MTSC Was Host For Junior High Music Festival

Middle Tennessee State College was host March 6 and 7 to the annual junior high school music festival conducted by the Middle Tennessee School Band and Orchestra Association. Ten bands and more than 135 individuals and ensembles representing some 16 schools participated in the festival.

Forty young people won "A" rating, the highest possible in individual and group appearances. About sixty other young musicians won "B" honors.

Judges for the concerts and for individual performances were William Tarwater, Peabody College; Aaron Schmidt, Austin Peay State College and Joe Smith, director of MTSC marching bands.

Horace Beasley, director of concert bands at MTSC is president of the MTSB&OA and acted as director of the festival.

Neil Wright, Jr., with two years experience played a cornet two years "Carival of Venice" for an A rating as representation of small bands. Jenifer Martin, another MTSC Training School student rated "A" with her performance of "Gavotte" with the clarinet.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The Marine Corps Officer Procurement Team from this office is planning a visit to your campus on 24 and 25 March 1958, with the purpose of acquainting the students with the Marine Corps Officer Training Programs. I am sure that you desire to be notified of this visit for the news value it contains for your readers.

I hope to see you in person when I will visit the campus to see students on the Marine Corps Officer programs.

Want To Be An Ad Writer?

By Janet Lewis

How would YOU like to write for Playboy? Not only is the Mennen Company, makers of the cleanest, smoothest shave around, offering YOU a chance to appear in print; it's giving prize money for the best entries (and that ain't hay!).

If you've read Playboy lately, you've surely spotted the Mennen myths entitled, "There'll Always be a Playboy," which have been appearing since October. To enter the ad-producing contest, choose any myth or historical incident, and weave it into a clever story, advertising Mennen's products.

Here are the simple rules, which are easily applicable to any of us undergraduates here on the MTSC campus. Write your ad in 200 words or less, emphasizing originality and humor. Send it by May 5, 1958, along with a Mennen entry blank, available at any store which carries Mennen Products, to

The Mennen Company
Playboy Contest
Box 65,
New York 1, New York.

The first three prizes for the best ads are $500, $250, and $100. The best entry from each of the 300 competing college campuses will receive a year's subscription to Playboy.

Remember, "There'll Always Be A Playboy," and you can profit from it!

Todd Library Inspires Increased Interest In Research And Study

by Gail Wilson

The first book ever bought and catalogued in Middle Tennessee State College Library was the Bible. From this beginning the collection of books has now grown to 64,000 volumes, according to Miss Catherine Clark, head librarian. Miss Clark is a graduate of Peabody College. The other staff members are Mrs. Ivan Brown, Reference Librarian; Miss Sarah Moore, Cataloging Librarian; and Miss Virginia Wilkinson, Periodical Librarian.

With a new look and new books, the beautiful, modern, brick and glass building, housing the book collection, periodicals, and governmental documents, is a boon to any campus. The old library with a new face lifting, will be used for the English department. To expand the program of service, there are new sections in the popular new building. These include a lecture room, projection room and small conference rooms. Also there is a special Tennessee Room, where valuable and rare books strictly about Tennessee and famous Tennesseans are kept. Another useful setup has been enlarged. This is the Curriculum Laboratory, which is a special laboratory for books to be used by future and present teachers.

One of the most attractive sections of the building is the Library Service Department, which is planned as a model elementary or high school library set-up. Miss Leniel Edwards, who serves as librarian at the Training School and teaches classes in Library Science, is in charge of this department. Included in this section is a class room equipped with trapezoidal tables, a librarian's office, glassed in work-room, and library room.

Expansion Reel Need

"Yes, expansion is good, a real need; it inspires students to take those advantages they have not had before," says Mrs. Brown, who also received her Library Science degree from Peabody College. The interior follows the inspiration line with its distinctive decoration. The colors, pale salmon and tinted green, are restful to the students' eyes and enhance the intellectual atmosphere. Informal chairs and seats were acquired in complementary tones. The windows have tinted green blinds upon them. Birch chairs and tables in the modern motif grace all parts of the main and periodical reading rooms. Upon entering the lobby, one can get an idea of the loveliness he will see throughout the building.

Individual study tables are unique in this new setting. They were not available before the transition. The stack areas are more convenient, for now there is sufficient room for all books to be properly and orderly classified and shelved. This makes book numbers more easily read and found. A little item few students notice is the pull-

Town Topics

By Sarah Neel Follis

Murfreesboro seems to have become Betty Ratcliffe's new home. She has been a regular house guest of Sarah Follis for the past several week-ends.

Tricia and Findley Robbins journeyed to Knoxville between quarters. They were guests of their mother, Mrs. J. F. Robbins, Jr.

Carolyn Dixon was initiated into Pi Omega Pi, business fraternity, at the recent banquet of the organization. Congratulations, Carolyn! Congratulations to George and Charlotte Gardner on the arrival of their infant son on March 10. Elinor Norris, MTSC grad, became the bride of Ralph Hardison of Columbia on March 14. The Hardisons will make their home in Cookeville until September when Ralph enters dentistry school in Memphis.

A summer wedding is planned for Annette Lee of Smyrna and Jimmy, former MTSC student, is now a Naval Aviation Cadet at Pensacola, Florida.

We're glad to have Mrs. Emily Bell, former transferred back here from Baylor University in Texas.

Jimmy Ragan asked me to put his name in the paper, so, Jimmy, here it is—JAMES ENOCH RAGAN, Jr.

Goldstein's Manager Speaks To Club

The Home Economics Club met Monday, March 24, in the living room of the Science Building.

As a special feature on the program, they were privileged to have Mr. Perryman, manager of Goldstein's, who gave some of the latest information on spring styles, fabrics, and millinery.

Business for the meeting will include election of next year's officers, voting on amendments to the constitution and discussion of the Home Economics Convention to be held in Knoxville, April 18 and 19 of this year.

Student Resides At "Hermitage"; Wins Countless Art Recognitions

Bobby Hollingsworth, MTSC sophomore who has won more art awards than his bed-room den in the custodian's cottage at "The Hermitage" can contain, was the subject of a lengthy feature story in the March 15, Nashville BANNER. The article was written by staff writer Sarah Cash. It was illustrated with a six column color picture of "Fall at the Hermitage", a 4x8 foot oil, framed in natural chestnut, which has been hung in the entrance of the Du Pont Elementary School to mark the 191st birthday anniversary of the seventh president of the United States, March 15, 1767.

The striking painting was commissioned by the Du Pont P.T.A. The talented blonde, 19-year-old MTSC artist spent his Christmas holidays in laying the basic lines for the pictures and his spare time since to perfect the full front projection. The picture has the sharp, photographic detail of a Norman Rockwell painting but frames the historic white mansion in an early autumnal brilliance that emphasize deep, rich greens of the lawn and cedars in sharp contrast to the reds and orange of hardwoods surrounding the Hermitage.

Miss Cash recounts in her story the background for the painting. She points out that Bobby has spent 17 years on the Hermitage grounds where his father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hollingsworth are in the custodial service. He recently did a three dimensional interpretation in tempera and has done several charcoals of the Hermitage in art classes at MTSC. "Relaxing in the lobby of Smith Hall at MTSC he reminisced of his childhood at the Hermitage", writes Miss Cash.

Hermitage Guide

"I know every nook and cranny of the rooms (11 and a kitchen)," he said. "Sometimes I was a guide, which was fun. Got to meet a lot of people and sometimes they'd tip me," he recalled. By the time he was in school he knew the Jackson biography, almost all the information taken from the souvenir shop managed by his mother.

Interest in history of the Jacksonian era stemmed from his life on The Hermitage estate. He became thirsty for the adventurous battles fought by Jackson and later was winner of an essay contest, in which he expounded on the Battle of New Orleans. He read his entry at the Presbyterian Church near The Hermitage which Jackson built in memory of his wife Rachel.

The student of liberal arts is a member of the MTSC chorus and varsity choir. A baritone, he also takes private voice lessons.

Bobby showed a predilection toward art before he reached the seventh grade. By the time he was a junior in high school he won his first laurels for a water color portrayal of the famed flag raising on Iwo Jima, a contest sponsored by the Marines for an anniversary celebration. He won a $25 savings bond and last year, added another for a winning entry in the Hobby Fair here—an oil of still life.

Another outstanding rung in his ladder of school days accomplishments in the arts field was his scaled model of Uncle Alfred's cabin, shown at the Hobby Fair. "That took me three months," he said. "You know Uncle Alfred was the personal servant of Andrew Jackson."

Loves To Hunt

Bobby doesn't restrict his time to painting or pursuing fine arts. "I love hunting, anything, rabbits or squirrels. I built a Kentucky rifle last summer." He assembled the parts which he ordered and engraved it himself. "It's inlaid with brass, ivory and German silver," he said. "It shoots true," he reiterated. "Blew the heads right off two squirrels."

Bobby's influence as to style and technique he feels emanates from Artist Fred J. Rubens, an art instructor at MTSC. He's known him since he was 11 years old and has been under his tutelage in private lessons or college for about eight

1930 Depression Hits MTSC Hard; Students Rise Above Calamity

By Fred Ford

There are not many of us on the Middle Tennessee State College campus who remember the great depression, but there is one man here who remembers the days of the depression quite vividly. He is our bursar, Mr. T. B. Woodmore.

Recalling these days of gloom, Mr. Woodmore tells us of life on the campus of Middle Tennessee State Teachers College, later changed to Middle Tennessee State College. Enrollment during the depression years averaged between 500 and 550 (quite a difference compared to our 2,000 plus enrollment of today). During the summer, however, the enrollment jumped to 1,200 or more. Why the terrific increase during summer school? Most of these summer students were teachers who were coming back to obtain their certificates or renew their old ones. All 1,200 students were educated under one roof as the administration building was the only building with classrooms at that time.

Rutledge Ramblings

By Sarah Horton

I'm sure you can hardly wait to get started in the old routine again, especially after our long spring vacation.

Wednesday and Thursday nights in Rutledge Hall were not what one would consider typical nights before tests, but they were typical nights. The lobby was filled with about 50 girls who sacrificed their studies in order to watch the late movie. Any other night the lobby would have been dead silent, but not Thursday—it was very much alive. We had a wonderful plan—everyone was going to watch the movie (to break the agony of studying—of course), and after the movie was over we were going to take our No-Doz pills and study until the wee hours of dawn. But something happened; by one o'clock the lobby was deserted and silent except for a few sleepy-heads who had fallen asleep on the couches. The next morning found us going to classes rather unprepared and counting on probation for spring quarter.

Wedding Bells

Rutledge is very sorry to report the loss of four of their comrades. Barbara Hunter became Mrs. Russ Lictus in a very impressive ceremony at her home in Portland, Tennessee, on March 15, at 5 o'clock. Barbara and Russ will make their home in Jacksonville, Fla., after their honeymoon in New York state.

Reha Yokley became Mrs. Ike Finley on Friday March 14. The couple was married at 2:45 in the afternoon by Mr. J. L. Jackson of The Church of Christ. Sam Smith and Lois Smith were attendants. Retha and Ike will reside at 316 W. Lytle in Murfreesboro.

Other Farewells

All the girls will miss the laughs of Amy Leford this quarter, but we are counting on her return real soon. Ann Ratcliffe also returned to her home in Nashville, where she plans to work. It was great having these girls with us. From the girls here at Rutledge, we wish you the best of luck in your chosen careers.

Welcomes

There are four new girls at Rutledge this quarter. They are Rosalind Crawley and Janice Islees, both from Chattanooga, and Geneva Gentry and Wanda La Rue. Welcome to Rutledge; it's great!

Six Movies For A Buck

In the latter part of the depression, the Federal government established a student work program, the National Youth Administration. Both male and female students were offered part-time jobs. The student in return, received $15.00 a month for their work. An example of their work may be seen on our campus today. It is represented by the woodworking unit of the Industrial Arts Building, which was constructed under this student work program.

Social life on the campus was not as dull as we may think. Movies were the main source of entertainment. A student could purchase a card through the school, for one dollar. This card would entitle the student to see six movies. The college, although badly in the need of funds, maintained their athletic program all the way through the depression. During this time (get this, boys) the college also had a girls' basketball team. For the students who had no interest in either sports or movies, there was always another means of entertainment—dating. As Mr. Woodmore stated, "One of the main means of entertainment for both boys and girls was each other." A typical male student would go without meals in order to take his best girl on a date. Of course, they would have to walk to their destination,

Along The Sidelines

By Roy V. Crabtree

Weather has interrupted the spring football activities to the point that the annual Blue and White intersquad game will not be played as planned. The boys have not been able to practice for the past week, because of final examinations, and rain and freezing temperatures have kept them inside the first part of this week; so coach Charles Murphy indicated that, if the game were played, it could be detrimental instead of worthwhile from the standpoint of personnel. An injury can occur so easily in a game, and, if a player is not in shape, the possibility of injury is even greater.

Spring football practice will end this week, and most of the athletes will be participating in the spring sports which will soon be underway.

Coach Joe Black Hayes's undefeated tracksters will open the season with William Jennings Bryan in Dayton, Tennessee, in April. Most of last year's brilliant performers will be back for another try, but will miss the services of Milner Carden, who ran in the distance races.

Dick Swain, a freshman basketball player, will boost the squad tremendously, since he was an outstanding track performer in high school. Ralph Adams, a burly 245 pound tackle, will give added strength in the weights which suffered so much last year. Boys to watch in this sport will be captain Ed Carson, Marvin Jinnette, Bucky Pitts, James Frost, Ernest Ryman, Bob Reed, Hester Gibbs, Ray Bell, Manson Rowan, James Bratton, Bill Dotson, Jimmy Davis.

Baseball Opens Against Vandy

Baseball will get underway April 1, with Vanderbilt University in Nashville. Lettermen returning will be Carlton Galbreath, Vic Franciscon, Bucky Pitts, Ray Pravis, Ed Price, Frank Higgins, Charley Care, Dickie Baugh, Jerry Hurst Bobby Heasons. Newcomers who will help will be Whit Watson, Jimmy Caldwell, and Bobby Hallum.

The services of catcher, G. E. McCormack, and outfielder, Buck Rolman will be missed considerably, since each slugger finished one and two in the batting department. Bobby Tillman, who signed a professional baseball contract with the Boston Red Sox, was being counted on to take-up some of the slack left by Rolman and McCormack, who have graduated.

Golf should be better than it was last year, but from their previous outstanding showing, it doesn't seem possible, for they captured the VSAC Tournament and finished second and third in the OVC and TIAC respectively. However, with all four aces back for another season and the addition of some of the best golf players in the NIL in Nashville, coach Elbert Patty will be able to give most any college or university a run for their money.

Tennis had a rough time of it last year, only winning one match, while losing six. Coach E. O. Hawkins would like to improve that record considerably this season, but with the graduation of Bobby Cranford and Bucky Buchanan, who played number one and number two positions last year, the outlook for this season doesn't look too prosperous.

Recently, Bob Williamson, a top-notch basketball player at MTSC, was honored by being selected to the 1957-58 All-Ohio Valley Conference first five. Bob should be congratulated for this tremendous achievement.

Diddle Names Todd, Forrest --- Basketball Lettermen

Ed Diddle, Jr., basketball coach at Middle Tennessee State College nominated eleven varsity lettermen and five freshman for numerals for ratification by the college athletic committee this week.

Bob Williamson was named on the first five All-OVC team by the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Of the eleven lettermen Coach Diddle will lose only two by graduation. These are Captain Frank Davis from Donelson and Jerry Hurst, big post man from Lemon Grove, California. Other lettermen include Bob Williamson, junior, from Bowling Green, Kentucky; Oscar Fitzgerald, junior from Burnside, Kentucky. Seven of the men winning the coveted "T" are sophomores. They are Ronnie Newman, Henderson, Kentucky; Lou McManus, Buffalo, New York; Wally Johnson, Morgantown, Kentucky; Mike Batsell, Bowling Green, Kentucky; Ray Hammers, Morgantown, Kentucky; Sonny Peters, Henderson, Kentucky; and Dickie Baugh, Somerset, Kentucky.

Kentuckians dominate the five freshman to win numerals. Raymond and Robert Burden come from Morgantown and Ralph Bryant is from Burnside. Dick Swain is from Marshall, Illinois, and Charles Greer is from Nashville, Tennessee.

Williamson led the Raider scores in compiling an 11-10 record during the past season. He scored 364 points for a 17.3 average. Frank Davis and Dickie Baugh wound up the season with similar records, Davis scoring 323 points and Baugh 306.

John Price, co-captain of the Raiders, was lost for the entire season when he fractured an ankle in early December practice. He remained out of competition this year and thus has one more year of eligibility. Should he return in 1958-59, Diddle would be able to field a veteran team since Jerry Hurst, the other senior starter with Davis, was lost at mid-season when he injured his ankle in the Western Kentucky game.

Open A File, Look Back At MTSC

By Peggy Harrison

Frequently we wonder what events and occasions were the most exciting 10 or 15 years ago. Let us gaze into our crystal ball and delve into the history of MTSC.

1958—Pi Omiga Pi named six winter quarter pledges at annual mid-winter banquet. Tom Coats crowned "King Ugly" at Sock Hop, sponsored by the senior class. The foreign countries of Korea, Iraq, and Iran are represented on campus by Jin Ke Rhee from Seoul, Korea; Nedhan Al-Orfali of Bagdad, Iraq, and Abbas Zand of Tehran Iran. President Q. M. Smith attended the Association of Higher Education of the National Education Association in Chicago — Lois Stedman, MTSC alumna, is a producer of Nashville Community Playhouse's current production, "The Play's the Thing." The "Curious Savage" was presented in the college auditorium by the Buchanan Players. Sherry Chumbley had the leading role. Student NEA captured first prize in the Biology Club sponsored Stunt Night. Pi Gamma, national honorary social science fraternity has made plans for installation of a chapter on campus. The new library, the ROTC and Language Arts buildings are to be dedicated March 25.

March 1955—"The Barterd Bride" was presented by the Varsity Choir. Cast included: Laura Harris, John Keith Jackson, Joe Smith, Wayne Robertson, Joyce Kidwell, Charles Wood, Norma Follis and Kirk Wait. Bills were passed in Senate approving appropriation of $500,000 for new construction in the administration's $6,425,000 bond issue bill. Three students, Liz Hay, Frank Smith, and Bob Springer, completed their required pre-med courses and left for med school at UT in Memphis. MTSC gym was the scene of a Donkey basketball game sponsored by the Agriculture Club. The game featured Jones Hall boys vs. Smith Hall boys. Alpha Chi Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau, was established at MTSC.

March 1950 — Miss Ann Winfrey of Murfreesboro was elected "Miss Home Economics." The Physical Ed. Club presented "It's a Date" with Ernie Pelligrin and Nell (Smoo) Thenson cast in the leading roles. Major Allan Sewart Jr., who died in the Solomons was memorialized with twenty-eight other alumni in the Memorial Health and Physical Education Building. Several faculty members were added: Dr. Charlotte Williams; Dr. Leslie Hartley, Mr. William O. Scott, and F. J. Elderkin. Fifty students participated in the spring Aviation Program.

1945 — Drama Club selected for spring presentation "Damsels in Distress." Joyce McMurty and Margaret Barton had the leading roles. Jack Yearwood, a former student was announced as prisoner of war. Several former students were listed as killed in action: Lt. (j.g.) Carl Yates; Capt. Wm. McCrory, and Sgt. Thomas W. Gilleg. A. L. Todd, for whom the new library is named, and through whose efforts MTSC was established, died March 24, after a cerebral hemorrhage. Dr. Bill Shacklett, who had completed pre-med training at MTSC was to complete internship at Worcester, Mass., on April 1.

1940 — Coach Herc Alley, head coach at MTSC, was named end coach of Vanderbilt University by Red Sanders, newly elected head coach of the Commodores. Wink Midget moved up to take Alley's

Mr. Simpson One Of Mathematics Book Authors

Roy J. Simpson of Middle Tennessee State College is one of the members of a committee of 42 mathematicians from 14 states who compiled and edited the 330 page "Mathematics of Finance" which was released by the publishers, the Pitman Publishing Company of New York on April 1.

Mr. Simpson was responsible for the first chapter in the book "Simple Interest, Discount and Promissory Notes". Lyle E. Mehelnbacher of the University of Detroit and Clifford W. Thomason of the University of Toledo were associated with him in the work on this unit of study.

Mr. Simpson, formerly principal of the MTSC Training School, is assistant professor of education in mathematics at the college.

position here. The music department selected the cast of "Bohemian Girl" by Michael Balfe. Leading roles went to Tom Hallis, Petey Dill, Dance Hodge, Raymond Hill, William Cowart, Ann Elizabeth Davis, Maig Cox, and Rebecca Thursman. Mrs. R. T. Jones, wife of the first president of State Teachers College died March 26. Jones Hall boys asked for "Southwest Passage" to library. The first golf team was organized by Haron Jackson and Elbert Patty.

1930 Depression --

because a student with a car was unheard of. In fact, at one time during the depression, there was only one car on the entire campus.

ONE Car On Campus

As bursar of the college during this period, Mr. Woodmore recalls some of the interesting experiences that occurred here on our campus. In the midst of the depression, a teacher who was attending the college came into the bursar's office to cash a $5.00 check. Mr. Woodmore kindly cashed the check for the student. A few days later, however, the check was returned with "BANK CLOSED" stamped on it. The young woman was notified of the returned check and promptly returned to the bursar's office. The woman's explanation was, "You know, that's the third bank that's closed on me." Such excuse as this was not uncommon in the college bursar's office during this time. With banks closing everyday, businesses going broke, and people going bankrupt, times were truly rough. The people must be admired, however, for carrying on through these difficult times. As Mr. Woodmore stated, "The spirit of the students was remarkable. It was a difficult time, but you didn't hear much complaining on the part of the students or faculty".

If such a depression hit us tomorrow, would you be able to face it with such spirit as did the students of the 1930's?

Miss Hall, State ACE President, Appears On National Program

Miss Mary Hall, State President of the Association for Childhood Education, International, will attend the annual convention of the organization in Atlantic City, April 6-11. Miss Hall, associate professor of education at Middle Tennessee State College, will head a delegation of 35 or 40 Tennessee members of the ACE who will go from Memphis, Nashville and East Tennessee by chartered bus.

The party will go to New York City where they will watch the famous Easter Parade along Fifth Avenue on Sunday morning before going to Atlantic City where they will stay at the Ritz Carleton Hotel, ACE convention headquarters.

Delegates are expected from all the 48 states and 23 foreign countries where there are members of the ACE.

Miss Hall will be a member of the study group leaders. Her particular topic will be "The Study of Child Development".

Dr. Francis Riel Recognized For Scouting Contributions

Dr. Francis J. Riel, head of the Middle Tennessee State College health and physical education department has received a special citation and the Long Rifle Award from the Boy Scouts of America in recognition to his contributions to Boy Scout work in this area where he has served as a member of the Leadership Training Committee since 1951.

The citation points out that "This Scouter is responsible for the merit badge activity program" as a result of which the "Heart of Tennessee District" has been tops in advancement for two of the past three years.

Dr. Riel has also been cited for his great help in the camping program of the district and to the organization and conducting of training courses at Murfreesboro and Woodbury.

In receiving the highest honor in scouting the citation reads, "Dr. Riel has given unselfishly of his time and many talents in recruiting and training volunteer and professional scouters."

Fort Campbell To Host ROTC

Senior cadets from the Reserve Officers' Training Corps units of six colleges and universities will visit Fort Campbell during March, April and May in the post's annual series of ROTC orientation programs.

Hosting the six groups in this series of demonstrations and tours will be major units of the resident 101st Airborne Division.

Middle Tennessee State College will visit there May 9.

The tours, designed as a preview to Army life and activities, include the division's Airborne School, the 521st Quartermaster Parachute Supply Company, Campbell Air Force Base, Yamoto Drop Zone, and Division Artillery.

The programs will begin with a welcome by one of the division's general officers at the main post theater and a briefing on the ROTAD concept (the Reorganization of the Airborne Division), as pioneered by the 101st, and a retreat ceremony will close the tours.

In the event of inclement weather the division's 326th Engineer Battalion and the 501st Signal Battalion are alerted for briefings and equipment displays.

Major Joseph W. Dale, Jr., assistant executive officer of Division Artillery, has been named installation escort officer for the series.

Lt. Mitchell Thompson On Army Manuevers

Second Lt. Mitchell G. Thompson, whose wife, Ann, lives at 310 N. Wilmore st., Gallatin, Tenn., recently participated in a field training exercise with the 8th Infantry Division in Germany.

Lieutenant Thompson, a member of Mortar Battery of the division's 13th Infantry, entered the Army in June 1957, and arrived overseas in January 1958.

Sticklers!

WHAT IS THE BEST PRESENT YOU CAN GIVE A FRIEND WHO'S GOING TO EUROPE?
(SEE PARAGRAPH AT RIGHT)

BON VOYAGE presents? You might give a substantial checking account in the Left Bank of Paris. A deck of cards for playing London Bridge. Or walking shoes in which to Rome Italy. Better yet, give Luckies—and make your present a Partin' Carton! A Lucky, after all, is the best-tasting cigarette anywhere. In Paris you hear, "Un Luckee? C'est merveilleux!" (That's French!) Roughly translated, it means: it's all fine, light, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. (That's advertising!) Just light up a Lucky and see for yourself! (Now, that's smart!)

Stuck for dough? START STICKLING! MAKE $25

We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we print—and for hundreds more that never get used! So start Stickling—they're so easy you can think of dozens in seconds! Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send 'em all with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

out shelves are to be used when one is searching for a book and wants to scan it for awhile. All of these additions are a part of the new efficiency pattern Miss Clark has in store. She cites, "The larger and quieter reading rooms are places where students appear to enjoy studying and concentrating more efficiently. The students especially like the individual study tables in the main reading room. The increased size of the overall library makes it possible for the staff to give more effective and efficient service."

Two Charging Desks

In the new set-up, there are two charging desks. The main circulation desk, which is located in the lobby, is for reference, reserve books, and class work materials. At the desk upstairs, periodicals and fiction are checked out. The Andrew L. Todd library subscribes to some 400 periodicals.

The card catalogues are three times as large as the ones in the old building. Into these catalogues, there have been many new books added. Some of these books are displayed on the display rack in the lobby, under the caption, "Books of the Month Display"; here are shown the newest books out on a constantly changing theme. The librarians enjoy watching the admiring glances of students as they view the display case in the lobby. This case houses historical data and material of interest to any and all who may pass. The lobby with its informal furniture makes it possible for students and visitors to enjoy browsing among new books on display and the magazines on the tables, according to Miss Clark.

On the north of the ground floor, the Regional Library will be located. It has not been moved yet, but hopes to move very soon. The Regional Library is under the direction of Miss Syd Shinn and serves the surrounding public area with adult educational as well as recreational materials. It supplements the county libraries and operates the bookmobile unit in the surrounding area.

In the offices of the well-lighted construction, constant work is being done to keep all running smoothly. Two secretaries are needed all the time to keep up with the fast working members of the staff. They are Mrs. Raymon Nellesen and Mrs. Raymon DeShazo. The library also gives some students a chance to help themselves through school. It employs some 16 student assistants. Miss Clark feels that these workers who assist with the library work, probably have as much contact with the students and faculty as the regular trained librarians. The assistants are always willing and happy to help students in using the catalog, locating books, and finding desired

MAJOR IN LEADERSHIP
with the Advanced ARMY R.O.T.C. course

If you are a sophomore Army R.O.T.C. student, there are three important reasons why you should accept the challenge of applying for the Advanced R.O.T.C. course. As an advanced R.O.T.C. student, you will:

1. Learn to Lead

With R.O.T.C. you can actually take a course in Leadership—a course that will prepare you to think on your feet for an executive position, whether in military or civilian life. In addition, you will get practical experience in command responsibilities.

2. Attain Officer's Rank

As an R.O.T.C. graduate, you will fulfill your military obligation as an Army officer. You will not only enjoy the rank, pay and privileges of an Army officer, but will also have the satisfaction of serving your country in an important capacity.

3. Receive Extra Income

With the Advanced R.O.T.C. course, you will qualify for a subsistence allowance which comes to around $535 for the two-year course. You will also be paid $117 for your six-week summer camp training and receive a travel allowance of five cents per mile to and from the camp.

Promising Artist

Rubens had this to say of his student. "He has a good deal of draftsmanship and an excellent sense of color. I feel he will be a promising young artist. He's done a number of paintings of the Hermitage you know."

For two successive years, Bobby won first locally and statewide in a conservation contest, in which he painted outdoor life. He prefers landscapes and still life.

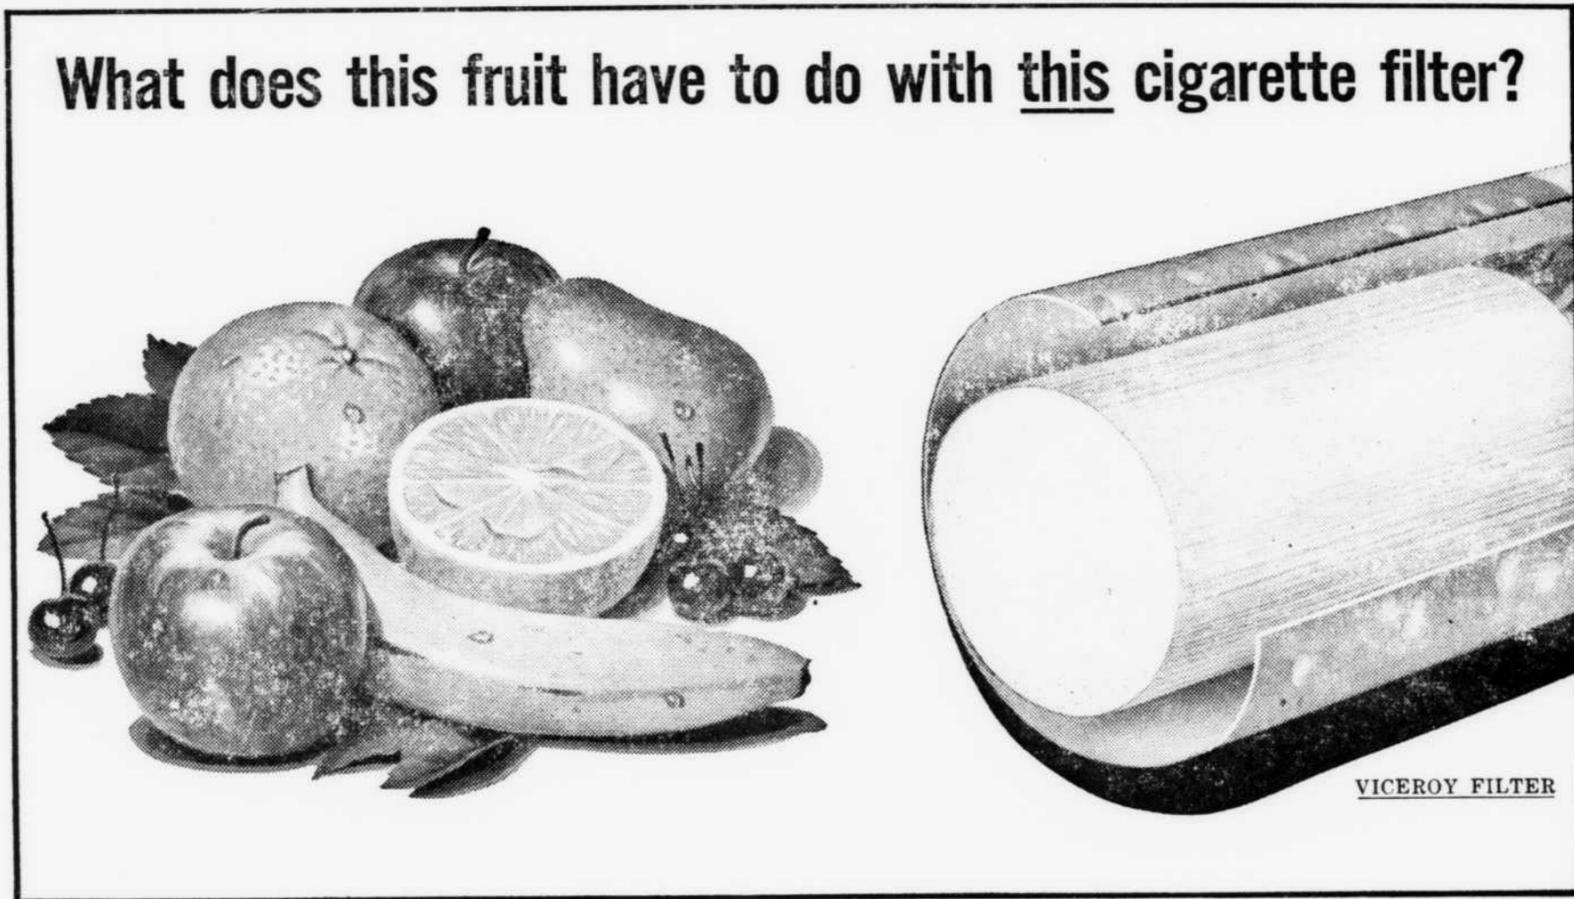

Summers aren't whiled away — once while spending the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs.

J. W. Byrnes in Camden, he was engaged busily in free lance work —sketching homes there.

Another Hollingsworth interest is taxidermy. He's undergone correspondence work with the Omaha

School of Taxidermy.

Young Hollingsworth says he'll probably be a commercial artist, an illustrator perhaps. "I like fine arts—but after all, I must eat," he laughed.
