Sara Croft To Reign As Miss Midlander

MTSC Plans Policy Changes; Increase In Fees, Salaries, Expansion Needs

At the weekend meeting of the State Board of Education, arrangements were made to facilitate a new policy-making program for Middle Tennessee State College and other state institutions.

The immediate effects of the board action will be:

1. To provide an increase of student fees beginning September 1, 1958 from $40 a quarter to $55 a quarter.

2. To begin construction of a new music, art and education building on the site of the college infirmary, which will be moved to renovated and enlarged quarters in Monohan Hall.

3. To award a sizeable number of non-athletic scholarships made available from 20 per cent of the revenue derived from increased student fees.

4. To increase in faculty salaries from the balance of money derived from increased fees.

Another provision of the board may not be put into operation at MTSC with the beginning of the 1958 academic year. That action provides that any of the state colleges may set up a testing program for admission to the colleges. "We are already emphasizing quality of graduates from approved high Surrounded by the trombone section of the MTSC marching band, Charlotte "Tiny" Turner practices some high steps for the TPI half-time show Thanksgiving. Charlotte, all four feet and one inch of her high-stepping brunette vivaciousness is, the antithesis of the usual conception of the tall, thin man with a fur-sakho that usually marches in front of a college band. Surrounding Mrs. Turner (that's right boys—Mrs. Turner) are Ann Weidrick, Murfreesboro; Joe Clepper, Nashville; Wayne Tipps, Columbia; Kelly Graves, Chattanooga; Richard Hunter, Chattanooga; Janis Kidwell, Crossville; and Jimmy Vaughn, Antioch. Drum major Turner is a senior instrumental music major and is considered a top flight oboe player with the concert band. Last year she was captain of the flag twirling majorettes. She was the subject of a recent article by Doug Sparks, editor of the Murfreesboro News Journal.

Tri-Tones Win Vet Club Talent Show

Sara Jane Croft, who last week was crowned queen of Farmers' Frolic, repeated at the Veterans' Club Talent Show Thursday night, winning the title of Miss Midlander over 16 entries representing all the college classes. Miss Croft is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Croft of 823 Bell Street, Murfreesboro, and is a sophomore transfer student from Belmont College. She is a graduate of McMinnville High School and was runner-up for governor of Girl's State, held on the MTSC campus in 1955.

Four girls were chosen from each class. They were as follows: freshmen—Adelia Denton, Gail Wilson Doris Boner, and Barbara Simmons; sophomores—Sara Croft, Sandra Huffman, Bonnie Slatton, and Frances McBroom; juniors—Ann Abbey, Frances Jackson, Helen Massey, and Mary Jo Collier; seniors—Mary Ann Holly, Elaine Wakefield, Joan Startup, and Judy Hall.

Attendants for Miss Croft, who will preside at the Midlander Ball Friday night, November 22, are Mary Ann Holly, Gayle Wilson, Judy Holt, and Mary Jo Collier. This dance is a weekend prelude to the Thanksgiving football game with TPI.

Kelly Graves and his "Townsmen", with Peggy Jernigan as vocalist, will provide the music. The Midlander Ball is not a flower dance, but it will be formal. Tickets are $1.50 per couple and no stags allowed. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Midlander Staff.

Talent Show Results

Ever growing in popularity, the Veterans Club Talent Show attracted 17 entries Thursday night.

Top honors went to the Tri-Tones, radio and T-V trio from Bell Buckle composed of Sandra Cathey, Emily Gilmore, and Marcia Manley. Second honors were won by an MTSC entry, "The Sharps", a vocal quartette composed of Sam Causey, Murfreesboro; Bobby Lee, Dickson; Joe Harvey and Sam Littleton, both of Lenoir City. Hines Rucker, a magician from Watertown, was third. Hazel Matthews, MTSC vocalist, was among those who received honorable mention.

Thirty Students Awarded Who's Who's Honors

Thirty Middle Tennessee State College students have been named to the high honor of inclusion in the 1958 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Chosen by a committee of ten faculty members and ten senior students, the honor is based on scholarship, leadership, and loyalty to the college ideals.

According to the list released by Dean Belt Keathley today, they are:

Dorothy Jean Adamson, Watertown; Robert Emmett Askins, Fayetteville; Glendel Bryson, Woodbury; Roy V. Crabtree, Fayetteville; Billy C. Davis, Lebanon; Clyde R. Brown, Cleveland; Charlotte A. Gardner, Georgia; Mary Lou Givan, Liberty; Anita Clair Grayson, Nashville.

Bert Vanoer, Chattanooga; Charles Riley, Chattanooga; Janet Lewis, Chattanooga and Jane Panter, Old Hickory.

"Dial M for Murder" Stars Croft, Taylor, and Gardner; Set for November 20 and 21

"Dial 'M' for Murder" will be presented by the Buchanan Players, Wednesday and Thursday, November 20 and 21, at eight o'clock in the college auditorium.

Garie Taylor will play the lead role of Tony Wendice. Maurice Evans first played the complex character on Broadway. Mr. Taylor is a senior majoring in social science. He lives here in Murfreesboro and is very active in the music department.

Charlotte Gardner and Sara Croft have been double cast in the feminine lead. Mrs. Gardner will play on Wednesday night. She has been active in dramatics on the MTSC campus for some time. She has played the lead in "Night Must Fall" and "Overtones," a one act play. Mrs. Gardner is a senior, majoring in English.

Miss Croft will play the lead on Thursday night. She transferred from Belmont College, where she was active in drama work. She is a sophomore from Tullahoma with tentative majors in speech and psychology.

Supporting players are Frank Gardner, Ray Sanders, and Bill Wilson.

The play is directed by Mrs.

Dorethe Tucker. Eddy Jo Reid is assistant director. Miss Croft and Mrs. Gardner will alternate as stage managers on the night they do not play the female lead.

Members of the production crews are as follows:

Costumes; Chairman Franklin McKamey, Billy Murphy, Daryl Miller, Buford Youngblood, Bill Dotson.

Lights; Chairman Madge Smith, A. Burton Barrett, Jr., Virginia Geer, Mary Ellen Pate.

Tickets; Sherry Chumley, Betty Wilson, Jeanne Cloer.

New Regulations Concern Parking

In an effort to curb the few thoughtless students who have been endangering others by failure to observe parking regulations, a slightly different method of handling the cars registered at MTSC has been initiated by the administration.

Dean Belt Keathley outlines the new regulations as follows: Parking violations fall into one of three categories: (a) parking by the yellow curbs; (b) parking by fire plugs; (c) parking in the crosswalks, driveways, restricted zones and loading space.

Other violations include driving a vehicle on campus without a permit.

In the future the campus guards will issue printed notices, red in color, to replace the present traffic violation slip.

A student receiving one of these tickets will report to the Business Office (first floor of the administration building) instead of the Dean's office. There a fine of $1 will be paid. If the fine is not paid within one week it will be increased to $2. If not paid with two weeks after date of issue of the ticket the campus parking permit of the student will be revoked and he will not be allowed to bring a vehicle on the campus.

Aquatic Officers Elected For 1957

Newly elected president of the Aquatic Club is Annette Walker. Other officers are: Ed Barlow, vice president; Ann Potterfield, secretary; Judy Patterson, treasurer; and Birdie Ann Donnell, and Don Stuart, publicity. Members of the club are:

Billy Wilson, Frank Gardner, Ray Sanders, Granville Ridley, supporting players in "Dial M For Murder," talk over the play for tonight and tomorrow night with the male lead, Garie Taylor and the two women cast for feminine leads. Mrs. Charlotte Gardner, right, plays the lead tonight, Miss Sara Croft, Thursday night. Students may claim tickets with ID cards at the entrance to the speech arts department on the first floor of the Administration Building.

Editorial Education or Imprisonment?

American youth supposedly holds the promise of tomorrow in its hands. From our ranks should come men and women who can turn that promise into reality. Are we building a barrier with our educational opportunities, instead of making them work for us?

Why has Russia succeeded in firing the first satellite? Why are we depending upon our outstanding German scientists for our rocket development?

The answer seems to be that America is not educating enough skilled scientists, engineers, and technicians of her own. College students are just trying to get by. We aren't really vitally interested in learning.

Aren't we intelligent enough, or are we just plain lazy?

These facts and figures about our school are worthy of serious consideration:

1. The greatest teacher shortages in the high school are in science and mathematics.

2. Senator Javits, New York Republican, stated there were 150,000 "high ability" high school graduates last year who did not enter college.

3. Dr. Hutchinson, Director of American Institute of Physics, states, "Unless American youth can be won over to an appreciative interest in science, the American way of life may be doomed to rapid extinction."

4. Mrs. Roosevelt reports 26,000 physicians were graduated in Russia last year. She reports we graduated 6,500.

5. The average high school teacher's salary in the United States is reported to be $4,200. The average high school teacher's salary in Tennessee is conservatively estimated to be $1,200 less.

6. Russian high school students graduate with the equivalent of eight years in chemistry, biology and physics, four years in mathematics, and four years in foreign languages.

Letters to the Editor

Middle Tennessee State College has a very fine ROTC organization. The organization is responsible for the making of officers out of the cadets. They learn in the classroom and on the drill field.

There are certain regulations for raising and lowering of the colors that many of the students here on the campus would like to see put into practice. At present the janitors of the school have the responsibility of this job. I believe that it would be a big help to the cadets and give them something to look forward to as a project here on the campus.

Many of the boys say that they would have to be in uniform to raise and lower the colors. It would look better if they were in uniform; but in grade school and in high school the students had the responsibility, and they had no special uniform to wear.

Which will look better—two janitors or the required number of cadets in an orderly manner raising and lowering the flag?

NAME ON FILE AT "SIDELINES" OFFICE

Dear Editor:

There is a section in our T Club constitution which states that no one will wear any other school letter on the campus, except the traditional white "T," which is awarded by the Athletic Department. We are going to try our best to enforce this ruling, but we need the support of the entire student body. We are in college now and should forget, to some extent, our high school achievements and strive to better the life and spirit on our campus.

I know that this may seem unreasonable to some, but I believe, that if the students sincerely think about it, they will agree that it is right.

Yours very truly,
Carlton A. Galbreath, Secretary
M.T.S.C. "T" Club

In recent weeks a number of students have had coats, hats, purses, and other articles stolen from them while they were attending dances in the Tennessee Room. I believe that, since we have a place to check articles of this nature, some kind of system should be initiated to make use of it.

Let each student pay five cents for the articles they check; and use the money made to buy new records to be played at fun nights. The students will be sure of not having their clothes stolen, and at the same time will be dancing to the newest records on the market.

Sincerely yours,
Bert E. Vanoer

Charlotte Heinz To Depart For North Carolina

by Dottie McQuiddy

It is with deep regret that we students at MTSC bid farewell to one of our best friends and favorite people on this campus. Mrs. Charlotte Heinz, secretary to Dean Keathley, is moving to Asheville, North Carolina. Her husband, Charles Heinz, has accepted a position there.

Ten years ago in July of 1947, Mrs. Heinz came to stay a week at MTSC. Everyone was so nice to her she decided to stay. Mrs. Heinz was very shy at first, having just left college herself, but she soon found that she had to have a quick comeback for college students, and her shyness disappeared.

Mrs. Heinz stated that the prerequisite of a Dean of Students' secretary is "a good pair of feet and a good sense of humor." She does not plan to work in Asheville unless she becomes bored. Then, she says, "I will try to find another college that will put up with my foolishness."

When asked if she had had any unusual experiences while here, Mrs. Heinz replied, "Not particularly, but every day of the last ten years has brought at least one good laugh."

The students returning for the winter quarter will find it bleak and bare, indeed, without the smiling face of Charlotte Heinz. Tennessee's loss is the Tar Heels' gain!

An Interview With The Junior Class President

Leonard Johnson

by Katherine Goodman

Leonard Johnson is the president of the junior class for the 1957-1958 school year. Leonard is known to most of his MTSC proteges as "Foots". Leonard hails from Columbia down in Maury County. He was graduated from Columbia Central High School in May, 1955.

During high school Leonard was a member of the Student Council and a member of the famous Columbia Lion football team. He was elected co-captain of the team in 1955.

Upon graduation Leonard chose Middle Tennessee State as his college of higher learning. He is a member of the Boys' Dorm Council and the Church of Christ group. Business education is his major. Leonard's favorite pastimes are hunting, fishing, and dancing.

Leonard lives on a farm down Maury County way. Even though this keeps him pretty well occupied, during the summer he works for a gas pipe-line construction company.

This summer "Foots" found time to go on a little hitchhiking spree. He hitchhiked to Florida where he spent a week at Daytona Beach and Jacksonville. From there he came back through Louisiana and was caught in the hurricane at Cameron. This ordeal was spent in a trailer truck. Texas was his next stop, the towns being Dallas and Houston. From there he journeyed to Memphis by way of Little Rock, Arkansas. Memphis was his last stop before returning home to Columbia, Tennessee. Sounds like fun, doesn't it? Why not try it sometime? Leonard guarantees you will meet many interesting people.

Rutledge Roundup

By Sarah Horton

Greetings from Rutledge! After many lonesome weeks we are returning from home and the infirmary, ready for lots of fun, excitement and study (oops! pardon me). Seriously, girls, it's great to have you back.

Again Rutledge belles came to the attention of the MTSC campus as Adelia Denton, Barbara Simmons, Gail Wilson, and Doris Boner took their respective places as candidates for Midlander Queen. All I can say is I'm glad I wasn't the judge.

Rutledge Hall elected Ann Burnette as their choice for Halloween queen candidate of the Farmers Frolic. We feel Ann did a wonderful job in representing our dorm in the contest. By the way, boys, how did you like those beautiful pictures of her scattered over the Student Union building? Pretty good, don't you agree? Nice going, Ann.

Rutledge elected their dorm officers at the last house meeting. They are: president, Judy Beeler; vice president, Daryl Miller; secretary, Maxine Smith and treasurers, Carolyn Fossick.

Jean Hildreth was elected publicity chairman for the Women's Athletic Association. Jean, let's keep the W.A.A. on the front page!

Dorm guests this past week-end were Charlene Evans from Nashville, guest of Daryl Miller; and Nancy Lester from Lebanon, guest of Joanne Clemmons.

Rutledge was really alive with excitement before Halloween. Boys, if you happened to be in the lobby and saw some girls running around in costume, hope you didn't think we were crazy. We were only getting ready for Silvia Snow and Carolyn Fossick's Halloween Party. They were hostesses to the first floor girls at the party on October 30. The Halloween motif was carried out in both decorations and refreshments.

Pat Turner was pleasantly surprised on her birthday when some friends invaded her room for a surprise birthday party. Those enjoying the affair with Pat were Ginny Nolting, Helen Sikes, Sara Jo Wallen, Pat Wertz, Anita Von Dohlen, Barbara Simmons, and Jeannette Peyton. The girls added an L.P. to Pat's record collection.

That's the latest from Rutledge, until next issue. Till then, keep smiling and we hope you all make A's in campusology. Don't give up of your grades are low; there are lots of unoccupied teachers. GOOD LUCK!

Lying Lyons

by Dottie McQuiddy
and Dorcus Gunter

Excitement has reigned supreme in Lyon lately. A fire occurred in room 322. Dot Hunter and Nancy Johnson accidentally set their wastebasket on fire. There was lots of confusion until some brave soul finally put the fire out.

There was also lots of excitement about 1:30 a.m. the morning after Halloween. It seems something was going on down on the first floor. Not many ever found out what all the excitement was about though.

Someone is building a house in the basement of Lyon. Yes, that's right. Strange as it seems, that is exactly what Hilda Tipples is doing. She says it is a project for her art class and that it is a model of her dream home. Practically every girl at some time or other has trotted down to the basement to see this model home. They all think it really is cute.

Another point of interest that practically no one has missed is the large pictures of Elvis Presley that are in two of the rooms on third floor. Judy Martin and Patsy Posten have one of the pictures, while Hazel Matthews and Joyce Howard claim the other one. Where did they get these pictures? No one knows.

A surprise birthday party was given recently for Patty Wilkerson, a sophomore monitor on their floor. Present at the party were: Hilda Tipples, Martha Morgan, Doris June Neal, Rose Levins, Carolyn Sharp, Cecile Mayberry, Rebecca Swafford, Joyce Russell, Faye Rogers, Barbara Tenpenny, Frieda Short, Mrs. Hite, Mrs. Parks, and Yvonne Powell. The girls presented Patty with a large stuffed dog, ice cream and a large birthday cake with nineteen candles were served as refreshments for the party.

One of the hostesses, Janet Lewis, has been missing. She went to New York for the paper staff to attend the Press Convention. The girls in Lyon hope Janet had a wonderful time but she certainly was missed.

Lyon is beaming! The reason? Well, it's because Rebecca Swafford was runner-up as Queen of the Farmer's Frolic. All of Lyon certainly was proud of her and thought she looked darling!

Monohan Moans

by Katherine Goodman

Monohan was buzzing with some very busy girls this past week. If you haven't already guessed, they were getting ready for open house which was held November 5. This seemed to be a great success and was enjoyed by everyone.

Especially delightful were the rooms in the north wing of third floor. The bright ideas were those of Peggy Jernigan, Buddah McCord, Jeanne Cloer, Joyce Stuart, Pinky Parker, and Ardie Chamness. We all felt sorry for the girls who lived in the slums of third.

We were extremely disappointed that the dorm president, Mary Jo Collier, was at home with the flu and could not be present for open house.

People, don't be alarmed if you see everyone heading for room 108. Sandra Sissom and Carolyn Sims have a new T.V. set. This one is in addition to the one on third floor in the room of Frances Jackson and Ann Abbey.

Joyce Jeter and Sandra Sissom are floating on Cloud No. 9 this week. They attended the homecoming weekend at the University of the South at Sewanee. Sandra was chosen first alternate to the Homecoming Queen, who was from the University of Miami. This was quite some honor to be bestowed on a well deserving girl. Congratulations, Sandra.

Have you noticed the new diamonds floating around Monohan? Lila Grissom is sporting a beautiful diamond from one of the Sewart boys. Wedding bells should be ringing around Christmas time. Best wishes go out to charming Shirley Vick who has a beautiful diamond from none other than Bob Keathley. Nick Lowe has finally captured Sara Chambers and placed a huge beautiful rock on the third finger of her left hand. Congratulations go out to both girls and boys.

Peggie Ott Hackler was the guest of Mary Frances Wright and Mary Lou Givin this past weekend. Most of you upperclassmen should remember her. Six girls from Monohan attended the B.S.U. Convention in Memphis, November 1 through 3. They had a very successful meeting and even found time to tour the city of Memphis.

Mrs. Patterson Cited As Asset

Few of us living in the dormitories on our MTSC campus realize the significance of our housemothers. We fail to see the importance of the roles which they play and the shoes they fill. We take them too lightly and not until later, when we retrace our steps, do we realize the guidance we have received by close interrelations with them.

One of the house mothers in Monohan Hall, Mrs. Josephine Patterson, has been almost a mother to many students for the past five years since she first moved onto the campus. Mrs. Patterson is a native of Murfreesboro and has lived on our campus since 1953. She attended high school on this campus in 1911, the first year this college existed.

The first four years Mrs. Patterson spent at MTSC, Lyon Hall was her home, but during the past summer vacation she moved to Monohan Hall. She has had some of the most outstanding girls on this campus to serve as dormitory presidents while she was housemother. Some of these girls are Mary Eliza (Continued on Page 3)

Off The Cuff Open House Proves Big Success

This time, the cause of my dilemma is Liz, better known to my neighbors and the postman as my "steady".

Not having a gift for her birthday is a breach of the rules of her game. Hence, a conference was called. My conferees offered "helpful" suggestions such as a raccoon coat, a houn' dawg, a humble diamond, and even an autographed football from our team. Not being a member of this august group, this suggestion was immediately ruled out. There was also the usual group of sweaters, earrings, necklaces, etc., etc.

For one reason or another, none of these ideas appealed to me.

I was down at the local men's shop yesterday and I noticed a rather attractive bit of feminine harmony buying a man's shirt. It was a red shirt with black pin stripes, button-down collar, and so forth. It was exactly like the Arrow job I had bought the week before. Hers looked awfully small, much smaller than a man who squired her about wear. Being a sociable type, as well as curious, I asked who the shirt was for.

"Me," was her direct reply.

So why not for Liz?

For those of you who don't know what size to get, the average girl will wear a 13-1/2 collar and 31 sleeve. Actually, this is the high school boys' size, called the 'grad' range, but it's perfect for the average girl as well. If you have any doubts, ask the salesman. Although my choice was the red shirt with the black pin stripe, you can choose your own color combination and style.

What was the reaction? How did Liz take to the gift?

Well, there was a little planning involved. When I went up to her college with the gift, I wore my red and black shirt. She opened her gift. Well, you'd think I had given her a charge account at Tiffany's. I was the most popular guy in her book.

There's nothing that looks better than a girl in red, and with those tight black pants—what do you call them—toreador pants—she looked great.

If you plan to follow suit, the bit that makes this such a sensations is that the shirts match!

Now that we've taken care of Liz, let's get back to work. It's pretty rough now, with the Indian summer days reminding us of those weekends of sun worshipping. But don't be fooled, sweater time is around the corner. What promises to be the biggest thing in sweaters this year is alpaca or lamb's wool in pullover models. Campus pace-setters will find a wide variety of styles from which to choose. Heading the list are the new bulky knits offered in many handsome designs with crew necks and convertible collars. "My Fair Lady" will also influence campus style with the revival of a long sleeved hound's-tooth knit jacket, loose fitting with a very casual look.

So, when you are basking in the sun and a breeze comes along that's cooler than you had expected, try one of these new sweaters.

beth Drewry, Faye Presnell Turner, Jo Ann Winninger, and Mary Jo Collier. Mary Jo has the privilege of being president of Monohan again this year and this is her second year with Mrs. Patterson.

Mrs. Patterson, along with the other faithful housemothers, is an asset to our campus. Those that lived with Mother Patterson know what I mean when I say "She's just the greatest".

MURFREESBORO

Tuesday night, November 5, Monohan Hall held its annual open house. Guests were greeted at the door by Margie Pitts and Katherine Goodman, who conducted them to the receiving line. Receiving the guests were Judy Patterson, vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Sullivan, house mother; Joan Startup, secretary; Frances McBroom, treasurer; and Mrs. Josephine Patterson, house mother. Refreshments were served by Gladys Cole and Barbara Rogers.

Everyone found the rooms very charming. The rooms of Sandra Sisson and Carolyn Sims, Frances Jackson and Anne Abbey seemed to attract everyone. Could it be that both rooms have T.V.?

The north wing of third floor amazed everyone. Belmeade residents Jeanne Cloer and Joyce Stuart were very snooty to the poor unfortunates of the slums, Peggy Jernigan and Budda McCord. It's a shame these girls live in such drab rooms with cardboard windows and such food as pork and beans. You really missed a treat by not touring Monohan and seeing these two sections.

BOB GREESON

Pre-Law Club

Twenty two prospective lawyers including two co-eds, met October 10 to lay plans for the first pre-law club to be formed at Middle Tennessee State College. Dr. Norman Parks, head of the social science department of the college will sponsor the club with Gene H. Sloan, associate professor of business law as advisor for the group.

William Suggs, a senior from Dickson, was named as president of the new pre-law organization. Ted Humble, of Gallatin, was named vice-president and chairman of the program committee. Emma Dale Barrett, a freshman of 319 Monroe Street, Murfreesboro is secretary and John M. Thrower, a junior from 42 Woodmont Terrace Apartments, Nashville, was named treasurer. Suggs is the son of Mrs. Ed Suggs of Burns and is a graduate of Dickson high school.

The group has appointed a constitution committee which will frame the organizational structure and choose a name for the club to be submitted to the college administrative committee for official recognition.

The club plans to have law college deans, judges, attorney generals and practicing attorneys as guest speakers during the year.

Other members of the organization are: Franklin C. Gardner, William H. Bryson, Ronald Travis, David Vaneur, Pat Calloway, John Champlin, Buford Bates, Dennis Tomlin, James Durham, Clarence Elkins, Broswell, William Nourse, Jr., Douglas Cluck, Joe Davenport, Paul Ed Dunn, Richard C. Griffin, M. B. Jackson, James T. Smotherman, and Margie F. Pitts.

Pre-Engineers Meet

Some thirty prospective engineers were present at the first meeting of the Middle Tennessee State College Pre-Engineering Club.

Carol Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cooper of Chapel Hill, is the new president, succeeding Curtiss Mason. Cooper is a mathematics major.

Harp Singers Perform On Radio

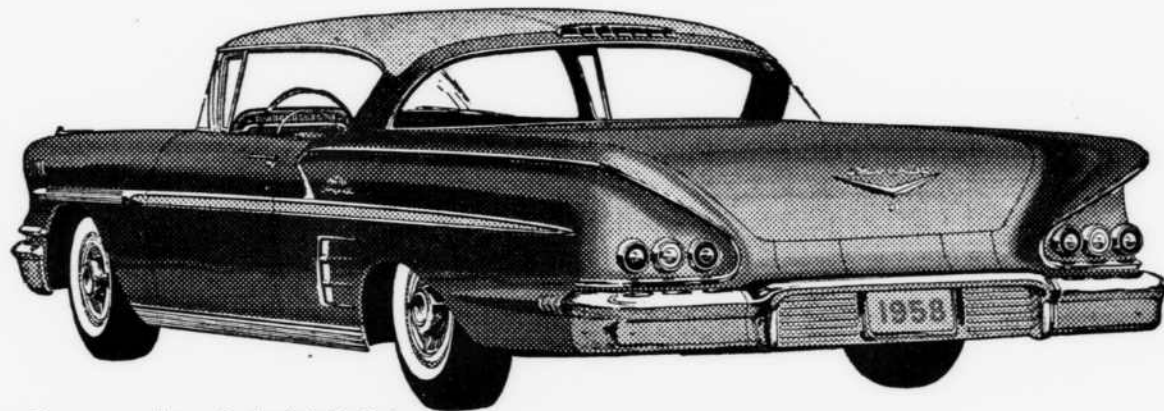

Margaret Wright and her famous Sacred Harp Singers from Middle Tennessee State College opened the 1957-58 road season in Nashville with two radio appearances.

The first was on the WSM "Waking Up Crew Show", which is under direction of Dave Overton. Mr. Overton had some trouble with the two Dorothy Hicks on the show, finally discovering that one Dorothy Jean left an "O" out of Dorothy.

The second Nashville radio appearance was on the noon show.

One of the most ambitious programs since the group was organized in 1949 is planned for the current season. Ultimately the tour will take them to Atlanta, Georgia, and Tallahassee, Florida, for the appearance before the national meeting of the singers of old English ballads and madrigals.

Raiders Make It Nine Against ETS; Now Top in NAIA

Flashing their most brilliant offensive of the season, Middle Tennessee State stayed undefeated by turning back East Tennessee State 33-7, Saturday afternoon.

The Raider rolled for an amazing 429 net yards, 329 of which came on the ground, as Marvin Rolman, Ray Purvis and Bucky Pitts ran for 70, 55 and 55 yards respectively. The Raiders made 23 first downs to East Tennessee four and held the visitors to 76 yards rushing and 58 yards passing.

Kansas City—(INS)—Middle Tennessee with an 8-0-0 record, headed NAIA football ratings yesterday. The team was accorded 113 points.

Runnerup is East Texas State (6-1-0) with 104 points, and West Texas State is third with 7-2-0 for 93 points.

East Tennessee scored first within two minutes after the game opened. Bobby Lindsey recovered Purvis' fumble off Krause's kick on the 21, and on third down Don Whisler passed 26 yards to Bob Evans. Bill Hughes converted the point.

Nine minutes later Hallum went over on fourth down, after Buck Rolman's 38 yard run and 18 yard run by Purvis, to score first for MTSC. Hallum kicked the point. Rolman set up the second touchdown in the second quarter on another brilliant scamper with the pay-off coming on a 39 yard pass from Hallum to Purvis. Hallum again converted.

In the third quarter Hallum made a brilliant 28 yard kickoff return and two successive first downs by Rolman and Hall, and a pass, Hallum to Hurst, followed by a lateral to Purvis, carried the ball to the five from which point Rolman scored on a pitchout. Hallum's kick was blocked.

Bobby Tillman engineered the Raider second team to the fourth score, making three first downs himself on keep plays, one of which was a 21-yard pas sto Hester Gibbs. He sent Gene Windham on another to the 13 on a pitchout. On the first play of the fourth quarter, David Pitts went the distance on a 13 yard off-tackle play. Pitt's kick for point was short.

The Raiders final counter came shortly after the ensuing kickoff. Pitts intercepted Whilters pass on his 33 and ran it to the Bucaneer 44. Windham got 20 yards, Pitts

Radio and T-V Plug Raiders; Sloan Resigns at Conference

STARS OF RADIO AND TV???

The newspapers are not the only agencies publicizing the Gray Ghosts from Jones field.

Last week Pete Gracey had Coach Charles Murphy, Charlie Greer and sportscaster-student-ex tackle Jerry DeLuca on the WSM-TV football preview on Friday night.

Saturday afternoon Coach Joe Black Hayes, Athletic Chairman Gene Sloan and another MTSC sportscaster, Joe Overton appeared on Noel Ball's two hour show. (Not the full two hours—just a few minutes).

This week sportscaster Dudley Crockett, WSIX-TV of Nashville said he had a letter from a rabid Nashville fan asking the station to sponsor a "Tennessee bowl game between MTSC and the winner of the Vanderbilt-UT game to pick the real champion of Tennessee." (Did someone mention Memphis State?)

AN ERA PASSES

Saturday morning the executive committee of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference met in Nashville and MTSC's Gene Sloan, for eleven years president of the organization, formally surrendered post to his successor Dr. Ralph Donnell, athletic chairman at Union University. Dr. Jennings Davis of Lipscomb becomes vice-president and Mr. Lone Sisk of Miligan remains as secretary treasurer.

Coach Charles Murphy, President Q. M. Smith and Mr. Sloan were moving figures in the formation of the conference that has meant so much to Tennessee college sports over the past decade. Coach Joe Black Hayes, then athletic director at Cumberland University, was another pioneer in the formation of the conference.

At the Johnson City meeting in September both Middle and East Tennessee State notified conference members that the 1957-58 season might be the last in which the Raiders and Pirates would be members of the ten team league of Bethel, Martin UT, Austin Peay, Bethel, Lipscomb, Union University, Lincoln Memorial University, ETSC, and Milligan College.

The rapid growth of the State Colleges and the lack of strong football competition in the league are moved to the one, where Tillman went over. Windham's kick was good.

Along The Sidelines

By Roy Crabtree

The question at hand is how many football teams, major and small colleges, will be undefeated at the close of the 1957 season.

After a hectic week of upsets, seven teams fell from the perfect record class, chopping the unbeaten-untied to 16 throughout the nation.

Ranking high in the midst of these unbeaten elevens stand the Blue Raiders of MTSC with their impressive record of nine consecutive victories to date.

The Raiders' last victory was at the expense of the Murray State Thoroughbreds, whom they subdued 22 to 0 as Ray Purvis and David "Bucky" Pitts provided the weapons.

In the last two ball games the rumor has been going around that the Raiders have looked ragged, but I'd say that any time a team can provide a good enough defense to keep an opponent from scoring, that's pretty good football.

If you think they have looked ragged in the past, just make arrangements to witness the Thanksgiving classic on Jones field when the tangerines start flying.

Basketball Practice Pace Runs High

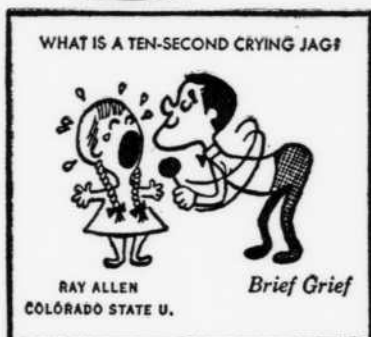

Basketball practice is coming along fine as Coach Ed Diddle, Jr., prepares for the coming season. The pace of practice is at a higher clip this season with the desire and determination running high.

preable reasons for the contemplated withdrawal of MTSC and ETSC from the VSAC. It is almost certain that if Austin Peay is admitted to the OVC that she will follow the example of TPI, and the likely plan of ETS and MTS in withdrawing from the VSAC.

MTSC Is One of Nine To Be Questioned About Tangerine Bowl Game At Orlando, Florida

The selection committee of the 1957 Tangerine bowl football game has sent out feelers to nine colleges for the post-season classic at Orlando, Fla., one of which is Middle Tennessee State College of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The list includes Drake, Lehigh, Boston College, Houston, Delaware, Mississippi Southern, The Citadel, and Virginia Military Institute.

The telegram to Coach Murphy simply asked if MTSC would play in the January 1 game if selected. He replied that we would.

Recognize Your Raiders

Don Franklin

Jerry Hurst

Don Franklin, son of Mrs. C. H. Franklin of Lebanon, Tennessee, is a starter at tackle for MTSC. Don played four years of football, while he attended Lebanon High School. He was selected on the All-Midstate football team, second team on the All-State football team, and the Lebanon All-Time Team in 1953.

Don is 21 years old, weighs 225 pounds and is 5'11" tall. He is a transfer from the University of Georgia. He has won two letters at MTSC in football, and this should be his best year. He is very aggressive on defense and offense and covers a lot of ground for his size.

Jerry Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Hurst of San Diego, California, is a starter at end for the Raiders. Jerry won 12 letters playing high school ball: four each in football, baseball, and basketball. He was selected on the All-State, All-City, and All-League teams in football. He also made the All-Tournament team in baseball.

Jerry is 22 years old, weighs 225 pounds and is 6'7" tall. He transferred from UT two years ago. Last year he won letters in football, baseball, track, and basketball. Jerry is outstanding on offense and defense. Hurst made the All-OVC and All-VSAC teams last year and has already been drafted by the San Francisco 49'ers to play professional football.

Raiders Take 8th From Murray State

Middle Tennessee State had a slow first half, but came back strong in the third and fourth quarters to keep their record intact with their eighth win of the season by subduing a stubborn Murray State eleven 22 to 0. This was the Raiders fourth Ohio Valley Conference win.

Captain Buck Rolman, after breaking through the Thoroughbreds line, picked his way for 23 yards and a first down on Murray's seven yard line. On the next play, quarterback Bob Hallum caught the Racers' secondary napping and fired to Ray Purvis for the score.

It was field general Jerry Stripling of Murray State and company doing most of the running and throwing for the remaining part of the first half.

With the second half only a few minutes old, Hallum and his crew struck again, marching 85 yards for the score.

Purvis, on a pitchout from Hallum, roared 42 yards for a first down on the Racers' 32. Rolman broke into the spotlight again as he ripped off tackle for seven and ten yards on successive bucks to place the ball on the 15.

After Hallum lost eleven yards trying to pass, he pitched a 13-yarder to end G. E. McCormack on the nine. From there, Purvis scooted around end for the six pointer.

Late in the fourth period, number two quarterback Bobby Tillman entered the contest for the Raiders and engineered the final touchdown.

After an exchange of punts and a 15-yard penalty against the Racers for roughing the kicker, halfback David "Bucky" Pitts dashed for a 26-yard score.

Murray became desperate in the final few minutes and started throwing deep in their own territory, and before the Kentucky crew realized it, they were pushed back to their own one by a strong Raider defense to make it fourth and about 40 to go.

Quarterback Wade Harper dropped back to kick deep in his own end zone, and stepped out just as he booted to give the Raider squad a safety.

DO YOU FIND that parking a car is a "snap"? Then you're probably a pretty capable driver in traffic, too. For driving experts believe that the ability to park well indicates that the driver is skilled at controlling a car in other situation as well; in other words, a good "parker" can put a car just where he wants it.

"As in any other skill, all it takes is practice—away from traffic."

Bobby Hallum

Bobby Hallum (5'11", 180, 25), son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hallum, of Lebanon, Tennessee, starts at quarterback for the 1957 MTSC Raiders. While Bob attended Lebanon High School from 1947 to 1951, he earned 10 letters playing sports: four in football, four in basketball, and two in baseball. In 1949 and 1950 he was selected for the All-Conference football team. In 1950 he was captain of his team and selected on the All-Mid-State football team.

Bob racked up an impressive record playing service football with the United States Air Force. Hallum played for the Bermuda Skyliners in 1953, and in 1954 and 1955 he played for the Burtonwood Bullets. He was selected as the "Most Valuable Player in England" for the 1954 football season. In 1954 and 1955 he made the All-Air-Force football team, and in 1955 was on the All Service football team.

Bob played for the University of Kentucky in 1951 and performed in the Cotton Bowl against Texas Christian University. He transferred to MTSC in 1956.

Bob has started an impressive record, while playing quarterback for the Raiders. He leads in the groundgaining department and in passing. Besides his standout offensive performance, he also rates high as a defensive back.

MTSC Orchestra Presents Varied Program To Public

Mr. Douglas Williams appeared as guest artist for the orchestra concert, Sunday, November 17, 1957, at MTSC. He was heard in a group of selected works which separated the orchestral groups. Included were works of Bach, Chopin, and Von Weber which had been arranged and transcribed for marimba.

After graduating from MTSC 1954, Mr. Williams left for an extended tour of the musical centers of Europe. Upon his return to America, he enrolled in the graduate school of music at the University of California. While there he was able to study marimba under the foremost soloist, Clair Omar Musser. As a marimba soloist, Mr. Williams was presented in recital many times by various women's clubs along the west coast. Mr. Musser considered him one of his finest pupils. With this background, Mr. Williams arrived in New York for an audition on the Arthur Godfrey show. He appeared on this cost to coast show and won, playing a Chopin waltz. This was a first time for Chopin as well as for Williams. As a result of this appearance, he received several offers to play the "Night Club Circuit" and similars, which he declined, choosing to remain an artist as long as possible.

A welcome addition to Mr. Williams' performance was the piano accompaniment of Mrs. Margaret Wright, his former teacher and accompanist who is responsible for his first interest in music.

The orchestra, with Mrs. Rubye Taylor Sanders, director, and Mr. Kenneth Pace, conductor, gave the following program:

Impresario Overture, W. A. Mozart—(1756-1791).
Symphony in D Major, Giovanni Sammartini—(1701-1775).
The March of Siamese Children,

Richard Rodgers, from "The King and I"—(1902-).

Etude in A Minor, Chopin. Etude in F Minor, Chopin. Etude in E Flat Minor, Chopin—(1810-1849).
Chorale Prelude in B Minor, Back—(1685-1750).

Polonaise Brillante, Von Weber—(1786-1826).

Douglas Williams, Marimba
Margaret Wright, Accompanist
Prelude and Fugue in D Minor, Handel—(1685-1759).

Sunrise at Sea, an orchestral Tone Poem, Clifford Demarest—(1874-1946).

March of Homage, Franz Liszt—(1811-1886).

Program notes by Dorothy Wakefield.

The orchestra personnel consists of:

First Violins — Rubye Taylor Sanders, Concert Mistress; Charles Fletcher, Ann Wade, Jean Malloy, Dean Freedle, Patsy Caneer.

Second Violins — Glenda Nuckolls, Tempie Hansford, Ida Dunaway, Sallie Mae Osborn, Gayle Seay, E. May Saunders, Guerry Teeple, Lou Ella Marlin.

Reed Receives Recognition For Marine Work

Robert L. Reed, a senior at Middle Tennessee State College from Gainesville, Florida, distinguished himself while undergoing Marine officer training the past summer. Reed ranked second in a class of 1143 college students attending the Platoon Leaders' Class in Quantico, Virginia.

The announcement of the unusually high rating of Reed was made by Captain Homer Litzenberg, who was on the MTSC campus from November 13 to 15. Captain Litzenberg stated that Reed's record was based on his leadership ability and on written examinations of military subjects. Reed is a native of Cairo, Illinois. A member of the track team, he recently won the intramural swimming meet at MTSC. He is the son of Russell Reed of Florida and graduated from Gainesville, Florida, high school.

In addition to Reed, Captain Litzenberg complimented the work of three other MTSC future marine officers who were at Quantico last summer. They are John B. Freeman, son of John Freeman, Lebanon; Bobby D. Lannom, son of Herschel K. Lannom, Lebanon; and John F. Turner, son of Paul Turner, formerly of Woodbury, now a resident of Tullahoma.

Candidates in the Platoon Leaders class received basic military training at two six weeks summer camps while in college. Upon successful completion of the camp and the receipt of a baccalaureate degree, they are commissioned Marine Corp second lieutenants.

Reed was elected to go into flight training after graduation.

schools", President Q. M. Smith stated. "Unless application for admission increases much more than normally expected we will follow our customary procedures for September 1958 admission."

The increase in undergraduate fees also applies to graduate students, out of state students, and part-time and extension students. "Out of state student fees will increase from $75 to $112.50, part-time and extension fees along with graduate fees are expected to increase about 20 per cent."

The revenue from these fees will provide an estimated $18,000 to $20,00 which will be divided among students of outstanding scholarship ability. Applications for this scholarship aid will be studied by a committee of the administration, President Smith stated. Qualifications for these scholarships will be set up in the near future.

The faculty salaries will be increased from the additional $65,000 to $70,000 that will be made available from the increased fees. The basis of this increase is also a matter of administrative study and action.

With money left over from other construction programs now in progress or already approved President Smith believes that about $400,000 will be available for the new music, art, education building. It will be a three story, brick structure located on the present site of the college infirmary. Preliminary plans call for the music department on the first floor, the art department on the second, and offices and education class rooms on the third floor.

The college infirmary will be moved to new quarters, likely in the south, first floor wing of Monahan Hall, where the regional library is now housed. This will serve a dual purpose, Mr. Smith explained, in that it will get the infirmary in a permanent brick structure, nearer the student residence halls and will provide for the eventual use of these new rooms for added dormitory space when a new infirmary building is constructed.

To provide this space the regional library will be housed in the new Todd Library building which will be opened with the winter tuitions of the nation. Prospects are that these enrollments will double again

Beasley Reviews Novel By Lytle at M'boro Club

Mr. William M. Beasley of the Middle Tennessee State College English Faculty Reviewed Andrew Lytle's "The Velvet Horn" at the Book Review department of the Murfreesboro Woman's Club Monday afternoon, November 11th.

Dr. Beasley emphasized the complex nature of the novel "The Velvet Horn" but judged it to be and excellent study of the south as well as a treatment in universal terms of a profound subject.

within the next 10 to 15 years if the university can enlarge its faculties and physical facilities rapidly enough to accommodate all the students who will seek admission, officials said.

Thirty-one major new buildings or additions to buildings have been constructed or acquired by UT for its teaching, research, and extension functions during the 12-year period. Seven other major buildings are in various stages of construction or design.
