Registration Here Makes History

For the first time in history Middle Tennessee State College passed the 2,000 mark in fall quarter registration. Official figures released from the office of Dean N. C. Beasley this week show 2076 students registered as compared with 1932 last fall quarter and 1989 in the winter quarter. Men out number women almost two to one. There are 1347 men, 729 women enrolled.

The freshman class this year has 636 members, 438 men and 198 women. There are 521 sophomores, 365 men, 156 women. Of the 368 juniors 246 are men, 122 women. The senior class this year numbers 421, 232 men and 189 women. Of the 130 graduate students 66 are men, 63 women, reflecting the in-service teacher character of the graduate division enrollment.

The freshman class shows a net gain of 46 over last year, the sophomores reflect exceptionally high "staying power" of the class of 590 last year. There are 521 sophomores registered, a net gain of 66 over the fall quarter last year. There are 14 more juniors, 13 more seniors and five more graduate students enrolled this year than were at MTSC a year ago at this time.

The only decline revealed is that of women students on the upper level and part time students. This year there are only 122 junior class women as compared to 154 last year and 189 senior women as compared to 193 last year. This net decline of 38 is offset in part by a gain of eight freshman class women and 18 sophomores, but still there are only 729 women enrolled in 1956 as compared with 738 a year ago.

There are 407 part time students this year, as compared with 452 last year. The vast majority of these part time students are seniors (154) completing work for a degree and graduate students (115), the majority of whom attend Saturday classes.

There are fewer students enrolled in night classes this year and some of the night classes did not fill the necessary quota of 20 students this year and were dropped from the schedule. This reverses the trend in most colleges where night work is offered.

Faculty Members Attend Education Association Meet

MTSC faculty members and alumni took a large part in the meeting of the Middle Tennessee Educational Association which was held in Nashville on October 19. Students were given a holiday so that teachers could attend.

Addresses were given by Dr. Quill E. Cope, Commissioner of Education of Tennessee and by Dr. Joy Elmer Morgan. A tentative address was scheduled by Governor Frank Clement. Entertainment by Metropolitan tenor Brian Sullivan concluded the second general session on Friday night.

Sectional programs were given in these fields: Administration, agriculture, art, Association for Childhood Education, Association for Student Teaching, attendance teachers, business administration, elementary principals, English, guidance and counseling, health and physical education, home economics, industrial education, Latin, library, mathematics, modern language, music, School Food Service Association, science, secondary school principals, secretarial, social science, special education, sponsors of student councils, sponsors of Junior Red Cross, and supervisors.

MTSC faculty members who were chairmen of sections were: Miss Mary Hall, Association for Child Education; Jesse L. Smith, mathematics; Mrs. J. W. Farris, library.

Faculty members addressing the group were Robert Abernathy, director of field services at MTSC, who spoke to the secretarial section on "How Better Secretaries Make Better Schools."

Dr. Francis Riel addressed the health and physical education section. His talk was entitled "Some of the Problems of Health and Physical Education as Seen by the Teacher."

Alumni participating were Callie Lillie Owen, chairman of the home economics section; Horace Beasley, Jr., chairman of the music section; Mrs. Emma Murphree Wrenn, chairman of the School Food Service Association; Mrs. Frank Gold, chairman of the secretarial section; Mrs. Donald H. Moore, chairman of the supervisors section; John Oliver, who will address the sponsors of student councils section.

A reception was held on October 19 for guest speakers in the Commodore Room of the Andrew Jackson Hotel in Nashville.

Inauguration Is Held for ASB Officers, Cabinet Members; Smith Commends All

Johnny Bass, President of the ASB, called the third scheduled assembly of the year 1956-57 to order at 1:00 o'clock, October 15. This assembly had a two-fold purpose. The first purpose was for the inauguration of the ASB officers. After the meeting was called to order, it was turned over to President Q. M. Smith.

President Smith said that he was always happy and pleased to come to this occasion to meet with our leaders for the year. He went on to say that we had chosen leaders whose records showed him that they have the ability to fulfill their purpose.

President Smith said, "It is excellent that they are willing to assume the responsibilities of their office. It is necessary for any group of people trying to get something done to have good leaders. Fortunately, we have the privilege of choosing our leaders, and we have the privilege of changing our leaders because the authority for any thing comes from the people and whatever difficulties we have the people are the ones who have the secret of the remedy. If the people want something done and are willing to pay the price they have the authority to appoint or elect somebody who will do the work. It is known to the student body that we believe in sharing all of the responsibilities which you are willing and able to tackle. That is why we are here, to advise and counsel you and assist you in fulfilling your positions. Now we come to a point in this program where I want to turn the responsibility for the program over to the students whom you have chosen."

After this, President Smith called first the President of the TSB, then the Vice President of the ASB, and the Chief Justice of the ASB and administered the oath of office to them individually. President Smith congratulated these people and pledged to them the full cooperation of the administration of the college in carrying out the responsibilities of their office.

When President Smith inaugurated Chief Justice G. P. West, he said that there were three branches of the government—the executive, the judicial, and the legislative—and that the judicial was the umpire of the government. After G. P. West's inauguration, the program was turned over to him; and he administered the oath to the associate justices of the Supreme Court. Taking this oath were G. I. Fink, Don Fuqua, Eddie Agee, and Kent Stockton.

Then the oath was administered to the Congress which consists of Jim Bonner, McMinnville; Charles Freeman, Nashville; Sue Richardson, Columbia; Mary Cook, Manchester; Ronald McRady, Winchester; Anita Turner, Murfreesboro; Ben Golden, McMinnville; Don Sharp, Nashville; Peggy Jernigan, Manchester; Bobby Jeron, Springfield; and Kirk Delcour, Oak Ridge.

Next the Attorney General, Bobby Cranford, had the oath administered to him.

Then the oath was administered to Peggy Towery, secretary of the ASB, and Catherine Ray, treasurer of the ASB.

After all the oaths had been administered, G. P. West turned the program back over to Johnny Bass. Johnny said, "These are your leaders for this school year, either elected by you or appointed by the people elected by you. I hope at any time during this year that if you have any ideas, suggestions, or complaints that you will let them be known to any one of this group. Their purpose is to see that the student body of this college is the best student body of any college, and we should not have much trouble about that."

Midlanders Select Peggy Jernigan As Vocalist

Peggy Jernigan was selected to be the vocalist for the Midlanders for this year. Auditions were held on October 10 by Dr. John Colbert who is director of bands.

This will be Peggy's second year to sing with the band. She is a sophomore from Manchester. She plays the alto clarinet with the symphonic band and is a flag twirler with the MTSC marching band.

Eugene Yarchever has been elected by the members of the band to serve as student director. He plays lead alto saxophone. Student director last year was Tommy Tucker.

The dance band was organized during the winter quarter of last year. There are fifteen members including one girl, Emily Elrod, who plays the piano. Rehearsals are held each Wednesday evening at 8:30.

Junior Class Elects Sponsor

A meeting of the Junior Class was called at 10:45 on October 18, 1956. President Charlie Riley presided over the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mary Lynn Wilkes, and approved.

The first business the president brought up was that of electing a class sponsor. The class elected Dr. Riel for their sponsor, pending his acceptance.

The president next called attention to the class party which was planned for October 25. Committees were appointed to help plan the party.

The remainder of the meeting was spent discussing plans for Homecoming. The class decided on a float theme. Randel Chandler and Sue St. John were elected to ride on the Homecoming float. The floor was next open for nominations for attendant for Homecoming. Anita Grayson received this honor in the junior class. Barbara Walker was the only other candidate for attendant.

Harrington and Ray Vie in Homecoming Queen Runoff

Wanda Buntley, Lewisburg, Barbara Harrington, Nashville, Sue Dale Oldham, Jacksonville Beach, Florida and Catherine Ray of Manchester vied for the first "queen" honor at Middle Tennessee State College. Balloting got under way Monday for the choice of a girl to preside over Homecoming Saturday, November 3.

Always a major attraction of the mid-fall quarter, Homecoming at MTSC this year promises to be the major event of the season. Following a morning parade of floats and bands, led by the Homecoming Queen and her attendants, the afternoon will feature a football game with Murray State College which could decide the OVC championship. A dance in the Tennessee room over which the "queen" will preside concludes the festivities.

All four of the nominees are active in various fields, including subject area clubs, sports and their several church groups.

Miss Buntley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Buntley of Lewisburg. She is a member of the Home Economics Club, the Science Club, the Women's Athletic Association, the SIDELINES staff and the Church of Christ group. She has majors in business and education and a minor in home economics.

Miss Harrington is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Harrington of 1809 Martin street, Nashville, and is a graduate of Central high school. She was recently elected secretary of the senior class. Her major is English with a minor in elementary education. She is a member of the chorus, the Alumni Beta Club, a member of the MIDLANDER staff, the Future Teachers and is active in the Westminster Youth Fellowship.

Miss Ray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ray and graduated as Manchester high school. Her major area of activity is music with a second major in business. She held major offices in the junior class, the band, the college chorus and the Varsity Choir. She has served as treasurer of the Student Christian Union and the Cumberland Presbyterian Youth Group. She is also treasurer of the Associated Student Body, president of Monohan Hall dormitory council, president of the Women's Dormitory Council of the college and a member of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary business fraternity and Pi Mu Sigma, national honor society for music majors.

Miss Oldham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Oldham, was graduated from Duncan U. Fletcher high school of Jacksonville Beach, Florida. She represented the college in the "Miss Campus of Tennessee" contest in 1955, sponsored by the State Association of College Student Governments. She is a member of the MIDLANDER staff, the Church of Christ group, active in college dramatics, the Women's Athletic Association and the International Relations Association.

Editorial

On October 15 students of MTSC showed that they had faith in the officers that they had elected in the ASB and also that they had faith in the officers appointed by the people the students elected. The present student administration has done a fine job so far. We expect them to make mistakes, but we also expect them to do a fine job. We elected these people, and we must support them. They expect it and it is expected of us by them. Many people voted in the election of president and vice president last spring, and in casting their ballots gave their support for the one that they thought would do the better job, realizing full well that a majority vote for either candidate would show that most of the students were behind him. Both candidates who ran for president of the ASB last year are now serving in responsible positions in our Associated Student Body. We believe without a doubt that either man is qualified for filling either position that is now held by both of them; but the fact still stands that at the polls last year, we pledged our support to one of these candidates. October 15 must have been like a right-uppercut to not only these boys the school administration. It was the day of inauguration, and practically no one showed up. The program was carried out very well with a sincere and heart-felt message from the President of this college, Q. M. Smith. It doesn't look like the support of the students of this college went very much further than election day last year. Many people were disappointed at the crowd which attended the inauguration service, and we are among them. With childless attitudes, we prefer to spend our time in bed or in the lunch room every time there is an assembly. We imagine the lunch room was overflowing at 1:00, October 15.

The Blue-White Book tells us that we are adults and that we are expected to act like adults. Obviously, we did not take heed to this message in this book. Why can't we have good attendance at our assemblies? The auditorium should be completely packed. How can we expect a lot of our present student administration when they now know not to expect too much from us? There is a solution to this problem and the mention of which would have upperclassmen and undergrads quivering with fear. This solution is simply two words—Required Assembly. We are all for it, but you say, "The auditorium in the Administration Building will not hold our student body, so we cannot have required assembly." But we come back at you with this, "We have a gymnasium which is more than capable of housing our student body for an assembly."

We are one of the few schools in the Nation that do not have required assemblies; and at the rate things are going, we should not be among the few any longer. Let's back our student government!! Attend assemblies!!

Middle Tennessee State College boasts approximately 400 more cars than students. This gives us an approximate total of 2,400 cars on our campus. We have heard many stories, coming from California, about the poor pedestrian. At one time it was funny, but now it seems to be the truth. Our campus should be safe from reckless drivers. These people who drive their cars like maniacs could easily inflict death or a permanent injury upon themselves or a very good friend. We have speed limits on our campus. We should observe them. This college campus is not a "drag strip." There is no excuse for either drivers or pedestrian students to be involved in an accident; but yet, it happens. The people who drive cars to classes should allow themselves enough time to get there without acting like they were in the time trials of the Indianapolis "500". It is the policy of the administration of the school to be very strict on reckless drivers. Let's prevent anyone from having his license revoked here on this campus.

We realize that the parking situation on this campus is a problem. There are too many cars, and not enough places. It has been called to our attention that the officers of this college are closing in on illegal parkers. (By the way, Freshmen, we are referring to localized parking, not how the parking situation is along "lovers' lane".)

"Cheer for the Blue and White . . ." These are the first words of our school son. Maybe many students know these words, but do they know their meaning. As an added

Author Says That Girls Want More Dates On Campus

By Mary Doe

The other day I was talking with a friend of mine, who is of the opposite sex. Our topic of conversation was on the subject of "inexpensive dates."

My friend wanted to know where he could take a girl on a date, and yet not spend too much money (not because he is a tight-wad, but college boys do not have a surplus date fund).

I began to think about this matter, and that night as my girlfriends and I entered the gates of Jones Field for the MTSC-Morehead game, I knew the answer to my friend's problem.

A free football game and a free dance afterwards! This would be the answer to any boy's gripes!

As my friends and I entered the stadium I began to notice all of the boys who were attending the game. I couldn't keep my mind on the game, as exciting as it was, for thinking about this "segregation."

What is wrong with these boys? Here is an opportunity for a boy to date any girl in school. And a free date!

Back in the dorm, I asked some of the girls their opinion on this matter. Going from room to room, here are some of the answers I received:

"The boys complain constantly because we girls have to be in so early during the week, and then on Saturday nights, our latest night out, what do they do? Go out with other boys!"

"I always have believed in integration!"

"What makes these boys so bashful on weekends, and yet, oh, so bold during the week?"

Boys, you had better get on the beam, rise and shine, while you're snoozin' you're losin'.

Seriously, boys, we girls want to know what is wrong? Won't you tell us?

Housemothers Look Forward to Open House

Housemothers look forward eagerly to the time when their dormitory will host the Open House? After all, it is not every day that such enthusiastic virtue is exercised in the female's housekeeping.

The first hint that there will be an Open House comes at eleven o'clock at night as the screech of moving furniture grates through the silent dormitory. Early birds are rearranging their room.

The next morning a long list of names mysteriously appears on the bulletin board—food, table, etc. committees. Now the fun really starts for the Housemother. She lends her sitting room for committee meetings, suggests ideas, offers opinions, and makes endless phone calls. She acts as mediator at housemeeting during rousing arguments over the theme. She warns her girls to dust all door trims to protect against insults from insulting boys.

The night of Open House she shakes four hundred hands and compliments her girls on how hard they worked to make their dorm shine.

Dean Keathley Is Very Busy Person

Dean Belt Keathley of Middle Tennessee State College left Tuesday morning from Berry Field for Memphis where he was flown by the Navy to Pensacola, Florida to join in a three day cruise aboard an aircraft carrier as a part of the Navy public relations program.

Dr. Keathley also represented ROTC college officials inspection last summer.

On October 8, Dr. Keathley spoke to the McMinnville P.T. A. on "Teaching Citizenship in the Schools", and on October 26 he will represent the college at "Career Day" in Dyersburg.

Campus Capers

TO THE STUDENTS OF MTSC

Here is something all of you have been waiting for; a public relations Committee for the bookstore. This group could very easily be called a question and answer panel.

The function of this committee is to answer any question or suggestion that you, the students, may have concerning the bookstore. I'm sure that many of you have some questions and "opinions" about the bookstore. So any time you see Jim Bonner or Ed Baldwin Jr., just stop them where they are and "fire away".

Your representatives for the bookstore

LYING LYONS

Everything was really in full swing as the Lyon Hall girls prepared for open house Tuesday night. Never before had there been so much activity. Dusting! Mopping! Cleaning! Shining!

While those not on committees worked at the above, Frances Smith, Faye Nixon, Myra Ferguson, Katy Brittain, and Lynda Williamson concentrated on the thing of utmost importance—food.

Mildred Doris, Patricia Andrews, Ann Pulliam, Sonya Smith, and Joyce Russell worked diligently toward table arrangement. They, also, served.

Credited with the lovely arrangements of seasonal flowers and autumn leaves were Marge Cooper and Ellen Hogue.

Dean Rhodes and Nancy Willis finished their duties of sending invitations early, but Frances Spencer, Ann Parsons, Barbara Wright, Emily Capley, Nell Smithson, and Joyce Jeter had to wait until after the affairs were ended to perform the duties of a clean-up committee.

Congratulations to Nancy Willis, who was chosen Sophomore Homecoming attendant to the Queen.

Happy Halloween to all you black cats and punkpin heads.
 Frances Smith

RUTLEDGE RUMBLINGS

The gay, fall colors of Indian Summer have kept the hearts of the Rutledge girls light and gay.

Homecoming is almost here and we are going to be ready for the big celebration. We are very proud of our representative in the Homecoming Court, Carmine Alexander.

Guests were the fad this last weekend. Visiting Mary Ruth Osborne were Gail Seay from Lyon Hall, and Sylvia Hendley, from Carson-Newman. Ann Traugher of Springfield was the guest of Jean Blair; Nancy Fox of Springfield was the guest of Marjorie Fyke, and Joan Davenport of McMinnville was the guest of Mary Jane Hillis. Marjie Johnston had a very special guest, her sister, Winnie Johnston. She was honored with a party after the October 13th ballgame. Those attending were Jane Armstrong, Shirley Ward, Bonnie Slatton, Erna Freudenberg, Alice Adams, Keppy Jones, Margie Johnston, and the honoree.

Big excitement, big meeting, big election. At the last house meeting of Rutledge, the officers for 1956-57 were elected. They are president, Skippy Dyer from Old Hickory; vice-president, Patsy Pemberton from Chattanooga; secretary, Betty Ann Barron from Lewisburg; treasurer, Pinky Parker from Crossville.

A decoration committee for Homecoming was appointed and a Sunshine committee was formed. Saw a lot of the Rutledge girls going over to the Ad Building every day about 11:50 a.m. Wonder what's behind the brown door of room 309?

See you in the big Homecoming celebration.

Letters to the Editor . . .

EDITOR ANSWERS

Dear Students:

On October 17, 1956, the editor of your newspaper received a letter which we did not print. We won't print it due to the fact that it was unsigned, and it is our policy not to print unsigned letters to the editor. This letter possessed a question which, in essence, is this: Are students full-fledged citizens? For the uninitiated, this is discussing full-fledged citizenship or voting in the coming presidential election. It points out that students of this college are not eligible to vote here unless they have an established residence here. This question has been debated for years. Students who try to register to vote in this town, who list their residence elsewhere, are told that they must have an authorized statement saying that they intend to make Murfreesboro their permanent home. This works a voting hardship on many of our students. We are encouraged to vote in presidential elections and yet, in this case are not allowed to. We must be considered like the servicemen who are required to vote by absentee ballot even though for most of us Murfreesboro is our home for four school years. We hope that it is understood that no student expects to stay in college permanently and that a sure 99 per cent of college students who are eligible to vote will not make their college town their home.

When this problem first came up several years ago, the Attorney General in Nashville was contacted by the town's people of Murfreesboro. His statement was in essence this . . . This problem should be left up to the authorized people of this town. The ruling has been made, and there appears to be little that we can do about it.

Just because we do not have the right to vote in the polls here does not mean that we are semi-citizens at all.

As citizens we have the right to vote without a doubt, but in this case, we must use our constitutional right to vote by absentee ballot as the case calls for.

We appreciate the letter that we received on this question and are sorry that our policy does not allow us to publish it. We hope that we have helped some people in this debate. This is your paper and always open for your letters.

Your editor,

note to the people who go home every weekend, MTSC blasted its way to the top in the OVC contest Saturday night in a game with Morehead. We are proud of our football team. We are proud of the boys who play on it. The reason we are proud of them is that they really are giving this school a good name. A name kept before the public eye. How discouraging it is for us to note that the Central High School here in Murfreesboro out yells us in a ratio we had rather not put on paper. Let it be understood that when we speak of yelling at football games and attending them, we are not necessarily speaking of the essence of school spirit. School spirit consists of much more than this, but we must agree that this is an important factor. An enthusiastic group of people are pictured on page one yelling with all they have got. What a sad contrast there is between this group and the majority of the student body. We have a Homecoming coming up very soon, and for this game and all other activities of this day, the students of this college should turn out in vast numbers. It is very discouraging to the "flying Blue Raiders" for someone to tell them that they are behind them 100 per cent and then for the football players not to be able to witness their support at a game. Students who care about this school have in the past tried to beg you into showing enthusiasm at these ball games. They have tried to make you do this. They have tried to shame you into it. It doesn't appear to us as if any one has yet succeeded. The solution for this problem must come from you, the Students of MTSC.

BSU Has Made Fine Beginning

The Baptist Student Union has made an impressive beginning on its activities this year. Mary Lou Givan is the newly elected president of the BSU. At the last meeting the program was centered around a film entitled "The Spirit of the BSU." Christian sportsmanship will be the theme of the next meeting, and members of the physical faculty are going to assist in this program.

One of the most important events of the BSU at MTSC will be the State BSU Convention, which will be held November 9-11 on the MTSC campus. Some of the speakers at this convention will be Dr. George Schweitzer, Professor of Chemistry at UT; Dr. Robert Denny of the Baptist World Alliance Office; and Dr. Fred Kendall, Executive Secretary of the Tennessee Convention.

The BAPTIST CARRIER with Janet Lewis as editor is the organ of the BSU here at MTSC. This newspaper includes campus news, news about alumni, and the Baptist calendar. Its purpose is to keep Baptist students and alumni informed on Baptist activities.

Lyon Hall Hosts Open House

Lyon Hall was at its peak Tuesday night as it played host to an open house.

The receiving line, composed of Mrs. John Patterson, housemother, and dorm officers, Mary Jo Collier, Janet Lewis, Ann Holloway, and Frances Jackson, greeted some few hundred guests between the hours of seven and eight.

The emphasized theme was "Autumn." Each room was individualized by the person's own taste, and identification cards, varying from leaves to pumpkins, ornamented the doors.

The lobby was decorated with arrangements of seasonal flowers and autumn leaves.

The serving table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a large punch bowl. The yellow candles at the table ends helped to put one in the mood for cider and gingerbread. The floating ice block of oak leaves and acorns added color to the table as did the leaves around the serving dishes.

After the open house there was dancing in the Tennessee Room.

Night Classes Are Taught By Seven Faculty Members

Seven Middle Tennessee State College faculty members are teaching night classes for the fall quarter. These classes have to have 20 students enrolled before they are permitted to be taught. Several of the students that are enrolled in these night classes are from Sewart Air Force Base.

The teachers and the courses they offer are: Rubens, Introduction to Painting; Garland, Typewriting; Reece, Accounting Principles; Sloan, Business Law; Smotherman, Problems of Public School Photography; Howard, Composition; and Sims, Recent American history.

Freshman Class Holds Meeting

On October 9, 1956, at 6 o'clock a Freshman meeting was held in the auditorium of the Administration Building.

President Dirk Arnold called the meeting to order.

Carmine Alexander from McMinnville was selected to represent the Freshman class as Homecoming attendant.

The class chose as their class sponsor, Mr. Richard McCord.

The President named secretary Bonnie Slatton to head a supply committee to help with the freshman float. Others on the committee are Bobby Taylor, Lillard Brown, Billy Philpot, and David Smotherman.

Wayne Tipps was appointed to head the float committee. It was decided that the committee would wait and meet the following Tuesday.

Cross Country: kicking off the program for 1956 in fine style were the 36 boys who participated in the annual cross-country race on October 10. This is by far the largest number to enter the race and is made an exciting race to watch.

Covering a mile and a half, the course was soon lined with the many different colors of the team jerseys. After the record breaking time of 6 minutes 32 seconds, the race was in the record books, Milner Carden being the winner closely pressed by James Frost, both track stars for the Raider squad. Finishing third was Bob Reid, a transfer from the University of Florida.

Football: moving into the third week of touch football, the race is tightening up between the Yellow, White, Blue, Orange, Red, and Green, the other two trailing from lack of boys to play.

Currently leading the standings is the Yellow team with a record of three wins and one loss. Close behind are the White and Orange with identical records of two wins and one loss.

Archery: One of the most popular events of the year is the Archery tournament. This year's tournament will begin on November 5. Sign up now in the gymnasium. This year's tournament should be a wide open contest since the defending champion is no longer in school. James "Gut" Sullivan, last year's champ is now a Naval cadet at Pensacola, Florida.

Team Captains: At this point of the program it seems the team captains are doing one of the top efforts in recent years. They are all anxious for their team to come out on top and are working very hard to achieve this. There is one catch: they cannot do the job without the individual student's help. The word was passed that some of the freshmen stated, when asked to join a team, that they didn't have time for "that stuff" they studied in the afternoon. We're not trying to occupy your study time, just attempting to furnish you a little recreation. Get out and take part in the football and other activities and meet someone besides your roommate.

Before closing we would like to express our gratitude to John Massey for picking up the marker flags on the cross country race. John finished in the fine time of 1 week, 2 days 13 hrs. 1 min., and 10 sec.

Five From TMD Inspect ROTC For Two Days

Five men, representing the Tennessee Military District, were on the Middle Tennessee State College campus Tuesday and Wednesday for the annual TMD inspection of the ROTC cadets.

Col. John W. Hammond led the visiting team. Other members are Lt. Col. Raymond D. Prince, s-4 TMD; Lt. Col. James B. Thompson, senior Army advisor for ROTC, representing the S-3 section TMD; Major William C. Bickley, Sr., assistant S-3 TMD, senior Army advisor ROTC and Major Paul M. McNish, USAR personnel manager.

The visitors inspected the cadets during the Tuesday parade and visited class rooms and inspected facilities Wednesday. At noon Wednesday they were luncheon guests of President Q. M. Smith and conferred with him Wednesday afternoon relative to their inspection.

Homecoming Game Here Is To Be A Top Ohio Valley Conference Game

What may be considered the top Ohio Valley Conference game of the 1956 season will be played on Jones Field November 3 at MTSC's homecoming celebration. The Raiders will play host to the rugged Murray State Thoroughbreds at 2:00 p.m.

It will be a big game for both squads, the winner being guaranteed of at least a tie for the conference championship. The Raiders and Thoroughbreds three wins each in conference competition without a defeat.

Murray is fresh from a 34-7 beating of defending OVC champion Tennessee Tech last Saturday night and will meet once beaten Arkansas State while MTSC engages the Vanderbilt Commodores.

This will be the 27th meeting of the two rivals. Murray holds the edge with 15 wins as compared to the Raiders' eight. Three games have ended in ties.

Special Notice Seniors

Senior class pictures will be made between October 15, and November 15, at the Ed Delbridge studios. Gowns will be furnished at the studio. Boys should wear a white shirt, a dark tie will be furnished. Four poses will be made of each student for the price of $6.50 which is to be paid at time of sitting. All sittings will be made by appointment only. Phone: TW 3-8922.

Due to the Christmas holidays and the Christmas rush it is imperative to have pictures made before November 15.

Senior Activity Forms should be filled out at the publication office prior to November 15, 1956.

Raiders Come from Behind in Morehead Scrap to Take Third OVC Win for Season

Middle Tennessee had to come from behind for the second straight week to defeat a good Morehead State eleven by a 20-12 count. It was the third Ohio Valley Conference win for the Raiders.

Morehead jumped to a 6-0 lead in the first quarter when Middle Tennessee's Tillman Harris fumbled on a punt return. Tommy Scott, 203 pound center for Morehead grabbed the bobble in mid-air and raced 25 yards for the score. Tom Sims PAT attempt was blocked.

Jerry Kemp knotted the score 3:15 seconds later, carrying over from the three. This was the climax of a 59 yard drive by the Raiders. Roy Hall added the extra point to give MTSC a 7-6 lead to end the first quarter.

A Raider fumble on their own 23 yard line set up the Eagles other touchdown, with Buddy Fields racing 20 yards two plays later for the tally. Sims tried a PAT pass that was no good, but the fired-up Eagles took a 12-7 lead.

Middle Tennessee did not waste any time in regaining the lead. In nine plays, the Big Blue drove 79 yards with Terry Sweeney bulling over from the seven. The big play of the series was a 35 yard aerial from Sidney Corban to end Jerry Hurst.

The third Raider score came after Tillman Harris recovered an Eagle fumble deep in Morehead territory. Middle Tennessee had marched 73 yards in 16 plays only to give up the ball on downs on the Morehead seven yard stripe. Two plays later, halfback Bobby Kincer fumbled and Harris smothered the pigskin on the Eagle five yard line. With 50 seconds remaining in the third period, Harris raced four yards around the right end for the score. Neither team had a serious threat in the final period. Morehead's nearest penetration was to the Raider 31 yard line. MTSC drove to the Eagle 29 but was set back 15 yards on a penalty.

Terry Sweeney was the top offensive star for Middle Tennessee. The 205 pound fullback ground out 108 yards in 15 attempts, averaging 7.2 per carry. Tillman Harris had 11 yards in 14 tries for the Raiders.

Curtis Cassell and Buddy Fields were the offensive threats for Morehead with 58 and 49 yards respectively.

Baby Blue Raiders Make Good Show By Rolling Over Castle Heights 39-0

Coach Kenneth Shipp's Baby Raiders buried the Castle Heights Military Academy Tigers under a 39-0 avalanche of pitch-outs and intercepted passes Friday afternoon in Lebanon. It was the second outing for the non-varsity performers. In a previous game they dropped a 13-7 decision to Tennessee Wesleyan College.

The Reserve Blue gave great promise for the future in the Heights melee as they rolled to 16 first downs to Heights six; gained 301 yards rushing to Tiger's 78, intercepted four passes and completed one lone pass for 23 yards and a touchdown.

The collegians scored early and rapidly with halfbacks David Patterson and William Hall rolling off a long yardage and collecting three of the touchdowns between them.

MTSC scored twice in the first five minutes of play on runs of nine and 15 yards. A 24-yard pass from Roy Purvis to William Gibb added another. Center Jim Crawford intercepted a Heights aerial and pulled it back to within scoring distance. Halfback Dave Pitts intercepted another pass to go 29 yards for a final touchdown. Purvis had scored the fifth touchdown on a four-yard run.

Most spectacular play of the day came on John Conn's run back of a Tiger kick. He caught the ball on MTSC's 15, ran it through several traps to the Hights 40, where, hemmed in, he lateralled to Gene Spriggs, who went to the Hights'

Collection To Be Shown Oct. 22-Nov. 2 on Campus

A collection of Japanese wood-block prints and brush paintings will be exhibited Monday, October 22, 1956 through Friday, November 2, 1956, in the Lecture Room of the Drawing Building on the Middle Tennessee State College campus. This exhibition is sponsored by the Art Division of the College and the Beaux-Arts Club. This is the first of a series in its recently begun exhibition schedule. Plans for future exhibitions include examples of student art work from area colleges, work done by art faculty members of Southeastern Colleges, and art productions of outstanding Southern Artists.

The current exhibition is on loan from T. T. Kitagawa, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn., and represents a selected cross-section of the work of Japanese artists of all periods in Japanese history. These excellent prints are all for sale at reasonable prices and are suitable for framing. They would make extremely handsome wall hangings in any residence.

constitution and discussed projects for the club year.

Mr. Le Deoux will be the assistant sponsor of the club.

Any students interested in promoting art on the campus through the Beaux Arts Club, see Robert Mingle or Mr. Rubens.

PE Club Holds Square Dance

"Chicken in the bread pan picking up dough, swing your partner, do-si-do." This may sound like a foreign language to some of you, but those who enjoyed the square dance on the tennis court last Monday night will know exactly what it is all about.

About eighty-five students and members of the faculty enjoyed the square dance folk games sponsored by the Physical Education Club.

Miss Beulah Davis and Dr. Francis Reil led the dancing and games.

The P. E. Club is planning more of these dances this year and everyone is welcome to attend.

Scuttlebutt

By Franklin C. Gardner, Vice-Commander Vets Club

Once again we join you in a Bull Session. I hope all of you enjoyed the last article because there will be many more to come.

This week we are going to travel into the service record of one of the new students in the college. Believe it or not, she is a Veteran living at Monohan Hall. Don't be too shocked because this Veteran is a girl.

Madge Smith

Many of you will recognize this charming lass. She was born in Clinton, Kentucky and migrated between Nashville and Clinton until she was 15. She went to school in both of these cities. She then moved to Missouri and attended the University of Missouri Training School.

Madge honored Tennessee by returning to Nashville to enter the service, enlisting on July 26, 1951. She went to Fort Lee, Virginia for 8 weeks basic training. She was then assigned as a member of Leadership School while at Fort Lee. She remained there until August '53 when she was transferred to a new duty station.

While at Fort Knox, Madge served at the reception center. During her tour of duty at Fort Knox, she was sent TDY to Fort Benjamin Harrison at Indianapolis, Indiana where she attended 9 weeks TAG school.

In case you are like me and wonder what TAG stands for, it is the Adjutant General School. A school for administration. Madge left Fort Knox in December and went Overseas. Her first duty station there was Hanau, Germany. She was attached to the Signal Corps. To be more specific, she was attached to the Signal Supply Community Agency.

I might remind you that there are only 2 such agencies in the world—the one being in the Far West and the other in the Far East area. After 5 months in Germany, I am told the agency was moved to a zone near Orleans, France, more specifically, Maison Fort, and to the great surprise of Madge it was an hour and fifteen minutes from Gay Paree!

At Fort Maison she was technical librarian. While stationed there she took her leave and liberty in sightseeing, going to such fine places as Spain, Italy, Holland, Austria, Gay Paree and the Sun Fans of Nice, just to mention a few. Madge tells me she had many interesting and enlightening experiences during her overseas tour of duty.

Madge was sent back to the States and received her discharge June 23, 1955.

From Fort Hamilton, New York she then went to Emporia, Kansas and attended Kansas State Teachers college for a year. Madge then transferred to "Dear old MTSC and is majoring in Social Science. Some of Madge's hobbies are swimming, fencing, and horseback riding intermingled with a lot of reading. With this we leave Madge temporarily. I am sure all of you will want to get to know and talk to this interesting person.

Now to get to some of the local happenings on the campus.

I understand that Major McNary and his ROTC boys were faced with a rough TMD inspection. While talking to Major McNary, he told me he would be more than happy to help any veteran get straightened out his service record or any other problems pertaining to school. I might add that any veteran desiring to take ROTC, please see Major McNary.

In my last article I told you I would find out some information about that new insurance policy. Well, Buddy, I did. It is the most humble, jumble conglomeration of distorted facts ever to be issued for a service circular. Anybody desiring information on this new insurance regulation, please contact Major McNary and ask to see circular No. 608-17.

I understand that there are over 150 veterans enrolled at MTSC for the first time.

Last Tuesday the Vets club had a meeting which proved very successful. 43 or the 53 Vets attended the meeting. I was absent. I understand that they elected Bert Vanover Adjutant to take place of the previously elected adjutant Jimmy Roberts who dropped out of school.

Mr. Parchment was selected to be our faculty advisor. Good luck, Mr. Parchment.

A float committee was appointed with Earl Burch (Sonkey to most of you) as head of the six-man committee. The club discussed events and projects for the year. Two of the projects discussed were to put signs on front of every building on the campus and also a contribution to the glasses fund. We certainly would like to see good attendance on the part of you veterans.

If any one has any gossip, problems, or bits of news I would appreciate it if you would put a note in box 184 and any answers or opinions will be through this article. Anyone desiring to work on the vets float will contact Sonkey.

Somebody said I was a model sailor. I looked up the definition of model and found it to mean a small imitation of the real thing, and with that thought I sign off until the next issue. Don't forget to send any Skuttlebutt to me, Frank Gardner, Box 184. So long until next vets meeting November 6.

"Poor Showing . . . So Far"

That about summarizes the expression used by READER'S DIGEST in voicing their disappointment at the small number of entries they have had in their $41,000 contest to date.

To refresh your memory, a 1,000 line ad was authorized in our paper. It called attention to the READER'S DIGEST contest, whereby $41,000 in prizes were going to be distributed. It was a simple contest and required that students read the October issue, selecting from it six articles they liked best in that issue. The coupon which appeared in the lower left hand corner of the ad was to be filled in, giving the numbers of the articles which corresponded to the ones they liked. A total of six such articles was to be selected. First prize was $5,000 in cash; an additional $5,000 for the scholarship fund and so on down the line. Prizes totaled $41,000.

Here, then, was a perfectly simple contest which required very little to be done and which offered very substantial prizes to the winners.

We would have imagined that every student on our campus would want to enter this contest. Still, that is not so. As of today, one out of every 300 students has entered the contest. Naturally, we are surprised at its limited interest in such a very fine contest.

Sticklers!

HERE'S A STICKLER!
WHAT IS A JAIL AT LIGHT-UP TIME?
(SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

IF YOU HAVE recently become a smoker (duffer puffer), ask any old-hand Lucky smoker (prudent student) why he settled on Luckies. Bet anything he says they taste better. You see, Luckies' fine, light, naturally good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, when it's light-up time, light up a Lucky. You'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked. Okay—what is a jail at light-up time? Answer: Smoky Pokey. Isn't that criminal?

DON'T JUST STAND THERE . . .
STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

The 1957 Maid of Cotton Contest

Each year in December or early January at a contest in Memphis, Tennessee, a fortunate young lady from one of the cotton-producing states is named Maid of Cotton. As good will and fashion ambassador of the American cotton industry, she makes a 40,000-mile international tour. This is part of a program sponsored by the National Cotton Council, the Cotton Exchanges of Memphis, New Orleans, and New York, and the Memphis Cotton Carnival Association.

This is by no means a beauty contest in the ordinary sense of the word. The Maid of Cotton, as representative of the 13 million people in the American cotton industry, has a tremendously important job to do, and is chosen on the basis of poise and personality as well as appearance.

If you are between the ages of 19 and 25 (inclusive), at least 5 feet five inches tall, unmarried, and were born in a cotton-growing state, YOU may be the girl King Cotton is seeking to carry his message throughout the United States, Europe, and Canada in 1957.

The first step is to mail an entry form and photographs before midnight of December 1 to the National Cotton Council, Box 9905, Memphis, Tennessee. About December 15, a judging board will select twenty finalists from among contestants throughout the Cotton Belt. If you are chosen a finalist, you will be notified by wire and asked to come to Memphis for personal judging on December 27 and 28. AND, should you be named 1957 Maid of Cotton, you will have ahead of you the most exciting six months of your life.

Banquet Given For AAUW Delegates

The State Division of A.A.U.W. meeting at the Student Union Building at MTSC was formally opened at the 4 o'clock session Friday afternoon with a panel discussion of the International Federation Convention in Paris. This discussion was led by Dr. Nora Chaffin, Dean, Vanderbilt U.

The highlight of the evening was the banquet at 7 o'clock at which 100 persons were present. Miss Marie White, vice-president of the Middle Tennessee division, presided. Dean Belt Keathley led the invocation and President Q. M. Smith gave the address of welcome.

The local committee in charge was Mrs. Norman Parks, Mrs. Clifford Stark and Mrs. Robert Corlew.

Lane Boutwell Speaks At Knoxville Meeting

Lane Boutwell, director of speech arts activities at Middle Tennessee State College, addressed the East Tennessee Education Association Speech Division in Knoxville October 26 on "Speech Education; Exhibition or Communication."

Mr. Boutwell will emphasize the need of good speech responses by all the students, rather than a limited few designed to make competitive teams.

Bill Lewis, an MTSC graduate who is now speech teacher at Oak Ridge, is president of the East Tennessee speech arts division of the ETEA.

Three Middle Tennessee State College teachers were chairmen of sectional groups, which met in the afternoon sectional meeting of the Middle Tennessee Education Association in Nashville Friday, October 19.

Track & Sabre Club Makes Plans For Military Ball

The Track and Sabre Club was established shortly after the ROTC came to MTSC in 1950 to foster good relations between the cadets of the ROTC unit and the remainder of the student body.

The club attempts through the force of its many members to engender an appreciation of the military by the townspeople of Murfreesboro and all connected with the college.

The members of the Track and Sabre Club participate in college activities by providing a float in the Homecoming festivities; providing color guards for special college ceremonies, such as football games; sponsoring the annual military ball and quarterly dances or socials; furthering school spirit, and other such activities.

The name of the club dates from the time that this unit produced only candidates for commission in Armor, the present day counterpart of the old calvary. The Track represents Armor and the Sabre represents the old calvary.

The club is presided over by Cadet Bobby Cranford, assisted by other cadets representing each of the college classes. All members of the cadet corp are eligible for membership and generally at least fifty per cent participate. It is hoped that this percentage will be increased this school year, enabling the club to broaden the field of work and publicize MTSC to local area citizens.

The club held its first meeting of year in the Tennessee Room at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, October 17. Refreshments were served, a movie shown, and business of club briefly discussed.

Plans are now under way for one of the major social events of the year, the annual Military Ball. It is hoped that the club through increase in membership, support by all its members, and hard work will be able to bring to the MTSC (Continued on Page 8)

J. Paul Sheedy* Wasn't Very Sharp Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"WHY do the girls act so stuck up?" moaned Sheedy. "It's quilling me the way they give me the brush-off." "It's your hair, J. Paul," said one of the lads. "It sticks out all over. Confidentially, it stings. You need Wildroot Cream-Oil." So Sheedy picked up a bottle. Now he has all kinds of confidence, because his hair looks healthy and handsome, the way Nature intended. Neat but not greasy. Try Wildroot Cream-Oil in bottles or handy tubes. It contains Lanolin, Nature's finest hair and scalp conditioner. Soon all the dates you need be yours for the asking.

Tips on How to Dance Are Given by Unbiased Author

By Alton Ellis

Recently, a mentally disturbed freshman approached your author with the Question of the Hour: "How does an upper-classman maneuver upon the surface of a dance floor?"

Not knowing how to divulge the requested information in terms of elementary enough for such a lowly creature, I decided to conduct a research into this matter of the cause and conduct of the collegiate dance.

Recruiting part of Cecil B. DeMille's last cast of thousands, I stationed my men at various spots at even more various dances held here in the past few weeks and the compilation of their report is amazing.

The game, as the dance seems to be, is usually played with two sides participating, each representing a particular sex.

The men, called Stags, station themselves in a line, or some resemblance of a line, parallel to one side of an enclosure termed the "Ballroom," why it is called such, I don't know, or may be termed the dance floor.

The ladies, called various things such as Honey, Baby, or Wallflower, align themselves along the other three walls seated in appropriately placed chairs.

The object is for a Stag to try to sneak unnoticed from his position in the Stag line and to intercept a Honey, Baby, or Wallflower's glassy-eyed gaze without any other H., B., or W. discovering this subversive attack. If Sir Stag succeeds in luring an H., B., or W. to dance with him, he gets either ten points or a homerun depending on the particular version he is playing.

Music is at all times being played naturally at loud then quiet in the background. Sir Stag may choose, instead of infiltrating the seated enemy, a more direct and frontal approach.

Here is the root of the problem of why there is such a prevalence of eye strain here at MTSC as an obstacle, nearly all, save three fifteen watt bulbs, are turned out on the dance floor.

The Stag now attempts to determine whether the objects moving before him are other Stags, Honeys, Babys, and Wallflowers or elephants and mice of various colors. This can lead to mixups. Sir Stag is now to try to walk through hundreds of weaving couples to the one he spotted fifty years away without touching anyone. If he arrives safely at his primary destination, he is awarded a Mad Merit Badge for Reckless day walking.

He now verbally and physically threatens one member of the object couple and under ordinary circumstances, the male half departs into the unknown. The Stag then clutches the H., B., or W. in a wrestling hold so as to identify the moving object before him.

As I said, the darkness can lead to mixups due to the lack of visibility. Yes, it was a surprise to Will Berley when he danced fifteen minutes with Glen Bolden before properly identifying her, er-ah him. He finally got his ring back and still blames all on Elvis Pelvis.

Taking up the dance proper, there are several steps used. The most popular seems to be a Rock and Roll little thing that starts like a hermit trying to find that flea in his long flannels. With feet close together, each partner firmly grips one of the other's appendages, usually the hand. Then the left foot moves at a forty-five degree angle and the body shifts its weight as the right foot goes in the opposite direction followed by a swift crossover of the left as the torso makes like a Goony bird coming in for a landing.

As each landing seems headed toward a smash-up, their welded hand grips back as a rocket thrust on an F-86, and they rocket toward each other saved by the bell as both feet are again firmly planted ankle deep in the hardwood.

This article, to be continued as research trickles in, shall deal with the various styles of various students on this various campus in the next issue—if any.

Dames Club Honor New Members at Mrs. Q. M. Smith's

The home of Mrs. Q. M. Smith was the scene of a delightful get-acquainted tea Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 until 5 o'clock given by the Middle Tennessee State College Dames club honoring their new members.

The reception rooms of the Smith home were decorated with a profusion of fall flowers for the affair. The drawing room mantel was adorned with white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums and in the dining room autumn-shaded blossoms were featured. The serving table was overlaid with a white embroidered linen cloth edged in lace and centered with a silver container filled with specimen chrysanthemums. Yellow tapers burning in silver candelabra illumined the scene.

Mrs. Virginia Muncie served as chairman of arrangements and Mrs. T. B. Woodmore and Mrs. O. L. Freeman were in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Norman L. Parks and Mrs. Belt Keathley greeted guests at the door.

Mrs. Smith, officers of the club including Mrs. C. N. Stark, president; Mrs. Robert E. Corlew, vice-president; Mrs. Jimmy Jackson, secretary; Mrs. James Martin, treasurer; and the new members composed the receiving line. Mrs. W. M. Beasley, publicity chairman, was unable to be present.

New members are Mesdames Randall Anthony, Edgar Beaty, Charles Bridges, Ivan Brown, Neil Ellis, J. W. Farris, Clarence Greever, Betty Gentry, E. O. Hawkins, David LeDoux, Stanley Munsey, Homer Pittard, Frederic Rice, C. Wymer Wiser, Frank Humes, Q. L. McNary, Misses LaVonne Blackman, Buleah Davis, Martha Maddox and Nancy McClary.

Mrs. T. B. Woodmore, Mrs. O. L. Freeman and Mrs. Lawrence

Freeman were seated to serve. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Myrtle Sullivan and Mrs. Evelyn Felder.

Author Turns Spot on Fall Production, "Sabrina Fair"

By DeArnold Barnett

Turning the spotlight from other exciting events in the entertainment world this week to that of present importance on our campus, we find the great white light glaring on the production of Sabrina Fair now under way. The production of this delightful, fresh comedy is destined for the MTSC stage some time in late November, under the able hands of the Buchanan Players, directed by Mr. Biffle Moore.

"Sabrina Fair" written by Samuel Taylor, was originally copyrighted under the title of "Woman Of The World." As to why the title of the play was changed before going on the Broadway stage, I do not know. However, I assume that the present title of "Sabrina Fair" has much more theatrical power, as it gives not hint as to what the play is about, which seems to be the fad among modern commercial theatre people.

This play was first presented by the Playwrights Company at the National Theatre in New York City on November 11, 1953. I feel that we are very fortunate here on our campus in being able to see this piece of theatre just three years after its Broadway opening.

"Sabrina Fair" has been a very popular play since coming to the stage. Great effort has been put forth by community groups, professional groups and educational theatre groups in securing the rights to this play. Even Hollowood (this is said with great sarcasm) attempted to do this play justice but the work of the playwright was lost amid beautiful scenery, luxurious autos and a great amount of that so-called "Hollywood glamour." Miss Audrey Hepburn could have given a splendid performance had she not been "up staged" by so much "Hollywoodism."

"Sabrina Fair" is a piece of theatre as fresh as a breath of springtime, almost like smoking a Salem cigarette (if I may!). It is a play that appeals to all ages, especially to those young in heart and mind.

It is not a play so light that it becomes frivolous, yet it is not of such great depth that one is required to bring along his volumes of philosophy. It is about real people, doing real things in their glamorous Long Island, N. Y., setting.

Is It Too Noisy In The Library?

By "A Quiet Person"

The dictionary defines a library as "a building with a collection of books to be used in study," but I like the library for gregarious reasons.

Have you been to the library lately? If you haven't, you should go. Everybody goes, and you're sure to meet some cute people. On school nights, especially, the library is a good place to go with your date.

There are several interesting rooms in the library. One is the record room. Here you can listen to all types of music and humorous readings. I highly recommend one entitled "Ruby Rides the Bus." The magazine and history rooms are excellent places to catch upon the latest gossip; that is, if you're not disturbed by the rustle of turning pages. To anyone who wants to "study," I suggest you go to the Student Union Building.

Seriously, the noise in the library is rather annoying to people who are trying to do research or solve difficult math problems. Let's take into consideration that, aside from students who live here on campus and can go to the library frequently, there are commuters and post-graduate students who have perhaps only an hour to spend in the "quiet" halls.

We are very lucky to have an excellent staff in the library, and, so far, they have been most lenient and have treated us like the adults we supposedly are. Therefore, let's make an effort not to fraternize quite so happily every time we go to the library. It'll be hard, especially for me, but it should pay off scholastically anyway.

Monday evening W.A.A. gave a picnic in the camping area of MTSC. During a brief business session, Mrs. Dorothy Crawford was elected publicity chairman. Plans are being made for a volley ball tournament.

Circle "K" club met Tuesday night at 6:00 p.m. Fourteen new members were nominated and letters of acceptance were mailed. Initiation of new members will be at the next meeting, October 23. The final item of business was concerning a float for Homecoming. The theme was agreed upon. Bill McAdams and Joseph Thibbeteaux were appointed co-chairmen of the float committee.

Tuesday night, October 16, the Astronomy Club held its regular meeting in the Science Building. Mrs. Agnes Knapp was elected secretary to replace Walter Bryant, who is treasurer.

It was agreed that the meeting will be held every other Thursday night instead of Tuesday. Five members went to Nashville last Thursday to the Arthus J. Dyer Observatory. Dr. Carl Seyfert, head of the Barnard Astronomical Society, gave a talk on Mars. Observation of Mars was made through the telescope.

Roy Clark, president, pointed out the fact that the school owns a four-inch refracting telescope.

Rehearsals are now in progress for "Sabrina Fair". The Buchanan Players met Tuesday night at 6:30 p.m. The Homecoming float was subject of discussion. A skit entitled "No, No, A Thousand Times No" was presented by various members of the club.

Wednesday evening the American Guild of Organists presented a program of Organ and Ensemble music. Several selections were given. The program opened with Bach's "Three Wedding Chorales" and concluded with "Lullaby for a Modern Baby" by Delius.

The Aquatic Club met Wednesday night. New officers elected were: Anne Hagewood, president;

Emily Matlock, vice president; Annette Walker, publicity chairman; and Shirley Welch, secretary-treasurer. Boys are now eligible for membership. Last tryouts will be Wednesday, October 24.

The Chemistry club of Middle Tennessee State College has started the new year off with some very good programs. The programs given so far have been along many lines of interest. Our last meeting was held on Thursday, Oct. 18 with the program given by Dr. Himes of the Agriculture department. The talk was on a problem of soils in Northern Indiana. The problem covered the chelating ability of soils with organic matters.

On Wednesday night, Oct. 17, the club went to the American Chemical society meeting held at Vanderbilt university. This meeting dealt with the crime of a chemical nature and was very interesting indeed. These meetings are held monthly. Anyone interested in attending these meetings at Vanderbilt contact any member of the club and transportation will be furnished.

Anyone interested in the club may join. Our meetings are held on Thursday at noon.

so much as to hinder the enjoyment of the play, this is the "plot-build" of the play. Sabrina, the daughter of a chauffeur for the wealthy Larabees grows up in an apartment over the garage and then goes away to Paris to work for a U. S. organization. On returning home, we find Sabrina has "grown up" in a number of ways. She finds the Larrabee estate and its inhabitants have changed a great deal, too.

So in the course of four wonderful facts, we see a girl met face to face with a new life, while another part of her life lingers in the shadows, in part coming to light as Paul D'Argenson, a Frenchman whom Sabrina met in Paris.

"Sabrina Fair" is a play for those whom Sabrina met in Paris. "Sabrina Fair" is a play for those who have ever been in love, who plan campus one of the leading musical organizations in the nation for the enjoyment of the entire student body and townspeople.

The Track and Sabre Club earnestly hopes that its endeavors contribute to overall prestige of the college and Middle Tennessee. All cadets interested in helping achieve this objective are cordially invited to make application for membership or seek further information from any of the club officers.
