VOICE OF MTSC, THE COLLEGE OF INDIVIDUAL OPPORTUNITY

Vol. 35 — No. 16

Middle Tennessee State College, Murfreesboro, Tennessee

Wednesday, July 4, 1962

Forty two of the 68 members of the fourth annual MTSC National Science Foundation Workshop are from Tennessee. Faculty members stand in front of the workshop on the steps of the science building. Members of the staff pose in front of the Science Building steps with participants grouped behind.

68 Teachers In Science Institute

Sixty eight carefully selected teachers from more than 450 applicants started work in the fourth consecutive Summer Institute sponsored by the National Science Foundation at Middle Tennessee State College June 4. The first general seminar was held Thursday afternoon, June 6, after orientation sessions had been held earlier in the week under direction of Dr. J. Eldred Wisner, director of the Institute.

Forty-two of the participating teachers come from Tennessee. Other state represented in the group of high school teachers of biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics come from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, and Pennsylvania.

The faculty of the National Science Foundation Institute includes Dr. J. Eldred Wisner, director; Dr. W. B. Bowdoin, James Wade Gilbert, Dr. Paul Hutcheson, Dr. John A. Patten, Dan Scott, Dr. Harold Spraker, Miss Mary Frances Stubblefield, Horace Uselton, Dr. Exum D. Watts and Dr. C. W. Wisner.

Tennessee participants include: Vernon Barlow, Murfreesboro; George Washington Barnes, Pulaski; John M. Baxter, Chapel Hill; Letcher R. Bingham, Benton; Althea W. Bonner, Lawrenceburg; Marie S. Braswell, Nashville; Rubye P. Brodidi, Huntland; Judith M. Burch, Humboldt; James R. Campbell, Unionville; Leon D. Chambers, Columbia; Denver R. Childress, Maryville; James Douglas, Winchester; Maurice L. Driver, Morrison; Fred Fairfield, Strawberry Plains; S. Mason Fischer, Beech Grove; Marjorie Ann Fvke, Springhill; Howard Redell, Gamble; Franklin; Raymond Green, Winchester; Joe Floyd Hall, Cowan; James Holder, Huntland; Jernit R. Prospective Frosh Pre-register For Fall Semester

Two hundred and eight young men and women, first of five groups of prospective freshman students at Middle Tennessee State College for the fall semester attended a two day registration and orientation program last Tuesday morning.

Following a testing program the students met in a general assembly with their parents Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. From 3:30 until 5 o'clock they had an opportunity to hear departmental personnel explain various curricula.

Activities Discussed

The evening program included a picture making session following a five o'clock dinner. Later in the evening the ASB officers and Dean Martha Hampton supervised an introduction to student extra curricula activities program.

At eight o'clock Wednesday morning the neophyte freshman met with individual counselors and completed the process of schedule making, payment of fees and other registration procedures.

Other groups will be on the campus June 27-28, July 10-11, July 19-20 and August 2-3. More than 200 freshman will be registered at each of these meetings with all other freshman students reporting on September 17 for guidance and testing.

College Adopts Summer Pre-registration

The summer pre-registration of freshman was first attempted last summer and proved so successful that the college has adopted it as a routine procedure. A freshman class of more than 1400 is in prospect for 1962-63.

Those in charge of the summer registration program are Deans John Weems, Howard Kirksey, Martha Hampton, Belt Keathly and staff members, Dr. Homer Pittard, Dr. T. C. Bigger, Gene H. Sloan, Dr. James Martin, Bob Brooks, Harold Jewell, Dr. Clay Tucker, Neil Wright and Bob Abernathy.

Summer Session Enrolls 1,122 Regular Students

Summer semester enrollment at Middle Tennessee State College on the basis of the registration on June 4, is 1122 regular students. In addition to these there are 130 in the Aerospace workshop, and between 60 and 70 in the Science Institute program, for a total of 1317. Second term enrollees and special workshop students later in the summer will raise the total to more than 1,400 according to college officials.

Aviation Program Granted Examining Authority

Examining authority has been awarded the Middle Tennessee State College aviation program by the Federal Aviation Agency. This enables the college to graduate students with a private pilots certificate without the formal flight test of the FAA, according to Miller Lanier, head of the MTSC aviation program. This is the first such FAA award in the seven-state Southern Region.

The new curriculum designed for this course and approved by the FAA consists of instrument and flight training in addition to the regular training maneuver previously taught. An additional ground school course has been added to the curriculum to provide 35 hours of classroom instruction in flight maneuvers.

The flight department trains approximately 100 students each year. This new recognition by FAA is expected to increase enrollment figures substantially, Mr. Lanier stated. Mr. Lanier said that formal application would be made to the FAA in the near future for examining authority on flight courses offered by the school and for authority to give the FAA written examinations for these courses.

More than fifty telephone calls and telegrams have been received by the college from former students now actively engaged in the aviation program who were former students under the program. These include Captain Robert A. Huddleston, Jr., Central Air Lines; Captain John E. Ellington, Capitol Airlines; Ralph Simmons, Delta Airlines pilot; Delma Chapman, co-pilot for Governor Ellington; Ed Murray, pilot for Tennessee Aeronautics Commission; Major Joe W. Sloan, Tennessee Air National Guard; Elmore Meriwether, chief pilot Nashville Flying Service; Jim Kinard, chief pilot Executive Flying Service, Birmingham, Ala.; Lt. Ernest Brothers, instrument instructor U. S. Army and many of the former ROTC cadets who took flight training under Mr. Lanier's direction at MTSC.

President Cope Announces Faculty Promotions

Ten faculty promotions have been announced by Dr. Quill E. Cope, president of MTSC.

These include Dr. William Beasley and Dan Scott, who have been with the college for seven years each from assistant to associate professors along with Dr. Homer Pittard and Dr. Clay Tucker who have been at the college for six years each. In addition Dr. Tucker was recently named to head the new division of Liberal Arts in the college reorganization program. Dr. Beasley and Dr. Tucker are in the English department, Mr. Scott in science, Dr. Pittard in education.

Promoted from instructors to assistant professors are Marion Byrd, librarian; Lillian Gray, social science; Mrs. Lindell McMillan, home economics; Dr. Lionel Prescott, biology; Francis Stubblefield, mathematics and Christine Vaughan, English.

Previously announced was the promotion of Dr. Clay Tucker to head the division of liberal arts, Dr. W. D. Bowdoin as director of the school of education and Dr. Sam Ingram as the newly appointed head of the education department.

Cut that Melon! Sharpen your appetite!

The annual summer semester watermelon cutting will be held in front of the Union Building, Thursday, July 5 at six o'clock.

This post Fourth of July Holiday feast is always a highlight of the summer. Students and faculty are invited.

Bookstore Closes

The Bookstore will be closed on Friday June 29 and Saturday June 30, for the purpose of taking inventory.

MTSC Tackle Tackles Bank Robber

Charles Gupton, Jr., MTSC junior from White's Creek Pike, Nashville, was credited this week with capturing an alleged "bank bandit" in Nashville last week. The man charged had wielded a "stick gun" in robbing the White's Creek bank of $8,000.

Gupton pursued him in an automobile, stopped by a fire station to alert police and wound up by participating in the capture of the man.

The 225 pound Gupton is a tackle on the MTSC football team. This summer he is working with the White's Creek Fire Department.

High School Seniors Earn College Credits

By Jane Francis

Twenty-one junior high school students from within the state are attending a special program started this summer at MTSC.

The program was originated for those students who are in the upper fourth of their high school classes and who desire basic college courses. Classes included in the program are chemistry 121, English 101, biology 111, science 101, mathematics 141, history 171, geography 131, business 110, 131, industrial arts, 111, 131, 141, education 111, music 111, 121, and private instruction.

Several of the students attending the program stated that the friendly atmosphere that prevails on campus at MTSC was impressive, and all agreed that they would encourage anyone who was considering the program next year to enroll.

When questioned about the curriculum, most replied that while the work was not harder than high school, the student was expected to learn more material.

Sidney Garrison, a junior from Murfreesboro, takes a student should not take the maximum number of hours and use this time to acquaint himself with campus activities as well as class routine.

The general feeling of the junior was expressed by Harold Tarpley from Smyrna. He said, "Although I have not been attending MTSC but just a few weeks, I am enjoying the experience and feel I will benefit greatly from the summer's work."

Those students participating in the program are Mary Jane Abernathy, Murfreesboro; Kenneth Alexander Alford, Woodbury; Margaret Ann Bottoms, Summertown; Charlene Buchanan, Summertown; John H. Chastine, Chattanooga; Lucia Bragg Cordell, McMinnville; Alice Ruth Crosby, Spring City; Gayle Elrod, Murfreesboro; Sidney Clarence Garrison, Murfreesboro; William Erwin Hodges, Jr., Murfreesboro; Mary Carlene Holloway, Summertown; Janice Carol Hulon, Summertown; Nina Sue Kellogg, Etheridge; Richard Anderson, Northridge; Richard Anderson Northcutt, Woodbury; Patricia Ann Odum, Nashville; Dennis Howard Patterson, Murfreesboro; Melanie Anne Peel, Christiana; Janet Maire Riddle, Loretto; Harold Lee Tarpley, Murfreesboro; David Andrew Womack, Murfreesboro; Neil H. Wright, III, Murfreesboro.

Dr. Allen's Work in Tennessee Political Arena Featured In National Education Publication

"Getting Into Party Politics" is the theme of an article by Dr. Charlotte Williams Allen appearing in a National Education Association special feature publication called "The Teaching and Practice of Politics."

Dr. Allen's article was one of two different approaches to political activity which is published in the pamphlet prepared by the Citizenship Committee of the NEA.

Mrs. Andrea Briney of the MTSC Campus school faculty is a member of the national committee.

The publication also contains an article "Every Citizen Holds Office" from a speech delivered by President John F. Kennedy while he was a senator from Massachusetts. Other articles are by Dr. Constance E. Smith, Director of the Radcliffe Institute for Independent Study; Dr. Bernard C. Hennessy, New York University; Arthur P. Crabtree, Associate Editor of Adult Leadership; Brendan Byrne, Executive Director of the American Heritage Foundation and Sara Cowan, Latin teacher in Portland, Maine.

Miss Cowan is a Republican and says, "She was pushed into politics because of Cicero." Dr. Allen said, "She was pushed into politics when Senator Estes Kefauver asked her to serve as state director of women's activities in his campaign for re-election in 1960.

Dr. Allen, the daughter of Judge Albert Williams of Nashville, is a Democrat. She is an assistant professor of social science at Middle Tennessee State College and the author of Hugo Black; a Judicial Biography.

Dr. Allen says that she was pleasantly surprised that teachers were natural politicians and highly effective campaigners. She pointed out that they were generally well-respected in their communities; that they were good organizers; fair public speakers; usually of irrefragable character and due to long experience in talking with students and parents are highly diplomatic.

Dr. Allen points out that teachers enter into political experience will find the undertaking rewarding and instructive. "Rather than coming out dissatisfied with politics and politicians I have gained increased understanding and sympathy for our public servants," she concluded.

Let your prayer be a prayer of faith, love and thanksgiving, and let your heart and mind be filled with the assurance that all things are working together for good.

Female Craze Hits Campus

(ACP)—The latest craze in feminine apparel on many campuses is furry headpieces. An alarmed Minnesota DAILY columnist, Maurice Hobbs, writes:

Ladies, ladies, please! You've got to cease and desist from this latest insanity. It's grown out of all proportion.

In one class yesterday there were two of them. One looked like a shaggy white flowerpot, the other like a greasy black cat.

Some look like brown caterpillars (monster-size) and others like raccoons. And I saw one that looked like a bathroom rug—you know, the shaggy looped creations.

But they're all ugly. I'm talking about these fur hats you've taken to wearing lately. I don't know the technical nomenclature for them, but I've heard them called cossack hats, and I've got a whole list of more pungent (albeit unprintable) names for the monstrosities.

If you haven't seen one, imagine a large flowerpot covered with an imitation raccoon skin (probably left over from the Davy Crockett craze) and turned upside down over a lady's head.

They make a girl's head look stretched all out of shape, as though she were covering a bandaged lobotomy. And they are in danger of extending their furry fief to all but the sensible heads on campus . . .

Now, I realize they're warm. And they've something new. And they're attention-getters. I also have progressed far enough in my liberal education to realize that women are not going to stop wearing a particular article of apparel merely because it's ugly, or grotesque, or just plain silly.

But ladies, really, couldn't you wear scarves, or stocking caps, or berets? Almost anything would be more sensible than these shaggy flower pots.

No., it's probably asking too much. It's a fad that will last all year. And next year's will probably be worse. But I won't even make any guesses at what it will be.

Business English Survey Probes Student Spending

Members of the Business English class at Middle Tennessee State College completed a survey of student spending in the city of Murfreesboro which has considerable implications for local merchants.

The survey was in the form of a questionnaire to 260 students representing about one tenth of the on-campus student body.

The survey disclosed that the students spend about $17,804 weekly in the city of Murfreesboro making a total expenditure in excess of $640,000 each academic year.

Although advertising is a strong persuader to buy, the current study shows that of the 260 students interviewed only 149, or 57 per cent are influenced by Brand names, which are normally presented to the consumer through National advertising. The study further shows that National advertising effected the purchases of only 137, or 53 per cent; and Local advertising effected only 61, or 23 per cent.

Of the 260 students interviewed, 204, or 74 per cent said that discounts if offered, would increase their clothing purchases in Murfreesboro. Only 55, or 20 per cent favored charge purchasing.

The Twain Meets

(ACP)—Fellow students and "the college community" saw to it that a Wilmington College senior from Jordan could fly home for Christmas after his father's death.

Contributions totaled $780 in a few days—enough to send Mohammed Abel-Mabi to the Middle East to arrange family affairs.

According to the MONITOR, Mohammed commented on his return: "People in the East think of the U.S. in terms of dollars. When I told them how my friends at Wilmington showed their feelings and sympathy, they were extremely surprised. This, I thought served as a good example and the nicest feeling from people to people."

CONVENIENCE NEEDED — ANSWER BY NUMBER

Here is a handy index of excuses, offered to provide a prompt answer for all possible questions. Just answer by number:

1. That's the way we've always done it.
2. I didn't know you were in a hurry for it.
3. That's not my department.
4. No one told me to go ahead.
5. I'm waiting for an O. K.
6. How did I know this was different?
7. That's his job, not mine.
8. I forgot.
9. I didn't think it was that important.
10. I'm so busy I just can't get around to it.
11. I thought I told you.
12. He told me wrong.
13. It's his fault.

Kennedy, Taylor Most Attractive?

President John F. Kennedy and were named as the world's most attractive personalities by collegians of Campus Illustrated, the national in a nation-wide poll conducted by, and revealed in, the current issue magazine of the college community. Male collegians were united in stating that Miss Taylor is "the most beautiful woman in the world." Coeds termed the President "a man among men."

"Beauty, charm and simplicity" were the adjectives most used in describing Jacqueline Kennedy, the second choice of college men. The President's "lady" far outdistanced another "lady," third-place holder, Grace Kelly, who was termed "the epitome of social grace and poise."

Miss Womack, Dr. Harvill, Mr. Hobgood Selected For Alumni Honors

Three outstanding Tennessee educators have been selected for the Middle Tennessee State College outstanding alumni—a recognition annually awarded three distinguished graduates of the school. Those selected for 1962 are Halbert Harvill, president of Austin Peay State College, Miss Helen Womack, superintendent of Bedford county school and Baxter Hobgood, superintendent of Murfreesboro city schools.

Recognition will be awarded these distinguished graduates at the annual alumni-faculty-senior banquet May 19 at 6:45, according to Dr. Homer Pittard, alumni secretary.

As the concluding event on the year long celebration of "Fifty Golden Years" the college will recognize the members of the two-year diploma class of 1912, the first degree class of 1926 and the members of the First Master's class of 1952. The first four persons to receive diplomas under each of the periods of the college history will be present as representatives of the first Norma class, the first

B.S. degree winners; the first A.B. class and first M.A. graduates.

This culminatory program of the Golden Anniversary Commemoration will also honor all members of the MTSC faculty who have had 25 years service and those who have been on the faculty for 15 years or more. A suitably engraved medallion to be used as a part of the cape and kown regalia at formal processions of the college staff will be presented each of these honorees.

Miss Womack is the only woman graduate of Middle Tennessee State to be elected by popular vote to the office of county school superintendent. Miss Womack began teaching in a depression-ridden country school at a monthly salary of $55 where she was instructor-principal, janitor and counselor. Later she became principal of a two-teacher elementary school and from there moved to Shelbyville Central high where she taught in the areas of English, mathematics and social science. She first ran for county superintendent in 1951 and has been twice re-elected for four year terms. Under her leadership Bedford county has become a model for other counties of the state in the matter of consolidation, central heating, cafeteria service, sanitation, safety and economy of operation in brick buildings for every white and colored child in the county.

Dr. Harvill, a native of Hickman county, received his B.S. degree from MTSC and the M.A. from Peabody College. He has served as classroom teacher in Hickman county, principal Lascassas high school in Rutherford county, superintendent of schools in McMinn county, college teacher, college dean, and Tennessee Commissioner of Education (1938-39) before becoming president of Austin Peay State College.

He was a high school and college athlete, later coach in high school and college, served two years in Europe in World War I, entering the Army as a private and being discharged as a second lieutenant. He volunteered for immediate service at the beginning of World War II and is a retired lieutenant colonel in the reserve.

He is a member of the Board of stewards and a Sunday school teacher at the Clarksville Methodist church and was named most outstanding senior citizen of Clarksville in 1961. He has served as Tennessee Department Commander of the American Legion in addition to working as a national committeeman of the Legion. He has held offices in several professional societies including that of president of the Tennessee College Association.

Mr. Hobgood is a native of Roxboro, North Carolina. He graduated from Middle Tennessee State College in 1930 and became a high school history teacher, coach and elementary principal in the Murfreesboro City schools. During this period from 1930 to 1940 his diversity of interests and talents received widespread recognition. As a debate coach he had placed second in the national contest at Beverly Hills, California. His debate teams won three Tennessee championships and his girls basketball teams at Murfreesboro Central won four "Little Ten" championships and ran up a string of 44 consecutive victories during this stretch.

In 1938 Mr. Hobgood received the M.A. degree from Peabody College. From 1940 until 1945 he served successively as assistant State High School Supervisor, Director of Research for the Tennessee Education Association, and an instructor at Middle Tennessee State College. Since that time he has been superintendent of the Murfreesboro City Schools, doubling as Central high school principal from 1945-1952.

His innovations has made the Murfreesboro school system a mecca for regional observation. They include gifted children classes, television teaching of modern language in the elementary schools, the School Psychology Services Program, and the primary unit. He has extensive recognition in professional societies, in the Kiwanis club and in his church where he serves as chairman of the official board.

26 Junior Cadets Will Attend Camp At Fort Benning

Authorization for 26 junior cadets at Middle Tennessee State College to attend summer camp under the ROTC program has been announced by Lt. Col. Donald D. Tummons, PMS at MTS.

They will report to Fort Benning, Georgia June 23 and will complete the summer camp tour on August 3.

During their stay at Fort Benning, the Cadets will receive instruction in marksmanship, map reading, offensive and defensive combat, first aid, scouting and patrolling, physical conditioning and related military subjects. The camp period is designed to supplement college ROTC instruction and help prepare the potential second lieutenant to be a more effective officer after receiving his commission upon graduation.

Those attending from MTSC are: Charles A. Anderson, Antioch; Ronald E. Adkerson, Smyrna; Robert E. Bachus, 315 South Tenn. Blvd., Murfreesboro; Robert E. Boyd, Route 5, Murfreesboro; John D. Bradford, Fayetteville; George W. Burkheart, Route 4, Murfreesboro; Hal B. Collins, Spring City; Joseph W. Davidson, Lewisburg; William M. Davis, Lynchburg; Gordon H. DeFriesse, 120 Morningside Drive, Chattanooga; William H. DeLacey, Jr., Smyrna.

Phillip E. Dotson, Nunnally; James D. Forbes, Huntsville, Ala.; James E. Garrett, 410 Neels Bend Road, Madison; Ralph H. Jackson, Mt. Juliet; Virgil D. Loftis, Daisy; Larry D. Melton, McMinnville; Larry E. Payne, 1433 North Maple St., Murfreesboro; Thomas N. Phillips, 2116 June Drive, Nashville; Charles F. Reeder, Watertown; Edmund F. Rolef, Jr., 2020 10th Ave., Nashville; Charles K. Rowe, 907 Normal Ave., Chattanooga; Frank D. Stone, 315 Chamberlain Ave., Murfreesboro; Robert R. Turman, Savannah; Larry H. Williams, 315 Hillcrest, Chattanooga and Robert E. Wren, 1404 Highland, Columbia.

These senior cadets at Middle Tennessee State College received commissions as second lieutenants just prior to graduation, May 25. Colonel G. E. Tuck, U. S. Army presided at the "swearing in" service, attended by relatives and friends in the ROTC building.

Lieutenants Crowe, Hartman, Rose, Statum, Taylor, Tucker and Wilkerson were graduated as "distinguished cadets" and received commissions in the regular Army.

Aerospace Workshop Hears "Space Science" Lectures

Ray Martes, United Airlines Weather expert and Dr. T. Charles Helvey, of the Air Force Command System spoke at MTSC Aerospace Workshop last Wednesday morning.

"Dr. Helvey" former associate of Albert Einstein is one of America's most outstanding authorities on space problems. He has written several standards works in this field", Dr. Smotherman stated. "Space Science" was the subject of Dr. Helvey's Wednesday lecture.

Mr. Martes, school and college representative of the United Airlines is no less distinguished in his field. His lecture on "Modern Aviation" was of special interest to all those who have any interest in commercial aviation or "flying for fun".

Another Wednesday speaker was Lt. Col. R. L. Huffman, USAFR, who is principal of the Du Pont High school. Mr. Huffman spoke on "The Communist Promise".

Members of the workshop were at Berry Field last week for orientation flights commercial airlines and a study of the Tennessee Air National Guard installations. They also left in Sewart Air Force Planes for Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio for a two day visit.

Gilbert F. Shearron, who was named national elementary principal of the year by a publishing company is an MTSC alumnus, holding both the B.S. and M.A. degrees from this college. He has been granted a leave of absence as principal of the Mitchell-Neilson school of Murfreesboro to work on the doctoral degree.

First Negro Students Matriculate At MTSC

Middle Tennessee State College registered the first two Negro students in the summer semester of 1962.

Herbert Smith, who holds the B.S. and M.S. degrees in agriculture is in the graduate school working on education courses preparatory to assuming the principalship of a Chattanooga school.

James Reed, a resident of Phenix City, Alabama, who teaches in Georgia is in the Science Institute program for high school teachers.

Raider Coaches Names AS Best-of-Year in OVC

Coaches Elbert K. Patty and Bill Stokes captured two of the five coach-of-the-year awards given by the Ohio Valley Conference for spring sports activities.

Coach Patty led MTSC to its fifth consecutive golf title. He doubles as golf coach and business manager of athletics. Coach Stokes won the award in western division baseball. He recently was elevated to the head baseball coaching post at MTSC after serving four years as assistant.

Precision Drill Techniques Object of Workshop

Five day of intensive training in precision drill techniques for drum majors and majorettes was concluded at Middle Tennessee State College Friday. A. R. Casavant, one of the nation's outstanding drill-masters, is director of the camp-workshop.

Seventeen directors and 37 students, representing the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, South Carolina and Florida are learning precision drill in order to return to a position of leadership in school marching units.

The workshop included every facet of the precision drill unit is featuring films of outstanding organizations throughout the country. Directors are having special sessions with Mr. Casavant and then observe rehearsal techniques in teaching the fundamental of drill.

Mr. Casavant, former director of the famed Chattanooga high school band, directs similar workshops across the nation throughout the year, he is the author of such books as Precision Drill, Block Formation Drill, Precision Line Drill Movements, Street Parade Drills, and Phalanx Drills.

Directors participating in the workshop are: Bonnie James, Cullman, Ala.; Paul Arrington, Kingsport, Tenn.; Carol Azzara, Marion, Va.; David Barnes, Knoxville; William Buffkin, Laurel, Miss.; Judith Callaway, Little Rock, Ark.; Cecil Clow, Slidel, La.; Chester Cox,

Students participating in the workshop include: Lowell Thrasher, Cullman, Ala.; Donna Anderson, Little Rock, Ark.; Paul Barton, Hixon, Tenn.; Carl Bedwell, Atlanta, Ga.; Nancy Chenault, Decatur, Ala.; Clifton Corkern, Bogalusa, Louisiana; James Dupree, Biloxi, Miss.; Chri Dyer, Dalton, Ga.; Dan Frisch, Atlanta, Ga.; Charles Garner, Kingsport Tenn.; James Harrell, St. Simons Island, Ga.; Clarence Heidel, Wartburg, Tenn.; Larry Herrin, Biloxi, Miss.; Nancy Hill, Timmons, S. C.; Emily Horne, Pensacola, Fla.; Kathy Horne, Signal Mountain, Tenn.; Richard Taylor, Biloxi; Billy Tipps, Lynchburg; Jane Yarbrough, Fla.; Jerry House, Jackson, Tenn.; Nancy Law, Atlanta, Ga.; Robert MacNaught, Kingsport, Tenn.; Pat Mahan, Pensacola, Fla.; Louis Mathis, Timmons, Tenn.; Winston Simmons, Kingsport; Hal Stringer, Kingsport; Ann Taylor, Ark. S. C.; Mary McKewon, Pensacola, Fla.; Harold McLean, Biloxi, Miss.; Kay McPherson, Little Rock, Ark.; Sherrill Parks, Obion, Tenn.; Carol Peavy Gulfbreeze, Fla.; Janice Richardson, Little Rock, Ark.; Charles Sander.

A few members of the Aerospace workshop examine the 40 pounds of free materials each will take back home for use in teaching youngsters more about the Aerospace age this winter. Staff members Roy Chapman, Dr. Clair Brewer and Miller Lanier are in the background, Dr. Bealer Smotherman, director of the workshop describes it as the best in four years. Last sessions will be July 11.

Two Teachers Named For Campus School Primary Unit Work

Hilery Parker, principal of the Middle Tennessee State College Campus School, has announced that Mrs. Lane (Marguerite) Boutwell and Mrs. J. Hunt (Polly Calvert) Dugger, both of whom will be associated with the primary unit in the Campus School next year, have been hired.

Mrs. Boutwell has a wide teaching experience including the past 10 years as a first grade teacher in the Murfreesboro school system. This summer she is serving as first grade teacher in the Peabody Demonstration school in Nashville. She has served as the director of the week-day and kindergarten school in Evanston, Ill., and director of the Brick Church week-day and kindergarten Presbyterians Church, New York City. Mrs. Boutwell is the mother of two children, is the wife of Lane Boutwell, head of the speech department at MTSC. She graduated from Crete Nebraska high school, Doane College, Crete, Neb., National College of Education, Evanston, Ill., where she received the B.Ed. degree and MTSC where she received the MA in 1952.

Mrs. Dugger, a native of Cullleoka, received her undergraduate degree at Middle Tennessee State in elementary education. She is now working toward the Masters degree at the college. At MTSC, Mrs. Dugger, the former Polly Calvert, was a member of the SNEA, and active in the Wesley Foundation. She attended Martin College at Pulaski before transferring to MTSC. Mr. Dugger is a senior at the college.

The members of the Campus School faculty have resigned to accept positions elsewhere. They are Miss Mary Bell Jordan and Mrs. Mary Manley. Mrs. Manley will be the principal of the new Rutherford County Christian School and Miss Jordan will teach in Michigan.

Guidance Workshop Run For Four Weeks

Middle Tennessee State College will conduct two guidance and counseling workshops this summer with emphasis on a program leading to the Master of Arts degree, according to the announcement of Dr. W. B. Bowdoin, head of the department of education at the college.

The first group of approximately 30 teachers will come to the campus for two weeks of intensive study on July 16 and will be followed by a second similar group two weeks later.

Finis Poole will represent the college in the workshop program with Dr. James Hobbs and Dr. John Lovegrove of the State Department of Education as directors. The workshop is scheduled as Education 515, Educational and Occupational Information and carries graduate credit.

Each person attending is sponsored by the county superintendent of the county from which he comes.

Dr. Cope Meets With Educators

Dr. Quill E. Cope, president of Middle Tennessee State College, was in Williamsburg, Virginia, the past weekend meeting with 75 delegates from 16 Southern States seeking ways and means of meeting the increasing demands for college opportunities for young people and at the same time holding down costs while maintaining high standards of academic excellence.

Disclosures of recent surveys by the Southern Regional Education Board indicate some of the pressing needs of higher education in Tennessee, one of these needs is that the finding of faculty personnel has become increasingly difficult in the face of rapidly expanding enrollment. This is particularly true of the State supported institutions such as Middle Tennessee State College.

In 1952 in Tennessee there were 18,256 students in public colleges and universities, 17,391 in private colleges and universities, marking 51.2 per cent of the enrollment in public institutions. In 1961-62 the figures show a decrease while both have skyrocketed to a total college population of 64,579. By 1965 the Southern Regional Board estimates the public colleges will be carrying 62 per cent of this burden and will be asked to accommodate over 54,000 students. By 1970 this figure will pass 75,000 and the State will be required to furnish college education for all but 33 per cent of the student population.

In 1956 Middle Tennessee State College had an enrollment of 1,874. In 1961 there were 3,244 enrolled for the fall semester. If this ratio is maintained the next five years will find the MTSC enrollment approaching the 5,000 mark.

The United States Office of Educational Biennial surveys show that the per student expenditure in the public colleges of Tennessee has increased from $764 per student in 1950-51 to $895 per student in 1957-58 (the last year such records are available). Meanwhile in the United States as a whole the cost per pupil has increased from $146 to $1,183 while in the South on the average the per pupil increase in cost to the colleges has moved up from $707 to $1,129. While the rest of the nation has found it necessary to increase college student costs by more than one third the Tennessee State colleges and universities have had only about one eighth increase per capita.

Choral Press Releases Two New Publications

Two new publications have been released by Choral Press arranged by Margaret Wright, a member of the MTSC faculty.

The two numbers, "I Give My Love a Cherry" and "The Preacher and the Bear" are both folk songs, arranged for and performed by the famous MTSC Sacred Harp Singers. Mrs. Wright organized and has directed this group for the past 16 years.

The first of the numbers, subtitled "Riddle Song", is dedicated to Neil Wright. The second is dedicated to Mrs. Wright's mother, Mrs. B. H. Johnson, from whom the arranger learned the song as a child.

Peddycoat Awarded Graduate Assistantship

First of two graduate assistantships in Science has been awarded to Robert Wilson Peddycoat, 1104 Leaf Avenue, Murfreesboro, according to Dr. Norman Park head of the department.

"This is an innovation in our department", Dr. Parks explained. "Each year two such assistants will be granted aid to continue work on the Master of Arts degree and assist regular staff members as substitute teachers and other work about the department", he explained.

This semi-professional status which Mr. Peddycoat has been awarded will follow his graduation with a B.S. in history in June.

MTSC Participates In EFCF Program

Middle Tennessee State College has been designated by the American Association of University Women as a participating institution in the Educational Foundation College Faculty Program, according to Dr. Mary Tom Berry, who has been designated as chairman of the program for the Murfreesboro branch.

This program, a project of 3-year demonstration duration is supported by a $225,000 grant from the Rockefeller Brothers Foundation Tuition and grants-in-aid will be awarded to approximately 50 women for one academic year of graduate study. Any woman college graduate 35 years of age or older who is a resident of Tennessee and who has not recently been on a college or university faculty or in a graduate study program, but who is interested in a career of college teaching, research or administration is eligible to apply for the grant.

In the case of Middle Tennessee State, women meeting the above qualifications who live within commuting distance of the college and now have a bachelor's degree and will become candidates for the master's degree and who can give full time to study will be eligible to apply, Miss Berry stated.

Those who wish to apply may contact Mrs. Mary Tom Berry, Box 530 MTSC, Murfreesboro.

Murphy Signs Two Nashville Gridders

Middle Tennessee State head football coach Charles "Bubber" Murphy announces the signing of two Nashville gridders to Blue Raider grants-in-aid.

Former Donelson High ace Jon Steed, and Tony Daniel, an Isaac Litton graduate, are the latest to join the Blue Raider forces.

Steed was captain of the 1961 Donelson squad and was an A11-AAA performer. His backfield play won him a spot on the second team All-Nashville squad. He was selected the "Most Valuable" member of the Dons last season. Steed, a 5'11", 175 pounder played football under Coach Jody Ellis, a MTSC alumnus, and also lettered in track. He is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Robert Steed, 2432 Melbourne Drive, Donelson.

Daniel was an end for Coach Richard Hewitt's Litton Lions last season. The 6', 183 pounder was a four sport letterman (football, basketball, track, and baseball), and won honors in each. He played the 1959 and 1960 seasons with Loretto High School as a halfback before moving to Nashville. His play at end last season won him a spot on the All-Nashville second team in football and All-City squad in baseball as a centerfielder. He is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Floyd Daniel, 5011 Inglewood Court.

This brings the total signing to ten for the Blue Raiders for this season.
