Six MTSC students were elected as outstanding members of the senior class in the Associated Student Body Superlative Elections held on February 20 and 21. The voting was so close that only one clear majority was won in the first election. The other five were elected in a run-off race.

In the race for Miss MTSC, Mary Reed won over Barbara Harrington. This was the only race not requiring a run-off. Miss Reed is a home economics major from Manchester.

Bachelor of Ugliness is Bobby Cranford. Others nominated were Jimmy Dunlap and Charles Wallace. Mr. Cranford is a Business major from Columbia.

Catherine Ray won over Joyce Watson and Anne Hagewood for Most Popular Girl. She is a music major from Manchester.

Orchestra Recital Scheduled For 4 O'Clock Sunday

On Sunday afternoon, March 10, at four P. M. in the College Auditorium, the Music Department of Middle Tennessee State College will present the College Orchestra in Winter concert.

Featured will be a string quartet consisting of Lillian Hunt and Edward L. Tarpley, violins, Ovid Collins, Jr., viola, and Oscar Eller, violoncello. All are members of the Nashville Symphony Orchestra. The quartet will also assist the orchestra during the concert program.

The program promises to be an interesting one, opening with Wagner's stately Processional from Der Meistersinger, the refreshing Walter Music Suite by Handel follows. Then the orchestra turns to a modern composer, Ellis Kohen, for the Legent for Oboe and Strings, featuring Charlotte Free, oboist.

The immortal Beethoven should not, and is not overlooked, for the orchestra is playing his First Symphony. The London Suite by Eric Coates will conclude the program. The public is cordially invited.

ROTC Ball Date Changed to Mar. 19

by BARBARA ROGERS

On March 19 the annual ROTC Ball, which is considered by many to be the biggest dance of the year at Middle Tennessee State College, will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium from 8:00-12:00 p.m. This dance is sponsored by the Track and Sabre Club.

Originally the club planned for Glenn Miller Band to play for the ball, but this band was unavailable because of rehearsals for a television appearance. In its stead the Ralph Marterie Band was engaged. This change in bands necessitated changing the date of the ball from April 26 to March 19.

In electing a queen to reign over the ball, a committee of the Track and Sabre Club first chose twenty-five girls. A second committee then selected from these twenty-five girls a group of ten girls.

From this smaller group the entire Track and Sabre Club of about two hundred members elected a queen and four attendants. The queen whom they have chosen this year is Frances McBroom, a freshman from Woodbury. Her attendants are Sandra Sisson, a freshman from (Continued on page 2)

She recently appeared in leading role in the opera "The Marriage of Figaro" and also held the leading role in "Pagliacci" last year. She also has appeared on the MTSC stage in the productions of "The Bartered Bride" and "Cavalleria Rusticana".

Doug Williams Will Play March 18 On Talent Scout TV Show

Older students and faculty members at MTSC will be watching Channel 5 WLAC Monday, March 18 for Godfrey's Talent Scout show. As the marimba pupil of Margaret Wright he was in popular demand over Tennessee while a student here.

Douglas Williams, brilliant marimbist who graduated from MTSC in 1954 will appear on a program, which if he wins will advance him to national recognition as an entertainer almost overnight.

Since graduating from MTSC Williams has been attending UCLA working in music on the graduate level. He is now the pupil of Clair Musser.

Radio Club At MTSC Functions

"Hello CQ-CQ-CQ this is W4EFQ, the RAIDER RADIO CLUB, calling!" This call emits from what is probably the most continental organization on the campus, namely the RAIDER RADIO CLUB. It boasts of having joined by air waves our campus with all of the forty-eight states at least once, (many have been contacted scores of times), and by electronic travel the club has also skipped oceans at the fantastic speed of 186,000 miles per second to visit such places as the vibrant city of Rio de Janeiro, Dark Africa, Ireland, Gay Paree, Romania and a dozen more foreign lands.

The club's location is in a small room at the Northwest corner of the industrial arts building. Perhaps many of you have seen the large strange looking antenna on top of the roof at that corner of the building. It is at this location where the club maintains a high powered transmitter capable of encircling globe with "the voice of M.T.S.C."

Mr. Wade is trustee and co-sponsor of the Club, and Mr. Gonce, co-sponsor. Also both act as consultant instructors for members who might run into an electronic puzzle of a maze of wires, or a blown fuse. Gene Hardison is current President. He presides over the meetings which are held on the first Thursday of every month in the Electricity Shop.

To go on the air an operator must obtain an Amateur license from the FCC (Federal Communication Commission) in Washington, D. C. One of the requirements is to be able to send and receive at least five words per minute by Morse code for a Novice Amateur license. The speed of five words per minute can be obtained by steady practice of a few minutes a day. The Raider Radio Club has code practice equipment available if any one is interested in joining the Club and obtaining their license. Information concerning how to become a member of the Raider Radio Club can be had by contacting Mr. Wade, Mr. Gonce, any member, or by attending one of the regular scheduled meetings. If you would like to see the "Voice of M.T.S.C." on the air, drop by and visit the Club station during lunch time or any afternoon. There will usually be a member having a chat with a fellow "ham."

Besides the thrill of communicating with a foreign country there is the added peak of enjoyment attained by meeting new people. Radio amateurs come from all walks of life. When talking to someone on the air "he" might be a bulldozer driver or a president of a big corporation, and "she" might be a nun or a house wife. Occasionally you might run across a group of "rag chewers" that are discussing the pros and cons of a new government policy, or maybe the conversation will be centered on the fine art of rolling a cigarette with one hand. In any case an evening of solid enjoyment can be spent by visiting other Amateurs by air (Continued on Page 5)

Study Of Other Churches Made By Youth Group

At the beginning of the fall quarter the Church of Christ group decided to study for a period of time a series of lessons on one particular subject. A vote was taken on ten different subjects, and the majority voted to study a series of lessons about the different denominations of today. The group decided to study about the churches in this vicinity with which they were most familiar.

In order for the group to broaden their views and learn something of the history and the most predominant beliefs of these churches, they invited a person from each church group to speak about his church. Factual questions about anything which the group did not understand or about which they wanted to know would be asked at the conclusion of each talk. If the group desired, the discussion would be continued or explained more thoroughly the following week.

This plan of study has been used by the group for the fall and winter quarters. The speakers for these discussions have been Mr. Tom Hill, Dr. Elred Wiser, Dr. Douglas Shields, and Dr. Exum Watts, Church of Christ; Dr. Howard Kirksey, Baptist; Dr. Robert Corlew, Cumberland Presbyterian; Dean N. C. Beasley, Methodist; Dr. Frank Himes, Christian; and Father Kemper of the Catholic Church.

The group hopes that this plan of study has been profitable both to them and the other groups on the campus.

"Night Must Fall" Players Will Use British Accent

The date for the Buchanan Players presentation of "Night Must Fall" has been set for April 3, 4, and 5. "Night Must Fall" is a drama in three acts, written by Emlyn Williams. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. in the MTSC auditorium.

"Night Must Fall" is a psychological thriller — the study of a cold-blooded murderer whose deliberate and incredibly arrogant machinations prove as thrilling in book form as they do behind the footlights. The author, Emlyn Williams, wrote it, directed it, and played the leading role of Dan. Dan is a bellboy in a resort hotel remotely located in Essex, England. Having seduced Dora Parke, maid at Mrs. Bramson's cottage, he is summoned to the Bramson cottage. Such is his charm that Mrs. Bramson is immediately taken with him, adding him to her household servants. The murder of a guest at hotel is traced to Dan by Olivia, an unhappy niece of Mrs. Bramson's, who elects to shield the boy. Dan, grateful but powerless in the grip of his homicidal instincts, plots the murder of Mrs. Bramson for her money. The police take him away to be hanged, leaving Olivia relieved but desolate.

One of the features of the play will be the British accent used by the cast.

The cast consists of DeArnold Barnette as Dan. DeArnold is a senior from Jasper, Tennessee. He has appeared in several previous productions and has had quite a bit of stage experience. He has worked in summer stock and received a scholarship to the Plymouth Drama Festival in Plymouth, Mass. He is president of the Buchanan Players and a member of Alpha Psi Omega, the national honorary dramatic fraternity. DeArnold is also quite active in forensics. He recently won second place in the state for oratory.

Charlotte Gardner plays the role of Mrs. Bramson. Charlotte has also appeared in several previous plays and has been active in foren- (Continued on Page 8)

Bobby Cranford, standing at left, and Miss Mary Reed, center, won the coveted honors of Bachelor of Ugliness and Miss MTSC in the recent election. Tillman Harris, standing right, was named most popular boy. Seated are Miss Lillian Sue Richardson, most versatile girl, and Miss Catherine Ray, who won the title of most popular girl. Winston Bennett, elected most versatile boy, was sick at the time the picture was made.

EDITORIAL

LOST BY GRADUATION

"The midterm graduation at Middle Tennessee State College has an impact on Midstate sports . . . The roster of seniors lists ROBERT T. BROOKS of Chattanooga, whose name has never appeared in a Raider lineup, but who has played a big part in MTSC athletic doings . . . Bob is one of the best college sports statisticians these parts have ever seen, and a good portion of the many things that have been published concerning the Big Blue originated with him."

So wrote Johnny Havlicek in the March 3 Nashville Tennessean. This is a justly deserved tribute.

Gene Sloan, publicity director of the college, recently stated: "Bob Brooks followed Johnny DuVal and Don Whitfield, two exceptionally fine men, as sports editor of the SIDE-LINES and sports publicist for the collegiate athletic program."

A keen sense of news value, a brilliant writing style, the happy facility of complete co-operation with coaches, officials and area publicity men and sports writers made him one of the best liked men in the business. Brooks was largely responsible for the publicity brochures, the mailing of 75 weekly releases to newspapers and radio, the arranging of local and Nashville radio appearances for Raider athletes. His accurate and timely data caused him to be so widely appreciated that his refusal to accept a recent and very lucrative offer as a professional sports writer left that craft the loser.

"Roy Crabtree has been understudying Brooks during the football and basketball seasons. He is now the college student sports publicist and is fully capable of maintaining the exceptionally high standards established by his three immediate predecessors," Mr. Sloan continued.

LOST BY PROMOTION

The loss of Lee Sadler as sports editor of the Daily News Journal is another severe blow to the college sports publicity program. An alumnus of rival Tennessee Tech Sadler has been one of the most loyal supporters of the Raiders in the three years he has been in Murfreesboro. We rejoice in his promotion but recognize the distinct loss of a good and loyal friend of MTSC. His successor is Carl Holder, an MTSC student. It is good to know that the brilliant coverage of MTSC sports will be continued by one familiar to our traditions and loyal to our program.

LOST BY RESIGNATION

Midway through preparations for the last edition of the SIDE-LINES editor Bob Kerley and make-up editor Jack Smith tendered resignations to the Publications committee of the college.

It is with regret that the committee and fellow staff members received the announcement of these resignations of key personnel. Kerley felt that "my primary aim in getting an education" was suffering from the many duties of assignment checking, copy writing, copy reading, proof reading and the hundred and one chores necessary to the production of the SIDE-LINES requires. Smith, who had done an excellent job as makeup editor, found his staff work was requiring more attention than he could afford to give it.

A loyal staff, with Shirley Minter and Janet Lewis acting as associate editors, produced the last edition of the SIDE-LINES with only one day delay from the usual publication schedule. Today's paper, a fine response came from each member of the staff and we believe the spring quarter will find an enthusiastic, co-operative staff giving complete and timely coverage of all campus activities.

This is an open invitation to any student of the college to contribute items from single sentence personals to illustrated feature stories. The SIDE-LINES is your newspaper—and that is what it should be—a NEWSPAPER.

If you know of an engagement announcement, a wedding, a party, a club speech, a musician, speaker or teacher appearing in a home town church, club or school, an MTSC student or alumnus who wins recognition anywhere, please leave us a note in the Publications Office or in Box 511 at the MTSC post office. If someone sprains an ankle, writes a poem, or makes a better mousetrap we want to know it.

News from, of and by commuters and married couples, news of Murfreesboro and Rutherford county students is especially desired.

We will welcome any man or woman from the student body as a staff member. The one requirement—will you write the news?

ZUT

by Alton Ellis

This column has on more than one occasion given an impression of the shoddy writer ranks, particularly in the field of commercial propaganda for electronic communication. Every day we are being assaulted on every side by what is termed by one literary giant as "Meatballism". I have just smuggled out some of the tawdry trash scheduled for the ears of the innocent, and if your girl suddenly decides that she doesn't really need that mink pillow or those genuine imported Zulu earrings, perhaps you might thank me.

You might like to know of a sample of the lovelies I fished out of channels 4, 5, and 8. Here is a selected few of the maddening commercials:

"GIVE Easterbrook! The only one in its field that matches any style or wrist perfectly—personally. What is more uniquely pleasurable than his or her very own Easterbrook? What better way is there to let HER know you care? So this St. Patrick's day GIVE Easterbrook—the finest in precision made toothpicks."

"YOU MUST GET new green BLAB-O, it's instant! For this special sale the price is slashed 2c on every dozen big, BIG cans of BLAB-O. Instant new BLAB-O contains bleach and carries the Good Housekeeping seal of approval. Keep clean with new, green, BLAB-O tooth powder!"

"In just one day—Your hands can tell you've changed to new pink liquid VELK. VELK contains no harsh alkalis to roughen, red den hands and VELK's active ingredients are 100% grease-cutting. No other liquid can match VELK's speed, economy, and pink madness. Makes quick work of dishes and pans for it dissolves them on contact, so keep your grubby paws away cause you won't have any roughen and reddened hands, you'll just have a nub."

"Friends, the Wily Messenger would like to bring for you to read in the seclusion of your own home, the Wily Message of relief. Yes, if you have been bothered by nagging aches and pains shooting through your yellow back, or had pains in your neck the Wily Message is for you. Reading won't stop the pain, but it will give you something to do; and if you fill out and send us the coupon on the back page of the Wily Message, we will send you C.O.D. a fifth of 100 proof, guaranteed to make a horse forget to neigh or a G.A.R. vet learn how to calypso."

"Ladies, now is the time to get your selection of our special 180 lb. test wool knitting yarn. Not a skimpy 2 ounces but a big 2.56 oz. skein. So get a ream or two today of this moth repellent, acid resistant, genuine monkey wool we have on hand. It's a big $2.00 buy for only $1.99. Use it for keeping your husband home, keeping Rover in the yard, as a gift for your Bay-sitter, or for roping the family cattle."

"Girls, have you landed your man? If not, why not join our Lonely Hearts Club where we will let you in on the secrets of the trade. Would you like to meet a tall, dark, and homely man? Neither would we. So call for an appointment and we will give you our little book, "Unmarried Men and Their Weaknesses". tele. TW 3-3729.

You can imagine the impact such advertisements will have on life if these horrible commercials aren't stopped. Hordes of women massing for a sudden rush on stores who carry such things as Vitalice, mouthwash, or Craft's adhesive tape. Children muttering dire threats when their supply source runs out of Old Grandad Lollypops, or pink shoelaces. Men, can you not see the dangers presented to our unwitting gender when they believe that they should apply for their Social Security number because it is a Bachelor Raffle? This brain-washing must cease.

The engagement of Miss Carolyn Medora Smoot of Oklahoma City and Lt. Thomas Lee Tucker of Shelbyville was announced this past week. Miss Smoot is a senior at MTSC.

Lawrence The Second In The Land of WAAJ10MOFI

by Bill Davis

Janet Lewis asked me the other day if I would write another article for the Sidelines. I replied that I would if she wouldn't throw it in the trash can as she did the last one. So here I am again.

Since America has just been honored by the visit of the reigning Monarch of Saudi Arabia and since the situation in the Middle East commands much attention in the news of the day, I thought that I might write an article to brief the military minded souls who may have the honor of visiting that sunny clime.

First of all, you may wonder what I know about the Middle East. Well, you see, it happened like this.

Back in 1952 I was a happy young Air Force Corporal stationed in New Jersey with no place to go except to small hamlets like New York, Philadelphia, and the like, and besides the overseas bug was breathing down my neck. So when a year tour of duty in Saudi Arabia came up, I volunteered for it. I was sitting over in the supply quadron orderly room at McGuire, thinking that no one but myself would volunteer for such a place, when the orderly room rushed another volunteer. This other sucker happened to be none other than my old pal and fellow MTSC-een, Jimmy Wall. Two volunteers for Saudi Arabia threw the orderly room into panic. First Sergeant Tony Turowski swore he'd lay off of that NCO club booze, and the Captain thought he'd better trot off to see the base psychiatrist, but we informed them that it was for real and that we actually wanted to go. In reality, the only reason we had wanted to go was the fact that we had seen a movie from the Arabian Nights a few nights before, and this movie had starred as Dancing Girls none other than Piper Laurie and another luscious lovelie, whose name I forget, but whose face and shape I shall remember always.

Needless to say, Wall's luck held out, and I got the assignment. And since this thing is going to be far too long for one issue of the Sidelines, I think I'll just hold you in suspense about what happened to him, but I will tell you he didn't go to Saudi Arabia.

Travellers to Saudi Arabia go there on official business; you don't just get shipped there. You have to have a passport, and that takes time, and brother, do you have vaccinations and inoculations! By the time the fellows got through with me I could hide a deck of pinochle cards in the hole in my good right arm, but I was on my way, I thought.

I told you this would be a serial; tune in next week for another episode in the adventures of Shiek Bill Ali Davis as he visits the Land of Waajid Mofi and buys him a new pair of shoes. And oh, yes, save the box tops from your boxes of Filiboid Stodge, I may have a special offer in the next issue.

President Smith In Chicago For Meeting

President Q. M. Smith of Middle Tennessee State College will spend March 3-6 in Chicago where he will participate in the conference in the conference on higher education at the Congress hotel.

President Smith will work in two fields, a study of "State Organization of Higher Education" and with a group studying the adjustments in administrative organization to meet expansion and development needs.

SCUTTLEBUT —

by Franklin C. Gardner

Veterans isn't it a shame the way the attendance at club meetings has been lately? The past few meetings we have had some terrific speakers who have given us some very useful knowledge pertaining to Vets benefits and the Reserve programs. Among our speakers were Dr. Martin, who spoke on the American Legion. Dr. Martin thanked us for our glasses fund in a very good speech.

Another who have spoken to us was Capt. Kissonring, Sewart Air Force Base, orated about the Air Force Reserve.

There are some more good orators coming our way. Our meetings are held every Tuesday at 11:00 in room 309 in the Ad building. Each and every Vet is urged to attend these meetings I am sure we all will prosper much from these talks.

Most of you aren't even aware of the project of our Vet's Club. Well I shall proceed to tell you. We plan to have a showcase and plaque in the new library and we intend to put war trophies in it, if we can get it through. Miss Clark has already approved the showcase and Plaque.

We intend to start book swapping at the beginning of each quarter beginning this next quarter. Anyone interested in saving money is urged to bring his books and attend the first meeting of the quarter. That meeting will be held on the 19th of March at eleven o'clock.

The R.O.T.C. department has been working very close with us and helped us considerably, thanks Major. Well I'll sign off for now See you Tuesday, F. C. Gordan, commander Vets Club.

EDS and COEDS

by Mary Frances Wright

HI!

Here's hoping you are successfully ending a most pleasant and profitable quarter. Your Eds and Coeds column is getting back into full swing and hopes to bring to you some of your more interesting and outstanding students.

Speaking of interesting students, there is someone we would like for you to meet. If you don't meet him now, you're likely to miss a good opportunity because he completes his work here at MTSC this quarter. Harold Ray, hails from Old Hickory, Tennessee, where he graduated from Dupont High School in 1952. He entered MTSC in 1952. His work has not completed here when he decided to drop out for awhile and become assistant pastor of Ensor Memorial Methodist Church in Old Hickory. One year later, he became pastor of Dycus Circuit, where he is presently serving. He re-entered MTSC in the Winter of 1955, where he is receiving his degree with a major in social science. He is a member of the Methodist Student Movement and also debates for the Speech Arts Society. After graduation, Harold plans to enter Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Kentucky, to prepare himself to be a traveling evangelist.

Harold's favorite pastimes are farming and working with young people. His hobbies include both wood carving and taxidermy. The qualities that he admires most in people are sincerity, unselfishness and self confidence, and his favorite quotations is Matthew 6:33. MTSC appeals to Harold because he says that everyone has equal opportunities to attain an education if they will only take advantage of them.

POP Initiation Banquet Is Held

Members and the guests of Gamma Chi Chapter of Pi Omega Pi held their annual initiation-banquet Saturday, February 23, at the Education Building of the First Methodist Church. Ten pledges and one honorary member were initiated. Those initiated were: Robert Bailey, Robert Bigoney, Martha Collins, James Green, William Green, Willard Mills, James Redd, Bobby Taylor, Marvin Thompson, and Calvin Watkins. Mr. H. Earle Reese was initiated as an honorary member. The initiation rites were conducted by Mary Cook, Charles Freeman, Sue Richardson, Jarman Arnold, and Bobby Cranford.

Dean Brasley brought greetings from the administration, and Ted Sanders, an alumni member, gave a report on the national Pi Omega Pi convention which he attended in Chicago during the Christmas vacation. Mr. Midgett, head of the Business Administration Department, introduced the guest speaker Dr. Francis H. Deter.

The subject Dr. Deter, Chief, Psychology Service, Veterans' Administration Hospital, used was Perception. In his talk he stated that we really do not see what we think we see, and that our prejudices make us see things quite differently from what they really are. As an illustration he told the story of a paranoiac that had a persecution complex. He felt rejected by the world and in rationalizing why he was rejected he turned himself into a Jew, in his own mind, because the Jews had been a persecuted people. This paranoiac made a series of forty-eight paintings, three of which Dr. Deter used as an illustration showing the progressive changes as this person was changed into a Jew. Picture number twelve showed him as a Jewish person, picture number thirty-six showed him as an extraordinarily persecuted rabbi. He went on to say that by picture number forty-eight he had even changed himself into Jesus Christ, the most persecuted Jew of all.

Some fallacies of perception Dr. Deter mentioned were the fact that when we see a person has one outstanding feature we associate with that person many other desirable traits, such as, honesty, leadership, aggressiveness, and romanticism, which he may or may not have. Somewhat opposite of this theory is the "dumb blonde" theory people have. Because a girl is extremely beautiful we sometimes think that she should have some off-setting characteristics such as being dumb, when actually a beautiful blonde may be intelligent and have outstanding abilities, none of these traits being because she was a beautiful blonde or because she was homely. He stated that our prejudices cause us to form a mental picture of a person just because one might say he is a northerner, a southerner, a Jew, a Methodist, or a Negro. Actually none of these words should cause us to form a mental picture of the person without knowing the particular person, because none of the words have any meaning just as words.

Dr. Deter said that the framers

Coach Ed Diddle, Jr.'s Blue Raiders closed their 1956-57 basketball slate with a close 86-82 loss to Western Kentucky. The Raiders played one of their finest games of the season against the conference co-champion Hilltopper quintet.

Reviewing the season, Coach Diddle and his cagers are to be complimented on the fine job they did in both conferences. The team ended the campaign with 12 wins and 13 losses, and won the VSAC Tournament while making this record.

While on the subject of the VSAC Tournament, it must be mentioned that center Jerry Hurst and forward John Price were selected on the All-Tourney team.

Many fans who witnessed the tourney thought either Price or Hurst should have been the Most Valuable Player. The MVP selection is made by the coaches, with each mentor picking what he considers the top 10 players in the tourney.

The players are listed on the ballot in the order the coach considers the top player, to the tenth best, with the first place cager collecting 10 points and the tenth player receiving one point. The one receiving the greatest number of points from the nine ballots was chosen as the Most Valuable.

Jerry Hurst placed fourth in the Most Valuable point collection. He was selected by every coach on the All-Tourney team, but collected most of his points in the middle brackets.

Hurst was one of the tournament's top scorers with 47 points, and was the leading rebounder with 48.

Price received votes of four of the nine ballots, and was listed as the top player by two coaches. His lowest selection was seventh.

Leading the tournament scoring with a 61 point output, Price might have been given the award had the voting been done at the end instead of half-time of the final game. He tossed in 19 points against Union, 22 in the Austin Peay victory, and 20 against defending tournament champion East Tennessee.

All of the Raider starters had good averages in the tournament. Guard Ted York averaged 17.6, Forward Frank "Slim" Davis 10.3, and Guard Bob Williamson 9.6.

The NASHVILLE BANNER'S 1957 College All-Midstate basketball squad was released recently and John Price received a first place forward slot. The team was chosen by the coaches of the six area schools (Belmont, Lipscomb, MTSC, Sewanee, Tennessee Tech and Austin Peay).

Jerry Hurst and Bob Williamson were given berths on the second team, and Oscar Fitzgerald was a honorable mention selection.

Middle Tennessee has picked up its tenth football opponent for the coming season. The Raiders will open with Florence State on September 14. The contest will be played at Florence.

VSAC Tournament Won By MTSC Blue Raiders

Coach Ed Diddle Jr.'s Blue Raiders rocked East Tennessee State 83-74 to bring the Volunteer State Athletic Conference Tournament championship to MTSC. The Bucs were the defending champions of the tournament.

Middle Tennessee had to come from behind twice to down the East Tennesseans. They pulled from a 25-19 deficit in the last seven and a half minutes of the first half, and tied it at 35-35 with 1:11 left. Herb Edmonds put the Bucs back in front 37-35 before the buzzer sounded at halftime.

When play resumed for the second half, the Raiders looked like a different team. Consecutive field goals by Center Jerry Hurst, Forward John Price, and Forward Frank "Slim" Davis put them four points ahead, and they held on until 13:45 remained on the clock.

East Tennessee tied the count again at 52-52, but five minutes later the Raiders had gained a 10 point 67-57 lead. The Bucs refused to be counted out and scored 13 points while the Raiders could account for only one field goal by Davis. The Buc 70-69 lead was with three and a half minutes left.

Middle Tennessee then took charge and scored 13 points while the Johnson City quintet stood still. Ted York and Bob Williamson accounted for this rally with 11 points between them, but it was Oscar Fitzgerald's field goal that first pulled the Raiders back in front.

Price was the top scorer for Middle Tennessee with 20 points, while three other mates were also in the double figures. York tossed in 19, Davis 16, and Hurst accounted for 14.

Both teams had amazing shooting from the field. MTSC hit 50 per cent of its attempts, and East Tennessee hit a good 48.7 percentage.

Four Blue Raiders had doubles figure scoring to pace Middle Tennessee to a 84-65 victory over Union University in the first round of the VSAC tournament.

Center Jerry Hurst's 21 points was high for the Raiders. His teammates Ted York, John Price, and Bob Williamson had 20, 19, and 11 points, respectively.

As it has been for many of the latest Raider contests, the Big Blue did most of their damage in the second half. After holding a slim 43-41 margin at intermission, the Diddlemen held their opponents to 24 points in the last period while they scored 41.

Union managed to hold the lead for the first ten minutes of play. The Jackson quintet grabbed an early 6-0 lead after three minutes of play, and held a 21-15 advantage midway in the period. The two teams made it nip-and-tuck for the remainder of the half.

A field goal by Forward Johnny Orr shortly after the second period opened put the Union team ahead 44-43. Price and Frank Davis scored 10 points between them while Union failed to score, and the Raiders were on their way.

MTSC stretched the margin to 80-60 with a minute and a half left, and Diddle let his subs end the contest.

Hurst was the main gun in the rebounding department with 18 grabs.

Guard Don Bishop and Forward Eddie Truett led the Union attack. Bishop tossed in 18 of his 20 points during the first half, and Truett posted 17 for the losers.

Star Returnees, New Talent Make Golf Outlook Good

by Ralph Englert

Around the 19th hole these days there has been talk of a new golf prospect who will report to Coach Elbert Patty this spring. He is Jimmy Ragor, who is coming to MTSC from Old Hickory, Tennessee, where he showed his skill at the game while a student at DuPont High School.

But, the conversation doesn't center around this one individual alone. Such stars as Marty Graham, David "Doc" Tant, and Richard Smith also deserve much praise for bringing home the VSAC, OVC, and TIAA championships last year. Other prospective members of the team include Ski DeArmen and James White.

"Prospects for the 1957 golf team are as good or better than last year," said Coach Elbert Patty.

Graham, who was elected to captain this year's squad is one of the finest linkmen to perform at MTSC. While a student at Father Ryan High in Nashville, he took part in many local tournaments and made an impressive showing. "Doc" Tant also competed in several tournaments while at East High and he has been a great asset here at Murfreesboro.

This year's team will play in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament at Athens, Georgia as well as the OVC in Richmond, Kentucky, TIAA in Jackson, Tennessee and the VSAC. And, with such a well balanced attack the Blue Raiders should have little trouble defending their championships.

"Formal practice will get under way March 18th," said Coach Patty and anyone that should be interested in trying out for the team will apply to me in the new gym," he said.

Spring Football Attracts 64 Men; Several Are New

Coach Charles "Bubber" Murphy, of Middle Tennessee State College, was greeted by 64 football candidates for spring practice this past week.

Among these 64 candidates, are 22 returning lettermen, plus a fine group of freshmen and transfer students.

After five days of practice, Murphy put his chargers through their first full scale scrimmage. And the aftermath showed a lack of experience at two positions. These being the fullback and line backing positions.

"I will have a hard time finding a blocker as good as Terry Sweeney," Murphy said. He was referring to his Little All-American fullback.

There are three boys in the running for this position. These are Carlton Galbreath, Roy Hall, and David Patterson, plus the possibility of Gerald Willis, a returning serviceman, being switched to fullback.

Bright spots, in the scrimmage, were at the tackle and end positions with All-OVC tackle Jerry DeLucca leading the parade, plus the tremendous pass catching ability of G. E. McCormack.

Coach Murphy was well pleased with the running ability of David Pitts, a 165 pound speedster from Fayetteville, Tennessee, and Johnny Moore, ex-Litton star, who transferred from Wake Forest University.

Raiders Drop 86-82 Battle To Hilltoppers

Middle Tennessee's Blue Raiders dropped a close 86-82 decision to Western Kentucky Saturday night to close their 1956-57 basketball slate. The Raiders ended the season with 12 wins and 13 losses.

Western gained a tie for the Ohio Valley basketball championship with the victory, finishing with a 9-1 mark. Morehead, the co-champion, had already finished their season with the same record.

Soon after the game ended, Coach Ed Diddle Sr. announced his team would waive its right to a playoff against Morehead for the right to represent the OVC in the NCAA tournament. Two Hilltopper players are four-year men and thereby ineligible. Forward Bob Daniels and guard Ronnie Clark are the players being referred to by Mr. Diddle. Both played as freshmen.

Western built up a 10 point, 43-33 advantage at halftime after Middle Tennessee had taken a brief one point lead midway in that period. The Hilltoppers took their biggest lead of the night after the start of the second period. They grabbed a 14 point, 49-35 advantage shortly after the intermission.

Middle Tennessee kept fighting back and, with the help of substitute Jim Burks, who tossed in 12 of MTSC's 19 points, gave the 'toppers more than they had bargained for.

Big Ralph Crossthaite and guard Owen Lawson paced the Hilltopper attack. Crossthaite hit 18 of 19 free throws and added six field goals for 30 points. Lawson scored all twenty of his points from the field.

Ted York and Jerry Hurst were the offensive guns for the Blue Raiders. York ripped the net for 24 points while Hurst hit 23. Frank "Slim" Davis was the game's leading rebounder with 12.

Western hit a sizzling 48.3 per cent of its shots while the Raiders registered a 36.8 percentage. Both teams had 40 rebounds.

'Russia' Theme of Dr. Baldwin's Talk Before IRC Group

by PEGGY HARRISON

Thursday evening the International Relations Club met at 7:00 o'clock in the Ad building. The program was given by Dr. Ed Baldwin. His discussion was on the USSR, topic of vital interest to us today.

The country we usually think of as Russia in not really one of that title today, he said. This was the term applied to this country before 1917-1921. It was at this time that it became known officially as the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic.

There are sixteen separate so-called republics that go into this union. Although it is a union, it isn't one such as we know in this country, Dr. Baldwin explained.

The word SOVIET in the Russian language means the same thing as council in our nation.

The present Soviet is a socialistic government. By this we mean common ownership of land factories, and the like, Dr. Baldwin declared.

These republics are a union having socialistic government. Their soviets, or councils are set apart as in our states, the speaker continued.

Only a person in good standing with the communist party are considered in the people. These loyal, staunch communists elect their council which in turn elect councils on up to National level. The Kremlin might be compared to our official set-up in Washington. It is the center of government activity.

Each republic sets up certain laws of its own comparable to our local governments here. Certain laws of course are delegated from national level.

"Russia is the greatest nation in size and the largest in population in the world," Dr. Baldwin stated.

Dr. Baldwin posed the question of whether or not it might be possible in the future that the U. S. and Russia be living side by side with the same philosophy.

Despite being bitter enemies, he said that we might both be drifting in same direction. He believes we are becoming more socialistic.

Dr. Baldwin said that Russia has begun to recognize personal property and the fact that they will eventually have to let the masses

Engineering Club Hear A. T. Granger Cite Achievements

Dean A. T. Granger, Dean of the University of Tennessee's Engineering school, addressed the Engineering Society last Thursday. In the address, which was entitled "The Characteristics of the Engineering Profession", the Dean pointed out that the work of the engineer has contributed much toward the difference between civilization now and that of 150 years ago. Assuredly, one of the outstanding characteristics of the profession is the ability to make such a contribution. This ability, he stated, comes about through the marriage of art and science in the engineering personality. Much of engineering that is done today uses a considerable amount of precedent and experience which art contributes to the field, but must be based on scientific principles. In other words, the engineer takes the discoveries of science and applies them to practical use.

Dean Granger pointed to the use of the hands as an aid to the head, rather than the head as an aid to the hands, as a characteristic that distinguishes the professional men, from the skilled tradesman. In his work, the engineer will be expected to engage in, preliminary explorations, appraisals, estimates of cost, studies of the feasibility of projects, design, preparation of

Ag Club Orders Keys, Plans Dance, Farmers Field Day

Well, Jesse Safley of the Nashville Banner continues to write interesting and true articles about the college farm, and its very true that good publicity like Jesse's never hurts anyone. It seems that with all the complimentary publicity the Agriculture department has been receiving this year and the fine departmental staff we have been building up over the past few years, 1957 should be a banner year. For instance, if nature keeps sending these abundant showers our way, we'll have more water in the soil than in many years. Then too, with more high school seniors hearing of the advantages that they may have by choosing Middle Tennessee State College as their "Cow College", we should be welcoming a record number of Freshman when the gates of learning swing open in the Fall.

The Agriculture Club is going great guns at the present time. Last week the club met and approved the Agriculture club em and also voted to sign a contract with Lowe and Campbell to produce club keys for the members desiring them.

The next main item on the Agriculture Clubs agenda is the Square plans and specifications, supervision of construction, maintenance, and operations.

Dance which will be held on Monday night March fourth in the old gymnasium with starting time listed as 7:30 p.m. The admission prices have been changed from the Usual 50c ticket to 25c per person. As has been the clubs' policy with it's square dances, the dancing will be to live music. I'm sure that the people who missed the Farmer's Frolic in the fall will not want to miss this one.

Another project will begin in the Spring Quarter which we hope will increase the Agriculture Department enrollment. Members of the Club will be returning to their High School Alma Maters to talk to the boys interested in the further study of Agriculture, and pointing out the them the advantages of Middle Tennessee State College.

Then of Department wide, Collegewide and Statewide interest is the upcoming "Farmer's Field Day". Farmers Field day is an annual event, which brings to Middle Tennessee State College and to Middle Tennessee Agricultural circles some of the most outstanding personages in American Agriculture. It is the belief of this writer and of the Agriculture Department Staff that this Field Day will be the biggest yet, both in the events that are scheduled and in the caliber of speakers.

by Chester Field

From four foot six to six foot three!
And I insist, my ideal queen
Be plump or slim or in-between.
Redhead, brunette, or blonde" . . . said he,
"I won't complain if she's a she."
