Polio Immunization Program Started

Students and faculty members have been urged by area medical authorities to take advantage of the immunization program for poliomyelitis which was started in the Mid-state area on the sixth of October by the administration of Type one of the Sabin Oral Polio vaccine.

The second program will be on Sunday, November 3rd when the Type Three E vaccine will be administered and the final will be on the eighth of December when Type Two vaccine will be available.

This vaccine is administered by the sugar cube method and does not require any type of shot. All persons from two months to 99 years of age will be encouraged to receive immunization. Doctor James A. Payne, chairman for Murfreesboro, has stated that it is important to eliminate the carrier as a danger in the spread of Polio varius.

Art Department Begins Creative Art For Children

Creative art for children will be initiated over a twelve week period beginning October 14, according to Joe Orze, head of the art department.

The program will include experiences in a variety of media and techniques based upon the age and grade level of the students. There will be four groups in the clinic: a primary, intermediated, junior high and high school group. The groups will meet on Monday or Wednesday from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. Pre-registration will be on October 11 from 3-5 p.m. in the art department on the third floor of the fine arts building on the MTSC campus.

Mr. Orze and Mr. Morris Brandon, associate professor art education will be in charge of the program.

News From Your ASB

"Smothers Brothers" Scheduled For Oct. 24

Tickets will soon go on sale for the coming big name entertainers, "The Smothers Brothers," who are scheduled to be here October 24th. There is the possibility that the clubs and classes will sell tickets and get a per cent of the profits.

Work is currently underway on a student directory. Perhaps you may have noticed the mid-night oil burning in the Business Building? That is some of your ASB officials hammering away at their typewriters trying to get this directory ready for you the students as soon as possible.

Clubs who wish to sponsor a Fun Night should submit a form to Sally Smith, Box 2, in order that a date may be secured on the social calendar.

The Twenty-Five Point System is being used at MTSC in order that leadership can be held by more students. This creates a more democratic form of government which provides students with opportunities to voice their ideas.

Homecoming will soon be here and ideas for a theme are being discussed. Do you have any ideas?

Perhaps in the future a better PA System will be bought. A committee is presently working on this and will submit its findings to President Cope.

Your ASB has the idea brewing of having one treasure for the entire college. This would entail only one bank account, and all money handled by the separate clubs would pass through this one main treasurer. This would eliminate the confusion of so many separate club accounts in the banks of Murfreesboro.

Diana Gale Wright Dies In Auto Crash

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday for Miss Diana Gale Wright, a sophomore elementary education major from Nashville, who died in an automobile crash Sunday afternoon near Una while en route back to the college after a weekend at home. Miss Wright's mother, Mrs. Ralph D. Wright, 810 Brookside, was seriously injured in the collision with an automobile which crossed the meridian strip into the Wright vehicle. The driver of the other car also died in the accident.

Miss Wright was a graduate of Hillsboro high school. She was a resident of Phipper Hall at MTSC.

Survivors in addition to her parents are a sister, Mrs. Thomas Presler, a brother Ralph D. Wright, Jr., grandparents, Dudley B. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hite.

The Rev. Hubert Covington was in charge of the services with interment in Woodland Memorial Park.

Art Show Displays Wins

MTSC and art students opened a small art show entitled "Ribbons from the Fair" in the foyer of the first floor of the Fine Arts Building on Sunday, September 29.

The exhibit includes works of art by four students and four faculty members who were winners at the Tennessee State Fair.

On Wednesday, October 2, the 6th annual student show opened with works from the 1962-63 school year on exhibit. This exhibit contains drawings, color and design, sculpture, paintings and materials prepared in art education. This exhibit is in the second floor gallery of the Fine Arts Building.

All of these works were shown in the amateur division of the Tennessee State Fair.

In the professional division, four members of the MTSC faculty won awards. They were: Louis Snyder (sculpture), David Le Doux (landscape drawing), Joseph Orze (sculpture), and Jack Lawler (figure drawing and portraits).

ATTENTION

Any student interested in joining the Sidelines staff meet in room 121 in the Administration Building Thursday at 3:40.

MTSC Made Site For State Speech, Drama League

Final plans for making MTSC the permanent location of the state finals of the Tennessee High School Speech and Drama League were made at a meeting in Murfreesboro this week. Dr. Kenneth D. Wright, state director of the League, announced that beginning in the spring of 1964, the League will hold its large state final contest under the direction of Professor Lane Boutwell, head of the speech and drama work at Middle Tennessee State. The 1964 contest will be April 18, and subsequent state contests will be in April of each year.

Dr. Wright stated, "Mr. Boutwell has done such an outstanding job as Director of District IV of the League that we are delighted to have him serve as state tournament director each year and to have this contest in the excellent facilities of Middle Tennessee State College. The location will save thousands of miles of travel each year by the many high schools involved, and more importantly, will provide us with perfect setting and a most efficient tournament director and staff."

Dr. Wright is Director of Broadcasting at the University of Tennessee and directs the eight district contests and the state final contest of the League. There are approximately 100 high schools in the League and the state final contests will bring 150 high school students and teachers to Murfreesboro each year. The League is a project of the Tennessee Association of Broadcasters which provides funds for state trophies and state operating costs.

4,040 Students, In Fall Classes

Dean John Weems uncanny projection for the enrollment of Middle Tennessee State College proved almost completely accurate when figures released from the IBM Office Saturday afternoon showed that a total of 4,040. Dean Weems had made a projection at mid-summer of a student body of 4,000 for the fall semester as compared with an enrollment of 3,739 in 1962, 3,224 in 1961, and 2,850 in 1960.

Broken down by classes the enrollment showed the Freshmen with 1,586, 1,082 Sophomores, 510 Juniors, 663 Seniors, 195 graduate students, and four special students. All classes show a substantial increase over those of last year.

These figures do not include more than 125 students enrolled in extension classes in progress at Winchester (art), Galatin (education), Chattanooga (sociology), Pulaski (mathematics) and Lawrenceburg (education). Bob Abernathy, director of field services for the college. Although enrollment figures are not complete in these classes there are now 117 enrolled in this phase of the college program.

The overall college enrollment as of September 28 stands at 4,157, exceeding by over 400 any all-time total figure for a single semester in the past.

Here is a portion of the huge crowd of students attending the concert by "The Lettermen." The Traveling Hootenannies were here last Saturday. The Smothers Brothers, third big name group is scheduled for October 24, by the A.S.B.

"A great many people are already working a 4-day week; it takes them 5 or 6 days to do it."

Home Economists Begin Another Enjoyable Year

Judy Smith, Publicity Chairman

Home Economics majors and minors have begun an enjoyable year of fellowship and interesting activities through the MTSC Home Economics Chapter.

The Chapter had its first regular meeting of the year in the Home Economics Building October 7 with president Carolyn Simmons presiding. The meeting opened with the business session during which several items of importance were discussed. Some revisions of the Chapter constitution were discussed. The possibility of the group selling tickets for future "big name" entertainment was talked about. President Simmons also announced the chairmen of several committees. Betty Jane Graham and Elaine Haley were appointed chairmen of the Arrangements and Decorations committee. Nancy Hammer was asked to serve as chairman of the Special Projects committee. Several possibilities for a special project were reviewed. The entire Chapter welcomed Mrs. Miles McMillan as their new sponsor.

Following the business session Ernestine Harris led a mixer which was a very effective way of introducing the members, both old and new. After the meeting the Foods committee, Betty Robinson, chairman, served refreshments. The next meeting of the Chapter will be November 4.

To formulate plans for this group of future home economists an executive meeting was held August 8 by the officers: Carolyn Simmons,

An overflow crowd that filled the choral room and spread into the corridors heard the dedicatory program of the new Moller pipe organ Sunday afternoon. Margaret Wright, organist, assisted by Neil Wright, baritone, gave the three part program.

The $10,000 six rank, two manual organ with four general pistons is the latest instrument for teaching and practice to be developed by the M. P. Moller Co., of Hagerstown, Maryland. W. Ray Bradberry was in charge of the installation.

Dr. W. P. Bowdoin, director of the school of education at MTSC, gave the dedicatory prayer and brief address in which he invoked the blessing of the Deity on the use of the instrument. There are now 18 organ students at the college.

Mrs. Wright's program included numbers by Jan Petter Sweelinch, Ludwig Krebs, Johann Rineck, Bach, Marcel Dupre, Richard Purvis, Powell Weaver, Max Reger, Stanley Sexton. Mr. Wright sang three numbers by Ralph Vaughn-Williams.

Dr. Parks Addresses Twentieth Annual Educational Conference

An address by Dr. Joe H. Parks at the twentieth annual educational conference on the MTSC campus Friday and Saturday has received nationwide attention.

The University of Georgia educator, an alumnus of MTSC, the University of Alabama and Ohio State, told 2,300 Tennessee teachers at an integrated meeting Friday that Southern teachers must help children who are disturbed by adult prejudices to understand democracy.

He also stressed the importance of what he termed "world citizenship."

"Democracy, Dr. Parks stated, means that everyone has the right to work to change the rules but the rules in existence must be obeyed, whether they please us or not."

"We welcomed change in the physical and economic environment, but resisted it in social and political areas because 'we are afraid it may challenge our position of privilege'."

Dr. Parks reviewed the history of the enactment of the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendment and attacked leadership in States that sanction defiance of the law.

Regional Library Enjoys Growth

Regional library service in the Highland Rim region continues to enjoy an astounding growth as reflected in the annual report recently circulated to trustees, library board members and librarians in the area.

This year three new libraries—Rutherford county, Manchester branch of the Coffee county library and Lynchburg—have moved into new quarters. Cannon county has been added to the participating counties. The home demonstration club and children's summer reading programs have been introduced into some of the counties.

The Highland Rim Regional Library center is composed of eight counties with headquarters in the library at Middle Tennessee State College in Murfreesboro. The region covers 3,507 square miles and serves a population of 189,514 in Bedford, Coffee, Franklin, Lincoln, Moore, Rutherford, Trousdale and Wilson counties, with eight major libraries, two branch libraries and 80 outlets.

During the past fiscal year the bookmobiles traveled 9,424 miles, the station wagons 10,073 to circulate 375,563 books. The Regional librarians processed 5,953 books, mended 3,080 and filled 2,060 requests from residents of the area seeking special information.

The new officers of the honorary dramatic fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega, are: Don Massey, Whitwell, grand director; Carlton Sivells, Tullahoma, stage manager; Kaye Atkins, Springfield, and Ronnie Dooley, Columbia, business managers; and Bill Hunter, board member, Lebanon.

After the meeting, the members toured the drama facilities in the new drama and speech building. This new facility houses dressing rooms for productions, a waiting room for the actors which leads to a small arena of classroom size and to a large arena, for productions on the larger scale, which will be completed in the near future.

The Buchanan Players is open throughout the year for membership to any person who is sincerely interested in dramatics. Meetings are held weekly on Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Administration Building. At each meeting there will be presented one act plays by various members of the group. Everyone is urged to participate in its activities if you enjoy this art.

Hospital Administrators, Meet On Campus For Institute

Some eighty Tennessee hospital administrators and housekeepers are expected to participate in the Institute conducted by the State Board for Vocational Education on the MTSC campus, September 9-12, according to Willie H. Mathis, regional supervisor for trade and industrial education. The sessions of the Institute will be held in the Fire Service Training Center on the campus.

Last week 178 certificates were awarded Tennessee firemen who completed the five day session of the twentieth annual Tennessee Fire Service School. The school was described as the most successful yet conducted.

At the Hospital Institute next week an area of 12 basic fundamentals of hospital organization and management, including sanitation, employee orientation and training, safety, human relations, budgeting, housekeeping and record keeping will be studied.

Frank A. Ven Eynde, state director of trade and industrial education, and Ira M. Lane, executive director of the Tennessee Hospital Association will be in charge of the opening program on Monday afternoon at one o'clock. Registration begins at 11 o'clock on September 9. Others appearing on the program that afternoon include Dr. Quill E. Cope, president MTSC; LeRoy B. Stansell, Chamberlain Memorial Hospital, Rockwood; Douglas O. Speck, Baptist Memorial Hospital, Memphis; H. D. Jared, regional supervisor of trade and industrial education, Nashville; W. H. Mathis, Murfreesboro; and Drezel Toland, Baptist Memorial Hospital, Memphis.

Tuesday's program will feature an evening panel program of problems and projects for hospitals with Charles R. Hale, regional supervisor, manpower development training, Nashville as moderator. During the Tuesday Program Dr. James A. Martin, MTSC psychologist, will discuss human relations and personnel management, Carney Wright, Clarksville Memorial Hospital, the purchase of hospital supplies and equipment and Douglas O. Speck, Memphis; Robert G. Wilson, Vanderbilt University Hospital and Robert Crisp, chemist in the research laboratory of the J. I. Holcomb Manufacturing Company, all discussing phases of housekeeping, maintenance and records.

Robert Kidd, administrator of the Lincoln County hospital, Fayetteville will preside at the Wednesday morning session and Russell Reed, hospital inspector of Tennessee, at the afternoon session.

Appearing on the Wednesday program will be Miss Gertrude Blye, regional supervisor for home economics education, Gallatin; Mrs.

'Two-Man' Exhibit Presented By Faculty

A "two-man" exhibition of Ceramics and Sculpture by Lewis Snyder and Paintings and Drawing by David G. LeDoux, both of the Art Faculty was presented by The Nashville Artist Guild and opened with a reception for the public from 2-5 p.m., October 6. The work is being shown in Sudecum House, West End at the Belle Meade Shopping Center, where the Artist Guild Galleries are located.

An unusual feature of the show is a panel discussion to be held on the closing day of the exhibition, Sunday, October 20, on the topic, "The Artist: Poet or Craftsman." On the panel in addition to Mr. Snyder and Mr. LeDoux will be Miss Joanna Higgs of the Art Department of Union University in Jackson and Mr. Alfred J. Pounders of the Art Staff of Peabody College.

This is the first comprehensive showing in this area of the work of Mr. Snyder who came to the Art Department at Middle Tennessee last year upon completion of a M.F.A. degree from Ohio University, Athens, Ohio. His ceramic and sculptural work has won wide acclaim, having been featured in national craftsman shows including the outstanding Young Craftsman Exhibition of 1962 shown in The Contemporary Crafts Museum in New York City. The work, large and small decorative pots, vases, bowles and useful objects, such as teapots and sups is beautifully formed and is glazed and designed in sensitive and unusual ways.

David LeDoux, a well known painter in this area, shows recent work in painting and drawing, mostly in the landscape vein but also including some work with the human figure. Noteworthy is the peculiar handling of the figures as color shapes in his paintings and the peculiar color power manifest in some of the very abstract landscapes. The work of Mr. LeDoux has been shown in important regional and national shows including recently the Midsouth Exhibition at the Brooks Memorial Gallery in Memphis.

The public is cordially invited to attend this exhibition.

Gallery hours are 1-4 through the week and 2-5 on Sunday.

Prepare For Future

In the fall of the year when animals are busily preparing for a long rest, college students are beginning another year of work and study. It is in first few weeks that the student decides within himself how his scholastic year will progress. He decides what subjects will require study, which ones he can easily pass, and how much time he will devote to school organizations outside the classroom.

Before a student can plan his schedule he must truthfully answer the question "Why am I going to college?" If his answer is to secure a richer and happier future, perhaps he should spend some time evaluating the many opportunities available on the campus for meeting and understanding people and their problems and for contributing to the school.

Experience shows that a man who is a success has not only applied himself to learning, but he has also developed his understanding of people, his personality, his moral beliefs, and satisfaction in accomplishments.

Max York Interviews Sophomores In Story On Freshmen In College

MTSC received outstanding recognition in the Max York story in the Nashville Tennessean Magazine on September 29. The article entitled "Let The Freshmen Beware" was a discussion of the increasing difficulty of freshmen students has in meeting the exacting standards of state colleges and universities.

All of the pictures illustrating the articles were made on the MTSC campus by Jimmy Ellis, Tennessean staff photographer. These pictures included a single shot of Sophomore Nancy Sullivan discussing the benefits of learning to study in high school and a shot of Judy Goodman and William Carter discussing the freshmen schedule. Other pictures in the business office and of the new Woodmore dining hall were included in the story.

The article pointed out that 13 percent of the MTSC freshmen class of 1,500 last year failed to maintain sufficient high academic standards to stay in school. This figure was about in line with the other state colleges and universities covered in the story. Several interesting quotations from MTSC sophomores pointed out some of the problems confronting college freshmen.

"The boys who wanted to settle down did fine last year," says David Talley from Lewisburg. "We waved goodbye to most of those who weren't serious. It's attitude that counts. The work isn't too hard. You can still get the work done and have an hour or two now and then for a movie, a talent show or something like that here on campus. There's enough of this sort of thing to take the pressure off."

"It's all in how you manage your time," says Judy Bell from Chattanooga. "If you let your work pile up, you may never catch up. I had a friend who had to go before the academic board. It's a serious thing. You know you have got to make it. You will determine your whole future."

"A lot of students don't realize just what is expected of them," says Nancy Sullivan from Manchester. "When they finally see, it's too late. They are on the way home. It pays to learn to study in high school."

MTSC Fashion Shots

By Ernestine Harris

Climaxing the days of autumn in a comfortable and attractive fashion easily describes the popular shift dress.

The monochrome colors of this easy-to-wear dress blend beautifully into the scheme of things for class and date wear.

The sportive look is smartly accented by the button styled three-quarter length sleeves. The fashion-wise convertible collar tops the classic button-down-the-front style.

This attractive look will shift right into place until the winter winds blow snow to the depths of the MTSC campus.

The featured model for this week is Judy Bell, a sophomore elementary education major from Chattanooga.

Introducing Carter Conway . . . The Blue Raider

Carter Conway, a senior general business and economics major, is the MTSC Blue Raider for 1963-64. Carter, married to the former Nancy Patton, commutes from Franklin, Tennessee, and leads a very interesting life.

To become the Blue Raider, Carter had to pass a long list of qualifications and appear before the ASB Congress. These qualifications not only included physical size, such as being six feet tall and having an eleven boot size, but also other personal qualities.

These included being a true Southerner, having a keen interest in Civil War history, and having access to a horse. Carter not only reads a great deal about Civil War history, but he has a personal insight to much of the War, since the Carter family of Franklin was greatly involved in the war.

Finding a horse was no problem to Carter since he owns and raises walking horses. Another important qualification for the Blue Raider is that he have a good academic standing, and Carter qualifies here.

Carter's hobbies only better qualified him as the Blue Raider. He is a great admirer of General Nathan Bedford (for whom the Blue Raider is named), and he reads much about this man and other generals of the war. Tennessee walking horses is one of his hobbies that has become a profitable enterprise.

Carter said, "I feel that the Blue Raider presents a symbol of spirit for all the student body. The Blue Raider should not be looked upon as another office but a symbol of the students. This is a motivating factor that could not only be used for athletic events, but also academically, and I believe this symbol of spirit would prove a great asset to MTSC."

Carter will be appearing in uniform at all home football and basketball games depicting this symbol of spirit for the students at MTSC.

Wally Cantrell Possesses Friendliness, Leadership

By Mary Dean Bigger

One of the friendliest and most well-liked persons on or off campus is Wally Cantrell, 19 year old Sophomore from Nashville.

Wally hails from Bellevue High where he was vice-president of the student body his senior year. He was awarded for his friendliness with the top superlative, most popular. His interests center around sports; and at Bellevue he contributed to the school's athletic system by being manager of the teams for four years.

Not only does Wally have the quality of leadership. This has quality of friendliness, he also has been proven by the fact that he was elected president of his freshman class at MTSC. Because of his outstanding ability as leader that year, he was elected again as president of his sophomore class.

Wally is very active in the ASB and helps out every chance he gets. He says this of the ASB, "The ASB is a great organization and the members have worked hard to make this a good year, and if all the students cooperate, this can be the greatest year ever."

Along with his activities in the ASB, Wally is a member of the Booster Club. He also coaches the Circle K Club football team and is a prospective member of the club.

Sports is not Wally's only interest, however. History and English also dominate his attention. His 3.18 average is a good indication that Wally does well that which he undertakes. Teaching these subjects is Wally's ambition for the future. He has aspirations of getting his M.A. and Ph.D. in these fields. There is no doubt that he will succeed.

When asked his opinion of our Big name entertainment on campus, Wally volunteered this statement, "I feel that big name entertainment is good because it gives students a chance to see these celebrities for a much cheaper price than they could possibly get anywhere."

Crime And Punishment

Fyodor Dostoeusky

Crime and Punishment by Dostoeusky is a revealing study of man's suffering within himself when he has done wrong.

In this particular case, the sufferer is a young man who had recently been a law student in the University in St. Petersburg, Russia. Rodya, the student's name, was very intelligent and had written several articles on how a criminal reacts when he commits a crime. Forced out of school because of lack of funds, he began a very meager existence.

This poverty and lack of nourishment caused his reasoning to become mixed up. He developed a theory that certain men have a right to crime and that he was one of these men. This theory led him to commit two horrible murders. The ironical thing about this is that Rodya was a very compassionate and humane person who would give his last penny away to help someone.

After the crime had been committed, Rodya, ironically, began behaving in the very way his articles said a criminal would behave. He became sick, physically and mentally. He went into extreme periods of depression, wandering about for days not knowing or caring where he was. All this served to work on him until he finally confessed his crime to the police.

While in prison, Rodya finally admitted to himself that he had done wrong and had no more right to crime than anybody else. Thus began the long story of his gradual renewal and initiation to a new life.

MEET YOUR ASB . . .

Sally Smith, Vice-president, Works On Social Activities

"Sally is a good ole girl," are words that best describe Sally Smith, your ASB Vice-President. Sally, a senior home economics major from Centerville, Tennessee, is currently quite busy working on the social activities for this year and presiding over Congress. Sally says, "Each person as a member of the ASB should not sit back and wonder what he's going to get out of college, but see what he can put into it. Through the many opportunities to participate, one can learn to be a good citizen that can contribute much to society in the future." Sally feels that if the goal of the ASB, "Always See Beyond the Beginning," were realized by each student, the 1963-64 year would be one of the best in MTSC's history.

Sally possesses a winning smile and an out-going personality which has won for her (and is still winning) many friends. She upholds high standards of scholarship and character which has won her membership in Tau Omicron, the honorary society for Junior and Senior women at MTSC, and Kappa Omicron Phi, the Home Economics National Fraternity. Leadership qualities are shown by the fact that Sally was editor of the 1962-63 Midlander.

Colleges Have Problems Parking Cars

AKRON, Ohio—Nearly two million automobiles will work their way through college this year.

A survey of the college parking problem by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company indicates that 44 per cent of the nation's 4.5 million undergraduates will report to classes on wheels later this month.

Questionnaires sent by Goodyear to colleges, both large and small, in all sections of the nation, revealed that the increase since pre World War II days in the number of student autos parked on campus ranges from 300 to 1,000 per cent.

Understandably, the daytime parking problem—not to be confused with its midnight counterpart—poses a problem for campus police chiefs as well as deans.

Parking facilities are virtually non-existent at many colleges in metropolitan areas, the student found. For example the 10,000 daytime students and 14,000 night schoolers at the College of the City of New York either ride the subway or race parking meters. A handful of daring faculty members commute through Manhattan streets on motor bikes.

In contrast, the University of Minnesota will park automobiles 1,900,000 times in the course of the school year. Minnesota has a "self-supporting" parking set-up where everyone on campus pays to park.

Most colleges have an annual fee, ranging up to $10. Rutgers, which claims the largest parking facility in New Brunswick, N. J. (3,000) operates 26 buses to shuttle students from parking areas to four school areas.

Higher education is not necessarily conducive to the fight against traffic violators. Last year Rutgers passed out 10,000 tags to students, faculty members and others.

Some of the Ivy League schools, notably Yale and Princeton, do not allow on-campus parking. Columbia does, but has no parking facilities. Both faculty and students park on Manhattan streets on a "catch as catch can" basis.

Dartmouth allows parking, making it easier for seniors and married students by slicing the registration fee in half to $5.00. The college is especially tough on student auto violations. Last year it suspended a star halfback because he was caught owning a car while attending the school as a financial aid student. The player lost all-east recognition while the football team won nine straight.

Dartmouth's assistant business manager, Jack Skewes, makes the point that seat belts are required in all cars starting this fall. The University of Texas, like many institutions, bans freshmen from parking on campus. To all drivers, the university hands out an attractive four-color map of the campus—along with a copy of its stringent regulations.

"Band of Blue", the famous MTSC band, under direction of Joe Smith, prepares for the annual "Band Day" entertainment for visiting high school bands October 19. Band director is Tom McClanahan, nationally recognized baton twirler, begins his third year as featured twirler of the MTSC aggregation.

Western Displays Fire And Finesse To Scuttle Raiders 16-6 Saturday

A fired up Western Kentucky Hilltopper football team proved they are the team to beat to win the OVC championship this year by shackling the MTSC offense for three periods while they pushed over two touchdowns and a field goal to finally win 16-6 Saturday afternoon.

It was apparent to over heated spectators in the stands that the Hilltoppers were evidencing more drive and energy than the Raiders throughout the first three quarters. A sluggish MTSC offense sputtered and costly penalties clogged what few drives were generated by the Blue until the last counts.

Statically the Blue had some advantage. Ted Morris added to his passing record, completing 20 of 33 for 220 yards, hitting Dykes with three for 61 yards. David Petty had two good carries to lift his net yardage to 43 on eight tries.

The Burt Brothers, Jim and John, ran the Raiders ragged all afternoon on both offense and defense while Dale Lindsley and John Mutchler, the University of Kentucky transfers, built a solid line-backing wall and often "red dogged" Morris on his pass efforts.

Western scored on a 31 yard field goal by Crum mid-way in the first quarter. In the second period Earl Harris fumbled a pitchout and Lindsey recovered to set up the first "Topper" touchdown. The Burt's ran it down to 20 from which point Burt passed to Miller on the two. A pair of MTSC defenders stood gazing in awe while he danced into the end zone. Sam Clark converted.

The back breaker was a third quarter 81 yard drive on seven plays for a score. A 50 yard pass to Murry was the key play. John Burt tallied on a 14 yard end swept that left most of the MTSC defenders on the faces. A pass for two points failed.

The lone Raider score that eliminated the chagrin of a shut out came on a 19 yard pass from Morris to Jimbo Pearson.

So good was the Western defense by the linebackers and interior linesmen Bugel, Chambers, Aappier and Gerbhart kept the Raiders from gaining a single yard on the ground the first half.

In the final statistics the Raiders had picked up 14 first downs to 10 for Western, gained 56 net yards rushing to the Red's 115 and 220 yards to Western's 127 passing.

A former MTSC football captain summed up the frustration by saying, "It was just a sorry show".

BAND NIGHT—PLUS CHATTANOOGA—ON DOCKET OCTOBER 19

Rugged University of Chattanooga Moccasins are here for a football frolic at 7:30 October 19.

This is band night. About 1,200 mid-state musicians are expected to offer a massed show just before game time and again at the half. During the afternoon the bands will compete for trophies arranged by the MTSC marching and concert bands under direction of Joe Smith and Horace Beasley.

The Mocs have already lost two games to OVC foes and will prove another rugged test for the Big Blue. TPI beat the Chattanoogaogs 7-5 and East Tennessee University turned the trick this weekend 27-22.

This week Murphy and his Raiders try a flanking movement into East Kentucky for an afternoon game at Richmond.

Weather Foul Against Vols

Saturday Sept. 28th was a good day for ducks, but not for football. The slippery pigskin was harder to catch than a greased pig at a county fair. The damp weather did not dampen the spirits of U.T.M.B. The Vols played a hard game from start to finish and deserve a lot of credit. The wet ground and the slippery football were nightmares to our own Blue Raiders. Eight times the Raiders fumbled, losing the ball on four of these occasions. Raider offense lacked it's usual sharpness due to the poor game conditions.

Teddy Morris, Blue Raider quarterback, was one of the few bright spots of the game. He connected on a 43 yd. pass to George Dykes on the first play. Morris also raced 57 yards on another occasion. Morris and Petty together combined for 143 yds. Petty gained 70 yds. and Morris gained 73. The final score was, MTSC 21 — UTMB 14.

Rodeo Club Members Appear At Sulphur Dell Oct. 11-13

Members of the Rodeo Club have spent a busy summer. Members of the club won $231.50 in appearances at 15 rodeos and fairs. This week the club members are preparing to wind up the current season with an appearance in the Sulphur Dell Rodeo on October 11-13 in Nashville. This show is produced by Bob Estes of Midland, Texas, and is R.C.A. approved.

MTSC students have appeared in shows in the following towns this year. Leighton, Alabama; Franklin, Tennessee; Moulton, Alabama; Tucker, Georgia; Columbia, Tennessee; Paris, Tennessee; Dalton, Georgia; Lafayette, Georgia; Athens, Alabama; Tullahoma, Tennessee; Mountain Cove, Georgia; Sparta, Tennessee; Cannon County, Tennessee; Harrison, Michigan and Tracy City, Tennessee.

The money winners in the shows were as follows: Albert Puett won $18 in bareback riding and $49 in bull riding; Corky Stone $16.50 in bareback riding, $3 in saddle-bronk riding, $3 in bull riding and $18 in bull dogging; Jim Forbes $16 in bull riding; Tommy Fouche $3 in bull riding; Donna Nadeau $10 in barrel racing; Bibb DuVall $70 as clown; and Caroline Hopkins won $25 and two ribbons.

On Campus with Max Shulman
 (By the Author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" and "Barefoot Boy With Check.")

BOOM!

Today, foregoing levity, let us turn our keen young minds to the principal problem facing American colleges today: the population explosion. Only last week four people exploded in Cleveland, Ohio—one of them while carrying a plate of soup. In case you're thinking such a thing couldn't happen anywhere but in Cleveland, let me tell you about two other cases last week—a 45-year-old man in Provo, Utah, and a 19-year-old girl in Northfield, Minnesota. And, in addition, there was a near miss in High Point, North Carolina—an eight-year-old boy who was saved only by the quick thinking of his cat, Fred, who pushed the phone off the hook with his muzzle and dialed the department of weights and measures. (It would, perhaps, have been more logical for Fred to dial the fire department, but one can hardly expect a cat to summon a fire engine which is followed by a Dalmatian, can one?)

But I digress. The population explosion, I say, is upon us. It is, of course, cause for concern but not for alarm, because I feel sure that science will ultimately find an answer. After all, has not science in recent years brought us such marvels as the maser, the bevatron, and the Marlboro filter? Oh, what a saga of science was the discovery of the Marlboro filter! Oh, what a heart-rending epic of trial and error, of dedication and perseverance! And, in the end, what a triumph it was when the Marlboro research team, after years of testing and discarding one filter material after another—iron, nickel, tin, antimony, obsidian, poundcake—finally emerged, tired but happy, from their laboratory, carrying in their hands the perfect filter cigarette! Indeed, what rejoicing there still is whenever we light up a Marlboro which comes to us in soft pack and Flip-Top Box in all fifty states and Cleveland!

Yes, science will ultimately solve the problems arising from the population explosion, but meanwhile America's colleges are in dire straits. Where can we find classrooms and teachers for today's gigantic influx of students?

Well sir, some say the solution is to adopt the trimester system. This system, already in use at many colleges, eliminates summer vacations, has three semesters per annum instead of two, and compresses a four-year-course into three years.

This is, of course, good, but is it good enough? Even under the trimester system the student has occasional days off. Moreover, his nights are utterly wasted in sleeping. Is this the kind of all-out attack that is indicated?

I say no. I say desperate situations call for desperate remedies. I say that partial measures will not solve this crisis. I say we must do no less than go to school every single day of the year. But that is not all. I say we must go to school 24 hours of every day!

The benefits of such a program are, as you can see, obvious. First of all, the classroom shortage will disappear because all the dormitories can be converted into classrooms. Second, the teacher shortage will disappear because all the night watchmen can be put to work teaching solid state physics and Restoration drama. And finally, overcrowding will disappear because everybody will quit school.

Any further questions?

© 1963 Max Shulman

Yes, one further question: the makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, would like to know whether you have tried a Marlboro lately. It's the filter cigarette with a man's world of flavor. Settle back and enjoy one soon.

Church of Christ Group Enjoy Weekend Retreat

"How Shall the Young Secure Their Hearts" was the theme last weekend, September 27-29, for the Church of Christ student group encampment at Camp Hy Lake. The encampment was well attended by both students from MTSC and the Christian Student Center in Nashville.

Speakers from the faculty of MTSC included Eugene Sloan, who emphasized the importance of vision and initiative in our lives as students, citizens, and Christians. James McBroom led a panel discussion on "How Shall the Young Secure Their Hearts." Panel members were Geneva Reed, MTSC graduate; Sam Baker, student; Mr. Eddie Coates, minister of North Boulevard Church of Christ; and Vincent Doan, president of the Nashville Christian Student Center. Other speakers included Mr. Leamon Platt, local minister, and Dr. Paul C. Estes. Ewing Barrett led the singing for the group.

Friday night a lakeside singing was the highlight of the first day at camp. The singing was led by Ewing Barrett of Murfreesboro and Jim Skaggs of Nashville.

Volleyball, horseshoe, pingpong, football, and basketball were recreations enjoyed by all throughout the weekend. Rook, too, due to the rainy weather, was a favorite entertainment. The girl's basketball game Saturday night climaxed the recreational activities of the camp.

Participating in the entertainment portion of the Saturday night program was a folk trio composed of Janell Golden, Olivia McBroom, and Barbara Dill. A short skit was given by Don Thornberry and Doy Hollman. Another group from MTSC—Gayle Helton, Scott Hendrick, Ann Dark, Frank Wells, Nancy Fann, and Doy Hollman—presented a two-act skit entitled Shakespearean Hash.

Dr. Wayne Wiser, sponsor of the group, was the director of the camp, and working in the kitchen to prepare delicious meals that were in themselves a highlight of the camping weekend, were Mrs. Ewing Barrett, Mrs. Wymer Wiser, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Belcher.

A happy, tired group returned to campus Sunday afternoon with memories of an enjoyable weekend encampment. It was truly a "week-end to be remembered."

AIR-SPACE TEACHERS GATHER IN REUNION

About 50 members of the summer Aerospace Workshop of the past summer were honored at the football game with Western Saturday afternoon.

One hundred and thirty teachers spent six weeks on the campus this summer in the fifth annual workshop under direction of Dr. Bealer Smotherman as director. This workshop was described by national officials as "the best one in the United States".

Evidences of the success of the project here in evidenced by the fact that several members of the workshop personnel and staff have been invited to participate as consultants in other such projects.

BSU Plans Annual Convention, Nov. 1-3

The upcoming State Baptist Student Convention is scheduled for November 1-3 at First Baptist Church in Clarksville, Tennessee. All interested students are encouraged to attend this year's convention, for it is felt that a good time will be had by all. Noted speakers will be Dr. Robert S. Denny, Dr. William Hall Preston, and Mr. Bill Lawson. "Freedom Through Bondage" is the theme of the convention. Students from every campus in Tennessee will attend. All factors point to a bang-up convention.

The annual BSU Pre-School Retreat was held September 20-22 at Camp Hy-Lake. Dr. R. L. Middleton and Dr. William Callahan were the main speakers during the inspiration-filled weekend. Other highlights of the retreat were a stirring testimony given by one of the students and a study lesson conducted by Mr. Jesse Smith, member of the Mathematics Department at MTSC. The forty students attending the retreat had much to discuss as the retreat came to a close Sunday afternoon. Excellent organization made this retreat a big success.
