Current Bidding Ends Expansion Program

Bids for a new Speech, Arts, and Foreign language building for Middle Tennessee State College opened August 14, marking the last phase of the 1961-62 expansion program for the college that has seen four new dormitory units, a new cafeteria and a new vocational home economics building completed.

This new building will be located at the rear of the Fine Arts Building and facing the Military and Science Building on the East side of the college instructional area. It will contain an auditorium seating 1,000 persons in addition to classrooms and offices. The old auditorium in the administration building will be converted into classrooms and offices if funds are made available by the 1963 General Assembly for the needed modernization of the Administration Building, erected in 1911.

This fall two new wings to Lyon Hall opened to provide accommodations for 192 more girls. The older portion of Lyon Hall is also being renovated and modernized to conform to the two additions. Built-in furniture is featured in these new dormitories similar to the three units of the Monohan dormitory for women. The overall costs of the additions to Lyon Hall approximate $575,000.

On June 1 work started on two additions to the Smith-Beasley-Sims quadrangle for men students. These units, when completed will add 212 beds for men with a cafeteria accommodating those students. This building will be equipped by the college and when completed in the summer of 1963 will cost about $708,000.

Extensive refurbishing and building has also been made on the college farm. The old Womack barn has been converted into a show barn for Four-H and Future farmer shows and as a beef cattle demonstration unit. The milking plant for the dairy farm has been reworked and improved and a modern poultry house has been constructed for 2,000 laying hens. This unit will be used both for instructional purpose and a part of the college farm program of self-sufficiency and income. A small greenhouse and nursery has been constructed as a sustaining part of the college campus beautification program. Over-all expenditures for farm and campus improvements have amounted to about $75,000.

All students interested in being members of SIDELINES staff meet in room 121 of Administration Bld. at 11 o'clock Thursday, October 4.

President Cope Recognizes Maintenance Work

President Quill E. Cope of Middle Tennessee State College recognized ten members of the maintenance staff of the college at special meetings recently.

On last Saturday evening the farm and campus staff saw citations in the form of framed certificates presented to Claud McBroom, Floyd Travis and William Hastings for 25 or more years service. Robert Jones and Robert Turner, farm manager, were recognized for 15 years service to the college.

At the July 17 meeting of the service staff Billy Haynes work for 25 years was recognized with a citation and that of Robert Bass, Willie Tigg, George Womack and Zac Huddleston for 15 or more years was cited.

During the fiftieth anniversary celebration this past 27 members of the faculty and maintenance staff were recognized for long and faithful service to the college.

Miss America Contestant Former MTSC Co-ed

Margaret Petty of Donelson, Miss Tennessee of 1962, will not return to Middle Tennessee State College this fall for her sophomore year.

In a chatty letter to the SIDELINES she stated that an opportunity had presented itself for her to earn a substantial sum as an entertainer this year but she expected to use the $1,450 scholarship she won in the Miss America and Miss Tennessee contests next year.

Won Big Prizes

"As prizes I received a $2,000 wardrobe from Kibers, a new air conditioned Impala from Trux Chevrolet, a $500 wardrobe and a Miss America TV set from Philco at Atlanta City", she stated. A trip to New York City and, of course, the participation in the pageant at Atlantic City were other prize awards.

"Everyone had a wonderful time" she said, "although we were quite tired". Miss Petty mentioned working with Sandra Wayne, who represented Murfreesboro in the Miss Tennessee pageant.

At Donelson High Miss Petty was editor of the yearbook, a cheerleader, home room president for two years, member of the student council and for three years sang in the All-State chorus. She also made Delta Omicron Nu, the senior honor society at Donelson.

MISS MARGARET PETTY

Anniversary Class Graduates Eighteen Honor Students

Middle Tennessee State College graduated the third section of the 1952 "Golden Anniversary Class" August 17 with Dr. Leonard B. Beach, dean of the Graduate School of Vanderbilt University, delivering the address.

Degrees were conferred by Mrs. Bernard A. McDermott, a member of the State Board of Education from Nashville. Dr. Norman L. Parks, head of the MTSC department of history, gave the invocation and Dean Howard Kirksey will present the candidates for degrees.

There were 96 undergraduate degrees of Bachelor of Science and two Bachelor of Arts conferred.

Six members of this division of the 1962 undergraduate class have been designated as "honor graduates," indicating an exceptionally high scholastic and citizenship attainment. They are Monte Jean Callaway, Murfreesboro; Marcia Robinson Finch, 2524 Woodberry Drive, Nashville; Tommye Garnett Daughtrey, 112 Woodrow Ave., Chattanooga; Mary Dudley Houk, Murfreesboro; Eleanor Bolton Mills, 4605 Nebraska St., Nashville; and Robert Pettus Hay, Rockvale.

Twelve members of the Graduate class receive "Academic Honors," indicative of a "straight A" average in Graduate work. They are Marian Hoover Bjerken, B.S. University of Georgia from Smyrna; Lucas Gordan Boyd, B.S. University of Mississippi from Bell Buckle; Hazel Willoughby Martin, B.S. Bethel College, Columbia; Rodman Patte Kirby, B.S. Southwest Texas, Sewanee; Janice Sandford, B.S. David Lipscomb, Nolensville; Beatrice Robinson Mason, B.S. Peabody College, Nashville; Jeanette Mommsen Palmer, B.S. University of Louisville, Williamsburg, Kentucky; Mary Louise Shadwick, B.S. University of Chattanooga, Daisy; Maud Sowell, B.S. Middle Tennessee State, Columbia; Joseph Spence Sullivan, B.S. Middle Tennessee State College, Murfreesboro; Thelma Jennings, Middle Tennessee State, Waverly; and Jean Moore Weaver,

B.S. Peabody College, Cullman, Alabama.

LT. COL. DONALD D. TUMMONS

Colonel Tummons Death Saddens Student Body

Last week our hearts were saddened by the sudden death of Lt. Colonel Donald D. Tummons, professor of Military Science at Middle Tennessee State College. Colonel Tummons came to MTSC in the fall of 1960, and all of us who have been closely associated with him have appreciated and respected him. He was efficient, courteous, humble, and kind. He bore intense physical pain with silence and without complaint. He knew that his days were very limited but he approached the end with bravery and calmness. All who had the opportunity to know him well cherish his memory for his many fine qualities and for his loyalty and contributions to this college. He was a great soldier. We shall miss him.

MTSC Organizes Into Four Schools

President Quill E. Cope of Middle Tennessee State College has announced that the fourteen departments at the college will be organized into four "schools" with the beginning of the fall semester September 17. This change will facilitate the administrative work of the college since the director of each school will have immediate supervision of several departments at the same time maintain a close liaison with college president. Dr. Clay Tucker will head the school of liberal arts and sciences; Dr. W. B. Bowdoin the school of education; Dr. Howard Kirksey the Graduate School and for the time being will also act as head of the school of Applied Sciences.

Under the reorganization plan the School of Education will include the Departments of Art, Education, Vocational Home Economics, Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Music and Library Sciences. The School of Arts and Sciences will embrace the departments of Biology, Chemistry and Physics, Languages, Mathematics and Social Science. The School of Applied Sciences will incorporate the departments of Agriculture, Business and Industrial Arts (including Division of Aviation). The Graduate Division will continue under the same organization as of the past several years, offering the Master of Arts degree with majors in Chemistry, Biology, Curriculum and Instruction, Educational Administration, Supervision and Guidance Counseling, Natural Sciences, Mathematics and Social Science. The Department of Military Science (ROTC) will be administered as a distinct unit in the organization under direction of the college PMS.

Bids for a new Speech Arts Building, containing an auditorium seating 1,000, are to be opened this month. This will mark the seventh unit in the continuing construction program to be completed or started in 1962. Others comprise the vocational home economics building, two new dormitories for women, two residence halls and a cafeteria for men.

Poultry Unit Earns Money From Pullets

Middle Tennessee State College's new poultry demonstration unit is expected to be self-supporting now that 2,000 Hy-Line pullets started laying about mid-September, according to Dr. Robert Alexander, assistant professor of agriculture at the college.

The new facility in the Agriculture Center on the campus was completed this month and the 2,000 pullets from Dixie Grain Company hatchery in Shelbyville have been brought into the 190x34 building. The pullets were kept on a restricted program for 22 weeks and about September 10 were put on laying mash.

Dr. Alexander expressed appreciation for the interest of Henry Tilford of the Dixie Grain Company, who was instrumental in equipping the modern house with the latest Big Dutchman equipment, including automatic feeders, waterers, nests, washer, grader, cooler and refrigeration room.

Expect Profit

"This is a laboratory for teaching purposes, yet we expect it to show a profit," Dr. Alexander stated. He estimated that the cost of the building was about $4,000, the equipment $3,000 and the hens to stock it an additional $4,000. "We will supply eggs to the college cafeteria, faculty members and married students at a fixed annual charge based on grade," he explained.

The building is 190 feet long, 34 feet wide and has a 10 foot egg and feed room located in the center of the building. The first three feet of the walls are of concrete block construction with welded wire sides above this. The roof is of aluminum. During the winter season the wire siding will be encased in plastic.

The first group of hens are expected to lay for about 15 months profitably. At that time they will be replaced with another group of pullets. The hens are expected to be 90 per cent productive at the peak of the laying cycle.

T.V. Credit Courses Offered This Fall

The Social Science Department of Middle Tennessee State College, in cooperation with the Learning Resources Institute, will offer the College of the Air Credit Television Course during this year.

The National Teacher for this courses will be Dr. John R. Coleman, Head, Department of Economics, Graduate School of Business Administration, Carnegie Institute of Technology. Many of the nation's most prominent economists will contribute to the course as guest lecturers or as panel participants in their area of specialization.

This course will be presented over the CBS television network, beginning September 24, 1962, and ending May 24, 1963, and will give 6 semester hours of credit as Economics 447 "A" and "B" "American Economic Development." All interested students both graduate and undergraduate, except freshmen, are eligible to enroll in these courses. Special projects, reports, or field trips will be required of the graduate students.

In addition to the actual viewing of the 160-half-hour series, of which 32 will be used for direct communication with secondary school teachers on the effective use of economic content in their curriculum, seminars with the Local Coordinator, Dr. Robert L. Martin, will be held throughout the year on Saturdays at 9:50 for assignments, discussions, and examinations.

College Degrees Available To Workmen, Housewives

Dr. Quill E. Cope, president of Middle Tennessee State College, has announced the beginning of a program that will make a college degree available to persons now employed full time. This will be possible through increased night and Saturday class offerings, he stated.

Representatives from six major industries, the Sewart Air Force Base and the Veterans Hospital met for lunch at Middle Tennessee State College Wednesday to study ways in which the college may more effectively aid the area in providing instructional services for the up-grading of their personnel.

Such courses, will be introduced by the college this fall, provide both terminal work and opportunity to eventually attain a degree by night and Saturday classes, ac-ording to Bob Abernathy, director of Field Services for the college. "This fall semester we will offer the basic courses and Saturday work in the basic degree courses including English, social studies, science and physical education. Next year third year courses will be added in 1965. We will offer work on the senior level to these industrial-housewife students," he explained.

Dear "Millie State"

Well it's that time again. Here we are back at MTSC. The old place was changed a little since last Spring. Wandered around in DOWNTOWN MURFREESBORO yesterday afternoon. Something NEW has been added. The most fascinating SPORTWEAR SHOP I've seen in a long time. Everybody is so friendly. As a matter of fact I spent the entire afternoon "browsing" around and found several skirts, sweaters, westcots that can do so much for my college wardrobe. The MTSC College board suggested after hearing my tale of woe that I put the things that fit and pleased me so well in the COLLEGE CLOSET LAY-A-WAY. Its so easy and I'll have them paid for before I know it.

Millie, I intend to make THE COLLEGE AND CAREER SHOP my downtown headquarters. You can meet your friends in this Cozy shop—there is no obligation to buy and you enjoy chatting with all the nice people. I almost forgot to tell you about the "CAMPUS GUIDE" theme featuring those stunning fashions seen in MADEMOISELLE, SEVENTEEN, GLAMOUR, WHITE STAG, CENTURY SPORTS, THERMO-JAC, BROWNIE KNIT, Ship N' Shore, and BOB-BIE BROOKS. Believe me I found out that I could find the "sharpest" sportswear at the smallest price of any store I've ever shopped. It is so easy to open a charge account there too.

Gotta' go now—meet you this afternoon at the SECOND FLOOR of CECIL ELROD'S FRENCH SHOPPE—THE COLLEGE AND CAREER SHOP.

See ya' there

Frosh Have Spirit Many Leaders Think

Several indications have led many leaders and administrators on campus to think of this year's freshman class as the most high-spirited and most enthusiastic group that have entered our doors in many years.

The first indication that this was an exceptional class was the large number who showed up for the first freshman dance and the enthusiasm to participate in it. Most every frosh boy and girl acted as if they were at home even though it was the first day here for many.

Secondly, the T-Cap sales were extremely high this year. When students give of their money to help in the money-raising campaign of the Associated Student Body, this shows real loyalty and a willingness to help.

The packed auditorium at the talent and fashion show last Wednesday night showed that our freshmen like shows of this kind, that they are interested in what many of our talented students can do, and that they like to have fun.

Successfully topping off the week was the tremendous number of freshmen who came to Jones Field Saturday night to see the Raiders in action. Enthusiasm for sports measures school spirit at many colleges and universities. If school spirit is measured in this way, we certainly have plenty of it.

Surely we are all proud of this year's freshman class—of the fine way they have represented MTSC the first couple of weeks and the enthusiasm they have had in all of the school functions. If this kind of manner keeps up through the years, we can all say the success of the class started when they were freshmen.

Home Ec. Frosh Introduced to College Life

Home economics club began planning for the new year with an executive meeting the last of July.

The big-sister little-sister plan has been executed by the Club. The purpose is to introduce freshmen to college life before arrival at MTSC and to help them get adjusted after school begins.

President Carolyn Gwaltney concluded, "I hope this year proves to be a successful and profitable one for all home economics majors."

Forensic Squad Expects Big Year

With the beginning of the Fall Semester, the members of the MTSC Forensics Squad have returned to better their very successful '61-62 record, which included the Tennessee State Sweepstakes Trophy, the Women's Southern Regional Debate Trophy, and numerous other awards in both Debate and individual events such as Oratory and extemporaneous speaking.

And with a new Director of Forensics, Miss Cox, on the staff, this year's record promises to better last year's. Miss Cox received her B.A. at Memphis State University and her M.A. at the University of Alabama. During her seven years of debate experience at Messick High School in Memphis and at Memphis State, Miss Cox has accrued numerous honors to her credit. She has served for the last two years as a graduate assistant to the Director of Forensics at U. of A.

Anyone interested in joining the society and participating in the intercollegiate Forensics Program is invited to contact Miss Cox in office #17 of the drawing building. No previous experience is needed. A number of trips to other Campuses are planned, and every active member will get to participate in the trips.

Freshman Parade Ends Reg. Week

By Margie Bolton

Conclusion of an exciting week for freshmen was the parade which was held on September 22.

Many strange sights were seen as the "green Freshmen" assembled. The girls were attired in blouses and bermuda shorts which were worn wrongside out, no make-up or too much make-up, and a noise maker. The boys looked stunning in smart "T" caps, sports coats, tie, no shirt, pants rolled up and unmatched socks.

It was good to see these newest members of our student body show school spirit. Now that freshman week is over these students can start to have a normal life on the MTSC campus.

Freshmen Arrive For Magic Whirl

By "Perky" Gregory

"Come on Dad, let's go!"

This is the excited cry of almost every girl who wants to get going on the long or short trip to MTSC.

As the journey comes to a close, she suddenly feels what is called a butterfly stomach, in other words she's "scared".

Then comes the exhausting labor of climbing steps with boxes, suitcases, and trunks which are completely overloaded and exploding with items ranging from vitamins to umbrellas.

After this chore and all the good-byes to parents and friends, she is left alone or rather with a person she's possibly never met. Before long the two or three girls will be busy mopping, cleaning, and making their room peaceful and neat.

Then the "school" business comes. First of all there are meetings to "scare" and to "encourage" the freshmen. Later the undecided girls journey off to the far corners of the campus to discuss the major with a teacher the girls have taken an interest in.

The scurry has begun and each girl finds herself in a magic world which is not too exciting. The following day there is a mad rush to be the "one" to get her schedule the first time, which is astonishing if it can be done!

The worry of classes are now beginning, for the next day the girls set forth on the path of a regular school day. "Good luck", she'll need it!

Classes Will Meet Tomorrow at 10:50

Individual class meetings are scheduled to enable each student know the activities of the school and of his respective class.

Class meetings will be held in the following places, at 10:50 Thursday, Sept. 27: freshmen, auditorium of the administration building; sophomores, Tennessee Room of student union building; juniors, 304 of student union building; and seniors in room 309 of administration building.

MTSC Co-ed Tells of Summer Spent With Geysers and Bears

By Ernestine Harris

Yellowstone National Park is known throughout the world as the home of Old Faithful Geyser and Yogi the Bear.

Student employees in the Old Faithful Area at Yellowstone Park had fun telling the gullible tourists wild, false stories about the best known geyser in the world.

A typical statement told to a tourist by an employee is, "I turn the geyser off each night as one of my side jobs."

An elderly gentleman from California stopped me in the hallway with this remark, "The driver on our bus said that Old Faithful made a roaring noise similar to that of a lion when it erupted. Will this disturb my sleep?" I explained that the walls of the hotel were thick and after a few nights he would become accustomed to the hourly eruption. The bus driver had fun with this gentleman so I had to continue the false story.

Tourists continually approached me with the question, "What time does Old Faithful erupt?" If I had charged a nickel for this unknown information, I would be extremely wealthy!

Mr. Average Tourist would believe almost anything an employee said. Sob stories were frequently told to get sympathy and tips. There was always the typical story about long hours, hard work, bad food, and little pay. Naturally, fun enjoyed by the employees was omitted from this soap opera. The dramatic story about all the employees being orphans also helped the money situation.

Reception, Dance Held For Freshmen

President Reception at MTSC was held Thursday evening, September 20, from 7:00 to 9:00 in the Tennessee Room of the Student Union Building.

Faculty members and their wives called between the hours of seven and nine. Freshmen were introduced to the administration in a reception from eight until nine o'clock, followed by a dance. Faculty members were invited to attend this reception and dance if they desired.

Receiving the guests were President and Mrs. Quill E. Cope, Dean and Mrs. Howard G. Kirksey, and Mrs. John E. Weems, Dean and Mrs. S. Belt Keathley, and Dean Martha Hampton.

MTSC Fashion Shots

by Ernestine Harris

MTSC Co-eds have added to their wardrobe a few articles which are sure to make a hit on campus.

Bright flashes one sees going across campus are not cosmic rays but gold shoes. These shoes have become popular for casual and evening wear.

Silver still maintains its own glory in the charm bracelet. This is convenient for the male student who wonders what to give his favorite girl for Blue Monday, TGFF, or happy 60 seconds.

Madras dresses and coulottes have made the campus scene. I pity the poor girl who is caught in the rain attired in her bleeding frock.

Eyes turn to the head of pretty MTSC co-eds where one discovers fashion surprises. The sweet young thing wears her dainty bows to capture the latest hair style which usually needs catching. The sporty individual is seen with the familiar headache band which causes rather than prevents headaches. If one looks hard enough, the wigged beauty is not hard to find.

Fashion and fads of the future will find it hard to live up to the ones founded by MTSC co-eds.

Cecil Elrod's French Shop has opened a new department for college students on second floor of the downtown store.

Sportswear of high fashion and suitable to the MTSC student will be featured. Fashion shows introducing the latest in campus wear will also be an aid to the student.

A coke bar for students should become a popular meeting place. This will provide a rest stop after the long walk downtown.

A fashion board is being organized as an aid to MTSC students in coordinating their college wardrobe. Members of this board are Sandra Wynne from Nashville and Marilyn Marchal of Murfreesboro.

Students Show Fashions, Talent

By Margie Bolton

Talent and fashion were both shown at the program held on September 19.

The fashion show was narrated by Nadine King.

Styles which will be seen on campus at any type of affair were modeled. Date wear was shown by Joan Simpson and Jerry Allen. Joan wore a silk suit dress with gold jewelry. Sandra Wynne and Lynn McGill were dressed in semi-formal attire. Sandra's dress was a white cocktail sheath with three-quarter length sleeves trimmed with fur. Campus wear was modeled by Nancy Dever and Bill Onsley. Nancy looked very attractive in her red weskit and skirt with a plaid shirt. Irene Carter and Russell Bean were the latest in sports wear. Irene's outfit was a pair of burmudas with a red shirt. Gail Beasley and Lary Darnel's gave us a look at what to wear to the "big" game.

The talent show was MC-ed by A. W. Powell. The talent was the most outstanding in the past few years. Several of the highlights were: The Outlanders, Bill Ousley, Ken Lord, and Freshman Trio.

Entertainment On Campus

By Carol Luna

There are many varied types of entertainment at MTSC.

These range from fun night, plays presented by the drama department, to the chorus of MTSC and the opera presented by the music department.

Fun night is held on Friday night except for the night each month when it is held on Tuesday night.

Last year the drama department presented many excellent plays. These varied from the comedy "Kiss and Tell" to "Inherit the Wind," the drama which took place in Dayton, Tennessee, concerning evolution.

The music department annually presents an opera, during the year they also present many concerts.

Last year MTSC was privileged to have the San Francisco Ballet performing in the spring. The comedy "Taming of the Shrew" was presented by a professional group of Shakesperian players.

This year it is our privilege to have a professional group of entertainers the FOUR SAINTS come to our campus, October 11. This is MTSC's first time to have a group of this type on campus and if the student body will back this group then it may be possible for us to have another big name group in the spring.

As you can see our entertainment is varied and it is up to each of us as a student to support and attend these functions.

Grants Offered To Women Seeking Master's Degree

Middle Tennessee State College has been designated by the American Association of University Women as a participating institution in the Educational Foundation College Faculty Program, according to Dr. Mary Tom Berry, who has been designated as chairman of the program for the Murfreesboro branch.

This program, a project of 3-year demonstration duration is supported by a $225,000 grant from the Rockefeller Brothers Foundation. Tuition and grants-in-aid will be awarded to approximately 50 women for one academic year of graduate study. Any woman college graduate 35 years of age or older who is a resident of Tennessee and who has not recently been on a college or university faculty or in a graduate study program, but who is interested in a career of college to ching, research of administration is eligible to apply for the grant.

In the case of Middle Tennessee State, women meeting the above qualifications who live within commuting distance of the college and now have a bachelor's degree and will become candidates for the master's degree and who can give full time to study will be eligible to apply, Miss Berry stated.

Those who wish to apply may write Dr. Tom Berry, Box 530 MTSC, Murfreesboro.

Lolita Proves To Be Controversial, Four Saints Invited Here October 11

Highly controversial movie Lolita has recently been to Nashville. Many people have flocked to see it and many have been disappointed. Whether we are more accustomed to the subject matter or the movie is not as sensational as the theater would try to have you believe is for the viewer to decide. The movie is not in color and from the views of many people does not measure up to expectation.

The morals of a high school girl and her affairs is the main theme of the movie. There are four main characters: Lolita; her mother played by Shelly Winters; her step-father played by James Mason, and the writer.

Some of the better movies coming to the Princess in the next two weeks will be: "Jessica", "Hatari", Harold Lloyd's "World of Comedy", and "Counterfeit Trader".

The Starlight Drive-In will be showing "Horizontal Lieutenant", "State Fair", and "Boy's Night Out".

Coming October 11 to MTSC in the Memorial Gymnasium is a fairly new group the FOUR SAINTS.

This is a group with a unique act with ten years of experience. This group started as a barbershop quartet known as the "Lord Kings". They became known as the FOUR SAINTS when Uncle Sam became their agent assigning them as a special group to the United States Air Force Band in Washington, D. C.

The tickets will go on sale soon and will be $1.50 before the show and $2.00 that night.

Raiders Triumph In Home Opener

MTSC Blue Raiders, led by a hard-charging line and a bevy of fleet backs overpowered the Governors of Austin Peay 28-0 on muddy Jones Field. It was the opening game for both teams.

The game was scarcely three minutes old when Jim Harvey, touted sophomore halfback from Lenoir City, slipped through the left side of the line, outmaneuvered a couple of Gov defenders, and rambled 52 yards to paydirt.

Midway in the second quarter, and George Dkys snatched an Alford heave on the APSC 35 and raced by some seven Goves on his way to the second Raider tally.

Louis Alford ran for two points and MTSC was leading by 14-0.

Minutes later Jackie Pope returned a punt from the toe of Cobb Parker 56 yards to the Austin Peay 17. Alford connected again with Dykes who was stopped on the one. Louie scored and then passed to Dykes for a two point conversion. At the half the Raiders held a comfortable 22-0 edge.

The second half opened in a steady downpour. It was hard to believe the rain could fall harder than in the second quarter but it did and at this point most of the original 5,000 fans began to search for higher ground. After a scoreless third quarter Bob Kerr tossed a touchdown pass to Maxie Boles in a play covering 26 yards. The conversion try was another Kerr pass, but it missed its mark.

Perhaps the most notable item in the game was the Raider's fine defensive work. In the first half the Raiders surrendered 13 yards on the ground, but in the second half they took back six of those yards. Austin Peay completed one pass for 18 yards which gave the Goves a total offense of 25 yards. The game was marred by fourteen fumbles, with each team recovering seven.

Murphy Announces Coaching Changes

MTSC athletic director Charles M. Murphy announced two coaching changes in the Middle Tennessee State College spring sports staff today. Murphy said Ken Trickey, former Blue Raider standout athlete, will take the baseball post, and Joe Orze will pilot the tennis team.

Trickey, a native of Cairo, Illinois, holds the B.S. and Master of Arts degrees from Middle Tennessee. As previously announced, he will be assistant to Coach Bill Stokes in basketball. Dr. Stokes, who was elevated to the head basketball post this year, was baseball mentor last season. His baseball squad won the Western Division championship in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Mr. Orze, who was an outstanding athlete for Syracuse University, is head of the MTSC Department of Art. At Syracuse, he won letters in football, baseball, and boxing. The new member of the coaching staff was a senior center on the 1954 football team that saw fullback Jimmy Brown, then a sophomore, first gain national fame.

Stokes Releases Hoop Schedule

Coach Bill Stokes announces that Middle Tennessee State's basketball squad will play a 22-game slate during 1962-63. In addition, the Blue Raiders have accepted an invitation to play in the Hatters Tournament at Deland, Florida, December 14-15.

MTSC's schedule includes eleven home contests and the same number of road games. Newcomers to the slate include Florence State, MacMurray (Ill.), Huntingdon (Ala.), Chattanooga, and the University of Mississippi. Opponents for the Hatters tourney have not been named.

Although MacMurray and Huntingdon are playing the Raiders for the first time, Florence State, Mississippi, and Chattanooga are not strangers to Blue Raider followers. Florence State and MTSC will be reviving a rivalry that ended during the 1950-51 season with Florence holding a 3-2 edge in wins.

Mississippi and Middle Tennessee State first tangled in 1947-48, with the Rebels being victorious. Their only other meeting was in the 1960 Gulf South Classic with the Mississippians taking a 64-62 decision on a last second field goal.

Sixteen contests have been played between the Chattanooga Moccasins and the Blue Raiders, the first in 1931-32 and the last in 1952-53. The Raiders hold a 10-6 edge, with six seasons being split, and MTSC taking twin victories in 1941-42 and 1951-52.

The complete schedule:

UNUSUAL CANDIES

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

With today's entry I begin my ninth year of writing columns in your school newspaper for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes.

Nine years, I believe you will agree, is a long time. In fact, it took only a little longer than nine years to dig the Suez Canal, and you know what a gigantic undertaking that was! To be sure, the work would have gone more rapidly had the shovel been invented at that time, but, as we all know, the shovel was not invented until 1946 by Walter R. Shovel of Cleveland, Ohio. Before Mr. Shovel's discovery in 1946, all digging was done with sugar tongs—a method unquestionably dainty but hardly what one would call rapid. There were, naturally, many efforts made to speed up digging before Mr. Shovel's breakthrough—notably an attempt in 1912 by the immortal Thomas Alva Edison to dig with the phonograph, but the only thing that happened was that he got his horn full of sand. This so depressed Mr. Edison that he fell into a fit of melancholy from which he did not emerge until two years later when his friend William Wordsworth, the eminent nature poet, cheered him up by imitating a duck for four and a half hours.

But I digress. For nine years, I say, I have been writing this column for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and for nine years they have been paying me money. You are shocked. You think that anyone who has tasted Marlboro's unparalleled flavor, who has enjoyed Marlboro's filter, who has revelled in Marlboro's jolly red and white pack or box should be more than willing to write about Marlboro without a penny's compensation. You are wrong.

Compensation is the very foundation stone of the American Way of Life. Whether you love your work or hate it, our system absolutely requires that you be paid for it. For example, I have a friend named Rex Glebe, a veterinarian by profession, who simply adores to worm dogs. I mean you can call him up and say, "Hey, Rex, let's go bowl a few lines," or "Hey, Rex, let's go flatten some pennies on the railroad tracks," and he will always reply, "No, thanks. I better stay here in case somebody wants a dog wormed." I mean there is not one thing in the whole world you can name that Rex likes better than worming a dog. But even so, Rex always sends a bill for worming your dog because in his wisdom he knows that to do otherwise would be to rend, possibly irreparably, the fabric of democracy.

It's the same with me and Marlboro Cigarettes. I think Marlboro's flavor represents the pinnacle of the tobaccoist's art. I think Marlboro's filter represents the pinnacle of the filter-maker's art. I think Marlboro's pack and box represent the pinnacle of the packager's art. I think Marlboro is a pleasure and a treasure, and I fairly burst with pride that I have been chosen to speak for Marlboro on your campus. All the same, I want my money every week. And the makers of Marlboro understand this full well. They don't like it, but they understand it.

In the columns which follow this opening installment, I will turn the hot white light of truth on the pressing problems of campus life—the many and varied dilemmas which beset the undergraduate—burning questions like "Should Chaucer classrooms be converted to parking garages?" and "Should proctors be given a saliva test?" and "Should foreign exchange students be held for ransom?"

And in these columns, while grappling with the crises that vex campus America, I will make occasional brief mention of Marlboro Cigarettes. If I do not, the makers will not give me any money.

The makers of Marlboro will bring you this uncensored, free-style column 28 times throughout the school year. During this period it is not unlikely that Old Max will step on some toes—principally ours—but we think it's all in fun and we hope you will too.

Ramblin' With The Raiders

by Steve Bebb

Football season is here again and the Raiders of MTSC are picked by the "guessperts" to win the OVC. Railbirds at the Austin Peay game were inclined to agree wholeheartedly as Coach Murphy and his capable staff used what seemed to be an army of hulking linemen plus quite an array of speedy backs.

On October 6 the Raiders play the Maroons of Eastern Kentucky at Jones Field. Although the Raiders were heavily favored last season they had to rally for 19 points in the last period for a 19-14 win. This seems to be sufficient evidence that MTSC will be hard pressed to beat Eastern.

The man to watch in the Maroon backfield this year is All-American halfback Jimmy Chittum. According to Coach Glen Presnell Eastern has sufficient depth that opponents will not be able to key their defenses to Chittum. This seems to mean that Number 44 is going to be even more sensational this year.

The Eastern line will be anchored by Tom Sharp, a 210 pound right guard and by Ken Moore, a 235 pound tackle.

Last year student support was tremendous for the Raiders and this year it should even be better. The Freshman class of 1962 appears to be the most enthusiastic group on campus and we hope that their present ardor continues all year and that some of the upperclassmen will catch on . . . and join in pulling for the Raiders.

Typing at Random

If Maxie Boles felt all alone when he scored MTSC's final touchdown against Austin Peay, he had a good reason . . . he was. The rain had chased away all but the most hardy observers, the teams themselves and the game officials (someone hinted that even they were gone).

About the most "RABID RAIDER FAN" during this early part of the football season appears to be Dr. James (S) Martin, well-known instructor in the psychology department. In running this "Rabid Raider Rating Poll" we ignored the comment of one coed. She said, "yes, he is certainly rabid."

By gaining 63 yards in four attempts Jim Harvey becomes the leading rusher in the OVC with an average of 15.8 yards per carry. Bob Kerr ranks second in punting with a 36 yard average. Louie Alford, Jackie Pope, Kerr and Harvey all rank in the top ten in total offense.

Some local sports buff who evidently needed something to do, recently compiled some interesting statistics. Of the 56 competing high schools in Middle Tennessee, 24 of them have coaches who attend MTSC.

The Raider basketballers will have their own team Doctor at every practice. Coach Bill Stokes recently completed work on his doctorate.

MTSC has never completed a season unscored on but they have come close. In 1917 the Raiders compiled 203 points while yielding only two. This was under Coach Johnny "Red" Floyd who won seven without a loss.

Speaking of Red, Louie Alford, Raider quarterback from Bradley County was recently married.

Coach Bill Stokes has done a good job on the 1962 Raider basketball schedule. The Raiders play a 22 game schedule plus an appearance in the Hatters Tourney at Deland Florida.

We hope the roundballers make as good a showing against Ole Miss as the 1960 squad did in The Gulf States Classic. The Rebels won 64-62 on a last second field goal.

The OVC headquarters recently predicted a fine year this season because only 20 of the seven teams' regulars graduated last year. Other interesting notes include:

1. Nine of the top ten rushers return.
2. The top seven scorers return.
3. Eleven of the top 22 men voted to the 1962 OVC team will be back.

Raiders Picked To Capture Ohio Valley Championship

Coach Charles M. Murphy's Blue Raiders have a winning tradition. In the last seven years, Middle Tennessee has won 33 O.V.C. games, lost five and tied one, and four of those losses were to Tennessee Tech, which also gained the tie. Not since 1954 has Middle Tennessee finished worse than second in the OVC.

Their passing game hamstrung by a downpour and a muddy field, the Blue Raiders bowed 7-6 to Tennessee Tech in the 1961 championship game. Middle Tennessee gambled for a two-point conversion after scoring a last period touchdown but the slippery ball squirted out of the hands of the quarterback and Tech went on to edge the Raiders for the crown for the second year in a row.

However, Middle Tennessee is the 1962 choice—and with good reason. Nineteen lettermen return from last year's Tangerine Bowl club, including nine men who started in the Orlando, Fla., classic.

Last year, Middle Tennessee headed the loop in total offense with an average gain of 329.4 yards per game en route to a 7-3 overall record. With Bailey and Pearson gone, and with a fine crop of running backs, the Blue Raiders may stick to the ground more this fall, but that is pure speculation.

Middle Tennessee was the highest scoring club in the loop in 1961, rolling up 187 points in 10 starts. However, the slow-starting Raiders saved most of their scoring for the second half as they tallied but seven points all season in the first quarter, and that came in the ninth game. They picked up 39 points in the second quarter, 55 in the third, and piled up 86 in the fourth period.
