Six Students Visit Eastern Galleries

Six Middle Tennessee State College students visited eastern art galleries last week as a part of a tour sponsored by the Peabody College art department.

Robert Barham III, Nashville; Jere L. Chumley, Nashville; Linda Hayes, Murfreesboro; William Ernest Hunter, Lebanon; Doris Anderson, Gallatin, and Shelby Jean Martin, Manchester, accompanied Fred J. Rubens of the MTSC art department on the tour.

The Scenic-Cruiser bus met the MTSC at 4 p.m., Wednesday, November 9, and arrived in Washington at 10 o'clock Thursday. Following lunch, the group toured the National Museum of Art and visited the Smithsonian and other places of interest.

A tour of Greenwich Village, the 57th Street galleries, and the Museum of Modern Art occupied their attention on November 12. Evening concerts and a theater also filled the busy schedule.

Nation Follows MTSC In Kennedy's Election

By June Carole Vickery

The sophomore class's presidential "election," consisting of jars labeled "Nixon" and "Kennedy" placed in dormitories, Student Union, and other campus buildings, gave an accurate prediction.

Votes were cast by dropping a penny in the jar of the candidate of one's choice.

TALENT SHOW SET

The annual talent show sponsored by the Veterans Club will be Thursday, November 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

It has been reported that this year's show will consist of some ten to twelve acts. There will be entertainment between acts by noted entertainers.

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from any member of the Veterans Club.

Art Prints From Japan Are Exhibited

A large group of Japanese prints, on loan from Mr. T. T. Kitagawa, art importer, comprise the first Art Exhibition of the year 1960-61.

These art works will be on view in the Art Gallery on the second floor of the Fine Arts Building through November 20. Gallery hours are 8-5 Monday through Friday and 8-12 on Saturday.

The works on display present a good capsule view of the traditional Japanese attitudes and efforts in art. Of particular note is the work of the three great nineteenth century artists, Hokusai, Hiroshige and Gesso. This is an important period in the history of Japanese art and the work of these three are the high points in the period.

The Oriental attitude toward art has never included the mimetic imagery that dominated western art from the Renaissance until the late nineteenth century. Rather, it has always leaned toward stylization and the expressionistic tendencies that have become so important in the art of the twentieth century.

Phi Omega Takes Eight Members

Pi Omega Pi, national business honor fraternity, initiated eight new members in ceremonies in Dining Room B on Monday, November 7, following a "Dutch treat" supper.

Richard Dotson, president of the local chapter, presided.

Plans were made by the entire group for the continuation of the coat-checking service begun at the homecoming dance and for sending a delegate to the national Pi Omega Pi convention in Chicago in December.

Dorm Judging Ends In Tie For First Spot

By Sandra Barrett
News Editor

MTSC homecoming was held on November 5 with Betty Caudill reigning as queen. In the earlier part of the day a parade was held, during which time bands from this area performed and floats sponsored by the various clubs on campus were viewed by many spectators who crowded the streets of downtown Murfreesboro.

Two o'clock was the kickoff time for the Raiders on Jones Field when they met the Thoroughbreds from Murray State and raced them for a victory of 20-3.

Pre-game ceremonies were presented by the area high school bands completing in a contest for rating. Murfreesboro Central High was selected as the number one band in the large classification.

During the half-time ceremonies, Queen Betty and her attendants, Margaret Cantrell, Sonia Willis, Irene Carter and Carol Ann Northern, were presented to the fans.

Winners for the float and dorm decoration contest were also announced. Although small in numbers, the agriculture boys made big noises. A spur of the moment idea, backed with solid thinking and honest hard work, resulted in the best homecoming float, "Addition to Thoroughbreds Cemetery," with original ideas in decorating. A group of weeping, tear-dropping mourners trailing the float had parade spectators laughing from deep within.

Hugh Parker president of the Block and Bridle Club, did a commendable job on organizing and supervising the construction of the float. Hugh had some enthusiastic assistance from members of the club.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR - - - Europe, Anyone?

To the Editor:

I would like to bring you up to date on ASIS. This past summer we placed 509 college students in jobs throughout Europe. In total, 603 students and teachers participated in our program.

I feel this not only represents a significant increase from the 28 students in 1958, and the 303 in 1959, but that it also bears out the measure of our success in furthering the ASIS goals: to promote better international understanding through practical application, educational and recreational activities.

The enclosed literature contains students' comments and a complete list of the participants and their universities. You will also see the new ASIS program for 1961 which includes the various summer jobs we are offering in Europe.

It may aid you in counseling your students to know that 65% of our summer jobs are located in two countries — Germany and France. The remaining positions are almost equally distributed throughout England, Switzerland, Austria, Scandinavia and Spain.

We would appreciate your co-operation in placing these opportunities before your student body. Our program particularly appeals to those students and faculty members who are sincerely interested in furthering international understanding.

Moves By Methodists—

To The Editor:

The Wesley Foundation, the Methodist church on campus, is ready for the biggest year ever! A new house, regular Wednesday night programs, "chat and chew," prayer cells, communion on Monday morning, a choir, dramatics, a Bible study and many other activities are on the agenda for this year.

The foundation has finally found a meeting place to call their own. The house is located right off campus on Bell Street and should be perfect to meet our needs. Rev. Joel Underwood, our director, will live on the second floor, and the first floor and basement will be for the foundation. This house should be a boon to the foundation in helping us to carry out God's work.

"Confere" is the Wesley Foundation's paper. It is edited by Linda Dantrell, who does a fine job in getting the news and other information to our readers. All Methodists are not on the mailing list yet, but they will be in the near future.

We are going to start the week off by having communion on Monday morning at 7 o'clock. We will have it in room 116 of the SUB until we move into our house. Everyone is invited.

On Tuesday evening at 4:00 p.m., the choir of the Wesley group meets. So far the girls have outnumbered the boys a great deal so we would like to see more boys out next Tuesday. Dr. Baldwin is our director.

Wednesday evening is our regular program night. We are meeting in 316 of the SUB until our new building is ready. Some interesting and stimulating programs are planned for this year. We hope that all Methodists will take advantage of the wholesome and spiritually enriching fellowship of our Wednesday evening programs.

Thursday evenings the Wesley group has two activities planned. At 4 p.m. Rev. Underwood will teach a Bible course in the old music building in the west room off of the lobby. The course is designed to help the student know the Bible better by studying and stimulating discussion. At 5:15 is our "chat and chew." The kids will meet in the downstairs lobby of the SUB and as a group go through the cafeteria line and up on the second floor to the faculty coffee lounge where they will eat and fellowship together.

Our group is also trying to organize prayer cells in those dorms that don't already have them. Short nightly devotions that would change from room to room each night is the plan. Any person interested in this should contact one of the council members.

The dramatics group of the Wesley Foundation has not started rehearsal yet, but they will in the near future. The play will be "Murder in the Chancel."

As a person might gather from all this, the Wesley Foundation is trying to reach more people all days of the week. It is our belief that God's work can't be done just Wednesday evening and Sunday.

Jones Men Dance, Compare Steps

By Bill Hunter

Ranking high on the Jones Hall Hit Parade is "New Orleans" by the U.S. Bonds. The rock 'n roll beat of this swinger causes an uproar in Jones. The boys compare their different dance steps and even try to catch on to new ones. Bill Brown is an expert at his favorite, the Chattanooga hunch, while Bobby Mason insists that the chicken looks the best. The twist is also a popular step among the boys.

Jones Hall is represented in other fields of music besides dancing. Ed Hoge plays with the Gators, a popular Nashville combo. David Karaker, a whiz on the harmonica, is playing with a newly organized MTSC combo.

Now that exams are over, most of the boys at Jones will be thinking about the upcoming holidays. Everyone will be going home for turkey dinner and four days of freedom from school. Quite a few will be going to the Raider-Tech game to help support the Big Blue.

Shining brass and fancy footwork on the dance floor characterize one of MTSC's leading students, Jay Hickey.

Jay attended White County High School in Sparta, Tennessee, where he had an excellent record.

CHRISTIAN STUDENT VIEWPOINT

On Church Loyalty—

In one of our most familiar nursery rhymes, Humpty Dumpty fell from the wall and crashed into pieces. This could have been prevented had he not been on top of the wall, but perhaps the reason he was there was because he could not decide which side he wished to be on. Could it be that Humpty Dumpty had a severe case of divided loyalty?

Webster defines loyalty as that "state of being faithful to those . . . ideals that one is under obligation to defend or support." Everywhere we turn during these days, we hear pleas for loyalty to ones country, school, and family. Everyone is urged to get on the bandwagon and uphold our institutions. It may well be that in our rush we have forgotten our most sacred loyalty — the loyalty we should feel toward our God and His church.

It has become popular in our age to go to church. Everyone does it, but simply attending a worship service does not indicate any particular desire to live one way or another. The time has come to decide which direction our loyalty will go — to which ideals we will devote our time and energy. There can be no great accomplishment unless definite decisions are made. Decisions in relation to our religious life are no less important and necessary. Our churches need our sincere interest and support; but, more important than this, we need the proper relationship with our Church for the good it can do in our own lives.

The time for deciding what we are to be should be begin and the time for conformity should end. We must live what we profess to be or profess to be what we live.

Les Femmes—

. Historians may well record the 1960 presidential race as the time Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy said,

"I do not spend $30,000 a year on my clothes. I couldn't spend that much unless I wore sable underwear. I probably spend less than Mrs. Nixon."

. . . To which Pat replied, "I buy my clothes off the rack." If this is not enough to make any self-respecting voter grit his teeth and rush for the nearest slow-boat-anywhere, insult has been heaped on injury. The gray-flannel-suiters, whose effects in the campaign are all too obvious, have inaugurated a "Pat Week." Mrs. Thelma Ryan Nixon ("Pat" to those who love her) will be honored for seven glorious days. This is exactly the panacea needed for a campaign which has been in its death throes since it began.

Mr. Kennedy, alone and "expecting" in Hyannis Port, may be deeply wounded by the consideration of her Republican foes toward Mrs. N and the lack of motherly love displayed by her husband's Democratic cohorts. Why, there hasn't even been one "Jumping Jupiter, We Need Jackie" button on display, while all conscientious Republicans are sporting "Pat for First Lady" pins.

With this "hurrah for the ladies" fetish so dominant, the electorate will need constant reminders that it is voting for the husband of the future first lady, and should consider his qualifications as well as his wife's . . .

It might be wise, therefore, for the little women to move ever so slightly to the rear and give the men a chance to be heard. It is ludicrous to consider the campaign appeal of the females as holding more sway than what their husband's have to say. Yet, at the ladies' present rate of publicity, the next step may well be a ballot reading "Jack and Jackie" or "Pat and Dick."

All this "first Ladyism" then, can be viewed as leading to either of two possibilities—one will be a great hastening of the day of the first woman president—the other, a constitutional amendment that all aspirants to the presidential post must be bachelors.

$500 Offered For Oral Poetry

Middle Tennessee State College students are eligible to compete for a top prize of $500 in oral poetry interpretation this year.

Lane Boutwell, head of the speech division of the college, feels that there are many former participants in the Tennessee Forensic League contests or other talented readers in school who would like to "try out" for the national competition.

Mr. Boutwell will arrange hours in which interested students may receive free instructions in preparing for the competition and will coach those who indicate sufficient interest.

Two MTSC students will eventually be chosen and tape recordings of their readings will be submitted to Webcor, Inc., for the national judging.

B. Molly Elected As Chief Lyonite

By Bernice Nabors

Newly elected officers of Lyon Hall are president, Brenda Molly; vice-president, Faye Busher; secretary, Joan Barnett; treasurer, Patsy Brumley; reporter, Bernice Nabors; song leaders, Pat Porterfield and Marie Sharp; and pianist, Dianne Dorris. The officers met November 7 to discuss the Thanksgiving program.

Even though the Lyonettes did not take first place, they were proud of their homecoming decorations. The girls had loads of fun working in the basement until the wee hours of the morning.

Last Thursday night the third floor girls held a brief dormitory devotional. The attendance was very good, and the girls had not only a chance for a few minutes of meditation, but also a chance to become better acquainted.

Betty Webster added quite a touch of humor when she gave a hilarious account of the different attires worn to last year's homecoming game. It is plain to see that the girls in Lyon enjoy both the serious and the not-so-serious aspects of college life. This fact makes Lyon Hall very proud of the girls within its walls.

Excitement is one ingredient that is definitely not lacking within the walls of Monohan Hall. With all the world awaiting the outcome of the presidential campaigns, Monohan created her own exciting election. Homecoming created a lot of excitement, too, Monohan tied for first place in the dormitory decoration. Everyone literally fell in love with the three monkeys who neither spoke, saw, or heard anything about Murray having a chance to win the homecoming game.

And last but not least, all the girls were excited by the presence of a star in their midst in the person of Anne Petty, who really wowed the audiences seeing the drama club's play, Lo and Behold.

20-3 Homecoming Win Puts Raiders In OVC 2nd

By James Artman

The Middle Tennessee State Blue Raiders combined an alert defensive backfield with the fine rushing and passing of a varied offensive attack to whip the Murray State Thoroughbreds 20-3 in a successful celebration of homecoming at MTSC.

The game was played in cloudy, threatening weather, but the spirits of the old grads and the present student body was never dampened as they saw their favorites march off with a narrow 6-3 lead at the half and then come back to score twice in the final stanzas and threaten several other times.

MTSC dominated the statistics in most departments. They piled up 16 first downs to Murray's seven; rushed for 160 yards, led by Larry Puryear and Jimbo Pearson; and passed for 77, with Jerry Pearson, Terry Bailey, and Bob Kerr hitting on five out of eight attempts for one touchdown.

The Racers gained 114 yards on the ground and added 67 through the air. Both teams punted miserably on the wet field. The Blue Raiders averaged only 18.8 on four punts, while Murray punted five times for 28.8.

Murray won the toss of the coin and elected to receive Joe Wiggins kickoff to the three was returned by Joe Cartwright to the eleven. After failing to pick up a first on three rushing attempts, Gordon Perry punted dead on the Raider 46. MTSC pushed the ball down to the Racer 12 on the running of Larry Whaley and Jimbo Pearson, but stalled and Murray took over.

Again the Raiders held and Perry punted, the ball rolling dead on the MTSC 44. From here they began to drive to their first touchdown. Jimbo Pearson, Whaley, and Puryear alternated for 5, 3, and 6 yards respectively for a first down on the Murray 42. After Puryear was held for one yard and Jerry Pearson threw incomplete to Whaley, Jerry uncorked a clutch aerial to Nicky Lynch, good for 16 yards and a first down at the Racer 25. Jim Nabors picked up five and on forth down Jimbo Pearson picked up five.

A personal foul against the Thoroughbreds after the play gave the Blues a first down on the Murray five. Puryear gained four yards in to carries and Jimbo was held for no gain. With fourth and goal on the Racer one, Puryear roared into the end zone to put the Big Blue in front 6-0. The Raiders elected to go for two points on the point-after and failed, as Nabors was stopped after taking a pitchout from Jerry Pearson.

With the Raider second unit in the ball game, the Thoroughbreds marched for three successive first

Football 1960: A Year of Venture—

No matter how well the Blue Raiders finished out the season against East Tennessee last week and against Tennessee Tech on Thanksgiving day next week, the general pattern of play and potence have already come clearly into focus.

Coach "Bubber" Murphy wasn't bluffing back at the first of the season when he bemoaned the loss of so many key players by graduation last year. He wasn't bluffing either when he stated that this year's outfit would lack experience.

However, the squad did come through in something less than flying colors to make a creditable showing that is surely more impressive under the conditions than the record tends to show.

This has been a trying season, indeed. Injuries have hit like never before, breaks have shown a tendency to go the other way, mistakes caused by lack of experience and carelessness have given the Raiders some hard times.

Middle Tennessee State College underwent such a varied mixture of fatalities that Murphy probably said it best to sum-up everyone's thoughts when he stated: "I've never seen anything like it."

The Brothers Whaley —

MTSC can be grateful for the influence of last year's Tangerine Bowl win on high school prospects that drifted towards Murfreesboro. Quite a few of the boys played on better-than-average prep teams, and from the looks of things, they appear better-than-average themselves.

To mention a handful that have already shown their usefulness to the varsity are Larry and Gary Whaley, a pair of twins whose abilities are nearly as similar as their physical traits; Bill White, a rugged tackle from Bradley County, where he made the All-Star team last fall; Jimbo Pearson, younger brother of quarterback Jerry, from Springfield; and a host of others who have not yet seen varsity duty, but are being well groomed by freshman coach, Edd Cantrell, for the years ahead.

Larry Whaley, a lithe 165 lbs., with feet likened to the crazy-legs type, has been a most pleasant surprise to the coaching staff. Brother Gary, also a lightweight (Gary is an inch taller than Larry for the only recognizable difference between the two) has been unheard of thus far, playing in the shadows of more experienced ends.

At halfback, where he is establishing himself as a great breakaway threat, Larry has caused Murphy to comment: "Looks like a Bucky Pitts and a Ray Purvis rolled into one."

Coming out of East Tennessee, where they played their high school ball in the small town of Sevierville in the Knoxville area, the twins were tutored by Terry Sweeney, a former little All-American here a few years back.

Roundball Rumbblings—

The latest report from the Ohio Valley Conference Sports Information Center in Louisville, Kentucky is that MTSC will be on the upgrade in both material and prestige this winter, something that has been long awaited for here.

Following is the capsule comment on the squad's outlook for this year:

"Starting his fifth season as coach of the Blue Raiders, Ed Diddle, Jr., son of the famed Western Kentucky mentor, has good reason to believe this will be his strongest club yet. Chief reason for the optimism is the addition of two classy sophomores, 6-7 Bennett Jent and 6-2 Dwayne Jones.

"Chances are they'll fit into the opening lineup along with returning regulars 6-5 Bob Burden (19.7 ppg), 6-4 Ralph Bryant (11.7) and 6-1 Paul Holland (9.6). Jent promised to solve the center problem that has existed for three years, since Jerry Hurst joined the San Francisco Forty-Niners but was sidelined by a severe leg injury."

Depth will be much improved with sophs Alan Bane 6-1, Bill Nickell 6-8½, Philip Jones 6-1, and Joe Baker 6-3 bidding for starting posts. Back, too, are 6-2 senior Ray Burden, 6-3 junior Paul Dailey and 5-11 Jack McCauley. Graduation took regular guard Don Smith (12.4) and forward Ray Hammers (6.7). Jim Hart, who averaged 7.1 before being sidelined by grades midway last season, didn't return."

Especially welcoming this year, is the return of fine rebounding averages by the three starters, Burden (10.2), Bryant (9.8), and Holland (7.8) (but the loss of Smith's exceptional free throwing accuracy (.847 avg.) will be missed.

Raider Roundup

By Ray Bailey
Sports Editor

Raiders vs. Eagles

The Tennessee Tech Golden Eagles and the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee State will once more put the "chips" on the block in the annual Thanksgiving affair.

The Raiders, who started what looked like a dismal season, have gained poise and experience and last Saturday night defeated East Tennessee State in a "must" game to stay in contention for a share of the OVC crown. A Raider victory over Tech would give the two teams a tie for the OVC crown -- the third in as many years.

Tech will be fresh from a 17-6 victory over tough Arkansas State, and will also be carrying a 5-0 OVC record into the game.

The annual clash of the Eagles and the Raiders has been livened by the "spoilers role." For instance, the Raiders went into last year's game with a 9-0-0 record and the Tangerine Bowl bid wrapped up. The Eagles invaded Jones Field and battled the Raiders to a 21-21 tie, spoiling a perfect season.

The "spoilers role is reversed for the November 24 affair. The Raiders, with a mediocre 5-4 record, are in the spot to grab their portion of the OVC crown and spoil a possible bid to the Tangerine Bowl for Tech.

Recent reports have stated that Tangerine Bowl officials tend to look for an OVC team first, and this year Tech is the only team being considered.

As always, the Eagle-Raider battle will produce a champion or co-champions and this will be one of the hardest fought contests of the season.

Delucca Shines As Cowboy

Gerry Delucca, the former Blue Raider of '57, is doing an excellent job for the newly formed Dallas Cowboys. While at MTSC, Gerry was an outstanding tackle and was elected to the all OVC team after the '57 season.

The cowboys have termed Delucca as a valuable asset. The 6'2", 248 pounder from Peabody, Massachusetts, has moved into the starting lineup at right tackle.

OVC Standings

The OVC race has shaped up considerably in the last two games. As shown, the Raiders and Tech fight for the co-championship and Murray State is in sole possession of third place. The standings are as follows:

	Conference			All Games
TPI	5	0	0	7	2	0
MTSC	4	1	0	5	4	0
Murray	4	2	0	4	5	0
Morehead	2	4	0	5	4	0
ETSC	1	3	2	3	4	2
Eastern Ky.	1	4	1	3	5	1
Western Ky.	1	4	1	2	6	1

Frosh Girls Demonstrate Physical Fitness Increase

Freshman girls who recently took the physical fitness tests demonstrated significant improvement over groups in recent years in the scores made, according to Bill Stokes of the health and physical education department.

Dr. Francis Riel, head of the department, emphasized that these scores had nothing to do with the ultimate grades in the courses.

Seven classes of approximately 400 girls participated in the tests. Top number of sit ups was 50 and the average for all girls 18. In the two hundred yard shuttle run, the top score was 38 seconds, the low 71 seconds, and the average 55 seconds. In the "free hang" exercise, top score was an even two minutes, low score was 11 seconds, and the average was 57 seconds.

Final Factor In OVC Race Is Tech Tilt

For the fourth straight year the Ohio Valley Conference championship will be decided by the Turkey Day game in Cookeville Thanksgiving afternoon at two o'clock.

It was 1957 that MTSC scored its last victory to win a clear title. In 1958 under-dog Tech beat the Raiders to tie for the championship, and last year both teams put undefeated conference records on the line and the game ended in a 21-21 tie.

Last year the Raiders had already accepted a Tangerine Bowl bid. This year Tech is one of three teams currently mentioned for the Florida classic. A win over the Raiders will almost certainly carry the Eagles to Orlando. A tie would hardly lower their chances, but a win by the Raiders might prove as costly as did the Tech slaughter of the Raiders here seven years ago when MTSC was on the verge of a Tangerine invitation.

Last week the re-building Raider beat East Tennessee State in a well played game 14-6 by virtue of Larry Puryear's outstanding effort at fullback, aided by a rugged line and alert half back play by the freshman duet of Pearson and Whaley.

The Raider's first score came after the second half kickoff when Puryear scored after a 28 yard run during a 78 yard steady drive on which Whaley contributed an 11 and a 10 yard run.

The second Raider score came on a 54 yard march in which Jerry Pearson rammed over the score. This drive started with a Puryear interception on his 46 yard line. Pearson's interception of a ETSC aerial in the last few seconds of the game in the end zone ended a possible tie threat.

Bill Hughes missed his first extra point of the season when the Raider line crowded his kick after Bob Quillen carried over for the Buc touchdown in the third quarter. Quillen added to his OVC ground gaining leadership with 69 yards in 12 efforts.

The Bucs had 15 first downs to the Raider 14. MTSC gained 260 yards on the ground and 34 in the air to East Tennessee's 203 on the ground and 34 on passes.

Murray 46. From here the Racers started a drive that ended in a 36-yard field goal. Fiorvanti, a brilliant freshman quarterback, began living up to his advanced billing. He pitched to Gary Foltz and Bill Unyi for a first down in Raider territory at the 45. A screen pass to Jerry Shelton carried to the 31, and another toss to Bill Myers to the 19.

The drive then bogged down as Fiorvanti threw incomplete to Myers three times in a row. Charles Watkins, a fine left-footed booter, came in to split the up-rights at a difficult angle from 36 yards out.

The score remained at 6-3, Raiders, as the first half ended.

After the halftime ceremonies were completed the Raiders kicked off to the Racers to start the second half. After the teams traded punts for a few minutes, the Blue Raiders started a 75-yard drive to their second touchdown. Fullback Larry Puryear contributed a big hunk of the yardage with his rushes through the Thoroughbred line. He picked up 23 yards in four carries as Jerry Bailey tallied the score on a 12-yard roll out keep play to the right side. Whaley swept right end for the two-point conversion, to make the score 14-3.

Following the kickoff, Buddy Parker fumbled and Billy Joe Evans pounced on it for the Raiders. On the second play that the home team ran, Jack Summerville reversed the procedure for the Racers by recovering a Jerry Pearson pitchout on the 33.

The teams traded punts again and this gave the Thoroughbreds the ball on their own 36. On third down Larry Puryear intercepted a Fiorvanti pass on the MTSC 49, on a very much disputed call by the referee. The Raiders could only get to the Murray 32, though, and the ball went over on downs.

On fourth down from the Murray 48, Jerry Pearson picked off another Fiorvanti pass and returned it 17 yards to the Racer 48. Halfback Charles Rice fumbled on the 29 though, and the Staters had the ball back.

Again the Murray passing attack was thwarted, as Jimbo Pearson made a leaping interception and returned to the Racer 34. From here brother Jerry passed perfectly to end Frank Halliburton for the touchdown. Bob Keer's pass for the two-point conversion was incomplete and that was the scoring for the day. The Raiders 20, Murray 3.

The Raiders caused a little more excitement when they recovered the short kickoff on the Murray 40. Edward Pigue was on the bottom of the stack. The game ended, though, as Keer's pass was picked off in the end zone by Joe Cartwright.

The win was the 101st for Coach Charles M. (Bubber) Murphy in his 14-year tenure at Middle Tennessee.

The victory for the Raiders over Murray left them with a 9-3-1 advantage in the modern series, which started in 1948. It was the eighth straight for MTSC over the Racers, who haven't won since 1952.

The freshmen halfbacks sparked again for the Raiders. Larry Whaley and Jimbo Pearson sparked on offense and Pearson and Phil Grammer harassed the Racer passing game all day.

The Raider tackles also should come in for a good deal of defensive credit. Wayne Winters, George Noe, Bill White, and Joe Wiggins all performed creditably.

The four interceptions by the MTSC secondary was one of the largest numbers ever for the Raiders. This was a very effective tool in offsetting the famed passing of freshman Tony Fiorvanti, who is destined to become an outstanding college field general. He runs and passes equally well.

Half of the pass interceptions were pulled off by the Jearsons. Jerry and younger brother Jimbo each snared one.

On the 75-yard drive to the second MTSC touchdown, the Murray (Continued on Page 7)

Intramurals Are Begun By Football

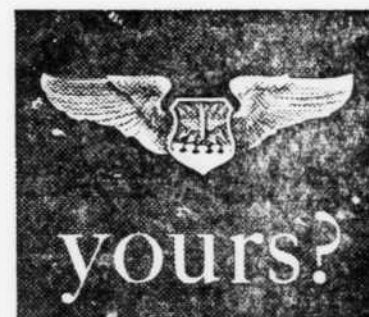

By Dick Swain

The intramural program for the 1960-61 year is under way. Dick Swain, with the able assistance of Don Casey and Gerald Shutters, has started a round robin tournament in touch football.

Two leagues of six teams each have been formed. The western league composed of Jones (3), Smith (3), Simms (3), Beasley-Simms (1), and town; and the eastern league composed of Smith (3), Jones (2), Smith (1), Simms (2), Vet Village, and Beasley (3).

The town team (4) in the western league, and the Beasley (3) team in the eastern league (4-0) seem to be the top teams. The town team, with a very potent passing attack, as racked 162 points in four games. The winners of each league will play each other for the intramural championship. The name of the championship team will be engraved on a trophy as a permanent record.

Football is the first, but not the only, activity scheduled for this fall. A wrestling tournament, a billiards tournament, a cross country (Continued on Page 6)

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

Graduate Listed As One Of "Tops"

At the Annual Alumni Banquet in the spring, three more outstanding alumni will be honored in special ceremonies. Based on the plan initiated last year, nominations will be secured by nominations from graduates of MTSC President Charles Parker Parsons will appoint a committee to review the nominations as they are received in the Alumni Office. In addition to the special recognition in the spring, the Midlander will carry a page featuring the honorees, and the Andrew Todd Library will place pictures of these in its lobby as part of the Honor Gallery.

Alumni are asked to send nominations to the Alumni Office, Box 688. The following instructions should be followed in submitting nominations:

1. Each alumnus or alumna should nominate only one.
2. Nominations should be made in narrative form carrying a brief description of the person's activities, contributions, etc.
3. It should be remembered that no profession or occupation has a priority.
4. Nominations should be received by February 15, 1961. This early date is set, in order that copy for the Midlander's special page may be prepared to meet the printing deadline.

Last year the names of some forty different persons were placed in nomination. The 1959-60 committee chose Q. M. Smith ('13), Frank Bass ('26), and Albert Gore ('32) from the written responses. The remaining nominations are on file and will be considered again along with ones that are received this year.

Alumni who made nominations last year are invited to make any supplementation to those on file.

Former MTSC Dean Addresses Professors

Speaking before the social science section of the East Tennessee Education Association last week, Mr. James outlined the four-fold responsibility of the social science teacher.

According to James, these include the responsibility of counselor, that of a leader in postulating the basic needs of youth in a democratic society, that of applying scientific methods to social situations, and the requirement that the social scientist be a widely knowledgeable person who must bring together the finding of many disciplines.

Mr. James spoke at the area supervisors of school attendance conference at Pulaski at 10 o'clock November 16. His subject there was "The Part Parents and Teachers Play in School Drop-outs."

James was city superintendent of schools in Pulaski from 1928 to 1930.

Ralph Given Assignment

James T. Ralph, 1952 graduate, is presently assigned as Deputy Director of the California State Department of Agriculture.

The Department is a statewide agency with 1,500 employees and another 1,000 cooperating county employees. The Department has programs in livestock disease control, plant disease and pest eradication, market standardization and self-help marketing regulation.

Dr. Ralph's experience in the field of agriculture includes research, teaching, administration journalism in marketing and policy. Before joining the California Department of Agriculture, he was on the faculty of the University of Kentucky as Assistant Professor of Agricultural Economics in marketing.

Other positions held include Research Assistant at Stanford University, Research Associate with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Assistant Editor of the Farm Policy Forum, and agriculture policy magazine published by Iowa State College, and as an organizer for the Tennessee Farm Bureau.

Civil War Talks Given By Womack

Dr. Robert Womack, MTSC's authority on the Civil War, has been invited to deliver two addresses this week in Ohio.

At 6:30 November 15 he spoke at the University Club in Cleveland, Ohio. The News Letter of the Cleveland Civil War Round Table was most complimentary of Dr. Womack's appearance recently at Chicago and promised members of the Cleveland group a "rewarding talk."

On November 14 he addressed the Dayton, Ohio, Round Table on "The Battles of Tennessee" with special emphasis on Stone's River (Murfreesboro).

James I. Robertson, Jr., editor of the Civil War History, State University of Iowa, has asked Dr. Womack to review Fairfax Downey's "Storming of the Gateway: Chattanooga, 1863" for publication.

Abernathy Is Panelist For Educational Meeting

Bob Abernathy, director of extension at MTSC, was one of four panelists at the high school sectional meeting of the East Tennessee Education Association last week. He appeared on a panel with R. R. Vance, W. H. Millsaps, Dr. Don Sahli and Dr. George Mathis Friday morning.

J. Pope Dyer of the Chattanooga schools, an alumnus of MTSC, was chairman of the group. Mr. Dyer was elected to the ETEA executive committee, the planning and policy-making body of the East Tennessee Teachers Association.

Staters were penalized 35 yards. Their total for the day was 75, most of which were personal fouls which came as a result of piling on or unnecessary roughness. A Murray player was ejected from the game in the late moments for this.

This was the last home game for 10 Raiders on the MTSC field. Those included the following: captain Joe Windham, alternate captain Nicky Lynch, Dean Fisher, Jerry Stapleton, George Noe, Charles Butler, Sam Ezell, Kenneth Ross, Hilrey Carr, and Larry Puryear.

Did Larry Puryear drop the called pass interception in the second half? This question has probably caused a good deal of thought by several people since it happened. Among these would be the Murray coaches and the referees officiating the game. From those who had a good angle of view on the play they say he dropped it and then fell quickly on it at the same time. NO comment here, but it touched the earth.

Sara Jane Croft, 1960 graduate and former president of the Buchanan players, has been accepted by the imminent director, Paul Baker, as part of the theater company of the Dallas Theater Center, Dallas Theater Center.

In addition to her dramatic activities while at MTSC, Sara Jane was the recipient of many honors. These included her selection as Miss Midlander, Miss MTSC, Farmers' Frolic Queen, R.O.T.C. Sponsor, member of Pi Kappa Delta and Alpha Psi Omega, and Midlander editor.

Manhattan Soloists Receive Enthusiastic MTSC Response

By Nadine King

The versital Manhattan Solists received an enthusiastic response from the MTSC student-faculty assembly Monday morning.

The soloists, Miss Barbara Lockard, mezzo soprano; Miss Nancy Cirillo, violinist, and Miss Francesca Cirillo, pianist, presented a program of classical, semi-classical, and show-tune selections.

Miss Lockard, a graduate of Indiana University with the Master of Music degree in voice and drama, sang excerpts from "La Perichole," a comic love opera by Offenbach, the "Cradle Song of the Virgin," by Brahms, and a Spanish love ballad.

Miss Cirillo, an accomplished violinist who appeared in a recital at the Carnegie Recital Hall at the age of five, played compositions by Kreisler and Brahms. Before each selection she explained the composition and the background of the composer.

A faculty member of the Great Neck School of Music and the Cirillo School of Music, Miss Cirillo, piano soloist with the American group, played Debussy's "Evening in Granda" and "Fireworks."

Art Club Plans Exhibit, Constitutional Revision

By June Carole Vickery

Several projects have been planned for the coming year by MTSC's Art Club.

At the last meeting, the constitution was presented and is being revised. Plans were also being made to have an exhibit in the cafeteria and the lobby of the Student Union again this year.

Officers elected last spring are president, Bob Phillips; vice president, Donna Burns, and secretary-treasurer, Linda Caruthers.

Meetings of the Art Club are scheduled for Thursdays from three to four o'clock. Mr. Fred J. Rubens sponsors the group.

Charles Richard Lowe, second lieutenant, U.S. Army, has been assigned to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where he begins a two year tour of duty this week. Lowe served as cadet lieutenant colonel on the MTSC cadet corp staff last year and was a member of the Raider football team.

Newman Club Plays Host For State-Wide Convention

MTSC's Newman Club was the sponsor this past weekend for the fourth annual Newman Club Convention, held at St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church here in Murfreesboro.

Approximately sixty delegates were present from Newman Clubs in all parts of Tennessee, including Vanderbilt University, George Peabody College, University of Chattanooga, Memphis State University, East Tennessee State College, University of Tennessee, Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Fisk University, A&I State University, and Meharry College.

They were accompanied by several distinguished members of the clergy, Rev. Leo Siener, Rev. William Morgan, Rev. Sterling McGuire, Rev. James Niederges, Rev. Robert Hofstetter, Rev. William Klaiser, Rev. John Donahue, C.S.P., Rev. Kenneth Gansmann, O.F.M.

Also, the club was privileged to welcome Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Manning, sponsors of the ETSC group, Dr. and Mrs. Milos Sebor from TPI and Dr. and Mrs. Fran Riel of MTSC.

The convention was began Saturday morning with the opening prayers by Father Siener, the clerical director of the proceedings. At midday the delegates enjoyed a brief luncheon.

During the afternoon, there were various sessions at which the clubs reported their present activities and their future plans. There were suggested membership drives to increase the enrollment of paying members and discussions concerning the duties of officers and members.

Nominations were placed for the new Regional Director and Vice-Director, offices held by Pat Gillen of MTSC and Jackie Holmes of Vanderbilt for the year 1959-60. Then followed Benediction, and the convention was adjourned until six-thirty, when a banquet was held in the cafeteria.

The noted guest speaker was Rev. Alexander O. Sigur of Lafayette, Louisiana, the National Chaplain of the Newman Club Federation, who flew his own plane up from Alexandria, Louisiana, where he had given a talk earlier in the day. He was accompanied by his executive assistant, Mr. Robert Sterkel, who is the first volunteer layman on the National Newman Staff.

The purpose of Father Sigur's inspiring talk was to instill in the Newmanites a desire to strive conscientiously toward a more active club. He said, "one must decide with maturity—for a good reason." He explained how one must not try to belittle himself against the great deeds of others, rather that one must make up his own mind take the initiative, develop himself to his fullest ability, and become a leader. At this occasion, members of the Parish Council of Catholic Women served.

The cafeteria was then quickly transformed into a dance hall, where the delegates danced until midnight to the music of the "Castaways."

Father Siener offered a special Mass at ten o'clock Sunday for the Newmanites, who sang several hymns during the Mass, accompanied by Anne Rose McAdon of the Murfreesboro Chapter at the organ.

Following this, coffee and doughnuts were served in the cafeteria and the meeting resumed.

Pat Gillen relinquished his office of Regional Director to Wallace Henry, III, of TPI, who defeated Joe Hough of Memphis State.

Also, Jackie Holmes surrendered her duties of Vice-Director to Mary Burke of Peabody, who was victorious over Jack Vincent of Memphis State and Tom Fazio of UC.

Rev. Philip F. Thoni, pastor of St. Rose, directed the preparations, assisted by Patti Kelleher, committee chairman; Leonidas Bell, president; Charles Reese, vice-president; Agnes Carlson, recording secretary; Nancy Johnson, corresponding secretary; Sue Pever, treasurer; and Skip Garrett, Judy Simpson, George Reese, Don Gates, Anne Rose McAdon, Elizabeth Fry, Richard Periera, Brian Riel, and other members of the MTSC Newman Club.
