First Semester Exam Plan Covers Week, Is Staggered

First semester examinations have been set for January 18-23 as a result of Administrative Committee action this week.

Two hour examinations will be held for regular classes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The committee approved a plan worked out by the college deans to have all Monday-Wednesday-Friday, Monday and Wednesday, Wednesday and Friday or four and five day classes that meet first on Monday to have examinations on a staggered basis, with even hour classes on Monday and odd hour classes on Wednesday. Tuesday and Thursday classes will all have examinations on January 19.

Saturday class examinations will be from 8-10 for the regular 8:00 o'clock classes and 10:30 for the regular 11:25 classes.

Thursday and Friday will be open for faculty members to complete grading and evaluation.

The spring semester will offer an alternate plan of three periods on Saturday, making it possible for a student to earn two to six hours of (Continued On Page 8)

MEMBERS OF THE PLAY CAST for 'Ladies in Retirement' are Patsy Young, Beverly Sadler, Carole Tyler, Sarah Jane Croft, seated; Larry Payne and Anne Petty, standing. Beverly Sadler, president of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity, is the Assistant Director. The play will be given Nov. 4 and 5 under the direction of Mrs. Dorethe Tucker. Absent when picture was made were Kay Aiken and Bonnie Hudgens. (Photo by Kenneth Love)

Seven Chosen To Play Roles In Fall Play, Murder Story

Seven students, Pat Young, Bonnie Hudgens, Sara Croft, Larry Payne, Kay Aiken, Ann Petty and Carol Tyler, have been selected to play roles in the forth-coming production of Ladies in Retirement.

The cast in order of appearance, includes Lucy Gilham (Pat Young), the maid; Leonora Fiske (Bonnie Hudgens), a has-been actress who owns Estuary house; Ellen Creed (Sara Croft), the house keeper-companion of Leonora Fiske; Albert Feather (Larry Payne), the nephew of Ellen Creed; Louisa Creed (Kay Charlton Aiken), sister of Ellen Creed; Emily Creed (Ann Patty), sister of Ellen and Louisa; and Sister Theresa (Carol Tyler), a nun friend of Leonora Fiske.

The play takes place in an old pre-Tudor farmhouse situated below the town of Gravesend in the by Dickens in his Great Expectations marshes made so famous. The year is 1885. Estuary house belongs to Miss Leonora Fiske, a retired lady of easy virtue years of her life in rural retirement who has chosen to spend the last (Continued On Page 6)

One Hundred Five Students 'Test Wings' In Teaching

One hundred and five student teachers at MTSC reported for a teaching internship when the college semester opened. For many of them this will mark the beginning of a career in the teaching profession. They will be testing their wings by teaching and participating in the various teaching activities in the schools where they have been assigned.

These students have been assigned for teaching in Bell Buckle and Central High School in Bedford County; Du Pont and Maplewood High School in Davidson County; Lebanon Junior High School; the MTSC Campus school; at Crichtow, Hobgood, and Mitchell-Neilson in the Murfreesboro City Schools; at Central, Christiana, Eagleville, Kittrell, Rockvale, and Smyrna High Schools in the Rutherford County schools; and in Franklin High schools; and in Franklin High School. Participating in the teaching program for the first time are Franklin, Lebanon, and Christiana.

Representing the college in the program as general supervisors are Mr. Hilary Parker, Dr. Edgar Beaty, Dr. Edgar Moore, Dr. Elmer Raper, and Dr. Robert Womack. In an effort to involve more staff members in the teacher education program student teaching supervisors had been added in various subject fields. Participating in the program as subject supervisors are Mr. Charles Brandon, Art; Mr. Edwin Voorhies, Industrial Arts; Miss Margaret Putman, Home Economics; Mr. Horace Beasley and Mrs. Charles Hansford, Music; and Mrs. Glenn Lycans, Physical Education.

Teaching in Bedford County are Billy J. Hall, Shelbyville, mathematics; Charles D. Reese, Shelbyville, bookkeeping and business law; Cordis Womack, Union City, biology, at Bell Buckle; and Ventress, Kelso, woodworking and drafting; Shirley Ray, Manchester, shorthand; James E. White, Murfreesboro, history; Donald Cherry, Murfreesboro, typing; Mary Ann Orren, Murfreesboro, algebra, at Shelbyville.

Pep Rallies, Musical Stars Show Variety At Programs

By Carol Richardson
News Editor

A varied assortment of assemblies have been scheduled for the MTSC student body during the 1959-60 school term.

A pre-game "Beat TPI Rally", "our third assembly this year, is being planned for Tuesday, November 24, at 10:50 a.m. Concluding the assemblies for first semester, the annual Christmas program will be presented by the MTSC Orchestra.

Nationally known television personality, Bennett Cerf, will be featured on February 3. Senior Superlative nominations will be accepted on February 11. Coming to MTSC on March 24 will be the San Salvador Jazz Quartet, followed by a Religious Emphasis Week speaker on March 28.

Famous Pulitzer prize winner Bruce Catton, Civil War authority, will speak April 19. The Nelson-Neal Duo-piano team will be presented April 21. Mr. Neil Wright, head of the MTSC Music Department, will direct the Chorus in concert April 28. Nomination for ASB officers for 1960-61 will be accepted on May 5. Rounding out a very colorful year of events will be an Academic Awards Assembly and an Activities Awards Assembly on May 12 and 19, respectively.

A special bonus program this year will feature the Tennessee A and I Singers at a date to be announced later. Classes will be dismissed on all these occasions.

The first two assemblies of this year were marked by good attendance. The first was a homecoming game really where the cheerleaders, majorettes, flag twirlers, football players and coaches were introduced. Monday of this week found every seat taken and students standing in the balcony for the second program, which was given by Miss Mary Jennings and William Beck, lyric soprano and baritone.

Mr. E. O. Hawkins of the English department still has a number of copies of last year's literary magazine, 'Opus,' to distribute free of charge to students and faculty members.

Three Graduates Obtain Positions

By June Carol Vickery

The position of principalship and a teaching assignment was recently awarded three Middle Tennessee State College graduates.

Carl Holder formerly taught in Cleveland, Tennessee and will this year hold the position of principal at Flat Creek. Holder is a former Y. M. C. A. instructor and teacher at Bradley County High School. He received a B. S. degree at MTSC and was a sports writer for the Daily News Journal while attending school here. He is now working toward a Master's Degree, which he expects to receive this coming summer.

Roy Derryberry has held the principalship at Marshall County High School for the past six years and will this year occupy the position of principal at Bell Buckle. He has been in the teaching profession for the past twenty-one years, after obtaining B. A. Degree from MTSC and a Master's Degree from the University of Tennessee.

A teaching position in Central High School, Shelbyville, has been assigned to Ed Carson. Carson is a graduate of Central High in Shelbyville and received his B. S. Degree from Middle Tennessee State College.

Thompson, Olympic Captain, Added To Math Department

Latest addition to the expanded mathematics staff at MTSC is Colonel E. F. Thomson, West Point and Purdue graduate and former captain of the American Olympic Equestrian team.

Colonel Thomson is a native of Cleveland, Ohio, graduating from the Cleveland Case School of Applied Science. He graduated from West Point with the B.S. degree and received the M.S. degree at Purdue University. He is also a graduate of the Graduate Command and Central State College, Fort Leavenworth, and the Staff College, Washington, D.C.

He had over 30 years experience in the Cavalry Branch, serving with the First Cavalry in the Pacific and as chief of staff and assistant division commander of the 10th Mountain Division in Italy. He was awarded the Bronze Star, the Legion of Merit and the Silver Star for distinguished service.

Colonel Thomson is an international figure in the field of riding and training horses. He is the author of the Cavalry School textbook in that field and has competed in all types of horse show events, including the steeplechase races and polo teams, and is a registered (national and international) horse show judge.

He was a member of the National Championship 12-goal polo team before the war and has played polo all over this country, in Ireland and in Europe. He taught horsemanship at the Fort Riley Cavalry School for ten years, serving as chief of the department of horsemanship for two years in the United States Army.

In the 1932 Olympic games, Thomson won a gold and silver medal. At Berlin in 1936 he won a silver medal and at London in 1948 he captained the American team and won a gold and silver medal. In 1952 he was a judge at the Helsinki Olympic games.

Colonel Thomson has competed in every large horse show in the United States and Europe between 1928 and 1913 and has mounted in (Continued On Page 6)

NEED A LOAN

"If there are students who can qualify for a loan under the National Defense Program, they should see me immediately," Dr. Belt Keathley, Dean of Students, stated this week. "The Program is functioning nicely and we have loaned a considerable amount of money to students who can qualify."

Arendale Speaks For Institute

Dr. William F. Arendale of Thio-kol Chemical Corporation gave the main address for the Tennessee Short-Term Institute held at MTSC on October 17.

Dr. Arendale is Assistant to the General Manager, Technical Director, of Redstone Division of Thio-kol at Huntsville, Alabama. He is a graduate of Middle Tennessee State and holds the Ph.D. in chemistry from the University of Tennessee. He is the son of Mrs. Effie Arendale of South Tennessee Boulevard, Murfreesboro. Dr. Arendale has been at Redstone for several years and was formerly associated with the Oak Ridge laboratories.

The meeting was the first of three such Saturday meetings for science and mathematics teachers sponsored by the Tennessee Academy of Science and the State Board of Education and supported by the National Science Foundation.

Science and mathematics teachers in the Middle Tennessee area are invited to submit applications, which may be obtained from local principals or superintendents. Further information may be obtained from J. Gerald Parchment, assistant professor of biology at MTSC who is the area coordinator.

Candidates And Regulations Given For 'Who's Who,' 1960

Last spring found an entirely new set of regulations going into effect at MTSC concerning the nomination and election for 'Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.' These new regulations were set down by a committee appointed by President Cope immediately following the announcement of winners in the November 26 'Sidelines' and the subsequent storm of protest in the 'Letters to the Editor' column of the following issue.

Article seven of the new regulations states that when the eligibility list for 'Who's Who' has been compiled, it shall be published in the 'Sidelines' in advance of the selection deadline so that if any eligible senior has been omitted from the list, the error may be corrected in advance of the selection. In accordance with this rule, the eligibility is published below. These candidates for nomination should return their questionnaires to Dr. Belt Keathley in the immediate future. If there is any member of the group receiving a questionnaire who does not intend to graduate in June or August of this year, that person should also notify Dr. Keathley. Any senior who feels that he is qualified for the honor but has not received a questionnaire should contact Dr. Keathley's office immediately to have the information checked and any possible error adjusted.

New Regulations Governing Selection

For the benefit of those students who would like to check on their eligibility for 'Who's Who,' the new regulations concerning this selection are hereby set forth.

- In order for a student to be eligible scholastically for selection for 'Who's Who On College Campuses,' this student must have a 2.8 average in scholastic grades at the beginning of the fall semester of his senior year.
- All candidates must be of good moral character as attested by the Dean of Students. This shall be interpreted to mean that the candidate has not been placed on social probation during his college career.
- Automatic selection because a student holds certain specific positions or offices on the campus is hereby abolished.
- All extra-curricular participation and leadership engaged in by the student shall be considered by the selection Committee in determining membership in 'Who's Who.'

a. The Dean of Students' office will present a simple questionnaire to each senior who qualifies for eligibility. The candidate will fill out the questionnaire, revealing club membership, office or offices held by him, and any other honors achieved. The information from these questionnaires shall then be summarized and placed in the hands of the selection committee well in advance of the date of selection, to aid the committee in determining membership.

b. Achievement of offices and honors will not be necessary for a student to be selected for membership in 'Who's Who.' There are many students who serve as members of extra-curricular groups, who work constructively for themselves and for the college community, and who never hold an office, who may well deserve membership in 'Who's Who.'

V. The Committee shall meet and review the record of each and every student who is eligible for membership in 'Who's Who.' The committee shall then select the students from the eligible list to fill the college's quota of 'Who's Who,' or as many students as it considers worthy for membership, using a selection procedure agreed upon by the membership of the Committee.

The membership of the Committee shall be as follows:

- The Dean of Students, who shall serve as Chairman, the Dean of Admissions, and one faculty representative from each college department. This choice to be made by a vote of the staff members of the department. The representative may be either the department head or a staff member of the department.
- The number of student representatives on the Committee shall equal the number of faculty members, and shall be composed of:
The president and vice-president of ASB
8 Congressmen from the junior and senior classes
The president, vice-president, and secretary of the junior and senior classes

Fish Story Has Happy Ending For Freshman 'Tuna King'

TOMMY OLIPHANT

By Jane Pyle

Tommy Oliphant, a freshman here at MTSC, is one who can boast of a fish story with a happy ending.

Tommy, a recent graduate of Hillsboro High School, Nashville, won for himself a brand new 1959 white Impala Chevrolet convertible. Tommy told this writer in an interview last Tuesday of his winning the local Star-kist Tuna Fish Contest this summer. After seeing this contest publicized on "Five O'Clock Hop," a Nashville WSM-TV program, Tommy set his mind to win the much desired Chevrolet, so began his well-planned project.

Tommy bought over $1,000 worth of Tuna-fish and sold most of it to good friends and his own family for wholesale prices, keeping only the tules. After much hard work and many miles of door-to-door selling, Tommy turned in 4,500 labels, which was nearly three times the number of his nearest competitor.

Much to his surprise, Tommy was told that he was one of three top winners. It was not until he appeared on television that it was announced he was the winner of the new Impala.

When asked if Tommy liked tuna, he quickly replied, "Oh yes, the whole family loves it!" Then he sheepishly replied, "We have to!"

VI. At the beginning of the school year, or as soon thereafter as is possible, the office of the Dean of Students shall send a mimeographed list of eligible seniors having a 2.8 average and a clear behavior record, together with information pertinent to extra-curricular activities as determined from the questionnaire submitted by the student, to all members of the 'Who's Who' committee. The same list shall also be sent to each faculty member in advance of the final selection date so that he may express his preference through his department committee member.

VII. When the eligibility list of senior students for 'Who's Who' has been compiled, it shall be published in the 'Sidelines' in advance of the selection deadline so that if any eligible senior has been omitted from the list, the error may be corrected in advance of the selection.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR - - - A Question of Finances - - -

To The Administration and Students of MTSC:

"Why does Murfreesboro Central Band sell our football programs?" "Is this done on a percentage basis or does Central get all of the proceeds?" "How much is made from our football programs each season?" These are some questions which arise in my mind each time I attend a home game at MTSC.

Why couldn't this money be used to build up the MTSC band, or to buy a new score board, or to build a new student grandstand, or to send our band to the away games? I am sure our band needs this money more than Central's band does. I think this matter should be investigated and its possibilities explored.

Why does Central get money the band and students of MTSC need? I invite a reply from anyone knowing about this matter.

Rathskel

Just A Question - - -

To the Editor:

I should understand, but I don't. Is the earth really a wasteland? Are we hollow men? My sense of values has become twisted, dirty and chaotic. Futility, pessimism and confusion mount until it seems I know less than when I knew nothing. Then at times I stumble across something—a clue or a hint—that gives me a new concept of human behavior. . . not something from a book or from a campus regulation, or from disciplinary restriction, but from my own interpretation of what I see.

It is rare in our cage to see someone accept something as part of the game, something that lesser men might consider an injustice. And not only does he rise above it, but he comes out smiling, humble and clean. These are the times that try men's souls. For showing me that morality, love, button-down collars, humility and character still mean something, Eddie, thanks.

Former Dorm Girls Return For Visit

By Amelia Hinds

The big game with Chattanooga brought many of Monohans former residents back for the weekend. Some of these who enjoyed the game and the dance following were Jean Cathey Davis, Mary Joe Rickman, Nancy King, Nancy Shumate, Joan Webb Keowan and Juanita Merrill.

Several of our girls enjoyed the homecoming weekend at the University of the South in Sewanee the past weekend. They are Jerry Williams, Maxine Smith, Janice Wynne, and Virginia McLean.

Another Homecoming

Evie Bragg spent the past weekend at Vandy as the guest of Bud Young. They attended Vandy's homecoming activities.

The "Old Maid's Home," as Monohan is often called, isn't living up to her nickname. Every week finds another girl engaged or making wedding plans. Judy Daughtery and Sam Mittweide of Shelbyville are engaged, while Margaret Branham and Rufus Hereford have set the date for December 20. Margaret and Rufus will be married at the First Baptist Church in Lebanon.

Sick Call

We're glad to have Pat Beasley back after her being sick at home for a few days. June Patterson is in Rutherford County Hospital and we hope she'll be back with us soon.

The cheerleaders are excited about the trip to Morehead, Kentucky this weekend. They'll follow the Raiders to Victory No. 6.

Our girls are already planning for a big Halloween at Florence State. It will be homecoming and the MTSC students have been invited to attend the dance. We'll ride down on one of the chartered buses and help the Raiders "trick or treat" Florence State. See you there!

Smith Organizes Japanese Vultures

By Jay Hickey

Here we go again, back for another big issue. Never worry, never fear, we believe winter is here. It's about time.

We guess you all have noticed the football games over in front of our house. We think some of the boys are getting in shape to take on just about anybody. Look out, MTSC's Japanese Vultures are on the prowl.

Thanks, Princess Management

We thought it was really nice of the people at the Princes Theatre to let us in the movie for last Wednesday night during and after the pep rally. We wonder what all of the people were doing on the stage. It must have been the stage show, do you reckon?

Congratulations are in order for our new dorm council. The members and their respective classes are as follows: Gray Bailey and Troy Hayden, seniors; Dick Swain and Roney Halye, juniors; Ray Fox and Joe Wiggins, sophomores, and Everett Elick, freshman.

Wind-up Corner

Well, that's it for this issue. See you next issue, same place. Remember this is "Be Kind to Girl Scout" Week.

P. S. #1. We hope you all have a nice long weekend. Just a reminder, drive safely, the life you save might be that of one of cafeteria dishroom singers.

P. S. #2. Thank you, cafeteria staff, you're doing better. We're glad to see y'all trying to do right.

Jones Still Needs Washer, Inter-Com

By Susan Wakefield

The girls at Jones were really proud of placing third in the homecoming decorations contest. Sylvia Bowles deserves a round of applause for her work as chairman of our committee.

We were sorry to find that Mrs. Parks, our housemother, missed the homecoming game because of a sprained ankle. It seems that she fell at the Student Union Building before the game.

That's about all from Jones, except that we still need a washing machine and an inter-com system. Maybe by next week . . . but that's too soon to hope for such a miracle. Patience! Patience! Just grin and bear your burdens, girls.

Vaughan, First HEIH Scholarship Winner, Cited As Fine Example By Chapter Leader

MARGARET ELIZABETH VAUGHN

Margaret Elizabeth Vaughn, an MTSC freshman scholarship student, finds college faculty members "friendly and anxious to help me." The Hillsboro high school honor graduate has a home economics job as a future goal as a result of the interest of the Davidson County chapter of Home Economists in Homemaking.

Miss Vaughn was the first girl to be selected by the HEIH for a college scholarship in home economics. Proceeds of a second benefit luncheon and fashion show given October 10 will provide another scholarship for 1960 to some outstanding Davidson county high school senior who wishes to make home economics a career.

"We couldn't be more pleased with our first winner, and we feel that her selection has set a high standard for future scholarship girls," Mrs. Clifford Sargent, a leader in the HEIH, stated.

Margaret was reared in the Protestant orphanage and Monroe-Harding home. Here she developed excellent study habits and an interest in home making, which were stimulated at Hillsboro High School, where teachers took "a special interest in me," she said.

"I was afraid that college teachers would be indifferent, but these at MTSC (which she chose as her college under terms of the HEIH grant) are anxious to help me, too."

While in Hillsboro, she served as secretary of the home economics department and was a member of the youth choir at Waverly Place Methodist church. At MTSC she is a member of the chorus and is in the choir of the First Presbyterian church in Murfreesboro. She is also working in the college library.

Rutledge Ramblings

Rutledge Bemoans Loss of Boyfriend

By Holland Bratton

Rutledge Hall has lost her number one boyfriend! The football player that was used in the homecoming decoration wandered from his post sometime after the homecoming dance. He has been missed very much, and the residents of Rutledge Hall feel that he would be made more welcome at Rutledge than any other home he might have found. If anyone might be able to direct the gentleman home, it would be greatly appreciated by all his "girlfriends." (By the way, his jersey and helmet belong to the MTSC P. E. department, and his trousers belong to one of the girls at Rutledge.)

All the news from the northwest side isn't bad. Another engagement has been announced by a Rutledge girl. Virginia Geer received a beautiful diamond ring on Saturday, October 10. Several of the girls enjoyed helping Virginia devour the cake that was given to her and her fiance at their engagement party.

Rutledge Boasts Two Sponsors

Janis Miller and Ann Ellington have been chosen as ROTC sponsors. Janis will sponsor Company E, and Ann will represent Company B.

Carolyn Callis, a freshman from Nashville, has been selected as one of the MTSC marching majorettes. Carolyn was a majorette at Cohn High in Nashville for three years and head majorette for two years.

Sadler Is Assistant Director

Beverly Sadler, a senior from Nashville, is working with Mrs. Dorothe Tucker as assistant director of the November production of the Drama Club, Ladies in Retirement. An active member of the drama club, the Buchanan Players, last year, Beverly is serving this year as treasurer of the group and president of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity.

Linda Lewis was selected as alternate cheerleaders and did a swell job at the homecoming game. Linda is a freshman from Nashville.

Rutledge Hall was thrilled at winning first place in dorm decorations for homecoming. Thanks to those who helped in making Rutledge a winner for the second straight year!

Dairy Princess Elaine Vanatta Heads To Arizona

"Pea Patch Princess," the three page lead feature article in the October 18 Nashville TENNESSEAN magazine saluted Elaine Vanatta, Dairy Princess of Tennessee and freshman co-ed at Middle Tennessee State.

Miss Vanatta leaves this week to compete in the national dairy princess contest at Scottsdale, Arizona. If she wins there she will win a $1,000 scholarship and wardrobe, plus a year of travel as the dairy industry photogenic public relations representative as American Dairy Queen.

The article, written by Elmer Hinton of the TENNESSEAN staff, leads with the statement, "You'll revise your thinking about farmers' daughters when you read this story of Elaine Vanatta, Tennessee's dairy princess, who defies custom and hates fads."

Among the half dozen pictures (three color photos) is one of Elaine sitting in front of the Union Building talking to Stanley Rogers, Manchester, David Smotherman, Shelbyville while Bill Terry, Nashville; Eddie Comer, Nashville; Teddy Mitchell, Lebanon; Patti McPetters, Knoxville; Buddy Saunders, Shelbyville, Grady Bailey and Tom Hammers of Nashville are grouped nearby. Pictures were by Howard Hooker.

The article points out that Miss Vanatta is no stranger to the MTSC campus. She was here as a delegate to Girls State from Shelbyville and returned last year as a junior counselor. She also was a high school DAR medalist, American Legion Citizenship award winner, champion Bedford county dressmaker (second in Tennessee) and played basketball for three years and still graduated with a 93.75 average.

State Promotes Webb, Former MTSC Student

By Margaret Vaughn

Thomas Webb, former MTSC student who was a member of the State Department of Education, has been promoted to the head of the Division of Finance and Administration.

The specific duties of the Finance and Administration Division include the distribution of state appropriations for grades one to twelve and the work with the superintendents and their staffs on such matters as budgeting, accounting and reporting.

Walden Places 2nd In Sewing Contest

By Louise Whorton

Emma Jean Walden won an Atlas portable sewing machine for taking second place honors in the Nashville Tennessean Sew-A-Fine Seam contest at the State Fair. Last year Emma Jean won first place, the prize for which was also an Atlas sewing machine.

Two local students are now serving as freshmen class leaders. They are Roger Landers, president, and Ray Troop, congressman.

Whitworth Is Dairy Princess

Nancy Whitworth was elected Dairy Princess of Rutherford County and Miss Fire Prevention. She was first runner-up in the Miss Murfreesboro contest. Also in the upper five were Betty Caudill and Irene Carter.

Peggy Bryant will be hearing wedding bells soon when she becomes bride of Ernest Burgess, who is a junior here at MTSC. The ceremony will take place the 23rd of October.

Krutsinger-Barrett Engagement

Congratulations are in order for another local couple, Shirley Krutsinger and Burton Barrett, who recently became engaged.

Pam Luttrell was chosen to represent Murfreesboro as a member of the McCall's Teenage Fashion Board for 1959 in New York.

Buford Austin Winfrey, a former Middle Tennessee State College student, has joined the staff of the Baptist Sunday School Board in Nashville, where he will serve with the art department.

Petty Takes Role Of Lyon President

By Wande Wells

After an intensive campaigning session, votes were finally cast for Lyon officers with the result that Ann Petty, freshman from Columbia, has taken over the role of president. Assisting her will be vice-president Marcia Manley, sophomore from Bell Buckle; secretary Edwina Coker, freshman from Columbia; treasurer Carolyn Duke, junior from Nashville; song leader Lou Ezell, junior from Pulaski, and pianist Linda Davis, freshman from Columbia.

Let me welcome two transfers from "Ole Miss" to Lyon Hall this year. They are Martha Sue Orr and Mary Boyd. Martha Sue is head majorette this year, and Mary is better known as the fiancee of Fred Shelton, a senior here at MTSC.

Raiders Trounce U. C. 28-0

By Paul Perry, Sports Editor

MTSC's unbeaten Blue Raiders quickly uncovered two first period touchdowns, with some help from up above, and went rolling to their fifth victory of the season with a stunning, unbelievable 28-0 triumph over Chattanooga's Moccasins at Jones Stadium last Saturday night.

In a game that was a toss-up at kick-off time, with the odds really being in the Moc's favor, the Raiders, with the help of a 15-mile per hour wind, took advantage of two bad Moccasin punts to dart out to a 13-0 lead with only 10 minutes gone by in the game. By revealing something that hadn't previously been seen by the Blue and White, the Raiders seemed to be furious, blood-seeking ball club from the opening whistle until the final gun. Obviously this was the greatest effort shown by Middle Tennessee State in a football game in some time.

MTSC's Ralph Adams booted off to the Moccasins with a high dangling kick that was returned to the Moc 25-yard marker. The ball was marched back to the 10 by the field judge as a result of a clipping penalty on the part of the offense. Moc quarterback Bobby Darnell called three straight running plays that failed to gain the needed yardage, and the club went back into punt formation. Tackle Sheehan booted into that fatal wind and the pigskin traveled out to about the 20 and bounced back to the 13-yard line, where the Raiders took over after the kick was recorded as a net loss of six yards.

Sophomore Terry Bailey was operating for the Blue Raiders and quickly had the Raiders a first down on the Moccasin three after only two running plays. Bailey tried two quarterback sneaks, which gained a yard as the charging Chattanooga forward wall each time.

The Blue Raiders came back on the field to start the second half with the attitude that nobody could muster them. They seemed to have the attitude of champions.

With the clock eating away at the time in the third quarter, Raider halfbacks Ray Purvis and Bucky Pitts led the way for the third MTSC score. The drive began at the Raider 20 with Watson directing and brilliantly executing his calls. This 80-yard march called for 13 plays, and MTSC retained possession of the ball all the way. Key gallops around the ends by Pitts and Purvis, and the hard running of Gene Windham bursting through the middle for large pickups, headlined the scoring adventure. The big play was a 31-yard picture scamp around the left side by halfback

Pitts, which placed the ball down on the Moc six, where it was first and goal. After a plunge over tackle by Windham got three, Watson walked the line to the left and kept right on going with the skin onto pay-off grounds. After Ralph Adams' conversion the score was 20-0, MTSC, as the third period came to a close.

The last score came mid-way in the final quarter as second and third unit team got the job done. Terry Bailey was at the helm and threw a long pass on the first play from scrimmage, which was the Raider 38, that was caught by End Nicky Lynch for a 36-yard gain as he went out of bounds near the Moc 25. From there, runs by Ray Bell, fullback Larry Puryear, and Jack Corban moved the ball to the 10 yard mark. Then, before the normal fan had time to think another thought, halfback Johnny Moore had taken a Bailey handoff and stormed into the endzone for the score. Bailey rolled wide to the left on the 2-point extra attempt and tried to pass, but couldn't find a receiver open and ran it in himself. The score was then 28-0 in favor of the Murfreesboro eleven.

Though this was not an Ohio Valley Conference contest, to the many loyal Raider followers undoubtedly this was the biggest battle of the half-over season for Bubber Murphy's troops.

MTSC's defense was deadly all night as time and time again the Raiders stopped what looked like a Chattanooga threat. This was a superb effort turned in by the Raider linemen as they were pitted against a much bigger forewall. Remember the Raiders held the Moccasins scoreless just as Alabama did the previous week, and out scored the SEC outfit against the Moc's by 15 points. Senior fullback Gene Windham turned in a tremendous display of running in the game, as did Pitts and Purvis.

The next Blue Raider game is at Morehead, Kentucky, as the club returns to loop competition.

MTSC Lettermen Organize Group To Promote Athletic Program

Middle Tennessee State College lettermen perfected an organization to promote the athletic program at a luncheon during homecoming week.

John Bragg, Murfreesboro publisher, became the first president of the group. Dr. Elbert Patty is vice-president and Rollie Holden secretary-treasurer.

"Our immediate objective is to get as many lettermen, their wives and their children back here for the Thanksgiving game with TPI as possible," Mr. Bragg stated, "We will have a luncheon in the Tennessee Room and provide a place for former athletes and their families to gather."

Long range objectives of former wearers of the blue and white include the formation of "T" clubs in nearby counties where several lettermen are living and the development of interest among former athletes in "Blue Raider Club" activities.

Along The Sidelines

By Ralph Englert

The Lafayette Ghost—

Marida Ray Purvis is a lean but speedy left halfback, whose sobriquet is most appropriately established to the correct individual's appellation. So swiftly and elusive (he has ran the 100 in 9.9), it has at times been difficult for interior linemen to lead interference before he has left them, as well as numerous would-be tacklers, in his wake.

RAY PURVIS

It was an incident such as this, needless to say, that earned for him the title "Ghost." Harold Greer, captain of the Raiders last year, was the man responsible for Purvis' alias. It seems that Greer had trouble hustling from his guard position, downfield and towards the sidelines, in order to block for the nimble Purvis. All was well, so thought Greer, as he reached his destination, until he discovered that the fleet-footed Ray had already brisk-

ed by. Harold immediately labeled him "The Ghost," and the name has stuck. To try and describe an example of Purvis' runs when he really lets fly is a matter of poetry—beautiful to the eyes, and rhythmic to the ears symphonious is the word to use. Anyway, here is an analysis of it, poetic or not:

"THE GHOST'S RUN"

(with regards to Henry W. Longfellow)

Listen, my friend, and you shall not miss

This story I tell of Ray Purvis,

On every fall weekend in fifty-nine

"The Ghost" romps through the opponent's line

Who remembers those runs of thrilling bliss.

The quarterback said, "If the lineman charge

Up the middle or around the ends,

Give "the Ghost" the ball and set him at large

And we'll really go with it, my friends

He'll side-step one, you block out another,

Till we move down field a little further,

Past mid-field and closer to the goal

Made possible by the line's tremendous hole,

Come on, fellows, and let's really roll!"

Then he said, "Let's go!" and on "hut one"

"The Ghost" was off on another run,

Just as the opponents made their bid

He tore right through, yes sir, he did

The game was now as well as won—

Down the field and away he went

Like a thunderbolt from the heavens sent,

Onard and onward till out of sight

Clawing and scraping with all his might.

Meanwhile, his teammates, all battered and bruised

Watch and wonder with eager eyes,

Till the sound of cleats finally dies,

Hoping and praying with confident thought,

Just how far "The Ghost" had really cruised,

Then to let out with exultant cries

Knowing the battle had been well fought.

So through the evening galloped "The Ghsot"

And throughout the game thundered the sound

Of his relentless hoofs chewing the ground,

A cry of valor and not of boast

Of reckless runs and burning speed

Future foes will surely take heed,

For out of the Raider's tradition-filled past

Come the names of great runners to the last,

So in times of suspense and battles tight

Opponents will see what they fear most,

The agile charges of the Blue and White

And the murderous gallops of "The Ghost."

A tremendous all-around athlete, Purvis was awarded 12 letters during his high school tenure. Here at MTSC, he has already won eight letters, in football (3), baseball (3), and track (2), plus the "Outstanding Athlete of the Year" award twice, which is presented to the man who does the most for the school, athletic wise.

Ray's matriculation here came by way of his high school coach, Reid Mosely, who impressed Coach Murphy about him while he (Mosely) was attending summer school here in 1956. Purvis was headed for prep school at Gordon Military Academy, and then to Georgia Tech, when his coach returned to tell him about MTSC. Ray then decided upon going straight to college, and this move certainly paid handsome dividends for him.

A biology major with minors in chemistry and history, Purvis winds up his college career this spring. He married his high school sweetheart, the former Nancy Clements, one year ago last August 16, and they now have one child, Harold August (Gus), born on this past June 13.

Concerning his future, he plans to enter the army upon graduation to serve for three years. But that lies in the distant future, and as of now, we hope he will continue those stirring runs.

G. Windham Leads Raiders In 14-6 Romp Over EKSC

By Paul Perry
Sports Editor

Lead by hard-running fullback Gene Windham, MTSC broke into the scoring column in time to corral its fourth consecutive football triumph 14-6 at the expense of Eastern Kentucky.

Playing before a completely partisan EKSC, Richmond, Kentucky crowd, the Blue Raiders stretched this Ohio Valley Conference mark to 2-0 when fullback Windham crashed off tackle for the Blue club's first score near the end of the third period and quarterback Whit Watson leaped in from the one in the following quarter.

The first half was pretty nip and tuck, with neither club threatening seriously at any time. A supposedly big and slow EKSC eleven was if anything outplaying the favored Murfreesboroians during the first section of the show.

MTSC kicked off to the home-towners to begin the third quarter, and a fired-up run back by the Maroons to the Raider 45 yard stripe apparently set the EKSCers aflame. Maroon backs slashed away with ease for 45 yards as freshman fullback Shannon Johnson scuttled the last 9 for the six points. An attempted aerial for the two-digit extra fell incomplete and the score was 6-0, MTSC behind.

Halfback Ray Purvis brought back the following kickoff to the Raider 33 before being pulled down. Then with Whit Watson's going to the air frequency and Gene Windham's timely scurries, the club went 67 yards in 10 plays for the score. Halfback Bucky Pitts and Purvis made key pass receptions on the drive, with Windham going in from the three. Place-kicking specialist Ralph Adams kicked the extra point and MTSC led 7-6 at the end of three periods.

During the next few minutes the Raiders seemed to be a different club as, after forcing the Maroons to kick, they got their hands on the pigskin and never lost control until they had driven a total of 80 yards in 17 plays for a score. Again the passing and quick brain work of Whit Watson, with the aid of Pitts, Purvis, and Windham, produced the score. A pass interference call against the Maroons on their 26 proved to be a big asset as Watson swooped over from the one. Ralph Adams once again converted, and the final score was 14-6.

Jimmy Davis Heads MTSC Intramurals For Second Year

By Johnny Stoddard

Senior Jimmy Davis, who has one successful year under his belt as intramural director, will again head the program.

Davis is planning the same schedule as last year, which includes different sports to match the taste of everyone. These will range from football in the fall to softball in the spring. Sandwiched in between these will be a basketball season and a volleyball tournament.

Also scheduled during the year will be wrestling and tennis tournaments. To add even more variety to the program, swimming and archery meets will be held. Highlight of the spring will be a track meet, which will include almost every event conceivable.

Every male student who enters MTSC is automatically placed on a team and is eligible for every sport if he desires to play. A person does not have to participate in every sport to be eligible for the one he wants to take part in.

There will be eight teams making up the league. They are the Black, Blue, Brown, Green, Orange, Red, White and Yellow teams. To find out which team you are on, contact intramural director Jimmy Davis.

Second-Half Offense Is Making Raiders Solid Choice in League

Being probably the U.S.A.'s most explosive second-half football club, MTSC's Blueboys have made many pigskin followers around the OVC set and wonder really what kind of a team Bubber Murphy has fielded at the Murfreesboro institute. Apparently this team even has its own coaching staff wondering along the same lines. Well, it seems that this mystery lies along with all of the other unknowns of the land. But even with a mystery, MTSC has lured the confidence of most of the loops so-called "big-boys," as they have swung toward the Raiders rather than the school, located somewhere in Putnam County.

Clinging among the Nations top 10 (last week in sixth place) small college football companies, the Raiders still have a hard road to trek. Having two conference affairs stuffed sweetly into their back pocket, the club still has four more loop games on their slate, with Morehead's Eagles being the first. Under new head mentor Guy Penny, this club could be very tough to appreciate. Also, this team has that young Buddy Fields whom everybody is talking about. Fields is presently the loop's top ground gainer; and the play of the Whitesbury, Kentucky whizzer at Morehead's right halfback post is bringing smiles to the faces of folks up that way, even if TPI did beat them 40-0.

Other circuit hopefuls to see action against the Blue and White are Murray State and East Tennessee, while the big season-ending Tennessee Tech battle will again possibly decide the OVC championship.

Raider Second Unit Plays Major Role—

Play of the Blue Raiders' second team, sometimes referred to as the "G Team of the Blues," has proved to be the one asset the Raiders could not have done without and still be in the position they are in at the present.

Especially is this true of the team's line in such boys as Don Faulk, Moose McCarrol, Nicky Lynch (a starting end of last season), Sam Ezell, George Noe, Jerry Stapleton, and another starter of a year back, erstwhile end (now tackle) Hester Gibbs. The play of this line has been pretty close on par with that of the first team's forward wall.

The two halfbacks, Ray Bell, the Waverly flash, and Nashville's Johnny Moore, are scoring threats each time their grippers are on the ball. Terry Bailey is improving rapidly from day to day, and the kid from Maryland, only a sophomore, will see miles of action before the year is over. And Larry Puryear's brilliant trucking ability has virtually cinched him the job of alternating with Gene Windham at the fullback spot.

Another key point that should be recognized is that the rest provided the first unit by these boys especially in the day games, was a deciding factor, mainly so against Western Kentucky.

Windup Corner—

Stoker Bubber Murphy greyhounds his Blue Raider troops out of town for three weeks with stops at Morehead, Kentucky, Florence State, Alabama, and Murray State, Kentucky, before showing up again at the familiar home arena.

Coach Diddle's Blue Raider cagers begin tuning up this week with Bob Burden, Ralph Bryant, and little Don Smith back from last year's starters. The basketball opener is December 1, a home tilt involving the Raiders and David Lipscomb's Bisons.

Tennessee Tech halfback Ralph Broyles, a Sparta product and high school teammate of Raider Dean Fisher, broke into the OVC national spotlight last week by scoring two touchdowns and rolling for 93 yards in six darts.

It seems that Murray State's grid master Jim Cullivan has won a hard-soft title that he doesn't particularly care for. Spoke the soft voiced grid boss on his team's three defeats by one touchdown each, "This is a title that we'd just as soon not have."

Jack Corban, the Springfield, Tennessee, senior halfback who was feared last for the season, was back in action this past week after the mending of a pre-season injured hand.

A prediction: LSU will be forced to score at least three touchdowns to edge Ole Miss, and that Cannon, Rabb, and company will go in the "game of the year."

Freshman quarterback Elvin Brinegar, Eastern Kentucky's fine operator who kept the Raiders bobbled a big portion of their game at Richmond, hit the OVC honor roll for the first time when he ran 40-yards for his teams 7-0 victory over Murray State.

Second unit guard Sam Ezell, Loretto, Tennessee, junior, came from the Eastern Kentucky skirmish with an injured leg. It is not known how long the services of the Raider lineman will be lost.

Student Trainee Positions Offered By Civil Service Commission

Applications are now accepted for Student Trainee positions by U. S. Civil Service Commission Officers throughout the country. These positions are in scientific, technical, agricultural, accounting and statistical fields. Entrance salaries range from $3,255 to $3,755 a year.

These Student Trainee positions offer high school seniors and college students an opportunity to combine their college study with training on the job in either vacation work-study programs or cooperative work-study programs. In the vacation work-study program, students attend college during the entire scholastic year and work in a Federal agency during the vacation periods. In cooperative work-study programs, students alternate their college study and work periods during the entire year.

The first written test will be given on October 31, 1959, for those who apply not later than October 13, 1959. Additional tests will be given at monthly intervals thereafter.

For additional information and application forms, contact Pat Turner, Box 137 MTSC, or write to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Baptists Give Ho-Bo Party To Acquaint Students

By June Carole Vickery

The Third Baptist Church was host to a ho-bo party recently. The party, which was sponsored by all the Baptist Churches of Murfreesboro, was held in order for the MTSC students, old and new, to become better acquainted.

The party was held in the basement, which was uniquely decorated to represent the typical environment of a ho-bo — a dark secluded spot in the woods. The "ho-bos" seated themselves around a large black kettle under which a roaring fire blazed.

About thirty people participated in the games and enjoyed refreshments consisting of barbeque beef on buns, cokes and apples.

ment. She occupies this lovely old house with her friend and housekeeper-companion, Miss Ellen Creed.

Miss Ellen Creed brings her two "nice" spinster sisters for a few weeks stay that turns out to be a good deal longer. Emotions, suspense, and thrills will fill the audience when these rather pathetic sisters start their scheming and plotting. Albert Feather and Lucy Gilham should add plenty of romance to the play; while the nun, Sister Theresa, remains true and close to Leonora.

Ladies in Retirement, a three act murder mystery, is by Edward Percy and Reginald Denhana. It will be presented on November 4 and 5th in the college auditorium. Tickets will be available one week before the performance. All students receive a free ticket by presenting their I.D. card at the ticket booth.

Mrs. Dorethe Tucker is directing the play and Beverly Sadler is serving as the assistant director.

RONNIE L. FILSON

Fort Benning, Ga. — Second Lt. Ronnie L. Filson, 23, whose wife, Jerry, lives at 108 Drake st., Goodlettsville, Tennessee, completed the seven-week ranger course recently at The Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia.

The course is designed to develop leadership abilities and to provide strenuous physical training which will prepare the officer for arduous duty under adverse combat conditions.

Lietenant Filson is a 1954 graduate of Goodlettsville High School and a 1958 graduate of MTSC.

JOHN T. HAYES

Fort Bliss, Texas — Army 1st Lt. John T. Hayes, son of Mrs. Maggie Hayes, 414 Knox Street, Murfreesboro, recently was assigned to the 5th Missile Battalion, 57th Artillery at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Lieutenant Hayes entered the Army in June 1955. The 28-year-old officer was graduated from Central High School in 1950 and from MTSC in 1955.

He is a brother of Coach Joe Black Hayes.

ROBERT WENDELL PARKER

Robert Wendell Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Parker, 1017 Ewing Avenue, Murfreesboro is one of 300 or more than 1500 applicants, all of whom were college graduates, to be selected for the First Officer Training Program class of the United States Air Force Reserve. Selection is on a highly competitive basis resulting from personality tests, written examinations, scholastic and college records.

Sergeant James E. Bullard, recruiting for the Air Force in this area, expressed his pleasure that the Central high school and MTSC graduate had been named among the very few from the Tennessee area to qualify for the November class at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

After three months orientation program, Parker will be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve and assigned to duty as a supply officer as a supervisor of the mechanized accounting program of the Air Force. Such assignment is in keeping with his training in business administration at MTSC.

Parker graduated from Central high school after doing his first three years of high school work at Oak Ridge. At MTSC he was among the top ten per cent in ROTC and a member of the Sigma Club, honor society for men students.

JACK E. O'BRIEN

Mannheim, Germany — Jack E. O'Brien, son of Mrs. Hugh O'Brien, Route 1, Murfreesboro, recently was promoted to captain in Mannheim, Germany, where he is commander of the 562d Quartermaster Detachment.

Captain O'Brien, whose wife, Mary, is with him in Germany, entered the Army in June, 1953, and arrived in Europe in December, 1956.

The 27-year-old officer was graduated from Christiana High School in 1948 and from MTSC in 1953.

John Steel, ETSC Professor, Exhibits Paintings At MTSC

"There is good reason for obscurity and distortion in the work of an artist," David LeDoux, a member of the faculty of the Art Department of MTSC, said last Sunday afternoon in a brief lecture on "Expressionism in Art." Mr. LeDoux was introducing the exhibit of his friend, John Steele, to a large number of the more than 150 persons who visited to view the exhibit. The gallery, which is on the second floor of the new Fine Arts Building, will remain open from 8 until 5 o'clock each day until November 7.

"It is as difficult to verbalize about a painting as it is to translate a poem from one language to another. There are three elements in any picture," Mr. LeDoux continued. "structure, technique and the conceptional point of view of the artist."

"It is this last that gives expressionism one major direction in modern painting. The artist, Mr. Steele, is making an attempt to communicate sensation to those who view his pictures, Mr. LeDoux explained.

The Steele exhibit centers around three groups of paintings—the figure images, the pear tree and the railroad and city sketches. He also has two sketches of a flower garden and summer trees, executed in the very new Polymer method.

Dr. Clarence Greever, who presided at the Sunday afternoon meeting, suggested the new gallery would be the scene of several exhibits this year, including those of Fred Rubens, C. M. Brandon and Mr. LeDoux of the MTSC staff and the spring exhibit of "Young Artists" at the college.

Dillon Is Named Vets Commander

James Dillion of Covington, Virginia, has been named commander of the MTSC Veterans Club. He succeeds Maurice Massey of Dixon Springs. Dillion is a business administration major and now makes his home in Murfreesboro.

Other officers are George Hardy, Columbia, vice-commander; Peter F. Robbins, Martinsville, Virginia, secretary, and Clyde Dutton, Wattertown, treasurer.

The club this year has 83 members, although the total veteran enrollment in the college is down almost one half from the more than 400 veterans here last year.

"Every branch of knowledge which a good man possesses, he may apply to some good purpose."

Wesley Foundation Sponsors Hayride

By Louise Sullivan

A hayride to the Cedars of Lebanon State Park was sponsored by the Wesley Foundation, MTSC Methodist organization, on October 20.

The group left Rutledge Hall at 5:00 on Tuesday afternoon. After arriving at the park, they roasted hot dogs and marshmallows and later sat around the fire and sang songs.

Construction starts this week on two new wings adjacent to Monahan Hall which will accommodate 220 additional women students.

Baptist Convention Will Begin October 30 At First Church, Nashville

By Jerry Smothers

The Baptist Student Convention has been slated for October 30 to November 1 this year, a date somewhat earlier than that of previous years.

The convention, which will be at First Baptist Church in Nashville, provides three days of fellowship, fun, and spiritual guidance.

Many outstanding speakers, including some students, will be featured along with BSU choirs. Transportation for MTSC students wishing to go will be provided.

Hollie Sharpe, a member of the MTSC business department faculty, was the speaker for the Tuesday night secretaries' meeting at State Farm Insurance Company.

Deadline Announced For Wilson Fellowships

Dr. Richard Peck, chairman of the selection for the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation for MTSC, has announced that October 31 will be the closing date for 1959 applications for college students.

The grants, designed for college graduates in the natural and social sciences and the humanities who plan to become college teachers, offer tuition, fees and $1,500 for either men or women students. One thousand first year of graduate study fellowships are offered each year. Applicants must be nominated by the college faculty and are then screened by the regional selective committee.

Miss Virginia Derryberry and Miss Jean Adamson have been MTSC winners in recent years. Miss Derryberry is now serving on the MTSC faculty in the English department.

Maid Of Cotton Is Now Sought

The cotton industry begins looking this month for the young beauty who, as 1960 Maid of Cotton, will open an international tour in Washington, D.C., in late January.

The National Cotton Council reports that the high light of the Maid's stay in the nation's capital will be a formal reception and fashion show attended by representatives, senators, and other high government officials.

Following her appearance in Washington, the cotton industry's 22nd fashion and good will representative will make a coast-to-coast tour of the United States. She will also visit key Canadian and leading European cities to be announced later.

Twenty finalists will be named to compete in the 1960 Maid of Cotton contest in Memphis, Tennessee, December 29 and 30. Immediately after her selection, the winner will depart for New York where she will be outfitted in her all-cotton wardrobe styled by the nation's top designers. The first showing of her new wardrobe will take place on January 21 at the Waldorf-Astoria.

To be eligible to enter the Maid of Cotton contest, a girl must have been born in one of the 18 cotton-producing states and must never have been married. She must be between the ages of 19 and 25 and must be at least five feet, five inches tall.

Official entry blanks may be obtained from the Pat Turner, Box 137, MTSC, or National Cotton Council, Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tennessee.

STUDENT TEACHING DEADLINE

Deadline for applications for secondary student teaching for the spring semester has been set as October 30. These applications were due the spring quarter of last school year.

Applications will be dated as received in the student teaching office; and priority and choice in teaching assignments, whenever possible, will be given on this basis.

Application forms may be secured from the student teaching office, room 117A, and the education office, room 118A.
