VOICE OF MTSC, THE COLLEGE OF INDIVIDUAL OPPORTUNITY

Vol. 35 — No. 14

Middle Tennessee State College, Murfreesboro, Tennessee

Wednesday, May 2, 1962

Nine MTSC Coeds Will Compete In Miss Murfreesboro Pageant

Nine MTSC coeds will compete in the 1962 Miss Murfreesboro Pageant at Central High School, Saturday, May 12. The official preliminary to the Miss America Pageant will begin at 7 p.m.

According to Dick Hartley, chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored event, this year's pageant will be one of the biggest ever staged in this city. There will be twelve senior contestants trying for the Miss Murfreesboro title, and thirty-one "Tiny Tots" (ages 5-7) competing for Little Miss Murfreesboro.

MTSC will be represented by Charlene Coker, Bernice Nabors, Lucille McGlohon, Linda Gilmore, Faye Sawyer, Priscilla Griggs, Margie Patterson, Sandra Wynne, and Julia Ann Hollis.

Charlene Coker, a freshman from Gallatin, will present a modern dance act in the pageant. She has had three years special training in dance, and was a majorette for seven years at Gallatin. She is also a majorette at MTSC, and displays talent in gymnastics. She was first runner-up as Miss Sumner County Fair.

Bernice Nabors is a sophomore from Hixson. While attending Hixson High School, she was a cheerleader for three years, a member of the Beta Club, Yearbook staff, was Senior Beauty, and Miss Hixson High School. She has special training in piano, and plans a modern dance routine for the pageant.

Miss McGlohon is a sophomore physical education major from Chattanooga. At Chattanooga Central High, she was Military Queen, a candidate for Miss Central, and a member of the varsity Glee Club for four years. In 1960, she was selected Miss Air Force Ambassador of Chattanooga, and was also a finalist in the Miss Chattanooga Pageant. At MTSC, Lucille is an ROTC sponsor, a member of the PE Club, and BSU. Her special training in music includes four years piano and two years voice. She will sing "Can't Help Loving That Man" in the pageant.

Linda Gilmore, a freshman from Bell Buckle, is the sister of Miss Murfreesboro of 1961, Emily. She was Dairy Princess of Bedford County last year, and was first runner-up in the 1961 Miss Bedford County Pageant. As her talent, Linda will present a song and dance routine.

Miss Sawyer is a junior from Tullahoma and has over three years of special training in modern dance. She was runner-up in "Hair Dressers" Beauty Contest, and her hobbies include dancing, reading, and swimming. She was an ROTC

Music Department Gives Band, Chorus Concerts

Two more annual spring events are being prepared by members of the music department, according to Neil Wright, department head. They are the oratorio and the Starlight Band Concert.

The band's Starlight Concert will be given on the lawn in front of the Fine Arts building at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 14, under the direction of Horace Beasley and Joseph Smith. The program will include classical arrangements, show tunes, marches, and television numbers.

The college chorus was presented in concert last Sunday, in the Administration building auditorium. Sunday, May 13, at 4 p.m. the annual oratorio will be staged. Both programs are under the direction of Mr. Wright.

A total of 86 singers participated in the choral concert. Numbers ranged from sacred songs such as "God of Our Fathers," featuring a trumpet trio composed of Nolan Barham, Linda Davis, and Bobby Dodson, to show tunes such as "Oklahoma!" Other selections highlighted a women's trio which includes Ann Turner, Julia Hollis, and Elizabeth Merritt, and vocal soloists Nolan Barham and Pat Porterfield. Mary Scott, organist, and Margaret Wright, pianist, were accompanists for the concert.

"Gloria," by Antonio Vivaldi, and "Messe Solemelle," by Charles Gounod, will be sung on the oratorio program.

Joanna Kemper, Norma Shelton Bell, and Miss Turner are featured soloists in the former work, which also features a duet by Miss Turner and Miss Hollis. A trio composed of Miss Porterfield, James Bell, and Mr. Barham will be presented during the performance of "Messe Solemelle."

Engineers Plan Field Trip Study

MTSC's Engineering Society is now in the process of planning a field trip to further advance their study of engineering outside the classroom.

Speakers, George Matthews of General Electric and Henry Huddleston of Huddleston Engineering Co., films on the field of engineering, and discussions on the different phases of engineering have made the programs for the meetings this year.

Officers of the society are Gary Brown, president; Tom Arnette, vice-president; and Charles Scott, secretary and treasurer.

New Reorganization Policies Announced

Dr. Quill E. Cope has announced details of the reorganization of the college departments into four schools to become effective September 1, 1962.

Dr. Cope has named Wilmoth B. Bowdoin to direct the School of Education. Dr. Bowdoin had previously been head of the department of education. He will be succeeded by Dr. Sam H. Ingram of Memphis State University as head of the Department of Education.

Dr. Clay Tucker of the department of English has been named Director of the School of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Howard G. Kirksey, Dean of the Faculty will combine these duties with that of Director of the Graduate School.

The School of Applied Sciences which will include the departments of agriculture, business and industrial arts will continue to function as departments until a director of this school is designated, Dr. Cope stated.

In his announcement Dr. Cope also designated Dr. John Patten, who was named head of the department of biology several months ago, to continue as head of that department.

Dr. Wilmoth Bowdoin is a native of Geneva County, Ala. and attended public schools there. His college education includes a B.S. Degree, Troy State College, Troy Ala. M.A. Degree (1946), George Peabody College; and Ph.D. Degree (1950), George Peabody College.

Dr. Bowdoin has served as a teacher and principal in the public schools of Alabama. He joined the staff of MTSC in 1948. He became Director of Student Teaching in 1951 of the Department of Education in 1954. He belongs to numerous professional organizations, has been active in civic affairs of the community, and has served as the college representative on the State Curriculum Committee for several years. He is a deacon in the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Bowdoin is supervisor of instruction in the Murfreesboro Public Schools.

Dr. Clay Tucker graduated from high school at Pulaski, Tennessee. During the next two years he attended TPI at Cookeville and Marion Military Institute, Marion, Alabama. Upon graduation from the junior college department at Marion, Dr. Tucker entered the U. S. Naval Academy where he received his Bachelor of Science degree.

Martin Has Top Post In Vets' Club

Officers elected by the Veterans Club at Middle Tennessee State College for the school year 1962-63 are as follows: Norman Martin, commander; James Kent, vice-officer; Virgil Davis, adjutant; James Bond, finance officer; and Homer Layne, sergeant-at-arms.

Martin has been active in the Vets Club for the past two years and in addition has served the entire student body this year as Justice of the Supreme Court. He is a business major from Columbia.

James Kent, a biology major from Lebanon is well known to MTSC since he was attached as an ROTC instructor on this campus.

Virgil Davis, Savannah, a political science major served as successful campaign manager in Bob Truman's ASB president's race in the recently completed election.

James Bond, Lebanon is an accounting major. Homer Layne a math major from Gurethi, completes the slate of officers.

Teachers' Exam Planned

Dr. James A. Martin, Director of Guidance and Testing, announced this week that the National Teachers Examination will be administered at Middle Tennessee State College in a special testing session June 30.

Anyone interested in taking these tests should contact Dr. Martin before June 1, the deadline set for applications to be submitted.

Award Aided By Circle K

By Tommy Oliphant

The Circle K Club of MTSC has aided Circle K International in a recent award given to them by the Freedom Foundation. Circle K International, for the second straight year has been awarded the George Washington Honor Medal for its college campus citizenship program in 1961.

The distinguished National and School Awards Jury of the Freedom Foundation selected Circle K International for its achievement in promoting active citizenship by helping to bring about a better understanding of the American and Canadian way of life. This exemplifies the Circle K 1961 theme, "Emphasize Active Citizenship."

President Stan Hawkins said that Circle K's work in promoting active citizenship by participating in service projects on the campus was singled out for praise by the Freedom Foundation.

This award enjoys the same prestige in the community service field that the "Oscar" does in the motion picture industry and the "Emmy" of the television world. It is an honor which previously has not been given to a college service organization.

Martha Lynch Gets Vandy Scholarship

Martha Lynch, MTSC forensic team member for the past four years, has accepted a full scholarship from Vanderbilt University in speech pathology with a graduate minor in audiology, beginning September 1, according to Lane Boutwell, head of the speech division at MTSC.

Miss Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lynch of Watertown has an outstanding record in debate and forensic activity at the college. She also had an offer of a fellowship at the University of Oklahoma.

She will do her work in the Bill Wilkerson Center in co-operation with the Vanderbilt Medical School. The grant carries full tuition leading to the Master's degree with a $1,200 subsistence allowance for a 12 month period.

Bob Says Thanks!

To the Student Body, MTSC:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to you, the Student Body, for the confidence and trust placed in me in my recent election to the position of president of our Associated Student Body. It is my deepest desire and intent to devote a greater part of my time next year to working toward the accomplishment of many things. For the past few years, and particularly under the leadership of Charlie Harrell this year, a precedent has been set which I hope to reach and surpass. But only through the cooperation of each of you can we make next year the biggest and best yet. I am ready and willing to work with you and for you, and I hope you are ready and willing to work with me—for MTSC. I firmly believe that if we, the students, will work together, then 1962-63, our 51st year, will be a most successful year.

To The Flower Growers (Particularly Here)

It could not be easy,
In a world
Of hurrying feet
(Whose impatient
Guides regard
The earth as
A dirty conveyor Belt).
To stop the motors
Of the people
And say,
"Now look here
At your conveyor —
I've grown flowers
In it for you."

A Scientist

A Scientist is one who lives in hope
Of seeing God beneath a microscope;
The Logos, he believes, could be explained
If he could only get a segment stained.
He stares and stares and has a glimpse or two
Of something which in time should give a clue.
It never does. It always just eludes
Analysis. He's patient, but he broods.

—A. W. Powell

Begone!

The world has no vision in a jungle;
Those obstacles of nature must be turned under.
The single oak is as a giant forest
If the transit view is impeded . . .
So with the pace of lightning
And the force of thunder
Down with each illicit number!

College Library's Busy; Students Write Papers

By Joan Bates

Freshmen have been busy slaving over English term papers, history students over critical analyses and graduate students over theses. The library has indeed been a busy place for these students as well as others, and it is especially inviting now since it is air-conditioned.

How many students take for granted the work done by the librarians? Mrs. Catherine Clark and her assistants put out approximately 500 books each month. Each teacher is requested to fill out order cards for books desired for his department. These suggestions, along with Miss Virginia Wilkerson's own selections are then ordered from the book companies, and at the same time the Library of Congress cards are ordered from Washington, D. C.

When the books and cards arrive they must be matched. The card packets and borrower's cards are typed and pasted, together with the due slips. The ownership stamp is then stamped in six different places in each book. The book also has to be lettered. When all this is double-checked and cards put in the files, the books are ready to be checked out.

In addition to this work, books must be kept in constant repair. This work is done in the processing room for both the main reading room and the periodical room.

The main function of the librarians in the periodical room is to keep current magazines out on the shelf; see that they are filed after use and sent to the bindery; and see that vertical files are kept up to date.

Librarians at both desks have the task of keeping records of books borrowed and to levy overdue fines.

If each student were really aware of the work that goes on in the library "behind the scenes," there might be fewer lost and overdue books.

National Library Week was April 8-14, but as one of the librarians remarked, "Every week is library week."

Our library is a growing institution—use it and be proud of it!

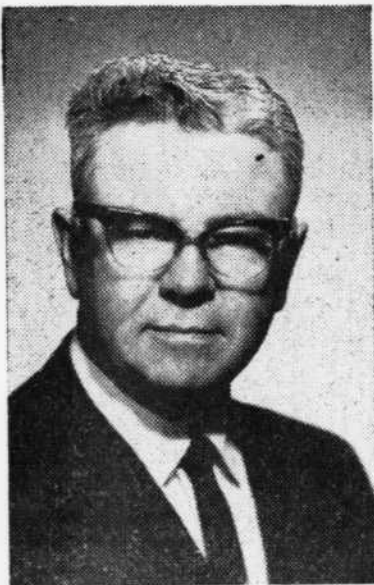

College Librarians Attend Knoxville Meet

Miss Catherine Clark, director of the college library and Tennessee Library Association president, was given exceptional recognition by the Knoxville News-Sentinel in the April 26 edition. She was pictured with Miss Ruth Ringo, immediate past president of the TLA and John F. Anderson, Knoxville city librarian, while viewing a Dogwood Festival event complementing the visiting librarians.

Attending the meeting were about 300 Tennessee librarians who heard Dr. Richard B. Davis, Miss Clark, and Dr. Andrew Holt in addresses. The theme of the 1962 meeting was "Striving for a Better-Informed Community".

Accompanying Miss Clark to Knoxville were Miss Marion Byrd, Miss Laniel Edwards and Charles McCord of the MTSC staff.

E. W. Midgett Authors New Accounting Textbook

E. W. MIDGETT

E. W. Midgett, head of the business department at Middle Tennessee State College, has received enthusiastic endorsements from many college business department leaders on his "Introduction to Accounting," which was released May 1 by the Bruce Humphries Publishers, Boston.

This 34 chapter work is designed according to Mr. Midgett, as "an exploratory course in accounting on the freshman level to help students decide whether or not they would like to undertake a serious study of the subject from a career standpoint."

It has also been written as a terminal course for general education purposes, for pre law, engineering and liberal arts students. Mr. Midgett has prepared two workbooks to accompany the text. Workbook number one contains 176 pages with all forms necessary for solving the textbook problems. Workbook number two containing 76 pages, has all forms necessary for solving three practice sets.

The need for just such a work is evident from the generous endorsements and pre-publication adoptions by several of Mr. Midgett's colleagues who have read the book in manuscript.

Mr. Midgett is a contributing co-author of a textbook on accounting published by the Pitman Company. He is a consultant for the Allied Publishing Company of Portland, Ore. and is on the Tennessee Curriculum Committee for reviewing the proposed Business Education Curriculum Guide.

Glenn Gentry, (who developed an appendix to the book containing practice sets for a sole proprietorship, a partnership and a corporation) is head of the Department of Business Administration of Austin Peay State College. He was formerly an advisor in accounting to the government of the Sudan as a United States Foreign Service Reserve Officer.

Mr. Midgett has been head of the Business Department at Middle Tennessee State College since 1939. He was a three sport athlete at Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, where he received the B.S. degree. He received the M.A. degree from the University of Kentucky and has done additional graduate work in the field of accounting. He began his teaching and highly successful coaching career at Lebanon high school, later moving to Castle Heights Military Academy and in 1939 to MTSC. He is married to the former Nell Grandstaff. They have two sons, Don, a sophomore at Vanderbilt University and Dan, a freshman at Middle Tennessee State. Both Midgett boys have enjoyed outstanding athletic careers in high school.

Library Hours Extended

The library staff has arranged for the extension of the library hours from 9 p.m. to 10 p.m. beginning May 14 and continuing through May 23.

The library will also be open on Friday night, May 18 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Pi Gamma Mu Gets 11 New Members

Pi Gamma Mu, the national honorary social science fraternity, inducted 11 neophytes into the MTSC chapter recently according to Miss Lillian Gray, sponsor. Dr. Norman Parks head of the social science department at MTSC, delivered the initiatory address.

Those scheduled for induction included Aubrey L. Blankenship, Nashville; Joe Leslie Crockett, Nashville; Russell Allen Locke, Fayetteville; Evelyn Louise McCrary, Madison; Carl H. Oldham, Hartsville; Robert W. Peddycoart, Murfreesboro; Phillip Charles Saindon, Jr., Nashville; William A. Summerford, Smyrna; Robert Pettus Hay, Rockvale; Roy Shelton, Nashville and Robert Pitts, Murfreesboro.

The society is designed for recognition of majors in the field of social science who have attained outstanding achievement.

Jane Pyle, Louie Luethold In Ed And Coed Spotlight

By Vickie McComb

At one time or other, most people have had breakfast in bed, but this MTSC student used a different method of having her breakfast in bed last year at the spring Wesley Retreat. She was not very enthusiastic when it was time to get up and go to breakfast, so some of her "most helpful" friends helped her get to breakfast by rolling her in her bed to the breakfast table.

This unforgettable incident happened to Jane Pyle, a junior from South Pittsburgh. Jane is active in several clubs; MEMC, Pi Mu Sigma, Tau Omicron, and the Wesley Church group where she has been choir director.

As a music major, Jane is active in the chorus, varsity choir, marching band, and she plays the viola in the orchestra and string quartet.

For the past five summers, she has been a life guard at a camp for retarded children in Chattanooga.

Jane plans to teach music in the public schools when she finishes at MTSC.

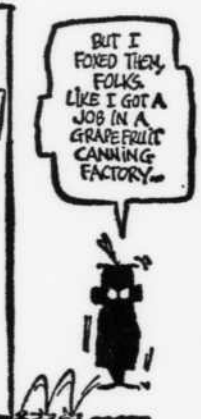

Although two of the Southerners' great characteristics are their warm hospitality and their friendliness, we admit that a Yankee can also possess these characteristics. One Yankee at MTSC Louie Luethold, from Cranford, N.J., has proved this to his many friends, and he has given us a better picture of "those people" above the Mason and Dixon Line.

Louie, a transfer from Union County Junior College, Cranford, is a junior at MTSC. He is very active in the Veterans club, and he visits the Veterans Hospital once a week to help other members of the club entertain patients.

He is a chemistry major, with a business and math minor. Louie was awarded the "most improved bowler" award for the year 1961-1962 in the MTSC Mixed College Bowling League recently.

In the summer, he enjoys coaching a Little League team in his hometown.

Jennings Gets Post

Edward L. Jennings of Liberty has been elected first vice-president of the Associated States Boards of Education at the 22nd annual convention of the National School Board Association in Louisville, Ky. He had previously served as regional vice-president of the Association.

Mr. Jennings, an alumnus of Middle Tennessee State College and the Cumberland University Law School is an attorney at Liberty and a member of the State Board of Education controlling body of the State colleges in Tennessee. He represented Governor Ellington when the college played at the Tangerine Bowl this past year.

ASB Members Attend Workshop

Four members of the Associated Student Body participated in the Southwide student government workshop in Clemson, S. C. recently.

Those attending were Charles Harrell, president of the MTSC student body; Bob Turman, president elect; Barbara Williams, treasurer, and Joyce Sherrill, vice-president elect.

Miss Martha Hampton, dean of women, accompanied the group.

Scholarships Named

Elbridge A. Stuart Scholarships have been awarded to two Middle Tennessee State College students for the 1962-63 school year. Mrs. Linda Alsup Murphy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Alsup, 724 Crestland Ave., and John Dale Alspach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Alspach, Maymont Drive are previous recipients of this scholarship.

State Historical Society Sets Two-Day Meet Here

Recognition of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of MTSC is being recognized by the Tennessee Historical Society with the holding of the first two-day meet of the Society here May 10-11.

In announcing the new departure, President Herbert Weaver of Nashville stated that, "The change will afford greater opportunity to hear papers and addresses from an increasing number of people who are doing serious study and research in Tennessee history . . . and will attract members living at a distance from Nashville who, for reasons of time and expense, have hesitated to come to a single meeting".

All sessions of the Society's meeting will be open to the public. Andrew Nelson Lytle, editor of the Sewanee Review; Joseph H. Parks, head of the history department of the University of Georgia; Ben Harris McClary, Tennessee Wesleyan College; Henry Lee Swint, Vanderbilt University; A. L. Todd, mayor of Murfreesboro; James S. Roper, Southwestern University; Homer Pittard, Middle Tennessee State College; Dr. Quill E. Cope, president of MTSC; and Robert H. White, Tennessee's State historian, will be among the distinguished speakers at the meeting.

George McCanless, attorney general of Tennessee; Enoch Mitchell, Memphis State University; James W. Lovingood, dean of the college of arts and sciences, University of Chattanooga; and Herbert Weaver, Vanderbilt, president of the Society will preside over the four sessions. Discussion leaders will include J. Milton Henry, Austin Peay State College and Ernest Hooper, MTSC.

One of the highlights of the Friday meeting will be the tour of Stone's River Battle field at three o'clock in the afternoon. Dr. Homer Pittard, Dr. W. T. Windham and Dr. Bob Womack of the MTSC faculty will be in charge of the tour.

The college will entertain with a social hour at nine o'clock Thursday evening May 10. Friday, May 11 a luncheon will be held in Dining Room B of the college and the annual dinner of the Society will be held at 6:30 Friday evening in the Tennessee Room.

"Murfreesboro and Education" will be the theme of the opening session Thursday evening. Robert H. White will read a paper on "Legislative Issues While Murfreesboro was the Capital of Tennessee" and "Educational Stepchildren: The Normals" by Dr. Homer Pittard will be the subject of another paper for the evening.

"Some Little Known But Noteworthy Tennesseans" will be the area of Friday morning study.

Papers by James Roper, "Marcus Winchester and the Earliest Weirs of Memphis"; Henry Lee Swint, Vanderbilt, "Eugene Falconnet Soldier and Inventor" and Ben Harris McClary, "The Last Beloved Woman of the Cherokees" will be read at this session.

"The Generals Disagree" will be the subject of Dr. Joseph Parks Friday luncheon address. "The True and the False Method is the Historical Novel" will be the subject of Andrew Nelson Lytle's Friday evening address. The invocation for the dinner will be by Rev. W. B. Eyster, pastor Northminister Presbyterian church of Murfreesboro. Awards by the Tennessee Historical Commission will be presented by William T. Alderson.

The officers of the Society are Herbert Weaver, president; William Waller, Nashville, vice-president; Mrs. Ruth Henley Duncan, Memphis, vice-president; Paul M. Fink, Jonesboro, vice president; Robert T. Quarles, Jr., secretary; Mrs. John Ed O'Dell, corresponding secretary and Sam M. Fleming, treasurer.

The local committee on arrangements is under direction of Dr. Robert Corlew. Others on the committee are John Dillingham, Harold N. Earthman, S. Carrol Evins, Lillian Gray, Robert E. Lasseter, Ernest Hooper, Mrs. C. Hughes Lyon, Newell S. Moore, W. B. McCash,

Zumbro On Dean's List

George Lionel Zumbro, Jr. has been placed on the Dean's list for scholastic achievement for the winter quarter at the University of Tennessee Medical school in Memphis. Mr. Zumbro is a graduate of Middle Tennessee State College and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Zumbro, Sr., 911 Grantland Ave.

He is in his second quarter of medical school after transferring from the College of Denistry at U. T. this past Christmas.

MTSC may win their first baseball championship since 1958, when they shared the title with Eastern Kentucky. This would be only the second championship in ten years for the Raiders.

In track, Murray has won the title for the last four years and it looks if they have it wrapped up again.

MTSC has won the golf championship for the last two years and is well on their way to victory this year.

Gary Head of MTSC fired a three-under par 71 to take the first round lead in the TIAC golf tournament, and then went on in record form to lead the Raiders to first place honors in Sewanee last week. Chattanooga, TPI and Sewanee were the closest contenders.

In the last three track meets MTSC has won two and lost one. In the latest meet, Western Kentucky fell victim to the Raiders by a score of 75 to 52. Maxie Boles led the Blue and White with 12 points and Junior Ward added 9 1/4 inches. Mickey Bryn was the big man of the day scoring 16 points for the Toppers. The next track outing for the Raiders will be the TIAC meet in Clarksville. MTSC is defending champion.

Bobby Tillman, former baseball and football player for MTSC is now playing catcher for Boston Red Socks. Tillman came to MTSC from Nashville Litton and played catcher on the baseball team and end on the football team.

Gene Windham, one of the finest fullbacks Middle Tennessee State has ever produced, was named head football coach for the Gallatin Green Wave. Windham has been coach at Huntland High School for the last two years.

Handsome Major James Price, left, acting PMS, pins the oak leaf on smiling Major George Regas. Major Regas was recently promoted.

Regas Gets Major Rank

The department of the army has announced the promotion of Captain George Regas, assistant professor of military science at Middle Tennessee State college, to the rank of major.

Major Regas served during World War II in the U.S. Navy as an aviation radioman. After leaving the service, he attended the University of Florida, receiving a B.S. degree in business administration and accepting a commission in the regular army in the branch of artillery.

Prior to his arrival at MTSC, Major Regas served as artillery advisor in the military assistance advisory group in Iran.

He is married to the former Kathryn Ann Smith of Jacksonville, Fla., and has two children, Mike, 17, and Carolyn, 9. He is a member of St. Pauls' Episcopal Church and currently resides at 410 Olympia Place.

'Outstanding Alumni' Receive Recognition

Three prominent Tennessee educators have been selected for the Middle Tennessee State College outstanding alumna—a recognition annually accorded three distinguished graduates of the school. Those selected for 1962 are Halbert Harvill, president of Austin Peay State College, Miss Helen Womack, superintendent of Bedford county school and Baxter Hobgood, superintendent of Murfreesboro city schools.

Recognition will be accorded those distinguished graduates at the annual alumni-faculty-senior banquet May 19 at 6:45, according to Dr. Homer Pittard, alumni secretary.

As the concluding event on the year long celebration of "Fifty Golden Years" the college will recognize the members of the two-year diploma class of 1912, the first degree class of 1926 and the members of the first Master's class of 1952. The first four persons to receive diplomas under each of the periods of the college history will be present as representatives of the first Normal class, the first B.S. degree winners; the first A.B. class and first M.A. graduates.

This culminating program of the Golden Anniversary commemoration will also honor all members of the MTSC faculty who have had 25 years service and those who have been on the faculty for 15 years or more. A suitably engraved medallion to be used as a part of the cap and gown regalia at formal processions of the college staff will be presented each of these honorees.

Miss Womack is the only woman graduate of Middle Tennessee State to be elected by popular vote to the office of county school superintendent. Miss Womack began teaching in a depression-ridden one teacher country school at a monthly salary of $55 where she was instructor, principal, janitor and counselor. Later she became principal of a two-teacher elementary school and from there moved to Shelbyville Central high where she taught in the areas of English, mathematics and social science. She first ran for county superintendent in 1951 and has been twice re-elected for four year terms. Under her leadership Bedford county has become a model for other counties of the state in the matter of consolidation, central heating, cafeteria service, sanitation, safety and economy of operation, in brick buildings for every white and colored child in the county.

Dr. Harvill, a native of Hickman county, received his B.S. degree from MTSC and the M.A. from Peabody College. He has served as classroom teacher in Hickman county, principal Lascassas high school in Rutherford county, superintendent of schools in McMinn county, college teacher, college dean, and Tennessee Commissioner of Education (1938-39) before becoming president of Austin Peay State College.

He was a high school and college athlete, later coach in high school and college, served two years in Europe in World War I, entering the Army as a private and being discharged as a second lieutenant. He volunteered for immediate service at the beginning of World War II and is a retired lieutenant colonel in the reserve.

He is a member of the Board of stewards and a Sunday school teacher at the Clarksville Methodist church and was named most outstanding senior citizen of Clarksville in 1961. He has served as Tennessee Department Commander of the American Legion in addition to working as a national committeeman of the Legion. He has held offices in several professional societies including that of president of the Tennessee College Association.

North Monohan

By Boo Lynch

Since spring is here the latest gossip heard on the sun deck is that North Monohan girls are really jumping with news. One of the biggest events on campus was the ASB election. We are proud to have Joyce Sherrill, our new ASB vice president as a member of our dorm. Congratulations Joyce.

Tuesday night it was evident that all the girls enjoyed their annual dorm picnic on the lawn. It was not a surprise to see Ross Dodd, Evelyn McCrary, Carol Robinson and Betsy Pelletieri slipping back for their fourth helping of bar-be-q.

"A camping we will go" was the theme song of Marie Carney, Faye Bloodworth, Boo Lynch and Gayle Tipps as they spent the week-end at Camp Boxwell. Sorry to hear that the girls had a hard time putting up their tents and eating their own cooking. What housewives they will make!

I can't understand what Jeannie Miller and De Johnson are trying to do concerning their weight problem? Someone told me that they are now eating five meals a day to put on a little weight.

May 26, 1962 is the big day for Linda Caruthers Hall who will be traveling to Seattle, Wash. to join her husband, Dave Hall.

Wedding bells will be ringing soon for Barbara Sexton, Sylvia Webb and Joyce Wooten who received diamonds for their left hands. Also Evelyn McCrary, Bertha Alsup and Sue Levier will become "Mrs." in the early part of the summer months. Congratulations to all of you.

Do you believe in fortune telling? If so just come up to second floor anytime after 11 p.m. and Fay Bloodworth will be more than happy to tell you all about your future plans.

Initiates to Epsilon Pi Tau were announced by O. L. Freeman and Philip Dalton, directors of the fraternity. They include: Lewis Moorer, Jr., Harold F. Barnes, James W. Coomer, Ronald H. Adcock, and Teddy R. Smartt.

North Monohan's two fine actresses Ann Petty and Emily Gilmore gave superb performances in the spring production of "See How They Run."

Over spring holidays several of our girls journeyed to Daytona Beach for a short stay. Linda Baker, Helen Thomas, Barbara Williams and Sylvia Bankert are still telling every one about their trip. From what I heard it was GREAT!

Let's send our congratulations to the newly elected senior officers and prom queen attendants. It looks as if our dorm will lead the future seniors to a unforgettable year.

Carla Schiewiller is now trying a string around her little finger to remind her of her week-end plans. She has so many places to go she can't remember all of them. Must be nice to be popular.

This week has the scene of Neptune Paradise sponsored by the Triton Club. Faye Bloodworth was our star mermaid while Joanne Duncan was the girl behind the scenes working the lights.

Rutledge Hall

By Ernestine Harris

All of the signs of spring are evident in Rutledge Hall. Zelda Pruitt welcomed the spring season with an engagement ring from her special one. The crowded porches and lobby reveal that spring is definitely here.

Suzanne Lee's room has been crowded with visitors listening to her new AM-FM radio which she won through a campus fraternity raffle.

The drama club has elected two Rutledge girls as their officers. Sharon Lee is secretary and Linda Branum is first vice president.

Bari West entertained at her home on Old Hickory Lake last Friday night with a dance. Overnight guests were Earlene Erwin, Margie Bolton, Janice Smith, and Lynn Mitchell.

Carolyn Williams is rushing the summer season with her new beachball, while Bari West is learning to skin dive.

Annual Dance Program Held

The Physical Education Department recently presented "The World of Dance," a second annual dance program, in the Alumni Memorial Gymnasium.

One of the features of the evening was the demonstration of an English Sword Dance by a group of varsity athletes.

The third grade of the Campus School was seen in the popular Kinderpolka. Members of the club presented two Hawaiian numbers and two American squares, while the modern dance class performed the "Un-Squared Dance."

Honors were paid to the Old South. The neighbors of Latin America were represented as well as Scotland, France, and other European countries.

Concluding the program was a tribute to the Golden Anniversary of Middle Tennessee State College.

Job Opportunity Series Held By Business Dept.

Students taking one and two year terminal courses will be given special attention in the job market according to plans announced by E. W. Midgett, department head. Recently the first of a series of consultants from local industry spoke to a group who will be seeking employment at the end of this semester. This counseling service was provided by Robert Roose of General Electric. Other local personnel and management people will be invited to present job possibilities to those students who are taking the one and two year "special business" courses, Mr. Midgett stated.

Another in a series of MTSC job opportunities interviews for terminal students in the business department of the college brought John Hodd, personnel director, and Steve Whitman, office manager of Shwader Brothers to the campus recently.

Jack Todd, personnel director of the State Fadd Insurance Company, was the speaker last week.

Industrial Arts Club Has Picnic

The Industrial Arts Club held its annual picnic May 5, at Floating Mill State Park (Center Hill Reservoir).

Approximately 40 members, their dates and wives were present. Sandwiches, cokes, and potato chips were served, and badminton, horseshoes, and volleyball play-offs were a feature of the afternoon.

Five boats which provided rides and water skiing, were available to members and their guests. At 5.00 p.m., the group enjoyed T-Bone steaks, baked potatoes, tossed salad, rolls, cokes and coffee.

Industrial Arts Fair Is Held

Twelve Middle Tennessee high school industrial arts departments participated in the recent Middle Tennessee Industrial Arts Association fair held here. The displays attracted hundreds of visitors during the day. There were no competitive awards.

One of the displays attracting most visitor attention was that of the Brainard junior high school of Chattanooga featuring a display of a five string wooden banjo made by a junior high boy. The Antioch high school displayed mosaic also was a frequently visited spot.

For the first times girls taking industrial arts displayed products. Columbia high school girls had displays of copper enameling and pictures set together from colored gravel.

Typical of those endorsements are such statements as "admirably suited to those liberal arts or management people who want an overall picture of accounting"; "most practical . . . will admirably serve . . . business college students who need a short but intense course in basic accounting"; "I intend to use this book as a means of simplifying the process of learning the principles of accounting."

The chapter headings offer an indication of the scope of Mr. Midgett's book. These include, the Balance Sheet, Profit and Loss Statement, the Work Sheet, Trial Balances, Reversing Entries, Accrued and Deferred Items, Voucher and Discount, Bad Debts, Voucher System, Taxes, Partnerships, Corporations and other areas of accounting.

Home Ec Department Hosts 200 At Career Day

By Ernestine Harris
The MTSC home economics department was host to over 200 middle Tennessee girls on April 18 for Home Economics Career Day.

Faye Burton presided over career day activities, and President Quill E. Cope gave the welcoming speech. Group singing was led by Beverly Montgomery. The introduction of college deans and home economics department faculty preceded a speech by Miss Margaret Putman, head of the department, on "The Future of Home Economics." Charlene Bentley told the group about college life at MTSC.

A highlight of the program was a presentation of fashions from 1911 to 1961. Those participating in the show included: Gail DeBusk, Sally Smith, Lynda Lane, Margaret Vaughn, Dorothy Meador, Dotty Sanders, Barbara Tucker, Claudette Harrison, Carolyn Williams, Elaine Haley, Sue Chapman, Jo Lela McDowell, Sheila Lanier, Nancy Hammer, Emily Schubert, Barbara Smith, Julia Stinson, Jerelyn Woodward, Lois North, and Betty Ann Robinson.

Also participating were Ernestine Harris, Linda Morrison, Diane Dearman, Kathleen Wood, Beverly Montgomery, Jean Witt, Betty Jane Graham, Donna Roberts, Winston Moore, Nancy Moore, Virginia Warner, Claudia Allen, Carol Ann Jones, and Brenda Cobb. Carolyn Gwaltney was narrator.

of the USS Humphreys, he transferred to the submarine service. In that service Dr. Tucker held various jobs in the long-range submarines used in World War II. His service was in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters and included several war patrols under British command out of bases in Scotland. He eventually served as commanding officer of the USS O-8, a submarine used in training personnel at the Submarine School, New London, Connecticut. When World War II ended, Dr. Tucker was assigned to Operation Crossroads, the atomic bomb tests conducted at Bikini. Here he worked on the problem of submerging un-manned submarines used in the tests. He wrote the official report of damage sustained by these ships.

In 1946, Dr. Tucker resigned from the navy to enter private business in Columbia, Tennessee. While still working there, he entered Peabody College to study for his Master of Arts degree in English. In 1956 he received the degree and joined the English staff at MTSC. After a year of teaching, he took a leave of absence to complete course work at Vanderbilt for his doctor's degree. Dr. Tucker received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Vanderbilt in 1960. His major field at the undergraduate level are mathematics and science; at the graduate level his major is English and his minor is history.

He is married to the former Dorothe Pigg of Columbia, who is the drama director at MTSC. They have two children, Susan and Clark. All are members of First Methodist Church, Murfreesboro.

Dr. Ingram will come to Middle Tennessee State College from Memphis State University. He has had broad and varied experiences in public education. His education includes attendance in the public schools of McNairy County, Tennessee. His college training includes a B.S. Degree, Bethel College (1951); M. A. Degree, Memphis State University, (1953); and Ed.D. Degree, University of Tennessee (1959).

Dr. Ingram has served as a principal and teacher in the public schools of Tennessee for nine years. He has experience in both elementary and secondary schools. He has had college teaching experience with the University of Tennessee and Memphis State University. He has served as Regional Supervisor of Instruction with the State Department of Education, with offices at Austin Peay State College. He left the position as Assistant Director of Curriculum in the State Department of Education to join the staff at Memphis State University. He holds membership in several professional organizations. The Ingram family will move to Murfreesboro in August.

Pitts Gets Social Science Medal

Bobby Lee Pitts, MTSC senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe L. Pitts of Murfreesboro has been awarded the Social Science medal.

He is a graduate of Murfreesboro Central where he was a member of the football team, chorus, and Cordell Hull Club. He received a work scholarship to MTSC as a freshman.

He has been a member of the Track and Sabre club, Sam Davis Drill team, Chemistry club, United Nations club, Booster club, Baptist Student Union and served as an officer for the Sigma club, Student Christian Union and is attorney general of the Associated Student Body.

Tours of the campus were conducted by: Jerelyn Woodward, Lori Hodge, Emma Jean Walden, Ann Powell, Pat Holden, Katherine Faulk, Carolyn Simmons, Linda Peppers, Janice Welborn, Sue Alexander, Diana Fite, Carolyn Gwaltney, Faye Burton, Beverly Montgomery, Charlene Bentley, Brenda Cobb, and Janice Bullion.

Some 24 high schools were represented at the event.

Campus Maintenance Handled By Large, Capable Staff Of Workers

Over seventy men and women make up the Maintenance department at MTSC. A beautiful campus doesn't just occur,—it's an art.

The duties of this department, under the supervision of Harold Jewell, vary from sweeping the floors and collecting trash to remodeling buildings and caring for a 100 acre campus. The primary purpose of this department is to provide comfortable buildings, a beautiful campus, to repair buildings and equipment and to assist the faculty and students.

The supervisor is responsible for the entire department in seeing that all the work is carried out in a satisfactory way. Under his supervision are several men who have charge of different phases of this work.

Floyd Travis, has been at MTSC for 33 years, and is in charge of the campus grounds. The following men work with him: James Snider, S. K. Summish, Phil Patterson, Leroy Smith, Quentin Knox and Frank Joyce. They are responsible for all the campus, including mowing the grass, seeding the grounds, setting out trees, shrubs and flowers, keeping paper and trash picked up and collecting the garbage from all buildings once a day and removing it from the campus. They are also responsible for the athletic fields.

C. L. McBroom has been here for 34 years, and he is in charge of all the plumbing work. Robert Jones assists him in this work. They are responsible for all repairs and installation of new equipment when remodeling buildings.

James DeJarnett, assisted by Clyde Willis, is in charge of the electrical work. They also set up the public address systems and keep them in order.

Paul Messick is in charge of the heating on the campus. The college has 25 buildings operating off central heating and in the winter this is a 24 hour a day job. He has the following men working with him: Curtis Messick, W. C. Barnes, Bobby Reeves and Gary Noble. Sanford Newman works with this group some and takes care of the swimming pool.

Mose Boyd is in charge of the carpenter shop located in the maintenance building. C. W. Davidson assists him. They repair and build new furniture, upholster couches and chairs and in a pinch go out on the campus and help with the other carpenter work.

Raymond Brashear is in charge of the carpenters and painters. The following men work with him: Robert Morgan and Charles Pinkerton as carpenters, Sam Walker, Bethel Jones and A. D. Porterfield as painters, Wiley Brown and John Smith as masons.

There is police coverage on the campus 24 hours each day. Stanley Hobbs is in charge of this work. Assisting him are Ernest Adams, E. V. Moser and Ellis Burnett.

Felix Smith is supervisor of the janitorial group. He has 34 janitors and maids with which to keep the buildings clean and to assist the people who are in charge of the buildings. They are as follows: Billy Haynes, Martin Knox and Elza Cason in the Administration building; Robert Bass, Industrial Arts building; Harry Davenport, Old Music building; William Brown, Jones Hall and Infirmary; Willie Martin, Library; Henrietta Gaines, President's Home; Nathaniel Wilson and Robert McHenry, Gymnasium; Rufus Tigg and James sponsor in 1960-61. Faye will present a dance to modern jazz in the pageant.

Owen at the Campus School; James Field, Science building; Albert Richardson, R.O.T.C. and Maintenance building; Artie Bell Martin, Home Living Center; James Fletcher, Murfree building and Library; Sandy Hugel, Fine Arts building; George Randolph, Business building; Sam Jarred and Jonas Huddleston, Student Union building; Eugene Smith, Industrial Arts building; Mae Nelson, Student

Priscilla Griggs is a sophomore from Antioch. While in high school there, she was head majorette, and displayed journalism talent with the school yearbook. She has special training in piano and will play the piano as her talent in the Miss Murfreesboro Pageant. Priscilla enjoys tennis as a hobby.

Margie Patterson attended high school at Nashville Central, and is a sophomore majoring in physical education. At MTSC, she has been a cheerleader for two years, a member of the Booster Club, and PE Club. Margie enjoys dancing and water skiing as her hobbies. She was first runner-up and Miss Congeniality in the 1961 Miss Nashville Pageant. Miss Patterson has had twelve years special training in dancing, and three years in the Forensic Club. She will give a humorous reading and tap dance as her talent in the pageant.

Sandra Faye Wynne is a freshman majoring in elementary education. She attended Nashville Isaac Litton High School, and enjoys dancing, swimming, reading, and singing. Sandra, who is minoring in home economics, plans to teach the second grade. She will display her talent in singing Saturday night.

Julia Ann Hollis is a music major from Lawrenceburg. At MTSC, she is secretary of the Student Christian Union, assistant music director of Wesley Foundation, president of the Wesley Foundation choir, secretary of MTSC chorus, selected member of the varsity choir, Sacred Harp Singers, MTSC Women's Trio, Pi Mu Sigma, and band. She played the female lead in the opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" this year. Julia has had three years of private voice and will sing in the pageant.

The other contestants for the Miss Murfreesboro Pageant are Martha Jo Brandon (a senior at Central High School), Ola Whyte Burnett, and Charlotte Bryant.
