

Two New Structures To Be Erected In The Coming Year

President Smith Announces Two More Buildings to Be Constructed in College Expansion Program Here

Cafeteria Student Union Building and Dormitory Will be Part of Greater State College

by JUNE SMITH

President Smith announced this week that plans had been completed and bids were being received for the construction of two more buildings in MTSC's expansion plan.

A $500,000 cafeteria and student union building will be erected between Lyon and Rutledge Hall within the coming year. In addition to a cafeteria it will also contain a small dining room, a restaurant, and a recreation room plus class room and office space.

The crowded residence of Jones Hall may now take new heart in anticipation of a new men's dormitory. This will consist of a three and one-half story building which will comfortably house 160 students. It will be located south of the Science Building facing west. Its cost is estimated at $400,000.

Plans for the near future also call for a women's addition to the new gymnasium and an indoor swimming pool.

The grading of the eight new tennis courts has already been completed and they should be ready for use by spring.

State's large construction program which started at the close of the war calls for other additions to the campus in the near future. Included in these additions will be a complete printing press capable of publishing all college publications. This will be located on what is now the cafeteria.

With the completion of these new buildings and installations, Middle Tennessee State College will be one of the best equipped colleges in the state regardless of size and enrollment. Much of the credit for the present building program goes to President Q. M. Smith and his assistants on the faculty. Within the next five years President Smith should see his dream of a post-war school second to none—a reality.

National Guard Is Well Represented On State's Campus

Many State College students are serving in our State's National Guard. The Guard is our nation's largest and most important reserve force and one way for a civilian to take a part in his nation's preparedness.

Many opportunities are offered in the Guard including drill pay, retirement benefits, summer camps and specialists schools or Regular Army pay and allowances. A Guard Sgt. may apply for a direct commission and in Tennessee many have received commissions in such a manner.

Col. Hubert L. McCullough, father of two MTSC students and City Manager, is the local guard Battalion Commander. State College students serving in local units include: Hubert and Robert McCullough, Bob Suddarth, Frank Hall, Stanley Richards, Aubrey Cole, Granville Early, Sam Pittard, Cary Knight, Madden Warfield, Jack Jolly, Jim Saunders, Jim Carnahan, Pat Harrison, Kenneth Shipp, Archie Casity, Gilbert and John Shearon, and Jimmy (Continued on Page Four)

Gordon Browning Names Mrs. Muncie to Committee

Not only do we recognize the abilities of Mrs. Muncie, but so does Governor Gordon Browning. Mrs. Muncie received a letter this week from the governor asking her to serve on a State-wide Planning Committee for the Mid-century White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Lieut. Adcock Is Named Radar Man On Huge Bomber

Lieutenant Walter M. Adcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Adcock, Bell Buckle, Tennessee has been named Radar Observer on one of the first giant B-36 bombers to be assigned to the Second Air Force, the global wide reconnaissance arm of the Strategic Air Command.

In preparation for his assignment on the world's largest bomber, Lieutenant Adcock has undergone months of special training as a member of the First Strategic Reconnaissance Squadron, the oldest tactical unit in the Air Force.

A native of Bell Buckle, Lieutenant Adcock is married and is currently making his home in Vallejo, California with his wife, Jacqueline, and son, Walter, Jr.

Jim Lee Speaks For Manchester Club

The Manchester Rotary Club had as guest speaker, January 5, Jim Lee of St. Andrews, Tennessee. Lee is a sophomore student at Middle Tennessee State College where he is sports editor of The Side-Lines and a member of the Speech Arts Society.

The topics of his address were "Soil Conservation" and "Conservation of the Free Enterprise System." The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will be held at the Central High School cafeteria.

Vocation of The Ministry Is Chosen By Number of Students Enrolled Here

One of the most important things to a college student is the selection of a life's vocation, whether it be before or after the beginning of his or her college career. If such a list were compiled the vocations of all students at MTSC would be numerous with a wide range of different occupations to pursue in life. Among these would be the vocation of the Gospel ministry, and though it might appear unusual in a state teachers college we do have several who have entered this type of life's work.

For the ministry there is usually seven years of college work desired if not required by the different denominations. Four of these are for either a B.A. or B.S. degree, and with either of these the student goes into a seminary for three years in quest of the Bachelor of Divinity degree.

We have several denominations represented in these students of our college, including the Methodist,

Elementary Jobs Draw More Men For Training

A decided increase in interest in elementary teaching certificates by men students was evidenced at the winter quarter registration at Middle Tennessee State College. Seven men and 12 women have registered for practice teaching at the college Training School. Dr. Joe F. Wilkes, in charge of elementary teacher training pointed out that this was eight more than the number doing elementary practice teaching in the fall quarter and that a decidedly larger number would be in the work during the spring quarter.

Billy Haynes Honored By Negro Newspaper

The 29th anniversary edition of The Murfreesboro Union, well known Negro newspaper published in Murfreesboro, was dedicated to Billy Morris Haynes, head caretaker of the Middle Tennessee State College. Student and faculty friends join in felicitations to Billy on this deserved tribute by Mary Ellen Vaughan, editor of the Union.

Church of Christ, Cumberland Presbyterian, and Baptist. The list of the students may or may not be all that are enrolled as there may be some either overlooked or who have not made themselves known here as ministerial students.

They are: Ernest H. Smotherman, Hillsboro, Tenn. (Methodist); Mitchell Sawyer, Pelham, Tenn. (Methodist); Virgil Tipps, Woodbury, Tenn. (Methodist); Charles Brown, Warrance, Tenn. (Methodist); Donald Carter, Murfreesboro, Tenn. (Cumberland Presbyterian); James E. Wolven, Morrison, Tenn. (Church of Christ); William T. Mosley, Murfreesboro, Tenn. (Baptist); Robert Lanus (Methodist), Jacob's Hill. Ordination to the ministry may or may not take place for the student until he has entered seminary work, but it is understood that most of these ministerial students have already been ordained as ministers. Most, if not all, of them too have regular church work in pastoral capacities.

FINEST PLAYING FLOOR IN STATE

To basketball fans accustomed to the old-style small gymnasiums here, the gym in the new Memorial Health and Physical Education Building will be a dream come true. There is an unobstructed view of the playing floor from every seat in the immense gym, even from the top seats in the balcony.

U. S. Civil Service Announces Exams For Positions of Engineer And Scientist

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for the following positions: Engineer, paying $3,100 and $3,825 a year; Civil Engineer (Trainee), paying $2,650 and $2,875 a year; and Junior Scientist (Chemist, Physicist, Metallurgist and Engineer, paying from $2,650 to $3,825 a year. Applications for these examinations will be accepted from college students who expect to complete the required courses of study not later than June 30, 1950. Some of the positions are trainee positions and are available to qualified sophomore and junior students.

The Engineer and Civil Engineer (Trainee) jobs are in the Bureau of Reclamation in several Western and Midwestern states. To qualify for these positions, applicants must pass a written test. In addition, for the Civil Engineer (Trainee) jobs they must have completed appropriate undergraduate study; for the Engineer jobs, they must have had 4 years of education or experience in engineering or a combination of such education and experience. For the jobs paying $3,825 a year, an additional year of experience is required.

Junior Scientist and Engineer jobs paying from $2,650 to $3,825 will be filled in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C. and nearby Maryland and Virginia and in certain Army and Navy establishments elsewhere in Maryland and Virginia; similar jobs paying $3,100 and $3,825 are to be filled at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio. All applicants must pass a written test. For jobs paying $2,650 and $2,875, applicants must have had appropriate college study, and for those paying $3,100 and $3,825, they must have had appropriate education or experience or a combination of the two.

Further information and application forms for the above examinations may be obtained at most first- and second-class post offices from Civil Service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications for the Junior Scientist and Engineer jobs in Washington, D. C., Maryland, and Virginia, must be received by the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington (Continued On Page Four)

President Smith Offers New SIAA Champion Plan

Sloan Elected Vice President at Miami Meet

Q. M. Smith, president of Middle Tennessee State College introduced a resolution designed to establish conference champions in major sports at the annual meeting of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association meeting at Miami, Florida last week. The resolution has occasioned considerable interest among the 40 odd member schools. The resolution has been referred to member schools for study and possible adoption at the 1950 meeting.

President Smith's plan calls for a conference champion in football to be determined by a composite of three national rating systems, including the Williamson and Litkinhouse. In the event the SIAA basketball tournament is not revived the plan would be used for selecting a basketball champion for the conference in a similar manner.

Florida colleges expressed marked interest in the proposal in view of the fact that the SIAA champion would likely be much in demand for one of the "bowl" games in that area. At present no football champion is selected due to the fact that the SIAA covers all of the states from the Ohio river to Florida and from Texas to the Atlantic. It is the oldest athletic conference in the nation. Memphis State, Union University, Tennessee Tech, Middle Tennessee State and Austin Peay are Tennessee members of the conference. Four of the Ohio Valley Conference schools in Kentucky are also members of the SIAA and four Alabama state colleges are in the group.

Gene H. Sloan, chairman of athletics at Middle Tennessee State College, was elected vice-president of the conference for Region IV. He succeeds R. M. Robinson of Memphis State College.

Mr. Sloan, who as a high school administrator was active in the formation of the Cumberland Valley high school conference and served as its president for two terms is at present president of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference.

At the Miami meeting the SIAA also voted to consider modifying its (Continued On Page Four)

'White Elephant' Party of IA Club Scores Holiday Hit

The fastest growing and most upcoming club on the campus, The Industrial Arts Club, had an enjoyable Christmas "White Elephant" Party on the night of December 10, 1949. This party was financed from the prize money which the club won in the homecoming day parade by having the best float in the parade. This outing was held in the Boy Scout Lodge on Ewing Avenue, where Mr. Bomar, the vice-president of the club, resides. A roaring fire was going in the big open fireplace in the clubroom of the lodge. Weiners and marshmallows were roasted over this open fire. Popcorn, popped in old-fashioned poppers, was also provided, with potato chips, peanuts, pickle, cokes, steaming hot coffee, and boiled custard completing the menu.

Special guests of the club on this occasion were President and Mrs. Q. M. Smith and children. Mr. Delbert Dyke, the sponsor of the club, and his wife and children were present. Other members of the faculty attending were Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Freeman and son, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie S. Voorheis, Mr. S. R. Woods and children, and Mr. Phillip Dalton. Immediately following the supper a Christmas tree for the children and the "White Elephant" party for the grown-ups was had. Some of the gifts that the guests received won't do to print, but I think President (Continued on Page Four)

Thirty-Six Alumni Will Be Honored Thursday Morning

Thirty-six alumni of Middle Tennessee State College will be honored when the Memorial Health and Physical Education Building is formally dedicated January 12 in brief mid-morning ceremonies, at which Frank Clement of Nashville, state commander of the American Legion, will deliver the principal address.

B. B. Gracy, III, outstanding State College athlete in the years immediately preceding the war, will unveil the plaque dedicated to the memory of the 36 college alumni who gave their lives in the war. Mr. Gracy, clerk and master of the Rutherford County Chancery Court, will represent the Purple Heart veterans of the alumni.

Others appearing on the program include Rev. Ben Alexander, who will give the invocation, Robert Abernathy, secretary of the alumni association, and President Q. M. Smith. The college chorus and band will provide appropriate music during the program.

The program will begin at 10 o'clock Thursday morning to which the public and alumni are invited. Following the program the visitors will have an opportunity to tour the new $514,000 health and physical education building during an "open house" period. Thursday night the East Tennessee State College basketball team will play the MTSC Raiders in a Volunteer State Athletic Conference game.

Alumni in whose honor the building will be dedicated include: Sidney Arnold, Wheat; Roy Bass, Liberty; Harold Brantley, Shelbyville; Carl Yates, Nashville; William Burkett, Watertown; Danny Butterfield, Westmoreland; Lucian Durham, Murfreesboro; Robert Fry, Old Hickory; Wesley Gilley, Murfreesboro; Roy Hicks, Thomasville; John Max Knox, Nashville; Lewis Key, Hartsville; Norman Lane, Birchwood; R. K. Locker, Fayetteville; Robert McClintock, Cornersville; William McCrory, Lawrenceburg; Obery Moore, Murfreesboro; William Neely Smyrna; Sam Nisbett, Murfreesboro; Paul Osten, Chapel Hill; Constant S. Owen, Madison; Walter Pennell, J. W. Reeves, Sharpesville; Edgar Rogers, Murfreesboro; Robert Saris, Lewisburg; Arthur Scates, Cheatham; James Schleicher, Nashville; Allen Seaward, Murfreesboro; (Continued On Page Four)

Music Department Will Give Three Guest Programs

Miss Vigna Dillon, organist, will be presented in recital at the Middle Tennessee State College auditorium, Monday evening, January 16 at eight o'clock. The Beta Sigma Phi sorority is sponsoring the recital.

Miss Dillon, a member of the college music faculty is the student of Margaret Wright of MTSC and Lillian Carpenter of Julliard School of music. She was a piano student of the late Elizabeth Braswell Stephens and the late Frances Bohannon. Miss Dillon's recital will be in four parts as follows:

- I Theme from Concerto in B Flat Minor—Tchaikovsky Romance—Rubenstein
  - II Mountain Sketches—Clokey Jagged Peaks in the Starlight Wind in the Trees Canyon Walls
  - III Sonata in F Minor—Borowski Allegro maestoso
  - IV Chime Prelude in A Major—Peele Clair de Lune—Debussy The Squirrel—Scherzino—Weaver
- A folk music program will be given January 12 at four o'clock at the Woman's Club by the women's trio for the Craddock Club. Appearing on the program will be Donna McHenry, Martha Massey, Betty Tipps and Ray Tankley.
- Third in the immediate series of interesting music programs in that of the Harp Singers to be presented at the Murfreesboro Junior High school Tuesday, January 17 at 11 o'clock.

Ag Club Plans To Extend Aid In Four Fields

Dr. Clifford N. Stark has announced the Agriculture Club organization which will extend the services of the club to the Middle Tennessee area.

Dr. Stark and the chairman of the club, assisted by Mr. Parks as counselor and the other vocational agriculture faculty members as advisors will set up four groups within the club to provide services for adult club visitors, visitors for Four H and Future Farmer clubs, to provide speakers and programs for farm banquets and to act as hosts for farm activities on the campus.

A fifth division of the club will cooperate with the college publicity department to provide local news releases, radio programs, information for the school publications and the daily newspapers of the area.

NEW MTSC GYMNASIUM ONE OF REGION'S FINEST

This is the imposing exterior of the Memorial Health and Physical Education Building at Middle Tennessee State College, which will be dedicated Thursday. The building, costing over a half million dollars, stands facing North Tennessee Boulevard, just north of the college cafeteria building.

Investigation Reveals Registration Fee Opens Door to Wealth of Entertainment

by Jean Pellegrin Do you like a bargain? Each quarter a student at MTSC receives about double his money's worth. If you don't believe this read on and be convinced.

The football games, which average about five per year, would cost each student approximately $8.10 if he were to pay regular prices. As it now stands, he actually pays $4.00 each game. The Midlander is ordinarily priced at four dollars a copy; the student receives it for the petty price of one dollar. Three plays are presented by the Buchanan Dramatic Club each year and the grand total for admission would be $1.80. The student sees all three plays for the price of one, $6.01.

Aside from the above, a student sees 11 basketball games with reserved seats for a mere $1.13. To an outsider these games would cost about $8.25. It would be a "faux pas" indeed if The Side-Lines were omitted. A student receives a copy every two weeks for the price of thirty-five cents. Quarterly subscription is one dollar.

This is not the end by any means. If each student were to participate in trips made for the benefit of the school functions, such as dances, sports, educational and religious services, and all forensic activities, he would mathematically receive double his money. Surely this should convince all that school functions should be attended, if not because of a sense of loyalty to MTSC, at least to get your money's worth!

Another part of the fees is used for the maintenance of the administrative side of MTSC. The school could not and would not be able to keep clerical records without a percentage of the fees paid by the students. The money appropriated is used for the purchasing of mimeographing supplies, report cards, transcripts, tests, and school records, to say nothing of the freshmen identification pictures.

Still another percentage of these same fees is used for the health services rendered to each student. Aside from the physical examination, each student is allowed consultation services, the treatment of minor injuries, routine immunization services, chest x-rays, diagnostic tests, and three days of hospitalization of needed.

Surely this should completely diminish the fees, but there is still another field of activity which benefits from them. That is the student and administrative body which handles the assembly programs. This is a hard duty indeed, for those in charge must consider the broad range of interests which is prevalent in so large a body of students. The programs presented, varying from guest speakers for religious week to modern bands, must be paid out of the percentage allowed them from the student fees.

This should very well convince everyone that he receives more than he pays for. All of this data, for the benefit of the more pessimistic student, is strictly according to "Hoyle." (Taken from an official breakdown of fees released by the bursar's office.)

NEW MEN'S DORMITORY AMONG IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED AT MTSC

Above is the architect's conception of the new three-and-a-half story men's dormitory scheduled for construction this year. The building, to be located on the east side of the campus, will be of brick and concrete structure and will accommodate 160 students.

NEW STUDENT UNION-CAFETERIA BUILDING TO COST $500,000

The new cafeteria and student union building to be built this year as a part of State's expansion program is pictured above. The two and a half story structure will be located between the two girls' dormitories on the west side of the campus.

Four Years of Progress

Seniors graduating in 1950 can look back on four years in which MTSC made the greatest progress in the history of the school.

The fact that its enrollment is not so large that students can get to know one another is one of the advantages that transfers from larger schools frequently comment upon.

The completion of the new gymnasium and the new building program announced in this issue of the Side-Lines will make State one of the best equipped colleges in the state.

Graduate work may also be offered in the classrooms of Middle Tennessee State within the near future.

MEET MTSC MASTERS

For the benefit of those few who have not as yet crossed paths with MTSC's associate professor of geography, we shall start the new quarter off with a formal introduction of Edward B. Baldwin.

Although originally from North Carolina, Mr. Baldwin, along with his family, soon moved to South Carolina. It was in that state that he received his elementary and high school education, and ventured on to attend Wofford College.

In the year 1939, Mr. Baldwin concluded his travels and settled here at MTSC. Along with his educational duties, he is a member of the athletic committee, the social committee, and the public programs committee.

Mr. Baldwin is a member of the Methodist Church at which he is the director of music and a member of the board of stewards.

Through extensive traveling and observation, Miss Hester Rogers, assistant professor of art, hopes to instill in her students that knowledge which she has gained first hand.

Miss Rogers, a native of Smith County, Tennessee, was a student here at MTSC long before it ever dreamed of reaching the heights to which it has come.

Immediately following the completion of her formal education, Miss Rogers started on her traveling career to gain first hand information about that which she had previously studied.

Efere 1925, the year in which Miss Hester Rogers came to teach at the "finest," she held a position at the local school in Franklin, Louisiana.

With growing union demands for welfare benefits, we must make a new study of the relationships between government and private social security, or the nation will find itself over-insured.

How We Met

My favorite tune at the moment (it's pure coincidence that I recorded it for Victor) is "Give Me Your Hand."

Take Bea Wain and Andre Baruch, known to the butcher and baker as Mrs. Baruch. They met on a Kate Smith show. Just said "hello" casually, as you do on a big program.

Stanley and Helen Melba share one of the most unusual careers in show business. Their firm produces shows and the supplies entertainment for a large hotel chain.

While we're on the subject of early romances, I just can't resist mentioning "be-man" Mitch Ayres, our conductor on the Chesterfield Supper Club.

Stanley and Helen met at a party when Helen was 16, Stanley a few years older. They had a long engagement, and Helen was ever bit of a story on how they met, came up with a beautifully simple one.

What's Your Answer to QUESTION OF THE WEEK

by Juanita Wheeler

The question which your roving reporter asked this week was: "Which do you like most about M. T. S. C.?" Listed below is a group of the people questioned and their answers:

- Jim Hite—Patsy Angla; Ann Ledford: Simple way of life on the campus; Joe Powell Shelton: Fine spirit of students and teachers; Delores Griswald: Friendliness toward freshmen; Torrace McCarty: Friendly people, pretty girls, and life in Jones Hall.

- June Posey: The men; Betty Fog: A certain fifteen; Ben Cannada: The spirit and night work; J. S. Holmes: The girls; Glad Shaw: Friendly atmosphere; Evelyn Hardison: Sports; Evelyn Gotcher: Jim Babb; Cary Oliver: Hospitality in its various forms; Monte Kennedy: Everybody is just like one big happy family; Mary Dell Dunlap: Its nearness to Smyrna; Tom King: I like two things about MTSC, the young women and the old women; Cary Oliver: Hospitality in its various forms; Juanita Wheeler: The generous response to pestering roving reporters.

NEWS RUSTLING

by Nancy Junius

Dr. E. B. Norton was inaugurated as ninth president of Florence State Teachers College in Florence, Alabama. Three campus buildings were dedicated in honor of Dr. C. B. Collier, Dr. J. A. Keller, and Dr. H. J. Williamson.

Miss Rogers puts her store of knowledge into practical use, for she has designed, built, and now maintains her own home on North Tennessee Boulevard. Her main form of recreation is attending to her garden and amusing her little dog, "Conso."

The University Echo reports that the new science building was dedicated on November 19, 1949. The students on the campus at the University of Chattanooga are all working together in an effort to provide toys and presents for underprivileged children in Chattanooga.

Mississippi State College for Women in Columbus, Mississippi held their Swim Parade of 1949 on the night of December 10 in the swimming pool of Pohl gymnasium. The Spectator featured an account of a concert presented at Lee Hall by none other than Artie Shaw and his orchestra on November 30.

Austin Peay State College has expanded head of the newly created library science department. The social science department now offers minors in economics and sociology.

The English department has made a minor available in speech. ALL STATE tells about the new phonetic alphabet. P. P. Claxton, president emeritus of APSC, recently announced the completion of this alphabet. The phonetic alphabet contains 42 letters, one for each sound in the English language.

One of my favorite "how-we-met" stories comes from a versatile and distinguished show business couple, Kitty Carlisle and Moss Hart. Author-producer Hart and actress-singer Carlisle, when pressed for a story on how they met, came up with a beautifully simple one.

'It's All So Confusing' Is Reaction of Many Newcomers to Twins at State

By WILMA GREEN

Do you think you're seeing double? Well, don't be alarmed because the enrollment of MTSC boasts of five sets of twins.

They are: Linda and Sara Curry of Flintville; Frank and Howard Garner of Deuel; Betty and Bobby DeJarnett of Murfreesboro; Hubert and Huelin Hollins of Gallatin; and Robbie and Bobby Gregory of Clarksville.

Linda and Sara Curry, the petite, dark-haired lassies spent four years confusing basketball fans at Flintville High. Can you imagine anything more horrible than trying to determine which twin is where at a certain point in the game?

Contrast the DeJarnetts with the Gregories. Once again we have a male and female, but this time they're slight in stature, and both love music. Bobby collects records which is very convenient for Robbie who loves to dance.

Eds & Co-eds by JEAN PELLEGRIN. Many long years ago in the land of sunshine (Florida, that is), James Andrew Hardaway made his first appearance in this somewhat drenched world of ours.

Soon afterwards he and his family moved to Nashville, and eventually to Lebanon. It was in Lebanon that he received his secondary school training, with one year at Lebanon High School and the remaining three at Castle Heights Military Academy.

Our congratulations are out to Rock for his many fine performances in his position as guard on MTSC's undefeated football team. His much appreciated work warranted him a membership in the athletic "T" club.

ALONG THE SIDELINES

By JIM LEE

LOOKING BACK AT 1949

With this issue of the Side-Lines we usher in the new year of 1950. Athletically speaking, 1949 was one of the best years in the history of MTSC. The basketball team sported a ten won-ten lost record, but Maxie Runion was selected on the all-VSAC team and received the Side-Lines' most valuable player award.

The Raider baseball team won the conference championship behind the leadership of Fred Grider and Joe Jackson, co-captains of the club. Maxie Runion became the second student in the history of MTSC to letter three times in one year. Joe Jackson was the first.

In the same golden year Robert Sain, brilliant state golfer, tied for the conference championship and in the summer went to Los Angeles for the National Amateur open.

Fall came again as it has a few times before, and football made its reappearance on the college campus. The Blue Raiders, under the captaincy of James Adams and his aide de camp, Fred Grider, copped the VSAC championship with a perfect record marred only by one tie with Murray. Six of these champion Raiders, Jim McCoy, Fred Grider, Charles Lyons, Maxie Runion, J. B. Proctor, and Angello Varallo, were selected on the all-conference team.

ODDS AND ENDS
Yuks at Big Ben Canada's quip, "I gotta doze more likit," to Montypenny of Lipscomb when he said, "Good Shot." . . . As Coach Riel said, "The difference between a yankee and a damyankee is that a yankee stays up north." He said not to quote him I won't. . . . Orchids to Fuzzy Harmening, the Raider hi-point man.

SWIMMING
If the "moonsoon" season lasts any longer some of the students have expressed a desire to go swimming this winter in Lake Training School. Rumor has it that some of the Lyon girls went for a dip a March or two ago in weather such as this. It has been suggested that the college organize an interscholastic swimming team now that we have a few nice lakes on the campus.

Sport Profiles

By JANE HOLLAND

One of the Raiders' outstanding guards is Bobby Ballew, a junior from Soddy-Daisy. Bobby is a three year letterman on the MTSC basketball squad.

A very modest person, Bobby doesn't often speak of the laurels he earned in high school. He lettered 3 years in basketball, being named alternate captain in his senior year. Ballew also received the honors of all-district and all-state. All of Bobby's talents aren't confined to basketball as he played quarterback on Soddy-Daisy's football team, lettering three years.

A physical education major, Bobby plans to coach when he finishes school, but is planning to play semi-pro ball first.

BEN CANADA

Big Ben Canada, 190-pound sophomore from Sidney Lanier High in Montgomery, Alabama, is the other profile of the week.

Ben "Redwing," as he is known on the campus, was one of Lanier's finest athletes, lettering three years in football, three years in basketball, and two years in track. Other than high school basketball, "Wing" played two years of service basketball for Maxwell Field in Montgomery.

Ben, a physical education major, has been an active participant in sports here at MTSC. He is a football letterman, and a member of last year's basketball squad. One of the better centers on the basketball squad, Ben is giving some of the other centers a run for their money for a starting berth.

14 Girls On WAA All-Star Teams

by JANE HOLLAND

The intramural program carried on by the WAA during the fall quarter provided an outlet for the various athletic abilities of the girls enrolled at MTSC.

In order to be a member it is required that each girl earn a hundred points by active participation in the different sports offered. Last quarter an excellent opportunity was offered for those who wished to become members.

The girls who earned a hundred points or more last quarter and are now eligible for membership are as follows: Reba Alderson, Doris Anderson, Nell Banks, Joyce Calfee, Geneva Calfee, Dean Cripps, Ruby Fox, Millie Jo Gray, Evelyn Gotcher, Betty Hale, Martha Harris, Irma Harlan, Patsy Jernigan, Mary Jones, Carolyn Kimberly, Betty Kittrell, Ann Ledford, Gwen Redford, Jean Mason, Elva Monger, Dot Marlin, Muriel Massey, Jean Mingles, Dean Ozier, Sarah K. Owens, Delores Richie, Alline Vaughn, Virginia Wall, and Jane Wright.

The intramural program also proved a fine chance for the old members to earn pins, monograms, letters and sweaters. The awards to be made are as follows:

Pins: June Carter, Linda Curry, Sarah Curry, Sally Ezell, Jane Holland, Nell Hightower, Jane McCreary, Jo Mansfield.

Monograms: Sally Ezell, Jane Holland, Elizabeth Arron, Virginia Woodson.

Letters: Mildred Lowe, Elizabeth Arron, Virginia Woodson.

The girls in the WAA elected all stars for touch football and volleyball. The following were selected: All-Star Touch Football: Nell Banks, Jane Holland, Virginia Woodson, Ann Ledford, Mildred Lowe, Elizabeth Arron.

All-Star Volleyball: Virginia Woodson, Ann Ledford, Jane Holland, Sally Ezell, Jane McCreary, Celia Blevins, Mildred Lowe, Patsy Jernigan.

This quarter the WAA is sponsoring a basketball tournament which is already underway. These games will be played at 4 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, in the old gym. Spectators are welcome.

Raiders Bow to FSTC Lions 70-76

The Florence State Lions overcame a 15 point deficiency at half-time Saturday night and went on to defeat a highly spirited Raider five 70 to 67 in the overtime period of a ball game which was the first to be played in the new Health and Physical Education Building.

Harry Gupton, sophomore forward, paced the Raider team with 22 points, while Capt. Fuzzy Harmening dumped in 15 for the losers. Guard Johnny Ezell fro the Lions shot two long shots in the last minute of the overtime period which proved to be accurate and gave the game to the Lions after Harmening had presumably put it on ice for the Raiders with a foul shot. Bugs Johnson, however, led the Lion five with 22 points.

The Raiders will meet East Tennessee State College Thursday night in the new gymnasium after dedication ceremonies have highlighted the day's activities.

Raiders Edged by Lipscomb 46-41

The MTSC blue Raider cage club was edged by a fighting five from David Lipscomb College by a score of 46-41. The Raider attack was placed by Charles "Fuzzy" Harmening, the Blue captain, with 14 points.

The Raider club pulled ahead early in the game but by halftime the boys from Nashville led by a score of 24-20. Harmening was the spark-plug of the MTSC attack until he fouled out in the final period. Forward Jennings Davis paced the Lipscomb attack with 12 points while John Henderson was second with ten.

This was the first VAC loss for Greer's team, their only other contestant was Milligan. Both teams were sluggish from the start due to the two week Christmas layoff and never really hit their stride.

NEW career opportunities for you in the U. S. AIR FORCE as an

OFFICER AND NAVIGATOR

In this era of long range flights, the role of the navigator has become increasingly important.

The U. S. Air Force now offers new opportunities to young college men between the ages of 20 and 26½ who are single and can qualify for such training.

If you can meet the high physical and educational standards (at least two years of college), and are selected, you can be among the first to attend the new one-year navigator training course at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston, Texas. A new class begins each month!

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

You'll be an Aviation Cadet! And, you'll receive the best available training—including 184 hours in the new T-29 "Flying Classroom."

Then, graduation! You'll win your wings as a navigator . . . and a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force. After a 30-day leave with pay, you'll be ready for challenging assignments as navigator with one of the famous commands in the U. S. Air Force. Your office will be the "front office" of mighty bombers or long-range transports!

Be among the first to win your wings as a U. S. Air Force navigator under the new navigator training program—be a key man on the Air Force team!

Other Flying, Non-Flying Careers
Aviation Cadet pilot training is also available to young men between the ages of 20 and 26 1/2. See about the many nonflying assignments, too! Never before in peacetime has there been such a good opportunity for college-trained men and women to obtain regular commissions in the United States Air Force.

Facts Show That More Men Than Women Are Enrolled in Home Ec

A recent interview with Mrs. Virginia Muncie, head of the Home Economics Department, revealed that more male students are interested in the rearing of families than are the co-eds of State. Proof of this is Home Economics 414 which boasts of an enrollment of 15 boys and nine girls. This is a class in Family Planning.

Mrs. Muncie went on to say that they had some very healthy discussions with the boys, and that the boys were vitally interested for many of them are married. She observed, "Family home making and family life are a fundamental part of everyone's environment, and consequently everyone needs to know how to derive the greatest satisfaction from it. The time has long passed since home economics means cooking and sewing for it covers all phases of family living. Men want and need to know how to rear better families. Out of this has come a new trend. It is not a subject for a few professional women but is and must take a part in general education of college people."

Bobby DeJarnett, one of our well known athletes, is taking course 417, House Planning and Furnishing. All of you that were here last year remember the unforgettable Clyde Cromwell and his incomparable piano playing. He took a number of courses in the home ec department. He made his mother a suit, a friend an evening gown, and a jacket for himself out of which he got much wear on the campus. If you want to be one of the best tailored men on the campus, one of the men that know, see Mrs. Muncie.

Home Ec Teacher Views Fashions Over Holidays

Mrs. Myrtle Agnes Nelson, assistant professor of home economics, spent her holidays in Texas and was delighted with the styles she saw in Dallas at Neiman-Marcus, one of the nation's leading department stores.

The programs are designed to give serious students an opportunity to appear before sympathetic groups over the state. The Shelbyville Rotary Club will

Army Offers Commissions Coeds Graduating in June

Women who have earned their baccalaureate degree or expect to receive one by June 1950 can add commission service in the Women's Army Corps to the careers open to them.

1st Lt. Stanley J. Waitkus, Hq. Third Army, Fort McPherson, Ga., will bring full information on the program when he visits Middle Tennessee State Thursday, January 19, 1950 at 11 o'clock, and addresses the seniors on the advantages of an Army career.

IRC, Speech Arts Join To Supply Club Speakers

Eleanor Shied, soprano and Carolyn Nicholson, pianist, appeared on the MTSC program at the Manchester Rotary Club January 5. Jim Lee of Sewanee, was the principal speaker of the evening.

Lee's address before the Manchester Rotary Club elicited high praise from the leadership there and resulted in an invitation for him to speak at the Tullahoma Lion's Club later in the year.

"The role of the Small Business in Fighting Communism" will be the subject of Jack Littleton's address before the Gallatin Lion's Club January 19. Littleton spoke before two civic clubs at his home in Lenoir City during the holidays. Both his speeches brought letters of appreciation from the clubs to the International Relations Club and the Speech Arts Club, which are sponsoring the appearances of MTSC men at civic club meetings over Tennessee.

The programs are designed to give serious students an opportunity to appear before sympathetic groups over the state. The Shelbyville Rotary Club will hear James McCullough and Bill Willis at their noon meeting, January 12 at the Shelbyville American Legion center. Miss Shied and Miss Nicholson will also appear on this program.

Carl Lappin will be the speaker for the Tullahoma Lion's Club January 17. Miss Betty Brown Tipps, mirimba soloist, the MTSC men's quartette of Ray Tanksley, James Williamson, George Kuhnert and Charles Anderson, accompanied by Margaret Wright will also appear on the program.

Requests for the MTSC speakers have been received from the civic clubs at Woodbury, Mt. Juliet, Portland, Eagleville and Lebanon.

LYON LINES

It's good to be back in the Lyons den after a vacation consisting of eating too much, spending too much, and partying too much. Marney Old, a new Lyon Hall gal, has met with the approval of Bob Raines.

Gentry Smith seems to be a permanent fixture over at Lyon Hall. His interest centers around a petite, blue eyed blonde.

Peggy Brandon, whose Florida tan is the envy of every gal, is still going strong with Bill Willis.

It's good to have Ann Tighe back on the campus. Joe Jones is giving her the rush as usual.

Shirley Mai Heist is back in school after a relatively long illness. Bo Murray is one of the persons made happy by her return.

Changing dorms didn't affect Betty Webb and Robert Ogg's romance.

MTSC Represented By Ruth Ann White at AGO Recital

Miss Ruth Ann White will represent Middle Tennessee State College in an organ recital for the American Guild of Organists which will be held at Scarritt College in Nashville, Tennessee, January 10. Students from Scarritt, Peabody, Vanderbilt, Ward Belmont and Fisk will represent their schools in the program which will be held at 8 p.m. Miss White has chosen two numbers. They are: "God's Time Is Best," J. S. Bach and Toccato from the Fifth Organ Symphony, Widor.
