Religion Takes Its Place On MTSC Campus

Dr. Warner E. Fusselle has been chosen to lead the annual MTSC Spiritual Emphasis Week, February 24-27.

Warner Earle Fusselle, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Gainesville, is now the author of the Sunday School lessons in "The Christian Index."

Dr. Fusselle starts his writings with this issue and succeeds Thomas S. Field, pastor of the First church in LaGrange. "The Index" lessons writers change every six months.

Seminary. He did graduate study in philosophy at the University of Florida. He is a frequent contributor to publications of the Sunday School Board.

Before going to Gainesville February 1, 1955, Dr. Fusselle was pastor of the Rivermont Avenue church in Lynchburg, Va. Earlier pastorates were at Fort Thomas and Taylorsville, Ky.

In addition to his writings, Dr. Fusselle is in great demand as a speaker. He served last summer on the faculty at Ridgecrest.

Dr. Fusselle attended the Baptist World Alliance in London in 1955. He also travelled extensively in the Holy Land and in Europe.

The Circle K Club met Tuesday, January 29, in room 318 of the Ad building. After the business session, a film was shown entitled, "The Construction and Development of Jets". The next meeting will be February 5.

Vets Club Talent Show Big Success

The MTSC Veterans Club presented a variety show and beauty parade Tuesday, January 22. The parade Tuesday, January 22. The purpose of the Beauty Parade was to select seven finalists from the twenty-four candidates for Miss Midlander. Miss Midlander would then be selected from that group

gy Jernigan was crowned Miss Midlander at the Midlander Dance.

There was quite a bit of new talent exhibited at the variety show. The first prize was awarded to a group of five young men, "The Collegians". Their first song was "Young Love" with Wayne Tipps taking the lead; their second was "Don't Be Cruel," rendered by Carl Pride. Second prize went to Vernon Burnette who sang "Funny That Way" and Nancy Patton accompanied him on the piano. Dwight Christian and his band walked away with the third prize for their foot-patting jazz. Three faculty members judged the contest. Honorable mention went to Hank Laxton for his life-like imitations of Elvis Presley.

The master of ceremonies for this show was Bill Kerley.

Don't look at me!!! It is no sweat to me for I dance very little. But I guess there are some people around here who like to dance. As most of you know some of the dances after basketball games have been called off and I guess the ASB is correct when they assume that three to four straight dances a week are enough (excluding fun night). Although we don't like the idea of cutting out some of the dances I guess we will have to keep quiet about it—but you have got another think coming if you think we agree with the reason they were cutout. NO! We do NOT.

I admit our school spirit is not the best in the world but it isn't the worst either. We ask the ASB to look back at last year and the support the Raiders got then. I can't tell too much difference myself. At a basketball game many students are looked down on if they come out with a good old outburst of school spirit—and who looks down on them—you guessed it.

It is considered improper to give a yell during the actual play as we have to wait until the excitement dies down to scream for the team. Oh, sure they don't have to be organized yells but as I say other students just don't seem to understand if a person yells on his own around here.

All I think the ASB should know about us is the fact that we are not kids and babies; please don't treat us as if we were.

Busy Band Waits Sweaters, Plans High School Visits

By Granville Ridley

Greetings everybody and welcome to the first article in a new column, entitled, as I imagine you have already guessed, "Busy Band". Now this title could refer to anything from a band-aid to a rubber band but strangely enough it doesn't, not even a hat band. You see, I'm not writing about any inanimate objects such as above items, the band I have in mind happens to be the MTSC Band and believe me it's a lot more useful than a band-aid, much more flexible than a rubber band and definitely a lot snappier than any hat band you or I have ever seen. The purpose of this column is to give you a glimpse of our band, from behind the music stand instead of in front of it.

Band Sweater Awards

Every year lettered sweaters are awarded to band members who have successfully completed at least seven consecutive quarters in the Marching and Symphonic Bands. This year there were nine eager students waiting for these awards which should be here in the next week or so. Those due to receive sweaters are: Kelly Graves (Solo Trombone); Donald Clair (Baritone); Donald Hicks (Clarinet); Granville Ridley, Publicity Director (Clarinet); Joe Thibodeaux (French horn); Richard Turner, Vice President (Trumpet); Janice Kidwell (Baritone); Jane Leech (French horn); and last but not least, Basil Ridgely, the band President and also solo trumpet player.

Band Tour Ahead

Ever since the first of this quarter the Symphonic Band has been slaving away in preparation for their annual Spring Tour, which promises to be a real treat for all fortunate enough to be on hand at one of the scheduled appearances. On the first day of performances the band will play here in Murfreesboro at Central High School. Nashville will be the key city in the second day of touring, at this time the band will visit Isaac Litton, and Howard High Schools. The third and final day of appearances will see the band in Lewisburg and Fayetteville. The purpose of the spring tours are to acquaint the high schools in this section of the state with MTSC Band.

Dr. Colbert Receives Honor

Congratulations are in order for Dr. John Colbert, our director of bands who has been selected as a judge at the Middle Tennessee State Instructional Solo and Ensemble Festival. This year the event will be held February 21 at Peabody College in Nashville.

Well folks, I've just run out of hot news items, so frankly I believe the most graceful thing I can do at this point is to shut up.

DORM GOURMETS

(ACP)—A pop corn popper may be the only cooking equipment a dormitory coed may have at hand, but if she follows the lead of young women who attend Texas State College for Women, she can be quite a cook.

Boiling water for coffee or tea in the popper is elementary, says the DAILY LASSO. Texas coeds make oyster stew, pudding, chili and chow mein in theirs for midnight snacks, and use the popper to warm rolls, boil eggs and make cereal at breakfast time.

Stick to the popper for making pop corn, too, they advise. One coed tried to use her electric coffee pot to make pop corn—with sad results.

Alton Ellis

This author witnessed one of the most horrifying scenes that he has ever seen this past Saturday. It all happened as he took his usual post at a "No Parking" sign for his usual five minute tour of duty in watching the girls go by. The "No Parking" sign, whose base altitude was three feet above street level, was well dented, beaten, and spat upon by many wrathful drivers, some of whom were either so curious as to possible small print, or so badly nearsighted as to leap the curbing and attack the sign with their vehicular machines. As I watched without emotion one girl go by, who was obviously hoping the wind would change, I heard the cry of a poor pedestrian in dire distress.

There he cringed between two lanes of traffic dead center in the main beat of the Murfreesboro version of the "Indianapolis 500 Classic" known colloquially as the "Squared Square for Jazzy Jets". He was shaking with fear, his face now white did not conceal his bulging eyeballs. Suddenly his nerves broke and he jerked his hat brim around his ear lobes, snorted, pawed the street and then daringly dashed into the outer maelstrom of speeding automobiles, bicycles, and motorized velocipedes. For a moment he was hidden from view then I heard the crackling croak of some maddened motorist and there burst into sight a "Saddleback" with a hat brim on its spear-shaped bumper. The driver was leaning out the window and painting another symbol on his fender that obviously was a representation of a pedestrian. From the look of his fender, he must have been on Aces of Aces.

There was suddenly a screech of brakes and the sound of steel meeting steel as the traffic about the Square jerked to a stop. From the sound of many profane utterances, both verbal and mechanical, such as a standstill and blare of so many horny horns, I could safely guess that someone was eager for the body to be scraped off and the race to resume. A few brave lads and myself dragged what was once a poor, puny, pitiful, pedestrian who had been stricken by pediculosis complicated with periphagus from where he had fallen as another vehicular victim. Though none of the accident witnesses thought to take down the license number or description of the assailable automobile, the impolite poulticed police had what they needed. Imprinted across the chest of the victim was the license plate of a Connecticut car, number K 123. There was some speculation as to whether this was a visiting yankee come to gain vengeance for some relative who had fallen here during the War Between the States, or if it was some Southern exile who had been an Eisenhower Democrat in 1956, disowned by his family and, now returned to find that he was yet to be forgiven.

In these perilous days when the N.A.A.C.P. advocates tyranny and a break of morals and principles, when the White Citizens Council proposes suspension of common law for mob action and murder, it is difficult to understand religious discrimination. But have you noticed these signs reading "Presbyterian Crossing" or "Presbyterian Right-of-way"?

I recall this past summer when I was a partial-commuter (one who comes crosstown), with a full time professional out of Nashville. His name was W. L. Coughran, and a slicker operator I've never met. I usually met him at the corner down from my home, and each morning ride was a thrill-packed adventure. Just before his arrival I would hear a hum like a bumble bee's dive into a pile of posies, when suddenly around a far corner would peel and squeal his Pfft-fofd with its friendly tooth-barred smile across its grids grillwork. The car would come to a gravel spewing, brake-chewing half, and I would be welcomed into his intersanctum by the sanier and zanier music of his hi-fi set. He even had a special Rudar-Sonar kit that was given a life-time guarantee to sniff out any pedestrian within four blocks, and tell its name, address, and telephone number of the next of kin.

Dear Cur: We both work very hard to go through college, my lab partner and I. We, by the sweat of our brow and the money we make—you by the sweat of your hand and the equipment you take.

At the earlier part of the quarter when I found a faulty graduated cylinder, a portion of the bottom removed, in my drawer, I mistakenly thought that the non-profit chemistry stock room needed a contribution of $1.40 to keep things going. Then for a while I thought that you had really done me some sort of favor. By swapping for my original cylinder that would contain a liquid for your newer style non-containing container. I felt that at last I had found the perfect teething ring for some yet unborn nephew or niece. By your returning to the scene of the crime the next week and cracking the cracked cylindrical container you gave away your previously unsuspected visits and my baby gift plans.

For certain experiments that called for equipment without the attributes of your modifications, I checked out a new 50 ml. graduated cylinder which proved to be very beneficial to our work. Can you imagine my disappointment when upon needing the apparatus this last Thursday at lab I found that you had either modified what was, I guess to be, my original cylinder or my recent newer addition to my drawer? There was a triangular shaped missing portion of the top with the useful lip now removed. This was a very messy job in comparison to your first try as this was not a clean glass break. At lab I also needed that handy little tool, the wire gauze, and my hand got rather warm from holding a breaker of boiling water over that blow torch bunsen. My doctor says that my hand will be all right next week in time to see the fruits of your next visit.

So far you have cost me $3.10, and there is no glass slivers in the bottom of my drawer. I thank you for your tidiness. If you must use

Assistantship Offered Lee At Arkansas U.

Jim Lee, B. S. graduate of MTSC in June 1956 has been offered a graduate assistantship at the University of Arkansas to work on his Ph.D. degree, according to information received by Dr. Richard Peck, of the college English department.

Lee, who was a member of the SIDELINES staff for three years and most active in drama and speech arts, is now at Auburn on a teaching fellowship while completing his work for his M.A. degree. He is meeting two undergraduate English classes at Auburn.

my partner's equipment and mine, would you please clean the needed supplies and return Tyler's missing test tubes? I'll leave you a list of other combinations you might want to visit in my drawer next week and won't you leave a little thank you offering to help payments on my now mortgaged car. Tyler and I hope to get another drawer soon and we hope we won't be seeing you.

Sincerely,

I remember one harrowing experience when we spotted one diapered-dandy at a two block range.

Coughran slipped his 10½ pony-powered, hard-topped, Victoria into sneak, but the victim-to-be heard us and started running down the sidewalk. We jumped the curb and started down the walk after him with trees flashing along on our left and a high Hedgerow on our right. We gave him a slam or two, but not before we lowered the Hedgerow that he was hiding in. One thing though, Coughran had a gold cigar band on his left hand, and he never would nudge any little-ole'-ladies, shrews with armloads of groceries, Girl Sprouts, or even slow down for me to inspect any Jane Rustle's or the like. Very disconcerting for me, but you'd have to look at it this way. He said his wife would think he had been flirting with another woman if she found a petticoat or the like on his bumper guard. Being a Vet, he did confess that he would like to see if any evening gowned feline would come back to earth like the 182nd Airbourne.

The boys with whom I am now riding are home grown creatures known as: "Andy" and "Prudent". "Prudent" used prudence as he has a dash-mounted BB-17 bomb sight that he can use quite well and he just loves to collect trinkets like hat bands, garters, and false teeth in his catch-all radiator.

"Andy" uses a much more subtle approach since he enjoys pulling up beside a bicycle rider or roller skater and asking if they can "Go". Then he'll back over them as they get ready to scratch off. He also has an attractive device that is effective. He can jetison blasts of oil in the face of anyone trying to pass him.

What is really amusing to me is to watch a pedestrian trying to cross Broad street in Nashtown at the walk signal. He fearfully treads his narrow lane to which he knows he can trust only with a false sense of security. All the while he tries to exhibit a nonchalant and devil-may-care-attitude to the lined-up automobiles with their grinning drivers, each of whom eagerly awaits a signal chance with hopes

Engineers Hear Schauman, Riel From Aladdin Co.

The Engineering Society met Thursday, January 24 at eleven o'clock in room 319 of the Ad building. Guest speakers for the day were Mr. Norman Schauman and Mr. Kriel of Aladdin Industries Company.

Mr. Schauman's discussion centered around the importance of the engineer to industrial production. He pointed out that the smallest idea may sometimes be the most valuable.

The engineer holds a place of tremendous importance. He is directly responsible for profit and loss. It is his responsibility to expedite and specify the purchasing of machinery.

At Aladdin there are several types of production. The engineer must be able to select the right equipment and tools. These must be durable and within a practical price range. The stockholders of this or any company depend upon the engineer to make the right decisions. Mistakes are costly.

The average factory worker, according to Mr. Schauman, makes around $4,000 per year with two weeks vacation. The engineer must keep in mind, however, that it takes an equal amount to buy ma-of trapping another victim.

Perhaps pedestrians and we can face the possibilities of death with the attitudes that undertakers have to work too!

Carl, how are you feeling boy?

chinery for that one man in addition to $450 per year for maintenance.

There are several kinds of engineers. Some require more special training than others. The industrial engineering field isn't a "long haired one". Practical experience means a great deal. There is too much emphasis put on the mechanical end of the thing.

Mr. Schauman discussed the definitions of MT and MTM. In discussing these standards, he pointed out that all such items should be studied because of competition in production fields. It takes an active and receptive mind to keep up with changes.

The Engineer on the production line should be qualified to look at any operation in the plant, and imagine improvements. An Engineer must have imagination, and must be able to dream. Wild ideas may be turned to practical use.

Mr. Schauman quoted someone as saying "If what you did yesterday still looks big to you; you're loafing today."

In conclusion Mr. Schauman discussed Aladdin's production of the vacuum bottle, one of many items.

Mr. Kriel then gave a short talk on the students entrance into the field of engineering. He stressed the need for versatility. Young people right out of college should not feel that they have all of the ideas and knowledge necessary.

Next, he discussed the co-op plan that Aladdin has with U.T. Mr. Kriel asked for questions, and general discussion ensued.

Along The Sidelines

Basketball is still holding the spotlight at Middle Tennessee State, but football will be in the picture for the next few weeks. Coach Charles Murphy will be looking over his prospects for the 1957 season with spring practice now getting underway.

With the addition of two new opponents to the 1957 football schedule, Raider fans will get a chance to see five home games for the coming season. The new opponents are Chattanooga and Jacksonville (Ala.) State.

MTSC last played Jacksonville in 1946, when Coach E. W. Midgett's gridders downed the Alabamans 21-0. The rivalry dates back to 1928, when Frank A. Faulkinberry was head mentor for the Big Blue.

Jax State has not beaten the Raiders in their 10 previous meetings, and has scored only three times. In 1939 the two teams fought to a 6-6 deadlock. The record is:

Year	MTSC	Jax	Year	MTSC	Jax
1928	6	0	1937	27	0
1929	21	7	1938	13	0
1930	10	0	1939	6	6
1935	20	0	1940	46	7
1936	12	0	1946	21	0

Jacksonville has produced some top-notch football squads since World War II. One of their best years was in 1955 when they rolled over nine of ten opponents, holding six scoreless while they tallied 124 points.

The Alabamians won a trip to Evansville, Indiana to participate in the Refrigerator Bowl that year. They squeezed a 12-10 victory over the University of Rhode Island Rams.

MTSC's rivalry with Chattanooga dates back to 1929, with opposite results from that of Jacksonville. The Blue Raiders have lost all of their four meetings with the Moccasins.

Chattanooga shut out Middle Tennessee in the 1929, 1931, and 1932 contests with scores of 40-0, 19-0, and 26-0, respectively. Their latest meeting was in 1952 when the Moccasins rolled to a 39-13 victory.

Coach A. C. "Scrappy" Moore will have hoards of lettermen returning in 1957 to renew the MTSC series. It should be one of the top contests of the season.

Terry Sweeney reports that ticket sales for the basketball game between the UT Pros and MTSC Vagabonds are going very well. The February 11 cage event will pit top football stars from the University of Tennessee against members of the "T" Club.

Tennessee's team will be composed of such stars as All-American Johnny Majors, Buddy Cruze, and John Gordy. Other standouts to be featured by the Pros are Ed Cantrell, Roger Urbano, and Bob Smithers.

A football will be given away as a door prize. It will be autographed by all players.

Johnny Moore, ex-Litton High halfback, has transferred to Middle Tennessee from Wake Forest University. Moore was an All-Midstater in high school.

Jim Caldwell, another ex-Litton athlete, transferred from Western Kentucky recently. He is going to be with Coach Charles Greer's baseball squad.

Ben Parsley, reserve guard on MTSC's football squad last season, recently became the Murfreesboro Optimist Club's first Midstate Golden Gloves champion. Parsley won the 175-pound division by beating Raymond (Tiger) Biggs, and defeating Bill Brown of Old Hickory in the finals. Brown had eliminated the 1956 champion, Charles Bamman, in the semi-finals.

Parsley will represent Nashville in the Southern Golden Gloves tournament, February 11-13. The annual tourney will be held at the Hippodrome in Nashville.

Middle Tennessee State will host the Ohio Valley Conference Track and Field meet this spring. Track Coach Joe Black Hayes will release complete details for the cinder meet in the near future.

Middle Tennessee will play its last home basketball game of the 1956-57 season Thursday, February 14. The Raiders will host David Lipscomb College.

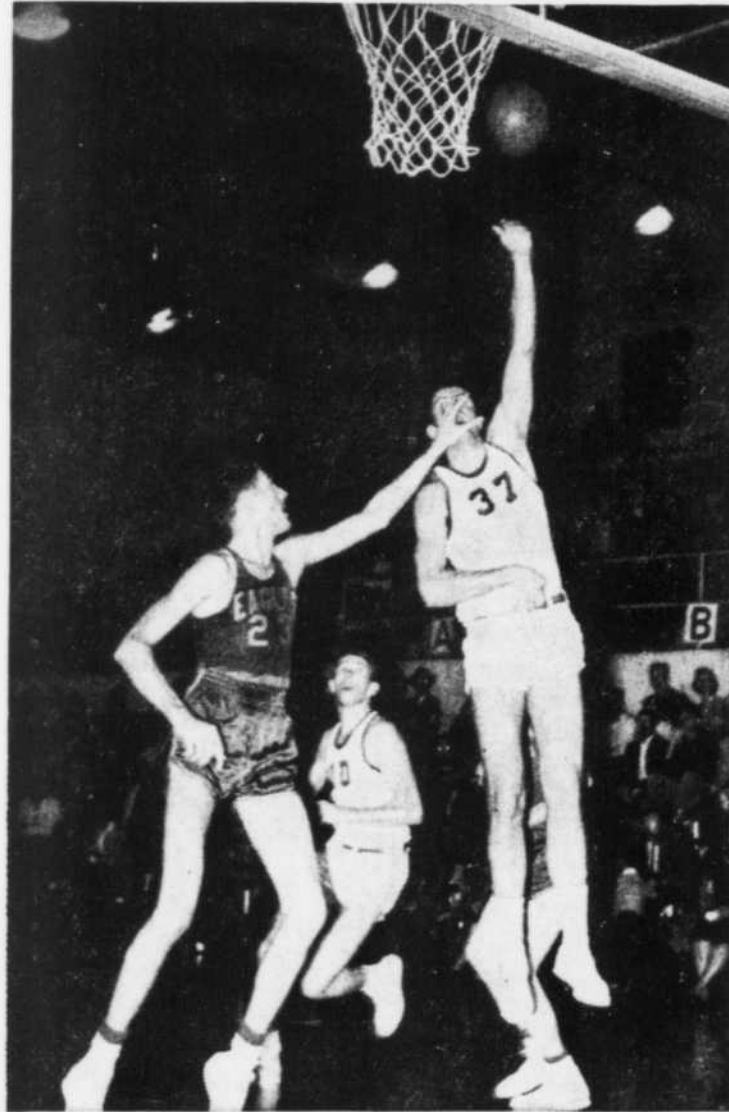

Forward John Price continues to lead the Blue Raider basketball squad in scoring. He has tossed in 199 points in 14 games, averaging 14.2 per contest. Bob Williamson is tops in shooting percentage, burning the net with 49.5 per cent of his attempts. Williamson has hit 48 of 97 shots from the field.

Complete statistics through February 3, are as follows:

Games	Field	Goals	Free	Throws	Rebounds	Pers	Foul	Points
	Att	Att	Att	Pct	No.	Ave	No.	Ave
John Price	14	134	56	.411	134	87	649	57

M.T.S.C. Cagers Scare Eagles

Jerry Hurst drops in two points against Moorehead. Hurst went on to score 16 points for the high point man for MTSC.

All-American candidate Steve Hamilton scored 26 points to lead Morehead to a 70-61 win over Middle Tennessee State recently. It was the fourth Ohio Valley Conference loss for the Raiders against one victory.

Morehead, fighting to keep the OVC lead with Western Kentucky, found the Raiders pretty tough before making a big rally just before halftime. The Eagles took a 43-29 lead to the dressing room at the half.

Middle Tennessee did a commendable job on the state's top scoring team, allowing them only 25 field goals. This was far short of their average for the season. Morehead had also been the top rebounding team in the country, but outfought the Big Blue by only one grab under the boards. MTSC had 43 rebounds while Morehead had 44.

Coach Ed Diddle Jr.'s cagers made a game of it in the second half. After being down 14 points, they brought the margin to a two point disadvantage with less than three minutes remaining. Morehead took advantage of foul shots for their nine point victory.

Jerry Hurst led the Raider attack with 16 points, followed by Oscar Fitzgerald's 15. John Price scored 12 for the Big Blue.

Hurst was also the top rebounder for MTSC with 11. Hamilton grabbed 13 for the Eagles.

Morehead hit 42.4 per cent of its field goal attempts and Middle Tennessee ripped the net for 39.6 per cent.

Meet The Baby Blue Raiders

By Ralph Englert

With the season nearing the half-way mark, the MTSC Baby Blue Raiders currently display an average 4-5 record for the year. This, in itself, is quite satisfactory for a bunch of raw rookies who as a team have only been in existence a little over two months.

"We are more co-ordinated and of course better acquainted with each others playing techniques and habits,—we are definitely improving in many departments, but still have a long way to go," said freshman coach Billy Mac Jones. "We still have yet to reach anything resembling a peak, but that could be my own fault since I was delayed by football and have only been with the boys a few weeks."

"Lack of height seems to be our biggest worry at the moment because it reduces our board strength," he said. "Yet they tend to compensate for this deficiency through hustle and fast breaking." True to Coach Jones's words, the frosh with only one man at least 6'5" are not regarded as a "skyscraper" squad, but they have shown that they can keep up with the much taller opposition with their speed and desire.

The blue and white opened the season rather spectacularly by romping over Athens (frosh 78-50 and Belmont (B-team) 99-78, but lack of experience took its toll in the next few games. The yearlings lost three of the next four, but shook off the slump with a rousing 105-80 slaughter of the Belmont B-team. During the slump the Baby Raiders lost (Continued on Page 5)

MEET THE RAIDERS

Roy Crabtree

This is the third of a series of articles that will appear through the basketball season to help the fans and students to become better acquainted with the Raider Basketball Team.

Jerry Hurst, junior center from San Diego, California, joined the Big Blue Basketeers at the beginning of the current season.

Jerry was persuaded, by Terry Sweeney, a good friend and fellow cohort on the gridiron at University of Tennessee, to transfer to MTSC.

Hurst, while at the University of Tennessee, was a regular on the varsity basketball squad. During this time, he performed against nationally ranked basketball fives like Boston University, Colgate, and Clemson University in the Carousel Tournament held in North Carolina.

During his high school basketball career, Hurst established a 28 point average for one season, and in doing this, he captured the San Diego scoring record which showered him with the honors of being chosen to the all-city and all-state teams.

Hurst, at the beginning of the season, was hampered by the lack of practice, but he tends to improve with every game.

Jerry is currently leading the Big Blue in rebounds and usually hits in the double figures in the scoring department.

Jim Burks, senior center from Horse Cave, Kentucky, is making his third appearance as a Raider.

Jim played high school basketball at Caverna High in Horse

Jim Burks

Cave, Kentucky. Burks was captain of his high school team and received honorable mentions on the all-state team during his senior year of school.

After his selection to the all state team, Burks was selected to perform in three all star games. These being the Kentucky-East-West all-star game, Kentucky-Ohio all-state game, and Kentucky-Indiana all star game.

After accomplishing these honors, Jim received recognition from major colleges all over the United States, and after careful consideration of the offers he received, Jim decided to enroll at University of Illinois.

After participating as a freshman at the University of Illinois, Burks transferred to Middle Tennessee State College.

Jim seems to be having a hard time coming into his own so far this season, but time will tell.

College High team last year.

RICHARD BAUGH: 18, 6'4" forward, from Somerset, Kentucky. He is high scorer on the team at present.

WAYNE COOMES: 19, 5'11" guard, from Lewisburg, Tennessee. Wayne played his high school ball at Evansville, Indiana.

GRIGG DAVENPORT: 21 6'0" guard, from Murfreesboro, Tenn. He was an All-State high school player while playing for Central High. One of the two married boys on the team. He has one child.

RAYDEN HAMMERS: 19, 6'3" forward from Morgantown, Kentucky where he played for Butler County High. He and Johnson were team mates on a team that lost in the finals of the Regional tournament.

WALLY JOHNSON: 20, 5'10" guard, from Morgantown, Kentucky. The other "married boy" on the team. He was married this past Christmas.

RONNIE NEWMAN: 18, 5'10" guard, from Henderson, Kentucky. He has been nicknamed "mumbles" because he seldom has much to say.

EARL PETERS: 19, 6'1" guard, from Henderson, Kentucky, where he preped at Holy Name. Earl is due a lot of credit for overcoming a physical handicap. Although part of his right thumb is missing, it hasn't affected his shooting.

HARRY SPARKS: 19, 6'3" forward, from Lenoir City, Tennessee. There he played high school ball for Lenior City High, annually a strong basketball school.

The Freshman basketball team at Middle Tennessee State College has only two Tennesseans on the squad. Seate, Earl Peters, Holy Name high school, Henderson, Kentucky; Grigg Davenport, Central high school, Murfreesboro; Wally Johnson, Butler county high school, Kentucky; Ronnie Newman, Henderson high school, Kentucky; Mike Batsell, Park City high school, Bowling Green, Ky; Wayne Coomes, Evansville Indiana. Second row: Coach Billy Mac Jones; Kenneth Ross, Cartersville Georgia high school; Dickey Baugh, Somerset Kentucky high school; Lewis McManus, Buffalo, New York; Jim Beard, Centerville Tennessee high school; Ray Hammers, Morgantown Kentucky high school.

Mighty Western Threatened By Blue Raiders

Western Kentucky built up a 16 point reserve in the first half to down a hard fighting Middle Tennessee quintet 79-72 last week. Coach Ed Diddle, Sr.'s cagers were outplayed by the Raiders in the second period but used seven points of their first half build-up for the victory.

One of the largest crowds ever to see a basketball game in Memorial Gymnasium cheered the underdog Raiders for their performance. The Big Blue showed inspired defense and hustle after the intermission, fighting to within four points of the visiting club.

Western hit 56.8 per cent of its shots in the first half to build the 51-35 margin, but were scared when the Raiders pulled within four points, 68-73, with 2:05 remaining.

A basket by Owen Lawson and a stolen ball goal by Eric Back pulled the "Toppers out of the danger zone.

Coach Ed Diddle, Sr., father of the Middle Tennessee coach, remarked after the game, "Middle Tennessee played a real fine ball game and we are happy to get the victory."

Both teams had four players in double figures. Ralph Crosthwaite and Billy Case scored 19 each for the Hilltoppers, while guards Owen Lawson and Eric Back tossed in 18 and 12 respectively.

Bob Williamson led the MTSC attack with 17 points. Jerry Hurst had 14, John Price dropped in 12, and Oscar Fitzgerald ripped the net for ten. Frank Davis scored nine points in the first half, but concentrated more on getting rebounds and defense in the second period.

Middle Tennessee out-rebounded the Westerners 51 to 36, but gave way to the 'topper shooting percentage 50% to 43.8%.

Raiders Down Bisons

Middle Tennessee State and David Lipscomb, staying within eight points of each other all night, had to go into an overtime before the Raiders took a slim 75-73 VSAC victory. It was the first meeting of the year for the two teams.

Lipscomb guard Ed Binkley canned a field goal with 21 seconds remaining to take the game into the extra period. Reserve guard Ted York had hooked a two-pointer to give the Raiders a 38-38 tie at halftime.

Lipscomb took an early lead in the game and was seven points ahead before the Raiders found themselves.

Middle Tennessee came out for the second half with an eight-point flurry before Lipscomb could add another point. The Bisons kept chipping away at the lead before Binkley sank his seconds-remaining deadlocker.

Four points on free throws by Forward John Price and two by Bob Williamson gave the points for the overtime victory. There had been no scoring for the first 2½ minutes of the overtime.

Price led the Raider scoring with 18 points. Three other Raiders, Bob Williamson, Oscar Fitzgerald, and Frank Davis got into the double figures with 14, 12, and 10 points respectively. Jerry Hurst led the rebounding department with 17.

Archie Crenshaw led the Lipscomb attack with 15 points. It was the Bison homecoming and proved to be a crowd pleaser, even with the loss.

to Murray (fresh) 79-74, TPI (fresh) 94-62 and Vanderbilt (fresh) 92-57. The lone win came over the Franklin Independents 76-58. Since then, the Raiders have dropped two close decisions to Sewart Air Force Base 54-52 and Western Kentucky (fresh) 69-66.

The team record at this time stands as just stated, but the squad seems to be better prepared for the last half of the year. At the moment, forward Richard Baugh seems to be the high scorer for the team, as he has led the scoring parade in at least half of the games to date.

However, forward Rayden Hammers takes the honor of having the highest individual performance in a single game when he ripped the cords for an amazing 38 points in the second Belmont meeting.

"Mike Batsell, Ronnie Newman and Wally Johnson, all guards, have the equipment to make the big jump to the varsity next year," said Coach Jones. "But, whether they do or not will depend on their hustle and desire. Their biggest drawback will be that old nemesis—height, because all are 6' or less," he said. "Richard Baugh and Ray Hammers, forwards, have shown the greatest promise to the present, but again size may be the determining factor. Others who show promise, but need a little more seasoning are: Grigg Davenport, Sonny Peters, and James Beard," Coach Jones continued.

"All in all, we are prone sometimes to expect too much of boys who just three or four months ago were high school seniors. We are pleased with their desire to play and with their over-all ability. Time should take care of whatever else they lack in the way of competition and experience," he said.

JIM BEARD: 20 years old; 6'5" center, graduate from Centerville, Tennessee. Beard is the tallest man on the squad.

MIKE BATSSELL: 18, 6'0" guard, from Bowling Green, Kentucky. He was a member and starting guard for varsity Coach Ed Diddle Jr.'s

Nashville Paper Sends Reporter To Cover Opera

By James R. Ellis

Nashville Tennessee—Two attractive college misses, both with the same name, often cause considerable confusion among their classmates here.

And this was also the situation as the audience scanned programs Thursday and Friday nights when the Middle Tennessee State college music department, Buchanan Players, and the Varsity choir presented "The Marriage of Figaro," a four-act opera by Mozart.

With roles in the production were Dorothy Jean HICKS, Mount Pleasant junior who portrayed Marcellina, and Dorothy Jean HICKS, freshman from Smyrna who played Barbarina.

The brown-haired girls are similar in many ways, and having the same names presents problems. The difference is in the spelling of the first names.

Dorothy is a native of Lawrence county and now lives with her family in Mount Pleasant, while Dorothy was born in Dearborn, Mich., and her family now lives in Smyrna. They are both music majors at MTSC and both like generally the same types of music—popular tunes and the light classics.

"I like all kinds of music," said Dorothy. "I can even endure hill-billy once in a while."

The Misses Hicks participated in musical and dramatic activities in high school and both have performed on radio several times. Dorothy and her two sisters had a twice weekly radio show, featuring mostly pop tunes, on Station WCRM in Columbia while in high school. She later performed on WSM radio and WSM-TV and WSIX-TV in Nashville.

Dorothy was in the production "Carmelita" while in high school and also sang in a sextet which performed for civic clubs and other schools. The group later won a talent contest and appeared on WSM-TV.

Both young ladies are quick to agree that having the same name has been responsible for frequent mix-ups, some of them humorous. Dorothy once received Dorothy's check which was forwarded from the college to the wrong Miss Hicks. And another time, Dorothy was called into the college library to pay a fine for Dorothy's overdue books.

But all these things are soon straightened out, and no harm done.

Barbara Smith In Auto Accident

Barbara Fay Smith, a junior here at MTSC, was recently injured when the car in which she was riding alone skidded into a rock embankment near Vine in Wilson county.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Smith of 1878 Trinity Lane, Nashville. Barbara and her twin sister, LeEleanor transferred to MTSC from David Lipscomb College last fall.

Miss Smith was admitted to McFarland's hospital in Lebanon where emergency operations were performed. The latest report is that Miss Smith is out of danger.

She sustained a head injury, possible chest injuries and several broken bones.

Survey Shows Only 628 Students Work In Activities

One of the more interesting facts developed in his doctor's dissertation investigation of Homer Pittard is the fact that out of 2313 separate individuals who were registered on campus at MTSC since September 1956 only 628 of them are members of any one of the 35 regularly organized clubs on the campus.

These figures do not include membership in five large church-related groups. In his dissertation it is assumed that the majority of the students owe nominal membership in some one of these groups, although the active membership is confined to a relative small group. The figure also excludes participation in the varsity and intra-mural sports program.

There is one student on the campus who belongs to ten organizations, three who belong to seven; 14 are members of five; and 124 hold membership in at least two organizations.

The club with the largest membership is the Track and Sabre club with 189 members. Future Teachers with 85 members and the chorus and band are the next largest groups. The smallest is the Raiders radio club with only four members while Kappa Delta Phi had only five members at the opening of the winter quarter. However nearly all the national honor fraternities will increase membership from ten to 20 members during the winter and spring quarters.

Total participation in campus organizations is only 1134 or about 38 per cent.

Present club rosters according to Mr. Pittard's investigation show the following membership in non-church and non-athletic related campus organizations.

Alpha Chi chapter of EPT, six; Alpha Psi Omega 16; American Guild of Student Organists 16; Aquatic Club 21; ASB 23; Band 65; Biology Club 21; Buchanan Players 49; Chemical Association 25; Chorus 78; Engineering Club 28; Future Teachers of America 85; Home Economics Club 46; Industrial Arts Club 25; International Relations Club 12; Kappa Delta Pi 20; Kappa Omicron Phi five; Midlander staff 20.

"Where, O Where Have They Gone?"

Where, O Where. . . . If you are wondering where some faces, familiar on the campus last quarter are now, Joan Starup of the office staff reports the following rumors.

Beatrice Joan Barrow did not return for the winter quarter. She plans to enroll at Hunter College in New York. George Marshall Cranford has transferred to Vanderbilt.

Joe and Bob Knight have finished pre-med and have enrolled at the U.T. medical school in Memphis.

Glen Martin Amacher has enrolled at the University of Tennessee.

Harry Petroff has transferred to a college in Florida.

Kay Keller has transferred to Martin College.

Thomas C. Durkin withdrew from MTSC to get into Air Cadet School.

Joe D. Harper has left school for active duty with a Naval Reserve unit in Charleston, S. C.

Steve McKnight, Jr., has been called by Uncle Sam.

Robert E. Morrison has accepted work with a Memphis Tennessee firm.

MTSC Instructor Weds Fountain City Girl

Mr. Clarence Chesnutt, Jr., agriculture instructor at MTSC, was recently married to Miss Natalie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake M. Brown, Fountain City. Mr. Chesnutt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chesnutt, of Murfreesboro.

The wedding took place January 26, at 3 o'clock in the Central Baptist Church of Fountain City.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Jake M. Brown.

Original Play By Mrs. Ed Briney To Be Presented

"Hold High the Torch," an original play by Mrs. Edward Briney, sixth grade teacher at the Training school, will be presented at the annual Founders' Day observance by the school PTA on Tuesday evening, February 12.

In addition to her teaching duties, Mrs. Briney serves as president of classroom teachers for the Tennessee Education Association as a member of the state curriculum committee, secretary of the governor's school committee for inter-American education, member of the state survey committee on curriculum and instruction member of the state committee of the Southern association's cooperative program in elementary education and is a member of the advisory board of the Tennessee Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Briney was presented a life membership in the Tennessee Congress of Parents and Teachers by the board of managers during their winter meeting held in January. She was recently appointed for a three-year term, to the citizenship committee of the National Education Association.

A meeting of the cast for "Hold High the Torch" was held Friday afternoon at the school. A dress-rehearsal is planned for February 11 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Lane Boutwell, Mrs. Emory Sumner, Mrs. Buford Turpin, Mrs. O. T. Ridley, Jr., Patricia Turney, Mrs. C. E. Morgan, Mrs. Ray Brandon, Mrs. Allen Prince, Jr., Judy Jackson, Glenna Martindale, Margaret Neal Givan, Guy James, Jr., Mrs. Miller Lanier, Mrs. William Shacklett, Mrs. Charles Greer, Mrs. Ralph Jarrett, Mrs. Ed Bell, Susan Bell, Karen Elrod, Sam Dodson, Jr., Mrs. Cecil Elrod Jr., Ann Sloan, Jilette Boutwell, Susan Ridley.

Tennessean to Feature MTSC Campus Soon

Middle Tennessee State College will be saluted by the Nashville Tennessean Magazine within the next six weeks. The 1800 word story is one of a series of the magazine is running from time to time about Tennessee colleges and universities.

Herman Eskew, staff writer, who spent last week on the campus interviewing students, faculty and staff members was undecided about his theme for the MTSC story. It will likely hinge around the idea of the college being noted for its "head-hand" training and its services to the area.

Eldred Rainey, who started in the photographic arts while a student of Dr. Belt Keathley at West high in Nashville, did the photographic work. He made several black and white shots about the campus and color shots in several departments. When the rains cease he will be back out for some color shots on the campus.

Word from Tommy Griffith at Quantico Marine Base is that he, Mrs. Griffith and baby daughter, Jimmy Griffith, Hal Christiansen and Mrs. Hal (Nancy Fletcher), Mr. and Mrs. (Dot Burns) Doug Shrader all got together for a weekend at Quantico recently.

Tommy is soon to be transferred to Camp LeJune, S. C., and Jimmy Chandler is heading for a Marine base at Okinawa.

Hilltoppers Down Baby Raiders By Slim Margin

Western Kentucky's high flying freshman team visited Murfreesboro this past week with an average of almost 100 points per game, but they were cooled off considerably after their encounter with the Baby Raiders.

And this is only the beginning of the story. Before the Junior Hilltoppers could set their offense to clicking, they found themselves trailing by one point at half time.

As the second half moved on, the score changed hands several times before the Hilltoppers emerged victorious by a slim margin of 69-66.

Bicknell was high point man for the Western Frosh with 18 points, while Comelius and Parsons contributed 16 and fourteen points each.

Murfreesboro's Baby Raiders point production was evenly distributed again as four men hit in the double figures. Hammers led for individual honors with 17 points, while Johnson, Baugh, and Batsel hit for 16, 13 and 11 points each.

MTSC Men Box In Tournament

I know the boxing enthusiast will be glad to know that MTSC was well represented in the annual Mid-State Golden Gloves this past week in Nashville.

Boys representing the college were Ben Parsley, Wallace Snell,

Jerry Fowler, and Bob Reed. Parsley was the only successful one of the four. He won two matches and gained the right to represent the Mid-State in the Southern Golden Gloves 175 pound class sometime in February.

Wallace Snell and Jerry Fowler lost their matches by close decisions, and Bob Reed was knocked out in 47 seconds of the first round.
