Spring Registration Set January 29, 1963

All students who did not pre-register for the spring semester will register on Tuesday, January 29, 1963. Packets will be picked up alphabetically in the auditorium of the Administration Building.

If the student has not already filled out a trial schedule and had it approved by his advisor, he may do so at this time.

The student will then secure a course card from the card bank for each course on his schedule. After obtaining course cards, the student must prepare three copies of schedule card in ink and take them to his advisor for signing.

The student will then turn in his packet to the business office and pay his fees at this time.

Classes for the spring semester will begin on Wednesday, January 30, 1963.

Gordon De Friese, Battle Group Commander; Winston Wrenn, Battle Group Executive Officer; Kenneth Rowe, Battle Group S1; Thomas Phillips, Battle Group S2; John Bradford, Battle S3; Frank Roleff, Battle Group S4; Donald Dial, Sergeant Major; and James F. Jacobs, Operations Sergeant, make up the present cadet staff of the ROTC.

"La Perichole" Presented By MTSC Varsity Choir

"La Perichole," the opera-lover's answer to "My Fair Lady," will be presented by the MTSC Varsity Choir tomorrow night and Friday night.

The light-hearted lead role of La Perichole will be sung by two coloratura sopranos. Miss Julia Hollis, a senior from Lawrenceburg, January 18. Miss Hollis will be remembered for her lead in last year's CAVALLERA RUSTICANA. Miss Anne Turner, a newcomer to the MTSC opera stage and junior from Lebanon, will play the lead part of La Perichole, January 17.

Lynn McGill will sing the tenor lead of Paquillo. Mr. McGill is a junior from Murfreesboro. Nolan Barham, a graduate student from Lewisburg and Tullahoma, will sing the baritone lead of Don Andres, The Viceroy of Peru. Don Massey, a junior from Whitwell, will sing the part of The Governor of Peru.

This three-act comedy will be under the direction of Neil Wright and Mrs. Dorethe Tucker.

Other singing roles are played by Jerry House, Jackson; David Benzenhafer, Harriman; Don McLain, Lewisburg; Pat Porterfield, Nashville; Gail Clark, Loudon; Norma Bell, Shelbyville; Betty Hughey, Smyrna; Ann Alford, Lawrenceburg; Elizabeth Merritt, Smyrna; Linda Branum, Chattanooga.

The supporting chorus is composed of Jo Nell McCollum, Loudon; Jane Bevil, Dalton, Ga. Frances Mitchell, Lawrenceburg; Carol O'Neal, Donelson; Sara Williams, Murfreesboro; Eddie Barham, Lewisburg; Roddy Byrne, Huntsville, Ala.; Sue Murphy, Springfield; Fran Cason, Nashville; Bob Baker, Memphis; Pat Hunter, Smyrna; Berre Moody, Nashville; Bob Hope, Chattanooga; Bill Coward, Harri-

Home Ec. Classes Attend Veteran's Hospital Annual Open House

The annual Christmas open house for the patients of the Murfreesboro Veterans Administration Hospital was held Wednesday, December 12, 1962. The program was co-sponsored by the American Red Cross chapter of Tullahoma, Tennessee, and the Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Service of the Hospital.

This event, designed as a therapeutic measure in the overall hospital treatment program for approximately 1,250 patients, took place in the large recreation hall which was beautifully decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season. The decorating was done by patients, volunteer ladies and hospital personnel. Decorations for the shops, including the centerpieces for the serving tables, were made in the occupational therapy shops by patients under the supervision of Mrs. Eileen Evon, Red Cross Volunteer.

The American Red Cross chapter of Tullahoma, Tennessee furnished 10,200 delicious home-baked cookies for this occasion. The following students from Middle Tennessee State College, foods II class, under the supervision of their instructor, Mrs. Miles McMillan, assisted in serving cookies, punch, and coffee: Sandy Anderton, Claudia Allen, Carol Ann Jones, Carolyn Simmons, Sharon Lester, Barbara Smith, Kathleen Wood, Ernestine Harris, Janice Welborn, Brenda Cobb, and Gail DeBusk. Other students present were Kenneth P. Lord and Jean Brewington. The following members of the newcomers club of Murfreesboro also assisted with the serving: Mrs. Gale Swift, Mrs. Ruth White, Mrs. Elizabeth Fletcher, and Mrs. Hattie McKinney.

Christmas carols and other music traditional to Christmas was furnished by Mr. Ernest Grisham and Mr. Clyde Cromwell of the Hospital Music Therapy Section.

Dr. A. E. Harvey, Hospital Director, on behalf of the staff and patients, wishes to thank all of those responsible for the open house which makes the Christmas season as joyous as possible for the patients who remain at the hospital during Christmas.

GIRL STATERS TO MEET

Former Girl State members now students at MTSC are invited to attend an informal meeting in Room 121 of the Administration Building at 11 o'clock Thursday, January 31. Twenty-five attended a preliminary meeting last Thursday.

6000 Alumni Asked To Support New Scholarship Loan Foundation

Six thousand members of the alumni of Middle Tennessee State College will have an opportunity to participate in the Scholarship Loan and Development Foundation of the college according to Dean N. C. Beasley who as executive secretary heads up the active work of the Foundation. During the Christmas holidays alumni of the institute will receive information concerning the objectives of the Foundation. These Dean Beasley has outlined as (1) identifying worthy and able high school graduates who are unable to attend college for lack of income, to (2) solicit gifts and grants for scholarships and other projects and to (3) provide means and assistance in enriching the program of the college.

The Foundation has been in operation about one year and already a substantial fund has been accumulated and several students are already enjoying the opportunities provided by the Foundation. Foundations funds will not be used for any obligation that the State of Tennessee should assume.

Wilson county alumni pioneered in a program among the alumni clubs over the nation by providing an initial donation of $165 toward an annual program of support.

The by-laws of the Foundation provide for a Board of Trustees. From this group an executive committee is elected. Currently Dr. Quill E. Cope is president; Whitney Steagall, vice-president; Dean N. C. Beasley, secretary-treasurer, and John Bragg, John Dixon, Al Mifflin and Dr. Homer Pittard, are serving on this committee. Other members of the Board of Trustees include Dr. Carl Adams, Murfreesboro; J. Pope Dyer, Chattanooga; Governor Buford Ellington; Sam Lasseter, Murfreesboro; J. E. Malone, Nashville; Joe Netherland, Nashville; Comer Smotherman, Lawrenceburg; Mrs. George Sloan, Columbia; Ewin Templeton, Murfreesboro; Randolph Wood, vice-president Paramount Studio, Los Angeles, California.

Other members of the Board of Trust include the president and secretary of the alumni association, who at present are Elbert Fox, Ooltewah and Dr. Homer Pittard, Murfreesboro, a member of the State Board of Education, currently Edward Jennings, Liberty; one faculty member Clayton L. James; two members of the college administrative staff, N. C. Beasley and Robert Abernathy; and two members of the Associated Student Body staff, currently Bob Turman, Savannah, and Joyce Sherrill, Nashville.

In addition the local alumni chapters that have 50 or more members may elect one representative to the Board.

At the present time these members of the Board of Trust include Lytle Landers, Bedford county; Lynn Banks, Davidson county; Smith Howard, Giles county; Miss Elizabeth Davis, Hamilton county; Wallace Robertson, Huntsville, Alabama; and Miles McMillan, Lebanon.

The Board of Trust has set up

130 Teachers Shoot Moon

One hundred and thirty Tennessee teachers will be "shooting the moon" at the tenth annual Aerospace workshop at Middle Tennessee State College June 11-July 12 according to John E. Sims, chief of the educational service of the National Aeronautics and Space administration.

Mr. Sims was on the MTSC campus this week to confer with local and State leaders of the Tennessee Aeronautics Commission in planning for the scholarship program designed to better train elementary and secondary school teachers for classwork in the Aerospace Age. Attending the planning session were Ed Murray of the Tennessee Aeronautics Commission, James E. (Buddy) Martin, director of the Commission, Dr. Bealer Smotherman of the MTSC faculty, who has directed the past five workshops, and Miller Lanier, director of the MTSC division of aviation instruction.

three committees to undertake drives for the further implementation of the Foundation. The contact with all members of the alumni is the first step in this expanded program. John Bragg of Murfreesboro heads this committee. He is assisted by John Dixon, Clayton James, N. C. Beasley, and Dr. Homer Pittard.

Al Mifflin is chairman of the Murfreesboro business committee with Sam Lasseter, Dr. Carl Adams, J. E. Malone and Dr. Quill E. Cope as committee members.

PROSPECTING STUDENT TEACHERS NOTE!

Applications for secondary student teaching for next school year, 1963-64, should be presented to the student teaching office by mid-semester, Friday, March 22. Application forms may be secured in Room 117, Administration Building.

Forensics Hosts Visiting Debaters

Middle Tennessee State College forensic team was host to ten novice debate teams Saturday, January 5 in the fifth annual meeting of first year debaters on the local campus.

Schools who accepted the invitation were Freed Hardeman, Tennessee Tech, Tennessee Wesleyan, Austin Peay State, Kentucky Western, Belmont, Vanderbilt, Knoxville College, David Lipscomb and MTSC. Each novice team debated three rounds on the subject: Resolved; That the non-communist countries should form an economic community."

Douglas Chosen For Air OTS

Mr. David K. Douglas, 23, Senior here at MTSC has recently been selected for the Air Force Officer's Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

In order to be selected for this training, Mr. Douglas had to pass written and physical examinations. The OTS program is a three months course open to college graduates with an academic major needed by the Air Force. Successful completion of the course wins the student a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force and an opportunity for further training. In David's position, he was selected for Weather. He is to report to Lackland for class beginning 11 February 1962. According to T Sgt. Jesse Adams, local Air Force Recruiter, the Air Force presently has vacancies for both Men and Women in this commissioning program. Application may be made 210 days prior to graduation. Interested and qualified persons may contact Sergeant Adams at the Police Department in Murfreesboro any Tuesday 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Phone 893-1311.

"If I had it to do over again, would I take Army R.O.T.C.?"

You bet I would, and I'll tell you why. Army officers live better than I expected. Take me. At the Army Signal Research Lab in Fort Monmouth, I get a chance to put my engineering background to good use. I keep on top of new developments. The experience is terrific, and it's going to pay off whether or not I stay in the Army. From Fort Monmouth I can go to a play in New York one weekend, and visit Washington the next. On my officer's salary I can afford it. Of course I have an active social life on post, too. Officers' club. Parties. Dances. You name it. My advice to you is this: if you have only two years to go for a commission, get it. Once on active duty, you'll be mighty glad you did."

Point System Controls Student Activity Load

The Associated Student Body has adopted a point system to assure no student becoming too heavily involved in extra-curricular activities.

The program which is on a year by year basis is not accumulative and provides that no person may acquire more than 25 points in a given year.

The president of the Associated Student Body and the editor of the Midlander are the highest rated jobs on the campus carrying a full 25 points. Editorship of the Sidelines, president of department and service clubs, and of church groups carry 15 points. Other leadership and honors carry points ranging from 12.5 down to 3 points.

LET'S CONTROL UNION CONTROL

Push-button warfare is by no means confined to the military.

Union leaders can declare war on the economy simply by pressing the appropriate button. They can call nation-wide strikes, stop defense production; demand uneconomic wage rises; force employees into unions; initiate boycotts and inflict the potentially disastrous shorter work week upon protesting management.

The 88th Congress can perform a public service of great magnitude by putting organized labor—at long last—under reasonable but effective legal restraint.

It is vital to national well-being that the push-button be taken away from union leaders.

Spelunker Tells Of Cave Exploring

by Sandy Irwin

In the fall of 1961 Dr. Prescott, along with several enthusiastic spelunkers (cave explorers), decided to form a club.

I was invited to accompany them on one of their first trips, and more out of curiosity than any other reason, I decided to go.

If you have never been spelunking let me take you on an armchair trip into a cave very near school, where I learned to know and love this relatively unique experience of spelunking.

A very optimistic group of people left Murfreesboro early one Saturday morning to explore a cave which is located near Woodbury. After getting permission to explore we set off walking the one-half mile, through the woods to reach the entrance.

I ventured a short distance into the cave. The darkness began to close around me, and I quickly switched on my flashlight. On both sides of me were sheer jagged walls between which a large stream was gurgling. How in the world were we supposed to get to the back of the cave with such obstacles in our way? My question was soon to be answered because Dr. Prescott and Bob made their way up the rocks to a very small ledge running parallel and 7 or 8 feet above the stream.

Since this was my first trip, the passages seemed especially long and, to me, very difficult. Very amusing to me now is that the rooms in caves are actually much smaller than you imagine when you take your first trip.

But time is growing short, and I want to take you to the Totem Pole Room. Soon the passageway got smaller, and we had to do some belly crawling. At one point I had to turn on my side to get through a really tight place. Our efforts paid off, for soon we were in a room where the marvelous wonders of nature are still relatively untouched.

With one last lingering gaze at the beautiful stalactites, stalagmites, columns, and flow stone we began to move. Limbs were stiff and the body cold for it doesn't take long for the cool 56 degrees of a cave to chill one to the marrow.

I cast one tired look back at the towering cliff that held such magnificent wonders for those who are adventurous enough to seek them. I would come again to this cave to look, to wonder and to search, but now I was ready to head back to the dorm and a nice hot shower.

Editorially Speaking

Taxation Is Answer To Education Problems

For as long as this nation has been existing people probably have been complaining about taxes, about their government, how the legislators spend the money, and why our government doesn't pay them to live in our state.

It all comes down to the simple fact that the human wants something for nothing and always wants to be on the receiving and complaining end. We want better schools, we want more for teachers salaries, 'we want more for better highways. We are going to have to pay for these things we want. We are going to have to pay whether we like it or not. If we do not want to pay, let us be content with what we have; and let us quit complaining about it.

Just as it costs more for each of us to live year after year, the cost of running a government to keep up with the people continues to rise. The only solution to meet this rising cost is through taxation.

How many of us complain when the cost of getting into the local theater keeps going up? Yet when a sales tax goes up one cent per dollar or our postage goes up a penny, we scream as if we are heading for a financial crisis. We blame the Governor, the President, or anybody else that comes to our mind.

We all admit we would like to have federal aid to education, more money for schools on the state level, and more money so we could pay to have better teachers. If we are to have these, we are going to have to "pay through our noses" in taxes. The choice is ours.

Fashion Shots

by Ernestine Harris

Even studying for exams is no excuse for a co-ed not to look her loveliest.

The casual look is featured for a comfortable dress while one is searching for the knowledge to conquer even the toughest examination.

The models jumper is a gray wool with a twill weave. This particular type of ensemble has remained very popular for several seasons.

Featured are the straight lines of the jumper captured by a tie belt at the waistline. The belt is made of the same material as the jumper. Belts of contrasting texture and color are also being worn.

A shallow V-neckline is one of the more notable characteristics of the jumper. The wide shoulder straps add a note of the unusual to the costume.

Tailored with french cuffs and a pointed collar, the blouse completes the model's casual look.

Notable accessories are engraved cuff links and sterling silver charm bracelet. Simplicity is used as the theme of this costume.

The model for this week is Gayle Gray, a sophomore from Tullahoma. Gayle is an education major and active in the B.S.U.

Bowling Enjoyed By 32 Million

This pipe-dream-in-reality is bowling, enjoyed by more than 32 million American men, women and children, and rated as the number one participation sport in the country today.

Only a handful earn their living as professional bowlers, but this small number among so many millions makes the potential for newcomers so great that more and more young men and women are looking to bowling as a career.

A recreation activity for most, bowling is also a sport where professionals can earn as much as $100,000 a year in salaries, tournament winnings and endorsements. It is one of the few professional sports without danger of injury, where earnings are not seasonal, and where both men and women can participate.

The roster of young people shooting to stardom in the world of professional bowling is increasing daily. Some have been bowling since they were eight and nine years old; others took up the game just two or three years before joining the professional ranks.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

Is Foreign Aid Gamble Creating Friend or Enemy?

By Kenneth Lord

The United States is involved in the biggest racket ever supported by the U. S. taxpayer. Foreign Aid, that ulcer that day after day takes its toll on the pocket books of the American public.

Every administration from F. D. R. thru Kennedy has given aid in enormous amounts to underdeveloped countries or those countries which we think by counting with dollars they will stay away from communism.

Since 1947 we have given communist Yugoslavia over seven billions in military aid, Batista's Cuba many millions, and now we have been asked to support millions to leftist Algeria, dictator ruled Paraguay, socialist Mexico, and the under-developed, left-leaning countries of Africa.

Our foreign aid budget is bigger than any other at any time. And what good is it doing? Is it winning us any friends? Or is it creating welfare states and enemies?

We give aid to countries but do the people actually see it? No. The only thing they see is boxes being unloaded bearing U. S. markings and then they never see them again. In Peru grain for the people laid on the docks rotting or used as cavalry food for horses instead of being given to the people. In order to have oil rights in Saudi Arabia, Iran, and Jordan we in many cases supply money, arms, and credits to absolute dictators without carrying it through and actually giving to the people the things they need.

We must stop this waste of "our" money. It is not Federal Money to give away without any consideration from where it comes. It is up to the people of all walks of life to contact their representative and force him to stop this waste that is not only bleeding us white but every other color in the rainbow. It is not up to the American people to support dictators or communists or to support the whole underdeveloped world. True, aid should be given but it should be supervised by Americans at all levels of dispersement and any infractions on the part of the country receiving this aid would be an instant stoppage of said aid.

Only by doing the following will we be able to stop the flow of our money and products out of the country and put them back where they belong in our own pockets or given out with more discretion.

"Speechless" MTSC Sports Debate Squad

by Gayle Marks

A word that is definitely not descriptive of the MTSC debate squad is speechless.

The debate team is under the direction of Miss Norma Cox, director of Forensics, and Mr. Lane Boutwell, head of the speech department. The team has seven varsity debaters and four novice debaters.

Meetings are every Monday and Thursday nights at 6:30 p.m. Each member is expected to work from five to ten hours per week on his own. This time is spent in the library doing research work.

The debate team began work in the fall and they will continue until April. The team will debate the same topic at every tournament they attend throughout the year. However, they are constantly revising their arguments. The members of the team also change places so that they debate both the affirmative and the negative at some time during the year.

The debate team attends approximately ten tournaments during the year. Last week they attended one of the best tournaments, the Mill-saps Invitational, in Jackson, Miss.

Two weeks ago MTSC sponsored the MTSC Novice Debate Tournament. This tournament was limited to beginning debaters who are in college. Nine schools participated in the tournament and awards were given. The tournament was unique in that the judges were varsity debaters who were given ratings by the debaters whom they judged.

Tournaments usually last from two to six days and the MTSC team sends four to eight debaters to each tournament. During the spring semester the debate team will attend tournaments in Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

The debate team is associated with Pi Kappa Delta National Forensic Fraternity.

Any student who is interested in joining the debate team for the spring semester should stop by office 17 in the I. A. Building before the end of this semester. Students must have a 2.0 average to join. No previous experience in debating is necessary.

Art Department To Start New Program For Art Majors

by Jean Massey

Art Department has instituted a new basic and major program.

The first two years is the foundation of the program in terms of various art activities and techniques essential to the student's advanced work. It includes work in both two and three dimensional design, crafts, drawing and painting, and art history.

The major program is scheduled for the junior and senior years of the student's college program to be used as a means of developing personal interests and skills in a variety of art areas. It will be possible for a major or minor to concentrate in the area of painting and drawing including courses in water color, and oil painting, graphics, and special related courses.

The first area is sculpture, consisting of wood, stone, metal, clay, plus techniques of modeling, carving, mold making, and welding.

The second area is crafts at advanced level in ceramics, metal work, jewelry and weaving. The third area takes up commercial art with such courses as advertising, and illustration, plus lay out design and lettering. Also planned is a comprehensive program in art history featuring a new course in humanities which will try to correlate the various arts of cultures through the twentieth century.

Mr. Orze will be having a one man show of sculpture at the Parthenon in Nashville during March. Works will include carvings, portraits, and welded sculpture, and others done during the past three years.

Of a great deal of interest to the student body, faculty, and community have been recent exhibitions held in the art gallery. Displayed have been a show of forty original serigraphs (silk screens), a much heralded exhibition of painting and sculpture by a group of Knoxville artists known as the "Knoxville Seven."

A one man exhibition of recent paintings by Mr. Rubens of the art faculty and a one man show by Guy Kirby, a patient at the VA Hospital has created a stir of interest and excitement by all who have seen it. This show is currently on display through January 19.

The Art Club has been doing its share in instituting programs to arouse the interest in art. The club has sponsored a film series for the student body and the community which have averaged three-hundred people in attendance for each showing. This series has included outstanding films on artists, architecture, and various ideas, periods, and cultures in the history of art. Some of the subject areas include Frank Lloyd Wright, architecture of Mexico, Greek sculpture, and art of the Middle Ages. These films are scheduled once a month and are free to all.

Lucy Baskin On Magazine Board

Middle Tennessee State College will be represented this year on Mademoiselle's national College Board by Lucy Faye Baskin, a sophomore at the college.

The annual College Board Competition is designed for women students with talent in art, writing, fashion, merchandising, promotion, or advertising. Each Board member was selected on the basis of an entry that showed her interest and ability in one of these fields.

As a College Board member, she will report news from her college to Mademoiselle, and she is eligible to compete for one of the twenty Guest Editorships that will be awarded by the magazine in May. To win one of the top prizes, each member must submit a second entry to show her specific aptitude for magazine work.

Church Groups On Campus

Episcopal Church Group

Episcopal Church group, under the leadership of president Frank Norcom, is a small but active organization.

Giving a seven member family an entire Christmas is possibly the most soul-satisfying contribution the few members have encountered. Also, the group went caroling in the west section of town in order to share the peace of Christmas.

"The primary purpose of these projects is to help others become Christians," emphasized Frank.

Wednesday, January 9, the church based its program on the question, "What is truth"? The members attempted to answer the numerous questions that are asked by those who are seeking truth. Such topics as this are instigated to encourage individuals to really think.

The members are planning a three week series of discussions beginning February 6. They are designed to point out the religious significance in various subject areas. Instructors in the designated fields will lead the discussion.

BSU

Baptist Student Union is planning its annual mid-year retreat to be held at the Clearmont Motel and Restaurant in Swanee, February 1 and 2.

During the holiday season, the BSU contributed much to the sharing of love and peace with those less fortunate. A program of Christmas emphasis was recorded on the radio over the Concord Baptist Hour. Underprivileged children ranging from age five to eight came to the BSU Center singing carols, and the church group gave the children a party. Also, the monthly trip to the Veterans Administration Hospital consisted of a party for 122 patients.

The "January Bible Study Week" is being observed with Mr. Dudley Johnson, minister of music education of the First Baptist Church, leading the study of the book of Matthew.

Warf First Alumnus To Serve As Tennessee Education Commissioner

J. Howard Warf, member of the State Board of Education and long time superintendent of schools in Lewis County, was sworn in as Commissioner of Education on December 31.

Mr. Warf is the first alumnus of MTSC to hold the chief school officer's post in Tennessee. He succeeds Joe Morgan, who has been named president of Austin Peay State College. Mr. Warf, appointed by Governor Ellington for Morgan's unexpired term, will be reappointed by in-coming Governor Frank Clement this week.

Traditionally Tennessee Commissioners of Education have been men of extensive experience in public school systems as teachers and administrators. The new commissioner, like our own president Dr. Quill E. Cope, (who served as Commissioner under the former administrations of Governor Clement) began his teaching career as an elementary teacher and principal. Since 1921 Mr. Warf has served as high school teacher, assistant high school principal, school board members county superintendent and for the past eight years a member of the State Board of Education. There he served with another MTSC alumnus, Edward L. Jennings.

A native of Maury county, Mr. Warf served as county superintendent of education from 1929 until 1940 when he became postmaster at Hohenwald. Elected superintendent again in 1950 he has served in that capacity to the present time.

He holds the B.S. degree from Middle Tennessee State College (1930), and the M.A. degree from George Peabody College for Teachers (1959). His teaching certificates in English, mathematics, history, and French; permanent supervisor's certificate; principal's certificate; and permanent county superintendent's certificate.

He is a Master Mason; past president of Lewis County Civic Club; chairman of the Lewis County Red Cross Chapter; past chairman, Official Board of the Methodist Church; teacher, adult men's class, Hohenwald Methodist Church; past chairman, Lewis County Democratic Executive Committee; and a Rotarian.

Professional education organizations of which he is a member include the Tennessee Education Association, in which he served as president of the Middle Tennessee division; Tennessee Public School Officers' Association; National Education Association; American Association of School Administrators; Tennessee School Boards Association; Department of Rural Education (NEA); Coordinating Committee for Higher Education in Tennessee; Development Council, University of Tennessee.

He is married to the former Martha Josephine Kistler.

Campus School Wins Over Crichlow 48-25

Saturday night the Campus school rolled over Crichlow 48-25. This victory results in the Campus School going into a three-way tie for first place in the City Elementary School league. Crichlow, Hobbard and Campus School have each been defeated one time.

Scoring in the defeat of the previously unbeaten Crichlow team, was led by Melvin Haynes with 15. Bubber Sempsey scored 13, Bob Murphy 11, A. B. Adams 15 and Bobby Blair 2. Wilson with 13 led Crichlow.

The Campus B team won 20-11. Jack Turpin and Wendell Haynes each scored 6. Ricky Glaze hit for 4 points and Cecil Elrod and Nicky King 2 each. Bugg was high scorer for Crichlow with 7.

Buchanan To Head Economics At Virginia U.

James M. Buchanan, Jr. (B.S. 1940), has been named to the newly created Paul G. McIntire Chair in Economics at the University of Virginia. Buchanan, who has been Professor of Economics at Virginia since 1956, served as Chairman, James Wilson Department of Economics from 1956 to 1961. He spent the 1961-62 academic year as Visiting Professor at Cambridge University, England.

In November of this year, Buchanan assumed the office as President, Southern Economic Association.

Buchanan's scholarly interests include work in public finance, welfare economics, and political economy. His most recent book is the Calculus of Consent: Logical Foundations of Constitutional Democracy, published by the University of Michigan Press in 1962.

Mr. Buchanan graduated from Middle Tennessee State College in 1940.

Two Award Winners Entertain February 3

By Mary Dean Bigger

Bob and Evelyne Beers, TV Radio Mirror Gold Medal Award winners, will appear here Thursday, February 3, at 10:40 a.m. in the auditorium.

Bob (Fiddler) Beers will provide an unusual and unique form of entertainment in his playing of the ancient psaltery, a keyless ancestor of the spinet or harpsichord. Mr. Beers plays out shimmering, harp-like sounds. Folk melodies predominate, but he uses some of his own mood pieces which he wrote for the psaltery.

His wife, Evelyne, completes the program with her lovely, unaffected soprano voice. It has been said of her, "Mrs. Beers has one of the sweetest voices to be heard this side of angel street."

Larry Stewart Rates High On The Ohio Valley Lineup For Scoring and Rebounding

Although he is not a member of the family royal, there is a Stewart at Middle Tennessee State College that may be "King of the Court" before the 1962-63 Blue Raider basketball season is completed.

In this case it is Larry Stewart, playing his first season with Coach Bill Stokes' Blue Raiders. The 6-3 forward came to the MTSC campus this fall from Itawamba Junior College at Fulton, Mississippi.

Stewart, who hails from Wingo, Kentucky, played his high school ball with Hickman County (Ky.) High under Coach Harold Romaine. He was captain of his team in 1959-60, and during his senior year was named to the All-Purchase, All-Mayfield Tournament, All-District, All-Regional Tournament, and All-State teams.

Coach Stokes, who had Stewart eyed for a guard berth on the Raider squad, moved the sharpshooter to the front line when Ken Peek had to drop out of competition because of a physical condition.

Stewart's 6-3, 175 lb. frame is considered a "small man" for a forward in the tough Ohio Valley Conference, but it has never bothered Stewart. He leads the squad in every statistical department for the first nine games with:

1. Field Goals—66; 2. Percentage of Field Goal Attempts—47.1% (66 of 140); 3. Free Throw Percentage—73.3% (33 of 45); 4. Rebounds—116; 5. Rebound Average—12.9; 6. Points—165; 7. Scoring Average—18.3.

In the Ohio Valley Conference leaders, he stands fifth in scoring, fourth in field goal accuracy, and third in rebounding.

Stokes remarked of Stewart, "He is one of the finest shooters we have ever had and, not only can he hit well, but he is a real good jumper and rebounder."

Morehead is the only team to hold Stewart out of double figure scoring this season, and only once in his last six games has he been under 20 points. His scoring in order of games has been Florence

State (15), Austin Peay (13), Morehead (5), Western Kentucky (21), Rollins (19), Presbyterian (26), Murray State (20), MacMurray (22), and East Tennessee (24).

Stewart has been named to every "All-Tournament" team in which his teams have participated. He was twice named to the Junior College All-Tourney team during his play at Itawamba, and this season with the Raiders, not only was he All-Tournament, but was named the "Outstanding Player" in the Hatter Invitational Tournament at DeLand, Florida. He helped the Blueman bring home the championship trophy from that tourney.

After reviewing the fantastic record that Stewart has displayed in tournaments Coach Stokes jokingly remarked, "What we need to do next year is enter more tournaments."

Florence Tips MTSC 67-64

Florence State took advantage of numerous Middle Tennessee State floor mistakes to gain a 67 to 64 basketball victory here last Saturday night.

MTSC hit 39.7 per cent from the field to Florence's 31.5 and out-rebounded its Alabama neighbor by 70 to 40. A final count on floor mistakes was not readily available, but it read 20 for MTSC to 6 for Florence at halftime.

Florence only led once in the first half, pushing in front 35-33 on a basket by Wally Sanders with seven seconds left. Larry Stewart tied it up before intermission.

MTSC came back in the second half and zoomed to an 11-point margin. The men of coach Bill Stokes enjoyed a 61-52 advantage with only 2:51 remaining in the game.

Doug Key then connected for five quick points to help Florence cut the margin. Florence went ahead for the first time in the second half with 48 seconds left on a crisp shot by Sanders. It was all over then.

Florence now has a 5-7 record and MTSC is 5-6.

CALPURNIA, HERE I COME

Now, as the college year approaches its mid-point, one fact emerges clearly: you are all going to flunk everything.

There are two things you can do about it. First, you can marry money. (I don't mean you marry the money itself; I mean you marry a person who has money. Weddings between people and currency have not been legal anywhere in the United States since the Smoot-Hawley Act. Marlboro Cigarettes, on the other hand, are legal everywhere and are, indeed, smoked with great pleasure and enthusiasm in all fifty states of the Union. I bring up Marlboro Cigarettes because this column is sponsored by the makers of Marlboro, and they are inclined to brood if I omit to mention their product.)

But I digress. I was saying you can marry money but, of course, you will not because you are a high-minded, clean-living, pure-hearted, freckle-faced American kid. Therefore, to keep from flunking, you must try the second method: you must learn how to take lecture notes.

According to a recent survey, 123.6% of American undergraduates do not know the proper way to take lecture notes. To illustrate this shocking statistic, let us suppose you are taking a course in history. Let us further suppose the lecturer is lecturing on the ruling houses of England. You listen intently. You write diligently in your notebook, making a topic outline as you have been taught. Like this:

- I. House of Plantagenet.
- II. House of Lancaster.
- III. House of York.

Then you stop. You put aside your pen. You blink back a tear, for you cannot go on. Oh, yes, you know very well that the next ruling house is the House of Tudor. The trouble is you don't know the Roman numeral that comes after III.

(It may, incidentally, be of some historical interest to point out that Americans are not the only people who don't know Roman numerals. The Romans didn't know them themselves. I suppose they could tell you how much V or X were or like that, but when it came to real cuties like LXI or MMC, they just flung away their styluses and went downtown to have a bath and take in a circus and maybe stab Caesar a few times.

(You may wonder why Rome stuck with these ridiculous numerals when the Arabs had such a nice, simple system. Well sir, the fact is that the Emperor Vespasian tried like crazy to buy the Arabic numerals from Suleiman the Magnificent, but Suleiman wouldn't do business—not even when Vespasian raised his bid to 100,000 gold piastres, plus he offered to throw in the Colosseum, the Appian Way, and Charlton Heston.

(So Rome stuck with Roman numerals—to its sorrow, as it turned out. One day in the Forum, Cicero and Pliny got to arguing about how much is CDL times MVIX. Well sir, pretty soon everyone in town came around to join the hassle. In all the excitement, nobody remembered to lock the north gate and—wham!—before you could say pecca fortiter, in rushed the Goths, the Visigoths, and the Green Bay Packers!)

Well sir, that's the way the empire crumbles, and I digress. Let's get back to lecture notes. Let's also say a word about Marlboro Cigarettes. The makers would be so pleased! And is it not fitting that we should please these honest tobaccoists—these fine men, fond of square dancing, water sports, protein, and tattoos—these tireless perfectionists who spend all of their days trying to please us—searching everywhere for the best of all possible tobaccos, aging them with patience, blending them with tender, loving care? Marlbors are available in soft pack and flip top box. You will find XX cigarettes in each package.

Two College Grants Set At $116,000

Two grants for the science department at Middle Tennessee State have been received, according to Dr. Quill E. Cope, president of the college.

Both resulted from requests by Dr. Eldred Wisner, head of the chemistry and physics department of the college. The first is a $107,000 to be expended during the summer semester on grants of 60 scholarships for graduate study by teachers in the fields of chemistry, biology, physics and mathematics. This is the fifth year that Middle Tennessee State College has been able to offer these scholarships under direction of the National Science Foundation in-service teachers.

Some 700 American teachers in about 90 institutions in the United States will participate in the 12 weeks program designed to provide opportunity for continued work on research problems. The stipends for the pre-doctoral students amount to $75 weekly, plus certain travel and dependent allowances.

Vocational Rehabilitation Available To Veterans

Vocational rehabilitation training is available for the first time to veterans who incurred a disability as a result of service in the armed forces during any period of service covered by the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

The periods of service included are (1) July 26, 1947 to June 26, 1950, and (2) February 1, 1955 to the present. If any are receiving compensation from the government because of a disability incurred during either of these periods, they may apply for vocational rehabilitation by obtaining VA Form 22-1900 from any VA Office or local service organization and sending it to the Veterans Administration at Nashville, Tennessee.

Dr. Wisner will direct the MTSC program for the fifth year.

The second grant of $9,000 comes from the Atomic Energy Commission for the purpose of purchasing equipment to be used in education for the continued study of isotopes. This grant was made for the departments of chemistry and physics. Last year Dr. Wymer Wisner of the biology department was awarded a grant of between $7,000 and $8,000 by the Commission for purchases related to a similar study in biology.

Air Force In Need Of Officer Trainees

The Air Force faces a tremendous and growing need for young college graduate Officer Trainees to replace the increasing number of World War II Officers who are retiring with 20 years active service. This revelation was made by Lt./General James E. Briggs, Commander of Air Training Command, before the Aerospace Education Workshop at the Air Force Association Convention in Las Vegas, Nevada, recently.

"Our requirement for College Graduates in our Officer's Training School has risen from 300 in 1960 to 2,280 for Fiscal Year 1962. Fiscal Year 1963 will require about 5,000 and 6,000 in 1964" he told his audience. He also singled out the requirement of technicians to operate and maintain multi-million dollar "Brains for Missiles" which "were designed and built by the finest electronic engineers in the world."

College Seniors and graduates desiring additional information concerning a career or enlistment as an Air Force Officer contact Sergeant Jesse Adams, at the Police Department in Murfreesboro, each Tuesday 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and Thursday 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Phone 893-1311 or write: OTS, USAF Recruiting Office, Post Office Box 7, Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

Soccer Team Organized

George Borkowsky, Belleville, N. J., and Walter Luckeno, Philadelphia, Pa., have been instrumental in organizing a soccer team at Middle Tennessee State College which will operate on an informal basis under the direction of the Physical Education department of the college.

Twenty-one MTSC students who have had some experience in soccer have joined the group and plans are underway to arrange a schedule with other colleges and prep schools in this area where soccer is played.
