Coffee, Donuts, Waffles Found In New Collegiate

They have heard about it, they had dreamed about it, anh now they have seen it. Yes, the new lunchroom at MTSC Student Union Building has at last opened its doors and job, drinking that goob black stuff, talking, smoking and keeping rhythm with the juke box.

Our New Collegiate named by contest with the winner receiving a $5 meal book recieved its name from Will Crips. It represents all the modern features of our modern society. We admit that it is a wee bit small but is must be realized that an overlarge place would spoil the "lunchrloom" atmosphere. Then too the place is at its best when it is crowded, smoke filled and jumping with joy jive and boggy blues.

The new features of our "Colleg iate" include a large coffe urn which we hope will cut off the waiting line that forms a bottle neck after each class. The new stainless steel cabinets, working tables, grill and walling give the counter a gleaming look. The waffle irons were greeted heartily by the hot cake and waffle loving students. Food should taste better coming from gleaming surroundings like these

Seen in the Collegiate on opening morning were; Bobby Todd, Ernest She was president of the Home Eco-Adams, Lt. By Bob Hittish

MTSC wound up in fourth place in the VSAC tournament in Johnson City the same spot occupied in league play during the regular season . . . BEN CANADA was the only Raider to make the All-tournament team. Harry Gupton, who was unable to play in the Union game due to a bruised knee, had been placed at guard on the ALL-CONFERFNCE team compiled by Bill Tulloss of the Nashville Banner prior to the tournament. CANADA won his place largely on the 25 points he scored in the dissapointing game against Union University and to the manner in which he relieved Cox at the past in the final game against ETSC RAY COX came within one point of tying the all-time VSAC tournament record with his 33 points against LMU in the opening game . . . Most disappointed lad on the Raider team was GERALD JOHNSON, whose 10 per cent average on shots for the ETSC finale lowered his record for the season average and possibly was the difference in the game score. In this game the RAIDERS hit eight of nine free throws they were awarded. ETSC got 10 out of 20.
