Dr. Cope Tours Schools In United Arab Republic

President Quill E. Cope, is one of seven administrators of American colleges chosen by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education to spend the month of April in a study-tour of schools of the United Arab Republic. Dr Cope left Saturday for New York where he will receive State Department information relative to the work of the visiting party. On April 2 he arrived in Cairo where the Minister of Education for the UAR briefed the visitors and suggested an itinerary for the thirty day study.

Among the places which Dr. Cope and the American party will visit is the Teacher Training College of the University of Cairo, a rural teaching center, the University of Alexandria, the College of Mansheet El-Kanater, the Industrial Technical Training Institute, the Aswam high dam and industrial sites of Egypt.

Those participating in the project are Dr. Andrew Holley, Oklahoma State University; Dean Antone K. Romney, Brigham Young University; Dr. Lindsley J. Stiles, University of Wisconsin; Dr. D. P. Culp, Livingston Alabama State College; Dr. Robert E. Markarain, School of Education, State College, Springfield, Mass.; and Dr. Elmo N. Stevenson, Southern Oregon State College.

The Department of Education has endorsed the AACTE sponsored effort as promoting "the field of international understanding by the college administrator."

Royalty Highlights Farmers Frolic

Six "teams" are competing for the title of King and Queen of the annual Farmers Frolic, sponsored by the Block and Bridle Club of the agriculture department. The selection will be made by a student election Monday and Tuesday and the winners announced during the square dance Tuesday night, April 9.

The nominees from the Veterans Club are Judy and Sam McLean of 6090 Bridge Avenue, Murfreesboro. The Newman club chose Barbara Freeman of Nashville and Dinnie Wright of Chattanooga as candidates. Mary Smith from Springfield and Patrick O'Conner from Chattanooga represent the MTSC rifle team. Frances McPeters, Chattanooga and Earl Harris, Chapel Hill, were named by the Health and Physical Education Club, Judy Johns, Murfreesboro and Joe Guffey, Shelbyville, were selected by the Student National Education Association chapter. The Home Economics Club picked Ernestine Harris and Paul Rose to compete.

The program will include door prizes and cake walks. Prizes will include cash and cakes baked by girls who are taking agriculture courses and girls in the Block and Bridle Club. Paul Cantrell, president of the sponsoring Block and Bridle Club, is in charge of the program, assisted by Earl Young, club sponsor. The Bill Ford Square Dance band from Shelbyville will provide the music.

Home Ec Members Elects Officers

Recently elected officers for 1963-64 Home Economics club are president Carolyn Simmons, Shelbyville; 1st vice-president Ernestine Harris, Lebanon; 2nd vice-president Betty Ann Robinson, Alexandria; secretary Linda Peppers, Lawrenceburg; treasurer Ann Powell, Donelson; historian Sandy Anderton, Franklin; and publicity chairman Judy Smith, Centerville.

Antique refinishing of furniture was program topic at April home economics club meeting.

Mrs. Harris Demeant, Rutherford County Home Demonstration Agent, introduced techniques of refinishing furniture. She presented the color-stained white and black gold tipped furniture.

Paul Rose and Ernestine Harris were elected to represent the club as candidates for king and queen of the "Farmer's Frolic."

Student Body Elects A. W. Powell, Sally Smith, President, Vice-President

Associated Student Body officers elected last week are A. W. Powell, Murfreesboro, president, and Sally Smith, Centerville, vice-president.

Nominations and speeches for ASB officials were given in a campus-wide assembly. To qualify, a candidate must have a 2.0 average and plan to graduate in June or August of the year in which he will serve. A week of vigorous campaigning follows which culminates on election day.

Demonstration of the voting enthusiasm was illustrated by the large number of students voting at the poles. Approximately 1400 voted on the first day of the election. The run off between Elner Hamner and Sally Smith rated 100 students participation.

Other presidential candidates were Steve Bebb, a history major from Sweetwater and Norman Martin, Columbia, a business administration major.

Anne Lowe, Chattanooga and Elner Hamner, Nashville, were the other candidates in the race for the vice-presidency.

A. W. has served as president of the Buchanan Players, dramatic society and participates in the MTSC Forensics team on which he has received numerous honors. Sigma club, Sidelines and Midlander staffs, and German club are listed among his activities. Last year A. W. was president of the Student Christian Union composed of all campus denominations.

An English major and minors in speech, German, and history keep A. W. academically inclined.

Currently serving as editor of the '62-'63 Midlander Sally has had extensive experience in organization. Tau Omicron, women's honor society, and Kappa Omicron Phi, national fraternity for home economics majors, employ Sally's membership. Participation on the Women's Dormitory Council has given Sally opportunity to work with the ASB in the past.

ASB Sells Special Campus Pac Kits

The Associated Student Body will again distribute Campus Pac kits to students again this year according to Dr. Belt Keathley, Dean of Students.

The items are prepared as an advertising and promotional program by Campus Pac. Those for women contain 35 articles and those for men about 30 articles. The sale value of these articles is estimated between $3.00 and $4.00, but may be purchased from the Associated Student Body office this week for fifty cents as long as the supply lasts.

Tau Omicron Initiation Honors Eight New Members

Tau Omicron held its annual initiation of new members in Dining Room B of the Student Union Building.

This initiation was held for the purpose of formally recognizing the new initiates as full-fledged members of this society. The people possessing the required characteristics who were asked to join this society for the remainder of their junior and senior years are: Nancy Arnette, Shirley Crowe, Madeline Davis, Linda Hayes, Jean McDonald, Jackie Paschke, Dottie Sanders, and Jane Spencer.

Women asked to join Tau Omicron are not only required to have a 3.0 average or better, but they must have outstanding moral character, leadership and participate in some type of extra curricular activity.

Before the initiation the girls these girls were asked to write a term paper in some area of interest to them and prepare a skit to be presented the night of the initiation. At the initiation these people were asked questions on their paper, acted out their skit and were then formally initiated into the society. From the date of the initiation they must wear a pink and white ribbon for one week, after which they are full-fledged members of Tau Omicron.

This society was founded on the MTSC campus in 1930 by President P. A. Lyon and a faculty committee appointed by him. It is now sponsored by Miss Buleah Davis and Dr. Mary Tom Berry.

"Band Of Blue" Presents Concert

Music department of Middle Tennessee State College presented the "Band of Blue" in concert Sunday afternoon in the Tennessee Room.

The program was divided into three main parts. Selections from the first part consist of "Comandante Marche Espagnole" by Guentzel, Finale from "The New World Symphony" by Dvorak-Leidzen, "Ode for Trumpet" by Alfred Reed, "Prairie Overture" by Robert Ward, and "Crown Imperial" by Walton-Dutoit. Bill Coward, trumpet soloist, was featured in the "Ode for Trumpet" by Alfred Reed.

The second part of the program was the performance of "La Fiesta Mexicana" by Owen Reed. "La Fiesta Mexicana" is divided into three movements which are Prelude and Aztec Dance, Mass, and Carnival.

Pi Gamma Mu Schedule Debate

Pi Gamma Mu will meet at 3:45 April 16, in room 304 of the Student Union Building.

Invitation ceremony will take place and the debate team will present an exhibition debate on the topic: "That the non-communist nations should form an economic community."

The debate which will begin at 4:00 is open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Pi Omega Pi Sponsors Typewriting Contest

The Gamma Chi Chapter of Pi Omega Pi will hold its annual high school typewriting contest Friday, April 19.

The purpose of this contest is to give recognition to outstanding first- and second-year typewriting students in the secondary schools.

Approximately 100 students will participate in this year's contest. Schools represented will include Wartrace, Maplewood, Woodbury, Culleoka, Carthage, Antioch, College Grove, Franklin County, Murfreesboro Central, Christians, Kittrell, Lascassas, Rockvale, Smyrna, Walter Hill, Manchester, McMinnville, Sparta, Lebanon, Shelbyville, Centerville, Cumberland, Hampshire, Portland, Jo Byrns, Fairview, Liberty, Whitehouse, Centertown, and Cohn.

The agenda consists of the following: contest in the morning, lunch in the college cafeteria, a tour of the campus, and presentation of awards by a member of the administration.

Contestants for the Murfreesboro Beauty Contest to be held May 4 are: standing, left to right, Pat Kyle, Nashville; Barbara Moore, Nashville; Doris Anderson, Gallatin; Rena Land, Smyrna High School; Fran Davidson, Lawrenceburg; Mary Barnett, Smyrna High School; Linda Barkley, Smyrna High School; Charlene Coker, Gallatin. Seated are: Linda Hallaburton, Murfreesboro; Susan McLaughlin, Chattanooga; Nancy Dever, Joelton; Sandra Wynne, Miss Murfreesboro, 1962, Nashville; Jana Rae White, Murfreesboro Central; Joyce Ogles, Nashville; and Shirlee Stafford, Los Angeles, California. Tickets for the pageant are on sale at the bookstore.

Construction is currently underway on Tennessee Boulevard adjacent to the college. When completed, the boulevard will alleviate many problems previously encountered by students. Dust from the unfinished road has presented problems of its own, however.

Sacred Harp Singers Begin Tour Of South-east, Apr. 3

By Jean McDonald

Sacred Harp Singers will be on concert tour periodically between April 3rd and 24th.

This group, composed of ten singers, will sing in sixteenth century nadugal style by being seated around a table while singing a cappella. The repertoire will consist of American Spirituals and Southern folk songs and ballads.

The personnel includes Julia Hollis, Patricia Porterfield, and Ann Turner, sopranos; Margaret Wright and Betty King Hughey, contraltos; Lynn McGill and Monty Thomas, Tenors; David Benzenhafer baritone; and Jimmy Rudd and Donald Massey, basses. The ensemble is under the direction of Margaret Wright of college music faculty.

The Sacred Harp Singers have toured Tennessee and parts of Georgia each spring for the past sixteen years. They have been guest artists at the War Memorial Building in Nashville on numerous occasions for the state and mid-state Education Association convention and for the Southern Convention of the Health and Physical Education Association.

In 1960 the choral group was featured three times at the National Folk Festival in Washington, D. C. and have appeared a number of times at the Tennessee State Fair in Nashville.

The tour this year will include concerts at Smyrna, Two Rivers, Nashville Central, Brainerd and City (Chattanooga), Winchester, South Pittsburg, and Jasper High Schools. It will also include other colleges in Alabama and community concerts at Lebanon, Tennessee and Dalton, Georgia.

The group is well known throughout the southern states for its numerous concert appearances and television and radio programs.

Faculty Members Review Activities

By Jean McDonald

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wright of the Music department have recently returned from Knoxville where they judged the UT All Sing choral competition.

A recently planned recital for April 16 will feature Mrs. Wright at St. George's Episcopal Church in Nashville.

Mrs. Wright's other musical activities have included the adjudicating of the choruses and the directing of the Mass Chorus of one thousand voices for the Davidson County Junior High Festival in Nashville.

Cope Announces Proposed Faculty Additions, Raises

The effort to keep pace with the rapidly increasing enrollment will necessitate the addition of about 25 faculty members for next year, Dr. Quill E. Cope stated in outlining plans for the use of appropriations approved by the 1963 General Assembly.

Some increases in salary of present members of the faculty is also contemplated.

The MTSC "equated" enrollment is expected to reach 2,800 next year. This "equated enrollment" is based on a formula that takes the total number of hours for which all students, full time and part-time, are registered and dividing it by the number of hours in the normal load of a full time student (16 hours). The total enrollment of both full-time and part time students for this year, exclusive of summer school, has been 4,236 of which 3,739 were registered in the fall semester.

The building program as outlined by President Cope will call for the completion of the foreign language and speech building by the fall of 1963. The new administration building and women's dormitory should be ready for the fall semester of 1964.

Dean Keathley Travels To Boston

Dr. Belt Keathley, Dean of Students, will spend this week in Boston, Massachusetts, where he will be participating on the program of the American College Personnel Association.

The American College Personnel Association is composed of Deans and Administrative Officers of Colleges and Universities over the United States.

The Public Affairs Emphasis Program is a public science aimed at careers in public service introduced for the first time this semester at MTSC for those seeking careers in public service.

All of the above students are serving their internship in divisions of State Government. Summerford and Crook are in the Department of Finance and Administration. Miss McDowell is in the Welfare Department and Mr. Oldham in the Department of Highways. All are paid for the work, Crook serving full time and the three others commuting to Nashville on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

Each of the students will enter graduate school this fall on scholarships. Summerford enters the Vanderbilt law school. McDowell and Crook go to the University of Alabama in the Southern Regional Training Program and Oldham is weighing three graduate study opportunities that will take him to Tulane, Clark and Colorado.

Philip Hanson Performs "Kings and Clowns," Apr. 18

Philip Hanson, widely acclaimed American solo dramatic artist will perform his popular one-man show, "Kings and Clowns" by William Shakespeare, Thursday, April 18, at 10:50 a.m. in the auditorium.

Mr. Hanson has been touring his repertory of solo shows across the United States and Canada since 1959. Called "a man of many parts," he carries in his memory a total of 30 complete Shakespearean roles in addition to the 145 characters he plays in his one-man show.

"Kings and Clowns," first show in the Hanson repertory of six solo shows, will feature the actor playing more than 40 characters from famous Shakespeare plays.

The actor's clear and easy delivery make Shakespeare's characters as real today as they were for

Jane Pyle, Pianist, Presents Recital

By Jean McDonald

Jane Pyle, South Pittsburg, will present her senior recital Tuesday, April 16 at eight o'clock in the college auditorium.

Miss Pyle is the student of Dr. Phil Howard, piano and theory instructor.

Her program will include several piano selections from Bach, Brahms, Debussy, Hindemith, and Bartok.

Jane plans to graduate in May. This recital is a partial requirement toward her B.S. degree in music.

the sixteenth century audience. The simplicity of his presentation (he works on a bare stage with a chair as his only prop) enables him to move quickly from character to character, creating vividly for the audience such hilarious clowns as Bottom, Dogberry, Falstaff, and such noble kings as Hamlet, Henry V, and Richard II.

JANE PYLE

She is an active member of the MTSC Chorus, orchestra, Music Educator's National Conference, Pi Mu Sigma and Tau Omicron.

Robert Byrne Presents Senior Recital April 22

Roderick Byrne a senior from Huntsville, Alabama, will be presented in a senior recital on April 22, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium. He will be accompanied by Mr. Werner Rose of the MTSC music faculty.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Byrne of Huntsville, Alabama.

Shelton Receives Honorable Mention

Roy C. Shelton received "honorable mention" for a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. He was recommended for graduate study in German.

Dr. Clay Tucker, director of the School of Arts and Sciences, is chairman on campus for this fellowship foundation, and invites those who are interested in future college teaching and feel they can qualify in selection for such fellowship to contact him.

While at MTSC, Mr. Byrne has been drum major of the MTSC "Band of Blue," solo clairnetist in the concert band, first clairnet in the woodwind ensemble, principal clairnetist for the college orchestra, and student conductor for the college orchestra. He has also participated in dance bands, chorus, varsity choir and the opera orchestra.

The program for the recital consists of Brahms' "Second Sonata, 4th Movement," Stravinsky's "Three Pieces," an unaccompanied clairnet solo, and "The Hindemith Sonata for Clairnet."

Mr. Byrne is under the private instruction of Mr. Kenneth L. Pace, instructor of woodwinds at MTSC.

Guess who offered me an executive position with a leading organization, where I'll get good pay, further my education, and enjoy world travel?

My uncle.

In this case, nepotism's a pretty good idea. But of course you've got to measure up to get it. To be admitted to Air Force Officer Training School, you've got to be a good student with skills or aptitudes we can use.

Air Force OTS is an intensive three-month course leading to a commission as a second lieutenant. As an Air Force officer, you'll be a leader on the Aerospace Team—and be a part of a vital aspect of our defense effort.

Here's a chance for ambitious college men and women to assume great responsibility. It's a fine opportunity to serve your country, while you get a flying head start on the technology of the future.

We welcome your application for OTS now—but this program may not be open to you in a year or so. If you're within 210 days of graduation, get full information about Air Force OTS from your local Air Force recruiter.

Spiritual Emphasis In School?

It is true that religion plays a very important part in most people's lives whether they want to admit it or not. Some say that religion was born out of the needs of humans to understand the forces of nature and to give life meaning and purpose. Most people down deep have some kind of ideals toward religion. Religion can sometimes be considered one of the basic needs of the human being.

By teaching religion in our schools, help can be given students in grasping the meaning of values and life. Certainly an understanding of problems, contradictions, and conflicts of everyday life is a part of our education. A religious background helps the individual come to certain conclusions about sets of standards in life which will guide him in his relationship with others.

This week is "Spiritual Emphasis Week" on campus. Attendance to the meetings is not required. Attendance to the meetings would certainly not hurt anyone, and probably one would agree that his time was not wasted if he attended. Each of us needs to give religion a place in our lives.

Little Red Riding Hood Goes To College

(ACP)—Once upon a time, says the PLAINSMAN, Little Red Riding Hood's mother decided it was time for the girl to go to college.

The mother warned of the greedy wolves she might encounter during her trip through the college. At Auburn University, Auburn, Ala., Miss Hood had to pay a large sum of money for only three books. At the end of the quarter she took the books to the bookstore to sell.

She had taken special care not to touch the books so she could get most of her money back (the Hood family was not at all wealthy). But she was shocked to learn that they would give her only half of what she originally paid. She heard, though, that the book store would up the price of the book to nearly the original price and sell it again next quarter.

Unfortunately, this nursery rhyme has no hunter to kill the wolf and allow Little Red Riding Hood to live happily ever after.

Quo Vadis - Whither Goes Thou?

"School Dropout Waste" was cited by President Kennedy's State of the Union message this year. B. B. Gracey, professor of agriculture emeritus at MTSC, is calling attention to this problem pointed out to the SIDELINES a recent article citing the cost of this problem.

That it is not a problem confined to those of high school years alone is evidenced by the fact that almost one of seven students who started college work at MTSC last fall is not now here.

"To the drop-out himself," Mr. Gracy suggested, "the price is high, though payment is usually deferred. He pays in the future through lack of job opportunity, lower earnings and the danger to his security.

It is a pertinent and a pressing problem to many now in the second semester. What of this summer? What about next year? With loan and workshop programs available it seems imperative that the man or woman now in college make all possible effort to secure adequate training for the future by progressing toward a degree.

Those graduating who are qualified might reflect on not regarding the Bachelor degree at terminal.

PRESIDENT TURMAN BALANCES THE BOOKS!

Dear Editor:

When I took office at the beginning of the present school year, the balance from last year's ASB bank account was a grand total of $16.71. As plans for this year included three outside entertainment shows which, I might add, cost the sum of $5,250.00, it was obvious that there had to be some money raised somewhere. It is my purpose, in this letter, to explain to you how that money was, and at the present time, still is, continuing to be, accumulated. My administration and I have been the center of a great deal of criticism because we have appeared so mercenary, but I hope this letter will change your criticisms to compliments, or at least, make you better informed of the situation. The following is an estimated budget report. At the writing of this letter, exact figures were not available, but this is a very good approximation.

Income		ASB Bulletins	300.00
Balance of last year's account	16.71	Convention expenses	200.00
Budget Sales	500.00	Entertainment	5,250.00
T-Cap Sales	1,200.00	Miscellaneous	500.00
Calenders	125.00
Fun-Nites	1,000.00	Total	7,880.00
Entertainment shows	3,200.00	Income	6,041.71
		Deficit	-1,838.29
Total	6,041.71	Expected Income
Expenses		Campus Pacs	900.00
T-Caps	400.00	Four Preps Show	2,000.00
Calenders	60.00
Fun-Nites	500.00	Total	2,900.00
Handbook	175.00	Present Deficit	1,838.29
Homecoming	325.00
Phone	120.00	Balance for 63-64	1,061.71
Stationery	50.00

As you can see, it has been a long year. Our bank account now has a balance of about $200.00. The above figures show the expenses for the entire year, but the income just to the present time (April 4). If the expected income becomes a reality, then next year's ASB administration should start with a $1,000.00 balance. In this position, they would be able to have bigger and better entertainment at the beginning of the year instead of waiting until the Spring Semester. So, if this year's ASB officers have seemed to be a group of "money-grubbing consters," I'm sorry you feel that way, but we've done our best.

Mother Goose For The Modern Kid

By Pierpont J. Kobaster
(A. W. Powell)

I see that someone has published a book of revised Mother Goose rhymes in which Humpty Dumpty falls on a mattress, the arrow misses Cock Robin and the Three Blind Mice do not have their tails cut off. Instead the Farmer's Wife gives them all bits of cheese. All is sweetness and light.

For parents who fear that such wishy-washy stuff may soften up their children to the point where they're unable to face life, I am preparing another volume to be called the "Knock 'Em Down and Drag 'Em Out Mother Goose." In a day such as the one in which we live children need to become tough, rough, hard to face all the hardships and hard knocks which life is going to give them. Here are some samples from my book which I believe will accomplish these purposes:

Jack and Jill
Went up the hill to fetch a pail of water.
Jack fell down
And unfortunately
The poor fellow was killed outright.

Little Miss Muffett
Sat on a tuffett
Eating her curds and whey.
Along came a spider
And sat down beside her
Which turned out to be a Black Widow Spider
And every effort was made to Save the poor child's life
But all to no avail.

I like little Pussy,
Her coat is so warm
And if I don't hurt her,
She'll do me no harm
However, I think I'll pull her tail.

Tom, Tom the piper's son
Broke into a butcher shop
Police surrounded the building
And ordered him to come out
With his hands up,
"Come and get me you dirty Coppers," said Tom.

Nothing wishy-washy, nothing soft and sentimental you notice. Every child should have a copy to prepare him for modern life.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

GOOD COLLEGE TO UNIVERSITY

In reading a recent issue of the Sidelines, I found an article that stated that M.T.S.C. is a "good college." When I read this, I found myself asking many questions about our school. I then begin to wonder that if the people who had stated we were a "good college," if they knew of many of the happenings on our campus would have rendered the same decision?

Now don't get me wrong. I'm not saying we don't have a good school, but let's look at some of the internal conditions and see how we could rate ourselves. I will ask the questions and leave them to you to answer. I also leave the decision to the students and the faculty as to whether we're a "good college." Are we a "good college" when we don't take enough pride in our school to keep the buildings and the campus clean?

Are we giving the student the full opportunity to learn when the library must be closed at 9 p.m. during the week and is only open two hours on Sunday, a situation which often makes it impossible for the student to do required library work before the next week's classes? Do we have a "good college" when the students' interest is placed always behind faculty "whims"? Is this a good institution when people in "small" authoritative positions can tell people what to wear, what they can have in their rooms, what they can read, and even what they must think?

Are we doing what is right for the student when he is urged to participate in inter-collegiate athletics, speech programs, music tours and the like—representing the school—and then is penalized for missing class even though he makes up the work? Do we give the student an incentive to achieve a high scholastic average by offering special distinction diplomas or cum laude degrees? Do we offer the students anything to work for and do we recognize students for outstanding ability?

These are just a few questions you can ask yourself. Answer them honestly, and then answer the question: If we are not a "good college," how can we ever become a University?

A.W. SAYS "THANKS"

Dear Student Body:

For the past week I have spent a great deal of time putting together phrases and choosing words that I might ultimately use in writing up a flowery little piece to express my gratitude for the honor of being elected to the presidency of M.T.S.C.'s A.S.B. It seemed as if it ought to take a lot of words and a lot of paper, but I finally found only one word to use, and I hope that each of you will know how much more I mean when I say "Thanks!" I shall strive to the best of my ability to prove worthy of the trust that you have placed in me, and by the end of 1964, I hope that with your co-operation and support we shall have succeeded in knocking the "T" out of can't.

ASB PLANS HOLIDAY WEEKEND

Dear Editor:

May 10-11 are important dates to remember. These are the days comprising "Holiday Weekend."

On Friday night, the 10th of May, there will be a movie in the Auditorium. On Saturday, the eleventh, the All-Campus picnic will take place here on campus at the new picnic area behind the football field. The meal will be served at 12:30. From three to five, there will be a combo for dancing. Then at eight o'clock, the FOUR PREPS will perform in the gymnasium. It is hoped that the Movie and dance will be free to the students, but the picnic will cost fifty cents and the PREPS show will cost $2.00 per person. This can be a big weekend if everyone will join in and do their part.

The main thing that YOU can do is plan to stay on campus this weekend, May 10 and 11, and join in on the fun. In order to help raise part of the funds to promote this weekend, Campus Pacs are being sold. Elsewhere in this issue of the SIDELINES you will find an article about this "little box of goodies." It is well worth the fifty cents that is being charged, and I hope all students will take advantage of this bargain. There are men and women Pacs this year, and each student with an I. D. card is entitled to one.

Selfishness Is Sin—Dr. Schweitzer

"God commands and demands our service," Dr. George Schweitzer, bio-chemist and lay religious lecturer, declared in opening the Spiritual and Moral Values Week" at Middle Tennessee State College Tuesday morning. He will speak again Wednesday and at 10:50 Thursday morning.

"People are not basically Christian" he declared. "Our churches are in many instances sociological phenomena," continued Dr. Schweitzer.

Speaking from the viewpoint of the bio-chemist he said that all the developments of science were two edged swords, capable of great good or tremendous evil. "Science is limited in that it is incapable of establishing a set of moral values, or creating loyalty or virtue within itself."

All people, according to Dr. Schweitzer have a religion. This he describes as a set of principles or ideals to which they give fundamental loyalty. "But we need a God to serve," he emphasized.

He defined sin as "playing like you are the center of the universe." It is this inate selfishness that brings individuals and nations into conflict and can only be overcome by faith. Faith, as defined by the speaker, is not a simple intellectual assent but is expressed in action that reflects and obedient love.

BSU Sponsors Speakers, Discussion, Slides, Banquet

We have had a great variety of programs at B.S.U. so far this spring. Among them have been films, slides, discussions and various speakers. Among our films was one on Racial Prejudice. We have seen slides and head speakers from the student summer missionaries appointed last summer by the B.S.U. department. We saw some slides taken by two of these missionaries who worked, along with missionaries from other states, with the Indians in Mississippi by building them a church. One a month, discussions are held. Among our past discussions have been "Love, Courtship and Marriage" and "Segregation or Integration," which have been very interesting. One Friday night a month, a trip is made to the V.A. hospital to entertain veterans. One of our past activities was a Christmas party held for some children at Southeast Mission, which everyone, including us enjoyed. One of our most recent activities was a car wash held last Saturday to try to raise money to help support the student summer missionaries appointed for this coming summer. MTSC can be very proud that one of her students Carolyn Hay, a freshman from Rockvale, was appointed as one of these missionaries for this coming summer.

Among other activities of B.S.U. are noon-day devotions which are held daily at the center for just a few minutes, but which certainly makes the day go better. Among our speakers at noon-day, have been Baptist Student preachers on campus as well as members of the freshman and varsity basketball teams.

Our center has just been re-decorated since last year when it was bought for us and renovated to suit our needs. Before we bought it, it was a private home. There are facilities for various activities such as ping-pong here.

As one can see, the B.S.U. is very active and something is always going on. We would like to have every Baptist Student on campus to become interested in it and to take part in its activities. This is a good way to meet Baptist students you might not have the chance to meet otherwise.

One of our upcoming activities is the B.S.U. Spring Banquet will take place April 18, and to which everyone is invited to buy a ticket and come.

Fashion Shots

By Ernestine Harris

Spring has arrived bringing with it a wide array of fashions.

Model, Linda Wright of Nashville, is surrounded by signs of spring as depicted on MTSC campus.

The rapidly changing weather often calls for a versatile ensemble. Linda chose the jacket dress as her selection for "Easter best."

Basket weave of heavy cotton is used following the trend to burlap which is so popular this season. The material in the jacket is a yellow and white check which adds variety.

Midriff yoke is the principle feature of this dress which has a five-gored skirt. The goared skirt gives the flare which has been popular for several seasons. Sleeveless look inspired by Jackie Kennedy and a moderately scooped neckline carry the frock into the summer months.

Jacket has three-quarter length sleeves with overlapping front closure caught neatly with a bow of the same color as the dress.

The model's shoes are white pearlized leather with multi-colored geometric designs.

The total picture presented adds up to a colorful fashion with style and ever-popular simplicity.

Wesley Announces Slate of Officers

Tentative slate of offices include freshman Harold Knowles, formerly of Murfreesboro and now from Des Moines, Iowa, will serve as President of the Wesley Foundation for next school year. Marcia Emmert, freshman from Lebanon will serve as Vice-President. The secretary will be Rose Ann Connor and treasurer will be Tom Swift.

Serving as part of the full council, but not in the executive branch will be Joan Bates who will be editor of the monthly newspaper "Confrere" Bill Russell, because of his outstanding contribution this year, will be retained as director of Wesley Players. Chat'N Chew chairmen will be Carolyn Morre and Bettye Jane Spry; Worship, Betty Batts; Music, Virginia McMahon; Publicity, Vickie McComb, Jay Allen; Recreation, Ginger Raulston; Evangelism, Mary Stone and "Motive" Secretary Beverly Montgomery.

The incumbent full council and interested members will hold a planning retreat April 19-21. This retreat will be held at Falls Creek Falls or Standing Stone Park. The

He's My Brother

A presentation of the Student Christian Union
"He ain't heavy, Father, he's my brother."

These words appear in Boy's Town, Nebraska, at the base of a statue of a boy carrying a smaller boy on his back. We often miss our purpose in life when we fail to feel what this boy felt. We miss the total meaning of life when we fail to speak a kind word or do a helpful deed for someone in need. It's not as if we are unselfish in doing things for others because, after all, love is the only sound savings bank and sacrifice the only safe investment.

The extent to which we are kind and thoughtful will prove to be the measure of our lasting happiness in life, for the joy which comes after we've done something especially good for someone has no equal.

Sometimes when we've grown careless and are not very considerate of our fellowmen, it would be well to remember the words of this poem:

As I bear my neighbor's burden and stagger neath its weight, I'm beset with dire foreboding, lest a fall should be my fate, And I ask, "Why should I worry with the trouble of another?" Then the answer comes with hurry, "He ain't heavy, he's my brother."

main purpose of the retreat is to outline the program for freshman orientation and individual Wednesday night, sessions.

Posters in the dorms and various building concerning up-coming programs are being placed to inform the student. Wesley plans to have as their guest in the near future Al Sullivan who will show his slides on his trip to the Holy Land. Reverend Calhoun of the First Methodist Church will speak April 24 on "What do Methodists Believe." These and other programs are planned with concern for every college student. The Student Center is located directly across from Lyon Hall at 607 North Tennessee Blvd.

Russell Ayers, Sophomore, Stresses Student Activity

"Friendliness" is the key word to describe Russell Ayers, a sophomore from Springfield, Tennessee.

As a representative to Congress, Russell believes an improvement for school spirit would be for the students as a whole to take a more active part in student life and to be familiar with their own representative in Congress.

Russell truly practices what he preaches as seen by his membership in the Booster Club, Physical Education Club, Baptist Student Union, and the MTSC Chorus.

Russell is majoring in Physical Education and he plans to coach basketball in a small high school, because he thinks friendliness is more important than rivalry in schools. All sports appeal to him and he does some photography as a hobby.

He is working his way through school as an assistant in the library and at a grocery store on weekends.

Each student at MTSC should be as interested and enthusiastic in becoming a well-rounded person through his school experiences as Russell Ayers.

TONIGHT

Through the gloaming with the nascent air of night-silence I walk these roads, well the entourage for repose, Moon-lucid is the evening, breaths rising in puffs on incense, Birds nestling in foliage, await the flight of secure daylight.

Here—in this night one lowers the anchor of the soul,

The settled waves of thought sturdy the reason and engender That which transforms man child, seeking that soothing thrill, Replacing the impersonal with the intimate and the want Of symbol and seer, of man's death and Death's man. Man will bear through though, even to the last heart beat of time

For what is more apodictic and manifest than that heaven-spirit?

Tonight O Tonight is but one Crashing, Clanging, Clamoring, Crystal-Clear Cry from my mentor Wordsworth—"Get out there and muse, Boy!"

RELIGION IN LIFE

A PRESENTATION OF THE STUDENT CHRISTIAN UNION, ONE of my favorite stories, is the one about the old Quaker, who in the early days was sitting on a rock on the road outside Germantown, Pennsylvania. A stranger came along and struck up a conversation. He told the Quaker that he was on his way to live in Philadelphia.

"What kind of people live there?" asked the stranger.

"What kind of people lived where thee came from?" the Quaker replied.

"Mean, difficult, and hard to get along with," the stranger said. "That's why I'm leaving."

"Then that is just the type of people thee will find in Philadelphia," the old Quaker said. "Thee will always find the kind of people thee are looking for and which thou art thyself."

LOVE THROUGH THE YEARS

A Poem by A. W. Powell

1895

Grandmother had a caller who had a timid heart;
And when they sat together they sat very far apart.

Mother had a boy friend who was very bashful and shy.
Do you think he ever kissed mother goodbye?
Shucks! He didn't even try!

Now whenever a girl's steady fellow calls
He greets her with a kiss;
And when they sit together:
They sit realclose togetherlikethis.

"It is the province of knowledge to speak and it is the privilege of wisdom to listen."

Keport, Sutton Compete In Interstate Debate

The novice debate team of Floyd Kephart and Jim Sutton were among the 32 teams from 15 states completing in the seventh annual Alleman Interstate Novice Debate Tournament sponsored by Bellarmine College in Louisville, Kentucky. The tournament, which according to sponsoring officials is ranked as one of the top novice forensic events in the Eastern United States, took place Friday and Saturday, April 5 and 6, at the Convention Center in downtown Louisville. The championship round was televised live in Louisville from the studios of WAVE-TV on Saturday at 5 p.m.

The coach of MTSC team Miss Novena Cox was presented with a key to the city by Louisville's Mayor, William O. Cowger. Jefferson County Judge Marlow Cook presented each participant with an honorary "Master Pilot's License" from the Ohio River Steamboat Bell of Louisville, which is owned and operated by Jefferson County. Judge Cook will give to the library of each competing institution a copy of the noted account of Louisville's role as a border city in the war between the states, "City of Conflict," by Robert E. McDowell.

Among the teams entered in the Alleman Tournament this year are Augustan College, Indiana University, Kansas State University, Michigan State University, Northwestern University, St. Louis University, Texas Southern University, U. S. Military Academy, U. S. Naval Academy, U. of Alabama, U. of Buffalo, U. of Cincinnati, U. of Kentucky, U. of Missouri, Wayne State University, West Virginia University, and Wisconsin State College.

The winning team will receive the Grand Championship Trophy—a silver punch bowl—to be kept for one year and then returned, and a silver tray as a permanent award. Members of the winning team will receive silver mint julep cups. The second-place team gets a silver tray and the third and fourth-place teams receive suitably engraved gavels. Certificates will be presented to the top individual speakers. In last year's Alleman Tournament, the University of Virginia defeated the U. S. Military Academy team in the finals.

Now that horrible climb from the basement room of South Monohan to Old Monohan roof for a little sun . . . I bounced out on the roof and got everything spread out — it started raining."

"I didn't give up easy — same time the next day finds me rounding third floor for another try. A gush of wind hit me as I opened the door to the roof — the helicopter was flying low."

"When, I have finally found a place to recline. Who's that waving at me — oh that is Tullesmae. She sure looks different with cream on her face, hair rolled up, and that wild garb.

In the competition, each college will enter one four-man team—made up of two affirmative debaters and two negative debaters. The question for debate is the one approved for all major college debating tournaments this year — "Resolved: That the non-communist nations of the world should establish an economic community." Novice competition is open only to first-year debaters.

The tournament is now named in honor of the late Benson S. Alleman, former Director of Forensics at Bellarmine, who originated the tournament in 1957. He was nationally famous for the role he played for many years as the official pronouncer at the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C.

NOW YOU CAN BE YOUNGER THAN SHE IS

It is a scientific fact that girls reach emotional maturity earlier than boys. For this reason freshman girls are reluctant to make romantic alliances with freshman boys, but instead choose men from the upper classes.

Thus the freshman boys are left dateless, and many is the night the entire freshman dorm sobs itself to sleep. An equally moist situation exists among upper-class girls. With upper-class men being snapped up by freshman girls, the poor ladies of the upper class are reduced to dreary, manless evenings of Monopoly and home permanents.

It pleases me to report there is a solution for this morbid situation—indeed, a very simple solution. Why don't the two great have-not groups—the freshman boys and the upper-class girls—find solace with each other?

True, there is something of an age differential, but that need not matter. Take, for example, the case of Albert Payson Sigafos and Eustacia Vye.

Albert Payson, a freshman in sand and gravel at Vanderbilt University, was walking across the campus one day, weeping softly in his loneliness. Blinded by tears, he stumbled upon the supine form of Eustacia Vye, a senior in wicker and raffia, who was collapsed in a wretched heap on the turf.

We could build a snowman...

"Why don't you watch where you're going, you minor youth?" said Eustacia peevishly.

"I'm sorry, lady," said Albert Payson and started to move on. But suddenly he stopped, struck by an inspiration. "Lady," he said, tugging his forelock, "don't think me forward, but I know why you're miserable. It's because you can't get a date. Well, neither can I. So why don't we date each other?"

"Surely you jest!" cried Eustacia, looking with scorn upon his tiny head and body.

"Oh, I know I'm younger than you are," said Albert Payson, "but that doesn't mean we can't find lots of fun things to do together."

"Like what?" she asked.

"Well," said Albert Payson, "we could build a snowman."

"Bah!" said Eustacia, grinding her teeth.

"All right then," said Albert Payson, "we could go down to the pond and catch some frogs."

"Ugh!" said Eustacia, shuddering her entire length.

"How about some Run-Sheep-Run?" suggested Albert Payson.

"You are callow, green, and immature," said Eustacia, "and I will thank you to remove your underaged presence from mine eyes."

Sighing, Albert Payson lighted a cigarette and started away. "Stay!" cried Eustacia.

He stayed.

"Was that a Marlboro Cigarette you just lighted?" she asked.

"What else?" said Albert Payson.

"Then you are not immature!" she exclaimed, clasping him to her clavicle. "For to smoke Marlboros is the very essence of wisdom, the height of American know-how, the incontrovertible proof that you can tell gold from dross, right from wrong, fine aged tobaccos from pale, pathetic substitutes. Albert Payson, if you will still have me, I am yours!"

"I will," he said, and did, and today they are married and run the second biggest wicker and raffia establishment in Duluth, Minnesota.

Travel Center Reports Many Jobs

Upon his return from an extensive two-month tour of Europe, Frank X. Gordon, Jr., Director of the International Student Travel Center, told staff members at a meeting yesterday that he had completed final details on hundreds of jobs for the ISTC work-travel program in Europe this summer. "The bulk of the jobs are those we outlined in our brochure and cover factory, hotel/restaurant/resort and construction work," he said, "but in addition, I am pleased to report I was able to turn up a number of jobs of special interest." Mr. Gordon said he had requests from prominent European families for male students to act as chafers in France and crew on yachts in Denmark, Sweden and Norway. One lucky "Chauffeur," he noted, would drive a Ferrari in Paris. There are also a number of seafaring openings of longer duration in the fall and winter for stewards, deck and engine room hands on foreign freighters and passenger ships.

For girls, he said, probably the most glamorous work will be some modeling jobs in Paris and Brussels (ages 12-14) and taking care of children in wealthy families. There are also a number of requests for girls to work as private maids with English-speaking European families vacationing in St. Aropez, Juan les Pins and Antibes on the French Riviera.

The best paying jobs this summer, Mr. Gordon pointed out, will be in restaurants and factories. Boys and girls who wait on tables can expect to earn in wages and tips close to $200 a month. Factory pay in several countries will also run to about $200 a month. Mr. Gordon emphasized that the special interest jobs should go to the best qualified students who apply the earliest as most all of the jobs listed by the ISTC would have to be filled by May 15 to meet the planning deadlines set by European employers.

Mr. Gordon also added that the ISTC is now placing students on a year-round basis and has already obtained jobs for 15 students abroad for more than the summer months (6 months to a year). Information may be obtained by writing to ISTC, 39 Cortlandt Street New York 7, N. Y.

Baseball, Track, Tennis Teams Host Tech, Murray State, West. Kentucky

Spring Sports will be in full swing this week with all of the Blue Raider teams in action.

Three of the MTSC teams will open the weeks' slate on Tuesday with the baseball, track, and tennis teams matched against Ohio Valley Conference competition on the Blue Raider campus.

Coach Joe Black Hayes will make his second attempt to get the Blue Raider track team off and running for the 1963 season. The Raider thinlies will host the Tennessee Tech squad with field events scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Hayes scheduled opener with Austin Peay last Saturday was washed out.

TPI is reported to be very strong in the distance runs with Robbie Norris and Dean Rector. Norris unofficially bettered the OVC mark with 9:44 in the two mile against Murray State. Rector set a TPI mark in the One Mile with a 4:29 performance.

MTSC's best hopes for points will be from Ray Cooper (hurdles), Bill Gibson (discus), Richard Roche (440), Maxie Boles (sprints & broad jump), Ken Forte (Javelin), and Gene Watson (shot put). Jerry Smith and Larry Ladd are other returning members of last season's squad that were top point makers.

The Raider tennis team will make its third outing of the season as host to Western Kentucky. The MTSC netters have lost to Tennessee and Tennessee Tech, and had last Saturday's scheduled match with Austin Peay rained out.

Later this week, the undefeated

Blue Raider golf team will compete in the All-America tournament at Houston, Texas. The April 10-13 tourney will have 16 of the nation's top golf teams participating including Houston, MTSC, Baylor, Eastern New Mexico, New Mexico, Northern Illinois, North Texas State, Oklahoma State, Oklahoma, Rice, SMU, Texas A&M, Texas Tech, Texas, and Western Illinois.

Other action by the Raider Spring teams this week will be: APRIL 11—Baseball: Western Kentucky (2-There), and Track: Chattanooga (Here). APRIL 13 — MTSC's track team will participate in the Piedmont Relays at Greenville, S. C.

The following changes have been made in the Middle Tennessee State Spring sports schedule because of bad weather:

TRACK — Change the April 6 meet with Austin Peay (H) to April 23 (H).

Change the April 23 meet with Austin Peay (T) to a triangular meet (T) on April 20 to include TENNESSEE TECH.

BASEBALL—Change the April 6 doubleheader with David Lipscomb (T), to a SINGLE GAME (T) on April 15.

TENNIS — Change the April 6 match with Austin Peay (H) to April 25 (H).

Ken Victory Leads MTSC To 2 Victories

Middle Tennessee State hosted David Lipscomb's baseballers Saturday afternoon, and by virtue of good pitching performance by Roger Hedrick and Martin Jobe, and a fine day at the plate by Ken Victory won both ends of a twin bill 8-1 and 4-2.

HEDRICK scattered six Bison hits in the first contest, while Victory and Richard Davenport belted bashes and earned homers. Davenport got his in the second, Victory in the fifth.

The beginning was the fourth for MTSC. With the sacks jammed, George Atwood scored one tally on a long sacrifice fly. Then Ken Russell's grounder was played well, but was thrown away for another pair of tallies.

THE SECOND contest saw the Raiders jump out to an early lead, when Victory blasted a three run homer in the second frame. Miller and Jobe walked to precede Victory's blast.

The Bison's ninth inning rally fell short of the mark. With two out Ronnie Bain was safe on an error. A wild throw moved Bain to second. Larry Lafferty doubled to score Nichols, who had entered as a pinch runner for Bain. Buffington's clothes liner to left ended the Bison scoring.

Stokes Signs Spencer, All-Mississippi Forward

Coach Bil Stokes announced yesterday that Jimmie Spencer, an All-Mississippi forward from Itawamba Junior College, has signed a grant-in-aid with Middle Tennessee State College.

Spencer was an All-Conference choice as a senior at Tupelo High School three seasons ago, and was a unanimous choice for All-State honors in the Mississippi Junior College league last season.

The 6-4 standout played on Itawamba's 1961-62 quintet that posted an unbeaten mark in Junior college competition. In 23 games during the past campaign, Spencer averaged 20.7 points per game, although on five occasions he played less than five minutes because of injuries. He also pulled in 14 rebounds per outing.

He holds the Tupelo High School individual mark with 43 points during a regular season game on the road. Spencer had a 37 point performance against Northwest Mississippi while playing for Itawamba which is also a school record for a road game.

Spencer will graduate from Itawamba this spring, and be eligible for competition with the Raiders next season. He will join a former Itawamba mate on the Blue Raider squad. Larry Stewart, the Raiders' leading scorer last year, played one season with Spencer at Itawamba.

Football Prospects Get Scholarships

The Scholarship Committee of Middle Tennessee State College has voted to award financial assistance to the following football prospects for the football season of 1963.

Golf Team Competes In All-American Invitational

Golf team is competing in America's most exciting golf tournament this week. Coach E. K. Patty's golfers will participate in the All-American Invitational tournament at Houston, Texas.

MTSC will begin play in the ninth annual A.A.I. tourney at Houston's Pine Forest Country Club beginning April 10. The 72-hole tournament over Pine Forest's exciting 72-par layout will run through Saturday, April 13.

MTSC's team, which has not lost a dual match since 1959, is one of fifteen of the nation's greatest collegiate golf teams who have accepted cherished invitations to the tourney from host team Houston University. Houston has had the national championship team six of the past seven seasons, and is the defending A.A.I. champion.

Middle Tennessee has been the Ohio Valley Conference and Tennessee Intercollegiate champions for the past three seasons.

Coach Patty's golfers left Murfreesboro by station wagon Monday morning for the Texas City. Representing the Raiders will be the Tennessee Intercollegiate champion Gary Head (Springfield), Dan Midgett (Murfreesboro), Jack Haley (Memphis), Dan Lewis (Hendersonville), and Joe Brown (Cartersville, Ga.).

All of college golf's 1962 national champions, individual and team, will be on hand to battle for six All-American championships during the four-day tournament.

Houston will be led by Kermit Zarley, the N.C.A.A. champion and medalist last June. He carries an all-time collegiate record of five straight tournament wins into the All-America Invitation. After capturing the N.C.A.A. title, Zarley won the Tucker, Border Olympics, Florida Intercollegiate, and the Les Bolstad tourneys.

The N.A.I.A. championship team from Western Illinois University will compete, and N.A.I.A. individual champ Steve Spray of Eastern New Mexico University is also entered. His teammate, Billy Wiggs, was the national junior college titlist last spring.

The six championships that will be played for simultaneously are: team medal, team match, team low four ball, team low two ball, individual, and an overall championship based on places won in the other five categories.

Included in this year's tournament are: Houston, MTSC, Baylor, Eastern New Mexico, New Mexico, Northern Illinois, North Texas State, Oklahoma State, Oklahoma, Rice, Southern Methodist, Texas A&M, Texas Tech, Texas, and Western Illinois.

Pre-tourney activities will begin Tuesday night when the teams, coaches, and press will be honored at a banquet.

LIEUTENANT BOB AKAM, B.S. IN AVIATION ADMINISTRATION

"If I had it to do over again, would I take Army R.O.T.C.?"

Look at it this way. I like the idea of doing challenging work. That's why I volunteered for Special Forces. So you can see why I felt pretty good when the Army assigned me to Europe! Here I really feel I'm doing something for the cause of my country in these important times. How many jobs can you think of that start you off with this kind of responsibility? My wife's here, too, and she loves it. We get a chance to travel. We meet the people, learn new languages, customs. And there's a pretty active social life on post, too. But above all, I'm an officer with a job to do and with responsibilities to shoulder. I like it that way, and I have a hunch that my leadership training and experience will help me out whatever I do. Take it from me, if you're already half-way towards your commission, see it through. It's a good deal. I know."
