FREEDOM CRUSADE SCROLL TO BE SENT TO M.T.S.C.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower launched a "Crusade for Freedom" in a radio address on Labor Day. In launching this Crusade for Freedom, General Eisenhower described it as "a campaign sponsored by private American Citizens to fight the big lie with the big truth."

Russia now has in operation the strongest and most effective propaganda machine the United States has ever had to cope with. What men believe to be true has been as important as the truth itself in determining human events. If we are ever to achieve a secure and lasting peace, other peoples of the world must know the truth. We must put across to them our ideals of freedom and friendship for all men and all nations.

A crusade for Freedom scroll will soon be here on the campus for the students of MTSC to sign. These scrolls, which are being signed the nation over, will be flown to Berlin, where on United Nations Day, October 24, they will be enshrined in the base of the Freedom Bell. This is a part of the ceremony dedicating the bell which will ring from the Rathaus Tower in the Western Sector of Berlin. It will continue to ring daily from then on as a symbol of freedom, giving hope to those behind the Iron Curtain for eventual return of their freedom.

One hundred percent enrollment will be proof to the Communists that the students of MTSC believe in and appreciate the free and democratic way of life, as opposed to communism and totalitarianism. To our Allies and potential Allies we can radio in the truth about what is going on in field of international affairs and what position we take on all issues. This is your chance to speak up for democracy. Make a small contribution at the time you sign the scroll; the sacrifice of a coke, milk-shake, or package of cigarettes will be well worthwhile.

OWEN BRADLEY OFFERS MUSIC FOR RECEPTION

By EMILY PEPPER

Campus Capers have started off with a full swing of well rounded festivities. Every night or so there is something gay happening over in the gym.

First of all there was the Freshman "Get Acquainted" party which took place on the 19th of September. The following night was a party for all. Huge crowds swarmed the gym. Square dancing and social dancing was enjoyed by everyone, plus delicious punch.

The following Tuesday, the Physical Education club sponsored "Fun Night," and again college guys and gals adorned in the latest collegiate fashions, crowded the gym with square dancing, social dancing, and idle chatter. Never saw so many people in my life. Noticed a few couples here and there: Joyce Henson and Alton Treadway, Tom "Sparkie" Sparkman and Martha Jean Phillips, Billy Noel and Betty Jean Williamson, De Nelle Agee and Don Stotser, Lenore Baber and Dwight Ogle, Emily Messick and Johnny Askew, Betty Seagraves and James McKee, Annete Sapalin and John Rutledge, and many many others.

Course there were so many people running around you couldn't tell who they were with or if they were with anyone. Noticed Ann Lannom, Margie Spichard, Norma Littleton, Stumpy Buchannan, Jim Hite, Bobby Smotherman, Bill Derrick, Ax Smith, "Pro" Provost, Jim Burcham, "Red Hensley, Betty Hensley, Mary Jean Hay, Jane Holland, Mattie Sue Luton, "Smoe" Henson, Jim Rogers, Sally Ezelle, Jimmy Joe Jackson, Dave Burnette, Pat Jernigan, Millie Gray, Jennie Barrett, Stanley Sissom, Jean Mingus, Bobby Huddleston, Nell Banks, "T" Whitesell, Jennie Rose, and numerous others.

The Physical Education Club will continue to have "Fun Nite" each Tuesday as long as people come—so folks, continue to be on hand because "Fun Nite" is yours.

Skirts and sweaters were discarded, silk dresses, high-heeled shoes, white shirts and ties made up the dress of MTSC'ers last Friday evening at the reception held in the New Memorial Gym. Students and faculty came face to face, and classrooms were forgotten completely. Best manners were used as the students passed through the receiving line and listened graciously to Owen Bradley's orchestra. Following the reception, a dance was enjoyed by all. Everyone—both faculty and students, had such an enjoyable time! We vote for more of these, or the like.

The following evening, immediately after the game, another dance was held. This time, not quite so formal, but just as much fun. It seems people just love these dances on our campus.

Well, this about puts us up to date on the latest Campus Capers 'round our premises. Remember, folks, keep showing up at all the parties, and soon more will be on the calendar.

UN forces continue to rout North Korean Communists who are in mass confusion as a result of the Allies fight at Seoul and their Pinchers exerted against them. The big question centers now around the possibility of crossing the 38th parallel. How far must UN forces advance? Still Berlin and the Chinese Communies pose as hot spots with a threat to world peace.

The Rearmings appropriation bill calling for $17,099,902,285 to speed America and its friends in defense has been signed by President Truman. To get a running start on the job of making the free world too rough for Russia to tackle is the aim of the measure. $4,000,000,000 of this goes for foreign arms aid while $11,000,000,000 will aid U. S. forces.

Revision of the present draft law is urged by Vinson, a representative from Georgia. The basis for this correction is the "inequalities" that result from the call up of National Guardsmen and reserve forces while some unmarried men and those without previous service stay home.

This nation's industrial machine is pouring out goods and materials at a rate not far from that achieved at the height of the second world war. Even so, the excess of demand over supply has produced additional sharp rises in prices.

In addition to the rush of minor injuries that came from the football fracas with Vandy there were physical examinations for 108 members of the ROTC unit and 644 chest x-rays run through the medical mill this week.

MEET MTSC MASTERS

By PAT PATMORE

Our Master for this week is one of the most popular on the campus: Mr. Eugene Wiggins of the English Department.

Mr. Wiggins was born in Bryson City, North Carolina, but moved to Tennessee when he was six. He finally settled down in Birchwood, Tennessee near Chattanooga. He received his B.A. degree from the University of Chattanooga which he attended from 1938 to 1942. After graduation in 1942, he became a member of one of the most famed organizations in the world, the United States Marine Corps.

Upon his discharge from the Marines in 1946, Mr. Wiggins began work on his Master of Arts degree at Vanderbilt, and once he was the possessor of his M.A., he began teaching at MTSC in 1947, where he has remained every since.

At present, besides teaching English on this campus, he is working on his Ph.D. at Vanderbilt, and has taken some graduate courses at the University of North Carolina. He is the sponsor of the Wiggins Writers Club which he helped to found last winter. As a writer himself, Mr. Wiggins has written a play, "They Shall Take Up Serpents," which was produced in 1947, by The Carolina Playmakers and by the Vanderbilt University Theatre.

Our Master, who was married last June, says quote, he commends married life very highly, unquote. He is a member of the Rotary Club and of the Baptist Church.

As for his profession itself, Mr. Wiggins says he likes teaching for the sake of teaching, and because of the eternal hope that he will teach someone, someday, something they didn't feel they already knew.

Our lady Master for the week is Mrs. Mary Knapp, dietitian of the MTSC cafeteria. Mrs. Knapp is a native daughter of Tennessee, having been born in College Grove, Tennessee, and, moreover, she is an alumna of MTSC, where she was known as Mary Graham.

After receiving her B.S. degree from here in 1942, our Master taught school in Montgomery County, from 1942 to 1943.

Then, in 1943, she also joined the Marine Corps, where she was a mess officer, in which she attained the rank of captain. She met her husband, Edward Knapp, while he was on maneuvers in Tennessee in 1943 and was married to him in February, 1946, in Las Vegas, Nevada. Mrs. Knapp laughingly adds that instead of her husband, who had already received his discharge from the army, leaving her to return to service, she left him, as she did not receive her discharge until three months after they were married.

After her discharge from the Marine Corps, Mrs. Knapp taught in the Las Vegas High School from 1946 until 1947, as her husband was at that time a detective on the Las Vegas police force, and then returned to Tennessee, to teach for a year in the grade school at Christiansburg.

In 1948, our Master entered George Peabody College in Nashville, to receive her Master's degree in Foods and Nutrition. After receiving her M. A., she returned to her Alma Mater in the summer of '49, to take up her present position.

As cafeteria manager, Mrs. Knapp is also on the staff of the Home Economics department here. Her residence is now in Murfreesboro, and she and her husband are members of St. Mark's Methodist Church.

Mrs. Knapp says of her job that "it is a very hard job, but I receive a great deal of satisfaction out of it."

DEAD BEAT

As with the generation preceding it, the last generation is today the idiot son riding in the back seat. We are the new world; and we are for the second time at war. And as students in a country at war, our objectives turn, or at least disappear before a new set. The omnipotent subconscious (the "mistakeproof" object of man's study of man), often bowed to, book in hand, gives way to the all-powerful lipstick—and the nightingale will sing again as man leaves his field to lie beneath it.

The time now is to cut up our plans and make them not plans; to make subtle jokes like Hamlet at Gratin; and to throw back our heads and make a big frown. The Joker is that we don't mind hearing the word "war" mentioned—we're used to it. This is the part without punctuation, the part when the heaviest breather lives best:

And we ought to go to bed and think about it and change all this and keep that old business about numbers coming up and all this assembly line fatalism in the cellar and keep bowing with that new GI book and maybe we can find a note in it that says wars are natural and life ought to keep up the good work until it stops that is the kind of life that keeps a nice crucifix in the bedroom.

There's an "oh how I'd love to go to the ball game" female cadaver very much stilled on a slab of Ionian white marble in Chicago that should be quite proud of itself. It got away from the sewing circle to the ball game and then got away from that into the "down to brass tacks." This sort of thing can make a "Night Beat" into a "Dead Beat" and cause one to jot on a note card (5x8) some reminder to think of what he's going to do until the time comes for him to make an heroic death bed performance.

More than likely he's going to break a few ribs before taking the $7.50 tour with Dante, but what is he going to do about mom's apple pie—which is worth something if it's only to mom. No sir. (If he could get away with saying, "I took my chances and got caught and I'm sorry and what are you going to do about it?") when come upon drinking in the kitchen out of one of the good glasses, he would have been doing it long ago.) Chances are he'd fall off at the corner could pull a stunt like that and get laughed at about it, but not him, he's too Christian.

There's a fellow named Enos who sits around the park and smokes off brand cigarettes and talks about going places. They say he used to write novels and everything and that he played end once for the L. A. Rams. He has a blue discharge but he's handsome as all get out and he's been married eight times, so he knows all about women. Sometimes on his way home he feeds this old white horse that's fenced in on Elm Street and keeps throwing its tail around while it's chewing to keep flies off. He's what you might call a character and his only acquaintance is a Mr. Death from anywhere who recommends him highly (with oak leaf clusters).

Between Belles

Both Lyon and Rutledge take this time to welcome all Freshman and transfer students. Glad to see all you people back who were here last year also.

"Congrats" go to the Rutledge ladies who received more than their share of honors this past week! First of all, there are our cheerleaders, re-elected Jean Mason and Pat Angles, Freshman Joyce Ellis and De Nelle Agee. Elva Monger and Emily Pepper were selected as flag twirlers, along with Betty Seagraves and Elizabeth Tittsworth, baton twirlers. All four girls are majorettes in the college band.

Glad to have Libby Rogers back with us after several days of indecision. Bet Charley is too!

Jeanie Rose, who is the secret admirer who sends red roses? (But they aren't for a blue lady, are they?) Thursday night the Freshman entertained Rutledge upperclassmen with a short skit, "There Ain't No Train Coming," starring Ma and Pa Kettle and their fifteen "Little Teapots." Royce Myers and Lenora Baber portrayed Ma and Pa respectively. Afterwards there was a fashion show which was announced by Stotser, who was gracefully draped in a white sheet, tied with a very colorful scarf. Joyce McCarkle, "Mona Liza," was attired in a Rivera blouse with blue jeans. The "Flipper Era of the '20's" was retrieved by Lucy Hale. Versatile De Nelle Agee, looking quite Oriental, furnished soft, sweet music for the show.

Betty Gail, can you tell us more about Bill? For instance, just who is he? Happy has a job, and Frank is so—lonesome—he resembles a lost puppy during working hours. Maybe he could wash windows to pass the time away, rekon???

After being home over the weekend Peggy Dorris and Marlene Drake haven't come down out of the clouds yet.

Patsy Jernigan, why do your knees play "Yankee Doodle" everytime a certain boy stops to chat?

Wanted: Private secretary to take third floor phone calls. Apply room 207, Rutledge Hall. Barbara Woods is at the desk.

Millie and Jennie, just what is the big attraction at the Roost? It seems it may be more than the food. By the way, how about Gay Jennings and Betty Bledsoe?

Flash! All you handsome Jones Hall lads continue to adorn our front steps.—We love it!

Here's a combination we would like to be seeing more of—and from the looks of things, probably will be.—Kay Lee and Jack Lee.

Jim Lyon made the glow in Cella Blevins eyes brighter. All he did was return from Alaska.

For the personality of the week, we would like to nominate Dimple Moncrief—a freshman with a pleasing personality.

The girls who have noticed the loss of several men on the campus have been grieving—but we are at least thankful for the ones we have. Frances Ezell, Laura Barnes, and Peggy Marlin were among the freshman who were all decked out in clothes at the Vanderbilt foot ball game.

Notice the bright-eyes look the girls from Lyon are wearing? The cause? 11: lights!!

Martha Jean Phillips and Tom "Cruser" Sparkman make a fine

Eds & Co-eds

Our Ed for the week is TY Cobb (not the baseball player, just the namesake) a junior from Lynchburg. Ty is a pre-law student, who is minoring in political science and speech. On completion of his junior year, our Ed intends to enroll in law school at Vanderbilt, and after completing one year there, will receive his B. S. degree from MTSC, at the same time continuing his law courses at Vanderbilt.

Ty is one of the most active students on the campus, as president of the Alumni Beta Club, president of the Church of Christ group and Secretary-treasurer of the Speech Arts Society. He also holds membership in the International Relation Club.

As a member of the Speech Arts Society last year, Ty participated in the Smoky Mountain tournament and the State tournament, having wins over debaters from Vanderbilt, TPI, Austin Peay, and other colleges of this area.

While in high school in Lynchburg, Ty was voted the "Most Likely to Succeed," served as president of the Future Farmers of America and held membership in the Beta club, the national scholastic society. He was awarded the Civitan medal in the essay contest sponsored each year by the Nashville Tennessean for seniors in high school, and was given a citizenship medal by the faculty of his high school.

Besides his other activities on the campus, Ty also holds down a job in the lunchroom. A resident of Jones Hall, Ty's favorite hobbies are basketball, swimming, fishing, ping-pong, in a word, sports, sports!

Good luck to you, Ty Cobb, Ed of the week!

The girls in Lyon Hall have designated the voice above the shower, singing, "I'm a plain ole country gal", as belonging to a fascinating blonde, Betty Hoover, Co-ed for the week. You've missed the thrill of a lifetime if you haven't met Mr. Fred Hoover's daughter, Betty, and to those who are acquainted with her—my deepest sympathy.

An orchid to this senior, majoring in physical education, who started out in chemistry, but soon did a quick switchabout.

Betty, with that easily remembered five feet, five inches frame, is quickly recognized by pierced ears, containing little diamond earrings which she pains everytime she eats and forgets to bring her billfold. Viola, a huge metropolis, claims credit for this work of nature and its achievements. She attended McMinnville Central High School and made quite a record for herself. After graduation, she spent two years at Ward-Belmont and then entered Vanderbilt, but it was so far from Viola, she had to move closer home. Thus we find her at MTSC.

To say Betty is studious is one thing and to mean it is something else. While at Ward-Belmont, she won the Out-standing Student of the Year. Her qualifications were: citizenship, leadership, and scholarship. If you want something done, Betty will do it or see that it gets done.

Betty's an ardent admirer of her younger brother. Reason: He looks like her.

Her hobby is sports, sports, any-more sports. She's a bridge fiend. Her favorite eating place is the "Roost," reminds her of the chickens, who eat with them at home! Seriously, Betty Hoover is a fine all round gal in every way. Good luck, Betty, keep up the good work. For additional information, see Mary Bandy, her roommate.

10 Years Ago

Ten years ago the campus was buzzing with the excitement of improvement. The dormitories, the cafeteria were being repaired. In the fall of 1950 we find ourselves with the same atmosphere. Heading the Raider football squad for 1940 were captains Elbert Paddy and Tommy Hudson. E. W. Mitgett was head coach.

That year the history of our Alma Mater was printed in the September 26, issue of the SIDELINES. The State Teachers College at Murfreesboro was created by the General Education Law of 1909. This was the origin of the institution. Unlike many normal schools, it had no institutional ancestors, no campus already developed to move onto. Murfreesboro was a town of 8,000 inhabitants. One of the notable battles of the Civil War was fought at Murfreesboro and much that is reminiscent of the struggle is still preserved. The Normal School opened September 11, 1911 with a faculty of 15 and 125 students enrolled. Before the year had ended the enrollment had increased to 347.

Argyle socks and plaid jackets were quite the thing as they still are, and nylon belts and loafers were heading the roster of campus wear.

In that year they thought the impossible was done when Frank T. Wright made an electric light bulb burn by using only one wire.

couple—these Freshman don't lose any time.

Ann Tighe, Jane McCrary and Sally Ezell made a day of the State Fair. For information concerning side shows and fortune tellers contact one of the girls.

Heard that Betty Kittrell is considering going to Alaska. "Rabbit", if you read this, come back home and save Betty that long trip...

In closing, would like to add that we Freshman are still living—in spite of the "Death March" and rat race last Saturday.

Be seeing you—Between Belles.

Gangster movies were very popular and Alice Faye, Don Ameche and Don Barry were much in demand. There were no Sunday movies and tickets at the Roxy were ten and fifteen cents.

Congratulations To Neil Wright and Company

We want to congratulate Mr. Neil Wright, leader of the Mid-State band, and the band members for the excellent showing and the good music they gave us at the Vandy-Raider game.

The band looked the snappiest we have ever seen it as it marched out on the field led by the drum major, Robert Cole; four flag twirlers and two baton twirlers. Its formation and ability to keep step at this game made it look very dashing.

The flag twirlers, Roberta McAdams, Elva Monger, Emily Pepper and Mary Bandy twirled banners of blue and white on their batons in a colorful new routine with the baton twirlers, Elizabeth Tittsworth and Betty Seagraves, that must have required a lot of practice and was the sort of thing that all the students like to see.

Mr. Wright deserves congratulations not only for putting a fine band on the field, but for doing it with so many obstacles—to overcome.

This organization lost approximately 35 members during the Fall quarter. (It is staggering the things that the marriage ceremony and the military service have done to this college). Many marching bands consist of less members than the band gave up.

Every one of the old majorettes were married. Mrs. Neil Wright, who supervised the baton twirlers and the flag twirlers, had to begin with new members all together.

With the loss of so many members, from this band was due to two reasons. First the band was lucky enough to receive 40 new freshmen members. Lucky probably is not the correct word here. Many of the freshmen had heard of our superb music department—one of our best departments—and came to Mid-State because of it. The second reason was the hard work Mr. Wright and the band put in before the game. Their practice sessions were doubled in order to acquire the needed drill in the short time between the start of school and game time.

Orchids to Mr. Wright and the band. We were proud of you at the Vandy-Raider; we hope you'll play more numbers at the games.

Injury Riddled Raiders Meet Union Eleven Friday Night

Middle Tennessee State College is in the worse physical condition of the season as they prepare to meet Union University in Jackson Friday night.

Injuries, which have jinxed the MTSC Raiders since the first practice session, took a serious toll in the victory over Milligan College last Saturday night.

"We are without an offensive right tackle", Coach Charles Murphy said. "Tie injured his shoulder in the game Saturday and Hitt had a leg injury which really didn't develop until yesterday." This situation means that Frank Ford, who has been playing defensive tackle will have to take over on offensive and defensive both. The only relief Ford will have will be halfback Jimmy Joe Jackson, a 160 pounder who knows the tackle signals.

Andrew Hardaway, senior guard, who was injured on the first play of the Vanderbilt game has developed an aggravated condition in the leg that has confined him to the college infirmary where he has penicillin treatments. He will be out on crutches Wednesday, but will not make the trip to Union.

Bobby Pittard ran the ball one time for 30 yards last Saturday night and went out of the game with a recurrence of the injury sustained in the Vanderbilt game.

Jim Loftin, a guard, has a severe cold. Maxie Runion, who is still having trouble with his shoulder was used on only six running plays against Milligan—but he collected 156 yards on those tries, counting a 102 yard run-back of a punt for a touchdown.

But all was not gloom in the Raider camp. For the fourth time this year outstanding football players have turned up in the student body and asked for a tryout. The latest is Tommy Patton, an all-city end in Nashville in 1948. Patton reported for practice this week. Last week it was Joe Sullivan, former Father Ryan star. The week before Ken Duke and Bob Phifer from McMinnville were welcome arrivals.

Duke was supposed to dress for the Milligan game last week. However a search of the equipment room failed to disclose a pair of pants small enough for the 150 pound Warren County dynamo. A rush order is in for a pair of pants to match those worn by Billy Fandrick and Bob Searcy, the other two mid-gents on the team.

Raider coaches watched movies of the Milligan game yesterday and came up with praise for Claud Thomas, freshman tackle from Manchester and Ernest Adams, sophomore fullback from Murfreesboro who scored two Raider touchdowns.

"For the first time this year Adams looked as good as he did last year", Murphy said. The game Saturday was the first of the season for Adams as he was injured in the Sewanee scrimmage early in September, and seemed to have lost his tremendous drive since that time.

Raider coaches believe Union to be stronger this year than last when the Blue won a 31, 13 decision over the Bulldogs on Jones field. There are nine sophomores in the Union lineup who played against the Raiders last year. Union lost by two touchdowns to Austin Peay two weeks ago and was swamped by Memphis State in the opening game of the season.

RAIDER LINE SMEARS MILLIGAN FOR LOSS

The above photo is a graphic illustration of why the Middle Tennessee State College Blue Raiders were able to down Milligan 48 to 6 Saturday night. Sherman Gouge, Milligan halfback, is shown pinned between two Raiders while two more rush in to aid in the tackle. Raiders identifiable are Jim Loftin (51), in the center foreground, Jim McCoy (49), and Charlie Lyons (69).

Raiders Wreck Milligan Buffaloes By 48-6 Count

The Blue Raiders chalked up their second victory of the still young season Saturday night by soundly trouncing Milligan College 48-6 on Jones Field.

Starting off slow, the teams battled on even terms for most of the first half. The only score in that time came in the first quarter when Maxie Runion took a pitchout from Jim Babb and scooted 30 yards. Bill Fandrick's kick for the extra point was good.

The Raiders threatened again in the fading seconds of the first half when three passes carried them from mid-field to the one yard line, but time ran out before they could score.

On the fifth play of the second half, the Raiders carried for a spectacular play which carried a 48 yards and probably broke the back of the Buffaloes. On their own 41, Max Arnold, taking a handoff from Babb, was hit on the 50, but lateraled to the 30 and lateraled to Searcy, and Searcy got to the 11 before finally being pushed out of bounds.

After that it was all Raiders. Three plays later, Babb sneaked over from the two for the second Raider score.

Minutes later the Buffaloes got off a beautiful punt that went from mid-field into the Raider end zone, but Runion gathered it in and ran right over the entire Milligan team for 100 yards and the third MTSC tally. Howard Alsop paced Runion all the way with timely shoulder blocking.

On the second play after the following kick-off, Gerald Johnson recovered a Milligan fumble on the 20, and six plays later, Ernest Adams went over from the two. Fandrick missed the try for point, the only one he failed to make. He kicked 6 out of 7 during the game.

Twenty-one points were added during the fourth quarter and a fourth TD was called back. Adams rambled for ten yards, Billy Derrick took a handoff for two, and Smith passed to Hubert McCullough for three, for the three Raider touchdowns in the final period.

Vandy 47-MTSC 0 Was Not True Picture of Game, Statistics Show

Vanderbilt opened its football season Saturday with a 47-0 win over Middle Tennessee State College. The Commodores scored freely throughout the tilt, but even so they didn't look impressive to Murfreesboro eyes.

Vandy Coach Bill Edwards used his first string offensive team for more than three quarters of the game.

Vandy had MTSC outclassed but everything considered the Raiders showed up well in everything except passing and pass defense. The Raiders completed three out of nine for 23 yards and had two intercepted.

THE YARDSTICK

	Vandy	MTSC
First downs	16	8
Yards rushing	305	165
Yards passing	154	23
Passes attempted	9	9
Passes completed	6	3
Passes intercepted	0	2
Fumbles lost	1	2
Yards Penalized	45	10

The opening kickoff by MTSC went into the end zone. Vandy took over on the 20 and eleven plays later Mac Robinson went across for Vandy's first TD. Vandy scored six touchdowns, six extras, a safety, and a field goal during the tilt. Quarterback Bill Wade threw two TD passes and set two more up with passes. McCarter converted six extra for a perfect day as well as kicking a 25-yard field goal.

MTSC made its biggest threat for a score in the second quarter. Max Arnold punted on his 43-yard line to Vandy's 12 when the receiver for Vandy was smothered. Foster made an eight-yard gain for Vandy and fumbled. Bob Brown recovered for the Raiders. Maxie Runion picked up eight yards in two tries and then lost four on a lateral. Runion carried the ball to the five on the next play which was a pitchout from Babb, good enough for a first down. The next play Babb fumbled and Philpot recovered for Vandy on the three-yard line.

After Vandy took over on the three MTSC came close to scoring a safety. Vandy's Bill Wade was trapped in the end zone but managed to wiggle free of three Blue Raiders and got back on the playing field before he was hauled.

Bob Searcy dangled a Vandy punt back for 38 yards. Searcy returned the ball down the sideline for the Raiders to the 43 before he was stopped. He came close to dashing for a TD on the return for only one Vandy player stood in his way at the 40.

W.A.A. Invites Participation In Intramural Sports

The Women's Athletic Association has announced that membership in the organization is open to all girls at Middle Tennessee State. In making the announcement, Jane Holland, president of the W. A. A., said, "We have a busy year mapped out and we would like to have all girls interested in intramural sports with us."

Miss Holland added that the club would especially welcome all freshmen who might be interested.

The W. A. A. has various activities and entertainments planned for the year. The first entertainment on the list is a social which is planned for the near future. A hike is also planned and it will be followed by a year full of fun and entertainment, according to Miss Holland.

The club will sponsor teams from all fields of study as they have previously done. They will have a Science team, Social Science team, Physical Education team, and a Business team. They also hope to include English and Music teams this year, also.

Any girl majoring in these subjects may join up with majors in the same field and compete with girls major in other subjects.

The club plans to hold tournaments with these teams this year, also. Miss Holland states that they hope to get team uniforms for these events.

The club will sponsor such sports as touch football, ping pong, basketball, badminton, and possibly bowling in the up-town leagues this year. It was pointed out that a girl participating in these various intramural sports may earn a sweater, a letter, and other awards. This is the only way a girl at MTSC can earn a letter, other than being a cheerleader.

The officers for the W. A. A. for the coming year, in addition to Miss Holland, are: Nell Banks, vice-president; Ann Ledford, secretary; Carolyn Kimbrey, treasurer; and Mille Grey, Intramural Director. Miss Elizabeth Broach, who replaces Coach Francis Reil, is in charge of the program this year.

er camp. For the fourth time this year outstanding football players have turned up in the student body and asked for a tryout. The latest is Tommy Patton, an all-city end in Nashville in 1948. Patton reported for practice this week. Last week it was Joe Sullivan, former Father Ryan star. The week before Ken Duke and Bob Phifer from McMinnville were welcome arrivals.

Duke was supposed to dress for the Milligan game last week. However a search of the equipment room failed to disclose a pair of pants small enough for the 150 pound Warren County dynamo. A rush order is in for a pair of pants to match those worn by Billy Fandrick and Bob Searcy, the other two mid-gents on the team.

Raider coaches watched movies of the Milligan game yesterday and came up with praise for Claud Thomas, freshman tackle from Manchester and Ernest Adams, sophomore fullback from Murfreesboro who scored two Raider touchdowns.

"For the first time this year Adams looked as good as he did last year", Murphy said. The game Saturday was the first of the season for Adams as he was injured in the Sewanee scrimmage early in September, and seemed to have lost his tremendous drive since that time.

Raider coaches believe Union to be stronger this year than last when the Blue won a 31, 13 decision over the Bulldogs on Jones field. There are nine sophomores in the Union lineup who played against the Raiders last year. Union lost by two touchdowns to Austin Peay two weeks ago and was swamped by Memphis State in the opening game of the season.

Raider Bees Lose Opener to Strong CMA Eleven 12-6

The Raider 'B' team made their 1950 debut in Columbia September 23, but a lack of coordination plus a strong Columbia Military Academy eleven, proved too much as the Bees dropped their opener 12-6.

Composed mostly of freshmen (a few sophomores went along to help out), the team showed brilliance at times, but a lack of experience of working together as a team was obvious. Fumbles and large losses stalled Raider scoring threats time after time.

On the second play from scrimmage, the Raiders lost the ball on a fumble and nine plays later the CMA team scored. Late in the third quarter, the Raiders fumbled on the Bulldog three yard line with first down, thus ending any scoring possibilities at that time.

Coaches Doug Watson and Joe Black Hayes expressed the belief that the poor showing was in a large part due to the fact that the Raiders were not too familiar with their plays.

C. D. Pinkleton, playing before a home-town crowd, turned in the best showing with a three-yard plunge for the only Raider score, a fifty-yard punt return, a forty-yard pass interception return, and a total of twenty yards picked up on two running plays (one for sixteen yards).

Top ground gainer was Billy Derrick, with 24 yards in seven tries. Don Stotser rolled off 21 yards in 10 attempts, and Tom Whitten 18 in 7 tries. The net yardage for the in the event of being drafted. It was pointed out that the matter would rest in the hands of the individual's draft board.

However, it was added, college students entered in ROTC courses would probably stand a better chance of deferment than students not taking the course.
This will be the second time in the college's history that uniformed cadets have been located on its campus. Air Force training cadets were stationed at MTSC during the past war.
The ROTC unit located at TPI is a signal outfit. Chattanooga offers training in artillery. The UT unit contains elements of infantry, transportation and air.
ROTC has 322 units distributed throughout the United States and Alaska, Honolulu, Puerto Rico and the Canal zone. It is considered advisable by ROTC officials in these days of wavering peace to not only prepare for a peacetime profession, but also to be able to serve in a high position in the Armed Forces in case of war.

MTSC Alumni Organizes Winchester Chapter
