ASB, CCUN Sell Campus Pacs

The ever-popular Campus Pacs will be sold in the Student Union basement from March 22-29. The ASB has shared sponsorship of this sale with the CCUN (Collegiate Council for the UN). This is your chance to exploit the ASB! Through the generosity of both these organizations a student can purchase approximately $2.00 of cosmetic and grooming aids for $.50, saving you $1.50. These Campus Pacs come in boxes for either sex.

Campus Pacs are recommended to any enterprising students here at MTSU. They not only give you an opportunity to purchase some items at a savings that you would have to buy, but they help support worthy organizations on this campus. So get out and buy!

Schuster Visits MTSU Campus

Michael Schuster, a German exchange student who attends Friends Central High in Philadelphia is to be guest this week of Professor and Mrs. J. Wade Gilbert.

Michael is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Hans Schuster. His father is a newspaper editor and a lecturer at Munich University.

Schuster first visited Murfreesboro ten years ago when his father spoke at MTSU.

Anyone interested in seeing Mr. Schuster should contact Mrs. Ortrun Gilbert in the German department.

You Ain't Got A Hair

Gentlemen, the time is now. The Veteran's Club has finally assumed full responsibility for the condition of the mass libido of MTSU male. We are well aware that there is a crying need for a legitimate method for a man to prove his masculinity without serving 99 years in Brushy Mountain. . . and we have developed a perfectly honorable (?????) method.

You see, being rather peachy-cheeked myself I thought it would be nice for the present inter-Vet's Club competition to be expanded to include ALL men of this campus. My own attempt at brush-development has been quite satisfying, although I do feel rather let-down when I realize that no one, in the full three months that I have had MY beard, has even mentioned that I had a beard. . . except of course for my wife (who has a disgustingly tender cheek).

Anyway, to particulars: There is to begin this Thursday (the 23rd???) a face-feathering competition among the Males (and Females???) of the University. There will be judging AND prizes AND that libido satisfaction that I men-

The Socratics-sponsored MTSU Intra-College Bowl got off to a rousing start last Wednesday night when the Sigma Club defeated Phi Theta Psi Sorority 210-90 and the International Club downed Kappa Delta Pi 100-55. These two winning teams will meet later on in a quarter-final match.

The second evening of College Bowl will be Thursday night at 7:00 when Gamma Beta Phi plays Newman Club and Phi Epsilon tangles with Gau Omicron. Dean Belt Keathley will serve as moderator for Thursday's contests.

There was a capacity crowd present for the initial effort in this new venture which was staged in room 452 of Old Main. The large room's arrangement of tiered seats with the teams and moderator down front provided an almost ideal set-up for a program of this nature.

Dr. Ellis W. Hollon served as moderator for the first College Bowl and judges were Dr. Roy W. Clark, Miss Virginia Derryberry, Mr. Perry Dillon, and Mrs. Ortrun Gilbert.

During the halftime portion of the College Bowl, each team was given an opportunity to tell something about the organization it represented. Giving a brief resume for their teams were: Pam Owen, Phi Theta Psi; Don Schwendemann, Sigma Club; Kathy Kraftt, Kappa Delta Pi; and Bahman Sohrabi, International Club.

Questions were submitted by all major departments. After the questions were submitted and compiled on separate note cards, they were shuffled and readied for the contests. Thus, no one-including the judges, moderator, or Socratics-knew in what order the questions would be asked.

The Socratics invite everyone to come out and see some of our top scholars match wits in friendly rivalry. Admission is 25¢ per person. Anyone who joins the Socratics and pays his $1.25 dues will be admitted free to all contests.

For the complete bracket and names of team members, see last week's edition of the SIDELINES.

Help Save A Sinking Ship

Alas, the villains have struck!! Our "T" Room which has gallantly served us for eight years is doomed to be evacuated because of the building of the new student union building. Do we dare let this deed occur?

Perhaps you may not esteem the "T" Room so highly now, but let me offer you some stable evidence given by Mr. Val Smith, Director of Food Services here, that it should remain a student center. Last year the students here ate some 65,000 hamburgers, 69,000 hot dogs, 144,960 buns, and consumed some 60,000 cokes.

It is unfair to banish the "T" Room for a more modern place called "The Grill." The Terrace Room holds many memories for its patrons. Things have been "cooked" up there other than hamburgers. . . I estimate there have been quite a few marriages as a result of the friendly atmosphere of the "T" Room.

The faithful old Terrace Room was once merely a flower garden. After its building, students flocked there and made it a retreat from the everyday worries of college life. Do we dare banish a ship so faithful; if we do, we are but heartless mortals.

Sympathy

The SIDELINES staff wishes to express sympathy to Dr. Lane Boutwell, head of MTSU's Speech and Theatre Department, upon the death of his mother, Mrs. Aury Williams Boutwell.

"Hiroshima Mon Amour" Third Feature of Series

"HIROSHIMA MON AMOUR" is the title of third film in the French Club foreign film series. The film will be presented at 7:30 Wednesday, March 22, in the D.A. Auditorium.

The film, directed by Alain Resnais, tells of the horror of Hiroshima by incorporating it with a love that would be more believable had it occurred in a place not preserved by death. The story of this love always dominates "HIroshima." This film "has been variously described as a Proustian creation of remembrance, a poetic love story, an anti-war picture, and the most authentic screen portrait to date of man's inhumanity to man."

"HIROSHIMA MON AMOUR" was awarded the International Critics Prize at Cannes in 1959 and the New York Film Critics Award in 1960 for the best foreign film.

Smotherman Plans Workshop

More than 50 person have already enrolled in the International Aerospace Workshop which will spend a full month of study in Europe this summer under direction of Dr. Bealer Smotherman of the Middle Tennessee State University faculty.

Dr. Smotherman was the guest on two programs on Channel 2, Nashville education television station, this week. On the program,

"Horizons Unlimited" Dr. Smotherman was interviewed by Mrs. Mariam Roach, a former member of the Tennessee Education Workshop. The programs were telecast at 6 o'clock Thursday evening and 7:30 Friday evening. Dr. Smotherman was the Thursday guest on the WSM Channel 4 program "Noon". At this time he was interviewed, along with State Senator Mary Anderson a former workshopper by Jud Collins.

The International Aerospace Workshop will take 100 teachers from over the United States for a detailed study of aviation, military and civilian, in seven countries of Europe during the month of July and early August. Dr. Smotherman was selected to head the Civil Air Patrol-Aerospace sponsored journey due to his success in conducting the Tennessee Aerospace Workshop for the past several summers. These workshops have been described by leading NAASA and other agencies as "the nations best".

Dorm mommies will be all in favor of this further protection offered to their charming charges. The judges we are trying to rook into this bit of madness are: Col. Chritzberg, who by this time should know a lot about such things; the brushy-faced potter of the Art Department, Lewis D. Snyder, who put the plaque on the Library and the fun back in being an Art Major; that bulbous fair-haired student among us who waddles about the campus with a full set of face-feathers, Eddie Hodges; and then, in the name of all that decent there will DEFINITELY BE Misses Pat Ries, Vet's Club Sweetheart, AND JeVena Armstrong, our new Miss Midlander, (it is assumed by this writer that these two latter judges will be dealing primarily with the er. . . ah. . . ah. . . shall we say "functional" nature of the competition).

What's that again. . . .???? OF COURSE there are prizes. . . for the "best beard" in the eyes of the judges there will be presented one of those disgustingly expensive Remington electric shavers. . . no kidding!!! And for the "worst beard" there is a $4.83

Do It Yourself!

One proverb which always seems to stare one right in the face is "if you want a job done right, do it yourself."

During elections for student body officers, this adage is especially appropriate; for most students are all too eager to criticize the ASB and the tasks performed by ASB officials. Well, if you don't like it — do it yourself. And if you can't do it yourself — then vote for the person whom you feel will do the most effective work.

Voting is a privilege taken for granted by many persons in this day and age. It is taken lightly with little regard for the consequences. It is just too simple not to vote, too easy to say "one vote won't matter", yet the 1960 presidential election John Kennedy won by a margin of less than one vote per precinct. One vote made the difference.

Tomorrow the MTSU student body will choose its leaders for next year. They will have a huge job awaiting them. They will need a great deal of cooperation from the members of the Associated Student Body.

We can begin by voting and selecting the persons we feel best qualify for the positions. Do your part. Don't let someone else do it or chances are, it won't be done to your satisfaction.

You Be The Judge! Rep. Bennett: Get Involved!

It is hard to be objective when you must evaluate a situation with which you are directly concerned. Therefore, the (joint) meeting of the House of Representatives (and Senate) last Wednesday night will be subject to as many interpretations as there were participants. This is one such INTERPRETATION.

A bill was brought before the House, after passing the Senate. This bill dealt with election procedures (see "What's In The House"). One section, Plan #5, reads: "The polls shall open at 7:30 a.m., and close at 3:00 p.m." Members of the House objected to this. There was argument that this could be an imposition to the student body, that it was more important to serve the student body than it was to make the elections convenient for ASB officials, that if it required ASB funds to keep the polls open then those funds should be spent, that if the computer personnel could not stay overtime to process the returns, then some other method could be found. But the prime consideration was that the interest of the student body be served.

A motion was made to amend the bill and extend the closing time of the polls to 4:00 p.m.

The amendment was passed unanimously.

The Speaker of the House took the amended bill to the Senate which was meeting in an adjoining room.

A short time later the House was surprised to see the entire Senate march into the House meeting.

Members of the Senate seemed shocked that their decision had been questioned by the House.

They pointed out that not many students voted between 3:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. anyway.

They pointed out that it would cost the ASB money to pay the IBM personnel to work overtime.

They pointed out that the polls had been closing at 3:00 p.m. anyway.

(Apparently, the people that aren't able to vote earlier than 3:00 p.m. do not count; the ASB's money must be spent only on worthy projects, not wasted on things like elections, and apparently it excuses illegal elections to later pass a law making them legal.)

A compromise was reached, whereby the polls would close at 3:30 p.m.

There were several points of personal objection:

1. The arrogance of certain senators at having their reasoning questioned.
2. The applause after each senator spoke, by other senators.
3. The questionable action of the Senate at entering, as a body, the House meeting uninvited.
4. The disregard of the student body.
5. The disregard of ASB law.

The really pathetic part of the whole situation came when the Speaker of the House told the Speaker of the Senate after the Senate had reassembled in its own meeting room, that the House objected to the Senate's action, and one senator said "To hell with the House" to the applause of certain other senators.

Senator, sir, if you will think, — what you actually said was "To hell with the ASB." If the House is to be disregarded, then why shouldn't the Senate be disregarded? If the ASB is not an organization of laws, then it is not an organization. If the House is merely a rubber stamp, let's disband it.

This may be unfair appraisal. The Senate, no doubt, had reason for its action, but the House would like at least some explanation. Perhaps a senator could write an article for the SIDELINES, and clear up some of the misunderstanding that arose from the meeting last Thursday night.

Then the student body can be the judge of what happened.

Ivan Shewmake

After submitting the above article, I realized that it could be interpreted to mean that ASB is far gone to ever have any real meaning. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Because there are misunderstanding does not mean that ASB is useless. In fact, it is a sign of healthy, active government.

Let's keep the fire burning. Make this coming year a year of great student government.

Vote

To the editor:

Due to criticism from many sources, ASB, officials have, in recent weeks, made efforts in gaining campus wide support and involvement of the entire student body in student government. This is the only way a student government can be effective. There has been a great lack of interest on the part of the student body as a whole. Interest, support and involvement go hand in hand in this area. Only when we can get students involved in ASB government can we gain their interest and support. We must make involvement available to all students. Voting is the first area of involvement. For those who normally will not go out of their way to vote, we must make the process of voting as easy as possible. The Senate has contradicted this concept.

The Senate passed a bill concerning elections of class officers. This bill was designed to eliminate confusion as to when and how class elections are carried out. I feel that the bill accomplishes this; but in doing so, it has weakened the efforts to involve those students who take no interest in student government.

One section of the bill sets the opening time of the polls at 7:30 A.M. and the closing time at 3 P.M. The time between 3 and 4, the Senate says, is not needed. It was pointed out to these Senators that many people could vote during this time that would not make an effort at any other time. Many people have little free time until 3PM. The Senators said that those who really want to vote could find a time, and not need the hour between 3 and 4. I am very much in agreement on this point and I wish to thank the students who would go out of their way to vote. But people such as these are already interested in ASB government.

The disinterested student will NOT go out of his way to vote. Therefore, we must set a time for voting that will allow such students to vote without competing with their schedules. Certain Senators feel that we should not make effort to obtain more interest in student government. Why!

Money, the Senators say. It would cost the ASB a few dollars to have the votes counted by IBM machines requiring operators, if they have to work after 4 o'clock. These people are seemingly willing to sacrifice interest in student government to save a few dollars.

It would be easier, more convenient for ASB officials to close the polls early; but as I see it, ease and convenience are not the goals of student government.

I feel that certain of the Senators either fail to see the need for student involvement in ASB government or are not willing to work to achieve this. It is attitudes such as these that cause student government to be ineffective. These attitudes can arise anywhere, but it is within the Senate that these ideas have been shown most clearly.

The purpose of this letter is not to criticize the Senate, but to criticize an attitude I think is wrong in student government. I had no idea until just lately that certain Senators would reveal this attitude of indifference to the student body. We should work to remove this attitude from a body as important as the Senate and from all areas of student government. When we do this, we will be taking a big step in the direction of effective student government for every student on our campus.

Beware The Long Arm Of The Business Office

An Open Letter to Students, Faculty, and administrative Personnel at the State and University level

To One and All,

This letter is written in regard to the meeting assembled at the request of administrative personnel and ASB officials on March 16, 1967 of the officers and sponsors of the various campus organizations. At this meeting, Mr. Jackson of the University's Business Office informed the persons involved of the State Auditor's pressure upon him respecting the financial status of campus organizations at MTSU.

Each member of the assembly was given a "SUGGESTED" method of operation in regard to handling organizational monies. Pages two and three of the suggestion comprise an ITEMIZED financial report which may be used by each organization in reporting its financial condition at the close of the present semester. Over and over again, Mr. Jackson emphasized that other state institutions were now required to make such reports available to the Auditor.

Over and over again, he emphasized that every organization should be keeping such records already as regular procedure, and that it would be little trouble to hand over another copy to the Business Office. Some sponsors even praised Mr. Jackson and Company saying this would make their organizations more efficient by forcing such records to be kept.

As a citizen of this nation and state, I have the right to question the entire process in regard to the motives behind this move. Furthermore, the sponsors who praised the program merely showed the lack of interest and organization within their group. The administration has failed in not requiring financial records to be kept pending institutional approval. Of course, it is assumed that each organization will keep such records. I am of the opinion that an organization which has seemingly no interest in noting where and how monies come and go has no place on the MTSU campus.

I am also of the opinion that the Dean of Men, in collusion with Mr. Jackson, has failed to present all the alternative solutions to the problem — if one exists. It was crammed down the throats of the assemblage that campus organizations have two choices; one, to work through a local bank as an independent group and submit the financial report, or two, to deposit all funds with the Business Office and secure them by requisition.

There is yet a third choice which the speakers failed to mention, and that choice is that we, as members and leaders of campus organizations have the right to question the policy which was so ambiguously described to the assembled body. For one, I am willing to submit the TOTAL income, expenses and accounts payable to those so designated IF it is deemed necessary, but I see no need for the invasion of organizational privacy by the State in regard to ITEMIZING the expenses of a non-profit student organization. If at any time the State wants to see the records of my organization, a much better reason will have to be presented than was at that meeting. Every citizen in this era of big government must admit that when the state seeks to know, it often seeks to control. Neither Mr.

Jackson nor the Dean of Men could satisfactorily explain the reason for the new policy, nor the reason why the itemized statement was necessary. I firmly believe that student organizations are willing to co-operate, but I hope that none are willing to SUBMIT.

The fact that the Auditor's long arm has reached other state institutions does not satisfy the possibilities for the future. The fact that the Auditor's office may attempt to force itself upon this institution does not mean that the organizations may be herded about as cattle and given no reason for the move. I, for one, do not depend on the state for my income, therefore I demand a full explanation of the policy, the motives behind its formulation, and the projections for the future. In reference to human behavior August Comte once stated, "To know in order to predict, to predict in order to control." Are we going to be blindly led into submission? How long, Oh how long, must we apathetically be led to submission? Co-operation, yes — submission, NO!!!!!!

Dilemma

Financial Reports Of Student Organizations

On March 16, at 7:30 p.m., the House of Representatives Subcommittee held a meeting to discuss financial reporting of student organizations. This was a very spirited meeting and was well attended by the advisers, presidents and treasurers of the student organizations. The subject of the meeting stimulated much verbal communication and demonstrated an extremely high interest in solving a problem. The reason for the meeting was to develop a method of complying with the requirements set forth in the 1966 Audit completed by the Comptroller's Office. The audit identified that our University was not complying with certain auditing procedures set forth by the Comptroller's Office. The auditors identified that all clubs and organizations funds should be recorded on the books of the University and shown on printed financial statements. It was further recommended that all groups and organizations channel their money through the Business Office so that adequate auditing procedures could be followed. The channelling of funds through the Business Office is followed in most of our sister institutions.

After having received the requirement from the Comptroller's Office, President Cope requested the comptroller to allow that an alternative be developed which would allow student organizations to handle their money in separate bank accounts not directly affiliated with the University. At this point in time, the Comptroller has not responded and the assumption is made that the alternate plan would satisfy the needs of the auditor or at least would demonstrate good faith that attempts are being made to comply with the spirit of the audit recommendation.

Mr. William Lappin headed a House of Representatives Committee to develop the alternate plan to allow student groups to operate free of the restriction of having to channel all monies through the Business Office. The meeting which was held on March 16 caused much apprehension from students and advisers concerning the disclosure of expenditures to those not directly affiliated with the group. During the course of the meeting, it was not understood by all in attendance that the University is obligated by the Comptroller's Office to include the financial status of clubs and organizations on printed financial statements. The alternatives appear to be that group and organization be required to complete an appropriate financial statement or that all funds be channeled through the Business Office.

It was thought by the committee that the funds collected by organizations could best be handled if the organization was able to directly control their funds.

It was also felt that the students could learn more about self-government if allowed to directly control their finances through their own student treasurer. In making the supposition that student organizations would prefer to control their own monies, a form was developed which would allow the reporting of funds on a standardized form so that the audit requirements could be met.

During the meeting much misunderstanding occurred as to the intent of the form. Some groups felt that the completion of this form would improperly disclose their activities. Other groups felt that the particular suggested form was not applicable to their particular situation. Time at the meeting would not allow for the student organizations and those objecting to the form to make known their suggested changes. Other groups felt that they would have to contemplate the matter more fully before making a commitment as to the type form that they would prefer.

At this time, the committee would like to take the opportunity to request that each student organization review the types of information which was requested on the form and to submit revisions which they feel would need to be incorporated in the form which will be utilized for final reporting this Spring Semester. Suggested changes should be directed to Lappin, P.O. Box 3953. The items included on the original form are: opening cash balance, which includes the name of the bank utilized and amount of cash on hand. Another item is income received with subitems such as membership dues, initiation and pledge fees, social assessments, special assessments, fund raising income and other income. The dispersals included headings such as social functions, fund raising expenses, donations and/or awards and other disbursements. The final item is an indication of the closing cash balance with notations for accounts payable.

The attempt is to identify the financial structure of the organization and to fulfill the audit requirements. Many people at the meeting felt that the completion of the form would be a forerunner to controlling the expenditures of a student organization. The reason for this form of reporting is to eliminate the need for channeling all funds through the Business Office with expenditures being made by University checks upon the presentation of requisitions and covering vouchers.

Frosh Senators Offer Resume

To help inform our Freshman Class of the workings of the ASB Senate, we, your Freshman Senators, Danny Marr and Jimmy Garner, have compelled a Senate Summary for the Fall semester.

The Associated Student Body Senate is composed of thirteen senators and the speaker of the Senate. The Senate meets each Thursday night in the Student Union Building, room 303. The purpose and Function of a Senator is to represent the students of his class by his workings in the Senate.

As you know, the Senate has, for the last year and a half, been working on the new ASB Constitution, a constitution worthy of a growing university. Now since the constitution is being reviewed by the Administration, the Senate has begun working on several bills. The Bill Book containing all bills of past years is being revised; the new Senate By-Laws were recently passed; and the Faculty Evaluation Committee has been hard at work. Also, the senate has been formulating a Student Bill of Rights.

We your Freshmen Senators, are working in the Senate. We have become acquainted with the workings of the ASB and the goal of our Student Government. Our goal in Student Government is not that of personal or even class recognition, but that our MTSU and the MTSU students can find themselves through the activities and opportunities established by the ASB.

The Senate is always open to students. If you have any questions concerning the Senate, its working, or any matter which we could be of assistance, please contact us.

versity of Missouri history professors to "vote with their feet," one professor there predicted recently.

"It is conceivable the entire History Department might get up and walk away within a year," William Allen, associate professor of history, said in a MAN-EATER news report.

Dissatisfaction in the department stems from the same problems that plague professors in many institutions — too many classes, too many students to teach, too little time for research.

"There is no one in the Department who has to stay," Allen said. "Every man has a better offer elsewhere."

Then why have they stayed this long? "Because we feel an obligation, not to the university, but to the students and to each other," he said. "But this obligation is not limitless."

What is needed to keep good professors? "It can be summed up in three requirements: more money, more men, and a sense of direction for the university as a whole," Allen said.

"Of the three, a sense of direction is the most vital. If you have vital leadership, professors are willing to make the kind of sacrifice they do by staying here."

Necessary to attract top-flight professors, in addition to administrative "initiative and imagination" that will enable the university to lift itself up, is a commitment by the state to adequately support education, Allen said.

The Baptist Student Union held its annual Installation Banquet Saturday, March 11. The banquet, held in Dining Room B of the Student Union Building at 1:00 p.m., honored the twenty-three incoming officers.

The theme, "On a Clear Day, You Can See Forever", was arranged around the musical program presented by Paul and Alene Varnell of Chattanooga.

Mr. Dudley Johnson, Minister of Education at First Baptist Church in Murfreesboro, served as master of ceremonies. This year's activities were reviewed by Jerry Harris, outgoing President. Following special recognition was given to the graduating seniors present. Rev. Henry Ramser presented the installation challenge after stating his role as BSU director.

The Executive Council is composed of the officers alone while the committee members join the officers to form the Greater Council. Incoming President, Jerry Hannah, previously announced this year's executive council would be composed of three distinct groups under the direction of three vice presidents. Jane Norris and Linda Hall will serve as Vice Presidents of Enlistment and Promotion respectfully. Forrest Clark is the Vice President in charge of missions and devotions.

Other new officers include: Elliot Dawson, Boy's Evangelism Chairman; Ann Farnsworth, Girl's Evangelism Chairman; Mack Hannah and Connie Parham, Social Chairmen; Linda Consagra, Kitchen Chairman; George Foust, Chairman of extension work; Whyte McKnight, Summer Missions; and Georgia Mae Williams and Jane Franklin in charge of Noonday and Vespers;

Jack Birchett is Music Chairman; Sandra Elam, Corresponding Secretary; Sandra Farmer, Publicity Chairman; Buddy Sullivan, Athletic Chairman; Byron Adams, Student Center Chairman; Patty Mather, Recording Secretary; Doug Bennett, ASB Representative; David Mathis, SIDELINES reporter; CeCe Neill, State Activities Chairman; and Susan Skaggs, Newsletter editor. Faculty sponsor is Dr. Robert Abbott of the MTSU Education Department.

Keathley Announces Tenn. High School Scholarship Winners

Dr. Belt Keathley, director of MTSU student scholarship and loans, has announced that work-scholarships have been approved today for several academic leaders of Tennessee high schools. The grants are effective for the fall semester of 1967. Those selected include:

Carolyn Diane Lee, valedictorian, Kittrell high school, Murfreesboro; Janice Marie Fanning, valedictorian, Lynchburg; Margaret Sprayberry, valedictorian, Chattanooga Central; Ruth Annette Milligan, salutatorian, Kittrell high school, Murfreesboro; Jerry Paul Vanatta, valedictorian, DeKalb county high school, Liberty; Elizabeth Ann Welch (a straight "A" student), valedictorian, Savannah high school; Gloria Ann Carmon, salutatorian, Cheatham county high school, Ashland City.

On March 16, 1967, the House of Representatives met at 6:30 p.m. in Room 304 of the Student Union Building. Two very important pieces of legislation concerning the whole student body were acted upon.

One bill after having been passed by the Senate was brought to the floor of the House.

This bill reads:

PURPOSE: To repeal all previous bills concerning the election of class officers, and to set up a more feasible plan for such elections.

PLAN:

1. The Election Commission shall be responsible for planning all class officers' elections with the exception of the Freshmen Class whose nomination must be held the week immediately following Homecoming. It shall be left to their discretion concerning the dates of these elections.
2. Associated Student Body executive elections shall precede class elections.
3. The Election Commission shall specify these dates for class officer elections on the school calendar.
4. Only one class election shall be held per week.
5. The polls shall be open at 7:30 a.m., and close at 3:30 p.m.
6. The Election Commission shall at the first of each semester designate the number of polls for each election. The location of these polls shall be posted in the A.S.B. Office.
7. All nominees must have at the time of nominations, and maintain throughout the term of office, a 2.0 cumulative average.
8. Qualifications of voters will be decided on by a list from the Dean of Admissions Office. The number of hours is set forth in the Catalog.
9. Nominating committees for the purpose of choosing class officers as nominees in a class election shall not be legal unless otherwise passed by a majority of the members at a regular class meeting.

Plan #5 of this bill originally read "The polls shall be open at 7:30 a.m. and close at 3:00 p.m." After considerable debate, the House amended the bill unanimously to extend the closing time of the polls to 4:00 p.m.

Later, the House and Senate met in joint session. A compromise was arrived at, whereby; the closing time for the polls will be 3:30 p.m. Another very important resolution was introduced by representative Doug Bennett.

This resolution reads:

Whereas; campus life necessitates frequent communications between dorms and the Murfreesboro area; and whereas our campus complex has reached the size equivalent to a small city, it is felt that the telephone system as it now exists is inadequate.

Areas of concern include:

1. overloaded systems
2. insufficient operation hours
3. limited weekend service

Therefore; I respectfully submit the following proposals.

PLAN:

1. Use of scholarship, work-study students for full-time weekend operation of switchboard.
2. Additional pay phones in all dorms
3. Request a design-analysis of present system by telephone company engineers

Representative Bennett explained in support of his resolution that it was the duty of the ASB Congress to provide services for the student body. One such area of service that could be improved greatly was the telephone situation.

The resolution was approved unanimously by the House of Representatives.

The ASB government IS concerned with the student body of this campus. However, the student body must be concerned with their government before it will be THEIR government.

Make known to your representatives your suggestions, complaints, and desires. Only in this way will MTSU ever become a University in fact as well as name.

ASB election is this week.

Mueller Authors Articles

"The concept of non-discrimination in pricing is relatively new to European legal thought", according to Hans G. Mueller, department of economics at Middle Tennessee State University. Mr. Mueller who spent last year on leave in Germany and other European countries, documents his statement in a scholarly article in "The Antitrust Bulletin" (The Journal of American and Foreign Antitrust and Trade Regulations) with voluminous footnotes.

"The Prohibition of Price Discrimination in the European Coal and Steel Community: The Rules and Their Enforcement" is the title of the article which explores the problems created when this concept of non-discrimination in pricing was incorporated into the treaty establishing the European Coal and Steel Community (EGSC). He discusses the complexities of the compromises and the frustrations of "the grafting of essentially foreign concepts onto a different legal, social and industrial environment."

Much of the article is devoted to interpretations of Article 60 of the Treaty and the efforts of the High Authority and the resemblance and differences from American anti-trust legislation. He outlines the conflict between national and supranational policies relating to transportation, monetary and fiscal policies and the powers of control.

In discussions in the Wall Street Journal Mr. Mueller has two letters of significance in the current discussions over current problems in the International steel production and trade.

In November Mr. Mueller entered in the discussion relative to the open-hearth/BOF (oxygen converter) systems. He suggested that while the United States demand for steel was stagnant from 1952-1962, the European Common Market production rose 70% and that of Japan by 300%. He suggested that the large integrated Japanese companies welcomed the oxygen method chiefly as a means of lessening dependence on costly imported scrap. Mr. Mueller suggests that the executive agency of the EGSC urged construction of BOF's for the same reason.

In the March 3 edition of the Wall Street Journal Mr. Mueller states that the increase in steel imports into this country is "hardly the result of foreign industries by their governments". He points out that foreign steel gained a foothold in America during the steel strike of 1959 and that world market prices for most steel products have fallen. However, the "cost of entry" special levies on imports imposed

... do not seem to have deterred non-American steel imports in those areas. "American steel is being crowded out of the foreign market as a consequence of a proce war formented steel industries of Japan, the Soviet bloc and small steel producing countries, Mueller writes.

Mr. Mueller, is the author of articles appearing in recent editions of the magazine Aviation Week in which he reviews some of controversial issues of military and civilian aviation. Mr. Mueller takes advantage of the Aviation Week readers invitation to write their views for the editors.

Some of the interesting ideas Mr. Mueller suggests comes from his experiences as a "fadar communications man on the German coast in 1944". Among these is the idea the use of radar-fouling decoy missiles and the modernization of the effective World War II aircraft called the "sewing machine" by German infantrymen. This heavily armored biplane could be used to guide high flying bombers in the Viet Nam action.

Mueller also suggests "an amateur strategist" suggestion for improving American assault stratagems. Among these is the construction of concrete protected aircraft catapults in the European mountains to launch McDonnell F-4H nuclear weapons carriers; a below flight deck catapult for aircraft carriers that might be used the flight deck was damaged or subject to intense radiation and the conversion of old battleships into floating missile bases moving about in the Arctic sea areas.

A third article suggests the compromise with the all-or-nothing aerial warfare tactics developed for a highly sophisticated for all-out war. He would have armored helicopters guide high flying attacking bombers from low level positions. He also suggests a small ASM which will lock onto the flash from the firing of anti-aircraft guns.

Sophs vs. ROTC

Among the male members of the sophomore class, there is a noticeable amount of dissatisfaction concerning the sophomore Reserve Officer Training Corp program. It is the general consensus of the male sophomores that the second year basic ROTC program is under rated in that students only receive one credit hour.

There have recently been rumors of increasing the second year program to two credit hours. In a recent interview with Major Dillingham, an instructor in the ROTC department, it was disclosed that work has been done on raising the credit hours of the course, but that there is not presently any effort being made.

The average basic ROTC cadet spends two hours a week in class, one hour a week in drill and from one to five hours in preparation for class and drill. Other one hour courses offered by the University require an average of less than two hours a week in class with little or no time spent in preparation. According to Major Dillingham if the two courses are compared, the basic course should at least be given two hours credit if time and curriculum are to be used as a basis of comparison.

Major Dillingham said interested students should talk to Associated Student Body representatives and express their feelings on the matter and that if support is great enough by students and the ASB that there was a definite possibility that the course would be raised to a two credit program. Major Dillingham also mentioned the fact that there was a possibility of having the advanced ROTC curriculum listed as a minor or for those completing the advanced program.

WHAT IF---

by Randall Jones

I was flaked out on my bunk the other day just thinking, which is a very unusual thing for me, but some thoughts hit me. Such as, for example, what would happen if:

1. Mickey Mouse won the ASB Spring Frolic on write-ins, and then he couldn't take office because he wasn't a senior?
2. Or the Kremlim had Murfreesboro on its top-priority nuclear strike list?
3. Of if it occurred to the student politicians that the Administration was waiting for THEM to do something?
4. The Administration WAS waiting for the students to get up off their knees and DO something?
5. There were at least ten students staying at a week's end?
6. What would they do?
7. The ASB meant ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY?
8. The House and Senate read and followed its own laws?
9. If someone over 21 were seen with Al K. Hall?
10. It occurred to the students that they were going to a University?
11. The ASB was caught with its pants up?
12. The Socratics WERE being financed by the CIA?
13. The Senior Superlatives were?
14. All the members in the Midlander pictures belong?
15. Jerry Dunbar were for real?
16. We had a president we could COPE with?
17. Fraternity meant brotherhood?
18. Anyone said what he thought?
19. Slater decided to open a cafeteria?
20. Fun nights were?
21. An ASB candidate broke his shaking hand?
22. Or Bill Boner told people they were doing a poor job?
23. Associated Press voted Coed Codes the humor magazine of the year?
24. The English building hadn't been painted the year it was going to be torn down?
25. Uncle Sam didn't want you?
26. YOUR vote counted?
27. A major in Leadership was offered?
28. The Greeks came bearing gifts?
29. The Student Directories were handed out with diplomas?
30. This article wasn't kidding?

GOVERNMENT:

1. More duties and responsibilities for the Senate and House of Representatives to lead to a greater involvement of these people in the student government.
- a. Coordination of House and Senate with the A.S.B. social committee in chaperoning all fun nights.
- b. The assignment of one House member and Senate member to work directly with each key cabinet member.
2. To facilitate better communications between the House and Senate, the meetings shall be held on different nights and a synopsis of the prior session of each respective House shall be read at each other's meeting.
3. Student Government operated for the students. This system will be operated on the principle that for each dollar received a dollar will be returned in the form of services and activities for the students.
4. Extension of the responsibilities of the A.S.B. to all clubs and organizations on campus to include the channeling of money making functions to these groups on a regular basis.

5. In order to facilitate a more orderly election procedure, there shall be appointed a separate election commission whose chairman shall be a member of the President's Cabinet and solely responsible for all campus elections.

SOCIAL:

6. I will work with the administration towards the adoption of a more flexible policy in regard to more than one social or cultural function (fun nights, plays, movies, etc.) being held on a given night.
7. I will work for the revitalization and expansion of a spring carnival.
8. A poll will be taken to determine what big name entertainment the students would like to see come on campus.
9. I will work for a student pass book to provide students with reduced rates on entertainment and recreational facilities in the Murfreesboro area.

INTELLECTUAL:

10. The A.S.B. will work with the Dean of Students in the development and expansion of student loans and scholarships, and to insure that the students are aware of the existence and availability of these grants and aids.
11. I will work for the extension of the library hours on Sunday night.
12. To develop and enhance the intellectual atmosphere at this university, I propose a speaker series to be organized along the line of Vanderbilt's "Impact."
 - a. To include current controversial speakers desired by the students.
 - b. To be financed by a matching A.S.B. and Faculty Public Program Committee's funds.

W. F. Retreat Set

On Friday April 21, the Wesley Foundation will leave for Standing Stone State Park for a retreat. The Rev. Paul Allen of Trinity Woodmore Methodist Church will lead the retreat.

This event is the last major activity planned by the Wesley Foundation for this semester, although they will continue to hold their regular weekly meetings. Speakers featured in these programs included the Rev. Harry Caldwell, a missionary to China, D. A. Thomas Shriver of Nashville and ministers from several local churches.

Topics for discussion have ranged from marriage to military service.

PAUL WOMACK

The most important issue in this campaign, in the final analysis, is not the platform a candidate expresses or the promises he wished to fulfill—but the sincerity of purpose and the determination to move forward. This is the basic issue—and our campaign is centered on this most important point. I am determined to see the ASB Government take positive steps in the direction of increased responsibility. Unity, respect, and responsibility are the three goals we intend to make a beginning toward achieving if we are in a position to do so. It is for this reason that I am making this race for President—with a firm desire to work for the advancement of the entire student body and not a select few.

We intend to be receptive to the ideas, goals, and hopes of those who share in our determination to move forward. We intend to establish a governmental committee with the select purpose of sifting the news for means to strengthen the student government and to take the grips of the average student—and we shall deal with this to the best of our ability. We intend to promote Student Ambassadors to reinforce the recruiting program of this University — realizing that the attitudes of suitcase colleges and high school are instilled in the incoming student before he graduates from his respective high school. We do this in order to nip the trouble at the roots and not to offer a superficial panacea. We intend to strengthen the Legislative Branch, hopefully in the realm of fiscal and budgetary matters. We intend to urge the acceptance of a program designed to give the representatives of the government a vote — as well as a voice — in the determination of certain areas of policy. We intend to give full support to those who have worked so hard for the initiation of a campus radio station — believing that the time for action in this area has arrived. We intend to seek cooperation with the Faculty Senate and other organizations whose purpose is to promote a progressive atmosphere on this campus.

I am in this race because I believe that government, of any fashion, is designed to better the welfare of those it represents. I seek this office because of the challenge, the responsibility, and the burden it offers, with complete recognition that while personal ambition propels me in this task, it can only be met by the fulfillment of the aspirations we have and will not end with the mere attainment of office. I believe that the government is a means to progress and not the end of progress. To this end I stand committed and will not be swayed from this position. Our goal is the advancement of the intellectual, as well as the social, environment. We shall seek a continuation of the present programs of the government, but call for added programs which will lead us to unity, respect, and responsibility.

I am committed to the philosophy that the government should be the center of action on this campus — and I believe that the Presidency of the ASB should be the center of action in this respect. This I believe.

Black Unopposed In House Speaker Race

I consider it a great honor and privilege to present myself to the students of Middle Tennessee State University as a candidate for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives. If elected Speaker of the House, my main duty will be to preside over the House.

But what exactly is the House of Representatives? Is it an inferior body which actually has no power? Is it just a club that meets every two weeks and has its picture made for the annual?

The answer to these questions is of course a resounding NO! But too few students really know anything about the House and its responsibilities.

The House is a legislative body composed of one Representative from each duly organized club on campus. This includes the social fraternities, honor fraternities, departmental clubs, and student interest clubs.

But too many students say, "What can MY club contribute to student government? We have nothing to do with law or political science." And this is the problem — for EVERY club is composed of students of this university and anything that concerns a student here, concerns the student government — the Associated Student Body. And every club can contribute something to the student government.

For example, the Band, Chorus, Art Club, and Dramatics Club can contribute ideas to better the cultural environment of our campus. The Triton Club and Physical Education Club can contribute ideas for a better intramural program. The Pre-Law Club, Socratics, and Pi Gamma Mu can suggest ideas for better governmental policy. The Sigma Club and Tau Omicron can give suggestions for academic improvement. And these are just a few of the many clubs on our campus, and a few ideas of how they can serve to improve student government and all student affairs on our campus.

And this is the duty of the House: to serve as a forum of opinions and suggestions and to develop these ideas into legislation which can benefit all students enrolled here.

But it is only through ACTIVE and INTERESTED participants in the House and in all branches of student government that we can accomplish our goals — whatever they might be.

Student government must be taken seriously if it is to get anything done. The students must look at the records and qualifications of all persons running for an office, and they must try to decide the relative merits of the candidates. This of course is a very important duty. But an almost more important duty is for the students to really work for and support the candidates that they elect. An office is an empty title if there is no support behind it. And support does not necessarily mean the lack of criticism. Criticism is fine and needed, but when only NEGATIVE criticism is offered not much can be accomplished. Only through negative criticism with a POSITIVE SOLUTION can a government really accomplish its objectives.

So if we are to rid ourselves of our "Mickey Mouse" stigma, we have to work. We have to get out and support our elected officials. And we have to choose the people we feel are best qualified to hold these offices.

So I ask you now to consider me as your candidate for Speaker of the House. And if I am elected, I promise that I will do everything humanly possible to see that Middle Tennessee State University has one of its best years in 1967-1968.

Clark Accepts Accounting Position

Beverly Clark, MTSU accounting major and treasurer of the ASB, has accepted a position with the United States General Accounting office in Washington, effective on her graduation from MTSU. She is the first woman accountant from the University to go directly to the General Accounting Office in Washington, D.C.

Felix Asby, assistant director of the defense division of the U.S. Accounting Office, Washington, was a recent speaker at a meeting of the University Accounting Society. Mr. Asby stressed the shortage of qualified accountants in outlining the organization and history of the AGO, according to Walter Chatman, sponsor of the local chapter of the Accounting Society.

Controversy is a sign of progress, but only when the criticism brings change. Student Government's worth and role has been seriously questioned by numerous parties in this past year. Tangible progress has been made as far as activities and projects are concerned but little headway has been made toward that intangible asset called STUDENT SUPPORT. The students must come to know the A.S.B. as THEIR government instead of the organization of the acting administration. I feel this can be accomplished in TWO ways: (1) a more forceful approach to the administration. By this I mean that we must stop being passive and apologetic in our work with the Dean's Office. We must present plans for action instead of ASKING what we are allowed to do. If we are to demand the respect of the administration, we must act with confidence and carry through all projects to their successful completion. (2) We must see that students have more needs than to be pacified. Dances, movies, and other social activities should not be decreased, but this should be only a sideline of the A.S.B., not its sole purpose for existence. A government exists primarily to protect and ensure the student's rights. Of course in our case the government must first determine and establish what are the student's rights on this campus. A possibility is a Bill of Rights similar to those adopted by numerous schools. This would list certain rights which could not be invalidated by the administration. Among these might be privacy in one's own dorm room from search and seizure by dorm personnel. This is only one of many needed protections for the student's rights. You know the principles of the U.S. Constitution also apply on this campus.

The A.S.B. must become the voice of the students. We are presently operating under numerous undesirable restraints. There are over 6,000 students on this campus. If this group could voice their opinions through a dynamic student legislature, the signs of change would not be so well hid. Patience is a virtue, but not a way of life.

My proposals for the coming year deal with all areas of student life. (1) The A.S.B. must make sure that government survives the powerful upsurge of fraternities and sororities, and yet not struggle against them. We must be a source of direction to this new, and potentially great Greek system. More representation in the Student Government of the Greek system is necessary. I feel that a bill should be passed to make the I.S.C. and I.F.C. Presidents members of the A.S.B. President's Cabinet. (2) I feel that action should be taken to free the A.S.B. social activities from the well-meaning but somewhat mis-understanding Faculty Social Committee. The profit or loss of the entertainment falls on the A.S.B., NOT the Faculty Social Committee. (3) Though futile they may be called, greater and more numerous efforts must be made to obtain explanation of the women's rules and the reasoning behind them. An active Senate Committee I am sure could shed a ray of light on the subject. (4) In more general terms, if the ASB is to do the work of informing, entertaining, pacifying, and controlling 6,000 students it must be accepted as a vital organization by the administration. We have been content with simple recognition, now we must strive for full responsibility. The administration must see through our actions that we are determined, willing, and able to act as the student organization. We must derive our power from the students and use it for them.

Careful consideration of the responsibilities has caused me to evaluate myself and the job that must be done. I feel that if I am given the opportunity, and indeed it is a great opportunity, I will serve you the students as best I can.

I have considered the candidates for the Presidency and I feel that I could work with the one of your choice whomever it might be. As far as my opponent is concerned, I do not feel any person can fully understand A.S.B. and what it means to the student unless she participates in the formal functions of the A.S.B., as I have in the Court, AND the social activities sponsored by the A.S.B. such as Fun Nights, A.S.B. sponsored formals, and Big Name Entertainment. It is very easy for one to become wrapped up in the formal functions of A.S.B. and isolate themselves from the students. I feel this has vivid application.

Some specific things I seek are:

- (1) increased recognition of the Greek system
- (2) establish a better Senate-House relationship
- (3) re-organize the election commission
- (4) pass a bill giving a greater percentage of Fun Night revenue to the clubs.
- (5) attempt a better cheerleading bill.
- (6) set up a permanent Senate Committee to aid the Attorney General with elections.
- (7) work toward more week-end social activities for the non-Greek students.

I urge your advice and comments on these subjects.

I feel great pride for the A.S.B. and its work, and even greater pride to have this honor to attempt to serve you. If, after careful consideration of my qualifications and past role in student government, you feel I could serve you well, I urge your support and your vote.

Respectfully
Patricia Duncan

LINDA WHITE

As a candidate for Speaker of the Senate one must have certain ideas, or what politicians call "a platform." However, platforms are determined largely by the President; and the two Speakers aid the President in the execution of these platforms. Yet to some extent the Speakers do help to determine policy. The policy I shall pursue is as follows:

1. Promoting a closer relationship with the House of Representatives
2. Promoting a closer relationship with the Senate's sister body, the Faculty Senate.
3. Working for the acceptance of the American Association of College Professors recommendations, which deal with such matters as a free student press, student representatives on all faculty committees
4. Working for the Student Bill of Rights, which is similar to the American Constitutional Bill of Rights
5. Strict adherence to our 'new' constitution, plus the very much needed up-dating of the Bill Book
6. Student involvement in academic affairs; the lengthening or exam week, in order to end the common problem of 3-4 and even 5 exams on one day, also continuing the work of the Senate Faculty Evaluation Committee.

The solution as I see it, with regard to the problem of A.S.B. government is as follows:

1. Allow, as the Constitution provides, the Congress to be a legislative body, and leave the social aspect of student government to the Committee provided by the Constitution — the Social Committee.
2. Work WITH the faculty and the administration; invite them to the meetings and thereby work out problems BEFOREHAND.
3. Always have clear PURPOSE, MOTIVE, and MEANS to every measure under consideration.

We must never forget that this University is composed of THREE interested parties: the Students, the Faculty and the Administration. By working with and involving ALL three in what we attempt to do, we cannot expect failure. We have the potential to MOVE and to ACCOMPLISH things which will greatly aid this University. It is the duty of EVERY student to do his part, every faculty member to do his part, and every administrator to do his part to make this University a great university. And I feel that TOGETHER there is little we cannot do.

Vol Rally Downs Raiders

The University of Tennessee scored six big runs in the fifth inning Saturday to pave the way for a 9-6 win over Middle Tennessee State University. The game was the opening contest for both teams, and was played in Engle Stadium in Chattanooga for the benefit of the UT "Big Orange" Club.

Middle Tennessee held a 4-2 lead going into the disastrous fifth inning. When the smoke had

Netters Romp, 8-1

Middle Tennessee's fine tennis team opened their 1967 season with an easy 8-1 romp over outclassed University of the South team. Even so, coach Buck Bouldin wasn't at all pleased with the performance of his squad.

"We looked awful, just awful," commented Bouldin, "I'm going to have to revise my predictions for this season after this."

John Prevost, playing the number one singles for MTSU, was the only Raider to taste defeat. He fell to Bill Yates of Sewanee, 6-1, 7-9, 6-4. The other squad members were all victorious. Tom Magner, Jim Seymour, Mike Albano, Neil Wright, and Mike Hamman took singles victories, and the teams of Magner - Albano, Seymour - D. Wakefield, and Wright-Hamman scored wins in the doubles competition.

The tennis team will not play again until Tuesday, March 28, when they host DePauw University of Greencastle, Indiana.

The results of the MTSU-Sewanee meet:

Singles - Bill Yates (S) beat John Prevost (M), 6-1, 7-9, 6-4; Tom Magner (M) beat Moultre Burns (S), 6-1, 6-1; Jim Seymour (M) beat John Parsons (S), 6-2, 6-3; Mike Albano (M) beat Rick Weekley (S), 6-2, 6-2; Neil Wright (M) beat Jim Burns (S), 6-2, 6-2; Mike Hamman (M) beat Derrick Beil (S), 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles-Albano and Magner (M) beat Yates and Burns (S), 6-4, 6-3; Seymour and D. Wakefield (M) beat Parsons and Weekley (S), 6-4, 6-0; Wright and Hamman (M) beat J. Burns and Beil (S), 6-1, 6-1.

cleared, the Vols led 8-4, and the Raiders played catch-up the rest of the afternoon.

Coach Jimmy Earle's team didn't waste any time jumping into the lead. In the first inning, Don Tarter and Bruce Skeen walked, and Rich Howell singled to score Tarter.

In Tennessee's first time at bat, they could not get as much as a loud foul off of MTSU's fine right-hander, Greg Cunningham. Cunningham struck out two, and the other popped out to the catcher. Fay Thurman made a nice catch on the pop-up, which was right next to the screen.

Speed walked in the second frame for Tennessee. He was forced at second by Fielder, who then stole second himself. With two outs, Sleever left a high fly ball to left field which Howell lost in the sun, and it fell in for a triple that scored a run.

MTSU came roaring back in the top half of the third inning. Chuck Machado walked, and Skeen and John Price singled to lead the bases with one out. Jackie Carver forced Skeen at third, but Machado scored. Then Turman walked, forcing in Price, and MTSU had a 3-1 lead.

In the next inning, Skeen boomed a towering shot to left-center which went for a triple. When the Vol outfielder made a bad throw, Skeen scored to give the Raiders a 4-1 lead.

Tennessee got a run in the fourth on a walk, a sacrifice fly, and a single.

Next came the nightmarish fifth. After Tiller grounded out, Green was hit by a pitch. Giles grounds to Price at third, who bobbled the ball for an error. Grigsby is also hit by a pitch, and the bases are loaded. Grigsby singles scoring Green. Smith is hit by a pitch to load the bases. Speed singles scoring Giles.

At this point, Paul Smith relieved Cunningham for MTSU. Smith walked Fielder, forcing in Grigsby. Sleever forced Fielder, with Smith scoring for Tennessee. McBride walked and Tiller singled, scoring two more runs.

There was no more scoring until the seventh when Tennessee got another run on a double by Kraft and a triple by Stahlcup.

Behind, 9-4, MTSU made a good try at coming back in the eighth inning. After Sandlin struck out, Brady Straub walked. A passed ball put Straub on second base. Butch Wright struck out, but Paul Smith followed with an infield hit. Tarter was safe on an error. Straub scoring on the play. Machado was also safe on an error, with Smith a vicious shot, but it was right at the Vol shortstop, who made a nice play and threw him out.

The Raiders were three up and three down in the ninth inning, and the game ended at 9-6 in UT's favor.

Bruce Skeen was the big bat for MTSU, getting three hits in four trips to the plate.

Tiller was the winning pitcher for Tennessee. Cunningham took the loss.

The game was played in near-freezing weather, which probably effected the pitching on both teams.

Spotlighting: J. Earl Young

by: Doris Pilkinton

Mr. J. Earl Young, an assistant professor in the MTSU Agriculture Department from Grant, Louisiana, is well-known to many students here on campus — especially during Rodeo Season!

He came to MTSU in the fall of 1957 after receiving his B.S. in Dairy Science from the University of Southwestern Louisiana and his M.S., also in Dairy Science, from North Carolina State University. He presently teaches several courses in Dairy and Animal Science and one course in Agricultural Engineering.

He is the permanent sponsor of the MTSU Rodeo Club, the faculty sponsor of the Collegiate 4-H Club, a sponsor of the Freshman Class, and a co-sponsor of the MTSU chapter of the Block and Bridle Club.

Other campus activities include: Membership in the American Association of University Professors for the second year, a second-year member of the MTSU Faculty Discipline Committee, and faculty coach for the MTSU Dairy Cattle Judging Team.

Off-campus, he is Secretary-Treasurer of the Rutherford County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the sixth year and President of the Tennessee Artificial Breeding Association for the third year. In addition he is an active member of the Tennessee Dairy Products Association and is a member in good standing in the National Block and Bridle Club.

Mr. Young is also the recipient of several awards for his contributions to various organizations. In 1965 the Rutherford County Dairy Herd Improvement Association presented him with an engraved desk calendar for outstanding service, and at the annual Awards Night here at MTSU last year the MTSU Block and Bridle club gave him an engraved wall plaque as the most outstanding individual in 1965-66.

He and his lovely wife Janet are the proud parents of two boys: Jack, aged 9; and Keith, aged 5.

His outside interests are varied. He enjoys hunting, fishing, golf, tennis, and bowling, and he is a basketball referee for the TSSAA.

Good Showing In Defeat: Earle

by Jim Freeman
Sports Editor

Although losing the opener to Tennessee, Coach Jimmy Earle was not at all disappointed in the way his club played baseball last Saturday. In fact, he felt it was a good showing, especially for the first game.

The batting punch that the Raiders displayed was pleasing, also. Bruce Skeen started the season in a big way, getting three hits in four times at bat, including a towering triple.

Greg Cunningham looked impressive in the first four innings despite the biting cold. He gave up three hits, one a routine fly ball that Rich Howell lost in the sun, and another a broken-bat single that just got past the shortstop. He struck out two, walked two, and caused three batters to foul out.

MTSU came up with several good fielding plays during the afternoon. Probably the best play of the day was Chuck Machado's diving catch of a line drive that was headed for right field. Chuck was playing first base for the first time in his collegiate career. He was a pitcher last season.

The rest of the team played well in the field, also. There was only one MTSU error all day, and it was a difficult chance to begin with. There were also a couple of balls lost in the sun, but they went for hits since the MTSU outfielders didn't touch them.

The next game for the Raiders will be on March 30. They will play Southern Tech in Atlanta, Ga. The first home game will be on Monday, April 3. It will be a doubleheader with Sewanee, with the first game beginning at 1:00 p.m.

BLUE-WHITE GAME PROMISES TO BE A GOOD ONE

In addition to the finals of Girls State to be held here on Saturday evening, there will be another big sports attraction this weekend for the students who choose to remain on campus. The annual Blue-White football game, which marks the end of spring practise, will be played on Jones Field at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday afternoon.

If things go according to form, the two opposing quarterbacks will be Dickie Thomas of Murfreesboro and Bill Griffith of Nashville Maplewood. Last year's starting signal-caller, Billy Walker, is currently on active duty with the National Guard. He will miss the Blue-White game, although he will be present for the regular season. Admission to the game will be fifty cents for students and a dollar for adults.

TOP CAGE PROSPECTS VISIT CAMPUS

During the last week, and also this coming weekend, several top-notch basketball prospects visited, or will visit, the campus. Some are Jr. College boys, others are high school seniors.

Last Thursday David Westerfield, a 5-10 guard from Baldwin JC in Tifton, Ga., was at MTSU. He was an all-State JC selection, and led Baldwin to a 26-5 season, and the Georgia State JC Championship.

On Saturday, while in Chattanooga for the UT-MTSU baseball game, coach James Dominey picked up a couple of boys from Chippola JC in Florida. They were 6-8 Robert Flowers and 6-3 Dale Klay. Flowers is a center and Klay is a guard. They stayed until Sunday night, working out in the gym on Sunday morning.

Sunday night Larry Barch, a 6-6 1/2 center-forward from Newark, New Jersey arrived. He was scheduled to work out sometime yesterday.

This weekend two outstanding high school prospects from Kansas City Central will be on hand. KC Central, the runner-up in Missouri's State Tournament this year, is the Alma Mater of Art Polk and Booker Brown. The two boys are Marvell McMurray, a 6-6 forward, and Herman Sikes, a 5-11 guard. Reportedly, there are some 40 schools who desire the services of Sikes, and almost as many for McMurray. To land these two boys would almost insure as good a freshman team next year as we had this past season.

If all of these prospects signed with MTSU, coach Trickey would probably be willing to start the basketball season on May 1. Would you believe April 15?

Kicking Karavan Coming

Dallas Cowboys' "Kicking Karavan" is coming to Nashville.

The club's nation-wide search for potential place-kickers and punters brings the Cowboy group,

Luck Or Fate?

Do you believe in fate or destiny? Does the smile of Lady Luck have a profound influence on your life?

Don Tarter may or may not believe in these intangibles which shape the lives of many people, but one thing is for certain — he definitely believes in wearing a batting helmet.

Don is the regular second baseman for the Blue Raiders of coach Jimmy Earle, and, according to coach Earle, Don is the best glove man in the OVC.

Hurrying out to a recent practice session, Don forgot his cap. Rather than go back for it, he put on a plastic batting helmet.

While Don and the other infielders were going through their paces on the regular diamond, several of the other players were getting in a little extra batting time in a far corner of the practice field.

During his turn at bat, Danny Sandlin really leaned into a pitch and drove it high and far in the direction of the infielders. Some 400 feet from the origin of its flight, the ball came to an abrupt halt against the head of a totally unaware Don Tarter.

Don's batting helmet saved him from certain serious injury and may even saved his life. As it was, Don was unhurt, although somewhat shaken up. Had he not forgotten his cloth cap this one time, there may not have been another.

led by all-time kicking great Ben Agajanian, will hold an open tryout at 9 a.m. today, March 21, at Madison High School.

Agajanian, assisted by staff personnel from the Cowboys, will put candidates through tests, looking for signs of kicking potential.

"We are not necessarily looking for polished kickers," says Gil Brandt, Director of Player Personnel for the Cowboys. "What we want to see are men with strong legs and enough potential for our staff to develop. Naturally, any person trying out must be eligible to sign a National Football League player contract."

The Cowboys, NFL Eastern Conference champions last season, have long been successful in finding football players in unusual ways. Two 1966 regulars — flanker Pete Gent of Michigan State and defensive back Cornell Green of Utah State — did not play football in college but attracted Cowboy attention as top basketball players. Six other free agents (players not drafted) were regulars and a total of 14 free agents made the 40-man squad last season.

Girls State Opens Today Finals Saturday

The 1967 Girl's State Tournament will get underway today in MTSU's Alumni Memorial Gym. The first round games will be played today and tomorrow, the quarter-finals will be on Thursday, the semi-finals on Friday night, and the finals on Saturday night.

Seventeen teams will be on hand to battle for the crown. Waverly, Nashville Overton, McMinnville City, Lebanon, and Lewisburg will carry the area hopes, while Walland, Maury, Porter and Bradley Central will be the threats from East Tennessee, and Milan, Somerville, and Henderson are expected to be the powers from the western part of the state.

This will mark the sixth consecutive year that MTSU has hosted the TSSAA-sponsored event. Next year it will be held in Jackson.

CAPs Cop Three

Showing outstanding form, the Chi Alpha Pi Fraternity basketball team rolled over three fraternity opponents to gain a tie for first place in their league.

On March 7, the CAP's fought for a come-from-behind, 48-44 win over a strong Phi Epsilon team. The issue was in doubt right up until the last two minutes of the game when Greg Samuels, with a superb outcourt shot, hit a 20-footer to give the CAP's the lead.

Lambda Psi provided Chi Alpha Pi with its last regular season game on March 9. Under the capable leadership of coach Fred Wright, the CAP's moved into a tie for first place, winning the game 55-43.

Right from the opening tipoff, the outcome was certain. Larry Wilmore, the CAP's center, played his finest game of the year, scoring more points and hauling down more rebounds than any other CAP player.

Newton Molley, Bert Parsley, Mike Jones, Greg Samuels, Dave Stentz, and Fred Wright, all regular team members, were given a rest when the CAP "A" team took the floor with the sole intent of amusing the crowd. Wearing garters and half-T-shirts, the "A" team was able to stay within eight points of Lambda Psi before coach Wright pulled them out.

On March 15, the CAP's played what had to be their hardest-fought game in a protest match with Sigma Tau Omega. The CAP's faced their most determined foe of the season and were just able to gain a tie in the last few seconds to force the game into overtime.

Chi Alpha Pi won the last minute and a half on some fine outcourt shooting.

The Peters Paragraph

Yes, who else would be idiotic enough to continue this column? Only me, dear hearts, and I'm back again with more trivial tripe which you can snarl at while you line your garbage can with it. Hhhmmmm. At least this column serves SOME useful purpose!

This week, my lovelies, I have a special treat in store for you. While hiding in my natural habitat (the SIDELINES office) this past week, I noticed an interesting bit of humor in one of the typewriters. Of course, most typists are familiar with the exercise whereby they type line after line of "the quick brown fox jumped over the lazy brown dog." Well, something new has come up — quick brown fox jokes. So for the first time (I believe) anywhere, I somewhat cold-heartedly present the QUICK BROWN FOX JOKE.

Equipment necessary:

One typewriter.

Two pieces of typing paper.

A sick humor.

A sick stomach.

Maybe both.

At any rate, here are a few samples:

THE QUICK BROWN FOX HAS BEEN "COMPROMISED" BY THE CIA.

THE QUICK BROWN FOX LIKES FEDERAL INSPECTION.

THE QUICK BROWN FOX IS A PINKO IN DISGUISE.

THE QUICK BROWN FOX IS REALLY MICKEY MOUSE IN DISGUISE.

THE QUICK BROWN FOX IS AN MTSU DROPOUT.

THE QUICK BROWN FOX DOESN'T KNOW HOW TO JUMP OVER

THE LAZY BROWN DOG, HE'S TOO BUSY WITH SUBVERSION IN ASIA.

THE QUICK BROWN FOX IS A WINO.

THE QUICK BROWN FOX PUSHES LSD.

Well, so much for the "quick brown fox" jokes. If you think up any snappy things like this, send them to me. The best "quick brown fox" joke of the week will win ABSOLUTELY FREE, a genuine imitation quick brown fox paw-print.

ASB In Review

This week, the all-important offices of ASB President, Speaker of the House, and Speaker of the Senate are being decided in the annual elections. To better improve the relationship between ASB Government and the student body, the SIDELINES offers this first installment of a series designed to promote and improve this relationship so vital for progress on the campus.

Bill Boner, President of the Associated Student Body Government, never considered the fact that he would someday hold the position now contested in the elections. His political career began at MTSU with the tenure of President of the Freshman Class. From there, Bill stepped into the position of Sophomore Representative in the Supreme Court a year later. Besides taking an active interest in government during these years, Bill also participated in varsity tennis and freshman and varsity basketball. He also served on the Board of Directors for the Circle K Club and held membership in such organizations as Physical Education Club, Track and Sabre Club. As an ROTC cadet, Bill won the Distinguished Military History Award for the highest grade average in all sections of Military Science 201-202.

According to the President, he first seriously considered running for the ASB Presidency six weeks before the elections. With the aid of an effective campaign, Bill gained the vote necessary to put him into office.

As President, Bill has sought to improve communication and participation of the student body. Through such instruments as the ASB Bulletin, this problem has been alleviated to a great extent. Fulfilling a campaign promise, he has succeeded in drawing bigger and better entertainment to the campus. One of the newer ideas has been the recent change in policy in Fun Night, which allows free admittance to the dance. The Boner Administration also introduced the IBM ballot to the campus, which allows for more accurate, speedy, and efficient totaling. The system has been termed a great success, with only 20 ballots discarded in past elections.

This year, ASB Government has been faced with the problem of rewriting the Constitution. In answer to questions concerning the new document, Bill stated that the new Constitution is now more "workable", but "it has its faults." Referring to the Constitution as a "secure foundation for ASB", Boner continued saying that the document should prove to be "a valuable tool for the Future".

Soon after the results of the elections, Bill will leave the office which has been his for the past year. Behind him, he leaves a financially stable government, committees for more effective representation of the students in areas such as food service, and representation on the faculty committees.

To those new officers soon to take office, Bill offers the following advice: candidates should never forget that they represent the students of this university. Also, officers need to be sensitive to the students' needs, and they must always remain tough enough to take the criticism that comes with the privilege of office.

Faculty Members Address TEA

Several Middle Tennessee State University faculty members appeared on the program of the Tennessee Education Association Thursday and Friday in Nashville.

Dr. Bealer Smotherman, was chairman of the Audio-Visual section. He is former president of the Tennessee Public School Officers Association and of the Administrative section of the TEA. Curtis Ramsey of Peabody College delivered the principal address of the day at the audio-visual section on the theme, "A Thrust Towards Excellence in Middle Tennessee."

Mrs. Marguerite Boutwell, kindergarten teacher at Campus School was a member of the panel discussion of the laboratory for teacher training as an aid in kindergarten instruction and the advantages of the kindergarten for the four-year old.

Miss Mary Tom Berry, professor of education at the University, appeared on a program for "Improved Techniques for the Teaching of Reading." She discussed the potential of the "linguistic" readers for the classroom teacher and the means of organizing and operating a county system remedial reading laboratory.

Baxter Hobgood, superintendent of City School in Murfreesboro spoke on the Relations between teachers and teachers aids. Mrs. Ruth Bowdoin was a speaker on the Ungraded Primary Program. Mr. Hobgood, former MTSU faculty member, discussed the guideline in selecting teacher aides and the use that can be made of these assistants. Mrs. Bowdoin was concerned with the advantages of the ungraded primary instructional program and the facilities, equipment and personnel needed.

A faculty evaluation rating scale has made it possible for the students to express how they feel about professors and it also gives the professors a chance to find out how students react to them and to their lectures. The students may rate their instructor from "exceptional" to "very inadequate", concerning his willingness to help students, his subject matter organization and presentation, and the fairness of exam procedures. The results of these ratings show that the "hard" professors are not given the "lowest" rating, but very often receive the best.

The Sociology Club plans to sponsor a "Friendship Day" for the fifth consecutive year. Students and State College families invite visitors from a local mental hospital into their homes to participate in various activities, thereby giving the patients an opportunity to be on their own, away from the hospital. After each day of such visiting, a meeting is held with the families and students to discuss their experiences with a member of the hospital staff who has had a chance to evaluate the patients' reactions to the day.

A bill for the pass-fail grading system for elective courses has been passed by the Undergraduate Student Government. "Provisions of the bill will allow students to take no more than four credits a term on a pass-fail grading basis and no more than a total of 18 credits with either pass or fail stamps toward graduation credit requirements. Only fourth-term students and above are eligible to take courses under this system, and they must take courses outside their major field of study."

The Association of Women Students has voted to extend freshman dorm hours from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. on Monday through Thursday. The purpose of this extension is to all the coed to use the extra hour for study in the library.

How Naive can you be!!

Oranges, lemons, and limes are arriving in your markets today — that is, your clothes markets. Spring sunshine brings bright colors and brilliant fabrics. Picture a gay orange and yellow print fabric. Design it into an A-line skimmer with a novel, dropped, puffed-sleeve. Add a soft yellow leather handbag. Put this combination on a redhead, and you have a combination that is as bright and happy as spring vacation. For extra interest, add a neatly attired boy in a black blazer, unwrinkled pen-striped shirt, and gray slacks. Spring days are here!

The Look-Away, the University's first on-campus night club opened in January to fill the pre-exam entertainment vacuum. Featuring professional entertainment, the club opened its season with Greenwich Village song writer-stylist Jack Holmes.

What the University Schedule Committee considered to be an ideal academic calendar was later rejected by two faculty councils. "The change would have modified the existing semester calendar to begin the fall semester immediately after Labor Day and complete it, including final exams, prior to Christmas vacation. Spring semester would then begin January 10 and end in early May."

New hours have recently been established in the women's dorms on campus. All sophomores, juniors, and seniors now have 2 a.m. permission EVERY night. Second semester freshmen may stay out until midnight on Sunday through Thursday, and have 2 a.m. permission Friday and Saturday nights.
