BY BURTON NELSON

Back again! Vacationing is fun, if you can pick your own time and place, but when you can't control it, it becomes rather boring, not to mention embarrassing. But I'll dispense with the preliminary remarks, and see if I have learned anything.

I'm glad that I can report that Bill Burkett, the outstanding passer of the SIAA last season, is recovering nicely from a major operation. Bill is now at the home of Coach Midgett, and you students are welcomed visitors at any time you might get a chance to go by and see "Little Willie." Bill will be confined to his bed for approximately two to three weeks, but it will be good to see him when he is able to be about again.

Here's hoping that this operation enables Bill to perform for the Blue Raiders next fall, as his accurate tossing is going to be needed.

Spring football is in the air, but in a few more days, it will take a backseat for that official spring sport, BASEBALL. The number of boys out for spring football is not very encouraging, but the spirit and fire of the ones out is very heartening.

I hear that Johnny (Red) Hansen will help Coach Jordan with the diamond stars this year. This will add more professional experience and skill to the coaching staff.

"Johnny Red" is the property of the St. Louis Browns, and was slated for the regular first sacker's berth at San Antonio, in the Texas League. However, Red chose to continue his studies and didn't report. He hopes to enter Med school after this year.

Not that my endorsement means anything, but I think that President Smith's idea of a program of mass calisthenics is one that has long been needed. If it is carried out, more than likely, Coach Jordan will act as director, which will practically give Red Hansen full sway with the baseball team.

Let's all enter into this program wholeheartedly, and snap out of our well accepted complacency!

Funny, isn't it, how people have come to accept the fact that Tennessee State graduates make the best athletic coaches of any school in Tennessee. This was further borne out in the recent basketball tournaments held here; first, the district finals, then the Unit meet, and finally, the Regional.

I believe that a survey would show that three out of every five of the schools participating are coached by TSC grads. This does not include the many who have recently joined the Naval Reserve Athletic Program. Some of these are Shorty Campbell, Charlie Miller, Jay Hamblen, Sandy Hoffman, and Bubber Murphy.

Navy Offers Business Majors An Opportunity

NEW ORLEANS, March 10. — In an effort to secure additional junior officers, the Navy today expanded its program to make juniors and seniors of accredited non-technical colleges eligible for appointment as ensigns in the Naval Reserve. It was announced by Eighth Naval District Headquarters.

In the past, only students attending technical colleges were eligible for probationary commissions. Now, for example, seniors who are candidates for a degree in business administration or commerce will be recommended for appointment as ensigns. Qualified applicants will be commissioned immediately and not ordered to active duty until graduation.

Twenty Blue Raiders Out For Spring Practice

Approximately twenty TSC Blue Raiders were going through their paces this week on the college practice field as spring grid practice moved into its second week.

Light exercise with little rough stuff will characterize the spring sessions as the squad is too small to risk losing any men, Coach Wink Midgett stated. The periods will be spent in merely conditioning the boys.

One of the big jobs facing the coaching staff is to find a kicker who can take the place of Burney Lee Tucker, soon to go into the Air Corps. The staff have four Raiders singled out for this work: Bob Burkett, who will be a sophomore next year; Bill Burkett, who proved an outstanding pass slinger last season; Gene McIntyre, a coming senior who has held down the end position; and Jim Lane, stocky sophomore.

The average weight of the line should run around 190 pounds, while the backfield will probably push up to 170, Coach Midgett stated.

Next year's schedule is now complete except for a tentative game with Maryville College, Midgett said. The University of Tampa has been placed among the Raider oes and the local squad is slated to visit the Sunshine State for their first battle next fall. The schedule has been limited to eight games. The first game of the season will be with Memphis State at Memphis, in Crump stadium, it was disclosed. The complete schedule will be released later.

Questions And Answers About Naval Aviation

Editor's Note: Here are answers to some of the questions most frequently asked, particularly by college students, about enlistment for aviation flight training in the United States Naval Reserve.

Q. How does Naval Aviation vary from other forms of aviation?

A. There is a great similarity. Naval Aviation, however, offers a wider field for pilots, and provides instruction in both land and sea types of planes, single and multiple engine. Your type of duty after being commissioned in Naval Aviation, is more versatile than in other branches of service.

Q. What are the opportunities for an officer in the Naval Reserve to obtain a commission in the regular Navy?

A. The Naval Aviation Personnel Act of 1940 makes provision for appointment each year in the line of the regular Navy and Marine Corps of as many qualified naval aviators in the Naval Reserve and Marine Corps, as the President of the United States may deem necessary. Aviators less than 26 years of age and with not less than 18 months of continuous active service following their training period, are eligible for such appointments.

Hanson To Aid Jordan In Coaching; Military Bites Into TSC Horsehidiers

In keeping with a nation-wide trend, baseball will suffer a setback at Tennessee State this Spring. Many of last year's stars have already joined the armed forces and more leave every week.

Among those who would have returned ordinarily but are now in the armed forces of the United States are: Billy Bryant, Bill Driver, Jimmy Schleicher, and Walter Drops, all outfielders; infielder Billy Burch; pitcher McClintock and Ellis; and catcher Ed Hodges.

Returning lettermen around whom the year's Raider baseballers will be built are: Jimmy Jackson and Gene McIntyre, pitchers; Horton Tarpley, catcher; and "Moe" Tolbert, infielder. Maury Smartt is being counted on to hold down one end of the outfield.

"There's not a single berth on the squad that is a pre-season cinch and all males who have any baseball experience are urged to try out for the team," Coach Nance "River" Jordan stated this week.

Practice will begin as soon as the weather becomes more suitable, Jordan said.

The schedule has not been announced but it will probably be the same as last year, with games with Vanderbilt, Murray, Western Kentucky, David Lipscomb, and others, Coach Jordan commented.

Western Kentucky Second In Nationals

School Adds Prestige To SIAA By Reaching Finals Of Meet In Madison Square Garden

A gallant band of basketballers from Bowling Green, Ky., proved that supposed "small time" colleges can compete with the recognized powers of a nation's sport by advancing to the finals in the National Invitation basketball tournament at New York City this past week.

The Hilltoppers of Western journeyed through the tournament the hard way, being ranked seventh of the eight teams invited. Sweeping past the nation's most highly touted teams, they advanced to the finals with a decisive victory over University of Toledo.

Playing West Virginia, the proteges of Coach Ed Diddle, the victim of a two-point setback, losing on two charity shots in the last 45 seconds. The final accounting was 47-45, with West Virginia emerging the victor.

Western's success in the National speaks high of the conference from which they came, as the teams they defeated in winning the SIAA provided them with more competition than they encountered in the National. Incidentally, the Hilltoppers have won the SIAA championship for the last 10 years.

It takes high-speed photography to "stop" Dorothy Lewis's flashing blades, but it's easy to see her preference for Camels

FASTER than the blink of any human eye, the amazing stroboscopic camera catches Dorothy Lewis in one of her brilliant routines on the ice of the Iridium Room in New York's Hotel St. Regis.

DOROTHY LEWIS studied ballet from the age of 4, and her routines on the ice combine the artistry of the dancer with the speed of the skater. Her cigarette combines extra mildness and flavor. She smokes slower-burning Camels.

MISS LEWIS works out all her routines first in ballet slippers. Many's the Camel cigarette she smokes as she relaxes. "Yes, I smoke a good bit," Miss Lewis says. "I've found Camels milder by far. And with their full, rich flavor, Camels always taste so good."

CAMELS HAVE THE MILDNESS THAT COUNTS WITH ME— LESS NICOTINE IN THE SMOKE

THE MORE I SMOKE, THE MORE I APPRECIATE CAMELS, says Miss Lewis at a late supper with friends at the St. Regis. "Their cool, rich flavor is all the more enjoyable because Camels are so mild — with less nicotine in the smoke." You, yourself, try Camels. You'll like everything about this slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos. You'll like that grand flavor — and you'll like knowing that there's less nicotine in the smoke (see below).

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains than the average of the 4 other largest-selling cigarettes tested— less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself!

Christian Union Gives Program At TSC Chapel

Three minutes in silent meditation by the TSC student body opened the program presented in chapel recently by the Student Christian Union at the college. The theme of the program was "We Would Be Building."

Shannon Patton, president of the organization, delivered the devotional following the period of meditation. An octette composed of Jean Ruth Tissittworth, Wilber Bates, Jean Snell, Orene Stone and Horton Tarpley, Wilson Patton, Horace Beasley and Bruce Robinson sang "We Would Be Building (Finlandia)."

Four members of the club gave four major things that students should be building for. Thelma Williams discussed "World Brotherhood," Ruth Allen, "Service," Martha Major, "Happiness," and Carolyn Cook concluded the program with a poem.

The SCU holds Vesper services every Sunday evening in the TSC Administration Building. They will sponsor Religious Emphasis Week, April 6 and 7. Dr. King Vivion will be the principal speaker.

Side-lines Slander--Spring, Looks To Us As If 'Nough Said

Quote, "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of that which the young lady has been thinking about all the year," and so here we go, first visiting our garden to see what flowers are in bloom.

Century Plant: Rivaling this flower for steadfastness are the romances of Martha Northern and Bill McDonald, Amelia Parker and Doc Richards, Ida Leopard, and Bill Ross, and John Holt and Wilber Bates.

Jonquils: Budding romance coming in with the blooming buttercups are those of Becky Moore and Maury Smartt, Dot Johnson and Hut Sut Raulston, Margaret Starkey and Jack Allen, Lenora Craig and Nelson Eshman.

From the Winter Hot House: Starting back in the dead of winter, but now being brought out for some fresh sunshine, are the coupleings of Doris Mason and Tommy Tucker, Jessie DePriest and Joe Nunley, Emma Deere and David Hailey.

Rebudding after a period of hibernation: Namely, Doc Anderson and Mary Elizabeth Pepper.

There are some couples who move so quietly on the campus that it is hard to get anything on them, so we'll just mention them in this category: Bob Bundy and Evelyn Broyles are one of these, but, say, Ellen, where does Roy North come in or go out? Likewise, Bob, you had better watch that girl, for she has more in charm than you may possibly realize, especially on a dance floor! Sid Huggins and his cutie from Fayetteville are still moving along at a nice pace, and if Horton and Betty don't watch them, Sid and Evelyn may pass them.

Batten, you lose them all to Uncle Sam, don't you? Is it April 6 that Bud is leaving?

Bill Burkett may be confined to his bed, but May Lytle doesn't let that phase her!

The perfect Blonde and Brunette contrast at the Backward Dance was Ann D. Edwards and Victor (Bailey) Kerr, both definite black haired.

Wanda Garner is still interested in military activities, but Carrie Partin is in a troubled state of mind; we hear her soldier friend just took the fatal step.

Can this be real? Is Leon DeLozier really dividing his time from his various activities to share it with Oelita Edwards?

Right here I would like to donate a few lines to a boy who has we can possibly express our appreciation for. Yes, I'm speaking of LEWIS BRINKLEY and his boys, who have shown a spirit of cooperation that not many display.

Low has a fine band, and has proven that to us on many occasions. Thursday night, his willingness to play for the Backward Dance only went to demonstrate his many good qualities that we believe will carry him far along the ladder of success. It wasn't the first time that he had furnished his orchestra free of charge, but we hope that from now on we can repay you in some small way for these courtesies. Our heartfelt thanks to the entire band, and I speak for ALL who attended the dance!!!

This triangle between Marguerite Clements, Roger Smith, and Ed Heistand is unraveling fast, but we fear what may happen in the end!

Bill Mitchell seems to have succeeded where others have ailed, that is, in capturing the heart of Virginia Denton. —Frances West seems to be faring rather well, in spite of Henry Ford's absence.

Birdie, is it true that Buddie Brantley has left for the Naval Reserve? Tom Townes seems to make frequent visits to both dormitories, with Hewlette Burton being the main objective in Rutledge!!!

State French Tournery For High Schools Here

The preliminary contest of the State French tournament for this region was held today in the Training School, in Murfreesboro; the final contest will be at Nashville on May 2. This tournament is an annual event among the high schools of Tennessee for those students interested in languages.

Last year nearly one hundred boys and girls from surrounding counties came to Murfreesboro to participate in this contest and it is hoped that an equally large number will attend this year.

There will be contests in French I, II, III, and IV as formerly, and there will also be a new contest in French II-A for students who started second year French in January, 1942. This contest will be state-wide, one set of prizes only

There were medals for the three highest contestants in each classification in each region, and certificates for all who qualify for the finals.

Scholarships for winners in the preliminary contest here will be awarded by Bethel College, Lambuth College, and Johnson City State Teachers College.

Winners in the final contest will receive scholarships from Bethel College, George Peabody College, and Tennessee College for Women.

15 Schools Participate In Forensic Meet

Approximately 15 Middle Tennessee high schools participated in the annual Tennessee Interscholastic Literary League district forensic contests at Tennessee State College today. W. B. Judd, TSC faculty member in charge of the meeting announced.

The contests began at 8:30 a. m. in the college auditorium and continue throughout the day. The reading contest had the largest number of contestants, Judd said. However, public interest is usually centered upon the one-act play entrants, of which there are eight this year.

Other contests include debating, original orations, extemporaneous speaking, and poetry reading.

Winners in the local contest will qualify to attend the state forensic tournament to be held in Knoxville in the middle of April. Here they may qualify for entrance in a national contest.

ters, that any student in the 20-year-old draft age group will be called up before June. The lottery isn't until March. New draft registrants won't be completely classified until sometime in May.

General Hershey's office has cleared up the confusion on how new lists will be integrated with the old. The answer is, they won't do. Not exactly.

Instead the war department will begin an entirely new plan, about June 1, of specifying not only quota numbers but also the age group from which quotas are to be filled. Thus, if the army says it wants men 21 to 35, the old list will be used; if it wants men below 21 or above 35, the new list will be used.

The latest advice to collegians from Selective Service is still, "stick to your college work until you're called." Patriotic fervor has its place, but a wild rush of volunteers will only serve to complicate planning.

The National Education Association's educational policies commission (President Conant of Harvard is a member) is recommending a plan to anticipate Selective Service by two or three years—catch promising boys as they leave high school, steer them into fields where they will be of most use in the war effort.

A "reserved category" of most promising boys 17 through 19 would be allocated to schools and colleges for training. The "reserved category" would be picked "absolutely irrespective" of financial status of their parents, with Uncle Sam financing the advanced education.

Training School PTA Names Mrs. Moore, Pres.

Mrs. Henry Clay Moore, III, has been elected president of the Training School Parent-Teacher Association, it was announced this week.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Jack Todd, vice-president; Mrs. Herbert Young, secretary; Miss Margaret Lowe, treasurer; and Mrs. Julien Moore, historian.

The president and vice-president, due to their office, have been named as delegates to the meeting of the state Parent-Teacher Association to be held in Nashville this spring. Mrs. Young was elected as alternate delegate.

O. K. Gels, Get The Latest On Fashions

Fashion, this Spring, is keyed to morale.

New york creations have been designed to flatter American women and give them that well-dressed feeling that builds optimism. Dresses are threofore smart and trim, less lavish than the glitter dresses of the fall and winter season, but every bit as gay.

Their gayety is achieved largely by an imaginative use of color. Startling greens, clear blues, crisp yellows, striking reds are all to be found in the latest New York creations. Some of the frocks are tricolor, fashioned into slenderizing lines.

Others splash color into printed patterns. Contrast between the print and solid color is achieved by fashioning a brightly printed skirt with a solid bodice. The combination may be reversed, too.

Jacket dresses promise to be popular again. The jackets, often distinguished by a prky peplum, are shorter than those of recent seasons, and are easy to wear. A quick survey finds that: Skirts are often slim . . . pegtops are again coming into style . . . dirndles are still favorites . . . yoke effects at the hips give slight front fullness . . . slightly puffed hip pockets enhance the feminine effect. The moral of the tale seems to be that you can choose any silhouette that is suited to your personality and your figure and Dame Fashion will smile at you.

Navy blue, a Springtime favorite, promises to be more popular than ever. It is fashioned into trim looking afternoon frocks, or two-piece jacket dresses worn with or without a blouse.

Clear pastels are prettier than ever. So fresh and clean-looking they seem to have been distilled into the subtlest delicacy.

Important are those fashioned of shadow print fabrics for afternoon parties, and "dressed-up" occasions.

Evening frocks in light fabrics are fluid in line whether they are bouffant or pencil slim. The slim silhouettes are especially interesting with the new peg-top influence.

For "everyday" wear, dresses are simply designed and exhibit the fine tailoring of New York dressmakers. Open-throats, sewed-in belts, shirtwaist tops, softly full skirts are most frequently seen. In gabardines, light wools, and cool rayons, these dresses are at once feminine and serviceable.

New York creations for juniors are more charming than ever. The ballering mode, created by our evening gown designers, has been adapted for junior party dresses.

Wardrobes this Spring should be cheerful and beautifully balanced with such a variety of silhouettes and colors, from which to choose. Remember that you can build a whole wardrobe around a basic set of accessories and have a beautiful dress for every occasion.

death, everything that you have ever done will flash through your mind, and if you have not prepared yourself for the battle while in school it will weigh against you," President Smith stated.

"Our youth must prove themselves fit as the youth of the enemy, and the enemy has a ten-year start on us. It is reported that Japanese soldiers can march for three days without food and when on maneuvers they eat hard food, that is uncooked. It is because of such things as these that we must get together and develop ourselves for any challenge that may be handed us in the next few years," President Smith concluded.

The students were requested to think over a mass exercise period for every student in school, either every day or three times a week before the chapel session adjourned.

'Kind Lady' Next Buchanan Play

The next production to be given by the Buchanan dramatic club of TSC will be "Kind Lady," by Edward Chederoy, Edward L. Tarpley, faculty sponsor of the club, has announced.

The play made its first appearance in 1935 and was revived again in 1940. It has been presented by many colleges and little theatre groups and has been successful throughout, Mr. Tarpley said.

He described the play as a "spine-tingling drama, with mystery, comedy, and one of the most thrilling climaxes of any play of modern times."

The cast will be partially named at the club's weekly meeting.
