VOICE OF MTSC, THE COLLEGE OF INDIVIDUAL OPPORTUNITY

Vol. 36 — No. 9

Middle Tennessee State College, Murfreesboro, Tennessee

March 6, 1963

13 Make Dean's List

Only thirteen Middle Tennessee State College students made the "straight A" dean's list at the college for the fall semester. This represents only slightly out of each 300 students in the student body of 3,750.

Murfreesboro has three students in the group. They are Mrs. Edward (Nancy Jane) Coates, Jean Fahlin, and Larry Wayne Houk. All are seniors. Marcie Anne Emert, a freshman and Herbert Jones, a senior, from Lebanon placed that city in second place among the top students.

Other students with straight A average include Mrs. Robert (Elizabeth Dillon) Boyer, Manchester; Virginia Hoyle, Wartrace; Russell A. Locke, Fayetteville; John M. Lovelady, Oltewah; Carole A. Lowery, Nashville; Kenneth F. Mott, Sparta, Sharon A. Shelton, Shelbyville and Thelma Straw, Sewanee.

ROTC Will Have Brigade Status

Major James E. Price, professor of Military Science and tactics, has announced that the ROTC cadet corp at Middle Tennessee State College will be organized as a brigade starting in the fall semester of 1963.

This action is in keeping with the recently announced change in the pentomic organization of the last few years. Under that table of organization the MTSC corp has composed a battle group.

The MTSC corp will consist of a brigade headquarters and two or more battalions as required by the enrollment. Each battalion will consist of two or more companies.

The brigade will be commanded by the cadet colonel assisted by a staff consisting of an executive officer, a cadet Lt. Colonel, and four staff officers, all cadet majors. Each battalion will be commanded by a Lt. Colonel assisted by such staff officers as the organization may require.

Miss MIDLANDER at Middle Tennessee State College this year is Miss Gail Beasley, an Oak Ridge senior. Miss Beasley, seated, is surrounded by her court from left, Miss Patti Mudd, Greensburg, Ky.; Miss Dottie Sanders, Gladeville; Miss Mary Lou Finney, Shelbyville; and Miss Carolyn Boatwright, Chapel Hill. The pictures of all will be featured in the 1963 college yearbook. Fifteen girls participated in the contest.

Gail Beasley Selected 1963 Miss Midlander

Gail Beasley, an Oak Ridge senior, was elected Miss Midlander for 1963.

She was sponsored by the Booster Club in the annual contest which is a feature of the Biology Club Stunt Night.

Four other girls were selected to share honors with Miss Beasley. Their pictures will appear in the "Beauty Section" of the 1963 college yearbook. The four runner-up contestants, selected from field of 15, were: Mary Lou Finney, a junior from Shelbyville; Dottie Sanders, a junior from Gladeville; Carolyn Boatwright, a senior from Springhill and Patti Mudd, a freshman from Greensburg, Ky.

Miss Beasley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Beasley and is a graduate of Oak Ridge high school where she was one of the school "superlatives". At MTSC she is a physical education major with a minor in history. She was co-captain of the cheer leading squad.

Schoonman, Powell Win Championship

Richard Schoonman and A. W. Powell were declared champions in the senior division of debate after defeating Stephen F. Austin College of Texas, the University of Southern Mississippi, Millsaps College of Jackson, Mississippi, and Louisiana State University. MTSC was the unchallenged first place contender for the sweepstakes trophy for overall competition, racking up a grand total of some 83 points. The nearest competitor was Mississippi State College for Women with a total of 43 points. Freed-Hardeman College of Henderson, Tennessee, was in third place with 24 points.

Three members of this championship squad: Richard Schoonman, Floyd W. Kephart, Jr., and A. W. Powell will leave next Tuesday to represent MTSC in the national Pi Kappa Delta Tournament in Carbondale, Illinois.

Pi Omega Pi Initiates Ten; Hear Bax Speak

Frans Bax, plant manager at the Murfreesboro division of General Electric was the principal speaker at the spring initiation banquet of Pi Omega Pi, national honor society for business education majors.

Students initiated into the fraternity include Darwin Brooks Bashaw, Murfreesboro; Elizabeth K. Brandon, Murfreesboro; Lloyd D. Brooks, Georgetown; Nancy Jane Fann, Shelbyville; Sandra Faye Locke, Fayetteville; Donna Rice, Hendersonville; Mary E. Stewart, Fayetteville; Betty Jo Wallace, Fayetteville and John Hamilton, a faculty member.

Instructors Broadcast Popular Novel Review

"The Review," a literary discussion by a panel of Middle Tennessee State College faculty members, will be aired for the first time Sunday afternoon, March 24, over radio WMTS in Murfreesboro at 4:00.

The panel which is composed of Charles Dean, Herman Kahler, and Reza Ordoubadian, will discuss some phase of literature or some popular literary work each Sunday afternoon. The first program will be a discussion of "To Kill a Mockingbird," on March 31, Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea" will be the subject; on April 7, a discussion of "Power and Glory" by Gordon Green will be heard.

Art Club Planning Trip To New York April 7-14

By Jean Massey

Art Club is planning its annual trip to New York during April 7-14.

The trip will include visits to the Museum of Modern Art, Guggenheim Museum, Metropolitan Museum, Cloisters, United Nations Building, R. C. A., Times Square, Lincoln Art Center and other places of interest to the art student.

One of the most outstanding sights to be seen is the 1913 Armory Show, which started modern art in America.

Charles Massey, president, expressed his reasons for believing the art trip will be a profitable experience:

"We are going to find out what the masters have done in the past, then we can gain a deeper insight into and a closer relationship with the art.

"Seeing a piece of art as it is means more than just seeing a picture of it. This is something one cannot obtain from a reproduction in a book. An individual has to almost reach out and touch or feel a painting, a piece of sculpture, or any art form."

The trip is open to anyone who desires to go. The minimum cost is $90. Those interested in going should contact Charles Massey, Gary Sage, or Janie McWhirter and leave a $10 deposit by March 25.

The Art Club has reorganized this semester with 25 new members plus the 17 charter members. A number of projects are on the agenda. The main one to be undertaken now is art work for the cafeteria and terrace room.

Later in the spring a Sidewalk Art Show, including a sell and painting demonstration, will be presented.

An emotional crisis is reached in The Crucible as Abigail Williams (Ayne Cantrell) calls maledictions on Mary Warren (Sandra Locke) leads to the eventual death of John Proctor (Don Massey) shown center with his hand supporting Mary. Deputy-Governor Danforth (Bob Turman) rises as other players, Ruth Bigger, Jim Jacobs, Aubrey Parker and Carlton Sivells wait tensely.

David Lipscomb Sponsors "Good Learning Experience"

Described by students as "one of the best learning experiences ever", 13 United Nations General Assembly held at David Lipscomb College Saturday.

The "General Assembly" was in an all day session and considered three items, including the recognition for Red China (defeated); a move to recommend removal of American bases in Europe and East Asia (passed) and a resolution of censure of the Republic of South Africa for their racial policy (passed).

The local delegates, representing Albania, Columbia, Frances, Hungary, Iraq, Ireland, Liberia, Peru, Rumania and Turkey, spent three weeks in study under direction of James H. McBroom Jr., sponsor of the MTSC chapter of IRC.

Delegation chairman included Richard Schhoman, France, Pete LaPaglio, Ireland and Don O'Donnily, Trukey. All entered actively into the discussions, sometimes with vehemence.

Those from the MTSC chapter included Alta Moore, Lebanon; James Love, Nashville; Jerry Foster, Shelbyville; Harry Reichert, Smyrna; Richard Schoonman, Quaker City, Conn.; Pat Newman, Pikeville; Pete La Paglio, Shelbyville; Dorris Todd, Christiana; Olivia McBroom, Murfreesboro; Amelia Parham, Franklin; Richard Seay, Nashville; Gene Wright McDowell, Murfreesboro and Don Donnily, Nashville. Al Abutrab, who was to represent his native Iraq and Brenda Talley.

Murfreesboro, who was to have represented Liberia, were unable to attend.

NATHAN BEDFORD FORREST CLUB PREPARES JUNIOR CADETS FOR SUMMER CAMP

Cadet 2d Lieutenant John Allen, President of the Nathan Bedford Forrest Club, an organization for the members of the junior class of MTSC's Military Science Department, has announced that the club, in cooperation with members of the senior class of the Advanced ROTC program will begin an intensive program designed to prepare junior cadets for summer camp. This program is scheduled to begin on Saturday, March 2, under the direction of the junior class instructor, Captain John L. McConaughy, who will coordinate and direct the activity.

The program, conducted on a voluntary basis for both the junior and senior classes, has enjoyed unanimous support from both groups. The purpose of this training is to develop proficiency in the practical application of the military theories and principles which are taught in the classroom. In addition to such activities as map reading, compass reading, and battle drill, cadets will also participate in a rugged program of physical training. Since such activity is characteristic of the summer camp program, the prime objective of the venture will be to help MTSC cadets develop proficiency in the skills needed to successfully complete the summer program which is conducted annually at Fort Benning, Georgia. According to Cadet Colonel Gordon H. DeFries, Chattanooga, Tennessee, MTSC has been quite successful in the past summer camp training in comparison with other Tennessee schools, and he has endorsed the program of the Nathan Bedford Forrest Club as a worthwhile activity which will improve the camp performance of MTSC cadets.

The Nathan Bedford Forrest Club is currently sponsoring two other activities to benefit the junior cadets. On March 7, members of the organization will tour Fort Campbell, near Clarksville, Tennessee, and will have a chance to observe first-hand the various branches of the Army in action. The group is also developing plans for establishing a counter-insurgency group within the MTSC military department. These activities are designed to acquaint cadets with the far-ranging responsibilities and duties which they will be expected to assume as officers.

"UNIVERSITY STATUS?"

Things are surely in a sad state when the merits given to a military student for supreme effort, can be acquired merely for collecting empty cigarette packages.

For many months a student may labor in the quest of a merit, possibly spending many hours in the preparation of his uniform, only to find that someone else worked a little harder. He may venture expectantly to drill, hoping to be commended for his superior appearance, only to find his efforts insufficient, but with failure as a stimulant to his incentive, work harder in future preparation. From this increased effort he may, in drills to come, succeed in his self assigned task of securing for himself and his grade, the prime reward of a merit.

As things stand now the person who has diligently labored may in recognition, be equaled and passed simply because another less energetic individual was able to scrounge together more empty cigarette packages than he who spends his time searching for knowledge.

Is it fair for the hard working student to be pushed into the background as a result of inferior effort, that should be voluntary and not in lieu of honor or reward? Things surely are in a sad state when a situation such as this is allowed to continue.

To overshadow the efforts of the sincere student, and to lower the status of his merit to a state where supreme effort is no longer something desirable, could be disastrous to the system of merit of the R.O.T.C. department, and to the fundamental idea of honor for that extra effort as opposed to honor for the trivial.

To further explore the faults of this situation, it cannot be forgotten the effect that a merit has on one's grade in the Military Department. Under the plan of awarding merits, an individual, who through his lack of study, is in danger of not passing this required course, he could do so, by spending his time gathering cigarette packages, not from learning the material presented him.

When in the College, which is striving for improvement and University status, is a person's grade affected by how many cigarette packages he could gather and not on his understanding and increased knowledge of the subject matter presented him?

To the serious student, and to the Administration, this question is posed. Can MTSC, as a respected institution of higher learning, allow the practice to continue, of awarding grades for cigarette packages, and not for material learned? Do we want this practice to degrade our school? Do we want our school to be known as a place where grades are not a measure of mental effort and achievement, but merely a thermometer of how adept one is at gathering cigarette packages?

Sandra Wynne Is Guest Of Jaycees

Sandra Wynne, a sophomore from Nashville and last year's Miss Murfreesboro, was the guest of the Murfreesboro Jaycees at their March club meeting.

The purpose of the visit was for Sandra to officially set off the campaign for the Miss Murfreesboro Beauty Pageant, which is to take place on May 4, 1963. She was escorted to the meeting by Mrs. Ann Batey (Jaycette), wife of the president of the Murfreesboro Jaycees.

Mr. Andre Duhaime, this year's chairman, then commended her on her performance at the Miss Tennessee Pageant in which she placed second in the bathing suit and talent competition, and thanked her for representing Murfreesboro in such an excellent manner. These remarks given about Sandra followed with a standing ovation from all the members of the Jaycee club.

Students interested in participating in the 1963 pageant may contact the publications office at MTSC or Mr. Bob Hardison at 893-8240.

Carolyn Hay Selected For Mission Program

Carolyn Hay, a freshman sociology major from Eagleville has been selected as one of twenty from a list of seventy applicants to participate in the student summer missions program sponsored by the Baptist Student Unions of the state's colleges.

To be selected for this program is one of the greatest honors bestowed on a Baptist student. This is especially true since Carolyn is only a freshman. The positions is not salaried, but all expenses are paid as the students work to build a church and teach the classes within the church. The tentative site for Carolyn's work will be near Montecagle.

Second Grade "The Crucible" Climaxes Probs Mind Dramatic Presentations

BY PIERPONT J. KOBASTER

(A. W. Powell)

The second grade has certainly opened new vistas for my little girl, Elizabeth. She has mastered rope-skipping, reading, and standing on her head with her toes pointed. Even so, she still hears things that need talking over.

Care to listen?
"Well, cherub, how was school today?"

"Fine. We have a public arrest system now."

"Ah, civics so soon? Do you have policemen and judges, too?"

"No, daddy. It's a box, like a radio. It says things. And it's going to make music at play period."

"Now that's real nice. When do you have your play period?"

"Just before we eat. Say, Daddy, why do they call it the calf interior?"

"Why do they call what the calf interior, dear?"

"The place where we eat."

"Oh, that's the cafeteria, deria. I mean dear. It comes from the French word for coffee—"

"I like the little bell on the catch radisher too when we pay."

"I do, too, dumpling. Especially when it doesn't radisher too much. Did you eat with Nancy today?"

"Yes. Nancy knows a song about a pink and white dappled chair. Do you know that song, Daddy?"

"Well now, I might dear, if I could hear a part of it perhaps I could remember how it goes. What part does Nancy sing?"

"Well, the only part I remember is that part that goes, 'The chair is pink and dappled blossom white'"

"Oh, of course. I remember now. It's my favorite song except for that song about the candy kid."

"I haven't heard that one yet, Daddy."

"Oh, of course you have sweet-heart. It's that one you sing to your dolly every night . . . you know 'Hershey Bar Baby in the tree top.'"

Former dramatic productions of MTSC Buchanan Players were eclipsed last week when the local thespians presented "The Crucible." The total dramatic impact and tension has never been equaled in local theater history. An outstanding cast headed by Don Massey and Ann Petty interpreted Arthur Miller's most outstanding creation in a fashion that was worthy of the author's genius.

Both Mr. Massey and Miss Petty demanded full sympathy from the audience and gave full vent to the emotional demands of their roles without ever overacting. Their characterizations were marked by an artistic finesse that is rare in college productions. There was little question about the fact that Emily Gilmore was the most outstanding of a host of outstanding supporting roles in her portrayal of Tituba. Miss Gilmore dealt successfully with both the challenge of taxing emotional scenes and a tricky dialect. Ayne Cantrell and Sandra Locke were superb in their contrasting roles as Abigail and Mary Warren. Bob Turman, in his usual mastery, gave an interpretation of Judge Danforth that would have done Charles Laughton credit. Kent Brisby and Larry Stanley developed a conflict between the characters of Parris and Hale which was the backbone of the play's success and both proved adequate to the strenuous task of keeping the conflict alive and tense throughout the entire production. A host of character roles were basic to the total effectiveness of the production. Among the most impressive were Carlton Sivells as Giles Corey, Virginia Branum as Rebecca Nurse, Aubrey Parker as her husband, Sharon Lee, Ruth Bigger, Nancy Moore, Virginia Miller, Scottie Ward, John Getsi, James Hobby, and Vonda Foster.

Jim Jacobs, a newcomer to MTSC dramatics, distinguished himself, not only in his interpretation of the role of Judge Hathorne, but achieved a remarkable effectiveness in the impressionistic set which he designed and constructed. The original concept for the highly original staging was taken from a model constructed by Carole Sanford. Jim Wall was in charge of the lighting which successfully set off all of the other elements of the production to blend them into a drama that was truly a highlight in entertainment. The make-up, done by Gordon Anderson, was so effective that many students were searching their programs to identify characters. The entire production evidenced the master touch of Linda Branum and Mrs. Dorethe Tucker and was in every respect an historic achievement for the Buchanan Players.

Favorable Attitude Taken Toward Greeks At North Dakota

Reviewing the history of fraternities and sororities, Dr. George W. Starcher, University of North Dakota president, recently congratulated them on their contributions to university life. He also recalled the days when he and George Starr Lasher of Athens, Ohio, were both faculty members at Ohio University, where 32 years ago Lasher held the first Greek Week.

President Starcher commended UND fraternities and sororities "for their fine attitude toward this University and its administration and for their helpfulness toward achieving our ultimate goal of a greater University of North Dakota."

"The National Interfraternity and Panhellenic Conferences have declared that the primary loyalty and responsibility of a student are to the university, and that the chapter must assume responsibility, as a group, for the proper conduct of each of its members."

He reviewed what he called "standing criticism" of the fraternity system — that they (fraternities) tend to busy themselves with the trivial, the unimportant; that the fraternity is founder on the idea of exclusion which he said is the very opposite of fraternity.

"I am sure we can all do a better job — making clear — just what the official position of the fraternity is — it is unfortunate that instances are picked up by critics, and often with gross exaggeration, spread before the public in such a way as to undermine confidence in the fraternity or sorority. Too often we try to meet criticism with denial and forget the necessity for a firm and courageous determination to correct the situation that is not right.

"I prize my membership in my fraternity because I know of no other organization which, in quite the same way, stands for the academic development of each of its members through a home away from home; or that assumes certain responsibilities toward the student, toward the university and its administration, toward the faculty and toward the family and friends of its members."

RAIN

To me rain nudges the Halcyon
Spurred by its rhythmic sprinkling and tapping,
Touched by a special hand coruscating it gentle,
Something with every dulcet splatter, a sleep-catalyst,
Loosing its purity as it falls to the fate of gravity
Yet Nature's touch is consolation for this rain-lover
For the ephemeral cycle will again toss it to the blue.

Fashion Shots

By Ernestine Harris

It was a great production and so were the fashions observed at the recent play, "The Crucible."

Featured, at right, is a wool knit sheath with basic straight lines. The ribbed sleeves add a finished look to the garment.

Captured at the V-neckline is a scarf of a contrasting color to that of the dress. A plain gold pin holds it neatly and attractively in place.

Gold accents are used in the costume by earrings and the gold belt buckle. Gold and pearl jewelry are extremely popular in spring fashions.

Shoes and bag are of brown lizard. This adds contrast to the pale color of the dress.

A white spring coat is carried for the chilly nights. The four-button coat features three-quarter length sleeves and a collarless neckline.

The model, Marilyn Marchel, is a home economics major from Murfreesboro.

Prepaid Recreation Available For Students

Have you visited the recreation rooms at Middle Tennessee State recently? Did you know the student fees paid at the beginning of the semester entitle you to this, as well as fun night programs, public programs of the college, the SIDELINES, the MIDLANDER, admission to all games, swimming privileges, and a free barbecue when you graduate?

In addition to this valuable package you get some free medical attention by an attractive nurse and an outstanding doctor, for your student fee.

It is estimated that a student who spends only one night a week in the recreation rooms enjoys the equivalent of $12 monthly service in a private club.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson and James Kent are available on the third floor of the Union Building in room 300. Their assistance may be obtained for any student desiring table tennis, billiards, music, magazines, TV or instruction in bridge, chess or card games. Plans are now under way to start Bingo games.

All recreation rooms on the third floor of the Union are open from 9:30 to 5:15 each week day and from 7 until 9 o'clock each night, with the play continuing until 10:15 on fun nights.

The Saturday hours are from one until 5:15 p.m. Any man or woman student at MTSC is invited to use these facilities.

CHARLES PHILLIPS, MANAGER

What is perhaps the best freshman team to represent MTSC in the history of the school compiled an eight won, eight lost record this season against the stiffest SEC, OVC and junior college competition. Their last victory was the 81-73 triumph over champion Martin junior college. Chuck Fiedler led the scoring and may have established a freshman scoring record for the school with 340 points in 16 games. The team was coached by Ken Trickey, former MTSC little All-American. Seated, from left, Ken Conner, Tom Whittington, Ken Shulman, Harold Shults, Ken Lannom; Standing, Charles Reeder, manager, David Church, Terry Thomas, Chuck Fiedler, Ben Cates, Dick Austell and Roger Hadreich, manager.

Mike Bone and John Fuqua led the Vet Villians to the runner-up spot in intramural basketball play.

The free throw tournament is scheduled for March 26, beginning at 4:00 p.m. All entries must be in by March 25.

The men and women's singles badminton tournament is scheduled to begin March 28, at 4:00 p.m. Entries close on March 25.

Cinderman Plan Active Program

MTSC track coach Joe Black Hayes has scheduled seven dual meets for his 1963 Blue Raider thinlies. The Middle Tennessee cinderman open their campaign here against Austin Peay on April 6.

In addition, the Raiders will participate in the Piedmont Relays at Greenville, S. C. on April 12-13, host the Tennessee Intercollegiate Meet on May 3-4, and close out their season in the Ohio Valley Conference Meet at Murray, Ky. on May 18-19.

School record holders returning for the Raiders include Richard Roche (:50.6—440 Yard Run); Ray Cooper (:14.8—120 HH); William Burkhardt, Larry Ladd, and Maxie Boles (:44.1—440 Relay); Jerry Smith and Roche (3:23.5—One Mile Relay); Bill Gibson (146-1—Discus); Ken Forte (178-5½—Javelin); and Gene Watson (44-11—Shot Put).

Freshman Finish Season With Martin Victory

The freshman team of 1962-63 has finished their season in fine fashion with a wonderful, hard fought win over Martin Junior College, of Pulaski, Tenn.

These boys deserve the full support from all of us because next year they will have the job of playing for Coach Bill Stokes and his up an coming varsity team.

This freshman team had outstanding guard play from Chuch Feilder, 6-1, Logansport, Ind., and his running mate Terry Thomas who played excellent ball for the Baby Raiders. The board strength of the Raiders was supplied by Tom Whittington, Harold Shults, Ken Connors and Ken Shullman. Ken Lannom could always be counted on in giving his full support whenever the boys needed it. The Raiders had three boys who saw little duty but were willing to put out anytime they were called on; Ben Cates, Dick Austel, and David Church are those who have the ability but played behind some good prospects all year long. Coach Trickey's boys ran the

2-3 offense with a man-to-man and zone defense. Whenever an opposing team played a zone defense against the Trickey boys they went into a different type offense that most of us have never seen before. Coach Trickey called this the "Jug". It is ran by lots of schools in Southern Illinois.

Although their record was only 10-9 this is suppose to be one of the best Freshman teams ever to assemble here. Their opponents have a lot to do with the final record because they were of the tough caliber.

These boys were going to pick an All-Opponent team but they don't remember all the players names. One boy who they feel like will make the grade as a top notch player is Vanderbilt's, Clyde Lee, 6-8, from David Lipscomb High School, Nashville, Tennessee.

You can only be a freshman player once so these boys played with each other and I know all of us as fans thought a lot of their performance before the varsity games. Larry Jeffery

Fiedler Captures Honors; Tallies 310 Pts. For Season

Chuck Fiedler, a 6-1 guard from Logansport, Indiana, took top scoring honors for the 1962-63 Middle Tennessee State freshman basketball team. Fiedler, who is a cousin of Purdue All-American Carl McNutty, tallied 310 points in 16 games for Coach Ken Trickey's "Treaters" this season.

Other members of the freshman squad to finish in double figure averages were Ken Connor (12.9), Tom Whittington (10.3), and Harold Shults (10.0).

HAIL TO THE DEAN!

Today let us examine that much maligned, widely misunderstood, grossly overworked, wholly dedicated campus figure—the dean.

The dean (from the Latin Deanere—to expel) is not, as many think, primarily a disciplinary officer. He is a counselor and guide, a haven and refuge for the troubled student. The dean (from the Greek Deanos—to skewer) is characterized chiefly by sympathy, wisdom, patience, forbearance, and a fondness for homely pleasures like community singing, farina, spelldowns, and Marlboro Cigarettes. The dean (from the German Deangemacht—to poop a party) is fond of Marlboros for the same reason that all men of good will are fond of Marlboros—because Marlboro is an honest cigarette. Those good Marlboro tobaccos are honestly good, honestly aged to the peak of perfection, honestly blended for the best of all possible flavors. Marlboro honestly comes in two different containers—a soft pack which is honestly soft and a Flip-Top box which honestly flips. You too will flip when next you try an honest Marlboro, which, one honestly hopes, will be soon.

There is not a dry eye in Utah

But I digress. We were learning how a dean helps poor, troubled undergraduates. To illustrate, let us take a typical case from the files of Dean S. of the University of Y. (Oh, why be so mysterious? The dean's name is Sigafos and the University is Yutah.)

Wise, kindly Dean Sigafos was visited one day by a freshman named Walter Aguincoourt who came to ask permission to marry one Emma Blenheim, his dormitory laundress. To the dean the marriage seemed ill-advised, for Walter was only 18 years old and Emma was 91. Walter agreed with the dean, but said he felt obligated to go through with it because Emma had invested her life savings in a transparent rainhood to protect her from the mist at Niagara Falls, where they planned to spend their honeymoon. If Walter called off the wedding, what use would the poor woman possibly have for a rainhood in Yutah? The wise, kindly dean pondered briefly and came up with a brilliant answer: let Walter punch holes in the back of Emma's steam iron. With steam billowing back at the old lady, she would find a rainhood very useful—possibly even essential.

Whimpering with gratitude, Walter kissed the dean's Phi Beta Kappa key and hastened away to follow his advice—and the results, I am pleased to report, were madly successful!

Today Emma is a happy woman—singing lustily, wearing her rainhood, eating soft-center chocolates, and ironing clothes—twice as happy, to be candid, than if she had married Walter. . . . And what of Walter? He is happy too. Freed from his unwanted liaison with Emma, he married a girl much nearer his own age—Agnes Yucca, 72. Walter is now the proud father—stepfather, to be perfectly accurate—of three fine, healthy boys from Agnes's first marriage—Everett, 38; Wilhelm, 43; and Irving, 55—and when Walter puts the boys on a lead and takes them for a stroll in the park on Sunday afternoon, you may be sure there is not a dry eye in Yutah.

And Dean Sigafos? He is happy—happy to spend long, tiring hours in his little office, giving counsel without stint and without complaint, doing his bit to set the young, uncertain feet of his charges on the path to a brighter tomorrow.

Ramblin' With The Raiders

by Larry Jeffery

Middle Tennessee Blue Raiders traveled to Cookeville, Tenn. as a 10-15 point underdog to one of the top teams in the conference.

The Stokesmen came out a 61-60 loss because some guy ought to learn when to stop and start the clock. This is no excuse for the loss because we didn't lose, time took it from us.

If our spirit and home would have been like that at Tech there would be no doubt that we would have won our homegames regardless who they were playing.

For those that weren't able to attend the game, MTSC was well represented by approximately 500 students and a pep band. These students and band made the Tech students body cheer harder than they have ever had to before.

The books may say Tech 61, MT 60, but to all Raider lovers we won that hard fought contest and the boys from Tech know it. It was successful (and winning) good was fired with two seconds actually left.

This showing of spirit is only an example of what we can do if we would only come out and support the basketball team like we do other events on this campus.

The season is over now but next year will have a chance to follow a team that is going to take up where this years team left off.

END UP PLAYING GOOD BALL

The Blue Raiders of Dr. Bill Stokes have put together a fine team even though they just had eight specimens to work with. These eight boys knew what was in store for them but they put out like any fifteen players from any other team.

The Raiders played great ball before the Christmas Holidays and after that they lost a little footing, due to the lost of two fine ballplayers. Along with their 4-2 record, the Raiders were the Hatter's Invitational Champs.

After the holidays, the bench strength was the answer for a lot of the loses the Raiders suffer. In the games where we hit a fine percent of our shots the opponents were red hot causing a little of our teams desire to fall.

Around the last of January, the Stokesmen went on the road, losing eight games in a row before they broke that streak with a win over Eastern Kentucky here at home.

The Raiders ended up playing good ball at the end of the season regardless of the troubles they have had all season long. Coach Stokes should be proud of these boys because of the great fighting effort they had all season long.

This team will be minus the height of two tallsters in the improved Bill Nickels, and the record rebounding wonder Bennett Jent, from next years team. These boys will be missed but some fine prospects are coming out of the fine freshman team and the transfers.

The contest of football and basketball are the things of the past. In our remaining editions there will be coverages of track, golf, tennis, and baseball.

Have you fans ever realized that Middle Tennessee had an undefeated season in basketball? Yes, they did; the season of 1924-25 saw the Raiders beat Western Kentucky twice for a 2-0 record. The records of this year are incomplete but to our knowledge we were unbeaten.

Bennett Jent lacked only 13 rebounds going into the East Tennessee game from breaking another school record. This record is held by Render Carden 323 (1954-55). Jent has already broke the school record for a three year period held by the same person.

Charlie Reeder, MTSC fine basketball manager, plays second base on the baseball team. This goes to prove that some managers have the qualities of being an athlete and not just part of an athletic organization.

Here is a reminder, that the P.E. Club is still selling the OVC BASKETBALL YEARBOOK.

Since the basketball season is over Coach Bill Stokes and Assistant Coach Ken Trickey will be making visits to numerous high school games in conquest for future material. At the present both of them are working on two of the leader scores in the state. Of course we all know one of them is JIMMY (MONK) MONTGOMERY of KITTREL and JAY COLE of KNOXVILLE SOUTH.

Bennett Jent hits the game tying goal in the East Tennessee game as he continued to rewrite the MTSC records. Dan Midgett, who provided the game winning clincher in the 59-57 triumph is in the background.

It was a big year for the 6-7 senior from Hazard, Ky. Jent's name goes into the MTSC record books with: (1) most rebounds in one game, 31; most rebounds in a three-year career, 745; most rebounds in a single season, 330.

This year he scored 413 points, only 12 fewer than team mate Larry Stewart who also had the best per game average with 17.7. Jent had a 17.4 game point average.

Previous record holders were Jerry Hurst, most rebounds in one game (against David Lipscomb in 1957); most rebounds in one season, Render Carden, 323 in 1954-55; most rebounds in a three-year career, Render Carden, 684. Gerald Johnson holds the record for the most rebounds in a four-year period with 788.

Homecoming Set For ETSC Game November 16

Athletic committee at Middle Tennessee State College has ratified the recommendation of athletic director Charles Murphy that the homecoming game for 1963 be set for 2:00 November 16, with East Tennessee State College. This is the latest homecoming game the college has played in several years.

Bill Nickells Ends Three Year Career

By Larry Jeffery

Bill Nickells, one of the two graduating seniors, finished his basketball career at MTSC in helping Jent-Stewart and Company defeat ETSC.

Bill, 6-7 center from Combs, Ky., lettered here for three years and has started the last two years. Bill had bad luck at the first of the year with an injured hand and then a broken nose slowed this tall boy down.

Nickells seemed to play his best ball against Tennessee Tech. In his sophomore year he came off the bench and scored 10 points in the final minutes of the game to lead the Raiders in a victory over Tech at Tech.

While at Middle Tennessee, Bill scored 315 points for an average of 5.8 a game. Bill grabbed 299 rebounds in his career as a Raider. Bill is an Industrial Arts major and plans on teaching when he finishes his studies this spring.

MTSC Girls Win Invitational Tournament

March 1 and 2 the MTSC girls extramural basketball team won the Basketball Sports Day Tournament held at Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City. They took all championship honors away from East Tennessee University (winners for the past several years) by defeating them 72 to 29. It was the first year for MTSC to enter. The high scorers for MTSC were:

- Clouse—23
- Lauderdale—20
- Meadors—15
- Tipps—12

The MTSC girls defeated two other teams—University of Tennessee 26 to 49 and Tennessee Wesleyan 14 to 65.

The team was coached by Miss Sue Gunter of the Physical Education Department at MTSC who is also a former NBC and All-American basketball player.

The girls to participate in the tournament were: Gayle Tipps, Capt., Tullahoma; Marynell Meadors, Alt. Capt., Nashville; Joyce Clouse, Manchester; Linda Hall, Greenbrier; Sylvia Lauderdale, Bradley County; Pat Patton, Smyrna; Carolyn Williams, Rockvale; Mary Smith, Springfield.

Middle Tennessee State last had a varsity girls basketball team in 1947 when they played in the Nashville League.

The plaque will be mounted in the Nathan Bedford Forest Building and will be inscribed with the name of the outstanding senior cadet commissioned for infantry service in the United States army each year.

Colonel Tummons who was in the third year of his service as professor of Military Science at MTSC when his death occurred in September, 1962. He was a native of Pennsylvania. He served in World War II and the Korean War, and was decorated with the bronze star with oak leaf clusters.

Students Discuss Common Market

Dr. Norman Parks, head of the social science department, was the featured speaker at the Monday evening meeting of the Tullahoma Junior Woman's Club.

Dr. Parks spoke on the implications of the United States and England as participants in the European Common Market. A panel of MTSC majors in political science and economics discussed the "United States Foreign Policy and the Common Market." The panelists were Carl Oldham, Hartsville, Virginia Holland, Murfreesboro, and Don O'Donnely, Nashville.

Dr. Parks opened the discussion by saying that the disunity in both the Western bloc and the Communist bloc has brought on a radically new stage of the Cold War. The Common Market issue is hence more political than economic he said.

Carl Oldham developed the De-

Gaulle point of view; Virginia Holland the West German position and Don O'Donnely the English situation.

Oldham said that DeGaulle fears American dominance and does not trust American policy and he wants Europe to play an independent role. Miss Holland said that "der Alte" is closer to the French than the American point of view, but feels that he must rely on American I C B M and Submarine Polaris defense.

O'Donnely said that admission of England was essential to the continued prosperity of the Common Market, but her special arrangements in agricultural products with her associate nations like Canada and Australia must be respected by the continental countries.
