Play Rehearsals Underway; 'Macbeth' Also Presented

By June Carole Vickery

Mrs. Dorethe Tucker, director of The Man Who Came to Dinner, has reported that rehearsals are well under way.

The well-rounded cast causes quite a commotion on stage. A mummy-case made by Mr. Wilson of the education department plays a very important part and also captures, for a short time, a very lovely lady. The donor of the mummy-case has himself appeared in the production of The Man Who Came to Dinner and is making other contributions to the present sensation.

The presentation is scheduled for April 26 and 27, and tickets will go on sale this week. Tickets will be given to students upon presenting their ID cards and to faculty members paying fifty cents.

On March 4, the cutting of Macbeth prepared by A. W. Powell was performed in McMinnville at City High School.

The characters included narrator, Dick Schooman; King Duncan, Roger Wilkerson; Macbeth, A. W. Powell; Lady Macbeth, Agnes Carlson; Banquo, Kent Brigsby; Seyton, Tag McMillan, and Porter, Scottie Ward.

The three witches were Johanna Kemper, Ann Petty and Betsy Sims.

After the presentation, the group and director, Mrs. Dorethe Tucker, toured the high school and were treated to lunch.

The group will again go on tour in May, when they will present Macbeth in Pulaski at Martin Junior College.

Pack, Gillen, Harrell Nominated For Head Of Associated Student Body For 1961-62

By Kenneth Love

MTSC students will go to the polls Thursday to elect a student to the highest honor for a junior—that of being elected president of the ASB for the next year.

Three students had the honor of being nominated in assembly last Thursday. They are Bill Pack of Manchester, Pat Gillen of Dover, New Hampshire, and Charlie Harrell of Woodbury.

Nominees for vice-president are Linda Sue Reeves of Murfreesboro, Charlene Bentley of Lebanon, and Barbara Williams of Chattanooga.

Pack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pack and is a combined math and social science major. He is a Baptist and a member of the Booster Club.

Gillen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Gillen and a combined history and economics major. He is the past president of the State Newman Club and is vice-president of the junior class.

Harrell is the son of Mrs. J. M. Youngblood and is justice of the Supreme Court. He is the Booster club and Veterans president. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Circle K Club.

Nominated to serve as chairman of the social activities and preside over Congress was Linda Sue Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reeves of Murfreesboro. She is a member of the "Sidelines" staff and Tau Omicron and has been a cheerleader for the past two years.

Charlene Bentley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bentley of Lebanon, is a math and home economics major and president of the home economics club. Charlene is also a member of Kappa Omicron Phi and Tau Omicron.

Barbara Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Williams of Chattanooga, is a graduate of Chattanooga City High and is a member of the Sidelines staff and secretary of the junior class.

PARDON OUR SLIP

A Sidelines news story of April 5 erroneously attributed the execution of the proposed new MTSC banner to Charles Hughes. The design for the flag was actually executed by Charles Massey, Jr., an art major from Lebanon.

Alpha Pi Chapter, Kappa Omicron, Enrolls Eight Girls

Alpha Pi Chapter of Kappa Omicron Phi has recently enrolled eight new members.

Pledged at the Home Living Center were Emma Jean Walden, Melba Messer, Jean Henderson, Carolyn Callis, Julia Stenson, Elizabeth Moss, Margaret Vaughn and Virginia Warner.

All of these girls are home economics majors and show evidence of high scholastic ability, superior personal qualities and potentialities of leadership.

These girls were initiated in the living room at the home economics department. A breakfast was served in the dining room for the old and new members and the faculty sponsors, Mrs. Lucille Estes, Miss Helen Stevens and Miss Mary Carr Haynie.

Immediately after initiation, the officers for the school year 1961-62 were installed by the president, Mary Elizabeth Walling.

New officers include president, Susan Dearing; 1st vice-president, Janice Bullion; 2nd vice-president, Faye Burton; recording secretary, Charlene Bentley; corresponding secretary, Emma Jean Walden; treasurer, Faye Delay; distaff reporter, Melba Messer; guard, Jean Hen-

Senior Exhibit Of Art Work Is Displayed

By Sandra Talley

MTSC's art department is presenting a series of senior art exhibitions in the gallery on second floor of the Fine Arts Building.

Gallery hours are 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. Each exhibit is in place approximately one week.

The first exhibit in this series was a showing from March 28 through April 7 by Jere Lamar Chumley. The majority of Jere's paintings are expressionistic. The paintings are for sale.

The second exhibition, a two-man show, consisted of paintings by Howard Hull and Bob Barham shown from April 9 through 19.

The final showing of this group, paintings and sculpture by Bob Hollingsworth, will be on view from April 20 through May 1.

The student exhibitions are prerequisite to graduation. They are the culmination of four years of art training of the students.

Much of the work shows that the students have reached a level of some professional excellence and have developed a personal method of working.

The annual student art exhibition will be on view during the month of May.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR - - - Interested In Peace Corps?

To the Editor:

Peace Corps headquarters has mailed volunteer questionnaires to the presidents of 2,000 colleges and universities for campus distribution.

Students who have written to the Peace Corps or to the President to volunteer will automatically receive questionnaires direct from Washington.

Questionnaires can also be obtained by writing to Congressmen, to Senators, or to the Peace Corps, Washington 25, D. C.

They are also available at local Post Offices and will be distributed by the United States Department of Agriculture Directors of State Agricultural Extension Services for relay to their county agents.

The questionnaire is four pages long. It asks 28 questions. It also asks the potential volunteer to list references. An explanatory sheet is attached.

The questionnaire was prepared by the Peace Corps staff with the advice of recruiting and questionnaire specialists from government, business, labor, private educational exchange agencies and universities.

Students at Howard University (Washington, D. C.) and Wakefield High School (Arlington, Virginia) were asked to fill it out as a test of its effectiveness before final form was approved.

The questionnaire asks the potential volunteer for the following kinds of information: education, job experience, proficiency in languages, technical skills, availability for Peace Corps service, special foreign area knowledge, health, military service, avocations, hobbies and athletic participation, organizational activity and leadership, and geographical preference for assignment.

Hey, Gang—Let's Vote!

To the Editor:

In the weeks to come the students at MTSC will elect the ASB, class and club officers that serve them in the coming school year.

I feel that too few of my fellow freshmen realize the importance of exercising their right to vote, and I would like to urge each student to make use of this privilege.

I would also urge them to try judging near future officers on the grounds of qualifications and not simply on personality.

And the election this week — all students make up the ASB. It's your duty to vote.

World's Richest Man Offers Advice To College Men, Executive Aspirants

Three lessons for business executives and college men aspiring to be such are given by the world's richest man writing in the April issue of Playboy Magazine.

J. Paul Getty, seven-fold billionaire, recounting his own mistakes of earlier years, says they are: (1) inability to distinguish between what is fact and what is opinion; (2) being frightened by signs of slowdowns or setbacks after a well-planned and organized program has been launched; and (3) unwillingness to take risks.

While outlining what he considers "some of the glaring errors made by today's young businessmen, and, for that matter, by American business firms and American business as a whole," Getty scores mid-Twentieth Century corporations' fondness for administrative overhead.

"The modern business mania is to build great and ever greater paper-shuffling empires," he declares, "Many business firms employ battalions of super-specialized executives, reinforce them with regiments of office-working drones, give them all grandiloquent titles—and then mire them down in bottomless quagmires of forms, reports, memoranda, 'studies' and 'surveys.'"

"Thus," he says, "It is hardly surprising that so many young men start their business careers with the idea that 'administration' is not only the tail that wags the whole business dog, but that it is, in itself, the whole animal. These young men will spend half their time trying to find out what they're doing through studies and surveys, then spend the other half informing each other about what—if anything—they've learned through the media of committee meetings and interoffice memoranda."

While businessmen should delegate authority, they should not relegate it, Getty says. "I suppose it's natural for an executive or a man who owns a business to feel that he should take things as easily as possible. That's human nature—but it's hardly good business.

"A businessman should delegate authority—he must, in fact, for no one man can be everywhere and do everything. But he must also remember that the final responsibility is his—and thus, he should always retain final authority," he adds.

Finally, Getty scores U.S. businessmen's "growing habit of pampering themselves—complaining that they're overworked and constantly laboring under 'terrific strain and tension.' They flaunt their real or imagined ailments—particularly their ulcers—as badges of honor. They spend huge amounts of time and money on medical checkups, cardiograms, X rays, and tests and examinations of every conceivable kind.

"Nothing could be more nonsense."

Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. —(Matt. 6:12).

The more we let God's love reign in us and forgive through us, the more we come to see that there is less and less to forgive. We come to see that the only need is to love.

It Happened On Campus

By Kenneth Love

An invitation is extended to all students to attend the play to be given Wednesday and Thursday of next week in the auditorium. It is The Man Who Came to Dinner, a three-act comedy directed by our own Mrs. Dorothea Tucker. Assistant director is Carolyn Benson.

Bruce Hancock has the lead role of Sherridan Whiteside, and that beard is still growing.

A host of students participates on stage. Much credit should be given also to the scene-shop workers and others behind the scene.

This week is National Library Week (April 16-24), but the staff announces it will not stay open late until May.

Mr. Dillingham of the social science department made the statement that "A great many people live until they die," a slip of the tongue, we think. He was discussing a lecture on dope and liquor. Humorous, I thought.

We congratulate Mr. Horace Beasley on the fine production of the band concert at the assembly last Thursday. The jazz number at the end added just the right touch to receive all the speeches by the candidates nominated.

MTSC has a problem that all candidates for the high office of president agree upon. That is school spirit. Much has been said on this topic by all candidates and their predecessors. What can these students do that others have not tried to do? It depends largely on the individual -- does he have the necessary spirit or is he coming to school just for "book-learning"?

One of the main points emphasized by a candidate was to "Go to the polls and vote." Only a small fraction of the total students will take the time to go to the Terrace Room or the Administration Building and vote. It is a privilege to vote -- exercise your privilege.

"What a night to remember," was the comment of several students after attending the annual ROTC Ball on April 7. The theme was a Southern Mansion Garden Party with the Glenn Miller orchestra playing. They were located on the front porch, and the couples danced in the lawn with the water fountain in the center of the floor.

Dr. Bealer Smotherman and his crew at the ball made over 400 photographs of couples present. Less than a week and all were ready. It will take some students 4 months to pick them up. "We still have some photos left from last year's event not picked up," he said. Helping him were Mr. Harold Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daw.

Vandy Edges Raiders 5-4 In Three-Run Sixth Inning

Vanderbilt University used a three-run sixth inning to defeat MTSC 5 to 4 Saturday, April 8, at McGugin field.

Doug Sigman, lead-off man in the Commodore batting order who had three hits for his team, scored the winning run, which handed Raider hurler Jere Ray the loss.

MTSC scored twice in the opening inning, only to see Vandy come back with two to tie the score. Then Jim Painter, Raider second baseman, hit a home run in the fifth to put MTSC back in front 3 to 2, to set the stage for the big VU sixth.

David Longley survived a rocky first inning and went on to pitch six-hit ball for Vandy to chalk up the victory. In addition to his fine pitching, Longley had three hits in three trips, including a single in the winning rally.

No member of MTSC's team got more than one hit off Longley's slants.

Ray pitched 5 and 2/3 innings, giving up eight hits and five runs. He struck out seven before giving (Continued on Page 8)

Thinlies Take AP, Set School Record

MTSC's track team set a school record in the mile relay April 11 as it rambled to a 98 1/2 to 38 1/2 victory over Austin Peay State College.

The MTSC mile relay team posted a time of 3:32.5 to smash the old mark of 3:32.8 set last year against Western. The mile relay team is composed of Richard Roche, John Dahlgren, Tom Cannon and Frank Halliburton. It was the fourth school mark the track team has set this season.

Dick Swain and Porter Maxwell, both of MTSC, took individual scoring honors with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

The Raiders beat the Governor's on a cold, rain-soaked track at Murfreesboro April 8 by a similar score.

Here are the results:
100-yard dash—Cooper (MT), Watson (MT), Alleyne (AP). Time :10.3.

200-yard dash—Willingham (MT), Whaley (MT), Nichols (AP). Time :23.1.

440-yard dash—Roche (MT), Jent (MT), Sugg (AP). Time —:52.4. (Continued on Page 8)

Thoroughbreds Stop MT; Maxwell Breaks Records

By Ray Bailey

The Murray Thoroughbreds stopped the Raider track team by a 942/3 to 411/3 majority April 4 at Murray.

The Raiders won only four events in the dual meet, but long-winded Porter Maxwell broke a school record he set in the TIAC meet last year in the mile run. The old time was 4:30.7 and against Murray he made the turn in 4:28.1.

Maxwell also won the mile run. Ray Cooper won the 120 high hurdles and Ken Forte won the javelin.

Six Double-Headers Included In 21-Game Baseball Slate

Six double-headers will be included in the Middle Tennessee State 21-game baseball schedule this season. The Blue Raiders meet OVC opponents Murray State, Tennessee Tech and Western Kentucky in home and home double-headers.

Coach Jack Deere, who is in the first season at the helm of Raider baseball, opened his 11-game home schedule with Alma (Mich.) College on the MTSC diamond at 3:00 p.m. April 5.

The Raider roster lists 10 returning lettermen from the 1960 squad. They are Don Tassej (.354), Phil Jones (.333), Moir Hill (.301), Jack Reavis (.269), Johnny Stallings (.333), Ken Russell (.250) and Jim Painter (.220). Returning pitchers include John Stanford and Harold Ford.

Stanford, with an 8-8 pitching record in two seasons, and Ford (1-0), will be boosted with 1959 letterman Conrad Curl, who sat out last season. Other mound help will come from Jere Ray, a transfer from Southeastern Louisiana, and first year men Gilbert Taylor of Bell Buckle, Roger Hedrick of Greenville, Kentucky, Troy Jones of Smithville and Larry Kimsey of Tullahoma.

Position wise, the Blue Raiders should stack up like this:

Pitchers: Good depth with at least 3 starters.

Catchers: Adequate with returning letterman Ken Russell, and newcomers Jerry Pearson and Don Faulk.

First Base: Hitting will be the question here. Letterman Bill Settle is battling with Sam Kerr and Bobby England, a transfer from Martin Junior College for the position.

Second Base: Strong position with letterman Moir Hill in the driver's seat.

Third Base: Good glove men in lettermen Jim Painter and Johnny Stallings.

Short Stop: Should have good hitting from newcomers Louis Alford and Jackie McCauley.

Right Field: Strong Position with returning letterman Don Tassej and freshman Gary Whaley.

Center Field: Hitting will determine this position with letterman Jackie Reavis and Don Miller as candidates.
