State Makes Changes In Certification

By Henrietta Medlock
State Department of Education
Information Offices

"The changes which will have occurred during these five years are the most significant ones made in certification since 1925, when the state legislature revised the 1909 and 1913 laws governing the licensing of public school teachers and administrators," according to Dr. Quill E. Cope, state education commissioner.

"One of the most notable changes is the requirement that future teachers, supervisors and superintendents show that 60 quarter hours (about one-third of their college work) was done in solid academic subjects which provide a board foundation for teaching," explained A. B. Cooper, state director of certification.

"These required 60 hours are basic," Cooper stressed. "Elementary teachers must have an additional 39 hours in subjects taught in grades 1-9 and high school teachers must have 18 to 63 additional hours in each subject for which they seek a license to teach."

Old Certificates Not Affected

The new basis does not affect certificates that were issued under laws and regulations which were in effect in 1951, when the General Assembly provided for a revision in certification requirements.

Nor will the new requirements affect applicants who began college before Sept. 1, 1953, AND receive their bachelors degrees before next September. Certificates will be issued to these applicants under laws and regulations in effect in 1951.

All applicants who began college after September 1, 1953, or who receive their bachelors degrees after next August must present the required credits in three divisions: 60 quarter hours in basic subjects; 36 quarter hours in professional education, and the specified additional hours in the subject matter of the grades or areas to be taught. Students will have a remaining 30 to 45 quarter hours for electives.

The base of 60 hours is to be in six areas: English, humanities (music, art, philosophy, foreign languages etc.), science, social studies, mathematics and "health, physical education and personal development and social living."

Thirteen Girls From MTSC Will House New Building

By Helen Sikes

Thirteen entries for the Jaycee-sponsored Miss Murfreesboro contest are from Middle Tennessee State College, heading a list totaling eighteen girls from both the college and Central High School.

Entrants from Murfreesboro Central are Judy Allman, Kathleen Brock, Martha Halliburton, Linda Hunt, and Shirley Nixon.

All girls entering the contest will be competing for the title now being held by Shirley Pogue, an MTSC student who won the contest last year.

Also at stake is the right to compete in the Miss Tennessee contest at Jackson, which is the next step toward Miss America honors.

Past Professor Of MTSC English Dies In Alabama

Miss Anne Knott Ordway, 68, professor of English at Middle Tennessee State College at Murfreesboro for 18 years, died at her Birmingham home.

Miss Ordway had been in poor health for nearly two years.

A native of Auburn, Ala., she was reared in Murfreesboro, the daughter of C. F. and Mary Brown Ordway. She was a graduate of the University of Chicago.

She taught in Murfreesboro schools for many years and was professor of English at MTSC from 1927 to 1945, and at Ward Belmont College, Nashville, from 1945 until 1951.

She was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Newest proposed addition to the Middle Tennessee State College campus will be the Fine Arts Building, plans for which have been completed by John Charles Wheeler, architect.

President Q. M. Smith stated that the college would likely ask for bids on the structure about May 15.

The 30,700 square foot, three story building will house the art and music departments. It will be constructed of reinforced concrete with painting and design laboratories, art studios, class rooms, art exhibition gallery, music studios, practice rooms, music listening room, and music library. The building is expected to cost about $365,000, fully equipped.

One story wings flanking the main structure are designed for band and choral work.

The exterior of the building will be brick and limestone with three colorful terra cotta plaques under the portico, at the main entrance, depicting arts and crafts. There is also provided, on each of the flanking wings, a stone backdrop for the future addition of sculpture.

This building is designed to give the student an appreciation of the use of art in architecture. The architect is John Charles Wheeler of Nashville. Mr. Wheeler, an alumnus of MTSC, has been the architect for other MTSC buildings.

The building portico will change from the recent modern front to present a four 1-columned portico similar to earlier buildings on the campus.

The building will be located on a line with Jones Hall and face west. The frame infirmary building will be torn away and the infirmary moved to more suitable quarters adjacent the student housing area.

Smith Hall Additions

Construction on the two new wings of Smith Hall is expected to begin in the immediate future. "We are ready to go," President Q. M. Smith stated this week. The James A. Baker Construction Company of Nashville were the low bidders on the project, which will add accommodations for 208 men.

The bid of $489,000 includes furnishings that are to be built in, with the exception of chairs.

Drill Team Defends Title At Vanderbilt

The Sam Davis Drill Team of the Military Department of Middle Tennessee State College, defending state champions from last year, were among the teams from several Tennessee colleges Friday, April 18, at the annual Vanderbilt University ROTC Drill Team Meet at Vanderbilt's Dudley Field.

MTSC placed third in the com-pets drill at Vandy.

Under the command of Cadet Major Ronald E. McRady, the MTSC unit is composed of the following cadets.

Morris D. Anderson, Assistant Drill Team Commander, Bobby G. Bates, Billy S. Bennett, George E. Bradley, Charles E. Bryson, James D. Cole, Clariss M. Cook, Roger L. Crownover, Joe Dickens, Shirley M. Ditter, James Earls, Billy Joe Harvey, Tommy M. Hight, Raymond E. Hunter, Gary J. Hurt, Jerry K. Kirshner, James Lucinski, Eddie Perkins, Billy G. Philpott, Edward G. Porterfield, Gerald M. Pruitt, Jacky C. Rogers, Carrington Saunders, James Shields, Sam Shields, Gerald Shutters, Bill R. Sigler, David L. Smotherman, and James E. Tate.

The Sam Davis Drill Team will be seeking the State Crown for the second year in succession.

Last year the MTSC Drill Team went on to parade in the world famous Cotton Festival at Memphis, Tennessee. Only a few of the select drill teams over the South are invited to perform in what is called by many, one of the largest and most colorful carnivals in the United States.

Starring in the Buchanan Players' spring quarter comedy, "My Three Angels," are "convicts" Garie Taylor, Guerry Teeple and Jerry Williamson. The play will be presented April 30 and May 1 in the college auditorium.

Prospective Teachers Must Maintain "B" Average

"College students may get the best of liberal arts training at Middle Tennessee State College if they elect to do so," Q. M. Smith, president of Middle Tennessee State, declared Saturday morning.

The statement was made in answer to an inquiry relative to the charges made by critics that teacher colleges are concentrating too heavily on theory and neglecting content.

"The challenge should not be hurled at the colleges," Mr. Smith declared. "Rather it should be charged to those who lack the intellectual courage to take a real college program. The free election of courses has resulted from public demand—not the desire of the college leadership," he continued.

No Demand For Hard Courses
As a case in point, Mr. Smith pointed out that MTSC removed college Latin from the catalog "after five years in which courses were offered and we had no takers". This was true of other courses in the humanities that were one time part and parcel of any liberal arts college requirement for a degree.

"The public", emphasized Mr. Smith, "is getting what it is forcing the teachers to give. The majority will not tolerate the pressures that teachers must place on their sons and daughters in order to attain true scholastic accomplishment".

As advertising has advocated the "lighter and easier" methods to the consumer, so has the public come to believe that there is a "quick and easy" method of acquiring a college education, he stated.

"Real" Degree Possible
A degree representing real achievement is not only possible but in increasing demand at Middle Tennessee State, Mr. Smith believes. "Teaching here is done by a faculty of recognized scholastic ability and with adequate equipment", he said. Only one fourth of the work towards a degree may be taken in the field of education, he pointed out. All students attaining a degree must have the equivalent of two years work in English, two in the social studies (including American history and government) and two in the sciences.

For certification to teach grades 1-9 in Tennessee 36 quarter hours

(the equivalent of one three hour course for each of twelve quarters) of professional education, must be offered. In addition certain courses in art, mathematics and music must be completed. No major in education is required for a secondary certificate without elementary endorsement. "The emphasis is largely on content on the secondary level", Mr. Smith stated.

College For All
A corollary incident to the Gallup Poll survey of American reaction to college offerings has been the insistence by a sizeable portion of the American public that a college education should be made available to all Americans. To this President Smith agrees.

"The college should not deny to any individual who graduates from an accredited high school the opportunity to attend college," he said. "We are criticized that we have 30 per cent of our college age top five per cent are English and European colleges. I believe that our top five per cent do as well as the same group in Europe and American society is abundantly rewarded by the achievement of the others", he concluded.

In a story by June Carter, April 8, the Nashville Tennessean quoted Dean N. C. Beasley as saying that prospective teachers graduated from Middle Tennessee State must maintain a "B" average.

Two-Third Class Certified
Two thirds of the 456 members of the senior class for 1958 will qualify for certificate.

Dr. Quill Cope, state commissioner of education, stated, "Tennessee is ahead of some states on what is being done. I think we are basically sound in our program".

Dr. Cope called attention to the revision of teacher certification requirements, details of which are carried in another story in this week's SIDELINES.

W. E. Lowe, principal of Nashville Central and MTSC graduate stated that teachers should have more experience as practice teachers.

Herman DePriest, another MTSC alumnus and principal at Madison high school was quoted as saying many "college professors have been in college so long they don't know how much difference there is in high schools now as compared to 20 years ago."

Lying Lyons

By Dottie McQuiddy and Dorcas Gunter

All eyes in Lyon have been blinded by the dazzle of the rings of Barbara Hall and Janet Lewis. Best wishes are in order for these two lucky girls.

The birthday of Carol Smith was celebrated recently with a surprise birthday party. Those attending were Jimmie Sue Elam, Joann Stewart, Mary Ann Frey, Carolyn McClanahan, Judy Bargatze and Judy Kimble. The refreshments served were sandwiches, ice cream, and a cake. Carol was presented with a lovely pink blouse.

Recently Lyon's representative to the girls' dormitory council was elected. This girl was chosen for her honor, integrity, high scholastic average, and her fairness. Nominees were Mary Ann Frey, Freda Short, Dottie McQuiddy, and Nancy Johnson. The girl who was elected to the responsible position was Nancy Johnson. Nancy is a very capable and well-liked girl, and everyone at Lyon wishes her lots of success.

A sort of "good-by" party was given last Wednesday night by Lyon Hall. It was decided to give this party early instead of waiting till the end of the quarter. Refreshments of hotdogs, cokes, cookies, and candy were served. Next a wide display of talent made up the program. Guerry Teeple played several selections on the piano. Peggy Jernigan sang four songs, accompanied by Guerry, and was called back for an encore. Jane Garthwaite danced, Bonnie Hudgens did a pantomime, and a mock television show was put on. The three hostesses of Lyon, Janet Lewis, Joyce Russell, and Rebecca Swafford, were presented with gifts from the girls in the dorm. Then the Lyon Hall chorus, directed by Bonnie Hudgens and featuring Dot Hunter, sang a sentimental song to close the program. This party, although a few tears were shed, was enjoyed by all.

Misses Vick And Wakefield Are Presented In Recital

The Music Department of Middle Tennessee State College presented in recital Miss Shirley Vick on the trumpet and Miss Dorothy Wakefield, pianist, at 8:00 p.m. Saturday, April 19, 1958. The recital culminated major-applied work and was presented in partial fulfillment of a bachelor of science degree with a major in music.

Miss Vick, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Vick of Nashville, was graduated from Isaac Litton High School. She has been a participant in the Nashville Youth Orchestra and has studied trumpet with Del Murphy, Sammy Swor, Dr. John Colbert, and Horace Beasley. She performed the Orchestra, and Brass Ensemble. She is a member of Tau Omicron, honorary society for women, NEA and MENC.

Miss Wakefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Wakefield, Shelbyville, Tennessee, is a graduate of Central High School in Shelbyville and attended Shorter College in Rome, Georgia, before transferring to MTSC. She has been a student of Mrs. John Huffman, Mrs. Ortrun Gilbert, Mrs. Kathleen Rhodes, Mrs. Charlotte MacMannamon, and Dr. Philip Howard.

Her performance included two sixteenth century harpsichord pieces; Prelude in F Minor, J. S.

MISS VICK

MISS WAKEFIELD

Purcell, Sonata in G Minor; Bach, Prelude No. 5; Wal-Berg, Concerts; Morton Gould's "Paranne" from American Symphonette No. 2; and the Stravinsky "Dance of the Ballerina" from the Petrouckka Suite. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ortrun Gilbert and Mr. Joseph Smith.

In college, Miss Vick has participated in the M.T.S.C. Band, Chorus, Bach; The Harmonious Blacksmith, Handel; Intermezzo Opus 117, and Rhapsodie Opus 119, Brahms; a movement from Sonata No. 3, Norman Dello Jaio; La Soiree d'us Grenade and the Minstrels Prelude of Debussy.

Miss Wakefield has participated in the college band, orchestra and chorus. She holds student membership in the American Society.

Airmen Lead Double Lives

Two recent articles in the Sewart Carrier, air base newspaper, recognize the work of several airmen who lead double lives—collegians and airmen.

The first article concerned three men, A/1C William D. Fraling, A/2C Richard Zlaket and A/1C Conrad F. Meier, who combined night shift work on the base with fulltime daytime student life at MTSC.

Airman Fraling has since proceeded to the University of Wisconsin where he is majoring in chemistry. At present Airman Zlaket is on duty which prevents him from attending classes, and Meier has switched from photography and journalism to pre-law.

A more recent article concerns A/2C Edward Newbould, a freshman, who is a pre-engineering student.

A check of the spring quarter rolls show two other full time students, A/2C Andre B. A. Duhaime and A/2C Clarence T. Paulson. Duhaime has been a night class student until he was transferred to night duty which gave him a chance to become a fulltime MTSC freshman. He immediately adapted to the student life by coming out and making the MTSC tennis team.

Several other Sewart personnel are meeting night classes. Among them are CWO W2 Joseph P. Perine, M Sgt. John C. Friend, M Sgt. John J. Moos; T Sgt. James T. Skinner (who is taking nine hours); S Sgt. Sylvester T. VanHandle and A/2C James R. Via. At least one of these, Sergeant Moos, holds a college degree.

Airmen must first make arrangements with the Base education office for this combination service-college program. The Air Force then pays 2-3 of the fees; the rest of the expenses, including books and supplies, are paid for by the airman.

Passenger cars were involved in over 78 percent of all U. S. traffic fatalities in 1957 and in 86 percent of traffic injuries.

Beginning this month, the Mennen Company, a leading manufacturer of men's toiletries, will give $25 for each college cartoon situation submitted by a college student and used in its new series of advertisements appearing in this newspaper.

These cartoons feature "Smedley," a forlorn-looking collegian who is always shown getting the brushoff because he doesn't use Mennen Spray Deodorant.

Students wishing to enter the contest should send a sketch or description of their cartoon idea to the Mennen Company, in care of "Smedley," Morristown, New Jersey, along with their name, address, and college.

Along The Sidelines

Roy V. Crabtree

Spring sports are well underway now, and from the looks of things so far, all sports are coming along fine. Coach Patty's golf team is setting the pace with an undefeated record of 5-0.

Raider golfers have polished off Indiana State College twice, University of Chattanooga, Tennessee Tech, and Sewanee, Marty Graham took the spotlight this past week in the match with Sewanee as he shot a seven under par to break the Stones River Country Club course record previously held by teammate, David "Doc" Tant, who shot a five under par last year. Tant broke Wink Midgett's record of four under par. Mr. Midgett was the first coach of golf here at the college and was fortunate at that time to have the present Raider coach playing on this club.

Track Team Boasts Two Wins

Coach Joe Black Hayes' track team members have come into their own in their last two meets, downing Tennessee Tech 65-57 and stopping undefeated David Lipscomb 76 1/2 to 54 1/2. They now boast a record of 2-1, since they lost the opening meet against Murray State, 62 1/2 to 59 1/2, with the final event of the meet deciding the victor.

Ray Purvis, better known for his baseball and football ability, has shown tremendous interest in running the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and the times registered for him in these events rank the ghost among the top performers in the OVC. Marvin Jinnette broke the OVC record in the broad jump with a 22'3" jump against Murray State, but it wasn't official because records can only be set in conference meets.

Captain Ed Carson has almost recovered from an injured ankle received during spring football, and at the present time, Ed has shown his traditional form in winning the high and low hurdles.

Tennis Team Smashes TPI

Coach E. O. Hawkins' tennis team accomplished a feat that hasn't occurred in many a moon, as his tennis team smashed Tennessee Tech 8-1 in the spring opener.

Baseball, at the present time, is the only spring sport team to not register a victory; but as the season progresses, look out for Coach Buck Rolman's Raiders to win their share of the tilts.

Tennis Team Takes One, Loses Two

The Middle Tennessee State tennis team topped Tennessee Tech 8 to 1 here recently.

The Raiders won all six of the individual matches and two of the three doubles.

This was the opening match of the season for Coach E. O. Hawkins netmen.

Carl Anderson (MTSC) beat Ted Fore (TPI) 6-4, 7-5; Mack Horton (MTSC) beat Earl Pardue (TPI), 4-6, 7-5, 6-1; Andrea Duhaime (MTSC) beat Buck Jones (TPI) 6-3, 6-0; Bill Moser (MTSC) beat Jim Quinley (TPI), 6-2, 6-2; Glen Shirley (MTSC) beat Paul Gross (TPI), 6-1, 6-1; Tom Paulson (MTSC) beat Allen Herron (TPI), 6-0, 6-0; Sells-Fore (TPI) beat Paulson, Horton (MTSC), 6-3, 7-5; Anderson-Moser (MTSC) beat Bob Harris-McGehee (TPI), 6-1, 6-1; Hallum, Shirley (MTSC) beat Reed-McGurrie (TPI), 6-0, 6-0.

Sewanee Loss

MTSC tennis team suffered its second defeat of the season at the hands of Sewanee as they took 9 straight matches to down the Raiders 9-0.

Jack Thompson beat Charles Anderson 6-4, 6-2 in the top singles match, and Grey Smith and Pete Stewart took the measure of Anderson and Bill Moser in the No. 1 doubles, 6-3, 6-4.

The Raider's record now stands at 1/2 as they downed Tennessee Tech 8-1 and lost to East Tennessee State and Sewanee.

Singles

Jack Thompson (S) beat Max Anderson 6-4, 6-2; Bill Mark (S) beat Mac Horton 7-5, 9-7; Grey Smith (S) beat Bill Moser 6-1, 6-2; Jim Lockwood (S) beat Tom Paulson 6-3, 4-6, 6-2; Mike Wood (S) beat Andre Duhaime 6-3, 6-0; Bob Haire (S) beat Glen Shirley 8-6, 6-1.

Doubles

Noted Author Visits MTSC; Addresses 562 Librarians

Mrs. Rosomond deJardin, noted Chicago author of leading teenage fiction, was the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Middle Tennessee Association of Student Library Assistants held at Middle Tennessee State College, Thursday. Five hundred and sixty two boys and girls representing 61 high schools in the Mid-State area were present. Mrs. duJardin reviewed her experiences as a writer, repeating the familiar formula that a successful writer learns to write by writing.

Clara Armstrong, Hickman county Central high school, was elected president of the Association, succeeding Bonita Bratcher of Centertown high school. Other officers elected were Anna Jordan, Lebanon, secretary; Joyce Fesmire, David Lipscomb high school, treasurer; Freta Nelson, East Robertson, reporter; and Beverly McDonald, Nashville, Cumberland high school, vice-president.

Retiring officers, in addition to Miss Bratcher are Genelle Hager, David Lipscomb, secretary; Louise Clairborn, East Robertson, treasurer and Pauline Phillips, Hume Fogg, reporter.

Mrs. Charles Forgy, librarian at Winchester; Mrs. Annie Laurie Wiley, Madison high school; Miss Mary Blair Fielder, Hohenwald; Miss Cecil Elliott, Du Pont high school and Mrs. Maude Lewis Blair, Rockvale, were in charge of discussion groups covering a variety of topics related to the work of the school library.

Mrs. duJardin, the author of five adult fiction books, left that field to begin a series of teen-age girl fiction works that have been translated into Swedish, Italian and Japanese. "We receive many letters expressing thanks for these books from girls in other countries", Mrs. duJardin said. "They reveal a wholesome, normal facet of the life of the American girls."

"Practically Seventeen" was the first of Mrs. duJardin works in this field. This was published in 1949, and is now in its twelfth printing. Her latest in the series is "Senior Prom". Domestic sales of her books average between 75,000 and 100,000 each year she said.

ROTC Is Given Annual Federal Inspection

Colonel Paul A. Ray, accompanied by Lt. Colonel Warren H. Stutler completed the annual Federal Inspection, April 8, at Middle Tennessee State College.

Colonel Ray and Lt. Colonel Stutler covered all aspects of the Department of Military Science, viewing classroom activities and observing the cadets in action on the drill field. Many other aspects of the ROTC program were inspected during the two-day observation, including the ROTC Flight Program, which is conducted by Miller Lanier at the Murfreesboro Airport.

Company E of the second Battalion, commanded by Cadet Captain Walter R. Hayes, was chosen as the best company of the year by Colonel Ray and his associates.

A parade was highlighted by the Sam Davis Drill Team, as they went through their usual sequences for the visiting officers. In previous years the drill team has compiled numerous honors and awards to their credit.

Certification - - -

certification are divided into three parts: 1) about 18 hours in such subjects as educational psychology, philosophy, history, sociology and tests and measurements; 2) about 12 hours in materials and methods of teaching, and 3) at least a six-hour "internship" as a practice teacher.

The additional required hours varies with the subjects to be taught. For instance, teachers of economics must have 18 quarter hours in the subject; English, 45; Latin, 36; mathematics, 27; biology, 24; social studies, 54; public school music, 54, and instrumental music, 63.

Other Changes Noted

1. Making the bachelors degree a requirement for all professional certificates, thus increasing by two years the amount of college required for elementary teachers.

2. Instead of specifying the number of hours required in specific courses, the rules and regulations specify the total hours required in a subject or area and describe the general knowledge that the student should acquire . . . leaving to the college or university the decision as to the length of time needed.

3. Establishment of a teacher-education framework that can be adapted to changing needs of the schools. A college or university may change its teacher-education program on approval of the State Board of Education.

4. A provision for a college-trained person without the prescribed professional education credits to receive a two-year certificate IF he has enough credits in the subject matter he is to teach and has at least one-sixth of the prescribed 36 hours in professional education. The holder of this certificate is on the same state salary scale as are teachers with the required professional education.

5. A provision to limit a teaching permit (issued to the superintendent for employment of an uncertified teacher) to the period of time during a school year that a qualified teacher is not available for employment.

6. The establishment of an advisory council on teacher education and certification. This council, by 1951 law, is to make continuous study of problems and to give advice to the state board.

The 1951 General Assembly transferred to the State Board of Education the authority and responsibility for regulating and issuing certificates. Previously, this authority was vested in the education commissioner except in regard to superintendents' certificates, which since 1895 were issued by the state board.

Starting in 1953, the issuance of all former types of certificates was stopped and new types were issued . . . but issued on the basis of 1951 requirements. It is assumed that most of the 1958 graduates began college after Sept. 1, 1953, and, therefore, that certificate applicants from the 1958 class will come under the revised rules and regulations.

Speech Arts Win Again

Lane Boutwell, director of speech at Middle Tennessee State College, was elected Governor of the Southeastern Province of Pi Kappa Delta, forensic fraternity, at the annual convention and tournament at Wake Forrest, April 12. Mr. Boutwell succeeds Dr. Franklin Shirley of Wake Forrest, who was filling out the interim term of Dr. Kaiser of Lenoir Rhyne.

Mr. Boutwell will serve for a two year period and will represent the Southeastern Province at the national convention in Bowling Green, Ohio, next year.

Jean Adamson continued to add to her honors as the number one woman speaker in the South by being rated as superior in extemporaneous speaking and in individual debate at the Carolina tournament last week. Again teaming with her sister Joyce, Miss Adamson also helped MTSC win the cup for the superior women's debate team. The sisters lost only one round in the highly competitive

PKD tournament. John Champlain went to the finals again in the men's original oratory but failed to win.
