling?"

No, friends, Prexy can't get to you. It is up to you to get to him. Call on him at home. Just drop in unannounced. He will naturally be a little shy at first, so you must put him at his ease. Shout, "Howdy-doo, sir! I have come to bring a little sunshine into your drear and blighted life!" Then yank his necktie out of his vest and scamper goatlike around him until he is laughing merrily along with you.

Then hand him a package and say, "A little gift for you, sir." "For me?" he will say, lowering his lids. "You shouldn't have."

"Yes, I should," you will say, "because this package is a carton of Marlboro Cigarettes, and whenever I think of Marlboro, I think of you."

"Why, hey?" he will say curiously.

"Because Marlboros have taste, and so do you," you will reply.

"Aw, go on," he will say, blushing furiously.

"It's true," you will say. "Moreover, Marlboro has a filter, and so do you."

"In my swimming pool, you mean," he will say.

"Yes," you will say. "Moreover, Marlboro has a soft pack, and so do you."

"My limp leather brief case, you mean," he will say.

"Yes," you will say. "Moreover, the Marlboro box has a flip-top, and so do you."

"But I don't have a flip-top," he will say.

"But you will," you will say. "Just light a Marlboro, and taste that tasty taste, and you will surely flip your top."

Well sir, you will have many a good chuckle about that, you may be sure. Then you will say, "Goodbye, sir, I will return soon again to brighten your lorn and desperate life."

"Please do," he will say. "But next time, if you can possibly manage it, try not to come at four in the morning."

HIGH POINTS OF HOMECOMING VICTORY

Jackie Pope breaks away from an attempted shoestring tackle to rack up a long gain against the THOROUGHBREDS.

Charlie Rice gets through four Murray defenders and falls into the endzone to score a touchdown for the Raiders.

Raiders Show Poise, Finesse; Stomp Thoroughbreds 22-6

Demonstrating tremendous poise and finesse the MTSC offense rolled for 430 yards, three touchdowns, a field goal and two extra points while a determined Raider defense confined Murray to 35 yards on the ground and 168 yards passing in a 23-6 home-coming victory Saturday.

The Raiders exploded on the second play from scrimmage when Ted Morris hit George Dykes with a pass from the Raider 32 to the Murray 40 and Dykes rolled for the score. Matusek converted. With 2:45 remaining in the first period Tony Matusek hoisted a wobbly 28 yard field goal to give the Raiders a 10-0 quarter advantage.

Early in the second quarter Woodall recovered Morris' fumble on the Raider 46. Fioravanti passed 6 yards to Jackson and then lifted a 38 yard heave to Chapman who was pushed by Rice on the two. Cheaney went around left end for the score. Fioravanti's try for two points was no good. Late in the half Rice took White's 41 yard kick on the Raider 27, raced back 6 yards, picked up 18 more on a burst up the middle and then alternating with Grammer, Petty, Pope and Harris Morris moved the ball with brilliant quarterbacking to the 21 where he caught Allen on the ten, from which spot Allen moved to the TD. Matusek converted to give the Raiders a 17-6 halftime advantage.

In the third quarter MTSC dominated play, having two drives halted by penalties. Finally the Blue drove 61 yards in 9 plays, (aided by a 15 yard penalty) to send Rice over on a 10 yard scamper with 39 seconds to go in the quarter. In the fourth quarter the Raider worked down to the Murray 13 where Crafton intercepted a Morris pass in the end zone. In the closing minutes a 36 yard return of a kick carried the ball to the Thoroughbred 32 where Kerr engineered Geary, Harris, Hobbs and Donoho to the five yard line where time ran out.

Charlie Rice had his best afternoon, running six times for 62 yards. Earl Harris gained 45 yards on six carries. Teddy Morris ran for 41 yards net and completed 8 of 16 passes for 165 yards, falling only three yards short of the vaunted Tony Fioravanti who passed 23 times, completing 15 for 168 yards.

The Raiders made 23 first downs to 13 for Murray. Pique and Morris recovered fumbles. MTSC drew 69 yards in penalties, Murray 45. White for Murray out kicked Kerr of MTSC averaging 45 yards on five kicks to 34 for Kerr.

Kenny Named Captain Of Raider Rifle Team

Cadet Corporal David Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Kenny, Murfreesboro, has been named Captain of the 1962-1963 Raider Rifle Team. Cadet Kenny, a sophomore, was a member of last years team and is one of the teams top scorers. Cadet Kenny will be assisted by Cadet Corporal Terry Bush and Mr. James Arnold, the newly named co-captains.

Cadet Corporal Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Bush, Murfreesboro, will begin his second year as a member of the team.

Mr. Arnold, son of Mrs. C. V. Arnold of Anington, Tenn., not presently a member of the ROTC, will begin his third year of firing for the Raider Rifle Team.

The team began the 62-63 season against Florence State College, last week, with the home team losing by a score of 1364 to 1386. The leading gunners for MTSC were J. T. Bush of Murfreesboro, with 278, P. T. O'Conner of Chattanooga with 276, R. W. Tucker of Murfreesboro, with 272, L. E. Payne of Murfreesboro, with 271 and W. E. Smith of Murfreesboro, with 267.

Tryouts for the 62-63 Raider Rifle Team were held October 1 thru the 16th, with a record turn out of approximately 100 students. Out of this group, thirty (30) were selected as prospective members of the team.

Returning from last years team are: J. W. Arnold, T. M. Baskin, J. T. Bush, D. R. Kenny, J. W. Miles, P. B. O'Conner, L. E. Payne, J. R. Rowell, F. D. Roe. These members will comprise a portion of the first team which will consist of 11 men, the remainder of which will be new top firing members.

New members participating on this years team are: T. R. Cook, C. Deardorff, W. A. Eudailey, Philip Fulcher, T. A. Gossage, M. C. Green, C. T. Harper, J. A. Jacobs,

Drill Team March In Local Parades

Almost any afternoon anyone passing by Forrest Hall, will be able to watch the Sam Davis Drill Team practicing the parade and exhibition movements for which they are well known.

The drill team also takes part in local parades and exhibitions. Already this year the drill team has performed at Smyrna High School, homecoming, and will march in two Christmas parades in this area. One of the highlights of the year for the Sam Davis drill team is the part they play in homecoming ceremonies. They lead the homecoming parade in the morning, perform at the pregame ceremonies, and form an honor guard for the queen at half-time.

The men who make up the drill team are freshmen and sophomores who are enrolled in basic ROTC: however, the commander is a junior enrolled in the advanced ROTC program.

The commander of the Sam Davis drill team is Cadet Master Sergeant Michael O'Bryan who is a junior from Springfield, Tennessee, majoring in chemistry. The Platoon Sgt. for this year is SFC Harold Bone, who is a sophomore from Nashville. The team is composed of the following men: William Sewell, Jack Vanatta, Kenneth Franks, Robert Hoskins, Doug Williams, Mark Niggler, Doyle Boyd, Phil Hemquest, Joseph Meshotto, Wayne Hawksmith, Don Crowder, John Burdick, Joseph Sarsfield, Bill Moore, Kim Lord, Harmut Fege, Ken Burnette, Richard Hewett, Charles Farley, Bill Warner, Mike Cotter, Bobby Darnell, Richard Rowlett, James Mullins, Gary Woodward, Sam Morton, James Murray, Mitchael Lesnansky, Lynn Dugan, George Briggance, Tony Zimmerman, John Seagroves, Robert Griffen, William Steele, Don Bridges, Thomas Giles, and Ty Gordon.

R. A. Johnson, J. R. Malone, D. P. Meredith, W. F. Rice, W. E. Smith, R. D. Street, J. D. Simmons, James Sanders, R. W. Tucker and John Whitaker.

Shoulder matches have been scheduled between MTSC and Murray State, Columbia Military Academy, Vanderbilt, Chattanooga and TPI. Postal matches are scheduled with West Virginia State, University of Tenn., East Tenn. State, North Carolina State, Wake Forest College, Layola College and Westminster College. The Raider Rifle team will also participate in the Tenn. Invitational Small Bore match.

Although the team is presently made up of personnel from the ROTC Group, all regularly enrolled enrolled male students are eligible for the team. Any interested personnel may contact SFC Findley at the ROTC Arms Room.

Halloween And Homecoming Highlights Dorm Activities

SOUTH MONOHAN

By Marcia Emmert

Well, things sure have been busy down here on the southern front lately—dorm elections, homecoming activities, parties, and boys! Yet with all this some girls have even found time to redecorate the bathrooms. I hear the new trend in interior decorating is known as the "rolled" look. Charlene Coker liked it so much that she had her room redone in the new style.

The dorm elections caused much excitement — and a shortness of paper! Campaign posters covered every available inch of space; there was even one inside the candy machine! Officers elected were Fran Cason, President; Khris Strahley, Vice President; Earlene Erwin, Secretary; Judy Lewis, Treasurer; Ronnie Lavan, Song Leader. Emily Nickelson had the honor of being elected freshman class beauty. Southern charm pays off.

Attention: girls, don't be alarmed if you hear Mrs. Riddle calling David over the loud speaker. Investigators aren't sure of David's identity yet, but the most logical explanation is that he is the janitor.

NOTICE: to all girls, be careful what you say in the halls, especially when you're near the intercom. I have inside information that certain boys have been listening over it and have heard some very interesting conversations!

Carolyn Alfred and Carol Anne Jones now have a new adornment for their lamp. It seems it's something like a gear-shift knob off of "something liken unto a Hawk?"

NOTICE: to all believers in witches, ghosts, and the Great Pumpkin, a Mad Knocker is haunting the second floor. Traps and ambushes have been laid to discover her identity, but all efforts have been in vain. Be wary of repeated knocks on your door; whatever it is may be dangerous!

Donations are being taken for poor Martha Young. It seems after she took a shower one night, she discovered that her clothes had disappeared. This mysterious phenomenon must be contagious; it spread to Pat Harris's room the same week and may strike any college girl.

THIRD FLOOR

By Joan Bates

Occupants of third floor honor wing of South Monohan would like to be sure the boys get the telephone number straight. It appears that one of the boys' dorms has a number in reverse order of the girl's phone number. This causes considerable confusion for a boy to call Trallis May at the boy's dorm. The phone number has been further jinxed by being listed as one of North Monohan's telephone numbers. TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN—BOYS, the third floor number is 893-9680.

The girls at their floor meeting voted to participate in the South Main Monohan dorm meetings and as a result two of them received dorm offices. These are secretary Sandra Locke and song leader Gail Clark.

By the way, honor sure comes in handy doesn't it Carolyn! In Dr. Prescott's biology class, the time came to review for an upcoming examination. Dr. Prescott asked the class if they knew how to tell the difference in the sex of chromosomes. Carolyn answered, "Pull down its genes." It really happened.

NORTH MONOHAN

By Carolyn Hale

I know our readers missed us in the last Sidelines edition, so we're making our debut this week. Reporting are those settled-down, mature upperclassmen from North Monohan.

First we'd like to welcome our new house mother, Mrs. McCullar. We're so sorry that she had to be initiated with sirens, policemen, and fire engines. She survived the crisis with only a minor headache.

The officers for this year include president Ann Petty, vice-president Boo Lynch, and secretary Mary Helen McDaris.

We'd like to extend a welcome to the transfer students living in our dormitory. They are Carol Derryberry from Women's College in Georgia, Linda Arncy from University of Chattanooga, Janet Grey from University of Tennessee, Windy Smuth from Martin College, and Margaret Danglely from Dunlap College.

We are very proud of the celebrities in our dorm. Newly elected Cheerleaders are Gail Beasley, Joyce Sherril, Faye Bloodworth, and Nancy Devers. Carolyn Ball is now in her third year as head majorette, and Carolyn Callis is entering her third year as feature twirler for the Band of Blue.

Congratulations are in order for the newly engaged girls—Janice Abernathy to Freddie Smith, Gail DeBusk to Charlie Mac Patten, Betty Neal to Phillip Dotson, and Betty Pelletteri to Danny Neal.

NORTH LYON

By Brenda Grubbs

Halloween gave many of our girls an opportunity to display their artistic abilities. Thanks to Dianne Sergeant and Patsy Spenser for creating our witch, which stood in the lobby entrance to greet the girls and their dates as they came in. Bet that witch could tell a few things if it could talk!

Dianne Dorris, one of our monitors, says good-bye today to Tony Hackney. Tony was one of the many boys who were drafted during the Cuban crisis.

Our congratulations go to Libby Young who received an engagement ring a couple of weekends ago. By the way Libby, wasn't that shower just absolutely "breath-taking."

Hey girls, if someone tells you a joke and you don't quite get it, just go to Jane Nasty (rather Jane Hasty-typographical error!) in room 236. I hear that she offers free interpretations.

Few girls have the honor of being brought home by two fellows, but Janell Golden seems to be one of those few. Did you say they were your cousins, Janell? Now don't you think that story is a little old?

Girls who lock themselves out of their rooms are usually given demerits, but who can give our house mother demerits? Better watch yourself, Mrs. Bowden. As you say so often, "Just don't let it happen again!"

LYON

By "Perky" Gregory

Lyon Hall has been in a mad rush these past two weeks getting ready for home-coming. It seems the decorations are going to be extremely good and we're going to get everyone out and win the prize.

Last week I was honored at a surprise birthday party along with a friend, Elinor Brandon, by some girls from both Old and North Lyon. Elinor and I sincerely thank every one of them.

Carolyn Champion would like to express her appreciation to all the girls in Lyon who gave money for the flowers used in her mother's funeral.

It seems we have our own Halloween characters running around on second floor. The leader of the witches, Carol Burkhardt, is across the hall, and every night she flies down the hall on her broom, rattled hair and all!

We are honored by having in our dorm a girl who is both a "Freshman Beauty" and an R.O.T.C. sponsor. Her name is Pat Mudd, and everyone in the dorm wishes to congratulate this lovely girl because she really deserved the honors.

Well, so long from all us witches and goblins in Lyon Hall. See you next issue.

SOUTH LYON

By Sandras, Millsaps and Wynne

"Trick or treat" cried 30 girls as they bounded into our room Oct. 31. The occasion was our Halloween party given for the wonderful (and quiet) girls on the basement floor of South Lyon. Also, attending the party were three out-of-floor guests, Mrs. Phifer of 1st floor, and Fredia Jones and Ann Collier of 3rd floor. After investigating the smallest jack-o-latern in the dorm, the girls settled back to add a few pounds.

South Lyon now has two new residents. Believe us, we know!! We even gave up our room for them and slept in the lobby one night last week. These new residents have four legs each, a long tail, a pointed head, and they are both grey in color. You guessed it, it's Mickey and Minnie Mouse!!

Birthday wishes go to Judy Tidwell who was honored with a birthday party and a "flaming" cake on October 25. It seems one of the candles was a little short. Congratulations go to Gail Marks, who was elected Freshman Homecoming Attendant, and Sandra Wynne, who was elected a Sophomore Class Beauty.

South Lyon is very fortunate in having Georgia and James as its maid and janitor. Not only do they keep our dorm spotless, but they are always there when help is needed. Georgia never fails to have a nickle when the coke machine won't take a dime, and you're dying of thirst.

Are you troubled, down-in-the-dumps, tired of the life you're living? Do you need a solution for all your woes? Then come to Room 022 and ask for Advisor, Extraordinary, Sandra Millsaps. She guarantees an answer, but not always the right one. It seems that she has been doing a thriving business lately!!! Right girls?

Living in South Lyon can really so-called resident here might find a bathtub stopper in the phone booth being used as a receiver, water gushing under their door at midnight, or two girls sitting in your locked room when you have the only key. Anything can happen in new S.L.H. Just ask Patty Martin, Sharon Barrett, Brenda Pylant, Mildred Davis, or Carol Harris.

South Lyon also seems to be a popular visiting place for the Jones Hall Shopping Center boys. Right Freddy, Joe, Doug, and Jerry? By the way boys, you are supposed to be locked out of the dorm, not in it.

RUTLEDGE HALL

By Julia Crowell

Strange things have been going on in Rutledge Hall. Barbara Calvert thinks open toe shoes are in style, but with all us mice running around she had better watch her big toe. Seriously, we hope she feels better soon.

If anyone happens to drop in to Rutledge for a visit they would probably think they had fallen into a bee hive, the way everyone is zuzzing around. Most of the Rutledge busy bees will be staying in the apiary for homecoming.

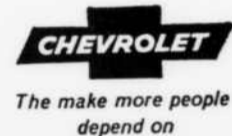

Everyone is so excited, working on floats, getting things ready for the dorm decorations, and everything else that goes with homecoming. We mice will sure have to dodge feet this week.

From what I heard about the dorm decorations Rutledge sure is going to have a good one. The girls on the decorating committee are: Suzanne Lee, Amilia Parham, Mary Steiner, Anne Carroll, Nancy Milligan, Brenda Graham, Mary Jo Thomason, Roseann Cromarty, and Brenda Talley. With the help of all the other girls in Rutledge I'm sure there will be a nice display.

The costume Miss for the Buchanan Players Production "Life With Father," is a resident of Rutledge Hall. I'm sure that Ann Keister will do a good job with this assignment.

Comfort, silence and luxury to challenge any car from anywhere

There's a lot underneath the beauty of the '63 Chevrolet. Its roomy, comfortable Body by Fisher screens out noise and shock. There's instant response in a choice of 6- or 8-cylinder engines, a host of refinements to make it run and look like new longer, and plenty more that make it hard to believe it's a low-priced car. But your Chevrolet dealer can prove it!

GO Jet-smooth '63 CHEVROLET-IT'S EXCITING!

1963 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan shares its carefree Jet-smoothness with the new Bel Air and Biscaynes!

Ask about "Go with the Greats," a special record album of top artists and hits and see four entirely different kinds of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's—'63 Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair and Corvette
