342 Students Attend Meeting For Discussion

Biggest Response to a Called Meeting in Years

Committed To Be Appointed To Form for STC

Three hundred and forty-two students voted Tuesday in favor of a form of self-government and designated Charlie Miller, president of the student body, to appoint a committee of students to draw up a constitution on the order of student government. There were no dissenting votes.

Charlie Miller, opening the meeting, stated to the largest group of students ever to respond to a call of their president:

"This meeting was called tonight to determine whether or not the student body is interested in student government. I believe that your presence shows that you are favorable to such a movement."

Then John Bragg, John Paul Gilbert, Everette McIntyre, Kathryn Meadows and Charlie Morton spoke to the assembly.

McIntyre, recent past president of the student body, stated that there was a need for the organization of the students, but there should be no room in the movement for radicalism and antagonism. He further stated that sound thinking and sensible restraint would have to be used before any success could be seen.

Following the short talks, Miller asked for any discussion against the organization of the students. There was no response.

Following the vote, President Miller appointed Katherine Meadows, Jennie Mae Mitchell, and Anna Mary Snell as a committee to write to colleges and universities that employ student government to ask for a copy of their constitutions. These will act as their standards for the formation of constitution at STC.

Sigma Club

The Sigma Club, under their very able sponsor Mr. Neil D. Frazier, met last Wednesday night. Plans for the coming year and general business of the club was discussed.

Mr. Frazier made a most inspiring talk to the eight resident members present.

At the annual club banquet last spring the following members assumed the duties of office for this year: President, John Paul Gilbert; Vice President, Ralph Robinson; Secretary-Treasurer, Hall Harris.

Improvements Made By 70 NYA Students

Since the opening of the Fall Quarter, the appearance of the buildings, playing fields, and other parts of the campus has shown steady improvement. The tennis courts have been cleared of volunteer shrubbery and the fence has been repaired. The alfalfa on the campus is being turned under and blue grass sown. New curtains and shades have been made and much dust removed from unseen corners. This is some of the work being accomplished by the seventy N. Y. A. boys and girls under the supervision of Ruth Allison and Everett McIntire.

The girls are working on projects in sewing, general cleaning, secretarial work, etc. They will also help with the welfare in Rutherford County.

Students on the N. Y. A. are limited to twelve hours of collegework, but they are more than repaid for the loss of hours by the practical knowledge gained on the various projects. Each student is allowed to work one hundred hours a month

Delta Chapter Holds First Meeting, Year's Program Planned

The Delta Chapter of Kappa Delta Gamma, and honorary organization for women teachers, held its first meeting of the year, Friday evening, October 14, at the Williams Tea Room.

Miss Tommie Reynold, Chapter president, presided at the program which followed the dinner. After the yearbooks were distributed, Miss Mary Hall called attention to the year's program which will consist of study of the status of women teachers, collection of entrants to teachers colleges, and teacher tenure.

The Harrison-Thomas-Fletcher Bill was discussed by Misses Hester Rogers and Elizabeth Schardt. Plans were made for the sectional meeting to be held in Nashville, at the Centennial Club, October 27.

Those attending the meeting were: Tommie Reynolds, Mary Frizzell, Mary Hall, Hester Rogers, Elizabeth Schardt, Eva Burkett, E. May Saunders, Ruth Regor, Perry Williamson, Souci Hoover, Anna Mansion King, Jeannette King, Adrena Briney, and Mrs. W. E. Reeves.

The absent members were Christine Vaughan and Ophelia Elan.

Giles Teachers Hear Pres. Smith

Other Faculty Members Have Spoken

President Smith spoke to the Giles County teachers at their regular meeting, October 8, on the state program for the improvement of education.

Within the next two weeks, Miss Margie Mitchell will visit some of the colleges in Virginia to study their practices regarding student activities.

Miss Eva Burkett attended the state meeting of the Workers Association of University Women held in Cookeville, October 14-15. She made a report to the group on the study of the contributions of the Negro to American civilization undertaken by the Murfreesboro branch last year.

Dr. Charles Lewis made a trip to Kentucky October 13-14 and talked to both the Upper Cumberland River Teachers Association at Barberville and to the Lower Cumberland Association at Somerset. His theme on both occasions was "Making Rural Schools Rural."

Halbert Harvill, Commissioner of Education, and John Temple Graves II, editor, author, and lecturer will speak. A portion of this last assembly will be devoted to business and to committee reports.

Dramatic Club Claims Largest Group of Members

With its approximately 70 members, the Dramatic Club continues to hold the distinction of being the largest club on the campus. The club has been divided into five casting groups in order that each member may have a part in the activities of the organization.

In its meeting last Wednesday evening, the club was honored by the presence of Miss Sara Frances McLane who related in an interesting manner the story of her trip last summer to Plymouth, Mass. Since the purpose of her trip was the attending of the National Drama Festival, her talk roved to be very instructive to those interested in dramatics. She told of the work done there in the six-weeks school, and also dramatized a portion of one of the several plays in which she took part while there.

Annual Teachers Meeting Will Be Held October 27

War Memorial Building At Nashville Is Scene of Meeting

Interesting Program Has Been Planned for Members

The annual session of the State Teachers Association will be held in the War Memorial Building at Nashville, beginning Thursday evening, October 27, and concluding at noon on the following Saturday. Superintendent Daly Thompson of the Franklin Public Schools system will preside.

"Our Heritage—What shall We Do With It?" has been chosen as the theme of the meeting.

Dean N. C. Beasley, secretary-treasurer of the association had been instrumental in the arranging of a unique program. It will include addresses by state and national leaders in the field of education, supplemented by the services of well-known musicians and lecturers.

Classes and routine activities of the school will be suspended for the duration of the sessions, and it is expected that many faculty members and students will attend.

The program for Thursday evening, October 27, will be of special interest to those present. Q. M. Smith, president of the Tennessee Education Association, will speak concerning expenditures by the next legislature for educational purposes. Following president Smith, Ben Ames, English adventurer and international Correspondent, will give lecture entitled "Europe Uncensored." It is a graphic account of current European events which hold world-wide significance. Music will be provided by the schools of Nashville.

On Friday morning, October 28, at 10:15 the general sessions will resume with addresses by Lucy Gage, educator, and Jesse Stuart, Kentucky author and poet. Leon Cole, console artists, will have charge of the musical portion of the program.

Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, nationally known pastor and author, will deliver an inspirational address Friday evening at 7:45. Dr. Stockdale is a very interesting speaker. The Fire-side singers will perform under the direction of John Lewis. The final meeting of the general sessions will start at 10:00 a. m. Saturday, October 29.

Halbert Harvill, Commissioner of Education, and John Temple Graves II, editor, author, and lecturer will speak. A portion of this last assembly will be devoted to business and to committee reports.

J. W. Jackson, Former Student, Dies of Injuries

An alumnus of this institution, J. W. Jackson, 24, died last Friday morning in a hospital at Warren, Ohio. The funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church by the Rev. L. S. Sedberry.

It was at first reported that Jackson's death resulted from an operation on a knee injured in football here several years ago. Later communication to his family revealed that he was injured in an accident in the steel corporation yards where he was working and died while taking treatment.

Jackson graduated from STC in August, 1936. During his entire four years here he played football, and at his tackle position he was one of the stalwarts of the team.

After graduation he taught for a year at a Chattanooga high school. From there he went to work for the Republic Steel Corporation where he was employed at the time of his death.

Womens Athletic Assn. Installs Council Officers

At a recent meeting of the Women's Athletic Association the following council officers were installed: Maxine Baker, co-sponsor; Ellie D. Burks, president; Florence Nisbett, vice-president; Margaret Love Bryant, secretary; Eulalia Baker, treasurer; Mary Jane Stem, hiking sponsor; Ione Crosslin, reporter; and Nancy Wysong, freshman representative.

Margaret Wysong and Elizabeth Crawford were initiated and received their membership certificates.

Plans were made for an overnight hike to be Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16. Much interest has been aroused and several girls expect to go.

At the annual "Little Sister" party, given by the W. A. A. in honor of freshmen and transfers interested in athletics, approximately 40 girls were present. Each member selected a "little sister" to pilot, along the W. A. A. trail.

Miss Mary Frizzell has been asked to talk Friday afternoon on the program for Negro teachers at the meeting of the Middle Section, October 27-28, to explain some of the practical ways of putting into effect modern practices in the elementary school. This year, in cooperation with the supervisor of Negro schools in Rutherford County, Miss Frizzell is directing the work of a teacher in a one-teacher elementary school.

Student Recalls Novelty Of A Chinese Dinner

While I was stationed in Shanghai several friends invited me to be their guest at a Chinese dinner. I accepted and we went to a Chinese restaurant on Broadway in the Hongkew District.

On arriving at the restaurant, we were ushered into a large dining room. This room was furnished with large circular tables made of teak wood and small chairs of the same material. On the walls were banners on which were good luck slogans and charms to ward off devils and evil spirits. These were written in Chinese characters. There were also tapestries which portrayed Chinese scenes.

At one table was a small group of people. As these people were a part of our party, we joined the group.

Chinese boys brought in pans of steaming hot towels. Each guest took one and wiped his face and hands with it.

We were then served, as an ap-

Hasty, Baxter, Little And Faulkinberry Are Chosen

By Joe Borthick

The various classes held their annual class elections Tuesday morning at the regular chapel period.

Norman Hasty was elected president of the Senior Class; James Baxter, of the Junior Class; Boots Little, of the Sophomore Class; and Frank Faulkinberry, of the Freshman Class.

Straw to Address Teachers' Meet

On Nashville Program on Oct. 27-28

Dr. H. Thompson Straw will make a talk before the History Section of the Middle Tennessee Teachers Association at its meeting in Nashville, October 27-28, on the correlation between history and geography. His subjects will be the close relation that naturally exists between these two subjects. He will make practical suggestions as to how the class-room teacher can develop the idea of this correlation in the minds of her students.

Dr. Straw spent his summer vacation doing field work for the study of the land utilization of the Eastern Highland Rim of Tennessee. He says that this area was occupied by a group of Southern people who have been given but little attention by most students of the region. For the most part they did not belong to the slave-owning "squirearchy" of the plantation nor to the poor-whites. Rather they were a part of the group that Den Hollander, in "Culture of the South," yeomen, or small farmers who tilted their own soil and carried on quite a different economy from the traditional one of the plantation owner.

The land use of the area is in part related to natural conditions: climate which allows the production of cotton in the southern section and tobacco in the northern; and surface geology which accounts for the bright red, fertile soils of the eastern section and the light yellow "barren type" soils of the western section. In part, however, the land use is related to the culture of the inhabitants. Such factors as a lack of education and adequate roads have led in the past to an overcrowding of the land rather than to migration. This overcrowding in turn has led to the familiar phenomenon of the soil erosion and depletion of the non-erosion human problems which usually attend them.

Carlton, Kerr Are Honored by Home Economics Club

Gladys Carlton and Ailene Kerr were elected vice-president and secretary, respectively, at the regular meeting of the Home Economics Club on October 16.

A short program was given. Jennie Mitchell gave an interesting talk concerning her recent trip to Pittsburg, Quindal Collins then reviewed the history of the club since 1927.

Ten new members were welcomed in the organization. The meeting adjourned till November first.

Essays Most Popular With Writers Club

The regular Thursday evening meeting of the Writers Club was waived in favor of the Dramatic Club Picnic.

A very interesting meeting was held October 6. A vote was taken to ascertain the types of writing most popular with the club members. Essays were most popular, with poetry and short stories running a close second. Several short poems and humorous dialogue were read to the club.

The various classes held their annual class elections Tuesday morning at the regular chapel period.

Hasty is from Shelbyville. He has been a very useful figure on the campus, being noted not only for his leadership and sportsmanship, but for his class room work. Shelbyville has sent us many fine boys, but never one more conscientious than Hasty. His election to this office is an expression of the confidence and trust placed in him by the members of the Senior Class. His place in the backfield of the football team will be greatly missed after this year.

James Baxter, coming to us from Hampshire, is a student. He goes about his work quietly but with a definite purpose.

Nashville contributed much to STC in sending Boots Little. Little is one of the best liked students on the campus. In him we have found a never-failing manager for our football team.

Faulkinberry is a graduate of Central High, Murfreesboro. He had a very outstanding high school record in debating and speech activities. We are expecting him to continue his work during his stay at STC.

Other class officers elected were: Senior, West Point; secretary, Thomas Blair, vice president, Gladys Carlton, Eagleville; treasurer, Frances Brown, Gallatin; sergeant-at-arms, H. L. Wason, Lawrenceburg; Junior, vice-president John J. White, West Point; secretary, Elsie Randall, Lawrenceburg; treasurer, Sam Smith, Murfreesboro; sergeant-at-arms, Bill McCrory, Lawrenceburg; Sophomore, vice president, Buford Turpin, White House; secretary, Quindal Collins, Lewisburg; treasurer, Robert Lumpkins, Lawrenceburg; sergeant-at-arms, Bill Evans, Nashville; Freshman, vice-president, Hugh L. McDonnell, Du Pont; secretary, Ruth Tittsworth Shelbyville; treasurer, Gene Snell, Murfreesboro; and sergeant-at-arms Fount Watson, Du Pont.

Sixteen Rules

You can't do much alone. Your progress will depend on how much you can inspire others to do.

Things worth while are hard to acquire or accomplish. Good habits are hard to acquire but are easily lost; bad habits are easily acquired but hard to get rid of.

Your biggest problem is yourself. You may have full control of yourself if you hope to exert leadership over others.

It is essential that you have all the facts, then it is sometimes difficult to make the right decision.

There is no mystery about business. Just a lot of hard intelligent work—90 percent preparation.

It is the eight hours that you do not sleep or work that is your chance to improve yourself.

There should always be a lot of interest in the things the boss is interested in—if not, he isn't the boss.

It is your business to get along well with your superiors—not theirs to get along with you.

Be honest about your mistakes—Take the blame if it is yours; profit by your mistakes; do not make the same mistake twice.

Be observing, both of men and methods.

Be thorough; dig deeply; take little for granted.

Try hard to make good impressions—Remember selling is largely a matter of impression.

Do an outstanding job on the job you now have—You will lose it for a better one.

The law of compensation works—You get out what you put in, but you must put in first.

Try hard to be simple and natural—Most really big men are.

Stick to the truth. Be honest. Be firm but be fair.

The Intra-Mural's Side

The term Intra-mural is not a new term, its derivation being two Latin words "intra" meaning within and "muralis" meaning wall. The fact that the ancient cities were walled in is probably responsible for its usage, as athletic contests carried on within the city were termed "intra-muralis". Today it is used in contrast with "inter-muralis". Today it is used in contrast with intercollegiate, which refers to sports carried on between colleges.

Intra-mural activity has grown rapidly in favor among college students during the past few years. Its tie-up with physical education departments has had much to do with its progress. Using Lawman's term for better expression, I should say athletics has been "democratized" by the coming in of intra-murals.

Though this discussion is not meant to be a criticism of intercollegiate athletics, no one will deny that there is a much more logical place in the extra-curricular activities for intra-murals than there is for intercollegiate sports. One of the primary aims of public education is to enlighten the masses rather than to provide technical knowledge for the few. This idea should carry over into athletics. The list of activities in an intra-mural program is broad enough to allow everyone to participate and to provide an opportunity for the acquisition of new skills on the part of all.

The entire aim of the intra-mural program is broad enough to allow everyone to participate and to provide an opportunity for the acquisition of new skills on the part of all.

The entire aim of the intra-mural program is to afford opportunity for

Letters

Dear Mr. Judd:

Have just finished reading "Side-Lines" and feel as though I have had a visit to the campus.

Here is my check.
Best wishes to you and all STC.
Sincerely,
Ruth Pate.

October 11, 1938

My dear Mr. Judd:

This morning I received the September issue of the "Side-Lines" which was most interesting and enjoyable, and without further delay I want to send you my dues to insure my receiving of other copies. I was in Nashville and Murfreesboro for a short visit the week before S. T. C. officially opened. I was so sorry that it was impossible for me to get around to see all my school friends.

I noticed you were requesting information for filing as to the "whereabouts" of the alumnae and position. I guess I shall have to be written down as "house wife"—wife of an official of the Ga. Power Co. We are living in the foothills of the Smoky Mts., in quite a lovely spot I think, for our home is in the middle of a chain of six lakes on which are located our six North Georgia power plants.

If ever you and Mrs. Judd are over around Clinburg make your trip home a circle by Atlanta and you will come right by our door, for we are just 90 miles from Clinburg's Dome. We shall be so glad to see you.

Give my best wishes to all there for a fine year, and remember me to Mrs. Judd.

Sincerely,
Sarah Venable Slayton.

Article VIII. Amendments
This constitution may be amended by a majority vote of all members present at any duly called meeting of the members of the Club provided that not less than 50 percent of all members are present.

◆ QUIZ KOLUMN ◆

For the benefit of the mental wizards on the campus, the "Side-Lines," prints its first Kwiz-Kolumn. No fair looking at the answers until you give up:

1—WHAT is wrong with the following story?:

I watched the airplane as it flew over the fields. The pilot was thinking of his devoted wife awaiting his arrival at the end of his solo flight across the continent and the honors that would be bestowed upon him in recognition of his bravery and skill when suddenly the airplane nosed toward the ground and a few seconds later crashed. The airplane immediately burst into flames and when the pilot was finally removed he was dead horribly burned. It was truly a terrible disaster.

SAVE HIM

2—MR Jones' home has an unusual bathroom that has only one door and no windows. There is a small skylight in the ceiling which lets in sufficient air for breathing purposes but cannot be reached by the room's occupant. The bathroom also has soundproof walls, so that no noise is heard outside the room and the door has a spring lock that cannot be opened from the inside without a key.

Mr. Jones locks the door and turns on the water to take a bath. He finds that something has gone wrong with the faucet and that he cannot turn the water off. He discovers that he has left the door key in his trouser pocket and has left his trousers in another room. How can our Mr. Jones keep from drowning?

A FISH STORY

3—THOMAS and HENRY were discussing the relative sizes of the fish they had caught during the recent vacations.

"This is no fish story," said Thomas, "but one of the largest fish I caught on the trip I took was a very unusual one. Its head measured two and one-half feet. Its body was one foot less than the combined lengths of its head and tail and its tail was one-half foot less than one-half the total length of its head and body." Henry could not ascertain the size of the fish from that description. Can you?

SOME BABY

4—MRS. Brown's baby weighs 1-3 of its weight and 14 pounds. How much does Baby Brown weigh?

THE WORM TURNS

5—VOLUME 1 and Volume 2 of the Encyclopedia are standing together. Eachv book is one inch thick without the bindings and the bindings are each 1-8 inch thick. A worm eats its way from Page 1 of Volume 1 to the last page of Volume 2. How far does the worm travel?

Cafeteria Chatter

The other day we over heard a cafeteria worker say "From food server to scrub woman in twenty minutes". We did not know what he meant until we took a look around the dining hall. Have you noticed how clean everything is? This is just another move to insure students that the STC cafeteria is the best place in town to eat. We suggest that you students give your mother a rest and eat in the cafeteria more often.

On the way back from the ball game at Cookeville, Miss Neece and her party stopped in Lebanon for a mid-night snack. When the waiter brought the coffee, it is said that Miss Neece exclaimed, "Oh goodie, we're going to get a little mug."

We could not help noticing the freshman who took our heed and approached the president of our student body. She knew she could conquer him and she's making a fine job of it. By the way, have you noticed Charlie's new hat?

This boy "Social" Campbell can't get settled since Betty gave him his walking papers. We see him in the dining hall with someone new quite often. Our eyes are getting weak looking for gossip, but we can see that Shorty is making a desperate attempt to block Charlie Greer in his wild run for Jewell Simmons.

Our hard working dish-toter, John J. White, is having trouble finding out what time he has to bring Mary Lou back to the dormitory. We hear that just the other evening he tried to borrow Shorty's watch so he would not keep her out too late.

We hope Mary Lou doesn't get her signals crossed and give the Rawding sign to John J. or vice-versa. We're afraid that might cause some confusion, especially if they're both around at the same time.

Doris Hall has several on her waiting list. First we saw her with Junior Owen, then it was Sarvis, then Wasson—We wish they would make up their minds so we would know whom to talk about.

Patty and Deal are driving us crazy. They date room-mates but they don't seem to care who has a date with whom. One night Deal dates Lulu and Patty her room-mate; the next night the four will tour out again but not in the same pairs.

We hope we're not mistaken, but we heard the other day that Baker had a date with his room-mate's girl. What about that? Some people surely have the nerve Too many of us students think the cafeteria is a place to work for the food we eat. That's all very true, but did you ever notice the fine spirit and cooperation that exists in the hash-house. Just for example we'll refer to the feeding of the Methodist preachers last Thursday. There were about four hundred guests from the Tennessee Conference eating here that day and they were served, to the last man, without a bit of trouble. Much praise should be given Miss Neece and her helpers for the way work is carried on in the cafeteria.

Our lunch room has competition on the campus now. Randolph Wood and Lois Henry have stores in Lyon and Jones Halls. Isn't it a funny thing what love can do—first Wood tries to run all the boys away from Lois, now they both are trying to run the school into bankruptcy.

We wonder what's the matter with our great lover Lester Carver. If you remember last year, he was

MR. C. W. DANIEL

By Charles Liggett

I met him under the steps of the Main Building. He told me he had been on the campus twelve years. He had been walking the same walks and entering the same buildings as you and I, yet it is doubtful whether ten percent of the seniors ever conversed with him. His name is C. W. Daniel, and his day begins when our ends.

When asked if he would give the Side-Lines an interview, Mr. Daniel agreed, asking modestly, "Who would want to read about me?"

Before becoming night watchman at STC Mr. Daniel was a merchant, postmaster, school teacher, and farmer. He came to STC after the bottom had fallen out of farm prices in 1926, and has been here since.

Mr. Daniel was born in Perry County, near Daniel Landing. He has three children, two sons and a daughter, one of which is Ira Daniel, an instructor at Central High School. We wondered if he slept all day.

"No," he replied. "Usually I rise at 12 noon and read the papers, chiefly

Mr. Daniel stated, in reply to questions, that his busiest time is between ten and twelve o'clock, after that the campus is usually quiet. His chief worry is with couples who try to leave a program early or stay too long after it's over.

Blue Raiders Will Meet Tusculumn Here Friday Night

Herculeans Take Lead By Winning In Girls Softball

The Intramural program, sponsored by Physical Education 351, is well under way, and many students are participating.

The girls' softball tournament is finished, with the Herculeans winning first place, after having won all of their games. The Rebels came second, the Rovers third, and the Toppers fourth. The boys' tournament has not been finished because of a tie in one game between the Rebels and Rovers.

Only six tennis matches have been played:

Singles: M. Taylor (Herculean) beat the Topper representative, 6-0, 6-0. M. Baker (Herculean) beat E. Caldwell (Rover), 6-3, 6-1.

Girls' Doubles: M. Baker and R. Scott (Herculean) beat M. L. Bryant and M. Fuller (Rovers), 6-0, 6-3. K. Meadows and M. McGavock (Rebels) beat M. L. Bryant and M. Fuller (Rovers), 7-5, 6-4.

Boys' Doubles: B. B. Gracey and R. Gwaltney (Herculean) beat H. Lee and Farrar (Toppers), 6-3, 6-1. Mixed Doubles: W. Webb and B. B. Gracey (Herculean) beat P. Perkinson and Hill (Rebels), 6-3, 6-1.

The field and track meet is scheduled next Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock. All participants will be notified.

Full Strength Not Expected After Losses

Campbell and Miller Can Work if They Are Needed

Coaches May Hold Out Ailing to Insure Future

After two weeks of playing away from home, the Blue Raiders will prance on familiar soil Friday night when they meet Tusculumn College on Jones Field, at 7:45.

Somewhat discouraged after losing to TPI and West Tennessee, the full attack of the Raiders is not expected for the game Friday night. However, with the return of Froggy Smith, Shorty Campbell and Charlie Miller to the line-up the locals are the favorites.

Coaches Johnnie Floyd and Woody Smitherman have made no announcement concerning the starting line-up for the Raiders. It is not known whether or not they will start Campbell, Miller and Smith. It is thought that they will be held out of play until Mr. Floyd sees the situation.

Should Bill McCrory exhibit the same brand of punting that he did in the game at West Tennessee, Froggy Smith may be held in check as insurance against reburthing his shoulder and thereby allowing it to knit a little more before throwing in the rough stuff.

Also, should Hasty, Hudson and Warden have the ground and air attack on the right side of the ledger, it would only be risk to pit Miller and Campbell against fate. For if the Floydmen are to have any kind of record from the present moment to the close of the season, their full strength is needed. Coach Floyd realizes that an injury to either would make the slim chances at Delta even slimmer.

If possible, Ug McCrory will be allowed to rest in the game. He has in more time than any other backfield man and is bruised and bungled all over. Sam Smith may not be able to work in the game because of a hurt shoulder received in West Tennessee.

In the line, Stumpy Sarver is expected to play a major portion of the game since his fine showing against his brother teachers over on the Mississippi. As in every other game, Patty and Hoffman will be at the wing positions. Wasson will be at tackle. Opposite him will be either Yates or Sarver. Guards will be Captain Thompson and Yates or Threlkeld. Mac Rutherford will be at center.

Kathryn Meadows was re-elected president of the Women's Student Council of STC Monday evening at the first regular meeting of the year. Jennie Mae Mitchell, senior, was chosen vice-president; Gale Sweeney, junior, was selected secretary; and Katherine Brown, junior, treasurer.

Raiders Lose To West Tenn. By 25-7 Score

At End of First Half Had Strong Tiger Team 7-7

Lack of Reserves Again Causes Floydmen To Lose

The Blue Raiders met a better team in Memphis last Saturday night and lost their third straight S. I. A. A. conference game 25 to 7. Although playing their best and putting up a stubborn defense for the entire four quarters the Floydmen were outclasses in their efforts.

The rest of the scoring for the night was left up to the West Tennessee pedagogues. On the second play of the second quarter Ellis, flashy Memphis back and scoring ace, romped eighty yards to the pay-off land with two of his team mates escorting him the entire distance. The attempted extra point from placement was good.

The ball rocked back and forth for the rest of the first half with neither team gaining a noticeable advantage. McCrory's kicking kept the Raiders out of any pushing danger and put the Memphians back in their territory frequently after they had made lengthy gains.

The Raider defense held its own during the third quarter also, but the continuous flow of flesh material from the West Tennessee bench soon wore the locals down and the Bluff city eleven pushed over an advantage score for a six point advantage. The extra point attempt was unsuccessful.

The last two scores for the winners were of the unearned variety. Two fumbles deep in their own territory cost the Raiders twelve points and made the defeat really worse than it rightfully was. The flashy and fast attack of the Memphis team, however, jumped on every break and converted them into touchdowns.

All in All the 3000 Memphis fans that witnessed the affair in E. H. Crump Stadium got their money's worth in hard football.—The Floyd and Smitherman outfit, all of which got a chance to show its ability, made a commendable effort all the game.—The three day vacation should be good for the boys also.—Maybe they will beat Tusculumn Friday night.

The Science Club met Wednesday evening, Oct. 12, with twenty-six members present. The following officers were elected: president, Ralph Robinson; vice-president, Wendell Wilson; secretary, Katherine Brown; treasurer, James Baxter.

After the election of officers, Dr. Nebane gave an interesting talk about the future of the club. All members of the biology, chemistry and home economic departments are invited to become members.

Raider Rats Show Promise In 32-13 Win Over Martin

The stage was set. Martin College with its first football team came to STC last Friday night to play the Rats. All the Methodist delegates to the conference in Murfreesboro tasted the city's hospitality. The only flaw was that Coach O. L. (Nooby) Freeman and his boys didn't catch the spirit of the occasion and trounced the Martians 32-13.

Early in the game, after a first down had advanced the ball to the Martin 35 yard line, Billy Bryant slashed through the enemy forewall with excellent blocking and then proceeded to shake three men and cross the double-line for a score. Then a bit of Freeman strategy accounted for the point as Armstrong on a fake placement passed to Bulard to make the total 7-0.

The land of the milk and honey was visited once more in the first quarter. Attempting to surprise the Rats, Bettle of Martin tried a flat pass on his own 25 yard line. Bruiser Ballard stuck up a paw, pulled in the pellet, and was away. He could have gone the length of the field easily as his mates pitched in for the extra point try and converted truly through the uprights.

and accounted for every would-be tackler. Bryant converted. Score 14-0, Rats.

Both sides romped in the second frame. With Wilhite, Rudder and Bryant romping, the ball was advanced within three yards of the goal. Bryant hit the line. A score. The placement failed.

The visitors retaliated with a forty-five yard sustained drive to score. Bettle scored around left end after Bettle's passes and Richardson's running had placed the ball on the Rat eight yard line. The point failed. Score 20-8, Rats.

After a listless third quarter, the battle was resumed. A pass, Bryant to Bullard, accounted for the Rats' fourth score. It was good for fifteen yards. The placement failed. Martin drove to the Rats fifteen yard line after the score. Richardson drove over for the point.

Late in the fourth quarter, Bryant uncorked another to Bulard for a forty-five yard pass and a run to score. The attempt for the point failed.

Coach Freeman used his entire string of reserves . . . all nine of them. The first-year line worked as one man, opening hole after hole for the opening department to rush through. The locals' pass defense, however, needs considerable polishing.

Thoughtless Thoughts

Hayrides, Astronomy, Weight Problem, the Pairing-up.

Couples pairing off. Freshmen finding out that the Science Building can be used for other things besides classes. Hayrides starting. These are a few of the signs that tell us that school is at last in full swing.

The Dramatic Club opened the hayride seige with a bang. In the first place, there was plenty of food for those who went to eat. Also the moon and stars were fine for those who didn't care so much for food—Isn't Miss Ordway an understanding chaperon?

I learned from the hayride that: Mary Lou and John J. weren't so interested in food. I believe they are majoring in astronomy—new name for it.

Norma Meriwether and Gayle Sweeney were ushered around by those Branson twins. I never thought I would see anything as cute as those boys in doubles. Look like they're going to be real addition to STC.

Charlie Miller and Margarite Francis were together. Again! That seems to be getting pretty much of a habit—Charlie can really pick 'em. Lulu and Patty were seen occasionally—Some more students in astronomy—Patty is really a lady-killer this year. I knew him when he was a quiet, timid little boy. Just an example of what STC will do for you.

I heard "Bushel-head" Gilbert on the hayride, but I never did see him—that goes for Joe Netherland too. Such quiet boys!

So much for the hayride, but we did have a fine time—and I didn't eat a bite either.

Lois Henry and 'Rudy' Wood are the only sensible love-birds on the campus. They have set up a chain of stores in their respective dormitories. They seem to be doing all right—in more ways than one. Poor Petey looks a wreck since Charlotte left. All he has left now is his trumpet, and even I know you can't make love to a trumpet.

Marie Engles has lost two pounds. She must be worrying over that new love—I still want to meet him.

From the looks of Bob and Juanita, it must be wonderful. They really looked like a couple of love-sick puppies the other morning at breakfast. Maybe they just hadn't waked up.

Coe La Jeunne is all smiles since Mac is back with us. I bet those ears look good to her. They do to us, Mac.

Our editor, John Bragg, has been running all over town with lip stick on his face. Old news but still good.

The reason for Greer's sunny disposition was about 112 pounds of blond female flesh. To put in better English, Mary Lib was down last week, and she was really looking fine.

We hear that Hasty goes steady with a girl in Nashville. What about that, Betty?

"Jabbo" Thompson is really off women" this year. What's wrong, J. B.? In love or can't you find one to suit your taste.

Robbie got over Dot Henderson in a hurry. He has been seen several times with this petit brunette from McMinnville.

Clara Shapard is one of the few girls we've seen who can wear their hair on top of her head. So, girls, please keep your hair down, and look like human beings.

Maud and "Mose" are the best suited couple I have ever seen. They walk alike, talk alike, and from the way they get along they evidently think alike. Most wonderful!

I got so much paper from the box in the hall that I just couldn't get around to it all. The only drawback was that it was all waste paper. Such a cooperative group! Don't you really know any gossip? Too bad you'll just have to read this stuff.

choice piece of the breast with his chop sticks and offered it to me. I had to accept or be considered ill-bred.

Then there were eggs which were supposed to be a thousand years old and from their looks they certainly were. The yolks had turned green and the whites black. I was offered one and because a guest insulted his host if he refused food offered him, I had to accept. I am glad I have an ironclad stomach for that egg appeared to be anything but eatable. I was in for a surprise for I found it had a very good taste.

More meats, fish, vegetables, and other dishes were served. There were also cakes made of rice flour. All of the meats were cut in very small pieces, as the Chinese think it is barbarous to put a knife on the table. As we ate, I noticed that my friends spat bones and uneatable portions of food on the floor. The dinner ended with a fruit course after which the boys again brought in steaming hot towels with which we wiped the evidence of the feast from our hands and faces.

Student Christian Union Organizes

A large number of students interested in the Student Christian Union met Wednesday night for the purpose of organization. Mr. Neal Frazier presided.

The following officers were elected: president, Annie Mary Snell; vice-president, John Paul Gilbert; secretary-treasurer, Coe La Jaune.

Royster; club reporter, Clara Street-er Shapard; pianist, Raymond Hill; song leaders, Mary Lane and Tom Hollis.

Mr. B. B. Gracey urged those present to interest other students in becoming members.

A. C. E. Club

The A. C. E. held its regular meeting Tuesday night at 6:30 in Rutledge Hall. Callie Lillie Owen made a talk on "Sum and Substance of the A. C. E." Mavis Ary gave an interesting discussion on teaching music in the elementary school.

The club made plans to assist in the organization of an A. C. E. among the colored teachers of Rutherford County.

A contribution is to be made by each member of the club to the National A. C. E. bulletin.
