Famed Platoff Don Cossack Chorus Slated For Program Here October 15

Sixteen Meet TV Classes

Sixteen Middle Tennessee State College students are getting up before dawn to meet at 6:30 TV appointment with the Continental Classroom each morning and then turning up at 8 o'clock each Saturday morning for a two hour seminar with Dr. Harold Spraker in Room A 300 at MTSC.

Many of those taking the course are in-service teachers who are teaching mathematics, the theme of this year's Continental Classroom. "Contemporary mathematics" is the course offered for four hours credit on both the graduate and undergraduate level. The graduate students do extensive additional outside work, Dr. Spraker explained.

Dr. Harris Dark, head of the mathematics department, expressed pleasure at the number of students participating. He said that Modern Algebra would be the theme of the first semester course and Probability and Statistic that for the second semester.

The program is viewed locally over WSM-TV, channel 4.

PLATOFF DON COSSACK CHORUS members shown above will appear in concert in the MTSC auditorium on Thursday, October 15, at 10:50. The group is world famous, having toured five continents since organizing in Czechoslovakia in 1927. No other group of singers has ever in history completed such an extended round of voyages. The Chorus has given over 1,600 concerts in this country alone.

Formed In Czechoslovakia, Group Tours All Continents

Students at MTSC will have an opportunity to hear the world famous Gen. Platoff Don Cossack Chorus Thursday, October 15, at 10:50 a.m. in the college auditorium.

This great show of thrilling entertainers is the first of fourteen programs planned for 1960-61 by the committee of which Lane Boutwell is chairman.

Other outstanding professionals to appear in concert here this year include the Manhattan Soloists, November 14, 10 a.m.; Nila Magidoff, February 3, 10 a.m.; Dorraine and Ellis, March 16; and organist Bill Thompson, March 30.

The Platoff Don Cossack Chorus was originally organized in the capital of Czechoslovakia, Prague, in 1927. Ever since its beginning, the Chorus has been headed by Mr. Nicholas Kostukoff, who acts simultaneously as the chorus leader and as its administrator.

The membership of the Chorus has always comprised the best of the vocal talent obtainable among the White Russian emigres who fought Communism in Russia as early as 1918-1920 and who actually (Continued on page 8)

Work Progresses On Parking Lot

Extensive work is in progress on an area just north of the MTSC tennis courts for the dual purpose of providing a recreation area and an emergency parking lot.

The stretch, the length of the roadway from North Tennessee Boulevard to the athletic stadium, is being leveled and terraced for volley ball courts, shuffleboard courts, putting greens and intramural purposes.

The surface will be so arranged that it can be used as a parking area during basketball and football games when needed.

Danforth Foundation Offers Graduate Fellowship Plan

The Danforth Foundation, an educational foundation located in St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for the tenth class (1961) of Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1961, for their first year of graduate study.

The Foundation welcomes applicants from all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

Windhams Named

President Quill E. Cope has named Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Windham as the Liaison Officers to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or three candidates for these 1961-62 fellowships. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need.

A Danforth Fellow is allowed to carry other scholarship appointments, also. The qualifications as given by the foundation are: Men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

Conference Slated

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be held at Camp Miniwanka in Michigan next September, 1961.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by January 15, 1961. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with our Liaison Officers.

SCHOLARSHIPS ANNOUNCED

Dr. Richard Peck has called attention to the competition for the 1961 Woodrow Wilson scholarships, which close October 31. The program is open to college graduates, both men and women, in the humanities and social studies.

The Foundation does not accept applications directly from students. Nominations must be made by faculty members. Two MTSC students have been chosen in the past.

Scott, Hale Lead Alumni Society

Two officers of the Graduate Achievement, the alumni association of the Junior Achievement, are members of the MTSC student body. They are Gerald Scott, president, and Terry Hale, secretary.

Scott is a graduate of Cohn high school in Nashville and Hale is a graduate of Goodlettsville High and is a freshman at MTSC.

Scott, a junior here, and other Junior Achievers met recently and voted to join the national organization. They assist junior members in their program and work in recruitment and training programs.

Graduate members must have finished high school and completed at least a year in the Junior Association. There are over one thousand former junior members in this area who are eligible for the graduate program, according to Webber Hudson, executive director of the Junior Achievement Association.

There are now 38 Junior companies in this area, each having about 18 members.

Civil Service Offers Exam, High Salaries

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that applications are now being accepted for the 1961 Federal Service Entrance Examination, the examination through which young people of college caliber may begin a career in the Federal Civil Service in one of some 60 different occupational fields.

The positions to be filled from the FSEE are in various Federal agencies located in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States.

The examination is open to college juniors, seniors, and graduates, regardless of major study, and to persons who have had equivalent experience.

Starting salaries will be either $4,345 or $5,355 a year depending on the qualifications of the candidate. Management Internships will also be filled from this examination with starting salaries of $5,355 and $6,435 a year.

The first written test will be held on October 15. Five additional tests have been scheduled for this school year. Dates are November 19, 1960, January 14, February 11, April 15, and May 13, 1961.

Acceptance of applications for Management Internships will be closed on January 26, 1961. For all other positions, the closing date is April 27, 1961.

Interested persons may obtain further information about the test and how to apply from Civil Service Announcement No. 240.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained from college placement offices, many post offices throughout the country, civil service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Parks Outlines Basic Facts About New Masters Degree

APPLICATIONS OVERDUE!

Secondary student teaching applications for the spring semester are six months overdue.

Students who have not applied should secure applications from the student teaching office, Room 117, A, or from the education office, Room 118, A, within the next week.

Higher priority in the choice of assignments, whenever possible, will be given students who present applications when requested.

Applicants for the 1961-62 school year should wait until March to present applications.

Kiwanis Sponsor Circle K Club

By Norma Edwards

Circle K, is Kiwanis project for college men, has as its aim to promote leadership, fellowship and scholarship, to emphasize advantages of the American way of life and to afford useful training in social graces and personality development.

The Circle K's motto is "We Build."

Male students from all departments may join. Requirements for membership are: be a full-time student, maintain approved scholastic standings, cooperate with school authorities and abide by school regulations.

The leaders of the Circle K for this year are John Dillon, president; Bill Terry, vice-president; Sam Shields, secretary; Stan Hawkins, treasurer. Joe Brandon, Charles Harrell, Bill Woods and Dave Wilson are on the Board of Directors.

The sponsors of the Circle K are Dr. Robert Martin and Dr. Robert Corlew.

Dr. Norman Parks has recently outlined the basic facts about the new Master of Arts degree in social science that is now being offered by MTSC.

"The main purpose of the course," Dr. Parks stated, "is to improve the teaching of social science in the schools. Since we realize that civilization depends primarily on solving pressing problems of human relationships, among which are peace, democracy and economic livelihood, we feel the graduate degree in social studies also offers others an excellent choice of subject interest," he continued.

Exploration Urged

"We are interested in secondary and elementary school teachers exploring the opportunities for obtaining a graduate degree in this field," Dr. Parks stated.

The required core is composed of five courses drawn from historiography, social and intellectual history, recent European history, American political ideas, social thought, economic thought and earth sun relationship.

Hours Stated

The student may carry 32 semester hours in his program without writing the thesis or 28 and write the thesis. The graduate student may major and minor in social science or he may minor in education or some other field.

A special program will be offered on Saturday for teachers in service by which they may work off six semester hours towards the degree each semester.

Dr. Ernest Hooper, a Murfreesboro native, and Dr. Faud Baali, a native of Iraq, are new additions to the social science faculty this year. Currently there are eleven members of this department with the Doctor of Philosophy degree.

FROM OTHER EDITORS - - - Silence Vs. Sapathy

And then there's the story of the man who went to his psychiatrist. In the usual battery of Rohrschach, T. A. T.'s and I.Q. Tests, the good doctor drew a triangle on a sheet of paper and showed it to his patient, asking "What does that remind you of?"

The man looked at it and answered promptly, "Sex."

The doctor got the same response when he had drawn a circle, a rectangle, and an ellipse, and said "Son, you need help."

"But doctor, the patient protested, "You're the one that's drawing the dirty pictures."

This sort of suggestive analysis, in the age of the engineering of consent, the depth study, motivational research and the "p.r." man, has now been applied to (the student) in a somewhat dirty picture of apathy. He is, according to his critic, one of the beat generation, or the angry young men, or, as a recent issue of TIME puts it, one of the no-nonsense kids . . .

All of these accusations seem to point nowhere in particular except to those generalizations proffered by your granddaddy and mine about "this younger generation." Today's students have been called the "silent generation" for their lack of literary champions, the loud and clear voices of earlier campuses, which were regarded as symbols of unity.

If this generation appears to have nothing to say, no radical philosophies to offer, perhaps those students of the past were too quick to voice their new-found theories. Theirs might have been the hasty sin of sapathy. The quick answer is not the forte of the student of today. He must retrench, for new ideas cannot grow without strong roots in the knowledge of the past.

Did vigorous outbursts of oratory and bravado from the ivory towers do much to change the world? Despite the righteous bonfires of the thirties, scrap metal went to the Orient, and American businessmen sold celluloid toys MADE IN JAPAN.

College students were expected to be noisy, zany, and idealistic; out in the cold, cruel world, they would soon learn to be realists. The occasional spark of genius was an element treated as lightly as the hazing prank.

The great Albert Schweitzer, who seems to have achieved serenity in a world which had forgotten this gift, was once asked what he thought of the future of Europe, Schweitzer, musician, doctor, and theologian, hunched his shoulders and said: "My business is ethics, not prophecy. What's the use of talking about it? Perhaps all the talkers will be toppled in the end."

There is danger in silence which becomes a habit, wherein intellect atrophies. It is this problem with which critics of the college student are concerned. Although Amherst psychologist Robert Birney may be right in his statement that college students are "too concerned with their psychological well-being," it does not seem that the student's egocentricity stops there. His intellectual aims are searching for a credo which will serve our complex existence.

Must we then, accused of "sapathy," speak out to indict the future, when the past has proven successful in creating a world threatened by atomic destruction?

In a period of expanding prosperity the Cautious Charlies are always out of step. No one wants to hear that the very factors which seemingly are building prosperity may carry within them the seeds of a future rude awakening.

In the booming twenties, with stock prices going up and up, who would believe that the seeds of a bitter depression were being sown in inflated stock prices? During the Florida land boom of the same era, nearly everyone wanted to rush in and get rich—until the bubble burst.

Right now wages are at an all-time high, and most of us never had it so good. Who wants to listen to the Cautious Charlies worrying about foreign competition and the outflow of investment capital? With government funds giving more people roads and schools and houses, who wants to be told that it means more debt and more taxes and more inflation? Why listen to the doom cryers croak about the need for tax rate reform and government economy and moderation in wage demands?

It may be true that we never had it so good, but it would be nice to keep it that way. Perhaps someone should pay a little heed to the Cautious Charlies.

The Booster Club is in need of your support. At a recent meeting, less than one-half of the total members attended. There are over 200 members in the club, reports Bill Woods, chairman of the membership committee.

The special section on the Raider side marked "Blue and White" is reserved for the Booster club, and only members with membership cards will be admitted. Plans are being made to attend some of the away games with the cheerleaders by chartered bus or other means and also a float in the Homecoming parade.

Charlie Harrell is the president of the club, so see him and join. Support the Raiders.

Don't forget the freshmen parade on October 7, the day of the home game with Eastern Kentucky. All freshman are required to join in the parade downtown.

Rutledge Ramblings

Rutledge Boasts Of Housekeepers

By Shirley Humphrey

Residents of Rutledge have reasons to be proud of their housekeeping abilities. Mrs. Alma Bass, housemother, made the first inspection on rooms last Tuesday, and when the task was done there appeared on one of the bulletin boards a note saying that there was not a single room to receive demerits for untidiness.

Several girls congregated on the second floor Wednesday night to watch Joan Foster, a freshman from Central High School in Nashville, whirl her baton, which she will be twirling this year as a majorette. Joan was a majorette at Central for four years and was captain during her junior and senior years.

A second majorette from Rutledge is Linda Hayes, freshman from Dalton High in Georgia. Linda had three years of experience as majorette there and was assistant to the drum major during her senior year.

Rutledge residents are happy that two of the new freshman cheerleaders come from their hall. They are Pat Cooper from McMinnville City High and Sue Blankenship from Dibrell in Warren County.

Rutledge also has three band members under its roof. Ann Alford, who has a music major scholarship, plays trombone. Kay Adkins from Springfield High plays clarinet, having played this instrument in her high school band for three years. Donna Holman, also from Springfield High, plays alto saxophone. Donna had three and a half years of experience in the same band.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR - - - Committee Hits Sponsor—

To Mr. Sloan, "Sidelines" Sponsor:

With some reluctance we solicit your kind consideration in effecting another forward step in campus beautification.

The other afternoon the committee made a cursory examination of the area in front of the Administration Building with particular emphasis on the model and general condition of the vehicles in the new administrative parking zone. We were somewhat appalled by the rather decadent and delapidated appearance of the "Chevrolet" known as "Nellie Belle" reputed to be your property.

It is the firm belief of the committee that this vehicle detracts from the esthetic atmosphere prevailing in this campus sector and would implore you to find suitable facilities to the rear of the Administration Building. The committee has no objections to the use of the administrative space for nocturnal parking since only students involved in campus courses will be moving in this area and these are usually oblivious of vehicular decrepancies.

Also, the spectre of this vehicle in the front of this building might be regarded by visiting legislators and laymen sensitive to political machinations as a devious and insidious maneuver to upgrade faculty salaries; whereas, if parked in the rear of the building, it might possibly be mistaken as the property of a school principal working on his master's program.

Let us hurry to add that we beg and implore you to use this area for your Buick since it more nearly epitomizes the classic salubrity intended for the front campus.

Attention, Poets—

Dear Editor:

The American College Poetry Society is pleased to announce that its fourth semester anthology of outstanding college poetry is now being compiled for publication early next year. We would appreciate it if you would alert interested students on your campus to this opportunity to have their work published.

Contributions must be the original work of the student (who shall retain literary rights to the material), submitted to the undersigned, care of the Society, with the entrant's name, address, and school on each page. Poems, which may deal with any subject, may not exceed 48 lines, nor may any individual submit more than five poems.

Entries which are not accepted for publication will be returned if accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope, but they cannot be otherwise acknowledged, nor can the Society compensate students for poetry which is published.

All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, December 9, 1960, to be considered; and the decisions of the Society judges are final.

We are very grateful for your kind cooperation in this project. Without the assistance of the college newspapers and magazines of the United States and Canada, the first three anthologies could not have succeeded as they did.

Yours truly,
Alan C. Fox, Executive Secretary
American College Poetry Society

Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up.

—(1 Corinthians 13:4)

The real meaning of charity is a deep and true love of one's fellow men; this includes an abiding understanding of and sympathy for their faults and failings as we realize our own—and it means humility, and gratitude to God for the power and privilege of helping someone in spiritual, mental or physical need.

Scott Leads Student Christian Union; Officers Make Plans For 1960-61

By Joyce Sherrill

Big plans are underway for activities of the year by the members of the Student Christian Union. The officers, in their respective duties, have been working hard to make the SCU an important part of the student's life.

Alvin Scott, president, and Jerry Roper, vice-president, have gained valuable experience this summer as "tent makers" in Wisconsin. With this experience they are planning to direct SCU's activities with new and appealing ideas.

Jerry, through his summer work, is now better qualified to direct the noon-day devotions, which are held in the Student Union Building.

Shirley Wallace from Fayetteville will be responsible for the business of the SCU. She has made contact with the speaker for Religious Emphasis Week and says that everything is working out quite well.

Program chairman, Quinnie Harper, has been preparing this past summer for the programs this year. Variety will certainly be included in future programs, such as a magician, chalk-talk, and several interesting personalities.

Joyce Sherrill as publicity chairman will be working with Quinnie to publicize the programs and to let the students know what is available to them through the SCU. Later plans will also be made by Joyce for some social affairs for SCU members.

Linda Davis and Nolan Barham, both music majors, will be co-operating together in the music portion of the programs. Music is to be designed so that it will be agreeable to all.

To present inter-denominational programs which will be inspiring as well as enjoyable is the purpose of the SCU. All church groups on campus are invited to take an active part in SCU.

There is a council which is made up of representatives from the various religious groups so that all denominations may voice their ideas and opinions.

The officers cordially invite all students of all denominations to come and attend the meetings. SCU's first meeting will be Wednesday, October 5, at 6 p.m. in the auditorium.

All SCU meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month at the same time and place.

Veterans Club Receives Plaque For Services

By Sue Lane

Recently the Veteran's Club, an organization of former members of the military services, received a plaque from the Veterans Administration for voluntary service.

Among other things which earned them this plaque were their weekly visits to the V. A. Hospital. These men are also active in promoting and enjoying the social activities of the campus.

At the first meeting of this year, the members elected Charles Harrell commander. He is aided by Bill Todd, vice-commander; Harry McBride, treasurer, and Joe Halton, secretary.

MTSC meets one of its toughest OVC tests Friday, October 7.

At three o'clock Friday afternoon the freshman will stage a parade downtown. ALL STUDENTS are urgently requested to participate in the parade.

The game at 7:30 has been arranged for our Education Conference visitors.

Buchanan Players Present Plays For Club Members

By Marguerite Batey

The Buchanan Players, MTSC's drama club, held its first meeting of the year September 20 in the auditorium.

Mrs. Clay Tucker, sponsor of the group, welcomed all new and old members and then introduced the officers, who are: president, Dave Gammons; vice-president, Bonnie Hudgens; secretary, Agnes Carlson; treasurer, Virginia Woodall.

"A Pair of Lunatics," a British comedy in one act, was given for the evening's entertainment. Its stars were Agnes Carlson and Dickie Barnes who played the respective roles of a young English lady and an American newsman, each thinking that the other was mentally insane.

Afterwards, a social was held with everybody partaking of lime punch and cookies.

At the second Buchanan Players meeting on September 27, Ann Petty was presented in a humorous skit concerning a girl trying to appear experienced and sophisticated upon her first visit to a nightclub.

Burton Barrett, president of the national dramatic fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, explained to the new members the purpose of Alpha Psi and qualifications for membership. The other officers of the fraternity were introduced, these being Joyce Edens, stage manager, and Carolyn Duke Benson, business manager.

New members were then shown around backstage through the properties room, make-up room, dressing room, and to the offstage rooms where the lighting controls are located.

Preparations are now underway for the fall three-act comedy, "Lo and Behold!" by John Patrick, which will be presented November 2-3.

I believe that there is one story in the world and only one. Human beings are caught—in their lives, in their hungers and ambitions, in their avarice and cruelty, and in their kindness and generosity, too—in a net of good and evil. A man, after he has brushed off the dust and chips of his life, will have left only the hard, clean question: Was it good or was it evil? Have I done well, or ill?

Camporee Enjoyed By Church Group

Members of the MTSC Church of Christ group enjoyed the annual fall camp at Hy-Lake during the past weekend. The Vanderbilt-Peabody group, as is the custom, joined the campers for the Friday-Sunday camporee.

The MTSC team beat the V-P group in softball, lost in ping pong, and proved to be the best squirrel hunters and fishermen and women.

Both groups presented panels of pertinent topics on Christian living, and a Sunday worship service was held under the trees by the lake. The traditional "stunt night" was enjoyed on Saturday evening, followed by a song fest.

MTSC Graduate, "Rookie Teacher," Is Feature Subject

Many student teachers, following their first day experience in classrooms over Tennessee, read with interest "Ordeal of a Rookie Teacher" in the Sunday Nashville Tennessean.

Patty Wilkinson, a 1960 graduate of Middle Tennessee State College, who was a real rookie at Alex Green School on White's Creek pike just north of Nashville, was the subject of the story.

Staff writer George Baker did a sympathetic job in chronicling the trials of a beginning teacher, whom he described as "an auburn haired, blue eyed 21 with a figure second graders can't appreciate." Howard Cooper made the seven pictures of Patty used to illustrate the story.

Patty comes from a family of teachers, her grandfather and her mother being in the profession. Since the fire at Bordeaux, her second grade class room has increased from 27 to 39 members, each individual of which Patty is rapidly coming to know, to understand and to counsel, according to Mr. Baker's story.

FRIDAY! THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10 1/4 inches lower.

Statistics Prove MTSC Is Center of Area Service

The frequently published statement that Middle Tennessee State College is a center of area service is best illustrated in the cold statistics of a report compiled last week by Robert Abernathy, director of extension at the college.

In the past fourteen years, 537 off-campus classes in 29 Tennessee counties have been conducted by MTSC faculty members, some of whom had to travel two hundred miles round-trip to meet these classes. The majority of the classes meet at night for a two and one half hour period. The average number in such classes has been about 26 persons, for a total attendance of 13,961.

Although no accurate figures can be compiled, it is estimated that these 13,961 persons represent between 3,000 and 4,000 different individuals since a minimum amount of work can be obtained through extension courses.

Forty one different communities have organized such classes, the largest number having been held at Lawrenceburg (46), Jasper (39), Benton (36), Winchester (36), Tracy City (30), Columbia (30), Fayetteville (29) and Pulaski (24). The largest number enrolled in any one center is 14,860 at Lawrenceburg, 1,085 at Jasper, 1,137 at Winchester and 779 at College.

The largest single class was at Waynesboro and the highest class average of 50 in fourteen classes was maintained there. On the opposite periphery of the area of service, Hamilton county, 25 classes have attracted 513 students.

The range of offerings in these extension classes include agriculture (1); art (59), business (2), education (139), health and physical education (58), languages (49), mathematics (24), music (30), science (51), and social science (124).

The majority of those who take extension classes are in-service teachers. These usually come on the college to complete their work in residence for a degree. Others, especially in art, are housewives who study for relaxation or for a hobby.

The location and total number attending such classes are as follows: Benton 36, Carthage 14, Chattanooga 83, Cleveland 103, Colliwood 46, Columbia 779, Dayton 212, Dunlap 471, Evansville 16, Fayetteville 698, Franklin 360, Gainesboro 72, Gallatin 254, Hartselle 26, Hermitage Springs 98, Jasper 1,085, LaFayette 615, Lawrenceburg 1,468, Lebanon 454, Lewisburg 401, Lynchburg 117, Manchester 476, McMinnville 460, Pikeville 267, Pulaski 619, Red Boiling Springs 48, Sale Creek 15, Shelbyville 300, Smithville 3, Spencer 66, Smyrna 207, Soddy Daisy 273, Sparta 100, Spring City 117, Tracy City 773, Tullahoma 133, Waynesboro 699, Whitwell 136, Winchester 1,137, Woodbury 324.

Fisher Lost, Others Hurt

Defensive stalwart Dean Fisher, a 6', 190 pound senior from Sparta, Tennessee, will be lost to the Blue Raiders for the remainder of the season. Fisher, also a top-notch pass receiver for the '59 OVC co-champions, received a knee injury in the hard fought Austin Peay game. After several days of treatment an operation seemed to be the only solution, and was performed. Fisher, a former U-T Vol, will be soundly missed in the Raider line. Veteran Jerry Stapelton will join Alternate Captain Nicky Lynch as the starting ends.

Reserve fullback Carey Thompson, former Castle Heights star, may also be lost for an indefinite time. Thompson has been aggravated by a dislocated vertebrae, and a similar injury could become even more serious.

Wayne Winters, a 224 pound sophomore and the number one unit tackle, has been lost from two to three weeks due to a leg injury. Winters may be able to return to his starting role by the Chattanooga encounter.

Other minor injuries have slowed many in the first three games, and with Eastern Kentucky on slate for Friday night Coach Murphy is hoping his players will all be in top shape.

The Blue Raiders, after taking a 6-0 victory over Austin Peay, have lost two straight, something of a record in recent years. The first was a 19-0 loss to Jacksonville State. The Raiders appeared "up" for the game but faltered in the later stages as the Alabamans moved the ball readily.

The Blue Raiders were slightly improved in the Western Kentucky tussle last Saturday. Although they lost their first OVC encounter and the first to Western since 1954, several bright spots appeared in the lineup. Fullback Larry Puryear seems to have regained his form as he gave the Hilltoppers defensive line a tough time. Halfback Danny Neal, and quarterback Terry Bailey and Jerry Pearson did excellent jobs. Neal raced 5 yards in the third quarter and Bailey carried 8 in the first quarter for the only Raider touchdowns.

Western's Sophomore quarterback Jim Dailey led the Kentuckians from 7-0 and 13-7 deficits to tie the Raiders and then in the waning seconds passed them into scoring position and victory.

Lynch and Captain Joe Windham also played well for the Raiders and could pull them out of their early season "dumps."

Eastern Kentucky moves into Murfreesboro Friday night and will prove to be another tough competitor as the Blue Raiders look for their first OVC win.

Here and There

'59 Captain Bucky Pitts and tackle Ralph Adams are coaching the Fayetteville Tigers this year. The Tigers are steadily improving, their last victory a 27-6 rout of Manchester, and now have a 3-2 record for the season.

Hilltoppers Romp Raiders In 20-13 Tilt

By James Artman

The Western Kentucky Hilltoppers rode far and high on the strong right arm of sophomore quarterback Jim Dailey to a fourth quarter 20-13 victory over Middle Tennessee State at Bowling Green, Kentucky, October 1, in an Ohio Valley Conference game.

Daily, a 6-4 product of New Albany, Indiana, brought the Hilltoppers back from a 13-1 deficit at the start of the fourth quarter and passed and ran them to two touchdowns and the game. The victory was the first for Western over the Blue Raiders since 1954.

For the day Dailey hit on 11 out of 21 pass attempts for 109 yards and 14 first downs. The Raiders, staying primarily on the ground, rolled up 236 yards and 13 first downs. Fullback Larry Puryear did most of the offensive damage for MTSC with his bulllike thrusts up the middle.

Middle Tennessee drew the first blood in the game by jumping off to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. Puryear was the mainstay on the 66-yard drive which took 11 plays for the Raiders to score. Quarterback Terry Bailey scored the touchdown on a keep play from eight yards out. Alternate Captain Nick Lynch added the conversion from placement to make it 7-0.

In the second quarter the Kentuckians came back to tie the score at 7-7. With MTSC showing signs of making a sustained drive, end Lewis Johnson picked off a Jerry Pearson aerial on the Raider 30-yard line and lugged it back for a Western tally. Tackle Bob Waff added his first of two conversions, and the score stood at 7-7 as the half ended.

The Blue Raiders jumped back in front in the third quarter as they moved 75 yards to score the tie-breaking touchdown. This drive was again led by Puryear's rushing attempts. Quarterback Pearson lugged the ball to the seven on a

'The Civil War Round Table' Features Dr. Bob Womack

Dr. Bob Womack, described as the "brilliant and witty" Middle Tennessee State College authority on the battlefields of Stones River, Franklin, Hoover's Gap, Guy's Gap and Forrest's raid on Murfreesboro, is featured in the current edition of The Civil War Round Table, published in Chicago.

Dr. Womack will speak at the nineteenth meeting of the Round Table at the St. Clair Hotel at 6:30 Thursday, October 6. The next day he will be a special lecturer at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Womack has accepted invitations to speak before the University Men's Club of Ohio State University at Cleveland, Ohio, on November 8, and at the Kentucky Medical Association meeting in December in Louisville. All of these addresses will be related to the Civil War in Tennessee in some of its phases.

The special article on Dr. Womack, illustrated with his photograph, states that, "Bob Womack has done years of research on the war in Tennessee and collected much original material. He is finishing a manuscript in which there are at least 40 sets of Confederate papers from which nothing has been published."

It can be truly said that there is not and never was another body of singers which has completed such an extended round of voyages as the Platoff Chorus has done.

The Chorus first came to U.S. on January 3rd, 1939, arriving in Seattle from Honolulu, and during its thirteen-year stay in this country has given more than sixteen hundred concerts.

All members of the Chorus are now American citizens; some of them fought during the Second World War in the ranks of the U.S. Army.

Dr. Womack will describe Tennessee's collection interests in the War Between the States.

Capt. Price and Sgt. Simmons, directors of the Raider Rifle Team, have announced that tryouts are now being held for the final selection of the team. From the 40 tryouts which were present at these sessions, 20 cadets will be selected.

Meetings will be held on Wednesday nights from 6-9 p.m. At the present, three shoulder matches have been scheduled with the University of Chattanooga, Murray State, and TPI, and a paper match with Florida Southern is slated.

Beasley Chosen Secretary At Recent TCEA Meeting

Dr. William Beasley, a member of the MTSC English department faculty, was elected secretary of the Tennessee College English Association at a meeting in Cookeville last week.

Those attending from MTSC were Dr. Beasley, Dr. Emily Calcott, Miss Ann Farris and Miss Virginia Derbyberry.

Stark Addresses Dairy Conference

Dr. Clifford N. Stark, professor of agriculture at MTSC, addressed the joint meeting of the Cornell Dairy Conference and the New York State Dairy Sanitarians convention at the Hotel Syracuse in New York September 21.

"After nine years of complete absence from my former associates the invitation came as a complete, yet pleasant, surprise," Dr. Stark stated.

For more than 20 years he was associated with the department of agriculture faculty at Cornell University and headed the division of dairying there for many years.

Prior to the selection of Dr. Stark to go to Madras, India, four years ago as a part of the American educational group, the New York Sanitarians made him an honorary life member for his outstanding contributions to the field of dairying and bacteriology.

Dr. Stark's address, which will later be published, emphasized the need of men with courage, conviction, dedication and a desire to serve going to the countries of the world who have need of the special skills and knowledge of American agriculturists and work with them.

neat 18-yard keep play. As the next play developed, it looked as if he were going to try the same play again. Everyone in the stadium, including he Western eleven, was completely fooled as Pearson pitched to his halfback Danny Neal after he had already moved into the line. Neal galloped the final five yards to score and the Raiders appeared to have things in control to put the game away.

But, Daily, who had been most unsuccessful on 10 passing attempts up to this movement, began finding the range to lead the Hilltoppers out of the woods.

He engineered a 95-yard drive in 11 plays for the first touchdown of the fourth quarter. The drive featured a 12-yard pass to Johnson and two tosses to Doug Mumford for 38 yards. Fullback Bill Pegausch scored the tying touchdown on a 20-yard burst off tackle. The kick failed and it was 13-13 with 10 minutes and 13 seconds left in the game.

kickoff and held the ball for only one series of downs from that point until the final 32 seconds.

After MTSC had run its series and kicked, Daily began to continue his ponderous aerial assault on the Raider secondary. He pitched to Mumford on the first two plays for seven yards and 10 yards, respectively. A running play by halfback Dave Browning netted a first down on the Blue Raider 49-yard line.

Daily then began hitting his other end, Jim Hughes. He passed for first downs at the MTSC 37 and 25 with Hughes on the receiving end of both tosses. Halfback Lloyd Nash then took over to pick up most of the remaining yardage on the ground.

Daily ran for a first down at the two, when he was unable to spot a receiver on an attempted pass play. He sneaked over for the 6-pointer and the tie-breaking margin. Waff added the point-after to wrap up the scoring for the day.

The Blue Raiders moved the ball for a first down in the remaining 32 seconds and the final score read: Daily and Western 20, MTSC 13.

Western Kentucky 0 7 0 13-20
Middle Tennessee State College 7 0 6 0-13

Conference Hears Leaders In Education

By Nadine King

Recognized leaders in the field of education headline the 17th annual Education Conference to be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 7-8, on the MTSC campus.

Dr. Walter B. Barbe, head of the department of Special Education at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, will address the visiting teachers on the "Enrichment of the Gifted Child."

During the two-day session at which 1800 to 2000 teachers are expected to attend, Dr. Ted Landsman, Professor of Education at the University of Florida, Gainesville, will discuss means of guidance for the grade school age.

Dr. Ralph S. Staiger, director of the Reading Clinic at Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg, will address those interested in language arts.

Also discussing the gifted child will be Dr. Jeff West.

Dr. Gail Farwell, associate professor and director of the NDEA Counseling and Guidance Institute at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, will speak concerning guidance in the public schools.

The annual conference, under the direction of Roy Simpson, associate professor of Mathematics at MTSC, is held in order to give suggestions and aid to teachers on their classroom level.

Dr. E. Raper Uses Bulletin Boards In Graduate Work

Dr. Elmer Raper, assistant professor of education at MTSC, examines a bulletin board in his classroom. The Master of Arts candidates in his class on school administration are Fred Newman, Oolteweh, and Phillip Speer, Murfreesboro.

In explaining the project, Dr. Raper said: "Each month current materials come to my desk from various sources among which are the Tennessee School Board Bulletin, The Intercom, and The School Administrator. These materials along with others are surveyed and made available to students through the bulletin board technique."

The overall functions of the bulletin boards are to make current resource materials available to students at all times, to make it possible for students and teacher to introduce new ideas and facts to the entire class, and to enable students and teacher to share their learning experience.

"I have found that attractive and useful bulletin boards greatly stimulate an interest in current materials pertinent to their field of emphasis as well as broadening their outlook toward education as it relates to life in general," Raper stated.

This particular bulletin board shows three of the publications posted. These are changed from time to time and the several bulletins and publications culled to class members for study.
