Boychoir To Appear Mar. 24

The Columbus Boychoir will be the featured entertainment of the Community Concert series at eight o'clock Thursday, March 24 in the MTSU theatre auditorium.

The Boychoir has endeared itself to millions as it plays to sell-out houses throughout the United States and Canada. Concerts have been given in Carnegie Hall, the Academy of Music in Philadelphia, with the New York Philharmonic, the NBC Symphony under Toscanini and the Bach Aria Group.

The boys have made a film for RKO called "America's Singing Boys," which has been shown in 8,000 theaters in the United States and abroad.

About the choir, Cian-Carlo Menotti (composer of Amahl and the Night Visitors) has said, "I strongly feel that just as Austria is proud of its Vienna Boys Choir, a.l. France of the Petits Chanteurs a la Croix de Bois, America should be equally proud of the Columbus Boychoir, which is equally good as any of these organizations, if not better."

Cope Announces Formation Of 3 Departments

According to a recent announcement by President Quill E. Cope, there are now five separate divisions of the original MTSU Social Science department. The three most recent partitions have created the departments of Geography, Political Science, and Sociology. The fields of history and economics, the other two components of the original single department, had been made independent units previously.

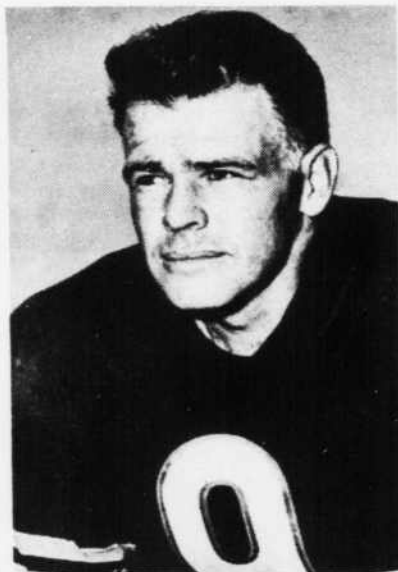

Dr. Norman Parks, who came to MTSU in 1953 as head of the Social Science department, will now be chairman of the Political Science department. Dr. Ed Baldwin, who has been associated with the geography division since 1939, will serve as chairman of the new Geography Department.

No chairman has yet been named for the new Sociology Department. A triumvirate of Dr. Bill Gunter, committee chairman, Clayton James, and Don Tarter has been selected to employ additional staff members, examine the curriculum, and to schedule courses for this new department until a permanent department head is named.

The change will become official on September 1, 1966, but the functional operation of the new organization will be effective immediately, according to Dr. Clay Tucker, Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, within which the new departments will function.

BILL WADE

Moral And Spiritual Values Week To Be Held March 28-30

Moral and Spiritual Values Week at MTSU this year is scheduled for March 28, 29, and 30 with three different speakers appearing for daytime programs in the Dramatic Arts Auditorium.

John Popham will open the series at one o'clock Monday afternoon, March 28. The nationally recognized managing editor of the Chattanooga TIMES was for 25 years a reporter on the New York TIMES, covering all presidential nominations from 1948 through 1960. Tuesday at 10 o'clock, the speaker will be Bill Wade of Nashville. The noted professional football player has been active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has previously appeared on the MTSU campus. Dr. John R. Killinger, professor of religion at Vanderbilt University, will speak at 10 o'clock Wednesday, March 30.

Mr. Popham is a native of Virginia and is a colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve. During World War II he won the Bronze Star for meritorious action at Tarawa. His reportorial experience extends from the Lindbergh kidnapping to the notorious underworld organization known as Murder, Inc. He is a great-grandson of John R. Popham, the editor and publisher of the famous Richmond, Virginia SOUTHERN INTELLIGENCER of the Reconstruction era. His wife is the former Frances Evans of Nashville.

Mr. Wade, recipient of scores of honors as a football player at Vanderbilt and later with the Rams and Chicago Bears, is a veteran of service with the United States Navy, as a sportscaster, writer, and more recently as one of six athletes to appear in a motion picture entitled "Play for Keeps." During the past year he appeared for the third time in the Daytona Holy Week and visited 41 cities of the United States as a speaker for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, of which he is a director.

Dr. Killinger is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and is recognized as an authority in the area of theological education. Two of his most popular books are available at the MTSU bookstore and will be on sale during his appearance here.

Douglas' Talk Causes Dispute

One hour after Connie Young of TIME Inc., called Middle Tennessee State University this week, copies of pictures of Justice William O. Douglas' appearance here made by the MTSU news bureau were en route to New York. The large prints were processed by Dr. Bealer Smotherman, flown to Nashville by Miller Lanier and placed on board a plane en route to New York.

Many inquiries have been received by MTSU during the past week over the exact statement made by Mr. Justice Douglas relative to the United States participation in the war in Viet Nam. Mr. Justice Douglas spoke from notes, ad lib a good part of his informal "personal" address here. No recording of the speech was made. Opinions differ as to the exact wording of a statement he made in reply to a question from the floor.

One Nashville reporter quoted him as saying, "If the United States continues to wage this (implying Viet Nam) warfare, Russia will eventually become the nation the world will look to for peace." A representative of the rival newspaper there quoted the distinguished jurist as saying, "I think we should stand behind our president and our troops overseas, but if we had abided by the United Nations charter we would have followed a different policy." He criticized the United States "in going it alone" in dealing with international situations and also stated, "Too often the United States accepts the rule of law only when doing so is to our advantage."

New Dormitories To Be Dedicated

Four new buildings will be dedicated at MTSU Tuesday, April 5 at 11 o'clock, according to an announcement by Dr. Quill E. Cope, president of the University. These are Frank Clement Hall, Evelyn Felder Hall, Albert Gore Hall and Randy and Louise Wood Hall. The dedication ceremony will be in Alumni Memorial Gymnasium.

All of the buildings are dormitories and have already been occupied. State Commissioner of Education, Howard Warf, will present the buildings, which will be formally accepted and dedicated by Dr. Cope. The dedicatory prayer will be given by Dr. Howard Kirksey, dean of the faculty.

Each of the honorees will be presented by a sponsor and will make a brief response. Governor Clement will be presented by Dr. Charlotte Allen of the political science department. Senator Gore will be presented by a former classmate at the University and the current director of field services, Robert Abernathy. An alumnus, Ross Spielman, will present Mrs. Evelyn Felder, for many years the unofficial dean of women for the University. Mr. and Mrs. Wood of Los Angeles, California are alumni of the institution and will be presented by Dr. Homer Pittard, secretary of the alumni association.

The supervisors of the four dormitories, Mrs. Frances Bowdoin, Mrs. Evelyn Phifer, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Trickey, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. LaLance, Jr., will be platform guests. The honorees, sponsors and close friends will be honored with a luncheon following the dedication. The four dormitories will observe "open house" for visitors during the afternoon.

Members of the Sam Davis Drill team will serve as escorts for the honor guests and the entire ROTC brigade will attend as a body. The musical prelude will be played by the MTSU Band of Blue, according to Lane Boutwell, who is in charge of the dedication program.

Serving with Mr. Boutwell are the following persons: Miss Margaret Putman, Miss Christine Vaughn, Mrs. Lucille Estes, Mrs. Miles McMillan, Robert MacLean, Chester Burns, Miss Martha Hampton and Bert Wakeley.

Boner, Blick McDaniel Top 1966'67 ASB

Bill Boner and Larry Blick, in what is politically known as a "landslide," captured the offices of President and Vice-president of the ASB last Wednesday by inducing the approximately 2,000 students who voted out of the 4,500 eligible voters to cast their ballots for them. Bill Boner captured 1,187 votes while his opponents Bob Hardison and Jim Hughes received 581 and 265 votes respectively. Larry Blick was the largest vote getter as he outdrew his opponent DeWayne McCamish, 1,215 to 787. Martha McDaniel, who ran unopposed until the last day when write-in candidates were announced, received 1,536 votes while the write-ins received negligible support to win the position of Female Vice-president.

The Senatorial race was more equal in the vote dispersion as sometimes the winner and the loser were separated by a handful of votes. The 66-67 Senior Senators are: Nelda Mantooth, Wilson Bomar, Bud Morris, and David Rohde. The Juniors will be repre-

What Is Nonconformity?

It would seem that many people have listened to the philosophy of 'whoso would be a man must be a nonconformist' and have taken it to heart. The intentions of many of the subscribers to this feeling are not, however, those of the author and of those who share his true sentiments. Like most abstractions, this word is not easy to define, but I feel that the basic and true meaning has become corrupted through gross misuse. Many people have the impression that they are nonconformists when they are really the biggest conformists of them all.

In the search for an individuality which will set them apart from the crowd, many people find it necessary to work at being different. It seems to me that this attitude is destructive of its own purposes. The fact that one does not allow his actions and beliefs to be dictated by prevailing trends is admirable indeed. However, one should have his own unique values because of his personality and not just because he doesn't want to ape his peers. If one's beliefs are congruent with current trends—fine, if not—tough luck!

Some people try to pattern their actions after others who honestly feel the need to dissent. When everyone tries to be different in the same way, the result is mass conformity in the worst sense of the term. One's individuality cannot be contingent upon anyone else—this is a contradiction of terms.

For those who are fond of following the advice contained in famous quotations, I should like to offer an alternative to the first one I mentioned. As a wise person once said, "Be yourself—it's the one thing you can do better than anybody else."

THE STUDENT'S VIEW

By Paul Womack

A phase of the democratic process was noted on this campus last Wednesday with the Associated Student Body elections. All this rigamarole, the hectic mess of campaigning, the counting of votes, and the cleaning up of election materials led one person to remark "This just proves we need a monarchy." Nonetheless, for all that is involved in such actions, the fact that a minority of students voted and thus spoke for the majority makes all this well worthwhile and shows that a democracy is infallible. As for the results of next year's administration, we will have to wait and see, but what is considered to be capable leadership was elected and must now lead.

With ASB elections behind us, attention of many will now be focused on the election of class officers in April. A new group of smiling, backslapping, hand shaking, baby kissing, snowman candidates is now becoming evident on campus. The conferences are taking place again in the dorms, at Shoney's, and other locations as potential candidates size up their chances and make ready to face the electorate. As potential candidates meet each other on campus a most unusual exchange occurs. A rather strained smile is pushed to brighten up an otherwise dreary face. A cordial handshake is attempted with both persons doing their best to crush the other's hand. The eyes flash with hatred and emit soul-piercing arrows. Afterwards the two depart amid flamboyant farewells, but the back is noted due to its knife stopping susceptibility. So a new phase of democracy is begun and what a fine tradition it is.

This is also an election year in the United States. Tennessee will elect an old new governor and a man who is supposed to be a Senator. All across this land the power politicians are evaluating their circumstances and attempting to mend fences. Many Governors are calling special sessions of their respective state legislatures in order to appropriate state surpluses accumulated over the year. Beware you voter bloc members for you are fixing to be the recipients of state appreciation. The letters from Washington are showing up with increased frequency and containing such laudable remarks like, "I helped sponsor a bill which is designed to blah, blah, blah, etc." All this is well and good in that our representatives are doing such good jobs in Washington; however, why don't they say that seventeen other Congressmen also sponsored the bill?

Democracy and our Republic—the ideals of government and self-rule that influence the entire course of our human existence which includes the ability to be free, act free, live free within the limitations of responsibility which only a democracy can place upon its members. This column has poked fun at the contemporary status of the democratic tradition because this view is what so many take of government and those involved in this. However, this writer does believe that there can be no better vocation for one to follow. Motivated by the proper desire and responsibility a politician will be a statesman. This nation can produce statesmen, but it is the large majority of people, the uninformed, the unconcerned, the non-voters who produce politicians. In the elections to come take part and be informed, this campus has had enough politicians.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WE CAN MAKE LOANS FOR A NUMBER OF STUDENT EMERGENCIES—BUT I CAN FIND NO PROVISION FOR 'GASOLINE' OR 'DENTED FENDERS.'"

From The Desk Of The ASB President

Last week was a hectic one for your ASB. Between the Johnny Mathis Show and the ASB Elections, we were quite busy. The Mathis show was great. I think that Bill Baskin deserves a lot of thanks from the rest of us for the work that he put into making the show a success. Financially, we didn't do too badly. The show cost $5,000 and advertising expenses were about $500. Ticket sales were about $5,250—which means the show cost the ASB about $250. It is apparent that this University will now support expensive entertainment if it is well selected.

Mathis Show Has Large Turnout

by Pam Owen

The velvety tones of Johnny Mathis' superbly controlled voice held the MTSU audience completely spellbound for over two hours last Monday night. Singing in concert at the Memorial Gymnasium, which was filled to capacity, Mathis had a hypnotic-like effect over his audience with his typically excellent song deliverance.

Appearing with Johnny were three boys and three girls, known as "The Young Generation." Singing and dancing, they provided an interlude for Johnny to change his stage attire between medleys. Mathis joined with them to do a few peppy, light-hearted tunes before returning to his moody and romantic type of singing.

Part of the success of the concert was due to the painstaking efforts of Mathis' staff of production technicians. The highlight of the evening came during Johnny's performance of the song, "Somewhere." During the number, the entire stage was submerged in a dazzle of tiny lights, giving the effect of being "somewhere" in the midst of the starry skies.

Mathis was accompanied by his own 22-piece orchestra, who contribute so much in bringing about the unique "Johnny Mathis Sound" which has made him one of the top entertainers in the world for the past ten years.

In two weeks, April 2 (the day following the R.O.T.C. Ball for which tickets are on sale in the S.U.B.), we have the pleasure of presenting the original Harlem Globetrotters. This tickets will probably go on sale Wednesday of this week at $2.00 for students. We hope that you will go and enjoy it.

Concerning the election, I would like to congratulate Bill Boner, ASB President—elect, and both Larry Blick and Martha McDaniel, ASB Vice Presidents—elect. I would also like to congratulate those who won the Senate races. To those who did not win we ask for your help during next year's administration. You have shown an interest in student government—follow through in any way that you can.

Mrs. Dorothe Tucker and the Drama Department announce their regret that "Dinny and the Witches" will not run beyond Tuesday night despite the popular demand for additional nights. Production work for the next play and mid-term exams have made it impossible to reopen the show for which tickets have been sold out since last Tuesday.

Tryouts for "Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder will be held March 28 and 29 at 6:30 on the stage.

Buchanan Players Render Outstanding Performances

The Buchanan Player's production of "Dinny and the Witches" is certainly one of their finest efforts in years. From the unusual opening "curtain calls" the play moves at a remarkably sustained pace to the equally unusual ending. There are no dead spots in the action — just rollicking comedy, tenderness, and razor-sharp satire in delightful profusion.

The play is a fantasy involving a young man who on a stroll through Central Park unintentionally gains control of the world. The three witches, who were formerly in charge, spend the rest of the play trying to regain control. In the process there is more good fun than one usually experiences from several plays.

Every aspect of the production deserves commendation. Jack Gilpin as Dinny and A'Leisha Crenshaw as Zenobia (the main witch) head an excellent cast. Mr. Gilpin brings to his characterization of Dinny a sensitive balance of naivete and skepticism, a fine comic sense, and a pleasant singing ability. This is his first starring role for the Players and his performance marks him as an unusually talented student actor. Miss Crenshaw, new to MTSU but obviously not new to the stage, creates a Zenobia of professional calibre. Her fine use of a very big voice, good body control, and complete concentration make her a most impressive performer.

Jan Allred (the nit-witch) and Carolyn Anderson (the death witch) give excellent characterizations. These two veteran performers have never been better. They complement and challenge Miss Crenshaw in every aspect and as a result the stage is always electric when the witches are there. Miss Allred jumps, dances, grimaces, and screams her way into the viewers' hearts as Luella, the lame-brained witch of life. She misunderstands words and botches plans; but her witch's heart is always kind, giving Dinny another and another and yet another chance. Miss Anderson as Ulga, the witch of death, performs with gusto and competence.

The rest of the cast perform almost as well as the principal characters. Jack Birchett as a lush, Mel Black as an undertaker-accountant, Pat Prah and Shirley Kirkemide as very floozie floozies give the best of the uniformly fine portrayals. Emily Amnette, Homer Gray, Jim Crabtree, Billy Bell, Jim Dedman, and Paula Hardin complete the cast.

Mrs. Dorothe Tucker has given her usual fine touches to the direction of the play and the technical director, Mr. Clayton Hawes, has done a superb job. The musical contributions of Ike Terry and George Clinton set exactly the right mood for the entire evening and are an integral part of the total effectiveness of the production.

One seldom expects to see (and even less seldom sees) a college drama production of such uniform excellence. Performances continue nightly through Tuesday, March 22 in the Arena Theatre.

Don't Do Me Any Favors!

By Cheryl Allen

Ever have a day go perfectly smoothly until someone tried to do something nice for you? (Perhaps, "to you" would be a more appropriate phrase.) Seems like all people have the best intentions in the world, but the results of good intentions are rather provoking at times.

Take professors for instance. Most ALL profs decide to give their mid-terms a week ahead of the scheduled date? True, this gives the students more free time during exam week, but who needs it then?

Students have tendencies to have "good deeds" backfire, also. Never let someone say, "I'll be glad to take your books to the library. I'm going anyway." Three weeks later, you'll get a letter from the librarian which threatens you with death because of your over-due books.

Offers of "I'll be glad to type your term paper - I know exactly how it needs to be done," can prove to be fatal as far as one's grade is concerned. And statements like "I'll be glad to take your cousin off your hands this week-end; George will be out of town anyhow" can have serious repercussions.

Well, nobody's perfect and we all can make mistakes, but remember, that whatever you do to others is gonna get done to you, too. Think twice before you make any rash statements and - KEEP SMILING!

SCHOOL RECORD SET

Brian Oldfield of Middle Tennessee State University won the shot put in the University of Chicago Track meet yesterday with a toss of 55 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

Coach Dean Hayes' Blue Raider distance relay team set a school record with a time of 10:40.1. On the team are Howard Yates, Irv Johnson, Dennis Bandy and Paul Anderson.

Jerry Singleton of the Raiders won the open 440 in :50.6.

Coach Dean Hayes track team, which to some degree has already been active with some in-door competition, opens the season officially March 26, in the Florida Relays at Gainesville.

Middle Tennessee State University's baseball team dropped a 7-4 decision to DePauw University in 11 innings here yesterday.

The Raiders, who bounced back from a 4-0 deficit to tie the game in the bottom of the ninth inning, now hold a 1-1 record.

MTSU scored its runs when Bruce Skeen led off by getting on via an error. Richard Davenport walked and pinch hitter David Kirk loaded the sacks with a base on balls. Bobby Duvall then walked to force in one run, John Price was hit by a pitch for another, Chuck Cachado drove in another on a fielder's choice and Duvall came home on a wild pitch.

The winners, who had scored twice in the first frame on walks and two more in the fifth on three hits, tallied three times in the eleventh after Tom Cooper led off with a triple and scored on a wild pitch. Three consecutive singles produced the final runs.

Machado, who struck out 12 after coming in in the fifth and was the losing pitcher.

Profs Read Papers At TPA Meet

Two members of the MTSU English Department recently appeared on the program of the Tennessee Philological Association meeting held at Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee.

Mr. Reza Ordoubadian read a paper on "From 'The Absurd' to 'The Everlasting No'."

Mr. Curtis Whittington read a paper by the title of "The Burden of Narration: Willa Cather's Jim Burden and Robert Penn Warren's Jack Burden."

The Foreign Language section of the MTSU Language Department is a rapidly growing and improving part of the University's curriculum. There are three full-time teachers and two part-time instructors.

Mr. T. Coy Porter is the Spanish instructor. He received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from Harding College and has done graduate study at Vanderbilt University. Mr. Porter has been with the University since 1964.

The French instructors are Mr. Perry Dillon and Mrs. Wera Howard. Mr. Dillon received his A.B. from Henderson State Teachers College and his M.A. from the University of Arkansas. He has also done graduate work at Oxford University in England and at the Universite de Liege in France. Mrs. Howard received her B.S. and M.A. degrees from the University of Kiel in Germany.

Mrs. Ortrun Gilbert and Mr. Roy Shelton serve as German instructors. Mrs. Gilbert is a native of Germany and received her Bachelor of Music degree from the Birmingham Conservatory of Music. She is a graduate of Nordische in Bremen, Germany and has done graduate study at Graz University in Austria and at Vanderbilt. Mr. Shelton is a graduate student at Vanderbilt.

In addition to an expanded curriculum, the new Foreign Language Laboratory is in full-scale use this year for the first time. The lab is designed to facilitate the student's understanding of the spoken language and to improve his pronunciation and thinking ability. The lab is operated by student lab assistants who work under the federal Work-Study Program. The assistants are Marion Clark, John Getsi, Mary Jean Mangrum, Pam Owen, Tony Pendergrass, Jerry Poulin, and Chris Simpson. Each first year language student is assigned a one hour lab period each week in which he listens and records the tape which corresponds to the weekly lesson. The tapes accompany the text books for the various languages. Students other than those enrolled in first year courses may take advantage of the laboratory facilities but this is not mandatory.

Recently a good collection of records in French, Spanish, and German have been made available to the students. The records contain songs, poetry, and drama and may be checked out or listened to in the laboratory.

A seven run uprising in the fifth inning and another three run out-burst in the eighth paved the way for Jimmy Earle to make his debut as the Raider baseball coach by defeating the University of Tennessee 11-7 March 14. The game was played in Engle Stadium in Chattanooga under sponsorship of the U.T. alumni. A sizeable number of MTSU alumni were on hand to watch five Chattanooga boys perform with the Raiders.

Paul Smith opened the game on the mound for MTSU. Two hits combined with three walks allowed the Volunteers to get an early three run lead. It was not until the fifth inning that the Raiders could get a hit.

In the fifth the roof caved in on the Orange and White. Davenport opened with a base on balls, John Price was safe on an error, Dailey Church was hit by a pitched ball. With the bases loaded Chuck Machado, a Silver Springs, Maryland freshman who had relieved Smith on the mound, got the first Raider hit of the 1966 season. It plated a pair. Don Tarter singled. Brady Straub singled to score Church and then Machado came home on a squeeze play. Straub singled to add a run. Richard Howell's single accounted for another pair and Kirk singled on his second plate appearance of the inning but died on base.

U.T. counted runs in the sixth and seventh. John Price drew a base on balls, Turman was hit by a pitch, Machado walked, Straub walked to force in a run and Howell got his third RBI of the day with a single. The other Raider score came after Church had doubled in the sixth, going to third on a fielders choice by Turman. The Tennessee pitcher balked to score Church.

U.T. added two runs in the ninth but Gregg Cunningham struck out two Vols to end the uprising.

Holder Challenges Wakeley's Views

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

After reading the newspaper article from the March 8, 1966, edition of the SIDELINES written by the President of the Associated Student Body, I feel that a great injustice has been committed. Our President of the ASB stated that there is a problem of people cutting line! However, he failed to mention if this was a line-cutting problem in the cafeteria, in the restrooms, or with people waiting to talk to their ASB President. Assuming that he is referring to the serving-line in the cafeteria, I believe he acted very unwisely in trying to single out certain persons as being "those who usually cut line." Among these persons mentioned were the athletes. Mr. Wakeley wants to know if anyone has ever seen an athlete at the end of the line! I was unaware of the fact that cafeteria-line watching was a responsibility of the ASB President. Perhaps Mr. Wakeley just can't find anything else to occupy his valuable time, or perhaps he is making false accusations, because if he were really a line-watcher, he would know that athletes DO wait in line like other students! In his reference to the athletes, I wonder how many of them he is personally acquainted with well enough to distinguish them from the other students who cut line. In his reference to those "popular" students and I quote, "those young ladies among the Freshmen who seem to be just plain ignorant," there are several points which I wish to question about his all-knowing remarks:

1. His ability to know which students are popular and which are not!

2. His knowledge of which female students are Freshmen and which are not!

3. His ability to establish upon sight the IQ of the Freshmen ladies whom he has called "just plain ignorant."

Mr. President of the ASB, I thank you for bringing to the attention of us the students of MTSU the problem of line-cutting (wherever it may be). But I believe you owe a public apology to the athletes, the "popular" students (if you know who they are), and the ladies of the Freshman class whom you referred to as "just plain ignorant."
