If it is true that a man is psychologically affected by his surroundings, then have mercy on the poor female students who are forced to be content with a fairly well worn out room in the Ad Building known commonly as the Lounge. For the town students are commuters the Lounge is the only rocm available to relax in and have exchange news of the day; for the dorm girls, it is a covenient place to stop in and freshen

The puropses for the Lounge are all well and good. Judging from the outside door, it will pass inspection very nicely. But only a minute's survey on the inside will convice any person, male or female, that the contents are in a dilapidated condition and warrent some drastic changes.

Particularly in the summer time are the disagreeable conditions in the lounge most depressing. There are no devices to help decrease the sizzling heat waves pouring through the windows nor is there any method to create a draft to cool the air down. It is impossible to keep the windows down because of the dangers of suffocation, but the punishment for tha Dickens, Dot Jones, Marie Smith, Joyce Cooper, Ann raising them is the angray invasion of the wasps who have Hoover, Betty Jo Smotherman, Lydia Laux, Imogene Walker, numerous nests just outside the windows.

Ninety Middle Tennessee State College athletes won their "T" sweaters and letters at the award banquet May 22.

Two men, Gerald Johnson of Franklin and John Raymond Smith of Old Hickory won three letters. Johnson lettered in football, baseball and basketball. Smith won awards in football, basketball, and golf. Twelve others were two-letter award winners. These include Ben Canada, Billy Derrick, Harry Gupton, Howard Alsup, John Thomas Hayes, G. P. Long, Sammy Smith Charlie Lyons, Bobby Osteen, Bobby Hardison and Mitchell Jones.

Ed Baldwin was toastmaster at the dinner, which was followed by the T club ball in the Student Union Building. O. L. Freeman asked the invocation and President Q. M. Smith was the only speaker. More than two hundred and fifty guests attended the dinner-dance, including the athletes, their dates, members of the athletic committee and coaching staff.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"YOUR HAIR looks as though it's been in the rein, deer," a campus Caribou told Sheedy. "If you want to horn in on the sororities, it might behoof a man of your elk to try Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's Favorite Hair Tonic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes moose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test!" Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now no girl wonders whether he's man or moose! If your moose is cooked by unruly hair, collect a little doe and take a taxi-dermist to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hair at the barber shop so your deer won't think you've let herd down. (What she'll say will be moose-ic to your ears!) * of 131 So. Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N.Y.
