LET UP ON THE ACCELERATOR! THE NEXT LIFE MAY BE YOUR FRIEND'S

Already 634 people have died this year from accidents. That is about half the number of people in this school. The speed limit sign has been put at the entrance of the drive as a reminder to you that you may carelessly hurt or kill someone when you swing around the curve at top speed. Many students have to walk into the drive in order to cross the street and many have had to run to get out of the way of a speeding motorist. Someday someone is not going to make it. If you've ever been in the habit of reading sports stories, you have undoubtedly seen the time when things look dark for the home team and one play might decide the outcome. Maybe it was something like this:

"It is fourth down and six yards to go. Two minutes and ten seconds remain in the ball game and it's 20-19, the home team is losing. This will certainly have to be the play of the game, because should the local eleven lose possession of the ball, they would never get it back. Out of the huddle, up to the line of scrimmage. You fill in the names. It was a play like this that enabled the Blue Raiders to hand powerful Memphis State their second defeat of the season, 26-20. Only the Southeastern Conference's Mississippi State had been able to do that in five games. Mississippi beat the Bengals 32-7.

And that Bobby Young was at it again. The senior fullback passed that all important 13 yards to set up the winning score, scored three times, kicked one extra point and passed for another, and made the Tiger line yield as he racked up 123 yards in 25 carries. Not bad for one night's work.

Let's see if we could pick an All-OVC team for that week:

ROUGH ROWS TO WORK

TPI's 4-0 record in the Ohio Valley Conference will remain unblemished until the Golden Eagles invade Jones Field. Should Middle Tennessee conquer Murray, that game will be bigger than ever.

Eastern Kentucky, which boasts the only mark against the fired among these teams with the Blue Raiders record, still has only one conference defeat, that of TPI, and may be the third team on top should the colleges. The teams will be required

Kenneth Trickey, flashy guard and the only Raider to rate the All-OVC squad last season, will be back to captain the team and handle a guard spot. Big 6'4" Tom Hogshead of Vienna, Ill. will be Trickey's running mate.

Gerald Johnson, the only senior on the team, will hold down a forward along with Sammy Smith, 6'3" junior from Springfield, Tennessee.

Hal Christiansen will be at the pivot.

But these are only pre-season picks and may be changes with the reserve strength on hand. Tommy Griffith, Doug Shrader, John Price are the best sophomore prospects to be had anywhere.

Among freshmen candidates are Don Byrd, Joe Burks, Dick Bratton, and Jim Henry. These talented newcomers add depth to the Raider squad, celebrating its second year in the Doris Jones will also be on hand to take over a guard slot. Jones was injured last year and was forced to remain out the entire season.

This is only a quick look at the team, just to show what to expect. More about them later.

MTSC Signs New ROTC Contract

President Q. M. Smith of Middle Tennessee State College is shown exchanging felicitations with Col. T. M.
