

'Antigone' Opens Tonight

THE POWERFUL King Creon (Jim Crabtree) meditates the decision which will determine the fate of his rebellious young niece, Antigone. The Greek drama opens tonight at 8:00.

ANTIGONE, the tragedy by Jean Anouilh, opens tonight at 8 as the final major production by the Theatre Department for the year. The classic story, adapted from the original Greek drama by Sophocles, portrays the tragic elements of human character trying to find a right answer.

The youthful Antigone must choose between life and death, and the dominant Creon must decide edict or murder. Staged on Clayton Hawes' spectacular Greek setting, the tragedy lives again for the MTSU campus tonight Friday and Saturday in the University Theatre.

Directed by Dorethe Tucker, the play features Jim Crabtree as Creon and Rebecca Salisbury as Antigone. Crabtree will be remembered as "The President" in "The Madwoman of Chaillot", and as director/actor of the workshop production of "Waiting for Godot". Miss Salisbury appeared as Constance in "Madwoman" and as the pert Francis Black in "Light Up The Sky". Both are seniors.

The play debuts at 8:00. Tickets are still available in the D.A. South Lobby.

THE FANTASTIC FAIRLANES will be featured at the 1967 Senior Prom.

Juniors Sponsor Dance for Seniors

On May 12, the Junior Class will honor the 1967 graduating class of MTSU with a semi-formal dance which has been termed "a dance long to be remembered". This year's theme is "Stardust from Venice" and the theme seems to be well merited by the entertainment provided. The dance, which will be held from 8:00 until 12:00, will feature four bands—Charades, the Fairlanes, the Exotics, and the Journeymen. Each band will provide one hour's music.

During intermission, class sweethearts will be introduced to those attending the dance. The representatives are: Ginger Brooks, sophomore; Barbara Gentry, junior; Gail Weaver, senior.

The girls will be escorted by their class presidents: David Van Martin, sophomore; Jim Free, junior; and Rodney Hayes, senior.

At the opening of the affair, this year's Senior Class officers and ASB officials will be presented and will lead off "A Dance of Memories". Class officers will be followed by the newly elected ASB leaders. The members of the Senior Class who were chosen for WHO'S WHO will also be recognized.

As this is the "last dance" for the 1967 graduating class of MTSU, it is hoped that all juniors and seniors will attend and enjoy what promises to be a memorable evening for the seniors.

Chilling Plant In Operation

The first unit of the Central Chilling Plant, of MTSU, was put into operation May 1, according to Charles Pigg, assistant director of plant planning.

This unit is a 600 Ton Centrifugal Machine which will cool the Hi-Rise Dormitory initially, and the Science Building and University Center as they are completed. Chill water is piped from Central Chilling Plant to buildings being served by underground 18" steel piping.

An additional 1000 ton unit will be added under contract with the General Classroom and Office Building to be let for bid on June 1, 1967.

The unit just put into operation was designed by Kurzynske and Associates of Nashville. The building Architect was Burkhalter-Hickerson and Associates of Nashville. The Mechanical contractor on the Plant was Vaughn Electrical and Plumbing of Murfreesboro. L. L. Poe Construction Company of Tullahoma was general contractor on the plant building.

The building was initially constructed to accommodate three chilling units totaling 2600 tons. Additional units will be added as needed.

The Sophomore Class is sponsoring a picnic this afternoon at 4:30. It will be held on the picnic grounds. The price is 75c for all you can eat. Everyone is invited and entertainment will be provided.

Conference.

Mr. Ciardi is married and has two children. He is writing a regular column in "The Saturday Review" called "Manner of Speaking," and has appeared on CBS television in a weekly program, "Accent."

What Is a Poem? Just Ask John Ciardi

John Ciardi, Poetry Editor of the "Saturday Review" and author, will discuss "What is a Poem" at Middle Tennessee State University on May 11.

The program will be held in the Theater Auditorium at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Public Programs Committee and the MTSU English Department.

John Ciardi was born in Boston, Massachusetts. He attended Bates College, Tufts College from which he received his A.B. degree and the University of Michigan where he took his A.M. He has taught English at English University of Kansas City, Harvard University, and Rutgers University. He is Poetry Editor of "The Saturday Review" and Director of the Broad Loaf Writers ASB Awards Night is Monday May 15, 6:30-7:30 in the Tennessee Room at the SUB. The purpose of this is to allow clubs to present awards to the outstanding members. Also, the Superlative presentations will be made at that time.

There will be an All-Campus assembly for the purpose of electing cheerleaders on May 16 at 10:50 in the DA Auditorium. All girls interested in trying out should come by the ASB office before Thursday to get details.

MTSU To Honor Three Professors

For the first time awards will be made to outstanding teachers at MTSU. The Scholarship, Loan, and Development Foundation has provided for three one-thousand dollar awards to be made at the annual alumni meeting May 20, 1967.

A selection committee from the Faculty Senate was appointed by President Cope to recommend the selection procedure which consists of two phases: (1) nominations for the awards; and (2) selection of the award winners. Nominations were made by alumni, faculty, and students. Teachers who were nominated by all three groups were considered finalists. The students and department heads of the finalists were asked to file check list concerning the strengths and weaknesses of classroom performance of each teacher. A selection committee composed of representatives of the Foundation, Alumni Association, Associated Student Body, the Faculty Senate, and the Academic Deans supervised the rating process which was done by the University's Computer Center.

The twelve finalists are: Mr. Philip Dalton, industrial arts; Miss Beulah Davis, HPER; Dr. Edwin Howard, English; Dr. Robert Martin, Economics; Dr. Gerald Parchment, Biology; Dr. Homer Pittard, Education; Dr. Bealer Smotherman, Education; Dr. Harold Spraker, Mathematics; Dr. R. L. Strickland, History; Miss Christine Vaughn, English; Dr. Exum Watts, Chemistry; and Dr. William Windham, History.

Dr. Cope states that "We expect to continue in this manner, each year, to recognize and applaud publicly, and so encourage resourceful and creative teaching."

The three who receive awards this will not be eligible for consideration in 1968.

The Multitudes Is (?) Coming

Ten MTSU senior art students will present a showing of their work in the areas of paintings, sculpture, drawing, water color, print, and ceramic in a combined exhibit from May 14 through May 27. The showing, to be held in Saunders Fine Arts Building and the Dramatic Arts Auditorium, will be entitled "The Multitudes". It is the largest exhibit ever to be held at MTSU.

Those students exhibiting their work at the showing are: Tom Foster, Judy Burgess, Wanda Tosh, Marilyn Garlock, Tom Pennington, Michael Taylor, James Hewitt, Judith Martin, Jay Strawn, and Diane Hodge.

A formal opening of the exhibition will be held at 4:00 p.m. on May 14.

CANDID CAMPUS

This week's Candid Campus question was one of great interest, especially to the college set. The question was, "How do you feel about liquor by the drink?"

"As far as I am concerned it's fine for people who drink, and it shouldn't bother those who don't drink. I would vote for it."

PAUL BROOME: "A person should have the freedom to drink if he wishes and no one should take that freedom away from him. You should be able to drink what you want, when you want and where you want. It would be better to sell liquor by the drink, because that way, you wouldn't drink as much."

JO ANN MATHIS: "I just hope that the liquor by the drink law doesn't pass. I think alcoholism is bad enough as it is. I feel it would be worse should the law be passed."

SAMMY BANKS: "I think everyone has a right to make his own decision so it should be put before the people for a vote. Personally, I think it should be passed."

BILLIE LEE: "Oh, I'm for it! It seems hypocritical to say that we can't have liquor by the drink in restaurants and other establishments when we can buy it by the bottle and take it home."

SKIP MAGEE: "I think the law should be passed if we want to keep up with the other states. Why should we be the last to have it. Besides, it will be a good source of revenue, and it will take the tax pressure off some of the other things such as gasoline."

Looking Back

Winter has long turned to spring, midterms have led to finals, and this semester and school year are almost over. The long procession of tests, projects, research papers, club meetings, parties, etc. is about to come to an end. Now that we can look back upon this past year as a whole, what do we see? Do we see a long line of accomplishments as a result of hard work? Have we fulfilled our purpose in coming to college? Or did we have a purpose in the first place?

We get out of anything what we put into it. It is so easy to complain about campus activities or school policies when in reality we put forth no effort to improve them. It is easier to speak of unreasonable teachers and assignments than to accept our classes as a challenge and work to meet them as such. It's less trouble to let our life in college fall into a pattern by itself rather than to plan and decide for ourselves what we want to gain from our life on campus.

As we look back at this past year, we can realize the mistakes we made. However, it does no good to cry over a low average, lost participation in activities, or a bad social life. The important thing is that we realize what we did wrong and keep this awareness in order to avoid its repetition. As we look back, every person sees something he would change or do differently. We should all attempt to use our realization to make next year, whether we come back to college or not, more meaningful to our lives.

Dr. Clark Responds To Miss Everett

To the Editor:

I would like to answer the letter of Miss Everett as published in "The Sidelines" of May 3 pertaining to cheating.

First I would like to congratulate Miss Everett on her positive actions to call this problem into the open once again. Everyone connected with education and testing is aware of this problem, but there is a definite tendency to forget the problem. After a few years a teacher begins thinking that he has done all that he can. This is usually not true.

Second, I would like to assure Miss Everett that many members of the faculty are actively engaged each semester in combating this problem. It would be foolish to state that no one can cheat in my classes, for they may be able to. What I can state with confidence is that all who cheat must do so without hope of "mercy" or "understanding" on my part if I obtain positive evidence of this cheating. A student who cheats, even in small ways, is living on the brink of disgrace and expulsion from class as far as I am concerned, and I have no patience with "reasons" for cheating.

Perhaps if I list the steps I take to minimize cheating in my classes it may serve as an illustration of the devices that the faculty has available and can bring to bear on the problem.

(1.) I closely monitor my tests myself. I don't grade papers during tests; nor do I leave the room; nor do I let students or secretaries proctor my exams, if it can be avoided, I walk about the room and watch the class during the entire test.

(2.) I keep duplicate grade books, one at home, one in my office. It does a student no good at all to break into my office, a deplorable event—but one which occurs frequently.

(3.) I never have given, in my entire teaching career, the same test twice, except for departmental and standardized tests about which I have no choice. I type and duplicate tests usually the day prior to the exam; and take all papers and stencils home with me.

(4.) I do not weigh heavily in my grading system any homework or laboratory papers which could conceivably have been copied from someone else. I orally quiz students on the content of term papers or lab reports frequently so as to reassure myself of their original authorship.

If there are other steps I can take I will be happy to implement them. My desire is that all my students shall be graded as fairly and honestly as possible. I certainly do not intend to boast, but only to reassure Miss Everett that some of us are on her side.

Rose To Lead Newman Club

At its weekly meeting on May 3, the MTSU Newman Club elected its new officers who will serve during the coming school year. The new president will be Nick Rose; vice-president-Dave Dilick; corresponding secretary-Kitty Lakowski; recording secretary-Juanita Dilick; treasurer-Patty Brown; sergeant-at-arms-Bill Westlake; ASB representative-Kay Zaunbrecher.

Also discussed tonight at 6:30 at this meeting were plans for the annual banquet which will be held at the Officers Club at Sewart Air Force Base.

Fraternities Defended

For quite a while people at Middle Tennessee State have been trying to raise their school from its mediocrity and make for themselves a name, commensurate to a real university.

To do this the status quo must be changed. It is here they meet their first resistance, and here they will remain if it were not for several students who seek to make their school better no matter what the odds.

The fraternity is the first real attempt made by students here to establish a real university atmosphere. Still, there are those who would try to censure even this, or at least modify it.

In last week's SIDELINES an opinion was voiced. The opinion was unfavorably critical of a traditional fraternity activity: "Hell Week."

An outsider (one who has no interest in fraternities) naturally cannot see the justification in a tug-of-war over a farm pond; and as a point of contradiction, this does develop a spirit of brotherhood. What one experienced during "Hell Week" with one's pledge brothers strengthened his respect and created brotherhood simply because they experienced it together.

Some of the activities during "Hell Week" do seem ridiculous and unjustifiable to outsiders and, in most cases, even to the pledges themselves. There are, however, two ways to look at the situation:

One can say, "These actions are against this fraternity's constitution so they can't make me do it," or he can say, "This is a part of the fraternity's tradition," and go through "Hell Week" with that in mind.

A remedy was offered in last week's SIDELINES. The opinion suggested "Instead of actions . . . which tend to cast disgrace on the . . . school as a whole, why not the undertaking of worthy service projects and programs for the betterment of MTSU . . ." Is a campus clean-up not a worthy service project? Does sponsoring a campaign to get out the vote for ASB elections cast disgrace on the school as a whole?

You see, if one is going to criticize "Hell Week", why not criticize the other seven weeks involved in pledge?

There is a great amount of tradition that comes with being in a fraternity; there is an even greater amount involved with "Hell Week."

For an outsider nothing could justify "Hell Week"; for a fraternity man, whether on this campus or on the campus of a liberal university, no jurisdiction is necessary.

To quote a very good friend, "Let he who itches, scratch."

How To Use A Phone

The SIDELINES has been asked by a very nice but frustrated lady who works on the University switchboard to pass on these bits of information that will be helpful to both you and the switchboard staff.

1. Listen for the dial tone before dialing any number.
2. Campus calls: make sure you have the right number and dial it correctly.
3. Off campus calls: dial single digit "9"; listen for second dial tone — then dial number desired. Dial 411 for local information.
4. To call the MTSU Operator dial "0".
5. To place a long distance call, use only pay stations. Long distance calls through the switchboard have been discontinued.
6. To transfer an incoming call: incoming calls received via the MTSU Operator may be transferred by depressing the receiver hook ONE TIME. This will flash the MTSU Operator. When the operator answers, tell her the station to which the call is to be transferred.
7. NEVER FOR ANY REASON ON EARTH LEAVE THE RECEIVER OFF THE HOOK!!!!

"To The Uninformed"

The five fraternities on Middle Tennessee State's campus are definitely fighting for recognition. They seek recognition among themselves and among national fraternities of which each hopes to become a part someday. They are motivated by pride, and this is only natural because everyone likes to be the best in what he represents.

The "Hell Week" spoken of in the last issue of the SIDELINES is only a small part of fraternity life. Anyone who belongs to one of the fraternities or has any knowledge of fraternities at all knows this. "Hell Week" is the traditional culmination of pledge training, and has not physically or mentally harmed any pledge on campus. Of course the requirements placed upon a pledge often seem harsh to outsiders, but I have yet to see a bald, deathly scared, tractor dragged pledge anywhere.

It is the pledge training as a whole that makes the fraternity man. One must remember that an individual who pledges a fraternity does it voluntarily. Over the short weeks he is a pledge, he is required to perform insignificant menial tasks for the membership, complete civic and charity projects, and most important of all to see if he can carry the torch of brotherhood to his pledge class and future fraternity brothers. If pledge training is as bad as it is made out to be by many uninformed individuals, fraternity life would dissolve for lack of new members.

Fraternities perform services on campus and in the community which show that they are willing to work and work hard. They give Christmas parties for needy children, collect money for such worthy causes as the Heart Fund and Cerebral Palsy Drive, wash city police cars, sell Halloween candy to benefit retarded children and accomplish many other worthwhile projects with which I could fill the page.

Fraternities not only work for others, but they also work for themselves. Members spend many hours in remodeling the houses which a few of the fraternities have so recently acquired. Dedicated members labor together in all of their undertakings and do the best job possible. This fact is proved well in the school leadership. Nearly all of the class and student body officers are brothers in one or more of the fraternities.

Lastly, I would like to point out that the fraternities at Middle Tennessee State University have never brought the veil of disgrace down upon their school. It seems to me that they have done their best to give MTSU a great fraternal reputation. With these intentions, the fraternities can never fall by the wayside, but only prosper and become larger in the future.

WHY?

Isn't PATIENCE GOODE coming to the Senior-Alumni Banquet on May 20? Well, first thing, she doesn't quite have the graduating quality points. Last semester she came up with an incomplete in basket-weaving and a low C in rabbit raising. Second thing, the hat she's wearing in the picture is last year's and the ostrich plumes are molting. Third thing, she already has a full-time job as a bouncer in a Nashville pub. So just count her out.

Now — with you, it's different. Many of the seniors have already made plans to attend. Why don't you? The food and entertainment will be excellent and things will not run too long.

Best part of all of this is THAT IT IS FREE. Pick up your TICKET in the Dean of Faculty's office. Deadline is FRIDAY, MAY 19. But why not do it earlier? Oh yes, we forgot to mention that three of your University teachers will be honored that night, MAY 20. Don't miss it.

Joe College Weekend, which is held annually at Duke University, will include a Broadway musical, a couple of rock groups, the world's greatest female folksinger, and other highlighting events. After giving these activities, their prices, and sponsors, the article concluded with "Joe College Weekend will be capped by a Chapel Service Sunday morning at 11 a.m., sponsored by God. Admission is free."

The most recent craze to hit the college campuses is that of banana peel smoking, according to issues of the BERKELEY BARB and VILLAGE VOICE. The recipe is simple — just scrape the white fiber from the inside of the peel, dry in a warm oven, and roll into a cigarette, or eventsmoke it in a pipe.

Pole pillow fighting seems to be quite an art, as was witnessed at the annual playday sponsored by the Baylor Chamber of Commerce reports the Baylor LARIAT. Two contestants straddle sawhorses, padded, of course, and are instructed to let their pillows fly until one contestant is knocked off. But there were no champions until that evening when, after three hours of men battling it out, two girls became the champs. The only "severe" casualty was an embarrassed face on the wearer of a pair of badly ripped pants.

HOW TO GET A'S IN ALL YOUR FINAL EXAMS

In today's column, the last of the school year, I don't intend to be funny. (I have achieved this objective many times throughout the year, but this time it's on purpose.) The hour is wrong for levity. Final exams are looming.

Have you got a chance? I say yes! I say America did not become the world's foremost producer of stove bolts and cotter pins by running away from a fight!

You will pass your finals! How? By studying. How? By learning mnemonics.

Mnemonics, the science of memory aids, was, as we all know, invented by the great Greek philosopher Mnemon in 526 B.C. (This, incidentally, was only one of the inventions of this fertile Athenian. He also invented the house cat, the opposing thumb, and, most important, the staircase. Before the staircase people were forced willy-nilly to live out their lives on the ground floor, and many grew cross as bears. Especially Demosthenes who was elected Consul of Athens six times but never served because he was unable to get up to the office of the Commissioner of Oaths on the third floor to be sworn in. But after Mnemon's staircase, Demosthenes got to the third floor easy as pie — to Athens' sorrow, as it turned out. Demosthenes, his temper shortened by years of confinement to the ground floor, soon embroiled his countrymen in a series of senseless wars with the Medes, the Persians, and the Los Angeles Rams. This later became known as the Missouri Compromise.)

But I digress. We were discussing mnemonics, which are nothing more than aids to memory — little jingles to help you remember names, dates, and places. For example:

*Columbus sailed the ocean blue
In fourteen hundred ninety two.*

See how simple? Make up your own jingles. What, for instance, came after Columbus's discovery of America? The Boston Tea Party, of course. Try this:

*Samuel Adams flung the tea
Into the briny Zuyder Zee.*

(NOTE: The Zuyder Zee was located in Boston Harbor until 1801 when Salmon P. Chase traded it to Holland for Alaska and two line backers.)

But I digress. Let's get back to mnemonics. Like this:

*In nineteen hundred sixty seven

I mention Personna because the makers of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades are the sponsors of this column. If I may get a little misty in this, the final column of the school year, may I say it's been a pleasure working for Personna? May I say further that it's been an even greater pleasure working for you, the undergrads of America? You've been a most satisfactory audience, and I'm going to miss you this summer. In fact, I'd ask you all to come visit me except there is no access to my room. The makers of Personna, after I missed several deadlines, walled me in. I have no doors or windows — only a mail slot. I slip the columns out; they slip in Personnas and such food as can go through a mail slot. (For the past six months I've been living on after dinner mints.)

I am only having my little joke. The makers of Personna have not walled me in, for they are good and true and gleaming and constant — as good and true and gleaming and constant as the blades they make — and I wish to state publicly that I will always hold them in the highest esteem, no matter how my suit for back wages comes out.

And so, to close the year, I give you one last mnemonic:
*Study hard and pass with honors,
And always shave with good Personners!*

* * * © 1967, Max Shulman

Political Preview

Fun and games time again. Week before last, we discussed the possibility of certain of our animal friends holding political offices. This week, let us think of some more realistic possibilities.

I think Stokely Carmichael would make an excellent ambassador to the U.S.S.R. I can just see him telling the Kremlin leaders what's happening. He could also teach the African and Chinese students still there how to riot. Instead of "burn, baby, burn", the woud would be "turn, Lenin, turn".

Ronald Reagan would be an excellent good representative to the United Nations. He could team with Goldwater, new secretary of state, and revitalize our foreign policy on more realistic lines. We could get rid of unemployment. With all that fighting, who would have time to loaf? They would let the world know just where the U.S. stood — 50 years ago!

I think Robert Kennedy is the best choice possible for ambassador to England. His father was the ambassador there before so it would be in keeping with the Kennedy tradition of following in the footsteps of the older Kennedy's. Also with that long hair, he should feel at home in the land of the Beatles and the Rolling Stones.

George Wallace could be sent to South Africa where he and the leaders there could talk over white supremacy policies. I don't know what Lurleen will do during that time, but that really isn't important anyway.

The new ambassador to West Germany could be George Lincoln Rockwell. He would have a ball discussing political theory with some of the old Nazi leaders still around. Argentina would be the second choice for George, since they have a goodly share of the Nazi leaders still in hiding.

India would welcome Martin Luther King and he could study the success of Mahatma Gandhi and find out just where his movement went wrong.

William Fulbright could be sent to Peking, to talk over a peace program with dear old (very old) Mao Tse Tung. At the same time Robert Morse could run down to Hanoi and speak with Ho Chi Minh.

We should bring Eisenhower out of retirement and send him to France. Charles DeGaulle and Dwight would have a ball discussing old military and political victories. They could get older together.

I think J. Edgar Hoover should be moved up to president. We should award this brave crime and communism fighter with the highest position where he could fight crime and communism all the more.

Well, children, my brain is feverish from all these exciting invocations. I shall retire for now to rest for my next excursion into fantasy. It would be beautiful, wouldn't it?

Pledges Hold Softball Game

On April 23, the pledges of Alpha Gamma Phi and Kappa Tau Delta met for a game of softball. Coach and pledge Linda Dodd led Alpha Gamma Phi to a decisive victory of 24-2. This was a real comeback for the Alpha Gamma Phi pledged who had lost a game 34-15 the previous Sunday when they battled Phi Theta Psi.

Frances Preston Receives Award

Mrs. Frances Preston, McMinnville, Tennessee, is the 1967 recipient of the Joe Dearman Memorial Award which is presented by the MTSU Accounting Society for outstanding achievement in accounting, according to Mr. Charles O. Rolen, chairman of the Accounting Department.

Frances is the only woman to ever receive this coveted award.

Mrs. Preston graduates in May with honors. She has an overall average of 3.6 and a 4.0 average in accounting. In addition to serving as vice-president of the Accounting Society, she has membership in Tau Omicron, Phi Sigma Beta, Gamma Beta Phi, and Pi Omega Pi. She is the accountant for Cumberland Amusement Co., Inc. of McMinnville and secretary-treasurer of Lawrenceburg Theaters, Inc. She is member of Magness Memorial Baptist Church and graduated from McMinnville Central High School.

Frances and her husband, Harry, who is also a student at MTSU and manager of the Park Theatre in McMinnville, have three daughters; Deborah, Cynthia, and Gerlinde.

ASB Government Looks To The Future

"We must look to the future and regard the past only to profit from the mistakes," stated Paul Womack as he officially became ASB president Thursday night. He, along with Linda White and Mel Black, speakers of the Senate and House respectively; and the newly-elected senators and representatives were sworn into office by Chief Justice Larry Barker.

In the House, plans for the ASB retreat at Hi-Lake were discussed and House members were told to report to their clubs that paragraphs about each club needed to be submitted to Mel Black as soon as possible. These paragraphs will be used in composing the new freshman hand book.

In the Senate, the following appointments were approved: Tricia Duncan, Chairman of the Social Committee; George Jackson, Secretary of the treasury; John Lowe, Public Relations Director; Ellen Martin, Secretary of Correspondence; Pat O'Neal, Special Assistant to the President; Wayne Sawyer, Secretary of Communication; Tom Sparks, Attorney General; Roger Traugh, Secretary of Student Affairs; Mac McDonald, Junior Justice; Ronnie Owen, Sophomore Justice. Several appointees were not present and will therefore be considered at the next meeting.

Congratulations are in store for the new officials. The job that lies ahead is a large one.

Lieut. Corinne Carlton Overdift WAC, was pictured in the May 6 Saturday Evening Post in a full page advertisement designed to portray the advantages of the Women's Army Corp for College graduates. On Sunday evening May 14 she will be spotlighted on the Ed Sullivan Show and will appear in a Life Magazine advertisement later this month.

Miss Carlton is a 1966 graduate of Middle Tennessee State University where she was active in many clubs. She joined the WAC in the summer of 1966 and was commissioned a second lieutenant. In April of this year she was married to James William Overcliff, Long Island, New York. Mr. Overcliff is assigned to recruiting duty in New York. She was chosen as the model for the current WAC advertising campaign from among several girls who were selected from among recently commissioned WAC officers.

BILL BONER and SONIA MASSEY are all set to see ANTIGONE—in style!

Clothes Cues

by Regina Jones

The Theater Department will present ANTIGONE on May 10, 12, and 13. In front of the Dramatic Arts Auditorium, all ready for this last play of the year, are Sonia Massey and Bill Boner.

Sonia, a freshman home economics student from Nashville, is dressed for almost any occasion that requires something more than the casual skirt and shirt. Her dress, from the Cotton Patch in Jackson Heights Plaza, is a snow-white linen skimmer. The neckline and sleeveless armholes are bound in pink and trimmed with a border of dainty pink and white flowers. These same flowers are shaped into small circles which decorate the front of the dress.

Pictured with Sonia, Bill is sharply dressed, as usual. Having had a very busy year as ASB president, Bill will enjoy an evening of entertainment. Congratulations to Bill for an excellent job as our executive officer and for being among the top twenty of the graduating class.

Spring Concert Is Monday Night

The Middle Tennessee State University Community Orchestra will be presented in its annual Spring Concert, Monday night, May 15. The performance is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the University Theatre Auditorium. The orchestra is conducted by T. Earl Hinton.

An unusually interesting program, designed to be both entertaining and educational, has been rehearsed. Laurence Harvin, Concertmaster of the orchestra will be featured in the "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso" by Saint-Saens. Mr. Harvin is completing his first year as resident violinist and instructor of string instruments at the University. This will be a first performance of this work in Murfreesboro. Of particular significance is the "Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra" by the living English composer Benjamin Britten. This work is perhaps one of the best known compositions in orchestral literature for the teaching of the sounds of instruments. The title is deceiving in that its appeal is certainly not exclusive to "young people."

The University-Community Orchestra serves an integral role in the University Music department. Through the orchestra, students are composed to the great literature for this medium, are provided opportunity to rehearse and perform at a high level of proficiency (each must be a soloist), are given opportunity to play in an organization along side their instructors, and are instructed in the various elements of how to transform a musical score into meaning for performer and listener.

As in past performances, a few string players from the Nashville Symphony will assist in this performance. Students, faculty and the public are invited to attend this concert.

The Fall and Spring programs of the orchestra are sponsored by the Public Programs Committee of the University, Lane Boutwell, chairman.

Win Murray Invitational

Golfers Roll On

Middle Tennessee's unbeaten golf team added still another trophy to their collection as they drove, chipped, and putted their way to a 15-stroke win in the Murray Invitational last weekend. MTSU had a 54-hole total of 890.

Western Illinois finished second with 905.

Craig Stoudner of MTSU, the leader at the end of the second round of play on Friday, was nosed out on the final day by Jim Schonoff of Southern Illinois. Stoudner had 219, two more than the winner.

Jeff Riley, the first round leader, finished fourth with 221. Ernie Adcock, the TIAC champ, was sixth with 223. Art Kraft completed the MTSU scoring with 227, good for tenth place.

The Raiders faced Murray and Austin Peay in a triangular match yesterday at Fort Campbell, the site of the OVC meet next weekend.

On Friday, they travel to Cookeville to battle Tech. MTSU already holds a 14-4 win over the Eagles, and the home course is not expected to help Tech that much.

Team scores:
MTSU 890, Western Illinois 905, Southern Illinois 908, Murray State 916, Eastern Kentucky 921, Illinois State 928, Louisville 934, University of Missouri 947, Southwest Missouri 963.

Tennis Team Trounces Tech

Middle Tennessee's powerful tennis team romped over Tennessee Tech in a duel match held on Monday, 9-0. Sophomore were the Raiders, that Tech wasn't able to win a single set.

The win, the Raider's eleventh of the season, was one of the easiest of the year. Coach Buck Bouldin's squad will wind up their season on Saturday by hosting Austin Peay.

The results:
SINGLES — John Prevost (M) beat Steve Lynn, 6-3, 6-4; Tom Magnier (M) beat Jim Misner, 6-3, 6-2; Neil Wright (M) beat Chris Fleming, 6-0, 6-1; Mike Albano (M) beat Chuck Roberts, 6-0, 6-3; Jim Seymour (M) beat Charles Kundelman 6-0, 6-2; and Chick Fuller (M) beat Randy Smith, 6-0, 7-5.

DOUBLES—Prevost-Wright (M) beat Lynn-Misner, 7-5, 6-1; Magnier-Albano (M) beat Roberts-Fleming, 6-3, 6-1; Seymour-Steve Wakefield (M) beat Kundelman-Thurman, 6-3, 6-2.

CHUCK IS OUT. Chuck Machado, MTSU first baseman, is out at third as he attempted to advance from second base on a wild Tech throw into center field. Machado wielded a big bat for the Raiders in the twinbill with Tech, getting four hits in five trips to the plate.

Raider, Eagle Nines Split Two

For the second time this season, Middle Tennessee and Tennessee Tech split a baseball doubleheader. MTSU won the first game, 2-0, and Tech came out on top in the second contest, 3-2, in a twinbill played on Monday.

In the opener, MTSU's Greg Cunningham pitched his second consecutive shutout, giving up only three hits to the Eagles. He had a no-hitter going for five innings, but was in a bit of trouble from time to time because of wildness. He walked six.

Butch McGrath toiled for the Raiders in the nightcap, and he deserved a better fate. Tech touched him for three unearned runs in the first inning, and although he shut out the Eagles the rest of the way, MTSU could only tally twice off of Ron Dickerson.

Dickerson and McGrath staged a real battle after the first inning. Dickerson gave up only four hits, and McGrath gave up only three, only one of them coming after the initial frame.

Dickerson struck out a dozen Raiders, and ten Eagles were strike-out victims of McGrath.

Chuck Machado was the big man with the stick for MTSU, collecting four hits in five trips to the plate in the twinbill. Chuck blasted a towering homerun over the right-fielder's head that the Eagle's were still chasing as Chuck rounded third base.

The Raiders made a threat to overhaul Tech's lead in the sixth inning when Dickerson walked the first three men. The smooth left-hander then struck out Danny Sandlin, Machado, and pinch-hitter Jackie Carver to kill the threat, although one run did score on a passed ball.

MTSU got a man on second base with one out in the seventh, but he could get no farther.

The split made MTSU's record 15-11. Tech is 19-9

Governors End Raider Hopes

Austin Peay dealt the MTSU baseball team's championship hopes a mortal blow last Wednesday by downing the Raiders, 6-4, in the second game of their OVC doubleheader at Clarksville. The Raider nine had won the first game, 2-0, to remain in a position to tie Murray for the title. The loss insured them of second place.

Greg Cunningham started MTSU off in the right direction by hurling a three-hitter in the opener. Middle Tennessee banged out eight hits against Joey Watts, and the two runs they scored in the second inning was all Cunningham needed.

Butch McGrath didn't have his usual good stuff in the nightcap, and the Governors jumped on him for six runs in the first two innings before Gary Chrisman came in to close the door.

Middle Tennessee scored two runs in the second, and two more in the fifth, but could come no closer.

Since the scheduled doubleheader with Murray was rained out on Saturday, the Raiders have concluded their OVC Western Division slate, finishing with a 6-4 record behind Murray's 9-1.

Vets Mets Win First

by Jim Freeman

The talent-laden Veterans, the terror of League V, rolled over the Red and Grays, 1-0, in a key softball game played on the intramural diamond last week.

The one-sided win gave the Mets a 1-2 record in league play, and marked the first time they have come within seven runs of beating anybody.

The win was slightly tinted, however, as it came in the form of a forfeit. The Red and Grays failed to show up, no doubt having heard that Tom (Maury) Watts, the Mets prime candidate for league MVP, was to be playing shortstop and leading off.

Delirious with joy, Vet manager Nick (Rotund) Rose now believes his team has the impetus to win all of their remaining games.

The great win follows closely on the heels of the Vets tremendous showing in the recent intramural track meet when they entered every event and ended up scoring five points when Kent Hobbs tied for third place in the high jump. As of press time, no one was speaking to Hobbs.

As far as the running events are concerned, the Vets best time was in the mile relay, when they finished only two minutes behind the winners.

One slight injury was sustained, however, which detracted from the glorious effort. Ken Kraft, the Vets answer to Randy Matson, failed to clear the launch area with the shot, and dropped it on his toe.

MTSU Dumps Govs, 6-3, in Tennis Match

Middle Tennessee's talented tennis team downed Austin Peay's net squad in a match at Clarksville last Tuesday. The score was 6-3.

The three points registered by the Governors marked the first time they have scored on MTSU since the Raiders posted a 7-2 win in 1963. Since that match, MTSU had rung up six consecutive 9-0 victories.

Captain John Prevost, Neil Wright, Jim Seymour, and Steve Wakefield posted singles victories, and the teams of Prevost-Mike Hamman and Seymour-Wakefield won in doubles play.

Austin Peay will come to Murfreesboro for a return match on Saturday. This will be the final match of the year for the Raiders.

The win over the Govs pushed the netters record to 10-4, in addition to the romp in the TIAC tournament.

Raider Bats Bury Vandy

Middle Tennessee bombed Vanderbilt pitching for 14 runs in the first four innings, then coasted to a 14-9 win over the Commodores in a game played last Thursday.

The Raiders pounded out a dozen hits off of starter Jack Knox and reliever Paul Wells before George Harvey came on in the fifth inning to close the door.

MTSU starter Paul Smith, though not as sharp as he has been, went the distance to record his fifth win against only two losses. Smith gave up 13 hits, struck out 12, and walked four.

Don Tarter, Bruce Skeen, Chuck Machado, and Smith led the offense for the Raiders. Tarter had three hits, scored three runs, drove in two more, and stole a base. Skeen hit a triple and a home run, and drove in two runs, also. Machado was two for three, and batted in a run, and Smith was two for five, and drove in three big runs.

Vanderbilt aided MTSU considerably, giving up five walks, hitting three batters, and committing six errors.

The win was the 14th of the year for the Raiders, who have dropped ten. It lowered Vandy's record to 3-18.

Vandy will host MTSU in a return engagement in Nashville on Friday. Coach Earle will have his entire staff rested and ready to go, so he will be able to call on any pitcher he chooses.

MTSU Tracksters Sink Commodores, 92-53

Middle Tennessee State's track team evened their season record at 2-2 with an easy 92-53 romp over the Vanderbilt Commodores in a dual meet at Nashville last Wednesday afternoon.

Captain Charlie Dahlgren, Jerry Singleton, and Mike Stevens paced the win for the Raiders. Dahlgren set his second school record in a row as he ran the two-mile run in the time of 9:32.7, which broke the old record held by Jim Whitehead at 9:34.1.

Singleton was the real work-horse of the meet, winning the 220 and 440 yard dashes, and running a leg on the winning 440 and mile relay teams.

Stevens took MTSU's only first places in the field events as he won the pole vault (13-0) and the high jump (6-4). He also placed third in the triple jump.

Another Raider who had a busy afternoon was Stan Sumrell. Sumrell won the broad jump and finished second in both the triple jump and the 120 high hurdles.

MTSU will be at home tomorrow night against the Tennessee Tech Eagles in a dual meet beginning at 7:00 p.m. Tech defeated Vandy a couple of weeks ago in Nashville by one point, 73-72, so it looks as the Raiders will gain their first home victory of the season at the expense of the trade school.

Track Team Second In TIAC, Host Tech Tomorrow Night

by Jim Freeman

As expected, the University of Tennessee won the TIAC meet in Knoxville last weekend, scoring 103 points. MTSU took second place with relative ease, totaling 52 points.

The Raiders placed in every event except the shot put, and broke four school records in the process.

Jerry Singleton was the 440 in 47.3, which is a TIAC record, a school record, and better than the OVC record. He also placed fourth in the 220.

Charlie Dahlgren ran the mile in 4:12.5 to break the school record by more than four seconds. Dahlgren finished third in the mile, and fourth in the three-mile.

Howard Yates also broke the school record in the 880 as he clipped off the half-mile in 1:53.6. He finished third.

Mike Stevens soared to 14 feet, one-half inch in the pole vault to mark the first time that anyone from MTSU has cleared 14 feet. Stevens was third in the pole vault, but won the broad jump.

Although he didn't set any records, Stan Sumrell won the triple jump and finished third in the high jump and fourth in the broad jump.

In other field events, Ken Riley grabbed third place in the discus with his best throw to date, 140-1. Steve Colquitt took third in the javelin, throwing it 156-10.

In the hurdles, Mike Miller took fourth in the 120-yard highs, and Don Jones and Lonnell Poole finished third and fifth, respectively, in the 440 intermediate hurdles. Poole also was fifth in the 100-yard dash.

The MTSU relay teams did real well. The mile relay quartet clipped off a 3:18.7, their best time of the season and good enough for second place. The 440 relay team was fourth with a time of 42.9, also their best of the season.

The final team standings were: Tennessee 103, MTSU 52, East Tennessee 33, Tennessee A & I

ONE OF THE HIGHLIGHTS of the recent Intramural Track Meet was the high-jumping of George Brown of the Vets Club. Brown failed three times to clear the initial height of 4-6, bending the bar each time. After the meet Brown was quoted as saying, "I got my stomach over, I just couldn't get my belly over."

T Club Is Track Winner

Another successful I. M. Track and Field Meet was conducted Thursday evening, April 27, at Jones Field. The meet was well received by participants as well as spectators. Despite unseasonably chilly weather with temperatures in the low 40's, several respectable times and distances were recorded.

There were eight teams entered plus many students who ran unattached. Over 60 athletes competed in the various events.

Terry Scott, representing the Little Animals, was the meet's high scorer by winning two events and running on a fourth place relay team. Scott accounted for 13 points. Don Newberry and Tom Brightwell, both of the Weightlifters, scored ten points apiece to tie for second place in individual honors.

MTSU-Tech In Cowboy Contest

It's rodeo time again!

MTSU and Tennessee Tech will vie with each other this year at Rock Island in their annual match rodeo. The show will be held at the arena of Paul Hallcomb, who is producing the rodeo again this year. Show times are Friday, May 12 at 7:30 and May 13 at 2:00.

The arena is located seven miles west of Rock Island in the Midway community. Anyone interested in attending is urged to come to the Rodeo Club meeting Thursday night at 7:00 p.m. room 201 in the SUB. Transportation can be arranged if necessary.

It is hoped that a large group will go to Mr. Hallcomb's to root for the MTSU Rodeo Team. They need support just as much as our great football and basketball teams, and maybe more, because they are trying to promote interest in a sport that is relatively unknown in this part of the country.

It takes courage to climb aboard 1300 pounds of horse or bull that you know is going to do its best to throw you.
