Beauties At MTSC Are In The Spotlight

Freshman Renee Ross Is Military Queen

By Roger Wilkerson

The Track and Sabre Club of the military science department has elected Renee Ross, a freshman art major from Murfreesboro, to reign as queen of the twelfth annual ROTC Ball. The Ball will be held April 6, with Ralph Marterie's orchestra furnishing music for dancing.

Miss Ross was elected from the seven cadet corps sponsors. Other sponsors include: Patsy Hows,

RENEE ROSS

Nashville; Beverly Ray, Nashville; Darlene Harbin, Nashville; Adelia Johnson, Chattanooga; Charlene Coker, Gallatin; and Lucille Mc-Glohn, Chattanooga.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ross, 1014 Hillcrest Ave., Miss Ross is an attractive blonde with blue eyes. When she stands tall she is every bit of 5 feet 1 inch. She is "B" Company sponsor, a cheerleader, member of the art club, Booster club, and Baptist Student Union.

Tickets are now on sale for the dance, the theme for which, "Golden Anniversary Ball," coincides with MTSC's golden anniversary celebration.

Land, Edwards Given Freshman Congress Jobs

Larry Land, Nashville, and Sarah Edwards, Manchester, were elected recently by the Freshman class to fill two vacant positions in the ASB Congress. The election was necessitated by the resignation of two former members.

Members of the class voted to have a dance at Cedars of Lebanon State Park, the committees were appointed by Houston Mason, president, to set a date and make further plans.

Applications for student teaching for the Fall and Spring semesters of the 1962-63 school year are due in the student teaching office, Room 117, Administration building by mid-semester, Friday, March 16. Application forms may be secured from the student teaching office and from the department of education office, Room A 118.

Four New Buildings Planned

Two new dormitory units and an additional cafeteria at Middle Tennessee State College will be open by Sept. 1, 1963, in the opinion of President Quill E. Cope. Announcement of a $620,000 loan by the Community Facilities Administration in Washington, D. C. was made by Congressman Joe Evins. He made the announcement of the loan grant Feb. 28.

Dr. Cope stated that architect John Charles Wheeler had the preliminary plans for the three new units drawn and that bids would likely be let about April 1. The $620,000 figure covers the maximum expenditures including architects' fees for the three units. They will be located at the rear of the Smith - Sims - Beasley Hall (Continued On Page 6)

Joan Simpson Named 1962 Miss Midlander

JOAN SIMPSON

Joan Simpson of Watertown was named Miss MIDLANDER at Middle Tennessee State College in a contest Thursday night. She represented the Health and Physical Education club at the college. Runnersup included Rose Dodd, Madison, representing Circle K; Anne Ellington, Nashville, representing the art club; Janice Wynne, Nashville, SNEA nominee, and Carolyn Hale, Chattanooga, Veteran's Club candidate.

Lyon Hall took top honors in the Biology Club stunt night. The stunt "Touch Me Not" featured a clever three-part skit in which Susie Upchurch, Carolyn Maxwell and Dorothy Meador provided the background for a "mad dream" in which Gail Clarke sang "Hard Hearted Hannah" and Jane Spencer and Lee Sand's appeared in a dance duet. Supporting chorus in the "dream scene" was composed of Betty Westmoreland, Beverley Montgomery, Judy Malone, Monita Campbell, Mary Kidd, Elaine Bass, Helen Turner, Winnie Pat Johnston, Jeannie Mann, Barbara Tidwell, Sandra Collier, Edna Ruth Gerth, Pat McIntire, Margaret Robertson and Virginia Sisk.

San Francisco Ballet Plans Varied Show

Jocelyn Vollmar and Roderick Drew are two of the leading dancers with the San Francisco Ballet, which will perform here March 15 at Memorial gymnasium. The program is being presented as part of MTSC's Golden Anniversary celebration.

Coming to MTSC, March 15, is the world acclaimed San Francisco Ballet. As one of America's most distinctive and exuberant classical ballet companies, this troupe has recently completed its third international tour under the sponsorship of the American National Theatre and Academy in conjunction with the State Department.

Their most recent trek as "ambassadors of good will" for the United States included triumphant performances in the Middle Eastern countries and Central and North Africa. One foreign newspaper is quoted to have said, "An evening with the San Francisco Ballet is an artistic experience which no one should miss; it is also a spectacle in the most dignified and satisfying sense of the word."

When asked about writing a ballet, Lew Christensen, director and choreographer of the ballet has a simple answer: "Let the music tell you." When they dance here the San Francisco Ballet will present Variations de Ballet which is an exciting, vibrant ballet based on character themes done in classic medium. Among others the final ballet of the program is the colorful, captivating Caprice. It is an abstract ballet—as bubbly as champagne, as playful as the charming coquette in its second scene. The final scenes of the ballet evolve from a beautiful waltz that bursts with color and joyful dancing.

The ballet will be held in the college gym Thursday, March 15, at 8:15 p.m.

$150 Scholarship Check Is Given

Dean N. C. Beasley has announced that the Associates Finance Corporation educational fund has presented Middle Tennessee State College with a check of $150 to provide a scholarship for a worthy male student interested in business administration or liberal arts.

The presentation of the check was made by Robert K. Waggoner, local manager of Associates Finance, as a part of their program to assist outstanding students interested in the field of business enrolled in area colleges.

Mr. Waggoner has suggested that this will be a continuing scholarship provided from funds set aside by the Associates Finance Corporation.

Lost--School Spirit

Elsewhere on this page is a letter to the editor apparently defending the right of MTSC students to "pack their bags and go home for the weekend." We too defend their right, but at the same time we question their wisdom in so doing with such regularity.

Students bemoan the lack of school spirit, but how could it be otherwise? Have you ever heard anyone say of any college anywhere, "They have tremendous school spirit at that suitcase college"? This mad rush to all available transportation every Friday at 2 seems to us a prime reason for the faltering school spirit.

Students complain that there is nothing to do in Murfreesboro on weekends, though various activities are almost always planned by the ASB and other campus organizations. Even if there weren't, we would venture to say that there is as much to do in Murfreesboro, and often more, than in Podunk Junction, and probably more people to do it with. Furthermore, Nashville is at most an hour's drive away, a near luxury few other state colleges can boast.

For the lack of school spirit, for the apathy on this campus, we think the large portion of the blame lies squarely on the shoulders of the student body, for no matter what activities are planned, if there are no participants they serve no purpose. The best example of school spirit we have seen all year was exhibited at the Tech basketball game here. But should it be necessary to play Tech before we acquire spirit? Should we do without all the rest of the year?

If you feel as though college life may not be all you had expected, ponder this for awhile—You can only get out of anything what you put into it. Many students put very little of themselves into their studies or their extracurricular activities.

Untie those apron strings, grow up, become an individual, enjoy college life now—it only happens once. Most people remember with pleasure their college days—what will you have to remember? The trip down highway 231 each Friday afternoon for four years?

Coed Calls For National Pride; Higher Standards

I was up and out on campus one morning—7:30 a.m.—see what I mean! This fact in itself is exceptionally overwhelming. Curiously enough, as bleary-eyed as I was, I happened to notice the Stars and Stripes rising above the campus grounds. It got me to thinking just how lagging in national enthusiasm about our country we citizens are.

Two men perform the duty of raising and lowering the American flag each day. They are employed by the college maintenance department.

Now, understand, I can see myself how ridiculous it would be if we had required attendance every morning at this daily service. That's not the point. What I'm saying, and I used this illustration merely to exemplify our lack of attention, is that we should give a little more thought and honor to our American heritage.

This "great American farce"— as some may choose to call it—Democracy is the primary reason for America's success today. Don't accuse me of being overly idealistic, for I might surprise you and accept this personal terminology gladly. For what is one of the most important concepts in human minds, if it is not high standards and ideals?

It's become the fad, nationally speaking, to be as cynical and pessimistic as one's capabilities permit. What started with the idea of merely showing in satirical form the failing traits of the people has by accident misguided the attitudes of the same people into accepting these cruel and sadistic forms of humor as the "norm."

I contend that America and what it should stand for is important enough to merit a little of the public's thought and consideration.

Are You A Bag Packer?

To the Editors:

Almost never a week goes by unless someone makes a remark about this school being a "suitcase" college. This term is, of course, referring to the students who pack their bags and go home for the weekend.

The people who complain are the ones who cannot leave for the weekend and the town people who are aware of this not old-fashioned practice among college students.

In general most colleges have a higher percent of week-end leavers now than were found several years ago. Then transportation was a problem, colleges were fewer, and the enrollments were smaller so that everyone knew everyone else. Fifty years ago it took a full day to go from Murfreesboro to Fayetteville. This illustrates one reason college students did not go home on week-ends.

This college is located so that the homes of many students are only a few hours away. Many students are commuters. We do not have Saturday classes as regular class days. Many students work at home-town jobs on the weekend, and some go home simply to save money on meals and laundry.

Some colleges and universities have a majority of students from far-away places. Fraternities and sororities function over the week-end. These colleges have Saturday morning classes. These factors may make the universities of this state somewhat different from this school.

If the students want to stay, although the tendency among most colleges is to go home, more week-end activities could be planned in order to make the weekend worth staying for. This is solely up to the students.

Daily Dairy Data

(ACP)—The new student-staff directory lists the University of Minnesota daily paper as the Minnesota Dairy.

Quipped a DAILY editorialist: "We wouldn't mind except for some of the calls we've been receiving." The most recent was a woman asking whether we make local deliveries. Another gave us an order for six cases of butter-milk before we could explain ourselves.

"And Tuesday someone called who wanted to bring in a sick cow."

★ Question of the Week ★

If you could bring about a change on this campus, what would it be?

Sue Alexander, freshman from Franklin: "The food needs to be improved. It should be kept warm while serving, because no one likes to eat cold food. The food should be made to look more appetizing. This can be done by neatly placing the food on the plate, and not mixing all the food into one sloppy unidentifiable glob."

James H. Jacobs, freshman from Murfreesboro: "Change the parking method. I can understand why you have to have a permit to park on the campus, but why do you have to park in a certain place? It seems to me that you should be able to park in any of the student parking areas."

Mary Lynn Fisher, senior from Lenoir City: "I believe we should have a new auditorium because the enrollment has completely outgrown the present one."

Sandra Talley, senior from Viola: "It is inevitable that changes will come about and among these changes new buildings will be built. For a school to progress, all aspects concerning it must also progress; this includes the design, function, etc. of buildings which we inhabit daily. Of the many buildings here at MTSC only three, the library, the hay barn and the dairy barn, are designed and built to carry out their function without having much added eclectic decoration. I suggest that in the future the selection of plans for new buildings be left in the hands of persons who have a great deal of understanding of the field of architecture."

Bill Luttrell, senior from Lenoir City: "I believe a different class of Music should be presented on the juke box in the Terrace room, so we as college students can gain in culture rather than having to listen to the 'jungle tomtom' music that is on there now."

Eleanor Bolton Mills, senior from Nashville: "I would like to see the school develop a good system of communications to keep students informed of all campus events. We are criticized for not voting and not getting applications in on time when we don't even know when 'on time' is."

Suzanne Lee, freshman from Chattanooga: "I believe that the Administration building should be re-opened at night. I know several students who tutor others. When the administration building was open, these students could use the blackboards which helped them, also this seemed to be the only place to find quietness. They say that the Administration building was the best place to tutor the other students."

Reggie Law, senior from Cleveland: "I believe that there should be a change in the school's attitude toward social events held on campus and activities should not be restricted to the campus even though school-sponsored."

Billy Wayne Dorris, senior from Greenbrier: "In my opinion, our student government on this campus is weak when compared to what it could be. This is no reflection on the ASB officials for they have worked hard. However, due to the present set-up of the school and its activities, students have little voice in planning such things as assemblies, special events or even our 'Golden Anniversary'. This should be changed for future student bodies if at all possible."

There's Still Time To Open Books For Mid-Term Exams

By June Vickery

Mid-semester exams are just around the corner! How do you stand in your classes? Are you failing or are you just above that fatal line? Are you dangling between a D or C, or will you be found in the coveted upper bracket with the A and B students? You can make or break your final grade. It's not too late yet, although it would have helped matters if you had begun to worry a little earlier. Begin now to absorb those all-important facts of knowledge. Remember, last minute cramming may help one time out of a thousand, but chances are your mind will be dulled, and the few facts memorized during those last hectic hours will be so jumbled that your ability to think will be anything but clear.

If, in the outcome your grade isn't as high as you expected or could have made, stop and think a second before you say, "Oh well, the prof. had it in for me all along. He wouldn't have given me a decent grade regardless of how hard I tried."

It isn't the fault of the instructor that you made less than you should have.

Ask yourself, "Did I try? Did I do my best all along? How many classes did I cut, and did I give all of my reports or turn in the outside reading? Did I make an attempt to excell the requirements?"

If you expect to keep up your average, give up those long hours in the coffee shop and the morning, afternoon, and nightly discussions with the girls or boys. Open those books you complained about

College News Reprints Tech Morale Story

(Editor's note: According to the opinion of the majority on the MTSC campus, very little that's good can come from our rivals in the hills where the golden eagle perches high atop the administration building. This opinion, however, appears not to be shared by the Associated Collegiate Press, for they have circulated a recent Tennessee Tech ORACLE editorial nationwide. It is applicable to us here, and indeed, it could be applied to almost any campus in the nation. We reprint it here.)

"It is much easier to criticize than to praise, more American to see the bad instead of the good, and more collegiate to be dissatisfied with everything in general. Considering ourselves collegiate, we criticize everything about which we have any doubt. But should we not also praise those things which meet with our approval? A few sincere words of praise will not hurt our status or our attitude.

"America has been accustomed to the freedom of speech and thought so long that her citizens now interpret freedom of speech to mean freedom to find fault. Talk with one of the students on campus who has lived in a country without personal freedom and see if you do not feel a sense of elation after you have finished the conversation.

"This situation provides an excellent atmosphere for low morale among the students and instructors. Even when a student is pleased with a lecture he feels sure he must have gotten more from the lesson than the instructor intended because lectures are supposed to be dull.

"And the instructor feels that he has failed to get across all he intended because of the cool reception which his lecture got from the students.

"With a situation like this, is it surprising that the morale on the American college campus is at the lowest ebb in history—and falling?

"We have replaced good, clean humor with the sick cruelty joke. Things are funny only at the expense of others. And still we wonder why we cannot enjoy the wholesome fun provided by college activities?

"If the weather is sunny, it is too sunny; if the weather is rainy, it is too rainy; if it snows, we have too much snow. Our desire to criticize the weather is indicative of our desire to criticize in general.

"With the weather conditions as they are at present perhaps this is the best time to try to improve our attitude and our morale. If we can look through the rain outside our windows and see something good through the mist, then we have already taken one step toward improving morale on our own college campus."

RUTLEDGE HALL

A skit entitled "Smoky Places" was presented at Stunt Night by Rutledge Hall. Dormitory president Joanna Key narrated the presentation. Margie Bolton and Judy Pack played the roles of Rosie Rutledge and Mr. Cromwell. The work enjoyed by the skit members was rewarded with "first honorable mention" in the judging.

Elaine Haley celebrated her nineteenth birthday with a party given by a group of her friends. Among those who played Santa in February were Carolyn Williams, Nancy Norvell, Mary Deanne Bigger, Betty Jane Graham and Carolyn Powell.

On Feb. 15, Janie Moore was called upon to blow out nineteen candles on her white angel food cake. Those who attended her birthday celebration were Brenda Parkhurst, Janice Smith, Ann Boring, Elinor Mills, Charlie Ann Mitchell and Linda Woodhall.

A group of Carolyn Powell's friends surprised her with a birthday party last Monday. Cake and cokes were enjoyed by all who attended the feast.

Dean Fuson, the last of the February birthday girls, was given a supper by some of her friends.

Winston Moore's third finger, left hand has been weighted down with a chunk of white carbon. Winston was given the traditional shower—a water shower while fully clothed.

SOUTH MONOHAN HALL

When it rains at MTSC, it really lets loose as our many ground floor residents will testify. Last week they would have welcomed Noah's ark with open arms. Beds could be found covered with cabinet drawers and other belongings and everyone was packed for the expected move upstairs.

Leaving the weather for awhile, we wish to congratulate Dolly Wood on being pinned by a Sigma Chi in Knoxville, Feb. 23. For the occasion she received a dozen red roses from the fraternity members.

You've heard of sound sleepers, but Joan Bates tops them all. It seems her room was rolled at 2:30 the other night and she never heard a thing.

I wonder who the girl is who has the sign on her closet door reminding her to sign out for the weekend? It seems she forgot to a couple of times.

Well, news has been kinda scarce in our dorm this week but spring is near, and that's always a rocking time of year!

LYON HALL

"Charlie Hoss" — that is the theme song of Lyon Hall, winner of the competition at "Stunt Night," Feb. 22. For the efforts displayed in the skit called, "Touch Me Not," the girls received $25.

Helpful Hints On Passing Mid-Terms???

(ACP)—Gleaned from "our country's magazines for young women" are the six most frequently-appearing helpful hints for passing an exam successfully.

The FOURNIER NEWS, Chestnut Hill College, warns: "If followed carefully, they will lead to a truly successful nervous breakdown." Here are the hints with the paper's comments:

1. "Get a good night's sleep." Now, you couldn't even begin to explain the absurdities contained in this cheerful suggestion. Its creator is completely out of contact with reality.

2. "Eat a healthy breakfast." A reasonable demand, you say to yourself—until you have concocted it. To make matters worse, if matters can get much worse, there is usually an enormous picture, in living color, of the aforementioned breakfast. Invariably it will contain several straggly bundles of parsley, a soft-boiled egg, a blob of strawberry jam, a gallon of juice, and an ill-smelling, shapeless, multi-colored object titled "Early Morning Surprise." Definitely the work of a sadist.

3. "Dress in something cheerful." (a) you cannot see clearly enough to know what you are putting on, (b) you do not own anything, decent, let alone cheerful, (c) the very thought of "something cheerful" sickens you, (d) you know what your friends would do to you if you showed up in that exam room at 9 a.m. with "something cheerful" on.

4. "Bring freshly sharpened pencils." Apparently the mere sight of a pointy pencil tip will brighten your spirits and send rays of light to your gray, gray matter. If you are permitted to write in pencil,

Murphy, Sunny Staulker, and Lynn Thompson formulated the program. Responsible for the choreography were Betty Sands and Jane Spencer. The grand finale was the combination Charleston and Hoss dance routine done to the song, "Charlie Hoss," written by Edna Ruth Gerth.

Not only is Lyon proud of her victory in the stunt competition, but she is also proud of being the dorm of the newly elected ASB Congress member, Sarah Edwards.

Bastin Passes Tests For Naval Officer

Jerry Wayne Bastin, industrial arts major at MTSC, has passed the aptitude tests and physical examination for Naval Aviation Officer training.

His application for flight training at the "Annapolis of the Air" at Pensacola, Fla., now is awaiting final approval by the Navy department. If approved, this training will lead to a commission as Ensign and the "Wings of Gold" of a Naval Aviator.

Herbert E. Bastin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bastin of Old Hickory, received his indoctrination flight training at the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, Memphis, in the dual-controlled T-34 aircraft.

He has requested that he be enrolled in the first available class at Pensacola after his graduation from MTSC in August.

Faculty Writes Letters

Two MTSC faculty members have won the "three star" awards offered by the Nashville TENNESSEAN daily for the best letters written by readers.

Dr. Hans Mueller reviewed the current situation in Brazil in a recent edition, answering an editorial criticism of conditions there. Don Matheney, also a member of the MTSC social science department staff had a March 1 letter pointing out the need for more political science training in high school.

freshly sharpened pen points are highly recommended.

5. "Have confidence in yourself." Keep saying over and over, "I will do fine." Just in case this ritual does not pull you through, you'd better have, in addition to confidence, a one-way train ticket, a supply of note paper, several handkerchiefs, four peanut butter sandwiches, and a copy of "Catcher in the Rye."

6. "Relax." Ha, ha, ha!

Dr. Cope To Preside At College Conference

Dr. Quill E. Cope, president of Middle Tennessee State College, has been asked to preside at the annual meeting of Tennessee College Association to be held at the Hermitage Hotel in Nashville.

The theme of the conference will be "Meeting the Needs of Education Beyond the High School." Speakers on the program in addition to Dr. Cope will be Dr. A. J. Brumbaugh, consultant, Southern Regional Education Board, Dr. R. F. Thomason, and President Warren F. Jones, Union University.

A panel composed of Commissioner Joe Morgan, State Department of Education, President Felix C. Robb, Peabody College, and Vice-president Edward J. Boling, University of Tennessee, will discuss the question "How Can Tennessee Meet the Problem?"

To know that we know what we know, and that we do not know what we do not know, that is true knowledge.

Golf Team Tees Off Against Top College Players

Coach E. K. Patty's golf team will tee-off their 1962 season with the nation's best collegiate players. The Blue Raiders open their campaign in the All-American Intercollegiate Invitational Golf Tournament at Houston, Texas on March 28-30.

Houston University, host school for the big tourney, has invited "the cream" collegiate golf teams in America to participate. Some of the teams that will match skills with the Blue Raiders are Purdue, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Rice, Texas A&M, Baylor, Florida State, Louisiana State, Houston, North Texas State, New Mexico, Oklahoma State, Texas, and Texas Tech.

Patty's golfers have produced phenomenal championship play over the past eleven years. They won eight Volunteer State Athletic Conference crowns before dropping from that loop after taking the 1957 trophy.

Since 1956, his teams have won both the Tennessee Intercollegiate and Ohio Valley Conference crowns four times. In taking the OVC title last year, his foursome recorded a score of 572 strokes over the 36-hole (par 70) course.

Returning lettermen this season will include the 1-2-3 finishers in the 1961 OVC Tournament. They are David Dixon (Memphis, 71-68-139); Joel Vinson (Nashville, 70-71 — 141); and Gary Head (Springfield, 71-72-143). Although Dixon was low medalist champion for the OVC in 1961, Vinson had

'Blue Seal' Clinic Set For Aviators

"NASA is coming through for us wonderfully this year," Dr. Bealer Smotherman, director of the Aerospace workshop scheduled for Middle Tennessee State College in June and July. Dr. Smotherman and Miller Lanier, municipal airport manager and MTSC instructor in aviation, have just returned from a three day planning trip to Washington. One hundred and thirty Tennessee teachers will be granted scholarships for the summer workshop.

"Our 'Blue Seal' clinic scheduled for April 23-27 will bring about 100 of the State's outstanding aviators to the campus," Mr. Lanier stated. He explained that the "Blue Seal Clinic" is designed for all pilots who have not had instrument training. Ground school work will be conducted in the Union Building at the college and flight training at the airport. One semester hour college credit will be given those who register for it. Those who finish the course will have the "blue seal" affixed to the license.

In amplifying his statement that NASA would co-operate fully in the Aerospace workshop this year Dr. Smotherman said that the Space-mobile would be back on the campus for public inspection again this year, along with a Mercury space capsule, a Tiros weather satellite and the Echo, TV relay satellite.

Several nationally prominent speakers from NASA and the Federal Aviation Agency will be in Murfreesboro to speak to the participants in the summer workshop. The advanced workshop group has projected flight visits to Brooks Air Force Base in Texas. The main workshop group will go to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio to visit the Air Museum and the 14 space laboratories, including those for space medicine, according to present plans.

While in Washington Dr. Smotherman visited a former classmate, Navy Captain Charles W. Travis, chief of the J-4 section of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Captain Travis' wife is the former Esther Talley. His mother lives in Murfreesboro.

the low medalist honor for the 1960 tournament

Coach Patty's other team members will come from Charles Mattox (Gallatin), Dan Midgett (Murfreesboro), Larry Gilbert (Vine Grove, Ky.), Gary Sledge (Bowling Green, Ky.), Bo Culbertson (Lewisburg), Hubert Spears (Nashville), Fred Maynard (Old Hickory), and Paul Haller (Ashland, Ky.).

Middle Tennessee State will also participate in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament at Athens, Ga. on May 3-5. Other tournaments include defense of their championship in the Tennessee Intercollegiate on April 27-28, and the Ohio Valley Conference on May 18-19.

Team matches will be against two Southeastern Conference representatives, Mississippi State and the University of Kentucky; Tennessee Tech (twice) of the Ohio Valley Conference; and the University of the South and Chattanooga teams being on the independent list.

Gary Head, Springfield; David Dixon, Memphis; and Joel Vinson, formerly of Nashville, who now makes his home in Tullahoma, will lead Coach Elbert Patty's MTSC golf team on the nationally televised Houston, Tex. collegiate invitational the last week of this month.

These three finished 1-2-3 in the OVC tournament last year. Dixon was low medalist with 169; Vinson second with 141 and Head third with 143. In 1960 Vinson was low medalist in the OVC as a sophomore.

Grads Finish Orientation Courses

Army Second Lt. William E. Bush Jr., whose wife, Sherry, lives at 310 Woodland St., Watertown, completed the officer orientation course at The Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky., Feb. 9.

Lieutenant Bush was trained in the duties and responsibilities of an armor officer. He received instruction in the fundamentals of armor warfare and equipment, including communications, tank gunnery, field engineering, automotive maintenance, platoon and company tactics, instructor techniques and leadership principles.

The lieutenant was a 1956 graduate of Clarksville High School and a 1961 graduate of Middle Tennessee State College.

Army Second Lt. Billy G. Philpott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Euleess W. Philpott, Route 5, Shelbyville, recently completed the eight-week field artillery officer orientation course at the Artillery and Missile School, Fort Sill, Okla.

During the course Lieutenant Philpott received instruction in communications, artillery transport, tactics and target acquisition. The school emphasizes leadership and the practical application of field artillery tactics and techniques in the employment of artillery mortars, conventional cannon, free rockets and guided missiles.

Lieutenant Philpott was graduated from Middle Tennessee State College in 1961.

Army Pvt. James S. Gardner, whose wife, Mary Jane, lives at 4308 Esteswood Dr., Nashville, completed the finance procedures course at the Finance School, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., Feb. 9.

Gardner was trained in matters relating to the acquiring, disbursing and accounting of funds. He is one of the selected students who is remaining at the school to receive further training as a disbursing specialist.

He entered the Army last October and completed basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga.

The 22-year-old soldier, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke T. Walker, live at 166 Woodmont Blvd., Nashville, is a 1957 graduate of West End High School in Nashville and a 1961 graduate of MTSC.

Double-header To Open Raider Baseball Season

Baseball coach Bill Stokes announces a 24-game baseball schedule for the Blue Raiders in 1962.

MTSC will open their season with a double-header at David Lipscomb on March 31. Their home field debut will be April 5 as host to the Vanderbilt Commodores.

Stokes' 1962 slate calls for thirteen home contests and eleven road games. Double-headers will be against all western division members of the Ohio Valley Conference on home and home basis.

The Western loop consists of Tennessee Tech, Western Kentucky, Murray State, and Middle Tennessee. Twin bills will also be here and away with David Lipscomb, a VSAC representative.

New opponents on this season's schedule are Hanover College of Hanover, Ind., and Wheaton College of Wheaton, Ill. The Hanover Panthers come to town on April 6, with the touring Wheaton Crusaders invading on April 13.

The complete schedule:

PE Students, Faculty Lead Convention

Dr. Francis Riel, vice-president of the Recreation Division of the Southern District, American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, and Miss Buleah Davis, president of the Tennessee Association of HPER played prominent leadership roles in the annual convention of the Association in Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 26-March 2.

About 60 students from MTSC attended the convention and participated in the final night demonstration conducted by Dr. Riel under the theme "This Can Be Done in Recreation", a workshop demonstration of group activity.

Others well known to MTSC who had programs included Russell White, formerly of Nashville and now chief of adjunctive therapy for mentally retarded children in Fort Myers, Fla. Mr. White is a 1956 graduate of MTSC.

Dr. Ethel Trice, North East Louisiana College, formerly of the MTSC faculty, Miss Buleah Davis and Miss Jo Ann Gordan, and Faye Bloodworth, junior health and physical education major from Nashville, are others who had full program presentations at the conference.

According to the program outlined in the National Journal of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Dr. Riel also presided at a session on outdoor recreation and at the second general session of the conference. Delbert Obersteuffer, Ohio State University, was the keynote speaker.

Faculty members and students from 13 states participated in the five day program.

Field Trip Set

Dr. Ed Baldwin, head of the geography division at MTSC, will lead the third annual Grand Eastern Field trip for summer school students interested in travel and college credit. This is the third year the college has arranged such travel-study tours under Dr. Baldwin's direction.

This year the tour leaves Murfreesboro July 16 and returns Aug. 9. Overnight stops start at Asheville, N. C. and extend through Williamsburg, Va.; Washington, D. C.; New York City; Boston, Mass.; Bar Harbor, Me.; and on to Quebec, Halifax, Ottawa, Niagara Falls and back South through Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Tritons Hold Meet; Compete

By Sandy Irwin

Middle Tennessee State's Triton Club had a very successful swimming meet at the school pool recently. The Tritons opened competition to any MTSC student, and awarded ribbons and trophies to the top performers.

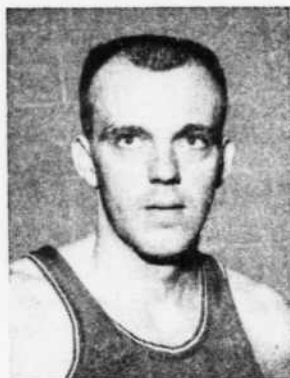

Jim Norton won the Individual Boys Trophy, and Sandy Irwin was winner in this division for girls. The diving trophy went to Bille Sewell, while team trophies were given to the King Neptune Guppies (Boys) and the Physical Education Club (Girls).

Awards were as follows: Individual Competition (Boys); 1st-Jim Norton; 2nd-Billy Sewell; 3rd-Jay Whitcomb. (Girls); 1st-Sandy Irwin; 2nd—Elenor Hamner. Freestyle Competition (Boys); 1st—Jim Norton; 2nd—Billy Sewell; 3rd—Bob Kerr. (Girls); 1st—Sandy Irwin; 2nd—Elenor Hamner. Backstroke Competition (Boys); 1st (tie)—Roy Bird, Maxie Boles; 3rd—Billy Sewell. (Girls); 1st—Sandy Irwin; 2nd—Elenor Hamner. Team Competition (Medley); 1st—King Neptune Guppies; 2nd—4 o'clock Swim Team; 3rd—Ronnie Camp; P. E. Club (Girls); 1st—Elenor Hamner; 2nd—Mary Smith; 3rd—Charlene Coker; 4th—Sandy Irwin. Boys Freestyle; 1st—King Neptune Guppies; 2nd—4 O'clock Swim Team; 3rd—P. E. Club. Diving Competition (Boys); 1st—Billy Sewell, 70 points; 2nd—Maxie Boles, 68 points; 3rd—Jay Whitcomb, 56 points. (Girls); 1st—Mary Smith, 58 points. 2nd—Charlene Coker, 38 points; 3rd—Elenor Hamner, 18 points.

In addition to the local competition, twenty members of the Triton club competed in the International Aquatic Art Southeastern Sectional Symposium at Knoxville, Feb. 16-17.

"Water Sprite", an all male entry of the Tritons was selected for public presentation in the final event. The group was composed of Bob McGhee, Jim Forbes, Frank Roleff, Jay Whitcomb, Bill Baskin and Bobby Mason. The Tritons were one of the few aquatic clubs in the Southeastern section to present an all male number.

Paul Holland Ends Career With Raiders

Guard Paul Holland has ended his collegiate basketball career as the team's leading scorer for 1961-62. The 6'2", Paducah, Kentucky senior scored 254 points during the 18-game season.

Holland was a starter on the Blue Raider squad all three years of his collegiate play. Coach Eddie Diddle, Jr. considers him one of the finest defensive players on the MTSC squad, and appraised by many of the top guards in the Ohio Valley Conference, a "Major College" loop in basketball.

During the season just completed, Holland was the high scorer in nine of the eighteen games, and tied for scoring honors with Ed Newton (16 points each) in the Centenary clash.

Holland's high point total included Jackson (22), Murray State (22), Austin Peay (21), Western Kentucky (23) and (19), Morehead State (18), Eastern Kentucky (19), East Tennessee (19), and Tennessee Tech (20).

In 64 games played by the Blue Raiders in the past three years, Holland missed only one contest, that being in his junior year. But, in the season finale this year, he only played for the opening two minutes against Eastern Kentucky and was forced to sit on the sidelines as his career ended because of an ankle injury.

False Alarm Routs Saturday Classes

Classes of Coach Don Lear and B. B. Gracy in the basement of the Memorial gymnasium were invaded by booted and helmeted firemen as five pieces of Murfreesboro fire equipment responded to a Saturday afternoon alarm about 2:30.

The alarm brought about a mad exodus by campus-bound weekenders, disturbed a Boy Scout basketball program, and disappointed a number of thrill seekers when it proved false.

This is the second such Saturday afternoon fake in recent weeks—the last being at the Administration building.

Are some of these Saturday afternoon classes lasting so long that students have to get out of class?

The MTSC track team finished third in the indoor meet in Memphis this week. Murray State was first Arkansas State third. Individual results have not been received.

Spring Football Game Date Set Tentatively

Coach Charles "Bubber" Murphy has tentatively set the annual Blue vs. White Spring football game for Saturday afternoon, March 10. The Blue Raider head mentor said, "Although this will not conclude our practice, we feel that this would be the best time to schedule the game."

If the Blue Raiders get in every session up to that date, the Spring game will be their 19th day of workouts of the NCAA allowed 20 days.

Murphy's Raiders had to take rain checks on two practice sessions of their second week of drills. The Blue Raiders gave way to bad weather on Wednesday, recorded their eighth day on Thursday, but were again forced from practice because of inclement weather on Friday.

Murphy continues to be pleased with the way his gridders have performed during the early drills. He commented, "Things have been going real good up to now, and it looks like this may be one of the best Spring practices we have ever had."

Other than the "old veterans," many new names have emerged into the limelight during the first two weeks of scrimmage. The coaching staff appears especially high on halfback Jim Harvey, a Lenoir City product who broke into the varsity picture at mid-season last year. The 5'9½", 165 pounder has brought smiles to the staff with his all-around play on defense and offense, as well as blocking chores.

Halfback Earl Harris was also mentioned as one of the boys catching the eye of the coaching staff. The Chapel Hill sophomore showed a lot of promise in the 1961 Spring game, but was held out most of the regular season because of constant foot blisters. He has shown no signs of that ailment thus far.

Sophomore tackles Jack Armstrong and L. E. Clayborne have been showing well at their posts. Armstrong, a 210 pounder from Sevierville, was a freshman letterman last season. Clayborne, who was singled out for his defensive showing, is a 210 pound former fullback from Macon County.

Murphy reports that Calvin Short seems to have taken a fancy to his new center position. The Raider coach said, "Calvin is improving every day. He needs more experience on defense at the new spot, but I think he will come along." Short lettered at tackle last season.

David Blair, Columbia, was mentioned for his play at guard. He was a tackle on the 1961 squad.

On the big graduation loss at quarterback, the head mentor remarked that Louis Alford appears very capable of handling the position. Murphy said, "Louis is a real good ball handler, but he needs to find the range on passing. He can probably throw a longer ball than either of our quarterbacks of last season."

College Style Aid To Handicapped

(ACP)—Handicapped students at the University of California, Berkeley, get a helping hand through the rigors of registration and preregistration.

Arletta House, graduate student in social welfare, provides a regular service permitting those who can't go through the registration lines to register from her office in the Alumni House.

"It's not only the permanently handicapped students that we help," explains Miss House. "This time of year we get several students incapacitated by skiing accidents."

YMCA volunteers aid in the program by helping handicapped students buy books, acquainting them with the campus, helping blind students register, and pushing those in wheel chairs. Handicapped students are also referred to various social agencies in Berkeley, says the DAILY CALIFORNIAN.

Henegar Is Top Jaycee Candidate

An MTSC graduate, Tommy Henegar, of McMinnville, may be the next state president of the Tennessee Junior Chamber of Commerce, it was learned recently.

Mr. Henegar, who has been active in the McMinnville Jaycees for the past ten years, recently announced his candidacy for the post at the Tennessee Jaycees' state board meeting at Gatlinburg. Last year he was state vice-president and is now serving as one of the state's five national directors.

He is an industrial engineer at Kingsboro Mills. If Mr. Henegar is successful in his campaign at the annual state convention in Memphis May 24-27, his headquarters for the next year will be in Murfreesboro. The state president directs the activities of 103 Jaycee chapters and more than 4,000 individual members.

College Gals Puzzled By Male Hairdos

(ACP)—Men's hair styles are as puzzling to the gals as bubbles and beehives are to the guys.

Bette MacQuaker, writing in the Iowa State DAILY, offers a guide for the girl who can't differentiate between a "butch" and a "flattop".

IVY LEAGUE—This appears to be the most popular style now, especially, among the older fellows. The hair is clipped close to the head, and has two primary characteristics—a part, usually on the right side of the head, and a swirl in the back.

HOLLYWOOD—This one (we all pray) is a style of the past, but just in case you may run into it, a description should prove helpful in its identification. The hair is long on the sides and is combed back in gentle waves into a duck-tail. Beginning at the back of the crown the hair is combed forward over the forehead and ends in one well-greased curl.

MOHAWK—This is the perfect style for those fellows who prefer a washcloth to a comb and brush, and is one you definitely can't miss. The scalp is completely bald, with the exception of one strip of hair running down the middle of the head from the crown to the nape of the neck. Haven't seen many of these around lately—could it possibly be the onset of cold weather?

UPSWEET—This one is more or less bouffant, since all the back hair is combed up-and-over the head, and the sides are combed so as to create the slightest trace of waves over the ears. If this style isn't fast disappearing—it ought to be.

FLAT-TOP—This one is cut in the ever-popular crew-cut style, and when cut to perfection, a sort of "bald-spot" can be seen in the center of the crown. This style is differentiated from the BUTCH only in so far as the edges are cut flat, while the BUTCH follows the natural contours of the head.

When asked why they chose to have their hair cut in the particular manner they did, fellows weren't able to answer.

When asked what hair style she liked best on the fellows, one coed had only this to say—"greaseless."

As soon as the bids for these units are let the final plans for the Speech Arts Building and auditorium will be completed. These plans were approved by the State Board of Education some months ago. Present plans call for the letting of the contract for this building at an estimated cost of $500,000 for June 15, 1962.

Peace, Dignity, Dedication Stressed By Guest Speakers

"Peace, always the goal of man is today the highest human imperative", Webb Follin, educator, civic leader and churchman declared in the opening address of the week set aside at Middle Tennessee State College as "Spiritual and Moral Values Week."

"Only one third of the people of the world have reached political maturity -- two thirds are in a period of political adolescence rebellion. We must view these with tolerance and sympathy", he continued as he set out four "goals of tomorrow."

These goals, Mr. Follin stated, are (1) a decent standard of living for all men; (2) the recognition of human dignity for all men; (3) the end of colonialism and establishment of self-rule; and (4) the attainment of a genuine peace.

Introducing his theme, Mr. Follin read from Acts, using as a basis the statement, "falling into the place where two seas meet". He reviewed the attainments of the past half century, pointing out the problems created by machines, institutionalism (organizations), unprecedented prosperity for the few and poverty for the masses with resulting nationalistic rivalries.

Mr. Follin was introduced by Dean N. C. Beasley who spoke of his leadership of the famous Webb School at Bell Buckle, his contributions to Rotary International and his work with his church. Dr. Ed Baldwin, chairman of the public programs committee at the college presided.

Judge Sam Davis Tatum, Tuesday's speaker, is a native of Wilson County and has long been active in the work of the Church of Christ as a Sunday school teacher. He was educated at David Lipscomb College, Abilene Christian College, Peabody and the University of Tennessee. He taught in Wilson and Van Buren counties and at Burritt College—later practicing law in Nashville. He was appointed juvenile court judge in Nashville in 1939 and has tried approximately 43,000 cases involving children; settled over 12,000 domestic cases and had only 17 appealed to a higher court.

His work in juvenile problems is nationally recognized, having established a foster home for children and a national juvenile court foundation. His theme for his talk was the concern and dedication Christian young people have in not only developing good characters for themselves but building a stronger, moral and spiritual character in future generations.

Bill Wade, last Wednesday's speaker, is a professional football player with the Chicago bears. He graduated from Vanderbilt and began his professional ball career with the Los Angeles Rams. During his off season, Mr. Wade works as a sports announcer for a Nashville television station. He is an active member of the Christian Athletes Association and as part of his work, he speaks to various groups emphasizing the fact that Christian faith is necessary in athletics or in any other field of endeavor.

Without Honor

(ACP)—Attempts to revive the honor system at the University of California, Berkeley, drew this comment in the DAILY CALIFORNIAN letters to the editor column:

"... When the honors system was in full use ... in truth, the faculty had the honor and the students the system."

Continued Jon Feder, business administration senior, "It borders on irony that promulgators of the honor system are desirous of aiming an ethical and moral appeal at the individuals who are currently cheating: the unethical, the amoral."

"Just Girl-Chasing"

(ACP)—A senior who was "just out chasing girls" was fined $20 in police court for displaying a red light on top of a vehicle, reports the UNIVERSITY DAILY KANSAN. He entered a plea of guilty, but asked the court to consider the fact that he was using a small flashlight and was just girl-chasing.

Science Students Present Projects

A Kittrell high school student and three students from Tullahoma won blue ribbons in the regional Tennessee Junior Academy of Science display held at Middle Tennessee State College this week. These regional winners will be eligible to compete in the State Science Day demonstrations at Martin College Branch of the University of Tennessee March 24.

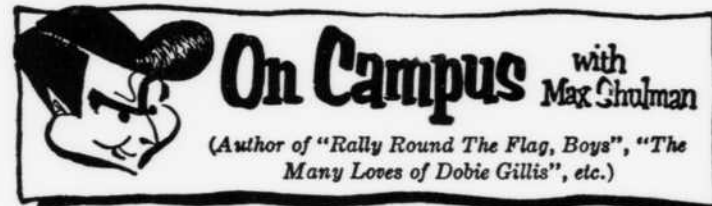

Bobby Compton was the senior high school biology division winner with his project on the difference in fraternal and identical twins.

Jack Jarret is Compton's teacher.

Nick Munn, Tullahoma senior high school, whose teacher is Jim Kemp, won the senior high school blue ribbon for his demonstration of a "reaction time tester".

In the junior division Kent Erwin was the biology division winner and Ray DuBose the physical science winner. Erwin's study was in chick embryology. His teacher at West junior high is Robert Greene. DuBose, whose teacher is Billy Henshaw, demonstrated a steam generator off electrical circuit.

THE TRUE AND TRAGICAL TALE OF HAPPY JACK SIGAFOOS

Who would have thought that Happy Jack Sigafoos, the boy the sky never rained on, would teeter on the edge of a life of crime?

Certainly there was no sign of it in his boyhood. His home life was tranquil and uplifting. His mother was a nice fat lady who hummed a lot and gave baskets to the poor. His father was a respected citizen who could imitate more than 400 bird calls and once saved an elderly widow from drowning in his good suit. (That is, Mr. Sigafoos was in his good suit; the elderly widow was in swimming trunks.) Happy Jack's life was nothing short of idyllic—till he went off to college.

Here Happy Jack quickly became a typical freshman—tweedy, seedy, and needy. He learned the joys of rounding out his personality, and he learned the cost. His allowance vanished like dew before the morning sun. There were times, it grieves me to report, when he didn't even have enough money for a pack of Marlboro Cigarettes—and you know how miserable that can be! To be deprived of Marlboro's matchless flavor, its easy-drawing filter, its subtly blended tastiness, its refreshing mildness, its ineffable excellence, its soft pack or flip-top box—why, it is a prospect to break the heart in twain!

Marlboro-less and miserable, Happy Jack tried to get more money from home. He wrote long, impassioned letters, pointing out that the modern, large-capacity girl simply could not be courted on his meager allowance. But all Jack got back from home were tiresome homilies about thrift and prudence.

Then one dark day a sinister sophomore came up to Jack and said, "For one dollar I will sell you a list of fiendishly clever lies to tell your father when you need some extra money."

He gave Jack the list of fiendishly clever lies. Jack read:

1. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a new house for the Dean of Men.
2. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a headstone for Rover, our late beloved dormitory watchdog.
3. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to endow a chair of Etruscan Art.
4. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to build our own particle accelerator.

For a moment poor Jack was tempted; surely his father could not but support all these laudable causes. Then Jack's good upbringing came to the fore. He turned to the sinister sophomore and said, "No, thank you. I could not deceive my aged parent so. And as for you, sir, I can only say—fie!"

Upon hearing this the sinister sophomore broke into a huge grin. He whipped off his black hat and pasty face—and who do you think it was? None other than Mr. Sigafoos, Happy Jack's father, that's who!

"Good lad!" cried Mr. Sigafoos. "You have passed your test brilliantly." With that he gave Happy Jack a half million dollars in small bills and a red convertible containing power steering and four nubile maidens.

Crime does not pay!

Money and girls haven't changed Happy Jack. Except for the minor bulge in his cashmere jacket caused by (1) a pack of Marlboros and (2) a box of Marlboros, he's the same old Sigafoos.

Pi Omega Pi Lists Fourteen Pledges

Fourteen majors of the business department at Middle Tennessee State College were inducted into the Pi Omega Pi, national honorary fraternity for outstanding students in business at an initiation ceremony and dinner held at the Murfreesboro Bank Building community room Saturday night.

Following the dinner and initiation the fraternity dance was held.

Neophytes inducted into the order were Linda Murphy, Murfreesboro; Dianne Dorris, Goodlettsville; Helen Spencer, McMinnville; Brenda Beard, Watertown; Herbert Jones, Lebanon; Jerry Cooper, Murfreesboro; Melba Robinson, Pulaski; Meredith Sheffield, Fayetteville; Cynthia Wilkinson Oliphant, Nashville; Joan Caruthers Weaver, Kingston Springs; Barbara Meeks, Coalmont; Amy McGehee Garretson, Mulberry; Carol Darlene Pollock, Oak Ridge, and Carole Leigh Hall, McMinnville.

Home Economics Club Hosts Workshop Here

Thirty-six economics college club members and advisers met in the new home economics building for a Middle Tennessee Home Economics Club Workshop Feb. 24. Charlene Bentley, state president of College club section of the Tennessee Home Economics Association, presided at the morning session. The devotion was given by Norris Turner of Belmont College.

The MTSC Home Economics Club was host to the group from five Middle Tennessee colleges. Registration was at 9:00 a.m. in the lobby of the Home Economics Building. Gail DeBusk and Gayle Scott had charge of registration. The group was taken on a tour of the new building by MTSC Home Economics Club officers. Margaret Vaughn, president; Carolyn Gwaltney, vice-president; Beverly Montgomery, secretary; Sally Smith, historian; and Jo Helen Patrick, publicity chairman.

Following the tour, a "coffee" was enjoyed in the dining room. Carlene Etter, second vice-president of the local club, was in charge. She was assisted by Lynda Lane, Elaine Mingle, Gail Owensby, Patricia O'Brien and Julia Stinson. The refreshments were prepared by Mrs. Lyndall McMillan, Betty Jane Graham, Shelia Lanier and Mrs. Martha Mankin.

The business meeting was conducted during the morning session. Several items of interest were discussed and plans made for the annual Tennessee Home Economics Association Convention. The convention will be in Gatlinburg, April 27-29. The college club section headquarters will be at the Edgepark Motel. Miss Margaret Putman, State Advisor for the Home Economics College Clubs, assisted with the business session.

The afternoon program was the highlight of the Workshop. Patsy Williams of Tennessee Tech, second vice-president, THEA-CCS, presided. She introduced two outstanding leaders in the Tennessee and American Home Economics Associations, Miss Marie White and Miss Mabel Yates. They presented the program which was related to: "THEA-AHEA and the role a college club can play in the programs of the Tennessee and American Home Economics Associations."

Miss Marie White, Tennessee

Tech professor emeritus, first Tennessee Home Economics Supervisor of Home Economics Education and former Specialist with the U. S. Office of Vocational Home Economics, presented very interesting and challenging remarks concerning the important influences of these two home economics professional associations. Miss Mabel Yates, State Supervisor of Home Economics Education, past president of the Tennessee Home Economics Association and chairman of the State President's group of the American Home Economics Association, traced the history of the American Home Economics Association, its philosophy and objectives and emphasized the role of a home economist in society today.

Miss Janis Bays, president of the David Lipscomb Club, acted as recorder for the Workshop.

The colleges represented with the Home Economics Club advisers were: Austin Peay State College, Mrs. Doris Milton; Belmont College, Miss Cornelia Rogers; David Lipscomb, Miss Betty Wells; Tennessee Tech, Miss Chrissa Wendt; Middle Tennessee State College, Miss Margaret Putman.

The Workshop group had luncheon served in the Frontier Room at Sullivan's Restaurant at 12:30 p.m. Red carnations in a silver container decorated the advisor's table. The invocation was given by Carolyn Gwaltney, MTSC.

Smith Gets Recognition As Amateur Shutterbug

Joseph T. Smith, director of the MTSC Band of Blue, has recently been recognized for his artistry as an amateur photographer.

A study of the appealing features of tousle-headed, freckle-faced Tommy Warren of Winchester at practice with a trumpet is featured in the February-March issue of the "Music Educators Journal". The picture is captioned: "Joseph T. Smith gives notice that he is a man to be reckoned with as a photographer as well as a musician. Joe directs the Band of Blue at MTSC."

This same picture will be used as the cover for a forthcoming edition of the School Musician of Joliet, Ill.

Tau Omicron To Celebrate Anniversary

Tau Omicron members of Middle Tennessee State College will celebrate the organization's thirty-first birthday in conjunction with the Golden Anniversary of the college on Saturday, March 31.

A luncheon for the honorary society of women will be in the Student Union building of the college on that date.

Mrs. J. E. Williams, prominent church leader of Nashville, will be the guest speaker. Special musical numbers will be furnished by students.

According to Miss Buleah Davis, one of the chapter sponsors, more than one-hundred alumnae, including all of the charter members, are expected to attend.

Joan Simpson, Tau Omicron secretary at MTSC, requests that all former members send their reservations for the luncheon directly to her in care of the college.

Tau Omicron was organized in 1930 for recognition of the most outstanding junior and senior girls. They are chosen for their scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

In addition to Miss Simpson, the 1961-62 officers are Linda Sue Reeves, president, Murfreesboro; Janice Bullion, vice-president, Nashville; and Jean Fahlin, treasurer, Murfreesboro.

and Jean Massey. The bartender was Lynn Thompson and the policeman was hostess, Mrs. Frances Bowden.

Old Monohan with "Beat Macbeth" was second; Kappa Omicron Phi, third with "The Newlyweds". "Smoky Places", presented by Rutledge Hall and "T Tumblers" by the Health and Physical Education club rated honorable mention.

Alumnus Is Honored As Outstanding Teacher

James R. Kemp, who received his B.S. degree from MTSC in 1958 and the M.A. in 1959 was named "Outstanding Young Male Teacher" at Tullahoma by the Jaycees.

Kemp is a science instructor at Tullahoma high school, sponsoring the science club and the annual science fair at that school. In addition to his work in the high school he operates a farm and is active in several professional organizations.

President Attends Chicago Meeting

Dr. Quill E. Cope, MTSC president, has returned from Chicago where he attended the organizational meeting of the Association of State College and Universities. The college had participated in a preliminary study of the needs and programs of such institutions.

The new organization was founded during the annual meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teachers Education in Chicago, Feb. 14-17, which was attended by Dr. Quill E. Cope and Dr. Will Bowdoin, head of the education department here. Dr. Edgar Beaty, director of teacher education at the college also attended the meeting.

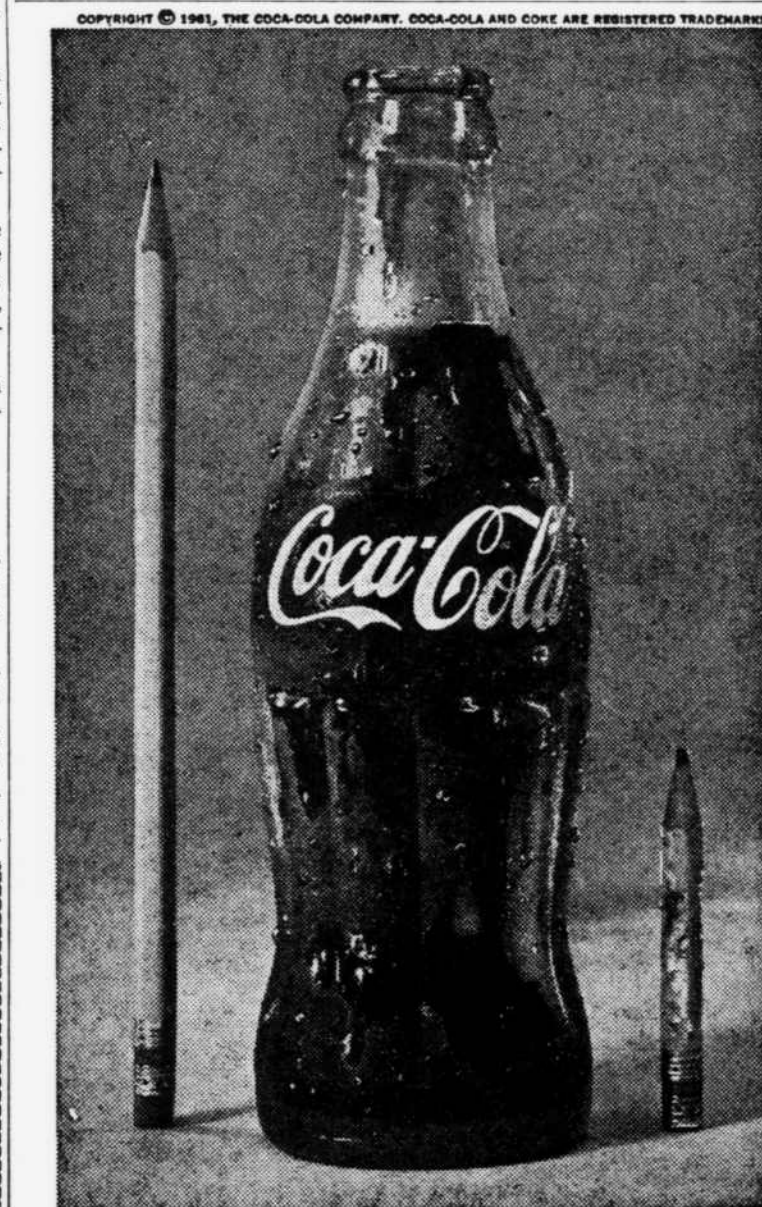

"Imperatives for Excellence in Teacher Education", the theme of the 1962 convention, was sounded by J. W. Maucker, president of the AACTE in the opening meeting. Other distinguished speakers included Edward R. Murrow, and U. S. Commissioner of Education, Sterling M. McMurrin.

While visiting the AACTE in Chicago Dr. Cope and Dr. Bowdoin had an opportunity to witness a demonstration of Telemation, a multiple sight-sound teaching technique now used experimentally at Chicago Teachers College, North.

E. W. Midgett, head of the MTSC education department, attended the meeting of the National Association for Business Teachers Education and the United Business Association meeting held at the same time in Chicago.

Four members of the cast of 'Inherit the Wind,' drama production set for March 7-8 are left to right, A. W. Powell, Betsy Sims, Tommy McClanahan and Mischief.

'Inherit the Wind' Set For Tonight

One of the largest casts ever seen in a dramatic production in Murfreesboro will appear on stage today and tomorrow as the Buchanan Players present "Inherit the Wind"—the historical drama based on the famous Scopes trial at Dayton, Tennessee.

A split level stage, which was constructed by students under the direction of Bob Thurman, will be used in the production which has a cast of 44 persons, only eight of whom are girls.

Dorothe Tucker will direct the play with Linda Branum as assistant director. Cast in major roles are A. W. Powell, McMinville; Scottie Ward, Columbia; Bob Turman, Savannah; Dolly Hood, Nashville; Kent Brisby, College Grove; Betsy Sims, Nashville; George Freeman, Murfreesboro; Jerry Dooley, Columbia; Dickie Barnes, Murfreesboro; James Gentry, Chapel Hill and Mischief, a monkey.

Others in the cast include Buddy Stockard, Wanda Chitwood, Jim Stone, Ray Weatherspoon, Janice Wynn, Tag McMillen, Sharon Gerth, Charles Gerth, Charles Lewis, Tommy McClanahan, Sylvia Bell, Aubrey Parker, Ronnie Dooley, Carlton Sivells, Jay Strawn, Don Massey, Lynn McGill, Gordon DeFreise, Bill Russell, Albert Posnack, Clark Tucker, and Rachel Strickland.

Those cast as jurors are Roger Wilkerson, Jim Graham, Bob Stanfield, Ed Howard, Clay Tucker, Bill Wilson, Larry Stanley, and Jim Gonc.

Ruth Bigger is in charge of crews; Nancy Moore, costumes; Carole Levy, lights; Bob Turman, set; Suzanne Lee, publicity; Sandra Millsaps, programs; Don Massey, make-up; Sharon Lee, props; Vivian Roberts, ushers; Bob Baker, house manager; Bob Conwell and Ann Petty, tickets.

Local Paper Honors MTSC With Edition

Enough type to fill a 270 page book with 96 current and historical pictures was included in the Feb. 25, 70 page special edition of the Murfreesboro Daily News Journal recognizing the Golden anniversary of the college.

The monumental task of assembling, editing and proofreading the four sections occupied the attention of the staff for three weeks. The News Journal staff was assisted in compiling the editorial material by Dr. Homer Pittard, Bob Brooks and Gene Sloan of the MTSC public relations staff. Marcia Manley, MTSC student, worked part time in the advertising department in preparation and sales of the record lineage.

Pictures of all administrative staff members and many departmental groups were run in the special edition. There is a rumor that Mrs. Evelyn Felder's picture appeared FOUR times in the paper. One of these is identifiable in a picture of a buggy with four 1912 version co-eds. Can any reader find her in three other pictures?

A biography and picture of each of the presidents — Jones, Lyon, Smith and Cope, along with stories of all departments of the colleges, special services and other valuable data was included in the big edition.

Telegrams and letters from President Kennedy, Governor Ellington, Senators Gore and Kefauver, State Board members, presidents

Art Department Presents Artist's Life In Film

"The Titan," a film described by members of the MTSC art department as "one of the finest art films ever produced," was presented recently in the Yellow Room of the Union Building.

The film presents the life of Michelangelo, the greatest artist of the Renaissance, as seen through his works in architecture, painting and sculpture. Narration of the film is by Frederick March.

"Both the camera and the narrator strikingly evoke the qualities and character of this great artist of the tumultuous period," a spokesman for the department stated.

Poop on Pizzas

(ACP)—Students at Iowa State munch more than 3,000 pizzas a week, estimates the DAILY. Varieties range from shrimp to bacon and include such oddities as sauerkraut and chicken. A survey of pizza parlors turned up this unusual request — someone once ordered a pizza with "Happy Birthday" spelled in sausage.

of other colleges and local political and business leaders are included in the edition—copies of which may be obtained from the Bookstore.

The compliment to the college by all who had a part in this tribute is deeply appreciated. Jack McFarland is the publisher of the Daily News Journal. Douglas Sparks is editor. The clever society section was prepared by Mrs. Mary Nelle Morris, News Journal society editor.

Vets Change Constitution

The MTSC Vets Club recently reworked its constitution. Many of the articles were outdated and various other changes were instituted to make the document more workable. Previously the club by-laws were written into the body of the document making it necessary to amend the constitution each time a new law was considered. A committee headed by Norman Martin worked up the new ideas and the club voted favorably at last week's regular meeting.

All Veterans who are not currently members of the club are urged to attend the meetings held each Tuesday at 11 o'clock in Dining Room "B" of the Student Union Building.

There's Still Time - - -

(Continued From Page 1) having to pay so much for, and use the library for studying instead of social gatherings. Turn down that date once in a while even if it is from your latest Romeo or Juliet.

You are here to learn—if not, then you are not only wasting your time but that of the entire college administration. You are also occupying space which someone else might take who would make full use of the opportunity.

A good education demands a few sacrifices. Can you make them?
